PREFACE

THE need for even a short Pahlavi–English dictionary has been obvious for many years, particularly to would-be students of the language. The glossarial part of Professor H. S. Nyberg's Manual of Pahlavi is still eagerly awaited, five years after the publication of Part I, although the 'archaistic' tradition of transcription followed therein is no longer universally acceptable. With the partial material at present available, every serious student still has to compile his own dictionary, a formidable task with Pahlavi and made more so by the plethora of different systems of transcription in print. The present dictionary, admittedly introducing yet another transcription, is intended first to relieve the stranger to Pahlavi of the necessity of covering what is now well-travelled ground—the commonest 4,000 simple words—without a unified map, and secondly to urge the practical value of this 'Sasanian' transcription for his journeying further. To have included etymologies and textual references would have changed the emphasis of the work, turning it from a map to a historical atlas-cum-gazetteer, besides retarding its appearance unduly. Such a complete dictionary of Pahlavi is nowhere within sight and must remain so until many more texts are adequately edited.

For his good counsel on what to include in the dictionary I am most grateful to my friend Dr. P. Gignoux of Paris, for without him many common words would have slipped through my net. Most of the labour of compiling the English index, which will surely be appreciated, was undertaken by my wife. The debt I owe to the teaching of the late Professor W. B. Henning, in connection with Pahlavi and all things Iranian, cannot be expressed in words.

It is again a pleasure to acknowledge the support of the School of Oriental and African Studies in financing this publication, and the customary skill of the printers.

INTRODUCTION

ALMOST every published list of Pahlavi words contains a number of entries of doubtful nature, the uncertainty lying either in their form, their meaning, or even, occasionally, their very existence. The purpose of this dictionary is to provide the student with a representative vocabulary of Pahlavi in which such uncertain words have been reduced to a minimum and marked. It differs from its predecessors in that the Pahlavi words are given in a phonemic transcription representing, as far as it is deducible from the evidence, the pronunciation they would have had in the third century of our era, the period of the rise of the Sasanian empire. The reasons for this departure from the 'archaistic' tradition of Pahlavi studies I have given elsewhere.[1] If one reason stands out it is that of practicality, as most corroborative evidence comes from this period.

To reduce the number of doubtful words it has been necessary to concentrate on the simpler vocabulary of such texts as the Kārnāmag ī Ardaxšīr, Dādestān ī Mēnōg ī Xrad, Ardā Wirāz nāmag, Bundahišn, and the Pahlavi Texts edited by Jamasp-Asana. Although I have also drawn upon the Pahlavi versions of scriptural texts (Vendidad, Yasna, and Vispered), most of their very special vocabulary has been omitted. So have the many nonce-words and ad hoc compounds of religious texts such as the Dēnkard, since it is generally a simple matter to analyse Pahlavi compounds, given the elements and provided that the rules of their construction are understood. Those words calling for inclusion whose form or meaning remain doubtful are marked with an asterisk.

By its nature the dictionary cannot claim to contain the entire vocabulary of any particular text. Nor is there any express intention of presenting new solutions to the many problems remaining in the Pahlavi texts. Rather the readings of many scholars have been adopted, eclectically, and grateful acknowledgement is hereby made to all whose discoveries have been assimilated within. Nevertheless, I must retain responsibility for the choice as a whole and for readings and interpretations unclaimed or unpublished elsewhere.

TRANSLITERATION

The script of the Pahlavi books derives ultimately from that of the official Aramaic of the Achaemenian empire. In the course of time, however, a high degree of ambiguity has developed in the script. Table I shows the development of the letters from Imperial Aramaic (with the transliteration and names of letters commonly used by Semitists), through the distinct forms used in the Parthian and Persian inscriptions of the third century A.D., and the archaic manuscript forms of the Psalter fragment (about seventh century),[1] to those of the Zoroastrian books. In addition to the multiple values of the letters listed, some of them may represent combinations of letters in certain contexts, e.g. ·ד or ד for ד + ד.

Since the ambiguities of the script make a mechanical transliteration of one letter by one roman symbol of no practical value, a certain amount of interpretation is essential. This interpretation can be based, either directly or by the use of analogy, on the less ambiguous evidence of the above-mentioned earlier documents of the language. With this help it is possible to go far in distinguishing between the original values ʾ, ḥ, dy, etc., of ·ד, n, w, r of ר, and so on. But it is neither necessary nor desirable to go beyond this by attempting to give closer 'phonetic' values to the letters, such as r for written l, or x for written ḥ. For example, ל·ש ḥwl represents xwar 'sun', but to transliterate it xwr* entails both confusion with the true letter r ר and the introduction of even greater ambiguity into the interpretation of ·ד. It is better to accept that the scribes wrote r and l almost indiscriminately for both phonetic values, ḥ for both Iranian h and x, etc., and to transliterate accordingly.

It is common practice to distinguish the Semitic ideograms in Pahlavi, from the Iranian elements, by transliterating them in capital letters. Thus the same letters לחיק are transliterated *lḥyk*ˡ when they stand for rahīg 'child', but *LḤYK*ˡ when they represent the ideogram for dūr 'far'. However, as the ideograms are often much distorted and disguised forms of the original Aramaic words, it is sufficient for practical purposes to transliterate them by means of a simplified system.

The system adopted hereafter in this book, for both ideographic and Iranian spellings, is designed to avoid the use of diacritics as far as possible and also to parallel the system now conventional for the representation of the related Manichaean Middle Persian and Parthian script. Each letter is throughout given its basic Iranian value(s), thus c and C for Aramaic ṣ, h and H for Aramaic ḥ. A represents the capital form of ʾ (ʾālep̄). There are three letters which occur only in ideograms: Q (in the word QDM = abar; otherwise it is replaced by K), E, and O. E stands for the Aramaic hē (when it is not replaced by ḥēṯ) and O for Aramaic ʿayin, the roman letters being descendants of these Semitic forms respectively. Thus OLE (= ōy) is a form of shorthand for an Aramaic original ʿlh, HCDLWN- (= drūn-) indicates a corruption of the Aramaic root ḥṣd. Purists will find no difficulty in restoring the forms with diacritics.

Pahlavi letters are often distorted, or joined irregularly, in such a way that they coincide with other letters, so producing even greater ambiguity. The commonest distortions are here noted by under- or over-lining the letter value intended. Thus:

د (g, etc.),	when it represents		ـل b,		is transliterated	b̲
ـل (z)	,,	,,	د Y,		,,	Y̲
س (ʾ*c*)	,,	,,	س ʾ*p*,	,,	,,	ʾ*p̄*.

The full scheme of transliteration is given in Table II. The order is still that of the Aramaic alphabet, taking account of the first value of each letter.

Notes

1. 𐭩𐭥 'h, etc., may be a corruption of final -ydy, so -ydy.

2. 𐭩, besides -yȳ, etc., may be a corruption of -h, so -h.

3. The digraphs 𐭩𐭥 and 𐭩𐭥, when they follow a verbal ideogram, may represent any 'phonetic complement' (including zero). They can be transliterated, purely for mnemonic purposes, by the letters they resemble: 𐭩𐭥 as yt and 𐭩𐭥 as ty.[1]

4. i.e. an otiose stroke.

5. 𐭩𐭥 yt, etc., may be a corruption of 𐭩𐭥 -sn, so -sn, and 𐭩𐭥 (following another letter) may be for 𐭩𐭥 -c', so -c'.

TRANSCRIPTION

The orthographic principles followed, in seemingly haphazard permutation, in the writing of Pahlavi, besides the ideographic, include the phonetic (within the limits of the alphabet), the historical, the pseudo-historical, and others so indeterminable as scarcely to merit the name. The establishment of the original spelling of a word, therefore, very seldom reveals its pronunciation. To determine this it is necessary to examine all the available comparative evidence.

Since the discovery of the Iranian material written in the near-phonetic Manichaean script it has become possible to establish a hypothetical phonemic system for Middle Persian and Parthian of the third century A.D. far more accurate than before, when only the remoter evidence of Old Iranian, New Persian, and loanwords in other languages (particularly Armenian) was available. A description of this phonemic system has been given in my article cited above. Within its terms all the entries in this dictionary are transcribed.

The system comprises the following phonemes:

Vowels

ī	ē	ā	ō	ū
i	(e)[(1)]	a	(o)[(1)]	u

[1] But see Kaj Barr, 'Remarks on the Pahlavi ligatures 𐭩𐭥 and 𐭩𐭥', Bulletin of the School of Oriental Studies, viii, pt. 2 (1936), 391–403.

Consonants

p	t	č	k
b	d	ǰ	ǵ
f	s	š	x	h
	z	ž(2)	γ(2)
m	n
w	r l	y

(1) The phonemic status of e and o is doubtful and they are only marked when there is direct evidence of their occurrence.

(2) Only in non-Persian, i.e. 'learned' or loaned, words.

The phonetic realizations of these phonemes can only be supposed to have been similar to those of the corresponding sounds of present-day Western Iranian speech. The only allophonic variation of importance concerns the voiced stops b, (d?), ǵ, and affricate ǰ. Between a vowel and a following consonant, in the same morpheme or close juncture, these almost certainly became the fricatives [β, (δ), γ, ž] respectively. Thus abd, tiǵr, duǰdēn represent pronunciations [*aβd, tiγr, duždēn]. How far, or when, this development affected the same phonemes elsewhere in postvocalic position is uncertain. It is sufficient to regard [β, δ, γ, ž] as possible realizations of postvocalic b, d, ǵ, ǰ.[1]

USING THE DICTIONARY

In seeking an unknown word, or one known only in another transcription, it may be necessary first to find it in the Pahlavi key. The English–Pahlavi index is intended to serve as an aid to memory, and for tracing synonyms, etc., but is emphatically not an English–Pahlavi dictionary.

The main entries, with two exceptions, are arranged throughout in the following order:

ă̆, b, č, d, ĕ̆, f, ǵ (γ), h, ĭ̆, ǰ, k, l, m, n, ŏ̆, p, r, s, š, t, ŭ̆, w, x, y, z (ž).

[1] This [γ] is an allophone of the Persian phoneme ǵ, while γ of the transcription is a non-Persian phoneme. Parthian also had a phoneme ž, replacing Persian ǰ.

The exceptions are:

(i) abstract nouns ending in -īh [-yh], which immediately follow the words from which they are derived, e.g. stūrīh after stūr, before sturǵ;

(ii) verbal nouns formed from the present stems by the suffix -išn [-šn'] and their derivatives in -išnīǵ [-šnyk'], -išnīh [-šnyh], which are all listed under the verb.

Verbs are quoted in the infinitive form, followed by the present stem, except when either of these is not certainly attested. Cross references are made where necessary.

Not all verbal derivatives are included if they are regularly deducible from the 'principal parts' of the verbs given, e.g. actor nouns in -dār/-tār [-t'l], and past participles in -daǵ/-taǵ [-tk'], corresponding to infinitives in -dan/-tan [-tn']; the abstract nouns in -īh formed from these (e.g. -dārīh, -daǵīh); agent nouns in -āǵ [-'k'] formed from present stems, etc.

THE ENTRIES

Pahlavi words are always given in bold type. The few entries in italics are concessions to another transcription, made for reference.

P before a main entry indicates that the word is found only in texts of Parthian origin, namely the Ayādgār ī Zarērān and Draxt ī Asūrīg.

An asterisk denotes that the transcription or reading of the word is unconfirmed and remains doubtful.

Within square brackets the following information is given:

(i) The transliteration of the Pahlavi spelling. In the case of ideograms this is followed immediately by an indication of the Aramaic (A) origin of the spelling. With verbs this can seldom be given more closely than by the form of the Aramaic root.

When the Pahlavi spelling of the present stem of a verb coincides with part of that of the infinitive, however much they differ in transcription, the transliteration is given in abbreviated form, with a hyphen. Thus škwp-tn' denotes 'infinitive škwptn' (= škuftan), present stem škwp- (= škōf-)', YMYTWN-tn' denotes 'infinitive YMYTWNtn' (= murdan), present stem YMYTWN- (= mīr-)'.

(ii) Evidence supporting the transcription.

For 'learned' words taken from the Avesta the form which the Pahlavi represents, however corruptly, is quoted (as '= Av.').[1] In such cases the Pahlavi transcriptions are more hypothetical than usual, since they can be no more than probable representations of the contemporary pronunciation of these words.

Justification of the transcription of each word would require the discussion of a mass of etymological and comparative evidence far beyond the scope of this dictionary. Only that evidence is included, therefore, which is most closely related and lends itself to concise and regular presentation.

After the vertical stroke the corresponding forms from Manichaean Middle Persian (M) and/or Parthian (P) are given wherever possible. The appearance of only a Parthian form does not necessarily imply that the Pahlavi word is of non-Persian origin. It may be that the identical Middle Persian form is not attested in Manichaean script.

Later forms of the word are quoted from Judaeo-Persian (J—from whatever source) and the earliest New Persian (N—rarely in their Arabic guise, when this has displaced the Persian, Ar.).

When the forms presented are not directly comparable, being from a different dialect or in some way modified (e.g. by popular etymology), they are enclosed in parentheses.

wēn-, ~išn(-īg), v. dīdan.

(1) -[illegible] is an ideographic spelling of wēn-, present stem of dīdan. It consists of the letters H, Z (reduced to a shape of G), Y, T, W, N, being a (normal) Pahlavi development from the Aramaic root ḥzy. The infinitive (3) has the 'phonetic complement' -tn[1], for the -dan of dīdan.

(7) [illegible] dytn[1] spells the infinitive dīdan, and (4) -[illegible] wyn- the present stem wēn-.

In Manichaean Middle Persian the corresponding forms are spelt dydn, wyn- respectively, indicating the same pronunciation. In New Persian the infinitive is still dīdan, but the present stem has become, regularly, bīn-.

The verbal noun wēnišn may be written part ideographically (2) HZYTWNšn[1] or 'phonetically' (6) wynšn[1]. The derived adjective wēnišnīg is attested in the spelling (5) wynšnyk[1] (but could occur as HZYTWNšnyk[1]).

Oh god, forget it!

Not only are the vast majority not translated, even if they were, most of them are only legible by people with specific training.

One book you can read which is fairly accurate is early daoist scriptures
https://www.amazon.ca/Early-Daoist-Scriptures-Stephen-Bokenkamp/dp/0520219317

Which has much of the important early material from zhengtong daozang and is very accurate.

For quanzhen material you should just read it as it's own thing and not worry about Dao zang until you have the lay if the land.

I'm 95% sure this doesn't exist. There's like, 1500 books in the taoist canon.

The closest thing I'm aware of to this that exists is "The Taoist Canon: A Historical Companion to the Daozang" which is literally just a 3 volume description of all the books in the taoist canon.

EDIT: As a side note, this is the biggest reason that I think almost nobody on this forum, very much so including myself, really has any idea what they're talking about as far as this religion goes. Most of us are basing our opinion on this religion on just the TTC and the Zhungzhao which is like, 2/~1500 books.

If your claim is true, then no one, past or present, "has any idea what they're talking about..." No one has ever read the whole thing. And the Daoist "canon" isn't a canon like other canons: it's a huge grab-bag of texts, some of which have no real business being there. And without even getting into the philosophical-religious thing, there is no such thing as "the Daoist religion": there are dozens of "Daoist religions," each with their own separate names, authoritative texts, lineages, dogmas and teachings, deities, etc.

Yea I agree with everything you wrote.

I'm really not shitting on this forum or anyone here, except people who make really absolute claims about what Taoism is or isn't, because most people's knowledge doesn't go past the two books I previously mentioned.

Again, I am including myself in this, I have read a few books other than those, but it's just a drop in the bucket.

Thank you, rather disappointed to hear of this. Was hoping to learn alot about taoism from ot as my knowledge i barely goes past the fact it's a religion.

I would buy "The Norton Anthology of Taoism" to start with, on top of the two books everyone reads, the dao de jing and the zhungzhao.

What has popularly come to be known as the Daozang (Taoist Canon) is indisputably the foremost body of texts for research in the field of Taoist studies. The Ming Canon of 1445, or so-called Zhengtong daozang (Taoist Canon of the Zhengtong Reign Period), lies at the heart of all modern editions of the Canon. Its origins are closely linked to catalogues of Taoist writings prepared more than a millennium earlier. Canonic collections to which the Ming Canon is heir were produced under Tang, Song, Jurchen, and Mongol rulerships.

To some extent, each successive Canon may be regarded as the result of a working relationship between church and state. Both parties may very well have had particular needs in mind but if there was any motivation uniting them on this mission, it would have been the desire for ritual order. By joining forces to define a Taoist Canon imperial and clerical leaders could exercise their respective powers of regulatory control. Like all such endeavors, the compilation of every Canon in turn allowed the demarcation of textual authority to be established anew.

Later collections of texts derived from the Zhengtong daozang obviously narrow its boundaries. Those that stand in supplement to it alternatively offer an expansion of canonic limits. All such anthologies, as well as bibliographic guides to the Canon itself, serve to make the vast textual heritage of Taoist teachings more accessible.

Catalogues and Canons through the Ming

There is as yet no definitive study tracing the history of the Daozang. Canonic compilations prior to the Tang are particularly difficult to document, owing to disparate accounts found in a variety of texts ranging from Buddhist polemical writings to historical and topographical works. One of the more frequently cited resources is a stele inscription dating to 1275, but certain portions of this text remain to be verified. A copy of the inscription is appended to the Daozang quejing mulu (Index of Scriptures Missing from the Taoist Canon), presumably compiled by the editors of the Ming Canon. The anonymous text is entitled Daozang zunjing lidai gangmu (Historical Survey of the Revered Scriptures of the Taoist Canon). It will serve here as an anchor for the summary of the early history of the Canon that follows.

The origins of the Ming Canon are commonly traced to the editorial endeavors of Lu Xiujing (406-77), codifier of the Lingbao corpus. His preface to the Lingbao jingmu (Catalogue of Lingbao Scriptures) dates to 437. The catalogue he reportedly submitted to Song Mingdi (r. 465-72) in 471 is assumed to be what is known as the Sandong jingshu mulu (Index of Scriptures and Writings of the Three Caverns). A collection of texts collated under the supervision of the Director of the Bureau of Evaluation in 471 is said to have been approximately a third of the size of that catalogued by Lu.

The titles of two catalogues are dated to the time of Zhou Wudi (r. 560-78). Buddhist accounts speak of a Xuandu [guan] jing mu[lu] (Index of the Scriptures of the [Abbey of the] Mysterious Metropolis), produced in 569 at the Xuandu guan (Abbey of the Mysterious Metropolis) in the capital of Chang'an (Shaanxi). Taoist writings speak of a [Sandong] zhunang [jingmu] ([Catalogue of the Scriptures in] the Pearl Satchel [of the Three Caverns]), produced in 574 at the Tongdao guan (Abbey of the Pervasive Way) in Chang'an.

By the next century, during the early Tang period, additional catalogues of Taoist texts appear to have been compiled in succession. Yin Wencao (622-88) is credited with a Yuwei jingmu (Catalogue of the Scriptures of the Jade Weft Texts). Although there is no apparent trace of this text, the compilation of an Yiqie daojing mu (Catalogue of the Complete Taoist Scriptures) is confirmed by the extant prefaces of the compiler Shi Chongxuan (or Shi Chong, ?-713) and Tang Xuanzong (r. 712-56). Another catalogue, also lost, accompanied what came to be known as the Kaiyuan daozang (Taoist Canon of the Kaiyuan Reign Period), in reference to the reign period (713-41) during which it was compiled. Entitled Sandong qionggang (Exquisite Compendium of the Three Caverns), this catalogue is ascribed to a Taoist Master named Zhang Xianting. Neither catalogue nor Canon is thought to have survived the An Lushan and Shi Siming uprisings of 755-63. Later efforts to recompile a Canon apparently met a similar fate following the Huang Chao rebellion of 874-84.

Three canonic compilations of significance arose during the Song. A comprehensive search and collation of texts began in the year 990, at the command of Song Taizong (r. 976-97). The catalogue to this initial Canon of the Song bore the title Sandong sifu jingmu (Catalogue of the Scriptures of the Three Caverns and Four Supplements). By 1009, Song Zhenzong (r. 997-1022) had authorized a new recension of the Canon. Seven years later the Minister of Rites Wang Qinruo (962-1025) presented the emperor with a catalogue entitled Baowen tonglu (Comprehensive Register of Precious Literature). The Canon of 1016 came to be known as the Da Song Tiangong baozang (Precious Canon of the Celestial Palace of the Great Song). The successor to this Canon is the Zhenghe Wanshou daozang (Taoist Canon of the Ten-Thousand-Fold Longevity of the Zhenghe Reign Period). Compiled under the aegis of Song Huizong (r. 1100-1125), it is the first Taoist Canon to have been produced in print. Approximately 70,000 blocks were cut for this Canon, a task apparently not completed until 1119 in Fuzhou (Fujian), a major publication center at that time.

The Canon of 1119 served as the foundation for a new compilation undertaken in 1190 by the authority of the Jurchen ruler Zhangzong (r. 1190-1208). Completed in 1192, the Da Jin Xuandu baozang (Precious Canon of the Mysterious Metropolis of the Great Jin) provided in turn the backbone for a Canon edited under the direction of the Quanzhen patriarch Song Defang (1183-1247). It was replaced in 1244 by the [Da Yuan] Xuandu baozang (Precious Canon of the Mysterious Metropolis). Although Khubilai khan (r. 1260-94) later ordered the destruction of both texts and printing blocks of this Canon, small components of it have rather miraculously survived.

The so-called Zhengtong daozang, or Da Ming daozang jing (Scriptures of the Taoist Canon of the Great Ming), may be regarded as the culmination of Taoist canonic compilations undertaken within the imperial age of China. The forty-third Celestial Master Zhang Yuchu (1361-1410) served as the initial editor, by the command of the Yongle Emperor (r. 1403-24). It was only by the grace of his great-grandson the Zhengtong Emperor (r. 1436-49) that publication of the Ming Canon was finally accomplished in 1445. An addendum to the some 1400 titles in this Canon was completed in 1607. This supplemental collection of some fifty titles is given the title Da Ming xu daozang jing (Scriptures in Supplement to the Taoist Canon of the Great Ming). It is more popularly known as the Wanli xu daozang (Supplementary Taoist Canon of the Wanli Reign Period), in reference to its compilation by order of the Wanli Emperor (r. 1573-1620). The responsibility for it fell to the fiftieth Celestial Master Zhang Guoxiang (?-1611).

Modern Editions

Access to the Ming Canon remained limited until the Hanfen lou branch of the Commercial Press in Shanghai issued a threadbound edition in 1923-26. The former Minister of Education Fu Zengxiang (1872-1950) played a major role in the achievement of this landmark in publication. His persuasive endorsement of the academic value of the Canon convinced President Xu Shichang (1855-1939) to authorize a government subsidy for the project.

The copy of the Ming Canon photolithographically reproduced in 1,120 threadbound fascicles by Hanfen lou came from the Baiyun guan (Abbey of the White Clouds) in Beijing. Missing portions of it are known to have been replaced in 1845. Reprints of the Hanfen lou edition have made the Ming Canon even more accessible, beginning with the threadbound copy issued in 1962 by the Yiwen Publishing House in Taipei. Among the more widely available editions in modern binding is the 60-volume Zhengtong daozang produced by the same publishing house in 1977. Another edition, the 36-volume Daozang, appeared in 1988 as a joint publication of Wenwu chubanshe in Beijing, the Shanghai shudian, and the Tianjin guji chubanshe. This new edition overcomes a number of defects in earlier editions, replacing missing texts as well as correcting misplacements, but it also retains and introduces new defects.

A reorganized, punctuated edition of the Taoist Canon is now in print. Intermittent reports on this team effort began to appear as early as 1997 in Zhongguo daojiao (Chinese Taoism), a publication of the Zhongguo daojiao xiehui (Chinese Taoist Association) headquartered at the Baiyun guan in Beijing. The final product is the 49-volume Zhonghua daozang (Taoist Canon of China) published by Huaxia chubanshe in 2003.

Indices

Available indices are not in agreement on the total number of titles contained in the Ming Canon. This discrepancy primarily reflects the occasional difficulty in determining where one text ends and the next begins. The earliest annotated table of contents to the Ming Canon, the Daozang mulu xiangzhu (Detailed Commentary on the Index of the Taoist Canon) ascribed to Bai Yunji, dates to 1626. It has been superceded by the Daozang zimu yinde (Combined Indices to the Authors and Titles of Books in Two Collections of Taoist Literature), compiled in 1935 by Weng Dujian. This volume in the Harvard-Yenching Institute Sinological Index Series lists altogether 1476 titles in the Daozang and indicates which texts are also found in the Daozang jiyao (Essentials of the Taoist Canon) of 1906. An additional list of the texts recorded in the Daozang jiyao alone is followed by indices to both titles and compilers. The closing index to biographies is keyed to seventy-seven hagiographic resources in the Canon.

An index volume accompanying the 60-volume edition of the Zhengtong daozang lists altogether 1487 titles in the Canon. Li Diankui is responsible for this reedition of the Concordance du Tao-tsang compiled under the direction of Kristofer Schipper in 1975. The editors of the Daozang tiyao (A Conspectus of the Taoist Canon), Ren Jiyu and Zhong Zhaopeng, alternatively list a total of 1473 titles in the Canon. This collection of abstracts for all texts in the Canon also includes a supplement of brief biographical accounts on compilers cited. Another comprehensive guide to the Canon has been under preparation since 1979, with the establishment of the "Projet Tao-tsang" under the auspices of the European Science Foundation. The results of this massive collaborative enterprise, edited by Kristofer Schipper and Franciscus Verellen, have been published in 2004 by the University of Chicago Press under the title The Taoist Canon: A Historical Companion to the Daozang.

The recently published Xinbian daozang mulu (A Newly-Compiled Index to the Taoist Canon) compiled by Zhong Zhaopeng (1999) presents a reorganized table of contents to the Canon. This two-volume threadbound publication lists a total of 1527 titles under six major headings and twenty-two subheadings. Recorded under each title are the fascicle number(s) in the Hanfen lou edition and volume number(s) in the 60-volume Yiwen edition. The few editorial notes recorded after this data in some entries offer clarifications of provenance. The appearance of the 1988 edition late in the course of his work on this index led the compiler to add a chart listing the fascicle numbers of the Hanfen lou edition in correspondence with its thirty-six volumes (labelled Sanjia ben). The second volume of this publication contains indices to compilers and titles.

Subsidiary Compilations

The Daozang jiyao mentioned above is by far the largest of anthologies chiefly derived from the Ming Canon. Other collections of note include the Daoshu shi'er zhong (Twelve Books on the Dao), the Daozang jinghua (Essential Splendors of the Taoist Canon), and the Daozang jinghua lu (Record of the Essential Splendors of the Taoist Canon). Publications that go beyond the Canon include the Daozang xubian (Sequel to the Taoist Canon), the Zhuang-Lin xu daozang (Supplementary Taoist Canon of Zhuang[-Chen Dengyun] and Lin [Rumei]), and the Zangwai daoshu (Taoist Texts Outside the Canon).

Specialized publications not to be overlooked include the collections of texts pertinent to the Taoist heritage that have been recovered from Dunhuang (Gansu) as well as from archaeological sites such as Mawangdui (Hunan) and Guodian (Hubei). In addition to the Tonkō dōkyō (Taoist Scriptures from Dunhuang) compiled by Ōfuchi Ninji (Ōfuchi Ninji 1978-79) there is now in print a five-volume Dunhuang daozang (Taoist Canon of Dunhuang) edited by Li Defan (1999). The study of Taoist institutional history should also be enhanced by the recent publication of a 36-volume Zhongguo daoguan zhi congkan (Collectanea of Monographs of Taoist Temples in China), edited by Gao Xiaojian (2000). This publication will not only supplement monastic records in the Taoist Canon but also surely offer further supplement to the invaluable yet still largely overlooked Daojia jinshi lüe (A Collection of Taoist Epigraphy) compiled by Chen Yuan (1988). The recent appearance of so many new resources is truly without precedent in the field of Taoist studies.

DAOISM: DAOIST LITERATURE
Compared to Buddhism, the literature of Daoist traditions remains largely unexplored.

Large-scale study in this area was greatly enhanced in 1926 with the appearance of the first widely accessible reprint of the Daozang, or Daoist canon, which, at 1120 fascicles, is the largest repository of Daoist literature ever compiled. Research on Daoism prior to that time was, with few exceptions, generally confined to studies of texts such as the Laozi and Zhuangzi that are widely available in editions outside the canon. For the most part, the West has also had its understanding of the Daoist legacy shaped by what has been summarized from the writings on the subject by Buddhist polemicists and unsympathetic Chinese literati. The one-sided view of Daoist traditions that such limitations promote is easily amended when the resources of the Daozang are taken into account, together with subsidiary compilations and pertinent collections of epigraphy and manuscripts. The social and historical context of much of this material has only recently come under intensive scrutiny. Continued research on the Daoist literary heritage is likely to challenge many long-held perceptions about the nature of religious traditions in Chinese society.

The Daozang

Before 1926, very few copies of the Daoist canon were available outside of those kept in the temple archives of China. The state traditionally sponsored both the compilation and distribution of the Daozang. While it cannot be said that the newly founded Republic of China was a patron of Daoism, the reprinting of the canon between 1923 and 1926 came about only through government subvention. The former minister of education and renowned bibliophile Fu Zengxiang (1872–1950) was instrumental in convincing President Xu Shichang (1855–1939) of the scholarly value of the Daozang and to underwrite its publication by the Commercial Press of Shanghai. The copy that was selected for photographic reproduction in the 1920s and that has since been reprinted in at least three modern editions was the wood-block concertina canon housed in the Baiyun Guan (White Cloud Abbey) of Beijing, the central Daoist seminary of the People's Republic of China. It is thought that this copy of the canon was largely derived from the 1445 printing, apart from the lacunae reconstituted in 1845.

History of compilation

Among the earliest inventories of Daoist writings are those recorded in the bibliographic monograph of Ban Gu's (32–92) Han shu (History of the Han) and Ge Hong's (283–343) Baopuzi. It was not until the late fifth century, well after the establishment of the Shangqing and Lingbao scriptural traditions, that a single, comprehensive catalogue of Daoist texts was attempted. Lu Xiujing (406–477), principal codifier of the Lingbao corpus, undertook the task on the order of Song Mingdi (r. 465–472). The Sandong jingshu mulu (An index to the scriptural writings of the three caverns), which Lu presented to the emperor in 471, was said to list over twelve hundred juan (scrolls or chapters), ranging from scriptures and pharmaceutical works to talismanic diagrams. Nearly three centuries later, Tang Xuanzong (r. 712–756), confident that he was the descendant of Laozi, issued a decree dispatching his envoys throughout the empire in search of all existing Daoist writings. The collection that followed was given the title Sandong qionggang (Exquisite compendium of the three caverns) and reportedly included around thirty-seven hundred or fifty-seven hundred juan. It was the first canon from which multiple copies were to be transcribed for distribution to Daoist temples. But not long after Xuanzong officially authorized this undertaking in 748, the imperial libraries of the capitals of Chang'an and Luoyang were destroyed during the An Lushan and Shi Siming rebellions, and much of the Sandong qionggang was apparently lost.

Subsequent compilations were attempted upon the command of various Song emperors, who similarly viewed their mandate as part of a larger Daoist dispensation. Song Zhenzong (r. 998–1022) assigned his trusted adviser Wang Qinruo (962–1025) the task of preparing a new catalogue of Daoist texts in the imperial archives. By 1016 an assistant draftsman named Zhang Junfang (fl. 1008–1029) was put in charge of a staff of Daoist priests to make copies of a new canon for distribution to major temples. The Da Song tiangong baozang (Precious canon of the celestial palace of the great sung; 4,565 juan) that resulted was the first definitive edition of what has come simply to be called the Daozang.

A century later Song Huizong (r. 1101–1125) initiated an even more ambitious program for the compilation and dissemination of a new Daoist canon. In 1114 he issued an edict ordering all local officials, clergy, and laity to submit whatever Daoist texts they had to the capital of Kaifeng. A number of Daoist priests answered his call to help with the collation of the incoming literature. Their work culminated in the Zhenghe wanshou Daozang (Daoist canon of the longevity of the Zhenghe reign), the first canon to be printed. The blocks for nearly fifty-four hundred juan were cut sometime around 1118 to 1120. It is not known how many copies of the Daozang were subsequently made and there is also some question as to how much was lost upon the Jurchen takeover in 1127. But it appears that at least some blocks survived, for in 1188 it is reported that Jin Shizong (r. 1161–1189) commanded their removal from Kaifeng to the Tianchang Guan (Abbey of Celestial Perpetuity) in the central capital of the Jurchen empire, the predecessor to the Baiyun Guan in Beijing. His grandson and successor, Jin Zhangzong (r. 1190–1208), had the temple enlarged in 1190 and then appointed two imperial academicians to assist the abbot in reediting the canon. With the carving of additional blocks two years later, the Da Jin xuandu baozang (Precious canon of the arcane metropolis of the great Chin) totaled over sixty-four hundred juan.

In 1215 the capital of the Jurchen fell into the hands of the Mongols and it is not known how much of the enlarged canon of the Jin escaped destruction. But by 1237 work on a new edition was undertaken, sponsored this time by the local administration of Shanxi province. Two Quanzhen masters, Song Defang (1183–1247) and his disciple Qin Zhi'an (1188–1244), oversaw a staff in the hundreds. The Xuandu baozang (Precious canon of the arcane metropolis), completed in 1244, was apparently the largest ever, comprising altogether seven thousand juan. Over a hundred copies were said to have been made, but in 1281 Khubilai Khan decreed that all texts and printing blocks of the Daozang be burnt, save the Dao de jing. Fragments of the 1244 canon were nonetheless spared and, together with what remained of the Jurchen and Song canons, came to serve as the foundation of the Ming Daozang.

The canon currently in print is based on the compilation completed between 1444 and 1445 and a supplement dating to 1607. Ming Chengzu (r. 1402–1424) initiated the project in 1406 by appointing the forty-third Celestial Master, Zhang Yuchu (1361–1410), as compiler-in-chief. But the final version of the Da Ming Daozang jing (Scriptures of the Daoist canon of the great Ming) was actually completed under the guidance of Shao Yizheng, a prominent Daoist master at the court of Ming Yingzong (r. 1436–1449). The fiftieth Celestial Master, Zhang Guoxiang (d. 1611), supervised the preparation of a 240-juan supplement to the 5,318 juan of this edition. It is known as the Xu Daozang (Supplementary Daoist canon) of the Wanli reign (1573–1619), whereas the fifteenth-century core is sometimes referred to as the Zhengtong Daozang or Daoist canon of the Zhengtong reign (1436–1449).

Organizational divisions

As the title of Lu Xiujing's catalogue of 471 suggests, Daoist writings were traditionally classified according to the "Three Caverns" (sandong). This tripart division became a fundamental organizational feature of the Daozang. Although there has been a tendency in the past to equate these three compartments of texts with the "Three Receptacles" (sanzang) of the Buddhist canon, the closer parallel is actually the Buddhist triyāna or sansheng ("three vehicles"). Rather than being representative of three genres of literature such as the Sūtra, Vinaya, and Abhidharma of the Three Receptacles, the Three Caverns reflect three distinct revelatory traditions. And like the Three Vehicles, the Three Caverns are viewed as a ranking of textual legacies. The Dongzhen section evolved around the Shangqing (Supreme Clarity) scriptures, the Dongxuan around the Lingbao (Numinous Treasure), and the Dongshen around the San huang (Three Sovereigns). Since this categorization gives primacy to the Shangqing traditions, it is assumed that it was devised well before Lu Xiujing compiled his catalogue, perhaps by the end of the fourth or beginning of the fifth century. There is less certainty about the origins of the Four Supplements that follow the Three Caverns, what are known as the Taixuan, Taiping, Taiqing, and Zhengyi components of the canon. The term ssu-fu ("four supplements") does not seem to date before the turn of the sixth century. The first three have commonly been regarded as individual appendices to the Three Caverns, but in fact they appear to have been organized around very specific literary collections. Central to the Tai-xuan division is the Dao de jing. Likewise, the Taiping jing (Scripture on the grand pacification), the Taiqing (Grand Purity) legacy of alchemical writings, and the Zhengyi (Authentic unity), or Celestial Master heritage lie at the heart of the Taiping, Taiqing, and Zhengyi subdivisions. It may be that these four supplements were inspired by demands to establish a more cohesive body of Daoist literature vis-à-vis the rapidly developing corpus of Chinese Buddhist writings. Although the preeminence of the Shangqing revelations was apparently never in question, it seems that by the sixth century there was more awareness of the diversity of inspiration from which they arose. Liturgical texts of the Tang dynasty, moreover, seem to suggest that the arrangement of the canon corresponds to descending ranks of ordination, from the top level of Dongzhen down to the first step of the Zhengyi initiation.

Whatever the underlying significance of the organization of the Daozang, accretions over the centuries have resulted in a less than systematic presentation of texts. Each of the Three Caverns is subdivided into twelve sections: (1) original revelations, (2) divine talismans, (3) exegeses, (4) sacred diagrams, (5) histories and genealogies, (6) codes of conduct, (7) ceremonial protocols, (8) prescriptive rituals, (9) special techniques (i.e., alchemical, geomantic, numerological), (10) hagiography, (11) hymnody, and (12) memorial communications. The distribution of texts is not always in keeping with either the major headings or these subheadings. No categorical distinctions are applied to the Four Supplements and the Xu Daozang, the contents of which are as diverse as the Three Caverns.

Facets of research

Nearly half of the volumes in the canon either bear dates after 1126 or can be directly linked to new scriptural traditions developing after the Northern Song dynasty. Moreover, the prefaces of at least sixty titles in the Daozang indicate that they circulated in printed editions prior to their incorporation into the canon. Prefaces and colophons, however, are not always reliable guides to the history of a text. Fictive lineages are often invoked in order to establish the historical antiquity of newly codified writings. It is not unusual to find, for example, the provenance of a text traced directly to the founder of the Tianshi Dao (Way of the Celestial Masters), Zhang Daoling (fl. 142 ce). An even larger number of texts are simply presented as the word of divine authority. The names of the deities cited often prove critical to the identification of a text vis-à-vis established scriptural traditions. Other internal dating features that help clarify the historical and social origins of a compilation include reign titles, datable place names and official titles, as well as the titles of canonization granted by imperial decree to various patriarchs and apotheosized cultic figures. The language itself, particularly the use of specialized terminology, also helps determine the setting in which a text arose. The terminus a quo or terminus ad quem of a work can likewise be determined with the help of a number of inventories of Daoist texts.

Contents

The range of literature in the canon is as diverse as the beliefs and practices associated with Daoism since the Han dynasty. Much research to date has concentrated on the scientific significance of Daoist alchemical and pharmaceutical works. Aside from the early Shangqing and Lingbao scriptural traditions, little has been reported on the textual legacy of Daoist revelatory and cultic inspiration. The Daozang, furthermore, has yet to be fully appreciated as a valuable repository of belles-lettres in its own right. The following survey highlights a few of the texts in the canon with enduring literary and religious interest.

Revelation and ritual

As a work ostensibly transmitted from master to disciple, the Dao de jing or Laozi has long been regarded as a revelation in itself. The writings that Laozi reportedly delivered to the gatekeeper Yin Xi on his journey west have served as the inspiration for centuries of instruction on the attainment of the Dao. To the Celestial Masters, the Dao de jing seems to have functioned foremost as a code of behavior for young initiates. It is thought that the Xiang'er commentary on the Laozi (Xiang'er zhu) discovered at Dunhuang was compiled by one of the first, if not the first, patriarch of the Celestial Masters. The commentary extrapolates not only rules of conduct but also techniques of meditative practice from the text and is the only substantial writing associated with the early Celestial Masters to survive. The apotheosis of Laozi, that is, Taishang Laojun, or Lord Lao the Most High, who appeared before the founder Zhang Daoling was said to have revealed not scriptures but the sacred registers and talismans of divine guardians. Both were essential to the demonifuge mission of the Tianshi Dao. Divine commanders on high could be summoned only by those privy to their names and capable of infusing talismanic communications with their vitality. Countless texts, including even Ge Hong's Baopuzi, purport to preserve the apotropaic talismans of the Celestial Masters. The manipulation of such talismans was and still is thought to keep spectral forces at bay. Throughout the centuries the codifiers of later revelatory and ritual writings have never forgotten the ultimate heritage of the Tianshi Dao as a healing cult. Many anthologies of ritual are based precisely on the understanding that the ultimate mission of their founders was to convey hope in the salvation of humankind from all forms of suffering.

Salvation was also the message behind one of the earliest scriptures recorded in the canon, the Taiping jing (Scripture on the grand pacification). An early version of a text by this title was apparently promoted during the Western Han in support of a faction that sought to influence the direction of the ruling house through its expertise in the interpretation of cosmological omens. What circulates as the Taiping jing can be traced in part to another faction that arose during the Eastern Han on the Shandong Peninsula. Because of the text's link with Zhang Jue, leader of the Yellow Turban peasant rebellion, and the fall of the Han empire, the Taiping jing fell out of favor for several generations. It was not until the sixth century that a new, and much larger, edition of 170 juan appeared, portions of which are preserved in the canon as well as in Dunhuang manuscripts. This edition, the provenance of which can be traced to the Shangqing axis mundi of Maoshan (in present-day Jiangsu), seems to retain many of the major themes promoted in the Han dynasty works. The text was generally regarded as the omen of a more prosperous era. While there is difficulty in distinguishing the second-century text from later accretions, it appears that one consistent feature was the hint of an apocalypse should the divine teachings recorded within not be put into effect. The sixth-century editors enlarged upon this theme by interpolating references to the promise of deliverance by a messianic figure sacred to Shangqing, Housheng Jun, or the Sage-lord to Come. Overall, however, the Taiping jing stresses the importance of creating a utopian society in the present, one in which the political, social, and economic welfare of all could be assured upon the recitation of the scripture and the keeping of behavioral precepts in accordance with the will of the heavens above. This ideal of equity is tempered in part by instructions on techniques for prolonging life, a pastime in which only a select few could indulge.

The common denominator between the practices prescribed for attaining longevity in the Taiping jing and in the Shangqing scriptures is a large body of macrobiotic literature that is traditionally associated with the fangshi or technocrats of Chinese society. The titles of many of these works are recorded in early hagiographies. Central to these guides on the pursuit of a life everlasting is the ability to gain communion with the gods residing within one's own body as well as with those on high. One of the earliest and more provocative instruction manuals on gaining communication with the corporeal hierarchy is the Huangting jing (Scripture of the Yellow Court). The innate ambiguities of this lengthy verse composed in heptasyllabic meter were apparently thought to be at least partially resolved upon repeated recitation. A revised and less arcane version of the Huangting jing was reportedly among those texts conveyed to Yang Xi (b. 330), the prime recipient of the Shangqing revelations during the years 364 to 370. The most comprehensive record of Shangqing beliefs and practices was made over a century later by the eminent Daoist master Tao Hongjing (456–536). The Zhengao (Declarations of the perfected) that he edited is largely intended to be a verbatim account of the instructions given Yang during the visits of divine transcendents. Central to the expectations of those promoting the new dispensation of Shangqing was the imminent descent of a messiah who could replace the disorder of their age with order. The eschatological scenario for the advent of a savior by the name of Li Hong is set forth in the Shangqing housheng daojun lieji (Annals of the Lord of the Tao, the sage-to-come of Shangqing). The vision of Li Hong's epiphany continued to inspire a number of messianic movements as reflected, for example, in the Dongyuan shenzhou jing (A scripture of spirit spells from the caverned abyss), a composite work dating from the fifth and sixth centuries that has its analogues in the newly compiled dhāraṇī sūtras of that era.

The Shangqing visionaries worked not only toward the restoration of terrestrial order but also toward their own promotion into the ranks of the divine. The methods by which their eschatological hopes could be realized ranged from the rigid control of diet to stringent respiratory exercises and experimentation with pharmaceutical compounds. But the main sustenance for adepts pursuing such a regimen were the vital forces of the sun, moon, and stars. It was thought that the regular and concentrated absorption of these powerful sources of radiance would lead ultimately to one's cosmic transmigration. Feeding on the illumination of astral bodies is among the most fundamental techniques of the Daoist master (central to his private meditative sessions as well as his liturgical performances) and is by and large a technique of visualization, the skill of which is the concern of many manuals predating the Shangqing revelations. Those texts in which the ultimate goal specified is ascent to the celestial realm of Taiqing are commonly regarded as part of a Taiqing scriptural tradition, the origins of which remain unclear. The teachings of these Taiqing manuals were incorporated into both the Shangqing revelations and the slightly later scriptural tradition known as Lingbao. The prolongation of life through the ingestion of astral essences is, for example, a lesson in the Taishang Lingbao wufu xu (Prolegomena on the five talismans of the numinous treasure of the most high), a text originally dating to the late third century and recycled by spokesmen for the Lingbao tradition in the late fourth century.

The major recipient of the Lingbao revelations was Ge Chaofu, a nephew of Ge Hong. In the 390s, Ge Chaofu began ascribing the origin of some twenty-seven Lingbao scriptures to his grand-uncle Ge Xuan (164–244). This set of sacred writings actually owes its inspiration to not only the centuries-old arcana of southern Chinese religious practice and the more recent Shangqing innovations, but also to the Mahāyāna Buddhist traditions of the Nanjing area. The message of Lingbao, as epitomized in the Duren jing (Scripture on the salvation of mankind), was that all could ultimately be released from the cycle of suffering and ascend to the celestial realm by adhering to the teachings of the Yuanshi Tianzun, or Celestial Worthy of Primordial Commencement. The foremost contribution of the Lingbao tradition was in fact a whole program of liturgical services to be performed on behalf of the living and dead. Equally significant was the articulation of a code of behavior to be followed by the faithful in their struggle to escape the bonds of the mundane realm. As with the Shangqing tradition, a systematic presentation of the Lingbao corpus came some time after the original revelations. What is preserved in the canon from this syncretic development is due to the efforts of Lu Xiujing, the compiler of the first known catalogue of Daoist writings.

Expansion on the Lingbao rituals continued for centuries, as is reflected, for example, in the Wushang huanglu dazhai licheng yi (Protocols on the establishment of the great Zhai retreats of the Yellow Register), a compilation based on the writings of Lu, as well as two major Tang liturgists, Zhang Wanfu (fl. 711) and Du Guangting (850–933), and the Song Daoist masters Liu Yongguang (1134–1206) and Jiang Shuyu (1156–1217). Du Guangting was by far the most prolific Tang liturgist, for in addition to editing a number of Lingbao codes, he also compiled the protocols for various ordination rituals, including those marking the bestowal of the Dao de jing and the divine registers of Shangqing and Zhengyi. He issued, moreover, a series of ritual texts associated with the Scripture of Spirit Spells, as well as with the archaic practice of casting propitiatory prayers inscribed on metal or wood into caves and streams. The diversity of Du's contributions reflects in general the trend of his age toward a consolidation and systematization of diverse ritual practices in which the Daoist priesthood was engaged.

The editorial enterprises of the Tang dynasty soon yielded to a new wave of scriptural innovation during the Song dynasty. The creation of more innovative ritual traditions was apparently stimulated in large part by Song Huizong's patronage of Daoist masters. Among the most influential at his court was Lin Lingsu (1076–1120) of Wenzhou (in present-day Zhejiang). Lin convinced the emperor that he was the incarnation of Changsheng Dadi (Great Sovereign of Long Life) and, as such, was responsible for the salvation of all under his domain. To this end, Lin drew on the soteriological features of the Lingbao legacy and the messianic expectations of the Shangqing tradition to devise what he called the Shenxiao (Divine Empyrean) dispensation. The Gaoshang shenxiao zongshi shoujing shi (Formulary for the transmission of scriptures according to the patriarchs of the exalted divine empyrean) is a record of the evolution of the Shenxiao scriptures from their origins as cosmic script to their bestowal upon the Grand Sovereign himself. Large ritual compendia were eventually compiled based on this new scriptural heritage, with the Duren jing uniformly established as the central focus. Among the largest of such corpora are those associated with the teachings of Ning Benli (1101–1181), also of Wenzhou, namely the Shangqing Lingbao dafa (Great rites of the Shangqing Lingbao legacy), compiled by a disciple named Wang Qizhen, and the Lingbao lingjiao jidu jinshu (Golden writings on salvation, based on the instructions conveyed by the Lingbao legacy), edited originally by Lin Weifu (1239–1302) of Wenzhou.

Another scriptural tradition codified during Song Huizong's reign was the Tianxin Zhengfa (Authentic Rites of the Celestial Heart), the origins of which were traced to the discovery in 994 of sacred texts at Huagai Shan (in present-day Jiangxi). One of the Daoist masters working on the compilation of a new canon at Kaifeng, Yuan Miaozong (fl. 1086–1116) sought to make amends for a lack of talismanic healing rituals by compiling the Taishang zhuguo jiumin zongzhen biyao (Secret essentials of the most high on assembling the perfected for the relief of the state and delivery of the people). At the heart of this corpus are the instructions on the application of the three talismans central to the Tianxin legacy: San'guang (Three Sources of Radiance; i.e., sun, moon, and stars); Zhenwu (Perfected Martial Lord); and Tiangang (Celestial Mainstay; i.e., Ursa Major).

The best testimony to the diversity of healing ritual from the twelfth to the fourteenth centuries is the Daofa huiyuan (A corpus of Daoist rites), compiled after 1356. The most voluminous work in the canon, this corpus is devoted largely to what are known as leifa ("thunder rites"), based on the practice of quelling demonic forces through the absorption and projection of thunder pneumas. The opening chapters of the work are derived from one of the later Thunder Ritual traditions called Qingwei (Purified Tenuity), codified in part by Zhao Yizhen (d. 1382). Many rituals that evoke the authority of the Zhengyi tradition appear to reflect the influence of the thirty-ninth Celestial Master Zhang Sicheng (d. 1343). Most outstanding of all are the ritual instructions to be enacted on behalf of various astral deities and cultic figures such as the martial lord Guan Yu (d. 219). These therapeutic rites were prescribed for a wide range of ailments, from conjunctivitis to manifestations of possessing spirits. Many attest, moreover, to a long tradition of collaboration between Daoist masters and spirit-mediums.

Hagiography

Not unlike Confucian and Buddhist biographical accounts, Daoist hagiographies were compiled primarily as commemorative works, usually with a didactic message in mind. The lives of transcendents were generally intended to instruct on the paths by which one's divine destiny might be realized, as well as on the rewards inherent in venerating those who gained entry into the celestial ranks. The visionary Yang Xi was reportedly conveyed the full biographies of a number of divine transcendents with whom he was in communication, but only a few survive. Some of his contacts are memorialized in the Liexian zhuan (Lives of the immortals), traditionally attributed to Liu Xiang (77–6 bce) but apparently based on several centuries of oral tradition surrounding various local cults.

More extensive hagiographic accounts were compiled during the Tang dynasty, most notably by Du Guangting. One work of his, the Yongcheng jixian lu (A record of the transcendents assembled at Yongcheng), is entirely devoted to the lives of divine women, starting with an account of the cosmic evolution of the primordial goddess who gave birth to the historical Laozi. Du Guangting was above all a good storyteller and, as his Daojiao lingyan ji (An account of the divine efficacy of the teachings of the Dao) and Shenxian ganyu zhuan (A record of inspirational encounters with divine transcendents) further attest, he was most interested in recording accounts of sacred phenomena. Such works, together with Buddhist miracle tales, contributed significantly to the development of the narrative in Chinese literary history.

By far the most comprehensive hagiographic work in the canon is one compiled by a specialist in Thunder Ritual named Zhao Daoyi (fl. 1297–1307), the Lishi zhenxian tidao tongjian (A Comprehensive mirror on successive generations of perfected transcendents and those who embody the Dao). Largely derivative of earlier works, this text preserves much material that has otherwise been lost. Among more specialized works is the Xuanpin lu (A record of the ranks of the sublime) edited by a prominent literatus named Zhang Yu (1283–c. 1356). The author, who was himself temporarily in residence at Maoshan, dedicates a large portion of his text to the Shangqing heritage, from Yang Xi to the twenty-fifth patriarch Liu Hunkang (1035–1108). A separate account of the Zhengyi patriarchs, the Han Tianshi shijia (A genealogy of the Celestial Masters since the Han), is a composite work, based on editions dating from the fourteenth to the sixteenth century. The imprimatur of the fiftieth Celestial Master, Zhang Guoxiang (d. 1611), is found not only in this text but in the latest hagiography of the canon, the Soushen ji (In search of the sacred), edited by Luo Maodeng (fl. 1593–1598). Also a composite work, this text opens with the biographies of Confucius, Śākyamuni, and Taishang Laojun. Most predominate thereafter are the accounts of apotheosized cultic figures from south of the Yangtze. The dates of birth and ascension recorded in many of these entries give some indication as to the annual cycle of festival days authorized by church and state.

Several hagiographic works honor the Quanzhen heritage founded by Wang Zhe (1113–1170). One of the earliest is the Jinlian zhengzong ji (An account of the true lineage of the golden lotus), completed in 1241 by Qin Zhi'an, editor of the 1244 canon. This work was apparently lost in the book burning of 1281 and only recovered in the Ming. It was unknown to the compilers of a similar hagiography, the Jinlian zhengzong xianyuan xiangzhuan (An illustrated biographical account of the transcendent origins of the true lineage of the golden lotus). Liu Zhixuan and Xie Xichan completed this text in 1326, according to what written documents and stone inscriptions remained. They differ with Qin in attributing the origins of Quanzhen teachings to Laozi, but there is unanimity on the following four patriarchs: Donghua Dijun (Sovereign Lord of Eastern Florescence), Zhongli Quan, Lü Yan (b. 798?), and Liu Cao (fl. 1050). Central to both works are the hagiographies of the founder Wang and his seven disciples, known to the tradition as the Seven Perfected Ones (qi zhen) of Quanzhen: Ma Yu (1123–1183), Tan Chuduan (1123–1185), Liu Chuxuan (1147–1203), Qiu Chuji (1148–1227), Wang Chuyi (1142–1217), Hao Datong (1140–1212), and the single matriarch, Sun Bu'er (1119–1183).

Among hagiographies for individual Quanzhen patriarchs is an anonymous compilation in tribute to Wang Chuyi, the Tixuan zhenren xianyi lu (A record of the marvels manifested by the perfected who embodies sublimity). The nineteen episodes in this text offer a rare view of the therapeutic mission of Quanzhen masters, in the roles of healer, rain-maker, and demon queller. Even more well-known is the patriarch Qiu Chuji, whose journey into Central Asia for an audience with Chinggis Khan is commemorated in the Changchun zhenren xiyou ji (The journey to the west of the perfected Changchun). Qiu's disciple Li Zhichang (1193–1256) completed this work in 1228, following Qiu's death at the Tianchang Abbey in Beijing. The transcendent Lü Yan, conventionally credited with Wang Zhe's enlightenment, is the subject of a lengthy chronicle by Miao Shanshi (fl. 1324), the Chunyang dijun shenhua miaotong ji (Annals of the wondrous communications and divine transformations of the sovereign lord Chunyang). As with similar narrative sequences, this text appears to have evolved from centuries of storytelling traditions that also found their expression in temple wall paintings.

Most numerous of the hagiographies focused on local cults are those dedicated to Xu Sun (239–292?), whose career as a healer and subduer of malevolent dragons was established from Sichuan east to the central Jiangxi River valleys. The earliest text to survive intact is the Xiaodao Wu Xu er zhenjun zhuan (A Hagiography of Wu and Xu, the two perfected lords of the filial way). Xu's association in this account with Wu Meng, the legendary exemplar of filiality, attests to an early ritual tradition that evolved around his cult in Jiangxi, apparently a Tang variation on Lingbao liturgy. The Yulong ji (An anthology of jade beneficence), a later work compiled by the well-known specialist in Thunder Rites, Bai Yuchan (fl. 1209–1224), reveals the extent to which Song Huizong patronized this cult as a symbol of unity in the face of the Jurchen invasions. Veneration of Xu Sun eventually led to the development of a nationalistic cult known as the Jingming Dao (Way of Purity and Perspicacity), generally thought to have been founded by Liu Yu (1257–1308), an abbot of the Yulong Guan, an abbey established in Jiangxi at the putative site of Xu's ascension. Liu's disciple Huang Yuanji (1270–1324) edited the Jingming zhong xiao quanshu (A comprehensive compilation on the Jingming tradition of loyalty and filiality), the biographies of which exemplify the role of Xu's disciples as guarantors of political stability. The traditional attributes of zhong (loyalty) and xiao (filiality) are reinterpreted in this context as metaphors for submission to authority and the suppression of rebellion. Shrines to Xu are still maintained in Taiwan today and, even more remarkably, the Yulong Abbey is officially designated as a historical monument worthy of preservation.

A number of other hagiographic accounts testify to the popularity of local cults at various sacred mountain sites, including Lu Shan on the northern border of Jiangxi, once a popular missionary resort, and Huagai Shan, the source of the Tianxin revelations. Most well-known perhaps is the guardian of Wudang Shan (in present-day Hubei), referred to as Xuanwu (Dark Martial Lord) or Zhenwu (Perfected Martial Lord). How early this deity associated with the north was enshrined in China is not known, but well over three hundred shrines are established in his name on Taiwan today. Xuanwu's role as defender of the Song empire against the Western Xia invasions and other threats is commemorated in the Xuantian shangdi qisheng lu (An account of the revelations conveyed to the sages by the supreme sovereign of the dark celestial realm). A composite work, it is derived largely from the textual counterpart to the wall paintings of a shrine dedicated to the Martial Lord by Song Renzong in 1057. A later anthology reveals in turn that many literati of the thirteenth and fourteenth centuries promoted Xuanwu as the special guardian of the Mongol empire. Similarly, the Da Ming Xuantian shangdi ruiying tulu (An illustrated account of the auspicious responses of the supreme sovereign of the dark celestial realm during the great Ming) is a collection of encomia dating from 1405 to 1418 that honor the deity's role in establishing the mandate of the Ming.

Topography, epigraphy, and historiography

The chorography of sacred space, in the heavens above, on the earth below, and in the subterranean caverns beyond, is the subject of many works in the Daoist canon. Certainly among the most renowned of such texts from antiquity is the Wuyue zhenxing tu (Mappings of the true form of the Five Sacred Peaks), talismanic variations of which were introduced into the Lingbao textual corpus. The apotropaic value of these diagrams was recognized by Ge Hong and inspired Daoist liturgists for many generations later. The Five Sacred Peaks also serve as a crucial point of reference in Du Guangting's Dongtian fudi yuedu mingshan ji (A record of the celebrated mountains, conduits, sacred peaks, munificent terrains, and caverned heavens). In addition to mapping out the wuyue ("five [sacred] peaks," e.g., Tai Shan in the east, Heng Shan in the south, Song Shan in the center, Hua Shan in the west, and Heng Shan in the north) and the interlocking network of ranges, Du identifies ten major and thirty-six supplementary dongtian or subterranean chambers, as well as seventy-two sites traversed by various transcendents and the twenty-four original parishes established by Zhang Daoling in western Sichuan.

Larger descriptive topographies date from the Song to Ming. The canon preserves individual records for three of the Five Sacred Peaks. That compiled in commemoration of the Sacred Peak of the East, Dai shi (A history of Dai), was presented to Ming Shenzong (r. 1573–1619) on New Year's Day of 1587. In compiling this work the editor, Zha Zhilong (fl. 1554–1586), sought to reinforce the ritual obligations of the court toward Tai Shan, devoting large portions of the text to the history of imperial sacrifices and various temple compounds, as well as the supernatural phenomena witnessed at the site from 78 bce to 1586.

Earlier and less ambitious accounts are available for the sacred peaks of the west and south. The Xiyue Huashan zhi (A treatise on Hua Shan, sacred peak of the West) is attributed to a Wang Chuyi, not to be confused with the Quanzhen patriarch of the same name. This text, derived in part from the Huashan ji (A record of Hua Shan) dating to the Tang, may in fact be the work of the author of an 1183 preface, Liu Dayong. Unlike the treatise on Tai Shan, there is little discussion of ritual traditions in propitiation of the spirits embodied in the mountain. Instead, the compiler was far more interested in recounting stories about supramundane forces and in identifying indigenous plants and minerals with magical properties.

The Nanyue zongsheng ji (An anthology on the collective highlights of the sacred peak of the south) is wholly devoted to the history of Daoist sanctuaries on Heng Shan. The edition of this text in the Daozang is an extract from a fuller account of sacred shrines, including Daoist, Buddhist, and folk, that is printed in the Buddhist canon. Chen Tianfu (fl. 1131–1163), who completed this text in 1163, relies in part on the Nanyue xiaolu (A short account of the sacred peak of the south) compiled by Li Chongzhao in 902. Of considerable interest are Chen's own contributions on the history of rituals on behalf of the emperor's longevity and national prosperity. As the inventory of canonizations reveals, Song Huizong was a particularly avid patron of the shrines at Heng Shan.

Five topographies in the canon celebrate mountain ranges in Zhejiang, the most famous of which is Tiantai Shan. Central to the Tiantaishan zhi (A treatise on the Tiantai Mountains) is the history of the Tongbo Abbey, located on a peak of that name. It was for centuries the most prominent temple compound in the Tiantai range. Built originally for the Daoist master Sima Chengzhen (647–735), the Tongbo Guan reportedly once housed one of the largest collections of Daoist texts in the country. With the fall of Kaifeng and the reestablishment of the Song mandate at Hangzhou, the temple became an even more important talisman of the state and was evidently at the height of its glory in 1168, following thirty-seven years of construction activity. It later served as a haven for refugees during the fall of the Mongol regime and by 1367 went up in flames.

To the sacred font of the Shangqing revelations is dedicated the largest topography in the canon, the Maoshan zhi (A treatise on Maoshan). The forty-fifth Shangqing patriarch, Liu Dabin (fl. 1317–1328), completed this text in 1328, at a time when the site enjoyed a renewal of royal patronage. His account opens with a comprehensive collection of imperial communications concerning Maoshan, dating from 1 bce to 1319 ce. Other outstanding features include the hagiographies of the three eponymous transcendents surnamed Mao as well as the ranks of Shangqing patriarchs and matriarchs, the history of various shrines and hermitages, an anthology of stone inscriptions dating from 520 to 1314, and a large selection of prose and prosody sustaining the sanctity of the region.

The Daozang also preserves a few works solely comprised of texts carved on stone. Most notable are the anthologies of epigraphy prepared on behalf of the Quanzhen heritage. The largest is the Ganshui xianyuan lu (An account of the origins of transcendents at Ganshui) compiled by the Quanzhen archivist Li Daoqian. The title refers to the Ganhe Garrison (in present-day Shaanxi), where the founder Wang Zhe reportedly achieved enlightenment in 1159. Most numerous are the tomb inscriptions commemorating worthies ranging from Wang Zhe to a contemporary of the editor. Another anthology, the Gongguan beizhi (Epigraphic memorials of palaces and abbeys), is devoted largely to the early history of the Baiyun Guan in Beijing. One inscription marks the conclusion of a massive renovation of the Tianchang Guan, as the earlier abbey was known, in 1179. Also included is the proclamation issued upon the completion of the Jin canon at the Tianchang Guan in 1191.

Zhu Xiangxian (fl. 1279–1308) of Maoshan is the editor of two works commemorating the site where Laozi reputedly left behind the Dao de jing in answer to the gatekeeper Yin Xi's pleas for instruction. One is a set of hagiographic inscriptions entitled Zhongnanshan shuojing tai lidai zhenxian beiji (An epigraphic record of the successive generations of perfected transcendents at the pavilion for the recitation of scripture on Zhongnan Shan). Zhu composed these accounts and had them inscribed on stone following a pilgrimage in 1279 to the Lou Guan (Tiered Abbey) established in honor of Yin Xi's discipleship. He derived much of his data from an earlier work compiled by Yin Wencao (d. 688), a Daoist master who apparently regarded himself as a descendant of Yin Xi. The second work compiled by Zhu, the Gu Louguan ziyun yanqing ji (An anthology from the abundant felicity of purple clouds at the tiered abbey of antiquity), includes inscriptions on the history of the shrine dating from 625 to 1303.

The historical works in the Daozang do not match the size and scope of those in the Buddhist canon. There are a large number of brief historical surveys embedded in various texts, composed generally to establish the ultimate antiquity and thus authority of a scriptural tradition. The earliest separately compiled history in the Daoist canon is the Lidai diwang chongdao ji (A record of reverence for the Dao on the part of sovereign rulers over successive generations) of Du Guangting. The opening summary of the pre-Tang era is little more than a statistical analysis of the number of temples established and Daoist masters ordained from one period of state patronage to the next. The discussions thereafter focus on the role of Taishang Laojun as the ancestral guardian of the Tang, especially his defense of the empire during the uprising of Huang Chao (d. 884).

The unifying feature of all later histories in the canon continues to be the providential manifestations of Lord Lao. Prototypes of this historiographic approach include the early writings on huahu ("converting the barbarians") that were essentially chronicles of Laozi's incarnations as the supreme preceptor of all peoples. To write a history of the faith was, in other words, to write a hagiography of Lord Lao as the messiah. This approach is exemplified in Jia Shanxiang's (fl. 1086) Youlong zhuan (Like unto a dragon), the title of which is drawn from Confucius's putative characterization of Laozi as recorded in the Shi ji (Records of the historian) of Sima Qian (145–86 bce). Jia concentrates on Lord Lao's role as instructor to the ruling house and the history of the Taiqing Gong (Palace of Grand Clarity, in present-day Luyi, Henan province), the reputed birthplace of the "historical" Laozi.

Nearly a century later, Xie Shouhao (1134–1212), a prominent Daoist master at the site of the Xu Sun cult in Jiangxi, presented an even more comprehensive chronicle to Song Guangzong (r. 1190–1194). In compiling the Hunyuan shengji (A chronicle of the sage from the primordiality of chaos), Xie sought to correct the inconsistencies in Jia's account by drawing on a wider range of readings from the sanjiao, or "three teachings" (i.e., Confucianism, Daoism, and Buddhism). Xie's work is an invaluable source of citations from works no longer extant, such as the early chronicle on Lord Lao compiled by Yin Wencao. He is also particularly attentive to the history of the compilation of the canon. Among those who found Xie's work indispensable was the hagiographer Zhao Daoyi.

Literary Collections and Dialogic Treatises

Among the most informative sources on the beliefs and practices of Daoist masters are their collected writings, editions of which were commonly prepared by devotees. The prime example is of course Tao Hongjing's assiduous collation of Yang Xi's revelatory verse. The writings of Wu Yun (d. 778), an ordained Zhengyi master often summoned by Tang Xuanzong, were brought together more expeditiously. According to a preface by Quan Deyu (759–818), a scribe named Wang Yan rescued what remained of the master's writings and presented them to the imperial archives. The edition in the canon, the Zongxuan xiansheng wenji (A literary anthology of Master Zongxuan) is that which a disciple Shao Yixuan conveyed to Quan. Among Wu's most well-known compositions is a sequence of verse entitled Buxu ci (Lyrics on pacing the Void) and a lengthy essay arguing that divine transcendence can indeed be learned. The history of a second Tang anthology in the canon, the collected works of the renowned Du Guangting entitled Guangcheng ji (An anthology of Guangcheng), is more obscure. It, too, is a valuable resource on the ritual activities of Daoist masters whose reputations made them favorites at court.

By far the most numerous of literary collections in the canon are those compiled after the Tang. A vast corpus, for example, has evolved around the semi-legendary Lü Yan, claimed as the patriarch of both the Quanzhen and Nanzong (Southern Heritage) traditions. A substantial collection of verse conventionally ascribed to him in truth probably dates no earlier than the thirteenth century. One anthology, the Chunyang zhenren huncheng ji (An anthology of the perfected on arising from turbulence), was prepared by He Zhiyuan, a disciple of Song Defang. He was among those assigned to work on the Canon of 1244, the opportunity of which no doubt led to this edition. What he claimed to be the product of Lü's divine inspiration appears instead to reflect the literary legacy of Wang Zhe and his disciples.

Over a half-dozen works alone purport to be the teachings and writings of founder Wang. A number of the texts were compiled in direct tribute to Ma Yu's discipleship under Wang. The master's basic pedagogy was apparently to recite a verse that would provoke a response from his devotees. Two works, the Chongyang jiaohua ji (An anthology on the proselytism of Chongyang) and the Chongyang fenli shihua ji (An anthology of Chongyang on the ten transformations according to the sectioning of a pear), preserve hundreds of these missives between Wang and Ma. The exchange began, according to legend, when Wang locked himself up for one hundred days on the grounds of his hosts Ma and wife Sun Bu'er and communicated with them merely by submitting a gift of food, often a section of pear, accompanied by instruction in verse. There is unfortunately no comparable record of Sun's responses, although late editions of her writings available outside the canon suggest that at least a few considered her to have been equally literate.

Other texts in the canon reveal that Wang was also willing to entertain the questions of his disciples. Records of such question-and-answer sessions, known as yulu or dialogic treatises, were as popular with the Quanzhen masters as with their Chan Buddhist counterparts. A somewhat redundant example of this genre, the Chongyang shou Danyang erhshisi jue (Twenty-four lessons conveyed by Chongyang to Danyang), is composed of a series of questions and answers attributed to Ma and his master Wang. Among the lessons taught is that the devotee should speak very little, control all emotions, and minimize anxiety and cravings. Further details on Wang's instruction are found in the Chongyang lijiao shiwu lun (Fifteen discourses on the teachings set forth by Chongyang). Moderation in all things appears to be the central message of this dialogue. According to the concluding statement ascribed to Wang, departure from the mundane realm was to be accomplished mentally, not physically. The closing simile, obviously borrowed from the Buddhist translator and exegete Kumarajiva, is that one's body is like the root-stock of a lotus mired in mud, whereas one's heart-mind is suspended in space as the lotus blossom itself.

The writings associated with Ma Yu are even more numerous than those of his master. Aside from three works based on exchanges with Wang, there are altogether six separate collections of prose and prosody printed under his name in the canon. One compilation, the Dongxuan jinyu ji (An anthology of the gold and jade of Dongxuan), includes a particularly revealing verse that exhorts Buddhist monks and Daoist masters to come together in accord and do away with slander. Another work, the Jianwu ji (An anthology on gradual enlightenment), features onomatopoeic verses that were apparently designed to illustrate, as the title implies, that enlightenment is a gradual process. A significant number of Ma's verses are expressly dedicated to female adepts, including his wife Sun. All men and women of the Dao, he urges, would best bring under control their yima xinyuan, or "horse of the will and monkey of the mind."

Qiu Chuji, the youngest disciple of Wang and eventually the most renowned, has comparably fewer writings to his name in the canon. The Changchunzi Panxi ji (An anthology of Changchunzi from the Pan tributary) preserves compositions dating both from Qiu's seclusion in the upper reaches of the Yellow River valley as well as from his later ritual activities at Qixia (in present-day Shandong). Among his verses are commemorations of various jiao fetes over which he had presided, personal communications to Jin Shizong (r. 1161–1189), and instructions on meditative practices. In addition to Li Zhichang's account of Qiu's later years, the Xuanfeng qinghui lu (A record of a felicitous convocation on the sublime spirit of the Dao), ascribed to Yelü Chucai (1189–1243), provides a record of the sermons delivered before his patron, Chinggis Khan.

All but a fraction of the collected writings associated with the other select members in Wang's circle are lost. The single anthology of Tan Chuduan's teachings in the canon arose directly from the initiative of the junior patriarch Liu Chuxuan. Of the five anthologies attributed to Liu, only one survives, although a dialogic treatise compiled by his disciples reveals somewhat more about his career. Liu's sayings, many of which were inspired by lines in the Dao de jing, were reportedly so popular as to have become part of the local culture of his circuit. The two paragons of filial piety, Wang Chuyi and Hao Datong, are remembered with one anthology each. The Yunguang ji (An anthology from Yunguang), named for the cavern in which Wang secluded himself for nine years, is a valuable supplement to the hagiographic Xianyi lu. The one edition of Hao's teachings to be preserved attests to his training as a diviner and abiding interest in the Yijing.

The influence of the early Quanzhen patriarchs is easily measured by the volume of writings that emerged from later generations. Among those whose teachings expanded upon this legacy are Qiu's successor Yin Zhiping (1169–1251), Liu's disciple Yu

Daoxian (1168–1232), and Hao's disciple Wang Zhijin (1178–1263). Later syncretists for whom there is ample record in the canon include Li Daochun (fl. 1290), Miao Shanshi (fl. 1324), Wang Jie (fl. 1310), Chen Zhixu (fl. 1329–1336), Wang Weiyi (fl. 1294–1304), and Zhao Yizhen (d. 1382). Many of these figures drew equally from the Quanzhen and Nanzong traditions. The fullest documentation on the latter is to be found in late encyclopedic anthologies of the Daozang.

Encyclopedic anthologies

The earliest comprehensive encyclopedic work in the canon is the Wushang biyao (The essentials of unsurpassed arcana). Only two-thirds of the original one hundred juan survives of this anonymous compilation. Citations from a wide selection of texts are organized under 288 headings, ranging from cosmology and sacred topography to the protocols for transmitting divine scriptures and instructions on meditative practices. The origins of this text are revealed in a Buddhist, not Daoist, compilation, namely the Xu gaoseng zhuan (Supplementary biographies of exalted monks) of Daoxuan (596–667), which states that Zhou Wudi (r. 561–578) ordered its compilation following his pacification of the state of Northern Qi in 577. It is thought that work began on this vast anthology as early as 574, when Wudi issued a decree establishing the Tongdao Guan (Abbey of Communication with the Dao) as a symbol of the anticipated political and ideological reunification of the empire. The text is not only an invaluable resource for citations from the original Shangqing and Lingbao revelations, but also for the later codifications they inspired.

Two smaller compendia were compiled a century later by a relatively unknown recluse named Wang Xuanhe (fl. 683). The larger of the works, the Sandong zhunang (Pearl bag of the three caverns) is organized under thirty-four categories dealing with various aspects of conduct befitting an adept and includes extracts from a number of texts on contemplative pursuits that are otherwise lost. The second corpus attributed to Wang is the Shangqing daolei shixiang (A categorical survey of the Dao of Shangqing), which specializes in citations dealing with six types of sacred quarters, from private retreats to the cosmic chambers of revealed literature.

A much larger encyclopedic anthology, the Yunji qiqian (Seven lots from the book-pack of the clouds), was compiled by Zhang Junfang, inspired apparently by his assignment to oversee the copying of a new canon on the order of Song Zhenzong. Zhang states in his preface that his intention was to prepare a reference work for the emperor's personal use. But since the Yunji qiqian was not completed until 1028 or 1029, it was obviously presented to his successor Renzong (r. 1023–1053). The writings Zhang selected for this work date from the earliest revelations to the first decades of the eleventh century. Recorded, for example, in the opening essays on cosmogony and scriptural transmission are unique copies of the prefaces composed for the first catalogues of Shangqing and Lingbao literature. Additional subheadings include sacred topography, behavioral precepts, ritual purification, visualization techniques, and hagiography. Notably absent are any instructions on liturgical procedure, a subject that Zhang clearly considered to be beyond the scope of this corpus.

Two remarkable collections of writings treating "inner alchemy" (neidan) appeared during the Southern Song period. The first in print was the Dao shu (Pivot of the Dao) compiled by the bibliophile Zeng Cao (fl. 1131–1155). Among the rare texts Zeng records is the Baiwen pian (A folio of one-hundred questions), based on a putative exchange between Lü Yan and his mentor, the late Han transcendent Zhongli Quan. The entire last chapter is devoted to the Lingbao pian (A folio on Lingbao), a variant edition of the Lingbao bifa (Conclusive rites of Lingbao), which was also compiled as a tribute to this legendary discipleship. A related theoretical work on the cultivation of the jindan (metallous enchymoma), the Zhong Lü chuandao ji (An Anthology on Zhong [li]'s transmission of the Dao to Lü), is found in both the Dao shu and a later Song collectaneum of neidan literature, the Xiuzhen shishu (Ten writings on the cultivation of perfection). This anonymously compiled anthology also includes many texts associated with the Nanzong, or Southern Heritage, the "five patriarchs" (wuzu) of which are: Liu Cao (d. ca. 1050), Zhang Boduan (d. 1082), Shi Tai (d. 1158), Xue Zixian (d. 1191), and Chen Nan (d. 1213). The establishment of this patriarchy appears to be a rather late innovation inspired by the legacy of the Seven Perfected of Quanzhen. By the early fourteenth century a number of texts began to assert that Liu conveyed the teachings of the venerable Zhongli Quan and Lü Yan to both Wang Zhe in the north and Zhang Boduan in the south.

Zhang Boduan is popularly regarded as the "founder" of Nanzong. His writings were initially viewed as treatises on waidan, "exterior," or laboratory, alchemy. More recent research suggests that they fall, rather, into the mainstream of neidan literature. An edition of the major corpus attributed to him, the Wuzhen pian (Folios on the apprehension of perfection), is recorded in the Xiuzhen shishu, with a preface by Zhang dating to 1075. The same anthology also includes variant editions of similar lyrical sequences ascribed to Shi Tai, Xue Zixian, and Chen Nan. But by far the most dominant in the Xiuzhen shishu are the writings of Chen's putative disciple, the renowned Thunder Ritual specialist Bai Yuchan. Nearly half of the text is devoted to a record of his instructions on jindan and Thunder Ritual traditions, as well as his liturgical activities in Fujian and his accounts of the Xu Sun cult in central Jiangxi. It may be that the Xiuzhen shishu was compiled by devotees of Bai, for the latest work included is a set of texts on jindan by Xiao Tingzhi (fl. 1260), a second-generation disciple.

Other Sources

While the Daozang is the most comprehensive collection of Daoist literature, it is by no means the only source available. Among the number of publications issued during the Qing dynasty, the next largest corpus is the Daozang jiyao (An edition of essentials from Daoist canon). The reedition of this work in 1906 includes 287 titles, compared to nearly fifteen hundred in the canon. Over half of the titles are found in the Daozang as well, but this anthology also contains works otherwise unknown, including tracts attributed to Sun Bu'er and Liu Cao, as well as the writings of later syncretists such as Wu Shouyang (d. 1644).

Perhaps one of the most neglected resources for Daoist literature is epigraphy. Aside from the few, mainly Quanzhen, collections in the canon, there is a wide range of stone and bronze inscriptions pertinent to the history of the faith. An anthology of epigraphy compiled by Wang Chang (1725–1806), for example, includes a transcription of the Taishang Laojun riyong miaojing (A wondrous scripture of Lord Lao and most high for daily use) carved on stone in 1352 at the Pavilion for the Recitation of Scriptures in Shaanxi. A variant redaction of this text is found in the Daozang and, at 141 words, is among the shortest works in the canon. It is essentially a code of conduct based on many traditional Chinese attributes such as filiality. Study of epigraphic documents will soon be greatly facilitated by the imminent publication of a comprehensive anthology of inscriptions bearing on the history of Daoism, a project begun by Chen Yuan and now being completed by Chen Zhichao at the Chinese Academy of Social Sciences in Beijing.

Scriptures and related sacred writings found in various archives constitute another essential source of Daoist literature. The Dunhuang manuscripts preserved in a number of libraries worldwide, for example, include texts that clarify the early history of several scriptural codifications. One such work, of which only a portion survives in the canon, is the Benji jing (Scripture on the original juncture). Over seventy fragments of this text are in the British and French archives of Dunhuang manuscripts. One of the compilers is known to have taken part in debates before the court of Tang Gaozu (r. 618–626) on the issue of whether the Buddha was a disciple of the Dao. The text itself, designed apparently in part to support this theory, seems to have taken its inspiration from discussions on the cosmogonic concept of pūrvakoṭi (Chin., benji) in the Madhyamāgama and Saṃyuktāgama, Chinese translations of which appeared in the fourth and fifth centuries. Parables in one section of the Benji jing, moreover, were evidently drawn from the Dharmapada. The text reached the height of its popularity during the reign of Tang Xuanzong, who ordered all Daoist priests not only to copy it out but also to recite and lecture on it during official religious festivals. In short, the lessons within were thought to lead to the salvation of the state as well as of the individual.

Later collections of manuscripts and rare blockprints also have much to reveal about the continuity and change in Daoist traditions. Among published works is the Zhuang Lin xu Daozang (Supplementary Daoist canon of the Zhuang and Lin clans) edited by Michael Saso, a collection of Daoist works largely gathered from a Zhengyi fraternity in Xinzhu of north Taiwan. These texts, as well as those recovered by Kristofer Schipper in the Tainan area of south Taiwan, suggest a remarkable continuum of Daoist liturgical practice. A scripture dedicated to Tianfei (i.e., Mazu) in the Schipper Archives of Paris, for example, proves to be a variant of a text in the canon dating to 1409–1412. The manuscript version conveys an image of this well-known Fujianese patroness of seafarers that accommodates a folk vision of her as an avatāra of Guanyin. Tianfei's assimilation to this all-compassionate bodhisattva is promoted in popular narratives on the life of the goddess compiled during the late Ming dynasty. Just as she continues to inspire poets, novelists, and even scriptwriters in this age, so, too, has much of the Daoist literature both in and outside the canon left its mark on centuries of Chinese belles-lettres. Further study of this literature can only disclose how deeply the Daoist heritage pervades all aspects of Chinese society.

The Daozang (Chinese: 道藏; pinyin: Dàozàng; Wade–Giles: Tao Tsang) is a large canon of Taoist writings, consisting of around 1,500 texts that were seen as continuing traditions first embodied by the Daodejing, Zhuangzi, and Liezi. The canon was assembled by monks c. 400 CE in an attempt to bring together these disparate yet consonant teachings, and it included commentaries and expositions from various masters on material found in the aforementioned core texts of Taoism. The anthology consisted of three divisions (known as grottoes) based on what were seen at that time in Southern China as Taoism's primary focuses: meditation, ritual, and exorcism. These three grottoes were ranked by skill level—with exorcism being the lowest and meditation the highest—and used for the initiation of Taoist masters.

In addition to the Three Grottoes, there were the "Four Supplements" that were added to the canon c. 500 CE. Three were primarily sourced from the older core texts, with the other taken from a separate, established philosophical tradition known as Tianshi Dao.

Unlike many spiritual and religious canons, the Daozang is not considered to be highly organized. Although at present the core divisions have been preserved, substantial forks in the ordering and arrangement of the constituent texts have arisen due to the later addition of commentaries, revelations and texts further elaborating upon earlier iterations.

Timeline

The First Daozang
During the era of Northern and Southern dynasties, this was the first time of an effort was made to compile and categorised scriptures and texts from across China by Lu Xiujing and occurred around 471 and consisted of roughly 1,228 scrolls.
The Second Daozang
In 748, the Tang emperor Tang Xuan-Zong who was a devoted Taoist (the royal family claimed to be the descendants of Laozi) sent clergy to collect more scriptures and texts that expanded the Taoist Canon.
The Third Daozang
Around 1016 of the Song dynasty, the Daozang was revised and many texts collected during the Tang dynasty were removed. This third Daozang consisted of approximately more than 4500 scrolls and was known as Yunji Qiqian.
The Fourth Daozang
In 1444 of the Ming dynasty, a final version was produced consisting of approximately 5300 scrolls.
Many new Daozang were published.

Hi!

Idk if this is a silly query but could anyone point me towards english translations of texts from the Daozang?

I've been reading a little from "Daoist Master Chuang" and my interest has reached new peaks, i'd like to at least glance at some of the material talked about in relation to orthodox Taoist practices.

I found this:

http://hanji.sinica.edu.tw/

while leafing through Pregadios index paper but it is wholly in chinese from what i can see.

Any indications towards translations or texts detailing of the teachings of the three caves would be met with gratitude and joy!

Peace!

Thanks for the link!

Well, ritual instruction and prayer as far as translateable go a long way to understand certain things, as i'm interested in gleaning some ideas behind more orthodox practices and liturgy. Not for use but context.

The material in the books is an excellent guide, but you really need to bring knowledge to it, to know where to mine more knowledge out of it. At some point I will have to make a recommended reading list, but Saso's work would be on it, as well as others.

Difficulties in reading the original Taoist canon are :

1) They are in classical Chinese , not modern Chinese;

2) Many are without punctuation ! (that means your reading ability must be very high so as to separate the sentences/phases)

3) In the texts, there are lot of strange jargons , making them nearly not readable ;

This much i have gathered. Sasos book references a lot of the texts being in need of the oral transmissions to be comprehensible, besides holding high skill in classical chinese and context and terminology.

Wishing my teenage self had stood his ground and taken mandarin or cantonese as special language ed. Alas, he bowed to his parents will and took german. Go figure.

I started to see why time and place have such a heavy bearing on the amount of worthwhile translatable meaning, at least without involving lots of historic anthropology side-tracking. Especially if the chant was only a shorthand recording of some practice.. one that could be perfectly demonstrated in mere seconds, vs. painstakingly inscribing each actual detail.

For example, I just invented a move called "the eagle has landed." That is to say I've artfully balanced a silver dollar on the top of my head. Now, if you did not happen to know that I presently have a 25 gram disc of alloyed metals, i.e. a $1 coin from 1972, illustrated with an actual eagle landing on the Moon, then the name of the move becomes unnecessarily mysterious.

Even if I changed the name to the less poetic yet more descriptive "holding a dollar coin atop the head," depending on how it then gets miscontextually translated literally and culturally somewhere down the line, sure they could end up way off and thinking i meant i have "my money on my mind."

The real trick is, you don't even need any coins to do this move. If you simply imagine picking up a 1.5 inch diameter coin with your fingertips, the hand naturally takes on a kind of expanding version of the Beak-hand/Mukula-mudra (synchronicity bonus: eagles have beaks.) Now gracefully raise the arm and rest the five fingertips in a circle around Bai Hui (Du Mai 20). The skull and the hand become respectively reminiscent of the Moon and the Apollo ll lunar lander at the moment in 1969 when the pilot radioed mission control that "the eagle has landed."

It looks like that some people already translated a small part of Daozang into English.

I have not gotten a chance to take a closer look on it, but their work already earned my respect.

Another sad thing is that you can't use Google 's translate to help , even partly to lessen the difficulties of the job . AI scientists always like to bullshit people about the coming of Singularity as super AI is going to access all knowledge through the world wide net and understood all different languages through Machine Learning and NLP ..etc, yet two huge archives (millions volumes of them in Chinese) of Daozang and Fozang (" 佛蔵" , Buddhist sutra in Chinese ; in fact, nobody knows how huge a volume it is ..) are there talking about deep knowledge of jing, qi, shen , time, consciousness ..etc , so important to human' intelligence , are even not mentioned by those AI scientists; Writing to this point, it makes me think of a Chinese saying you can always come across online : " 無知者無懼 " ;

" Those who are so brave to claim intelligent , unfortunately are those who are so ignorant (of what human intelligence really is) "

I see your points. Talking about Daozang and Fozang, it may be impossible to get 100% correct result from Google or other translating tools.

It seems for me that a lot of people do not need 100% correct content if they are not practicers. Sometimes 80% correct content is good enough for them to make simple decisions or to get feels/verviews, etc.

I found a tiny piece of Daozang from scanned original copies that printed a few hundreds year ago, so I am sure the copies are genuine. If I do a quick browse on 10 pages of them, about 2,000 characters total, could I understand all content of them? Could I get basic ideas 100% correct from the 10 pages?

I see your points. Talking about Daozang and Fozang, it may be impossible to get 100% correct result from Google or other translating tools.

It seems for me that a lot of people do not need 100% correct content if they are not practicers. Sometimes 80% correct content is good enough for them to make simple decisions or to get feels/verviews, etc.

I'm sorry, got to strongly disagree with you here. I think you would be lucky to get 10% correct by plugging Buddhist or Daoist canonical works into Google translate, and there's no way for anybody who doesn't smoke as much meth as the Google translate bot evidently does could make decisions on the basis of this stuff.

Let's use the Heart Sutra as an example. Here's what Google gives you:

View the self-Buddhist. It’s as long as a lot of time. See the five elements are empty. All the bitterness. Relics. Color is empty. It’s not empty. The color is empty. Empty is the color. I am thinking about it. It is also true. Relics. It is the empty space of the laws. Not born or not. Not dirty. No increase or decrease. It is colorless in the air. Nothing to think about. No eyes and ears. Colorless sound and fragrance touch. No vision. Even the unconscious world. No ignorance. There is no clearness. Even no death. There is no old death. No bitterness. No wisdom or no. No income. Bodhi. According to Prajna Paramita. Innocent. Nothing. No horror. Stay away from reversing your dreams. Nirvana. The Three Buddhas. According to Prajna Paramita. Aunt Doro, Sancha, and Bodhi. I know that Prajna Paramita is more. It is a great curse. It is a big mantra. It is a curse. There is no curse. Able to eliminate all pain. Really worthwhile. Therefore, it is said that Prajna Paramita is a curse. That is to say cursing.
Uncovering and revealing, Balo’s discovery, Boluo’s discovery, Bodhisattva

"Therefore, it is said that Prajna Paramita is a curse. That is to say cursing." Yeah, um, ok.

Now here're the last few lines from an important neidan poem called 《金丹詩訣》 by Chen Nan:

Once the work is done with sincerity, the spirit is so solid and solid, Yan Rongru is not hungry and thirsty, and Fang Xian Jin Dan is a success. Cui Wei's independent crystal palace, the body is very intentional, in the middle of the night, Huang Po came to the door, as a medium to marry and Jin Gong. Taiyi Xuanzhu Jin Liquid Dan, also returned to the local children's face. If you want to hear a new teacher's language, you can teach him to see a class. In the night, a Büfu 蕖, there are red pills dropping beads, dripping Huachi is Shenshui, Dantian gathers for Danshu. It is called the water and fire essence, this is the two dragons and scorpions, but take the sacred point away from the hole, pure dry can take the flight.

There's a point at which 10% correct is actually just 100% incorrect, because all you can do with stuff like this is waste precious, precious time that could be better spent reading books written or translated by people who actually care about helping you "awaken to reality," instead of a computer program.

That is, of course, unless "this is the two dragons and scorpions, but take the sacred point away from the hole, pure dry can take the flight" makes sense to you! So solid and solid!

It looks like that some people already translated a small part of Daozang into English.

http://dztranslation.org/index.html

I have not gotten a chance to take a closer look on it, but their work already earned my respect.

Unfortunately what I looked at is so deeply riddled with mistakes as to be close to useless.

~80% of the content in the Daoist Canon is about ritual, btw.

It is good to see different views, and you may be right.

For poems, I do not think any translating tools can do good jobs. For Neidan related poems, It is very hard for any people or professional translators to get a 1,000 years old poem translated 100% correct.

BTW, I tried the first poem of《金丹詩訣》with Google Translate, and the result is not too bad.

半斤真汞半斤铅，隐在灵源太极先。须趁子时当采取，炼成金液入丹田。

Half a catty of mercury, half a catty of lead, hidden in the source of Taiyuan.

When it is necessary to take it, it will be converted into gold liquid into Dantian.

Hello friend of Tao,

This is my blog where you can find some English translations of Taoist scriptures :

I had a Taoist website that focuses on English translation of Taoist scriptures. The site was shut down, but you can still access its contents through an archived version of the site :

The Daoist Canon (道藏 Daozang) is a comprehensive collection of Daoist scriptures. Its compilation began in the Tang dynasty. Daoist books increased day by day after the Wei and Jin dynasties. Chapter "Xialan" (extensive review) of The Inner Book of the Master Who Embraces Simplicity (抱朴子内篇 Baopuzi Neipian) had already registered over 600 volumes of Daoist books by then. During the Southern and Northern Dynasties, Lu Xiujing classified the books into "Three Grottoes" (三洞 Sandong) and compiled The Catalogue of Scriptures of the Three Grottoes (三洞經書目錄 Sandong Jingshu Mulu), the first catalogue of scriptures in the history of Daoism. Afterwards, ritual master Zheng compiled The Catalogue of the Seven Sections of the Jade Apocrypha (玉緯七部經書目 Yuwei Qibu Jing Shumu) according to the classification of the Three Grottoes and the Four Complements (四輔 Sifu). Later, Tao Hongjing compiled The Catalogue and The Catalogue of All the Supreme Scriptures (太上衆經目 Taishang Zhongjing Mu). It was not until the Kaiyuan era of the Tang dynasty (A.D. 713-741) that for the first time Daoist books were compiled into a corpus, namely The Daoist Canon of the Kaiyuan Era, the first Daoist corpus in Chinese history. Daoist books were missing in large numbers due to the turmoil at the end of the Tang dynasty and in the Five Dynasties. After the founding of the Song dynasty, Daoist scriptures were collected and collated on five occasions, and The Daoist Canon was re-compiled. Completed altogether were The Comprehensive Catalogue of Precious Literature (寶文統目 Baowen Tonglu), The Precious Canon of Heavenly Palace (天宮寶藏 Tiangong Baozang), The Daoist Canon of the Wanshou Era, and The Precious Canon of Exquisite Writings (瓊章寶藏 Qiongzhang Baozang). Compiled in the Jin dynasty was The Precious Canon of the Mysterious Metropolis of the Great Jin (大金玄都寶藏 Dajin Xuandu Baozang), and compiled in the Yuan dynasty was The Precious Canon of the Mysterious Metropolis. These Daoist canons were lost long before after suffering from wars and the burning in the Yuan dynasty. Extant today are The Daoist Canon of the Zhengtong Era (正統道藏 Zhengtong Daozang) printed in the tenth Zhengtong year of the Ming dynasty (1445) and The Supplementary Daoist Canon of the Wanli Era (萬曆續道藏 Wanli Xu Daozang) compiled and printed by Zhang Guoxiang in the 35th Wanli year (1607).

History of the Canon's Compilation

The Daoist Canon of the Kaiyuan Era (開元道藏 Kaiyuan Daozang)

It is the first Daoist canon in Chinese history and was compiled in the Kaiyuan years of the Tang dynasty (A.D. 713-741). After ascending the throne, Emperor Xuanzong of the Tang dynasty ordered more than 40 persons, including Shi Chongxuan, to compile The Pronunciation and Meaning of All Daoist Scriptures (一切道經音義 Yiqie Daojing Yinyi). Subsequently, on this basis, he sent people to search for Daoist scriptures here and there in the Kaiyuan era, and together with those collected in the capital, a corpus named The Exquisite Compendium of the Three Grottos (三洞瓊綱 Sandong Qionggang) was compiled, which consisted of 3,744 volumes (some say there are 5,700 volumes, some say there are 7,300 volumes) altogether. The Daoist Canon of the Kaiyuan Era was compiled according to the classification into Three Grottoes (三洞 Sanding). It was composed of three grottoes, containing 36 books in all. Each of the sections, the Pervasive Perfection (洞真 Dongzhen), the Pervasive Mystery (洞玄 Dongxuan) and the Pervasive Divinity (洞神 Dongshen) consisted of 12 books. In the seventh year of the Tianbao era (748), an imperial order to copy the canon was given in order to spread it widely. At the end of the Tang dynasty and in the Five Dynasties, the canon was destroyed in wars and is no longer extant.

The Comprehensive Catalogue of Precious Literature (寶文統錄 Baowen Tonglu)
It was one of the Daoist corpuses compiled in the Song dynasty, in the era of Dazhong Xiangfu during the reign of Emperor Zhenzong of the Song dynasty (1008-1016) to be exact. After the rebellion of An Lushan in the Tang dynasty, most of the Daoist books collected in the two capitals were burnt. Later, ordered by Emperor Suzong and Emperor Daizong of the Tang dynasty, the Daoists Shen Fu, Du Guangting and Ji Qiwu searched all over the country for Daoist books, but "few of the precious excellent books still existed" (Volume 52 of The Supreme Yellow Register Fasting Rituals (太上黃籙齋儀 Taishang Huanglu Zhaiyi)), and most had been lost. After the founding of the Song dynasty, more than 7,000 volumes of Daoist books were collected during the reign of Emperor Taizong of the Song dynasty, and Sanqi-Changshi (imperial attendant) Xu Xuan and Zhizhigao (official in charge of imperial documents) Wang Yuchen were ordered to collate, delete and copy them. After this, there were 3,737 volumes. During the first years of the Dazhong Xiangfu era, Emperor Zhenzong of the Song dynasty ordered Prime Minister Wang Qinruo to be in charge, choosing Daoists Zhu Yiqian, Feng Dezhi, etc. to collate the canon. Based on Xu Xuan and Wang Yuchen's edition, they supplemented 622 volumes. There were altogether 4,359 volumes, including 620 volumes of the Pervasive Perfection Section, 1,013 volumes of the Pervasive Mystery Section, 172 volumes of the Pervasive Divinity Section, 1,407 volumes of the Supreme Mystery Section (太玄部 Taixuan Bu), 192 volumes of the Supreme Peace Section (太平部 Taiping Bu), 576 volumes of the Supreme Clarity Section (太清部 Taiqing Bu), and 379 volumes of the Orthodox Oneness Section (正一部 Zhengyi Bu). A catalogue of the corpus was compiled and presented to the emperor and was given the title The Comprehensive Catalogue of Precious Literature. It has been lost today.

The Precious Canon of Heavenly Palace of the Great Song (大宋天宮寶藏 Dasong Tiangong Baozang)
It was one of the Daoist canons compiled in the Song dynasty. Since the compilation of The Comprehensive Catalogue of Precious Literature was not too ideal, in the fifth year of the Dazhong Xiangfu era (1012) Emperor Zhenzong of the Song dynasty appointed Zhang Junfang Zhuzuo-Zuolang (assistant historian) who was to compile the canon specially. Based on the existent Daoist books and scriptures collected from Suzhou, Yuezhou, Taizhou and so on, Zhang Junfang and Daoist priests discussed the stylistic rules, examined different versions, selected and arranged them in the order of the Three Grottoes and the Four Complements (四輔 Sifu), and compiled a corpus of 4,565 volumes. With the item "heaven" in the 1000-Word Writ (千字文 Qianzi Wen) as its first heading and the item "palace" as the last, the canon was titled The Precious Canon of Heavenly Palace of the Great Song. It is not currently extant.

The Longevity Daoist Canon (萬壽道藏 Wanshou Daozang)
It was one of the Daoist canons compiled in the Song dynasty. In the Chongning era of the reign of Emperor Huizong of the Song dynasty (1102-1106), an imperial order was given again to search for Daoist books, and Daoist priests were ordered at the publishing office to collate The Precious Canon of Heavenly Palace, which added up to 5, 387 volumes. In the Zhenghe era (1111-1118), the emperor ordered to look for missing Daoist books and set up an office in charge of scriptures. He ordered Daoists Yuan Miaozong and Wangdaojian to collate the scriptures and sent them to Minxian County, Fuzhou. Huang Shang, a court scholar, official and prefect of Fuzhou, employed workers to print them. The canon, 5,481 volumes altogether, filled 540 boxes. It was called The Longevity Daoist Canon, or The Longevity Canon of the Zhenghe Era as it was compiled in the Zhenghe era. This is the first printed Daoist canon. In the turmoil of the Jiajing era (1126-1127), it was lost, and in the Jin dynasty, it was completed. Today it does not exist.

The Precious Canon of the Mysterious Metropolis of the Great Jin (大金玄都寶藏 Dajin Xuandu Baozang)
It was a Daoist canon compiled in the Jin dynasty. In the 26th Dading year during the reign of Emperor Shizong of the Jin dynasty (1186), the emperor ordered to give the printing board of The Daoist Canon in the southern capitcal (i.e. today's Kaifeng, Henan) to the Tianchang Temple in Zhongdu (i.e. today's Beijing). In the first Mingchang year during the reign of Emperor Zhangzong of the Jin dynasty (1190), the emperor ordered the temple's inspector Sun Mingdao to search for missing books and re-compile The Daoist Canon. Sun Mingdao sent Daoists looking for the missing scriptures in different places of the country, and got 1,074 volumes. Together with the more than 21,800 books that survived, there were 83,198 books in all. They classified them into Three Grottoes and Four Complements, discussed the stylistic rules, examined different versions, and compiled one corpus, which totaled 602 books, 6,455 volumes and was titled The Precious Canon of the Mysterious Metropolis of the Great Jin. Due to the fire of the Tianchang Temple in the second Taihe year during the reign of Emperor Zhangzong of the Jin dynasty (1202), the canon was burnt and does not exist today.

The Precious Canon of the Mysterious Metropolis (玄都寶藏 Xuandu Baozang)
It was a Daoist canon compiled in the Yuan dynasty. In the ninth year during the reign of Emperor Taizong of the Yuan dynasty (1237), the Daoists Song Defang and Qin Zhi'an searched for the missing scriptures and planned to reprint The Daoist Canon. After eight years of compilation, the canon was completed in the third year during the reign of Empress Naima Zhen of the Yuan dynasty (1244). The canon consisted of over 7,800 volumes in all and was still titled The Precious Canon of the Mysterious Metropolis. The printing board was kept at the Temple of Mysterious Metropolis in Pingyang. In the eighth Zhiyuan year during the reign of Emperor Shizu of the Yuan dynasty (1281), an imperial order was given to burn the printing boards of all Daoist canons except The Book of Dao and Its Virtue (道德經 Daodejing). So the printing board of the Precious Canon of the Mysterious Metropolis was burnt and many scriptures collected were lost as a result. The canon does not exist today.

The Daoist Canon of the Zhengtong Era (正统道藏 Zhengtong Daozang)
It was a Daoist canon compiled in the Ming dynasty. At the beginning of the reign of Emperor Chengzu of the Ming dynasty (1403), Zhang Yuchu, the Celestial Master (天 師 Tianshi) of the 43rd generation was ordered to re-compile The Daoist Canon. After his death in the eighth Yongle year (1410), Zhang Yuqing, the Celestial Master of the 44th generation was ordered to continue the compilation. The board of the canon began to be made in the ninth Zhengtong year during the reign of Emperor Yingzong of the Ming dynasty (1444). Then Daoist Shao Yizheng was ordered to collate and supplement the canon. It was completed and printed in the tenth Zhengtong year (1445). The canon, titled The Daoist Canon of the Zhengtong Era, consisted of 5,305 volumes and filled 480 boxes. The scriptures were classified into Three Grottoes, Four Complements, and Twelve Subsections. The headings, from "tian" to "ying", were taken from the 1,000-Word Writ. Under each heading, there were a few volumes. The canon was spread in the country and kept in famous mountains and Daoist temples. In the 35th Wanli year during the reign of Emperor Shenzong of the Ming dynasty (A.D. 1607), Zhang Guoxiang, the Celestial Master of the 50th generation, was ordered to complement The Daoist Canon. The headings, from "du" to "ying", were also taken from the 1,000-Word Writ. There were altogether 32 sections, 180 volumes. This canon was titled The Supplementary Daoist Canon of the Wanli Era (萬曆續道藏 Wanli Xu Daozang). Together with The Daoist Canon of the Zhengtong Era, there were 5,485 volumes in all which filled 512 boxes. Only the edition of the Ming dynasty now exists. It is the only existent government-compiled Daoist canon of our country. From 1923 to 1926, Shanghai Commercial Press borrowed The Daoist Canon of the Zhengtong Era printed in the Ming dynasty, which was kept in Beijing White Cloud Temple (白雲觀 Baiyun Guan), and photocopied it in the name of Hanfen Tower. The canon was reduced into 6 mo. The books amounted to 1,476 and were included in 1,120 volumes. Today, there is the photocopied edition of The Daoist Canon published in 1987 by Wenwu Press, Shanghai Shudian Press, and Tianjin Guji Press. In addition, a photocopied edition published by Taiwan Yiwen Yinshuguan Press and Taiwan Xinwenfeng Publishing House is in circulation.

Organization of the Canon

The Daoist Canon of the Zhengtong Era (正統道藏 Zhengtong Daozang) is classified into Three Grottoes (三洞 Sanding), Four Complements (四輔 Sifu), and twelve subsections. The "Three Grottoes" refer to those of Pervasive Perfection (洞真 Dongzhen), Pervasive Mystery (洞玄 Dongxuan) and Pervasive Divinity (洞神 Dongshen). When Daoist Lu Xiujing (A.D. 406-477) of Liusong of the Southern Dyansty compiled The Catalogue of Scriptures of the Three Grottoes (三洞經書目錄 Sandong Jingshu Mulu), he classified the Daoist books into three categories: Pervasive Perfection, Pervasive Mystery and Pervasive Divinity. The first kind mainly consists of Scriptures of the Highest Clarity (靈寶經 Lingbao Jing) and is known as the first-class; the second kind mainly consists of Scriptures of the Numinous Treasure (上清經 Shangqing Jing) and is known as the second-class; the third kind mainly consists of The Book of the Three August Ones (三皇經Sanhuang Jing) and is known ad the third-class. This classifying method originated by Lu Xiujing sorted out numerous Daoist books and laid a foundation for the subsequent compilation of The Daoist Canon. The "Four Complements" were first seen in ritual master Meng's The Catalogue of the Seven Sections of the Jade Apocrypha (玉緯七部經書目 Yuwei Qibu Jing Shumu).

Because the classification as Three Grottoes could not include all the Daoist books, the "Four Complements" came into being as a supplement. They refer to the sections of Supreme Clarity (太清 Taiqing), Supreme Peace (太平 Taiping), Supreme Mystery (太玄 Taixuan) and Orthodox Oneness (正一 Zhengyi), which supplement Pervasive Perfection, Pervasive Mystery, Pervasive Divinity and all the above six divisions and the three classes respectively. The twelve subsections are:

Original texts, which refer to the original true texts of the scriptures;
Divine talismans, which refer to the scripts of characters on seals and numinous talismans;
Jade formulae, which refer to the commentaries of Daoist books;
Numinous charts, which refer to the illustrations of the texts or scriptures mainly composed of charts;
Records of lineages, which refer to Daoist scriptures recording the deeds of Perfect Men and Sages' transformation and their merits and ranks;
Precepts, which refer to scriptures about commandments and Ledgers of Merits and Demerits (功過格 gongguo ge);
Rituals, which refer to scriptures about Fasts and Offerings (齋醮 zhaijiao) and rituals;
Methods, which refer to Daoist books on methods of cultivation of perfection, nourishing spiritual nature, worship and refinement;
Techniques, which refer to Daoist books on Outer Alchemy (外丹 waidan) and Divinatory Calculation (術數 shushu);
Biographies, which refer to the biographies and stele inscriptions of immortals and Perfect Men and annals of Daoist temples;
Hymns, which refer to scriptures lauding spirits;
Petitions and memorials, which refer to the petitions and Qingci (Daoist prayers written in vermilion on a kind of special paper) presented in fasts and offerings.
The existent Daoist Canon of the Zhengtong Era is classified into Three Grottoes, Four Complements and twelve subsections. This classifying method has its shortcomings. For example, there is no further classification under the Four Complements so that the stylistic rule is in disorder and reference is not convenient. A recent scholar Chen Yingning re-classified the Daoist Canon in the 1930s. He classified the canon into 14 categories according to the character of the scriptures. We believe that there will be a more scientific and reasonable classification of The Daoist Canon when it is re-compiled. The extant canon, though not so scientific in its levels of classification, is rich in content. In addition to Daoist scriptures, it collects works of the various schools of thought and their exponents during the period from pre-Qin times to the early years of the Han dynasty. It provides valuable materials for the study of philosophic ideas, social history, science and techniques, literature and arts, peoples' conditions and customs, and the national psychology of ancient China. Moreover, it can be used for the study of versions and collations. Presently scholars are planning and preparing for the compilation of a new China Daoist Canon.

Reference Aids
The Catalogue of the Scriptures of the Daoist Canon (道藏經目錄 Daozang Jing Mulu): The author is unknown. It is a four-volume Daoist catalogue. At the very beginning are

"The Origin and Lineage of Daoism" and notes on the use of the canon that explain the classification of Three Grottoes (三洞 Sanding), Four Complements (四輔 Sifu), and twelve subsections. The first volume is the catalogue of the Pervasive Perfection Section (洞真部 Dongzhen Bu), the second volume is the catalogue of the Pervasive Mystery Section (洞玄部 Dongxuan Bu), the third volume is the catalogue of the Pervasive Divinity Section (洞神部 Dongshen Bu), and the fourth volume consists of the catalogue of the Supreme Mystery Section (太玄部 Taixuan Bu), the Supreme Peace Section (太平部 Taiping Bu), the Supreme Clarity Section (太清部 Taiqing Bu), and the Orthodox Oneness Section (正一部 Zhengyi Bu). A catalogue of 1,415 Daoist scriptures, it is arranged in 4,517 volumes and numbered according to the 1000-Word Writ (千字文 Qianzi Wen). Attached to the catalogue is The Supplementary Catalogue of the Scriptures of the Daoist Canon (續道藏經目錄 Xu Daozang Jing Mulu). Numbered from "du" to "ying", it collects 52 Daoist scriptures and is arranged in 180 volumes. At the end of the catalogue is written: Zhang Guoxian collated and printed it by imperial order in the 35th Wanli year of the Ming dynasty (1607). Zhang Guoxiang was the Celestial Master (天師 Tianshi) of the 50th generation. He compiled The Supplementary Daoist Canon (of the Wanli Era) (（萬曆）續道藏 (Wanli) Xu Daozang) by imperial order in the Wanli era. Therefore, The Catalogue of the Scriptures of the Daoist Canon must have been completed at the same time as The Daoist Canon of the Zhengtong Era (正統道藏 Zhengtong Daozang) and The Supplementary Daoist Canon of the Wanli Era. It is collected in the Orthodox Oneness Section of The Daoist Canon of the Zhengtong Era. The Catalogue of the Missing Scriptures of the Daoist Canon (道藏缺經目錄 Daozang Quejing Mulu): The author is unknown. It is a two-volume Daoist catalogue. A note to the title of its first volume says, "It is copied from the former catalogue". A recent scholar Chen Yuan believes that this is just the catalogue of missing scriptures collected in the Daoist canon of the Yuan dynasty, but not in The Daoist Canon of the Zhenggtong Era. It is a catalogue of 768 missing scriptures. Attached at the end is The Detailed Outline of the Venerable Scriptures of the Past Dynasties Collected in the Daoist Canon (道藏尊經歷代綱目 Daozang Zunjing Lidai Gangmu). As for the Three Grottoes and Four Complements, it says that the Supreme Clarity and Orthodox Oneness Sections supplement the Pervasive Divinity Section, which is slightly different from the traditional view that the Supreme Clarity supplements the Pervasive Divinity Section and the Orthodox Oneness Section supplements all the six sections. This catalogue provides reference material for the study of the evolution of The Daoist Canon. It is collected in the Orthodox Oneness Section of The Daoist Canon of the Zhengtong Era.

The Detailed Annotations of the Contents of the Daoist Canon
The Detailed Annotations of the Contents of the Daoist Canon (《道藏目錄詳注》 Daozang Mulu Xiangzhu) (4 volumes) was written by Bai Yunzhai at the White Cloud Temple of Beijing (Mr. Cheng Guofu considers that Bai Yunzhai was from the Temple Facing the Heaven) in the 6th Tianqi year of Emperor Xixong in the Ming dynasty. The book is based on the Daoist Canon, being classified by the Three Grottoes, the Four Complements, and the Twelve Types. Each entry has some interpretations on the title:

the Chongwen Comprehensive Bibliography (《崇文總目》 Chongwen Zongmu) and Reading at the Junzhai (《郡齋讀書志》Junzhai Dushu Zhi) are suitable examples. The book is titled as detailed annotations, but in fact it is fairly brief, and later it was included in the Four Repositories. It is a reference book for the Daoist Canon.

Annotated Bibliography of the Daoist Canon

The Annotated Bibliography of the Daoist Canon' '(道藏提要 Daozang Tiyao) was first published by the China Social Sciences Press in January 1997, with Ren Jiyu as the Editor in Chief and Zhong Zhaopeng as assistant editor. Numerous in volumes and rich in contents, the Daoist Canon of the Zhengtong Era (正統道藏 Zhengtong Daozang) and the Supplementary Daoist Canon of the Wanli Era (萬曆續道藏 Wanli Xu Daozang) of the Ming dynasty are the main materials for the study of Daoism. But it is inconvenient to search for books in the canons, due to their lack of a systematic classification system as well as the unknown authors and times of some books. Imitating the compilation methods of the Comprehensive Annotated Bibliography of the Four Repositories, the Annotated Bibliography of the Daoist Canon adopted the fruits of the research of previous scholars, including Liu Shipei, Chen Yuan, ChenYique, Tang Yongtong, Chen Guofu, Wang Ming, Chen Yingning, and Weng Dujian in China, and Yoshioka Yoshitoyo, Ofuchi Ninji, and Fukunaga Mitsuji in Japan. Aiming at examining the time, author and contents of each book in the canon, it adopts traditional methods of textual criticism and gloss explanation. Besides, it also compares Daoism with Buddhism in their mutual influence. Meanwhile, it judges the dates of texts based on the historic development of Chinese philosophy. As appendixes, it contains a "Brief Introduction to the Authors of Daoist Scriptures", a "Bibliography with New Classification of the Scriptures in the Daoist Canon", a "Bibliography of the Daoist Canon and of the Supplementary Daoist Canon", an "Index to the Authors of Daoist Scriptures", and an "Index to the Books in the Daoist Canon". As a complete and useful reference book with high academic value, it provides readers with great convenience.

Index to the Daoist Canon

The Index to the Daoist Canon (《道藏索引》 Daozang Suoyin) was originally compiled by Kristofer M. Schipper and recomposed by Chen Yaoting. With the subtitle Concordance of the Daozang, it was published by the Shanghai Bookstore Press in 1996. The traditional classification of the voluminous Daoist Canon makes it inconvenient for modern scholars to search scriptures, and they commonly adopt the Concordance du Tao-tsang (《道藏通檢》 Daozang Tongjian) composed by Prof. Kristofer M. Schipper in 1975. With this concordance, it is rather convenient for users to search a text in the canon. In 1989, Prof. Chen Yaoting, the director of the Institute of Religions of the Shanghai Academy of Social Sciences, during his academic visit to France, obtained Prof. Schipper's agreement to recompose his index without any fee. Schipper's index arranges all Daoist books according to clear classifications as petitions, rituals, etc. Moreover, it simplifies the names of the scriptures into the most important parts as clues to related scriptures as well as the original scriptures. Also, it helps the reader to search for scriptures with changed titles. The principles of the recomposition include:

Keeping the concordance.
Following the order of Schipper's index, compiling a United Bibliography of the Titles of the Books in Five Versions of the Daoist Canon, listing the different sections, volumes and numbers of pages of each scripture in each of the five different versions.
Compiling an alphabetical index following Chinese reading habits.
Compiling two new appendixes for readers' convenience. As a fruit of cooperation between Chinese and French scholars, this index of five versions of the Daoist canon is very beneficial for the promotion of Daoist studies worldwide and nationwide.
Other Daoist Compilations
Collections of Daoist Scriptures Outside the Canon
Besides Selections from the Daoist Canon (道藏輯要 Daozang Jiyao), Extracts from the Daoist Canon (道藏精華錄 Daozang Jinghua Lu) compiled by Ding Fubao, "master who guards the oneness", in the era of the Republic of China collects some Daoist scriptures outside the Daoist canon as well. Having collected Daoist books since the 1950s, the Taiwanese scholar Xiao Tianshi compiled Essence of the Daoist Canon (daozang jinghua), bringing together several Daoist scriptures outside the Daoist canon and amounting to more than 800. The Supplementary Daoist Canon of the Zhuang and Lin Lineages (莊林續道藏 Zhuanglin Xu Daozang) compiled by the American scholar Michael Saso collects plenty of Taiwanese Daoist scriptures on talismans, registers and rituals, most of which are secret hand-written copies. At the end of 1994, Bashu Press published The Collection of Daoist Scriptures Outside the Canon (藏外道書 Zangwai Daoshu) in 36 volumes. It is known as "a comprehensive collection of new supplementary Daoist scriptures". Its chief editors are Hu Daojing, Chen Yaoting, Duan Wenjia, Lin Wanqing, etc. The scriptures are not classified into Three Grottoes (三洞 Sandong), Four Complements (四輔 Sifu) and twelve subsections in the traditional way adopted by The Daoist Canon (道藏 Daozang). Instead, they are classified into 11 categories, namely missing ancient Daoist books, scriptures, doctrines, Nourishing Life (攝養 Sheyang), precepts and Moralistic Storybooks (善書 Shanshu), rituals, hagiographies, annals of temples and geographical records, literature and arts, catalogues, and other books. This book is the largest Daoist collection since the edition and publication of The Daoist Canon of the Zhengtong Era (正統道藏 Zhengtong Daozang). Among the books collected, some are the only existing copies throughout the country, some are rare copies, and some have never been published. This collection has a very high reference value.

The Supplementary Daoist Canon of the Zhuang and Lin Lineages
The 25-volume Supplementary Daoist Canon of the Zhuang and Lin Lineages (道藏輯要 Daozang Jiyao) compiled by U.S. Scholar Michael Saso (Su Haihan in Chinese) was published in photocopied form by Chengwen Publication Co. Ltd. Of Taiwan in 1975. The work collected 104 kinds of Daoist scriptures frequently used in the north of Taiwan, including many secret manuscripts of talismans and rituals. It is divided into four parts according to the rituals and usage:

The Golden registers (道藏精華錄 Daozang Jinghua Lu) section, containing 50 volumes of scriptures about Golden Register rituals and Five-Time offerings for audience rituals (莊林續道藏 Zhuanglin Xu Daozang).

The Yellow registers (藏外道書 Zangwai Daoshu) section, containing 19 volumes of Daoist texts of the numinous treasure (三洞 Sandong), salvation of the dead (四輔 Sifu), refinement and salvation (道藏 Daozang), and blood lake (攝養 Sheyang), etc.
The Ritual Documents (善書 Shanshu) section, containing 10 volumes of texts of talismans, incantations and secret formulae. Its first volume contains the talismans, incantations, registers and formulae brought to Taiwan by Huashan Daoist Wu Jingchun.
The Minor Divine Heaven Rituals of the Lushan Lineage (正統道藏 Zhengtong Daozang), containing 25 volumes of registers and talismans of Divine Heaven lineage granted to lushan Daoists by Celestial Master Zhang on the Dragon and Tiger Mountain. The Supplementary Daoist Canon of the Zhuang and Lin Lineages provides valuable materials for the study of Taiwan Daoism.
Selections from the Daoist Canon
The Daoist Canon (道藏 Daozang) was not re-compiled in the Qing dynasty, but a selected version of The Daoist Canon of the Zhengtong Era (正統道藏 Zhengtong Daozang) (some Daoist books of the Qing dynasty were supplemented in it) ---- The Selections from the Daoist Canon (道藏輯要 Daozang Jiyao) was produced. In the Kangxi era of the Qing dynasty (1662-1722), Jinshi (a successful candidate in the highest imperial examinations) Peng Dingqiu selected about 200 important books from The Daoist Canon of the Zhengtong Era, and divided them into 28 collections according to the names of the 28 constellations. They compose more than 200 volumes, where major Daoist scriptures, rituals and precepts, stele inscriptions, biographies and lineage records are all collected. In the Jiaqing era (1796-1820), Jiang Yuanting compiled the one-volume Catalogue of the Selections from the Daoist Canon, which records 279 Daoist books in 268 books. In the 32nd year of the Guangxu era (1906), because the original Selections from the Daoist Canon were rarely seen, the Temple of the Two Immortals (二仙庵 Erxian An) in Chengdu reprinted it and supplemented the five-volume Sub-catalogue of the Selections from the Daoist Canon compiled by He Longxiang and Daoist books appearing afterwards in the Qing dynasty. The Daoist books and catalogues of Daoist scriptures add up to 319, and newly supplemented Daoist books total 114. The printing board is now kept in Black Sheep Temple (青羊宮 Qingyang Gong) in Chengdu, and Bashu press reprinted the book according to it. In Taiwan, there is the clothbound edition of Selections from the Daoist Canon. The scriptures not collected in The Daoist Canon of the Zhengtong Era of the Ming dynasty in this edition are important references for the study of the Daoist thought and history of the Ming and Qing dynasties.

Shenxian Zhuan
Traditional Chinese 神仙傳
Simplified Chinese 神仙传
Literal meaning Records of the Gods & Immortals
Records of the Divine Immortals
Transcriptions

The Shenxian Zhuan, sometimes given in translation as the Biographies of the Deities and Immortals, is a hagiography of immortals[1] and description of Chinese gods, partially attributed to the Daoist scholar Ge Hong (283-343). In the history of Chinese literature, the Shenxian Zhuan followed the Liexian Zhuan ("Collected Biographies the Immortals").

Title
The Shenxian Zhuan title combines three words:

shen 神 "spirit; god; divine; supernatural; awareness; consciousness"
xian 仙 "transcendent; immortal; saint; celestial being; alchemist"
zhuan 傳 "commentary on a classic (e.g., Zuozhuan); biography; tradition"
The word shenxian 神仙 can be parsed either as shénxiān "gods and transcendents" or as shénxian "divine transcendent". Shenxian commonly occurs in Standard Chinese usage. Examples (with literal meanings) include both words like shenxianyan 神仙眼 (with "eyes") "seer; clairvoyant" or shenxianyu 神仙魚 ("fish") "angelfish", and phrases like shenxian xiafan 神仙下凡 ("come down to earth) "an immortal becomes incarnate" or shenxianzhongren 神仙中人 ("among people") "the happiest mortal alive".

Scholars have variously translated Shenxian Zhuan as:

Biographies of Taoist divinities and adepts[2]
Lives of the Divine Hsien[3]
Lives of Spirit Immortals[4]
Lives of the Holy Immortals[5]
Lives of Divine Transcendents[6]
Traditions of Divine Transcendents[7]
Biographies of Divine Immortals[8]
Zhuan 傳 is consistently translated as "biographies" or "lives", with the exception of Robert Ford Campany's "traditions", based upon the meaning "to transmit". Livia Kohn criticizes Campany's translation that "ignores the fact that the word was obviously used in dynastic historical and other collections to mean "biography."[9]

Authorship

Pages from a printed edition of Shenxian Zhuan
The Shenxian Zhuan is traditionally attributed to the Jin dynasty scholar and religious practitioner Ge Hong, who is best known as author of the Baopuzi "Master Who Embraces Simplicity". "The majority of Chinese critics," Sailey notes, "believe that the version which we have today is probably not the same one that Ge Hong wrote."[10]

Ge's autobiography (Baopuzi Outer Chapter 50) records that he completed writing the Shenxian Zhuan and several other books during the Jianwu 建武 era (317–318), when Emperor Yuan of Jin founded the Eastern Jin dynasty.

In all I wrote 著 [Baopuzi] neipian 內篇 in twenty chapters, [Baopuzi] waipian in fifty chapters, one hundred chapters of inscriptions 碑, eulogies 頌, poems 詩, and rhapsodies 賦 and thirty chapters of military dispatches 軍書, proclamations 檄移, memorials to the throne 章表, and memoranda 箋記. I also compiled 撰 biographies of those not listed as a matter of course – Shenxian Zhuan 神仙傳 – in ten chapters and biographies of those who in their nobility refused office – Yinyi zhuan隱逸傳 – in ten chapters. In addition, I made an anthology of three hundred and ten chapters of military affairs 兵事, techniques 方伎, miscellaneous entries 短雜 and oddities 奇要 by copying excerpts 抄 from the five classics, the seven histories and the one hundred philosophers, and made a table of contents.[11]

Compare other translations of this ambiguous description of the Shenxian Zhuan:

"I also compiled a book on those who are not normally listed, which became the Shen hsien chuan in 10 scrolls."[12]
"In addition, he composed writings in which the common people (among the scholar class) were not interested, including the Shen-hsien chuan 神仙傳, in ten chapters."[13]
"I also compiled biographies which are not passed down among the common people – Shenxian Zhuan – in ten chapters."[14][15]
"I also compiled (zhuan 撰) traditions of those not conventionally listed to form Shenxian Zhuan in ten fascicles."[16]
Ge Hong specifically uses the verb zhuan 撰 "compose; write; compile" for the Shenxian Zhuan and Yinyi Zhuan "Biographies of Recluses", which is no longer extant. Thus, Durrant writes, "Most of the biographies are extracted from various earlier works, so Ko is really much more of an editor than an author of Shen-hsien chuan."[17]

Several early sources confirm that Ge Hong wrote the Shenxian Zhuan.[18] The (ca. 429) Sanguozhi commentary by Pei Songzhi (372-451) quotes the Shenxian Zhuan and notes "what was recorded by Ge Hong came close to deluding the masses. But as his writings are so widely circulated, I have selected a few of the events." Liu Xiujing 陸修靜's (437) List of Lingbao texts states that Ge Hong "selected and compiled" the Shenxian Zhuan. The Shui Jing Zhu "Commentary on the Waterways Classic" by Li Daoyuan (d. 527) also attributes the Shenxian Zhuan to Ge. The (6th century) biography of the Shangqing School patriarch Tao Hongjing (456-536) says he "obtained Ge Hong's Shenxian Zhuan and studied it day and night and so mastered its ideas on nourishing life." Campany concludes,

We can therefore be as confident that Ge Hong compiled a work titled Shenxian Zhuan as we can of almost any other authorial attribution in this period of Chinese history. But it is equally certain that the Shenxian Zhuan that has come down to us is not exactly the text that Ge Hong wrote.[19]

Some scholars have questioned Ge's authorship of the Shenxian Zhuan based on textual inconsistencies, particularly with Ge's Baopuzi neipian. Arthur Waley doubted that Ge Hong wrote both the Baopuzi (Inner Chapter 16),[20] and Shenxian Zhuan[21] biographies about Cheng Wei 程偉, whose physiognomy caused his wife to refuse teaching him alchemy.

Not only is the style strangely different, but the Shen Hsien Chuan version is so meagre and so incompetently told that one doubts whether the author of it is even trying to pass himself off as Ko Hung. It seems indeed likely that the Shen Hsien Chuan, though a work of the fourth century, was merely an anonymous series of Taoist biographies, which some mistaken person labeled as Ko Hung's Shen Hsien Chuan and divided into ten chapters.[22]

Kominami Ichirō analyzed the principles for immortality in Ge's two books.[23][page needed]

For Ge Hong in Baopuzi achieving immortality is a technical problem in which self-reliance is paramount. The stories in the Shenxian Zhuan, on the other hand, depict the attainment of immortality as a process based on submission and complete faith in a teacher who bestows the means of immortality on proven disciples. In this latter version, immortality does not come from within oneself, but is derived from external sources.[24]

Kominami hypothesized that Shangqing School editors revised the Shenxian Zhuan from Ge's original text to emphasize their belief in external powers, but Penny finds Kominami's evidence "unconvincing both for the existence of an "original" and its stance on the attainability of immortality."[25] Campany faults arguments against Ge Hong's authorship of the Shenxian Zhuan for committing two fallacies.

One is the fallacy of textual holism: the assumption that if one or a small number of passages are problematic, then the overall attribution of authorship must be in error. … The other fallacy is that of an assumption of consistency, that texts by a single author, whenever they were written during his lifetime, must have originally been completely consistent in their values and priorities as well as in how they handle specific figures, techniques, and events.[26]

Since the Shenxian Zhuan is a compilation of biographies from various sources, textual inconsistencies are predictable.

Textual versions

During the Sui (581-618), Tang (618-907), and Song Dynasties (960-1279), the Shenxian Zhuan was widely known and extensively quoted. Song editions of the

Daozang included the text, but copies were lost when Mongol Yuan dynasty officials burned "apocryphal" Daoist books in 1258-59 and 1280–81.[27] The 1444 Ming dynasty Daozang "Daoist canon" does not contain a complete version of the Shenxian Zhuan, and most received texts were compiled during the Qing dynasty. Scholars have long suspected, writes Barrett, that "the best-known version currently available was actually confected for commercial rather than academic purposes in the sixteenth century from quotations in other sources, and that the direct tradition of the text has been lost."[28]

Some editions of the Shenxian Zhuan have different numbers and arrangements of biographies. Modern versions contain around ninety biographies, which differs from Tang-era versions. Zhang Shoujie 張守節's 736 commentary to the Shiji lists 69 biographies.[29] The Buddhist scholar Liang Su 梁肅 (753-793) reported that the text had 190 biographies. According to Penny, "The unfortunate but inescapable conclusion derived from this text is that modern versions of Shenxian Zhuan are possibly less than half the size of an 8th Century version of Shenxian zhuan, and there is no reliable way of determining which biographies have been lost".[29]

Modern Shenxian Zhuan texts exist in several ten-chapter versions, one five-chapter version (1868 Yiyuan junhua 藝苑捃華), and various one-chapter abstracts.[30] Two ten-chapter versions are commonly available, but neither, concludes Penny, "is entirely satisfactory".[31] First, the 1794 Longwei mishu 龍威秘書 edition, which stems from the 1592 Guang Han Wei congshu 廣漢魏叢書 version recompiled from sources including Taiping guangji 太平廣記 quotations, contains 92 hagiographies. Second, the 1782 Siku Quanshu 四庫全書 edition, which stems from the 1641 Jiguge 汲古閣 edition published by Mao Jin 毛晉, contains 84 hagiographies. The best known one-chapter Ming dynasty versions of the Shenxian zhuan include the ca. 1620 Yimen guangdu 夷門廣牘 and 1646 Shuofu 說郛 versions.[32]

Textual dating

Dating "the original" Shenxian Zhuan text is impossible because its transmission stopped after the Southern Song dynasty (1127–1279) book burnings. Campany concludes,

We can be certain neither that Ge Hong himself wrote even the earliest-attested passages nor that he did not write event he latest attested. What we can be certain of is the date by which each passage existed and was attributed to the Shenxian Zhuan. … Based on these criteria, we can conclude that material concerning 15 adepts is reliably attributed to the Shenxian Zhuan before the year 500, that material about an additional 70 figures is reliably attributed to Shenxian Zhuan by 650, 9 more figures by 700, 22 more by the year 1000, and so on. Imagining these groups of material arranged in concentric circles by source, the earliest at the center, one quickly sees that there is a substantial body of hagiographic text occupying the inner rings, attributable with relative confidence to Shenxian Zhuan and securely datable to the late Tang or earlier. Hence, of the total of 196 hagiographies (in whole or fragmentary form) included in my translation, some percentage of at least 87 is attested in Tang or earlier texts.[33]

Based upon detailed analysis of Shenxian Zhuan editions and fragments, Stephan Peter Bumbacher confirms the possibility that the text "indeed is from Ge Hong's brush"; however, if it is a forgery, "then it must have been fabricated in the time between Ge Hong's death and the earliest testimonies in the early 5th century, most probably during the first decades after his decease."[34]

Translations

The earliest English translations from the Shenxian Zhuan, for instance, Lionel Giles[35] or Eva Wong,[36] were only of selected biographies. Robert Campany[7] wrote the first full translation, which many reviewers have praised. For example, "monumental",[37] "a giant leap forward in our understanding of the religious world of early medieval China",[38] and "magisterial".[39]

Campany's book is more than a critical annotated translation; it is also a painstaking reconstruction of the textual strata. He analyzed Shenxian Zhuan quotations in some forty sources dating from the fifth to seventeenth centuries, and chronologically recompiled them into three groups. Group A are biographies fully attested in works until the end of the Tang dynasty (618-907), Group B are those only mentioned in these sources, and Group C are those ascribed to the Shenxian Zhuan only since the Song dynasty (960-1279).

Reviewers have criticized some of Campany's translations for disregarding conventions (e.g., "traditions" for zhuan "biographies" noted above). For instance,[40] he translates shijie 尸解 (lit. "corpse separation") as "escape by means of a simulated corpse". This obscure Daoist term, usually translated "liberation from the corpse"[41] or "corpse liberation",[42] refers to a method of xian transformation involving a substitute corpse to fake death. Other shijie translations include "release by means of a corpse", "one's soul leaves the body and becomes an immortal after death", and "dissolve bodily into a spirit". Campany lists common elements in Shenxian Zhuan narratives involving shijie transcendence.[43] Employing bianhua simulation of death,[44] an adept will typically pretend to become ill, feign death, and be buried. Later he or she is seen alive, always at a distant place, and when the coffin is opened, instead of a corpse, it contains some other object (talisman, sword, clothing, etc.). Adepts will occasionally change their names as a device to elude detection by spirits in the underworld bureaucracy. In the Baopuzi, Ge Hong ranked shijiexian 尸解仙 "escape by means of a simulated corpse transcendents" as the lowest of three categories, below tianxian 天仙 "celestial transcendents" who ascend into the heavens and dixian 地仙 "earthbound transcendents" who wander in the mountains.

Significance

Campany lists four reasons for studying the Shenxian Zhuan.

For one thing, Ge Hong's works afford us an unparalleled glimpse into certain aspects of Chinese religious life and practice at a critical time in the history of Chinese religions. … For another thing, Ge Hong records elements of religious ideas and disciplines relating to the quest for transcendence that might otherwise remain unknown to us, and his writings constitute a valuable terminus ante quem for them. … With respect to Daoist religious history proper, furthermore, Ge Hong's writings, and the practices, ideas, and values represented in them, constitute an important voice in ongoing inter- or intrareligious rivalries and self-definitions. … Finally, research on Ge Hong's works has at least two contributions to make to the cross-cultural study of religions. The religion he documents was an extraordinary human response to the phenomenon of death. … [and contributes] new material for an as yet unrealized cross-cultural understanding of hagiography as a type of religious writing, a theme in religious studies heretofore largely dominated by Christian and Islamic categories.[45]

Penny summarizes why the Shenxian Zhuan is important.

The biographies provide a wealth of information about how immortality was viewed in early medieval China, detailing important features of how immortals, and those who sought immortality, lived, their extraordinary abilities, their relationship to other people and society at large, including government at all levels, the way they interacted with other spiritual beings, the drugs they concocted, and how they transformed their environments for themselves.[31]

In all I wrote 著 [Baopuzi] neipian 內篇 in twenty chapters, [Baopuzi] waipian in fifty chapters, one hundred chapters of inscriptions 碑, eulogies 頌, poems 詩, and rhapsodies 賦 and thirty chapters of military dispatches 軍書, proclamations 檄移, memorials to the throne 章表, and memoranda 箋記. I also compiled 撰 biographies of those not listed as a matter of course – Shenxian Zhuan 神仙傳 – in ten chapters and biographies of those who in their nobility refused office – Yinyi zhuan隱逸傳 – in ten chapters. In addition, I made an anthology of three hundred and ten chapters of military affairs 兵事, techniques 方伎, miscellaneous entries 短雜 and oddities 奇要 by copying excerpts 抄 from the five classics, the seven histories and the one hundred philosophers, and made a table of contents.[11]

Compare other translations of this ambiguous description of the Shenxian Zhuan:

"I also compiled a book on those who are not normally listed, which became the Shen hsien chuan in 10 scrolls."[12]
"In addition, he composed writings in which the common people (among the scholar class) were not interested, including the Shen-hsien chuan 神仙傳, in ten chapters."[13]
"I also compiled biographies which are not passed down among the common people – Shenxian Zhuan – in ten chapters."[14][15]
"I also compiled (zhuan 撰) traditions of those not conventionally listed to form Shenxian Zhuan in ten fascicles."[16]
Ge Hong specifically uses the verb zhuan 撰 "compose; write; compile" for the Shenxian Zhuan and Yinyi Zhuan "Biographies of Recluses", which is no longer extant. Thus, Durrant writes, "Most of the biographies are extracted from various earlier works, so Ko is really much more of an editor than an author of Shen-hsien chuan."[17]

Several early sources confirm that Ge Hong wrote the Shenxian Zhuan.[18] The (ca. 429) Sanguozhi commentary by Pei Songzhi (372-451) quotes the Shenxian Zhuan and notes "what was recorded by Ge Hong came close to deluding the masses. But as his writings are so widely circulated, I have selected a few of the events." Liu Xiujing 陸修靜's (437) List of Lingbao texts states that Ge Hong "selected and compiled" the Shenxian Zhuan. The Shui Jing Zhu "Commentary on the Waterways Classic" by Li Daoyuan (d. 527) also attributes the Shenxian Zhuan to Ge. The (6th century) biography of the Shangqing School patriarch Tao Hongjing (456-536) says he "obtained Ge Hong's Shenxian Zhuan and studied it day and night and so mastered its ideas on nourishing life." Campany concludes,

We can therefore be as confident that Ge Hong compiled a work titled Shenxian Zhuan as we can of almost any other authorial attribution in this period of Chinese history. But it is equally certain that the Shenxian Zhuan that has come down to us is not exactly the text that Ge Hong wrote.[19]

Some scholars have questioned Ge's authorship of the Shenxian Zhuan based on textual inconsistencies, particularly with Ge's Baopuzi neipian. Arthur Waley doubted that Ge Hong wrote both the Baopuzi (Inner Chapter 16),[20] and Shenxian Zhuan[21] biographies about Cheng Wei 程偉, whose physiognomy caused his wife to refuse teaching him alchemy.

Not only is the style strangely different, but the Shen Hsien Chuan version is so meagre and so incompetently told that one doubts whether the author of it is even trying to pass himself off as Ko Hung. It seems indeed likely that the Shen Hsien Chuan, though a work of the fourth century, was merely an anonymous series of Taoist biographies, which some mistaken person labeled as Ko Hung's Shen Hsien Chuan and divided into ten chapters.[22]

Kominami Ichirō analyzed the principles for immortality in Ge's two books.[23][page needed]

For Ge Hong in Baopuzi achieving immortality is a technical problem in which self-reliance is paramount. The stories in the Shenxian Zhuan, on the other hand, depict the attainment of immortality as a process based on submission and complete faith in a teacher who bestows the means of immortality on proven disciples. In this latter version, immortality does not come from within oneself, but is derived from external sources.[24]

Kominami hypothesized that Shangqing School editors revised the Shenxian Zhuan from Ge's original text to emphasize their belief in external powers, but Penny finds Kominami's evidence "unconvincing both for the existence of an "original" and its stance on the attainability of immortality."[25] Campany faults arguments against Ge Hong's authorship of the Shenxian Zhuan for committing two fallacies.

One is the fallacy of textual holism: the assumption that if one or a small number of passages are problematic, then the overall attribution of authorship must be in error. … The other fallacy is that of an assumption of consistency, that texts by a single author, whenever they were written during his lifetime, must have originally been completely consistent in their values and priorities as well as in how they handle specific figures, techniques, and events.[26]

Since the Shenxian Zhuan is a compilation of biographies from various sources, textual inconsistencies are predictable.

Textual versions

During the Sui (581-618), Tang (618-907), and Song Dynasties (960-1279), the Shenxian Zhuan was widely known and extensively quoted. Song editions of the Daozang included the text, but copies were lost when Mongol Yuan dynasty officials burned "apocryphal" Daoist books in 1258-59 and 1280–81.[27] The 1444 Ming dynasty Daozang "Daoist canon" does not contain a complete version of the Shenxian Zhuan, and most received texts were compiled during the Qing dynasty. Scholars have long suspected, writes Barrett, that "the best-known version currently available was actually confected for commercial rather than academic purposes in the sixteenth century from quotations in other sources, and that the direct tradition of the text has been lost."[28]

Some editions of the Shenxian Zhuan have different numbers and arrangements of biographies. Modern versions contain around ninety biographies, which differs from Tang-era versions. Zhang Shoujie 張守節's 736 commentary to the Shiji lists 69 biographies.[29] The Buddhist scholar Liang Su 梁肅 (753-793) reported that the text had 190 biographies. According to Penny, "The unfortunate but inescapable conclusion derived from this text is that modern versions of Shenxian Zhuan are possibly less than half the size of an 8th Century version of Shenxian zhuan, and there is no reliable way of determining which biographies have been lost".[29]

Modern Shenxian Zhuan texts exist in several ten-chapter versions, one five-chapter version (1868 Yiyuan junhua 藝苑捃華), and various one-chapter abstracts.[30] Two ten-chapter versions are commonly available, but neither, concludes Penny, "is entirely satisfactory".[31] First, the 1794 Longwei mishu 龍威秘書 edition, which stems from the 1592 Guang Han Wei congshu 廣漢魏叢書 version recompiled from sources including Taiping guangji 太平廣記 quotations, contains 92 hagiographies. Second, the 1782 Siku Quanshu 四庫全書 edition, which stems from the 1641 Jiguge 汲古閣 edition published by Mao Jin 毛晉, contains 84 hagiographies. The best known one-chapter Ming dynasty versions of the Shenxian zhuan include the ca. 1620 Yimen guangdu 夷門廣牘 and 1646 Shuofu 說郛 versions.[32]

Textual dating

stopped after the Southern Song dynasty (1127–1279) book burnings. Campany concludes,

We can be certain neither that Ge Hong himself wrote even the earliest-attested passages nor that he did not write event he latest attested. What we can be certain of is the date by which each passage existed and was attributed to the Shenxian Zhuan. … Based on these criteria, we can conclude that material concerning 15 adepts is reliably attributed to the Shenxian Zhuan before the year 500, that material about an additional 70 figures is reliably attributed to Shenxian Zhuan by 650, 9 more figures by 700, 22 more by the year 1000, and so on. Imagining these groups of material arranged in concentric circles by source, the earliest at the center, one quickly sees that there is a substantial body of hagiographic text occupying the inner rings, attributable with relative confidence to Shenxian Zhuan and securely datable to the late Tang or earlier. Hence, of the total of 196 hagiographies (in whole or fragmentary form) included in my translation, some percentage of at least 87 is attested in Tang or earlier texts.[33]

Based upon detailed analysis of Shenxian Zhuan editions and fragments, Stephan Peter Bumbacher confirms the possibility that the text "indeed is from Ge Hong's brush"; however, if it is a forgery, "then it must have been fabricated in the time between Ge Hong's death and the earliest testimonies in the early 5th century, most probably during the first decades after his decease."[34]

Translations

The earliest English translations from the Shenxian Zhuan, for instance, Lionel Giles[35] or Eva Wong,[36] were only of selected biographies. Robert Campany[7] wrote the first full translation, which many reviewers have praised. For example, "monumental",[37] "a giant leap forward in our understanding of the religious world of early medieval China",[38] and "magisterial".[39]

Campany's book is more than a critical annotated translation; it is also a painstaking reconstruction of the textual strata. He analyzed Shenxian Zhuan quotations in some forty sources dating from the fifth to seventeenth centuries, and chronologically recompiled them into three groups. Group A are biographies fully attested in works until the end of the Tang dynasty (618-907), Group B are those only mentioned in these sources, and Group C are those ascribed to the Shenxian Zhuan only since the Song dynasty (960-1279).

Reviewers have criticized some of Campany's translations for disregarding conventions (e.g., "traditions" for zhuan "biographies" noted above). For instance,[40] he translates shijie 尸解 (lit. "corpse separation") as "escape by means of a simulated corpse". This obscure Daoist term, usually translated "liberation from the corpse"[41] or "corpse liberation",[42] refers to a method of xian transformation involving a substitute corpse to fake death. Other shijie translations include "release by means of a corpse", "one's soul leaves the body and becomes an immortal after death", and "dissolve bodily into a spirit". Campany lists common elements in Shenxian Zhuan narratives involving shijie transcendence.[43] Employing bianhua simulation of death,[44] an adept will typically pretend to become ill, feign death, and be buried. Later he or she is seen alive, always at a distant place, and when the coffin is opened, instead of a corpse, it contains some other object (talisman, sword, clothing, etc.). Adepts will occasionally change their names as a device to elude detection by spirits in the underworld bureaucracy. In the Baopuzi, Ge Hong ranked shijiexian 尸解仙 "escape by means of a simulated corpse transcendents" as the lowest of three categories, below tianxian 天仙 "celestial transcendents" who ascend into the heavens and dixian 地仙 "earthbound transcendents" who wander in the mountains.

Significance

Campany lists four reasons for studying the Shenxian Zhuan.

For one thing, Ge Hong's works afford us an unparalleled glimpse into certain aspects of Chinese religious life and practice at a critical time in the history of Chinese religions. … For another thing, Ge Hong records elements of religious ideas and disciplines relating to the quest for transcendence that might otherwise remain unknown to us, and his writings constitute a valuable terminus ante quem for them. … With respect to Daoist religious history proper, furthermore, Ge Hong's writings, and the practices, ideas, and values represented in them, constitute an important voice in ongoing inter- or intrareligious rivalries and self-definitions. … Finally, research on Ge Hong's works has at least two contributions to make to the cross-cultural study of religions. The religion he documents was an extraordinary human response to the phenomenon of death. … [and contributes] new material for an as yet unrealized cross-cultural understanding of hagiography as a type of religious writing, a theme in religious studies heretofore largely dominated by Christian and Islamic categories.[45]

Penny summarizes why the Shenxian Zhuan is important.

The biographies provide a wealth of information about how immortality was viewed in early medieval China, detailing important features of how immortals, and those who sought immortality, lived, their extraordinary abilities, their relationship to other people and society at large, including government at all levels, the way they interacted with other spiritual beings, the drugs they concocted, and how they transformed their environments for themselves.[31]

Yes, there are absolutely pantheons that have zero worshippers.

The tricky part is that they're all probably lost to time entirely, and we know nothing about them. Once we know the name of an old god or the image or really anything, someone is going to come out of the word work and claim them.

But so many cultures and populations have been annihilated in the last few millennia. Their gods surely were annihilated with them.

‘Many years gone, a sect in what is now Afghanistan declared her a goddess, and proclaimed all empty rooms her sacred places. The sect, whose members called themselves The Unforgiven, persisted for two years, until its last adherent finally killed himself, having survived the other members by almost seven months.’ Neil Gaiman on Despair. Maybe the strangest pantheons of all consumed and disappeared with their followers?

Who was the venus of willendorf? Who was honored in the Caral temples of Peru? What were the Harrappans of the Indus organizing in their cities?

The Yamnaya migrants wiped out the entire preexisting population of Europe, who did they worship? The arctic Dorset were displaced and erased by the Thule migrations, leaving no idea about their faiths.

There are nearly infinite extinct pantheons. Humanity creates then constantly. Just pick any culture which we only know a tiny bit about and there is another religion gone forever.

Thanks to ritual magicians with an ad-hoc approach to theology, no not really. If we know the name and or even just some attributes of an ancient god, then I guarantee someone in the last 40 years has designed and performed a ritual around them for one reason or another that could be considered "worship."

So many people here just assuming all that was known, is currently known. The answer is unequivocally yes, especially those lost to time with the civilizations that founded them. We know so little about the past and everything we do know is seen through a heavy filter of winners writing history

This is complex because we know or at least the Egyptians knew that there was a Pantheon before the ones we know. Hence Ammit is really important. Thoth may have been a part of the prior Pantheon buts really conjecture.

The Greeks admit the Titans were to some extent pantheon that wasn’t worshipped anymore.

There were at least the Akkadian and Sumer pantheons that are dead and no one actually worships them.

There are temples in South America that allude to several pantheons that are completely dead.

Etc etc etc.

Yeah...the ones worshipped by neanderthals... maybe. Since all gods fall into the archetypes of harvest God, solar God, etc...tbh NO pantheon is completely dead IMO.

German Gods, the ones worshipped in Antiquity Germania and those from which Norse Mythology original drew inspiration from.

Also Gaelic and Irish Gods, but Paganism kinda brought some of them back though it's very very much bastardized.

Gods of the Caanites and their bronze age contemporaries civilization that they themselves have Pantheons.

Many many more around the world.

Yeah there's a decent number of general Mesopotamian revivalists around, but in particular Inanna has a massive following among trans people because of the history of Gala priests in her cult!

I would be very surprised if Ishtar or Ashur or even Marduk didn't have a few people still "worship" them. There are people who really go looking for old gods to co-opt.

You mean idiots like the jews, sort of reverse co opting Baal and the old Canaanite pantheon or the Babylonian/Sumerian deities. Making them their demons and devils and such. Then again, the muslims did the same thing with their OWN Gods, like the infamous "daughters of Allah" who himself was a part of a pantheon before the foulness of islam. Or christians basically doing it to... everything not their pwecious "God"

Most pantheons are dead even if we include revivalist pagans. The Etruscans are one example.

The Roman versions of the gods have a ton of Etruscan heritage in them, people always say the Roman gods are just copied off the Greek gods but that's not giving the Etruscans nearly the credit they deserve. Like Minerva is definitely a syncretism of Athena and Menvra, not just a direct copy of Athena.

I don't think I've met any specific Etruscan revivalists (although I know they exist), but I do know Roman pagans who draw as much inspiration as they can there.

Syncretism complicates this an awful lot 😂

Shenxian Zhuan

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

Shenxian Zhuan
Traditional Chinese 神仙傳
Simplified Chinese 神仙传
Literal meaning Records of the Gods & Immortals
Records of the Divine Immortals
Transcriptions

The Shenxian Zhuan, sometimes given in translation as the Biographies of the Deities and Immortals, is a hagiography of immortals[1] and description of Chinese gods, partially attributed to the Daoist scholar Ge Hong (283-343). In the history of Chinese literature, the Shenxian Zhuan followed the Liexian Zhuan ("Collected Biographies the Immortals").

Title

The Shenxian Zhuan title combines three words:

shen 神 "spirit; god; divine; supernatural; awareness; consciousness"
xian 仙 "transcendent; immortal; saint; celestial being; alchemist"
zhuan 傳 "commentary on a classic (e.g., Zuozhuan); biography; tradition"

The word shenxian 神仙 can be parsed either as shénxiān "gods and transcendents" or as shénxian "divine transcendent". Shenxian commonly occurs in Standard Chinese usage. Examples (with literal meanings) include both words like shenxianyan 神仙眼 (with "eyes") "seer; clairvoyant" or shenxianyu 神仙魚 ("fish") "angelfish", and phrases like shenxian xiafan 神仙下凡 ("come down to earth) "an immortal becomes incarnate" or shenxianzhongren 神仙中人 ("among people") "the happiest mortal alive".

Scholars have variously translated Shenxian Zhuan as:

Biographies of Taoist divinities and adepts[2]

Lives of the Divine Hsien[3]
Lives of Spirit Immortals[4]
Lives of the Holy Immortals[5]
Lives of Divine Transcendents[6]
Traditions of Divine Transcendents[7]
Biographies of Divine Immortals[8]
Zhuan 傳 is consistently translated as "biographies" or "lives", with the exception of Robert Ford Campany's "traditions", based upon the meaning "to transmit". Livia Kohn criticizes Campany's translation that "ignores the fact that the word was obviously used in dynastic historical and other collections to mean "biography."[9]

Authorship

Pages from a printed edition of Shenxian Zhuan
The Shenxian Zhuan is traditionally attributed to the Jin dynasty scholar and religious practitioner Ge Hong, who is best known as author of the Baopuzi "Master Who Embraces Simplicity". "The majority of Chinese critics," Sailey notes, "believe that the version which we have today is probably not the same one that Ge Hong wrote."[10]

Ge's autobiography (Baopuzi Outer Chapter 50) records that he completed writing the Shenxian Zhuan and several other books during the Jianwu 建武 era (317–318), when Emperor Yuan of Jin founded the Eastern Jin dynasty.

In all I wrote 著 [Baopuzi] neipian 內篇 in twenty chapters, [Baopuzi] waipian in fifty chapters, one hundred chapters of inscriptions 碑, eulogies 頌, poems 詩, and rhapsodies 賦 and thirty chapters of military dispatches 軍書, proclamations 檄移, memorials to the throne 章表, and memoranda 箋記. I also compiled 撰 biographies of those not listed as a matter of course – Shenxian Zhuan 神仙傳 – in ten chapters and biographies of those who in their nobility refused office – Yinyi zhuan隱逸傳 – in ten chapters. In addition, I made an anthology of three hundred and ten chapters of military affairs 兵事, techniques 方伎, miscellaneous entries 短雜 and oddities 奇要 by copying excerpts 抄 from the five classics, the seven histories and the one hundred philosophers, and made a table of contents.[11]

Compare other translations of this ambiguous description of the Shenxian Zhuan:

"I also compiled a book on those who are not normally listed, which became the Shen hsien chuan in 10 scrolls."[12]
"In addition, he composed writings in which the common people (among the scholar class) were not interested, including the Shen-hsien chuan 神仙傳, in ten chapters."[13]
"I also compiled biographies which are not passed down among the common people – Shenxian Zhuan – in ten chapters."[14][15]
"I also compiled (zhuan 撰) traditions of those not conventionally listed to form Shenxian Zhuan in ten fascicles."[16]

Ge Hong specifically uses the verb zhuan 撰 "compose; write; compile" for the Shenxian Zhuan and Yinyi Zhuan "Biographies of Recluses", which is no longer extant. Thus, Durrant writes, "Most of the biographies are extracted from various earlier works, so Ko is really much more of an editor than an author of Shen-hsien chuan."[17]

Several early sources confirm that Ge Hong wrote the Shenxian Zhuan.[18] The (ca. 429) Sanguozhi commentary by Pei Songzhi (372-451) quotes the Shenxian Zhuan and notes "what was recorded by Ge Hong came close to deluding the masses. But as his writings are so widely circulated, I have selected a few of the events." Liu Xiujing 陸修靜's (437) List of Lingbao texts states that Ge Hong "selected and compiled" the Shenxian Zhuan. The Shui Jing Zhu "Commentary on the Waterways Classic" by Li Daoyuan (d. 527) also attributes the Shenxian Zhuan to Ge. The (6th century) biography of the Shangqing School patriarch Tao Hongjing (456-536) says he "obtained Ge Hong's Shenxian Zhuan and studied it day and night and so mastered its ideas on nourishing life." Campany concludes,

We can therefore be as confident that Ge Hong compiled a work titled Shenxian Zhuan as we can of almost any other authorial attribution in this period of Chinese history. But it is equally certain that the Shenxian Zhuan that has come down to us is not exactly the text that Ge Hong wrote.[19]

Some scholars have questioned Ge's authorship of the Shenxian Zhuan based on textual inconsistencies, particularly with Ge's Baopuzi neipian. Arthur Waley doubted that Ge Hong wrote both the Baopuzi (Inner Chapter 16),[20] and Shenxian Zhuan[21] biographies about Cheng Wei 程偉, whose physiognomy caused his wife to refuse teaching him alchemy.

Not only is the style strangely different, but the Shen Hsien Chuan version is so meagre and so incompetently told that one doubts whether the author of it is even trying to pass himself off as Ko Hung. It seems indeed likely that the Shen Hsien Chuan, though a work of the fourth century, was merely an anonymous series of Taoist biographies, which some mistaken person labeled as Ko Hung's Shen Hsien Chuan and divided into ten chapters.[22]

Kominami Ichirō analyzed the principles for immortality in Ge's two books.[23][page needed]

For Ge Hong in Baopuzi achieving immortality is a technical problem in which self-reliance is paramount. The stories in the Shenxian Zhuan, on the other hand, depict the attainment of immortality as a process based on submission and complete faith in a teacher who bestows the means of immortality on proven disciples. In this latter version, immortality does not come from within oneself, but is derived from external sources.[24]

Kominami hypothesized that Shangqing School editors revised the Shenxian Zhuan from Ge's original text to emphasize their belief in external powers, but Penny finds Kominami's evidence "unconvincing both for the existence of an "original" and its stance on the attainability of immortality."[25] Campany faults arguments against Ge Hong's authorship of the Shenxian Zhuan for committing two fallacies.

One is the fallacy of textual holism: the assumption that if one or a small number of passages are problematic, then the overall attribution of authorship must be in error. … The other fallacy is that of an assumption of consistency, that texts by a single author, whenever they were written during his lifetime, must have originally been completely consistent in their values and priorities as well as in how they handle specific figures, techniques, and events.[26]

Since the Shenxian Zhuan is a compilation of biographies from various sources, textual inconsistencies are predictable.

Textual versions

During the Sui (581-618), Tang (618-907), and Song Dynasties (960-1279), the Shenxian Zhuan was widely known and extensively quoted. Song editions of the Daozang included the text, but copies were lost when Mongol Yuan dynasty officials burned "apocryphal" Daoist books in 1258-59 and 1280–81.[27] The 1444 Ming dynasty Daozang "Daoist canon" does not contain a complete version of the Shenxian Zhuan, and most received texts were compiled during the Qing dynasty. Scholars have long suspected, writes Barrett, that "the best-known version currently available was actually confected for commercial rather than academic purposes in the sixteenth century from quotations in other sources, and that the direct tradition of the text has been lost."[28]

Some editions of the Shenxian Zhuan have different numbers and arrangements of biographies. Modern versions contain around ninety biographies, which differs from Tang-era versions. Zhang Shoujie 張守節's 736 commentary to the Shiji lists 69 biographies.[29] The Buddhist scholar Liang Su 梁肅 (753-793) reported that the text had 190 biographies. According to Penny, "The unfortunate but inescapable conclusion derived from this text is that modern versions of Shenxian Zhuan are possibly less than half the size of an 8th Century version of Shenxian zhuan, and there is no reliable way of determining which biographies have been lost".[29]

Modern Shenxian Zhuan texts exist in several ten-chapter versions, one five-chapter version (1868 Yiyuan junhua 藝苑捃華), and various one-chapter abstracts.[30] Two ten-chapter versions are commonly available, but neither, concludes Penny, "is entirely satisfactory".[31] First, the 1794 Longwei mishu 龍威秘書 edition, which stems from the 1592 Guang Han Wei congshu 廣漢魏叢書 version recompiled from sources including Taiping guangji 太平廣記 quotations, contains 92 hagiographies. Second, the 1782 Siku Quanshu 四庫全書 edition, which stems from the 1641 Jiguge 汲古閣 edition published by Mao Jin 毛晉, contains 84 hagiographies. The best known one-chapter Ming dynasty versions of the Shenxian zhuan include the ca. 1620 Yimen guangdu 夷門廣牘 and 1646 Shuofu 說郛 versions.[32]

Textual dating

Dating "the original" Shenxian Zhuan text is impossible because its transmission stopped after the Southern Song dynasty (1127–1279) book burnings. Campany concludes,

We can be certain neither that Ge Hong himself wrote even the earliest-attested passages nor that he did not write event he latest attested. What we can be certain of is the date by which each passage existed and was attributed to the Shenxian Zhuan. … Based on these criteria, we can conclude that material concerning 15 adepts is reliably attributed to the Shenxian Zhuan before the year 500, that material about an additional 70 figures is reliably attributed to Shenxian Zhuan by 650, 9 more figures by 700, 22 more by the year 1000, and so on. Imagining these groups of material arranged in concentric circles by source, the earliest at the center, one quickly sees that there is a substantial body of hagiographic text occupying the inner rings, attributable with relative confidence to Shenxian Zhuan and securely datable to the late Tang or earlier. Hence, of the total of 196 hagiographies (in whole or fragmentary form) included in my translation, some percentage of at least 87 is attested in Tang or earlier texts.[33]

Based upon detailed analysis of Shenxian Zhuan editions and fragments, Stephan Peter Bumbacher confirms the possibility that the text "indeed is from Ge Hong's brush"; however, if it is a forgery, "then it must have been fabricated in the time between Ge Hong's death and the earliest testimonies in the early 5th century, most probably during the first decades after his decease."[34]

Translations

The earliest English translations from the Shenxian Zhuan, for instance, Lionel Giles[35] or Eva Wong,[36] were only of selected biographies. Robert Campany[7] wrote the first full translation, which many reviewers have praised. For example, "monumental",[37] "a giant leap forward in our understanding of the religious world of early medieval China",[38] and "magisterial".[39]

Campany's book is more than a critical annotated translation; it is also a painstaking reconstruction of the textual strata. He analyzed Shenxian Zhuan quotations in some forty sources dating from the fifth to seventeenth centuries, and chronologically recompiled them into three groups. Group A are biographies fully attested in works until the end of the Tang dynasty (618-907), Group B are those only mentioned in these sources, and Group C are those ascribed to the Shenxian Zhuan only since the Song dynasty (960-1279).

Reviewers have criticized some of Campany's translations for disregarding conventions (e.g., "traditions" for zhuan "biographies" noted above). For instance,[40] he translates shijie 尸解 (lit. "corpse separation") as "escape by means of a simulated corpse". This obscure Daoist term, usually translated "liberation from the corpse"[41] or "corpse liberation",[42] refers to a method of xian transformation involving a substitute corpse to fake death. Other shijie translations include "release by means of a corpse", "one's soul leaves the body and becomes an immortal after death", and "dissolve bodily into a spirit". Campany lists common elements in Shenxian Zhuan narratives involving shijie transcendence.[43] Employing bianhua simulation of death,[44] an adept will typically pretend to become ill, feign death, and be buried. Later he or she is seen alive, always at a distant place, and when the coffin is opened, instead of a corpse, it contains some other object (talisman, sword, clothing, etc.). Adepts will occasionally change their names as a device to elude detection by spirits in the underworld bureaucracy. In the Baopuzi, Ge Hong ranked shijiexian 尸解仙 "escape by means of a simulated corpse transcendents" as the lowest of three categories, below tianxian 天仙 "celestial transcendents" who ascend into the heavens and dixian 地仙 "earthbound transcendents" who wander in the mountains.

Significance

Campany lists four reasons for studying the Shenxian Zhuan.

For one thing, Ge Hong's works afford us an unparalleled glimpse into certain aspects of Chinese religious life and practice at a critical time in the history of Chinese religions. … For another thing, Ge Hong records elements of religious ideas and disciplines relating to the quest for transcendence that might otherwise remain unknown to us, and his writings constitute a valuable terminus ante quem for them. … With respect to Daoist religious history proper, furthermore, Ge Hong's writings, and the practices, ideas, and values represented in them, constitute an important voice in ongoing inter- or intrareligious rivalries and self-definitions. … Finally, research on Ge Hong's works has at least two contributions to make to the cross-cultural study of religions. The religion he documents was an extraordinary human response to the phenomenon of death. … [and contributes] new material for an as yet unrealized cross-cultural understanding of hagiography as a type of religious writing, a theme in religious studies heretofore largely dominated by Christian and Islamic categories.[45]

Penny summarizes why the Shenxian Zhuan is important.

The biographies provide a wealth of information about how immortality was viewed in early medieval China, detailing important features of how immortals, and those who sought immortality, lived, their extraordinary abilities, their relationship to other people and society at large, including government at all levels, the way they interacted with other spiritual beings, the drugs they concocted, and how they transformed their environments for themselves.[31]

Anyone know where I can read an English version of Biographies of Immortals?
More accurately translated as Biographies of Exemplary Transcendents, this Chinese text is one I have really wanted to read but I only see Chinese and French versions.

I've tried to use Google Translate on an online Chinese version I found but it becomes incoherent. I'm specifically wanting to read what the text says about the bigu diet of the sages of ages past.

I just started a book called "Early Daoist Dietary Practices" by Shawn Arthur. It seems great so far! He covers bigu and other food rules in there. It even has some recipes from a 5th or 6th century Daoist text.

Erlang Shen's Heavenly Troops capturing a dragon, in one of the Searching the Mountains for Demons-paintings (zh:搜山图)

Part of a series on Chinese folk religion
Stylisation of the 禄 lù or 子 zi grapheme, respectively meaning "prosperity", "furthering", "welfare" and "son", "offspring". 字 zì, meaning "word" and "symbol", is a cognate of 子 zi and represents a "son" enshrined under a "roof". The symbol is ultimately a representation of the north celestial pole (Běijí 北极) and its spinning constellations, and as such it is equivalent to the Eurasian symbol of the swastika, 卍 wàn.

The following is a list of supernatural beings in Chinese folklore and fiction originating from traditional folk culture and contemporary literature.

The list includes creatures from ancient classics (such as the Discourses of the States, Classic of Mountains and Seas, and In Search of the Supernatural) literature from the Gods and Demons genre of fiction, (for example, the Journey to the West, and Investiture of the Gods), as well as works from the Records of the Strange genre (for example Pu Songling's Strange Stories from a Chinese Studio and What the Master Would Not Discuss).

This list contains supernatural beings who are inherently "evil" or that tend towards malevolence, such as ghosts and demons, hobgoblins and sprites, and even some ambivalent deities. [1][2][3] It also includes uncanny or eerie entities that are not necessarily evil or harmful, but which evoke a sense of alienation.

Aoyin (傲因)

The Aoyin (傲因)[4] is a man-eating humanoid monster of the desolate Western regions, described as having a very long tongue, sharp claws, and wearing tattered clothes. This anthropophagous being has a taste for human brains. It may be slain by smashing a rock on its tongue. It is also known as the Mowei (獏猶).

It is recorded in the Classic of Gods and Aberrations, in the chapter on creatures of the Southwestern Wastelands (神异经·西南荒经).

Ba jiao gui (芭蕉鬼)
Ba jiao gui (Chinese: 芭蕉鬼; pinyin: bā jiāo guǐ; lit. 'banana ghost'[5]) is a female ghost that dwells in a banana tree and appears wailing under the tree at night, sometimes carrying a baby.

In some folktales from Thailand, Malaysia and Singapore, greedy people ask for lottery numbers from the ghost in the hope of winning money. They tie a red string around the tree trunk, stick sharp needles into the tree, and tie the other end of the string to their beds. At night, the ghost appears and begs the person to set her free. In return, she will give them a set of winning numbers. If the person does not fulfil his/her promise to set the ghost free after winning, they will meet with a horrible death. This ghost is similar in some aspects to the Pontianak/Kuntilanak in Malay and Indonesian folklore.

Baigujing (白骨精)
Main article: Baigujing
Also known as Lady White Bone.[6] A cunning, shapeshifting being that developed from the exposed skeleton of a maiden that had absorbed the energy of the sun and moon. In the novel the Journey to the West, she desires to consume the flesh of the travelling monk Tang San Zang in order to obtain immortality and assumes various guises in order to do so.

Banyan Tree Spirits (榕树鬼)
From the perspective of feng shui, Banyan trees easily absorb yin energy, and thus readily shelter abominable spirits.[5][7] These trees are ubiquitous in southern China.

Black Wind Calamity (眚 黑)
A kind of demonic entity manifesting as a black fog or creatures within a black fog,[8] leaving behind grievous and sometimes fatal injuries among the population wherever they went. The beings within the fog are variously dog-like or serpentine. Whenever these black winds struck, the emperor made petitions to heaven, issued decrees of repentance, and granted general pardons.

Creatures emerging from the black vapors are of diverse form. In Shunde and Hejian in Zhili, the area directly administered by the Emperor around Beijing, they appeared as creatures in between dogs and cats. In Hengyang, they appeared as nightmarish spectres that afflicted only women, so that blood streamed out of their mouths with fatal consequences. In Hangzhou, the black fog was followed by "serpentine beings, rolling in cartwheels, with eyes like lightning, and followed by frost and hail". In Shandong, one in the shape of a hairy black barrel came down from a willow tree and disappeared. [9]

Chimei (魑魅)

See also: Wangliang and Chi (mythology)

Chimei (魅魅)[10] are wilderness demons. Sometimes regarded as demons of the mountains and forests that are born of aberrant or turbid qi or energy. The character "魅" suggests the supernatural power of enchantment or allurement. Often contrasted with wangliang (魍魎), who are demons of the marshes and rivers. The term chimeiwangliang (魅魅魍魎) means all kinds of demons, goblins and ghouls and is used as a metaphor for bad people in general.

One source describes a disease-causing mei 魅 assuming the form of a snake when killed.[11]

Likely related to the one-horned dragon, or 螭, or a homonymous creature the 螭魅, which is a beast with a human head that likes to bewilder people.

Dame Drowned Old-Lady (尊溺婆)

A specter in the oral traditions of Xiamen (Amoy) in Fujian province.[12] A cloudy mass that suddenly appears to capsize and drown boats. The phenomenon is attributed to the spirit of a woman who, unable to bear her husband's abuse, committed suicide. This vengeful ghost seeks to drag her husband, a fisherman, down with her. Mock paper money is often burned to appease her whenever she appears.

Daolaogui (刀劳鬼)

See also: In Search of the Supernatural (搜神记, Shoushenji)

Documented in Chapter 12 of the text known as the Shoushenji (搜神記) written by Gan Bao (干寶). The Daolaogui (刀劳鬼)[13] are said to generally found in damp and cold places in deep mountains of the Linchuan area of Jiangxi Province. The Daolaogui has a frightening appearance and can shoot a highly poisonous gas or dart from its mouth. The Daolaogui often appears accompanied by strong winds and heavy rain, possibly because they want to hide their voice, which sounds like a grown man roaring.

There are both male and female Daolaogui: the male is dark green, while the female is purple, and male Daolaogui are more toxic than female ones. If the victim is poisoned by the dart, they will swell up quickly, and die within a day. After dying, they will become a Daolaogui themselves unless their corpse is burned. However, the Daolaogui does not move very fast, so one may escape a Daolaogui encounter by holding one's breath and running away quickly. One may also survive partial poisonings by cutting off swollen areas within half a day.

Di fu ling (地缚灵)

Dì fù líng (地缚灵; 地縛靈; 'Earth-bound spirit') refers to ghosts who are bound to certain locations on Earth, such as their place of burial or a place they had a strong attachment to when they were alive. They are highly circumscribed in their activities, unable to leave the area to which they are bound.

Diao si gui (吊死鬼)
De Groot observes that "self-destruction in China is perpetrated usually by means of a rope", and the victims are usually said to become fearsome ghosts or "hanging-spectres". Diào sǐ guǐ (吊死鬼; 'hanged ghosts') are the ghosts of people who died from hanging due to various reasons (e.g. execution, suicide, accident).[14] They are usually depicted with long red tongues sticking out of their mouths.[15] They are also known as Diao gui (吊鬼). They are known to be capable of seducing others to suicide, or outright hanging others.[14]

Dog demons (狗妖)
See also: Yaoguai
Dog demons do not appear in Chinese folklore as "bloodthirsty demons", but rather "wickedly assume human shape, with the purpose of gratifying their lusts on modest maids and wives", as per De Groot.[16]

E gui (饿鬼)
Main articles: Hungry ghosts in Chinese religion and Preta

Hungry ghosts scroll, Kyoto
È guǐ (餓鬼; 饿鬼; 'hungry ghost') refers to ghosts driven by intense emotional needs in an animalistic way. They are the spirits of people who committed sins out of greed when they were alive and have been condemned to suffer in hunger after death.[17]

The e gui is usually depicted as having green or grey skin, a mouth too small for ingesting food, and sometimes with a potbelly. The ghost suffers from insatiable hunger and roams the streets and kitchens in search of offerings and decomposed food. These hungry ghosts consume anything, including excreted waste and rotten flesh. Some have fire-breathing abilities while others suffer from anorexia. These appear during the Hungry Ghost Festival, observed by the Chinese diaspora in SE Asia and even in Japan, and when people avoid travelling during the night in order to avoid encountering something "unclean".

Fang Liang (方良)
See also: Wangliang, Yaoguai, and Fangxiangshi
The Fang Liang (方良) are demonic, necrophagic creatures that break into tombs to consume the brains of the dead and which can be killed by twigs of the Arborvitae.[18] It has an aspect that is like a cross between a pig and a sheep while being anthropomorphic enough to be represented by human statues. The Rites of Zhou describes the role Fang Xiang Shi, a kind of government-appointed ritual specialist as being to exorcise these creatures or drive them away. The brains of four-eyed variants known as Qi have medicinal value.[18]

Fen Yang (墳羊)
See also: Yaoguai
Literal meaning: "grave goat". A demon of the soil or the earth with a sheep-like aspect.[19][20] A subterranean goat-like demon mentioned in the Guoyu (Discourses of the States) by Confucious. A sheep-like being of the earth, sometimes said to be born in wells. Usually regarded as necrophagous, invading tombs to eat corpses. De Groot claims that they were invoked to explain the process of decomposition, which could not be understood at the time.

Sometimes regarded as a demon with an undeveloped sexuality, and responsible for haunting houses and ruins, as well as afflicting children with epilepsy and inducing miscarriage.[21]

"When water gives birth to water bugs or clams, or mountains give birth to gold and jade, people do not find it strange. But when mountains give birth to Xiaoyang (梟陽), water gives birth to Wangxiang (罔象), wood gives birth to Bifang (畢方), and wells give birth to Fenyang (墳羊), people find it strange."

Gui po (鬼婆)

Bakemono Onibaba
A relatively modern belief, likely influenced by the "onibaba" of Japan, especially through the 1964 movie of the same name. The guǐ pó (鬼婆; 'old woman ghost')) is a ghost that takes the form of a peaceful and friendly old woman. They may be the spirits of amahs who used to work as servants in rich families. They return to help their masters with housekeeping matters or take care of young children and babies. However, there are also evil gui pos with disgusting and violent appearances.

Hanba (旱魃)
Main article: Hiderigami
See also: Nüba
A drought-causing demon.[22] De Groot observes that droughts have always vexed China and were often attributed to demons. The Shi Jing states that there are beings two to three feet in height, with eyes on top of their head, and that move as fast as the wind.

Heibai Wuchang (黑白无常)
Main article: Heibai Wuchang
See also: Ox-Head and Horse-Face
Literally: "Black and White Impermanence".

Heibai Wuchang
Two beings charged with escorting the spirits of the dead to the underworld, thus, playing the role of psychopomps[23] in Taoist belief. Prominent in the folkloric beliefs of the people of Fujian and in the superstitions of the Chinese diaspora in SE Asia. In many accounts, the two, in their mortal lives, were a pair of yamen guards - Xie Bi'an (谢必安) and Fan Wujiu (范无咎). One of whom drowned and the other committed suicide. Their friendship impressed the Jade Emperor, who made them deities.

Xie Bi'An (谢必安), the White Impermanence (白无常)

The White Guard, 谢必安, is commonly portrayed as a fair complexioned man dressed in a white robe and wearing a tall hat bearing the Chinese words "Become Rich Upon Encountering Me" (simplified Chinese: 一見生財; traditional Chinese: 一見發財), "Become Lucky Upon Encountering Me" (一見大吉), or "You Have Come Too" (你也來了). He holds a hand fan in one hand and a fish-shaped shackle or wooden sign in the other hand. He is usually depicted as the taller of the duo.

Fan Wujiu (范无咎), the Black Impermanence (黑无常)
The Black Guard, 范无咎, is typically represented as a dark-complexioned man in a black robe and wearing a hat similar to the one worn by the White Guard. His name sounds like " The Chinese words on his hat are "Peace to the World" (天下太平) or "Arresting You Right Now" (正在捉你). He holds a hand fan in one hand and a squarish wooden sign in the other hand. The sign bears the words "Making a Clear Distinction Between Good and Evil" (善惡分明) or "Rewarding the Good and Punishing the Evil" (獎善罰惡). A long chain is wrapped around one of his arms.

In popular culture, they often feature in Wuxia movies as disguises adopted by villains, and also feature as tropes in comic books.

Huapigui (画皮鬼)
Main article: The Painted Skin
A man-eating demon that wears human skin to disguise its hideous countenance.[24][25] The Huapigui first appeared in the painted skin record of the famous novel "Strange Tales from a Chinese Studio" in the Qing Dynasty. It is a ferocious ghost who eats humans and wear their victim's skin. Its initial appearance is green due to its rotten form, but it usually takes the form of a beautiful woman it killed. Huapigui means "Painted skin ghost".[24]

Hulijing (狐狸精)
Main article: Fox spirit
A fox capable, through spiritual cultivation, of assuming human form, and of employing sorcery to poison, to bewilder, and to enthrall.[26] Described as clairvoyant and capable of possessing humans. Said to be capable of transcending yin and yang. Often associated with sexual desire. It is capable of ascending to heaven and becoming a celestial fox after immense age. The popular imagination may have been fueled in part by the underground presence of suppressed or outlawed fox spirit cults and other heterodox forms of spirituality in the Song dynasty. These cults often held services in the secret backrooms of officially sanctioned temples.

De Groot describes them in the Chinese imagination as "the cause of insanity, disease and even death", "entering into men to change them into raving lunatics", a cause of matricide, uxoricide and even patricide, usually from a spirit of "unprovoked malignity". They are sufficiently cunning to sometimes adopt the guise of Buddhist saints. In their more humorous moods, they engage in minor tricks such as cutting off the hair of people.

Hundun (浑沌)

Huntun, a cognate of Hundun
A kind of river god of the Central Plains, also one of the four fiends of ancient China. Described as looking like a yellow sack without eyes or a face, and with six legs and four wings. Represents chaos, muddle-headedness and ignorance.

There is a linguistic connection between Hùndùn 浑沌 and húntun 餛飩 (wonton), and both share an amorphous sack-like appearance.

Jian (蹔)
jiàn (蹔; chien) refers to the "ghost" of a ghost.[27] Just as ghosts frighten men, ghosts of ghosts frighten ghosts. A story in volume 5 of Pu Songling's Strange Stories from a Chinese Studio contained the following line: "A person becomes a ghost after death, a ghost becomes a jian after death."[28]

Jiangshi (僵尸)
Main article: Jiangshi
The jiāngshī (殭屍; 僵屍; chiang-shih; 'stiff corpse') is a ferocious, ravenous corpse reanimated by either natural energy, necromantic arts, or through freakish accident.[29] They can also arise when the higher intellectual soul has left the body, but the lower animal soul remains behind. Characterized by great strength and hunger, they kill living beings to absorb their yang energy, or consume them whole, rather than by drinking blood. When they have acquired enough life force, they are capable of sorcery and flight.

De Groot describes them as follows: "they greatly occupy credulous and superstitious minds in Amoy [Xiamen, Fujian]... there and in the surrounding country, they are deemed to be produced by the sun and moon shining on uncoffined human remains still unburied." He also notes: "the fact that the empire is actually studded with unburied human remains... greatly nourishes belief in these spectres".[29]

Luocha (罗刹)

Raksha statue

Bloodthirsty malevolent demons with ugly appearances derived from Indian legend and entering China through the influence of Buddhism. They are described as evil man-eaters capable of swift and terrifying flight.[30]

In some texts, they are described as jailers in hell tasked with punishing criminals, or as guardians of scripture upon conversion to Buddhism.

They feature in Pu Song Ling's tale "The Raksha Country and the Sea Market" as hideous beings that possess standards of beauty antithetical to that of the Chinese world, and whose society the protagonist has to cope with.

Luo dong shen (落洞神)
A virgin-snatching chthonic deity who dwells in the caves of Western Hunan.[31] Held by villagers as being responsible for the phenomenon of deadly mass hysteria or ultimately fatal delirium amongst the young and unmarried female population of Western Hunan in ancient China.

This chthonic entity allegedly chooses for his wives beautiful and unmarried maidens left over by society. A sign of a girl being selected is the sudden onset of delirium or madness, along with a refusal to eat and extreme fastidiousness. Some girls will claim the god caught a glimpse of them whilst they were passing a certain cave, others claim that the god visits them atop a rainbow. The girls inevitably wither away and slowly starve to death.

Psychologists today regard the phenomenon as the result of mass mental illness caused by either social pressure or frustration of the deep-seated need to find a spouse. Anthropologists regard the legend arising from the influence of the religion of the Miao tribe on Han Chinese beliefs.

Niu tou ma mian (牛頭馬面)
Main article: Ox-Head and Horse-Face
See also: Heibai Wuchang

Niu Tou Ma Mian
Animal-headed psychopomps[32] - one with the head of an ox, and the other the face of a horse, tasked with escorting the souls of the dead to the underworld, retrieving escaped souls, or enforcing various laws of the underworld. In traditional belief, they are high ranking officials of hell, rather than being merely servants.[33] In Taoist belief and folk superstition, they are described as the first beings one encounters at death, or upon arriving at the gates of the underworld. Also represented as torturers and jailors of hell. Their role is the execute gruesome punishments on sinners.

In popular culture, they are often represented as a kind of species of demonic beings.

Nü gui (女鬼)
Nǚ guǐ (女鬼; 'female ghost')), is a vengeful female ghost with long hair in a white or red dress, a recurring trope in folklore, schoolyard rumor-mongering, urban legend, and popular culture.[34] In folklore, this ghost is the spirit of a woman who committed suicide while wearing a red dress. Usually, she experienced some form of injustice when she was alive, such as being wronged or sexually abused. She returns to take her revenge. A tabloid story tells of a funeral ceremony where family members of a murder victim dress her in red, in the hope that her spirit will return to take revenge on her murderer. In traditional folklore, the colour red symbolizes anger and vengeance. On the other hand, some ancient folktales tell of beautiful female ghosts who seduce men and suck their yang essence or sometimes kill them. This type of female ghost is likened to the Succubus. Paradoxically, the male counterpart of a nü gui, a nán guǐ (男鬼; 'male ghost'), is rarely mentioned.

Penghou (彭侯)

Penghou, an evil tree demon
Main article: Penghou
See also: Yaoguai
Penghou (彭侯, lit. meaning "drumbeat marquis") is a malevolent tree spirit that takes the form of human-headed dog without a tail.[35] It can be found growing in mountain forests and murders passing travelers. It is associated with the essence of the wood element and with camphor trees. It can also be killed, boiled and eaten and tastes like a dog.

Pipagui (琵琶鬼)
"Pipa ghost" is the Chinese transliteration of the Dai language "pibo", which is regarded as the most vicious kind of ghost in society.[36] The Pipagui often gather in tropical where there the climate is humid, poisonous insects, snakes and ants were plenty, causing malaria to be widespread in the area. Historically, the gathering places of the Dai people were generally located in tropical rain forests, where the climate was humid, and the poisonous insects, snakes and ants were inundated, causing malaria to be widespread in the area, and medical conditions were limited at that time. The Dai villagers who believe in ghosts and gods think that this is the haunting of hungry ghosts – "Pipa ghost" comes from this.

"Pi" is a ghost, "Pa" is the name of a ghost, and "Pipa ghost" is a hungry ghost, which will be attached to people. This kind of ghost generally does not have a free body, and the free body is what we call a lonely ghost. "Pipa Ghosts" are generally provided by people, and the supporters cast spells to make "Pipa Ghosts" possessed by people who hate them. Once possessed by them, they will be seriously ill, be in a trance, or die in severe cases. To eliminate this symptom, you need to take tobacco, alcohol, tea, and meat, and sincerely admit your mistake to the caster. These people who can put "Pipa Ghosts" in the village are always frightened. Some young and bold villagers who are jealous of evil have heard that people who are possessed by "Pipa Ghosts" are generally weak in constitution. of. So after the village reached an agreement, these people were driven out of the village and their houses were burnt down, and those who were driven out gradually gathered to form new villages, which people called "ghost villages".

Qianliyan (千里眼)
A statue of Qianliyan in Perak, Malaysia
A statue of Qianliyan in Perak, Malaysia
Qianliyan is a Chinese sea and door god. He usually appears with Shunfeng'er as a guardian of the temples of the sea goddess Mazu.

Was one of two demons defeated by Mazu, or in alternative mythic accounts, a warrior and soldier of King Zhou of Shang.

Qiongqi (穷奇)
A man-eating monster in the form of a tiger with wings. It is associated with slander, refusing to believe in the words of good men, and enjoying the words of wicked men. One of the four fiends of ancient China.

Shi rou (視肉)
A two-eyed self-regenerating lump of flesh in the shape of an ox liver. It is also known as the Feng (封) and associated with Jupiter (太歲).[37]

This fleshy mass is capable of providing a never-ending supply of meat. Its consumption can lead to the acquisition of powers associated with immortals.

Shui gui (水鬼)
See also: Ghosts in Chinese culture
Shuǐ guǐ (水鬼; 'water ghost') are the spirits of people who have drowned through either accident or by suicide.[38] They are also known as 'water monkeys' (水猴) and are invoked as explanation for drownings. The text Zibuyu ("what the Master would discuss") transmits many such accounts.[39] In Jiaxing, Zhejiang province, there is a tale of a black hand attempting to drag a rice merchant and his ox down into Yellow Mud Canal. In Kuaiji, there is a story of naked, black-faced beings attempting to drag a tailor down into a river with them.

De Groot observes the superstition arising as an attempt to rationalize unexplained drownings or difficulties in the water:

"should a corpse be found in the silt, its arms or legs worked deep into the mud, everyone is sure to believe it is a victim of a water-ghost, drawn down by those limbs with irresistible force. Cramps paralyzing the swimmer are likewise the clutches of a ghost."[40]

According to tradition, being unable to reincarnate, they lurk in the place where they died, drag unsuspecting victims underwater, drowning them to take possession of their bodies. This process is known as tì shēn (替身; 'replace the body'), in which the spirit returns to life in the victim's body while the victim's spirit takes the shui gui's place and constantly seeks to take control of another living person's body.

Shunfeng'er (順風耳)

Shun Feng'Er, Tianjin
Shunfeng'er is a Chinese sea and door god. Depicted as a red-skinned or browns-skinned demon. His sharp ears are said to be able to distinguish favorable winds from coming storms for ten thousand miles.

He usually appears with Qianliyan as a guardian of the temples of the sea goddess Mazu. He was one of two ruthless generals defeated by Mazu, or else, a warrior of King Zhou of Shang.

Snake Demons (蛇妖)

Bai Suzhen, the white snake in human form
Snake demons (蛇妖) are shapeshifters whose original form is that of a snake.[41] In folklore, they are said to be disease-causing agents, instruments of divine punishment, and sometimes as sexual predators. They are also known as Shejing (蛇精), which literally translates to "Snake Fairy" or "Snake Essence", and which is a synonymous term.

Yen Hui, a disciple of Confucius, is described as having slain a spectre by grabbing it by the hips, causing it to change into a snake, whereupon he killed it by stabbing it with his sword.[42]

In Shen-Mo literature, characters who are "snake demons" or "snake fairies" include Bai Suzhen - the protagonist in Legend of the White Snake and the Python Demon (蟒蛇精), an antagonistic character recorded in the Journey to the West that is eventually slain when the Monkey King bursts out of its belly.

Taotie (饕餮)

Taotie bronze mask
A rapacious creature with the body of a goat and the face and hands of a man, with eyes under its armpits and a lion's maw in its belly. It emits child-like cries but is a greedy and dangerous man-eater. Also known as the Paoxiao (狍鸮). One of the four fiends (四凶) of ancient China and commonly inscribed on ritual bronzes.

Taowu (檮杌)
A kind of human-headed and lion-bodied creature with long dog-like fur, tusk-like teeth and a pig-like mouth. One of the four fiends of ancient China, representing stubbornness.

Tiger Demons (虎妖)
Early Chinese literature mentions shapeshifting tigers in human form,[43] describing them as ravening demons ranging over large areas, consuming large numbers of people. These beings form a recurring part of Chinese literature and primitive belief. Also known as the man-tiger or were-tiger (人虎) and the tiger faeries (虎精). Those slain by them are unable to reincarnate or move on and become servant spirits that do these tiger demons' bidding, and sometimes even become spirits which incite the tiger-demons to slaughter anew.[44]

Tiger demons may take on the form of women and select an unsuspecting male as a husband. Unable to control their hunger, they eventually devour both their husbands and their children.[45]

There is a historical record of a 22-year-old youth in 376 AD who became a tiger-like being and in a deranged mental state, devoured large numbers of people, ultimately dying of hunger in prison whilst awaiting execution. This belief is an early Chinese correlate to the Western lycanthrope and was likely driven by the same primitive fears. Men suspected of being tiger demons were often lynched by mobs in China. Some were even delivered up by magistrates to be put to death with the sanction of the state.[46]

Turou (土肉)
A being in Chinese mythology similar to the Feng (封) or Shirou (視肉)[37] that may have been derived from an accidental encounter with a sea cucumber.

"There is also another thing in the sea called Turou that is pure black and five cun in width. It is as big as an arm of an infant. There is an abdomen but no mouth and eyes. It has 30 legs. It can be stir-fried and taken as food. This is something like a cross between a worm and a fish, and is similar to Feng"

Wang Liang (魍魎)

Wangliang, a wilderness demon
Main article: Wangliang
See also: Yaoguai
Wangliang (魍魎) are malevolent wilderness demons. Sometimes described as the demons of the marshes and rivers, or as apparitions in between trees and rocks,[10][47] and often associated with disease. Sometimes described as having the appearance of a three-year old child with red skin, claws, and long black hair, and with a taste for brains and livers.

The alchemist Ge Hong describes being slain by a wang liang as one of the hazards facing unwary or stupid travelers of mountain valleys.

Often contrasted with Chimei (魅魅), who are the demons of the mountains and forests.

The term "chi mei wang liang" (魅魅魍魎) means all kinds of demons, goblins and ghouls and is used as a metaphor for bad people in general.

Wang Xiang (罔象)
Main article: Wangliang
See also: Yaoguai
A malevolent demon associated with water, also described a fever-causing agency that is usually mentioned in the same breath as the wangliang.[47] In the Discourses of the States, Confucius regards the wangxiang (罔象) as a water demon, and as an entirely different being to the wangliang (魍魎), which is a demon associated with rocks and trees.[47][48] De Groot states that their association with fever may have been due to the observation that malaria occurs near quagmires, bogs and the mud of rivers, said to be the habitat of these beings.

In the Records of the Tripods of Xia, the Wang Xiang (罔象) is described as having the form of a three-year old child with red eyes, long black hair, and claws that is able to escape fetters to "find its (human) food".[47][48]

Wolf Demons (狼妖)
A shapeshifting wolf capable of assuming human form.[49] Tales about ravening anthropomorphic wolf demons do not appear frequently until the Tang dynasty. Tales of shapeshifting wolves who assumed human form at will may have entered China through contact with Turks, Huns and Mongols. Unlike Western lycanthropes, these are beings are not "sudden and impetuous, artless and clumsy", but is a "deceitful were-specter par excellence", per De Groot.

A half-Chinese man from Taiyuan (in Shanxi) surnamed Wang and with a Hunnish mother is said to have discovered his mother was actually a wolf in human form. Another man in the Ming dynasty is said to have turned into a wolf at night in order to consume human beings during a famine.[50] Furthermore, the annals of the Yuan (Mongol) dynasty records that in Henan province, wolves in human disguise broke into human homes at night to snatch babies.[51]

Wutou gui (无头鬼)

Wútóu guǐ (无头鬼; 無頭鬼; 'headless ghost')) are headless ghosts who roam about aimlessly.[52] They are the spirits of people who were killed by decapitation due to various causes (e.g. execution, accident). In some tales, the wutou gui approaches people at night and asks them where his/her head is. The wutou gui is sometimes depicted as carrying his/her head on the side.

Xiaoyang (梟陽)
An ape-like being dwelling in the mountains, with a human face, a hair-covered body, reversed heels and a tendency to laugh loudly.[53] They sometimes are described as forming man-eating tribes. There is a folk saying that it is better to meet a panther or a wolf than to meet with a xiaoyang, indicating the danger they pose.

Yaksha or Yecha (夜叉)

Chinese carving of a yaksha
Fearsome and malevolent demons.[54][55] The Chinese transliteration of the Sanskrit word "yaksha". Demons from Indian folklore that entered into Chinese mythology through the influence of Buddhism. They appear in the Chinese Gods and Demons fiction and Records of the Strange genres of literature. These include the 16th-century classic The Investiture of the Gods and Strange Tales from a Chinese Studio.

There are two categories of yaksha 夜叉 - those that fly through the air, and those that dwell on the earth.

Air-traversing Yaksha (空行夜叉)
Air-traversing Yaksha (空行夜叉) are described as flying through the night with a pair of wings and radiating a strange glowing darkness. They are variously said to have red, blue or yellow complexions and animal heads. They take pleasure in afflicting human beings.

Earth-traversing Yaksha (地行夜叉)
Earth-traversing Yaksha (地行夜叉) are described as having flaming eyebrows, being several meters in height, and having a strange half-moon formation in between their eyes.

Today, used yecha 夜叉 is commonly employed as a metaphor to describe anyone who is both ferocious and unpleasant.

You hun ye gui (游魂野鬼) yóu hún yě guǐ (游魂野鬼; 'wandering souls and wild ghosts') refer to the wandering spirits of the dead.[56] They roam the world of the living in the Seventh Lunar Month (typically August in the Gregorian calendar) during the Ghost Festival. These spirits include vengeful ghosts seeking revenge on those who offended them before, hungry ghosts (see the E gui section above), and playful spirits who might cause trouble during that period.

Some of these spirits have no living relatives or resting place, while others might lose their way and cannot return to the Underworld in time, so they continue to roam the world of the living after the Seventh Lunar Month. In Taiwan, there are shrines and temples set up for the worship of "You Ying Gong" (有應公; 有应公; Yǒu Yìng Gōng), a name which collectively refers to such "lost" spirits, in the hope that these spirits would not cause harm to the living.[57] There are classified by some scholars from various universities in Taiwan.[58][59][60][61][62] Some of these spirits may become deities known as "Wang Ye" (王爺; 王爷; Wáng yé; 'royal lord').

The Chinese idiom gū hún yě guǐ (孤魂野鬼; 'lonely souls and wild ghosts'), which describes such spirits, is also used to refer to homeless people or those who wander around aimlessly.

Yuan gui (怨鬼)

Yuan gui (冤鬼; yuān guǐ; 'ghost with grievance') are the spirits of persons who died wrongful deaths. Beliefs in such ghosts had surfaced in China from as early as the Zhou dynasty and were recorded in the historical text Zuo Zhuan.[63] These ghosts can neither rest in peace nor be reincarnated. They roam the world of the living as depressed and restless spirits who constantly seek to have their grievances redressed. In some tales, these ghosts approach living people and attempt to communicate with them in order to lead them to clues or pieces of evidence that point out that they died wrongful deaths. The living people then try to help them clear their names or otherwise ensure that justice is served.

Ying ling (嬰灵)

See also: Mizuko kuyō and Toyol

Ying ling (嬰靈; 嬰灵; yīng líng; 'infant spirit') refer to the spirits of dead fetuses.[64] The idea of such spirits are purported to have originated in Japan.[65][66] Memorial services are held for them in Taiwan.[67][68] A writer identified as "Zuigongzi" (lit. "drunk gentleman") wrote an article on thinkerstar.com in 2004 to claim that the stories of ying ling were fabricated.

Zaochi (凿齿)

A long-toothed humanoid monster wielding a large shield in the habit of abducting and eating humans.[69] It was ultimately killed by the archer Yi, who shot it through the heart as it was fleeing.

Anthropologists posit that the legend originates from the actual encounter between early Chinese settlers and the stigmatized aboriginal tribes they found in the southern parts of the country who may have engaged in cannibalism.

Zhi ren (紙人; 纸人; zhǐ rén; 'paper person') are dolls made from paper that are burnt as offerings to the dead to become the deceased's servants. These dolls usually come in pairs – one male and one female – and are sometimes called jin tong yu nü (金童玉女; jīn tóng yù nǚ; 'golden boy and jade girl'). These dolls are not exactly spirits by themselves, but they can do the bidding of their deceased masters. Making these paper dolls was regarded as an abhorrent profession due to the association with death.[70]

Zhizhujing (蜘蛛精)
In the Journey to the West, seven spider demons capable of assuming the form of lovely maidens and of shooting webs from their navels reside in Silkweb Cave. They desire to eat the flesh of the monk Tang Sanzang. The spider demons are ultimately crushed by Sun WuKong.[71]

Zhong yin shen
Main article: Bardo
Zhong yin shen (中陰身; 中阴身; zhōng yīn shēn; 'intermediate yin body') refers to a spirit in a transition state between their death and when they are reincarnated, as described in Mahayana Buddhism. This period of time is usually 49 days.

This is the first English translation of the last known philosophical work of the great eleventh-century Ismaili thinker, poet, and Fatimid emissary, Nāṣir-i Khusraw. Appointed from Cairo by command of the Fatimid Imam-caliph al-Mustanṣir to serve first as a dāʿī, and then as the ḥujjat, for the entire region of Khurasan, he maintained his allegiance to both his mission and his Imam for the rest of his life, even when threatened and driven into exile.

Written during his exile in Badakhshan in the year 1070 CE, Nāṣir-i Khusraw here develops a powerful presentation of both Aristotelian philosophy and Ismaili exegesis, or taʾwīl, and strives to show that they are ultimately in harmony. The work is presented as a learned commentary on a long philosophical poem, written in the previous century and sent to Nasir by the amīr of Badakhshan, ʿAl b. Asad, who copied the poem out in his own hand from memory and asked the poet-philosopher to explicate it.

In doing so, Nasir ranges over a huge span of topics from logic and language to the nature of the physical world, from the spheres of the highest heavens to the plants and animals of the earthly realm, and, most importantly, hidden spiritual realities: the esoteric (bāṭin) as well as the exoteric (ẓahir) realms. He thus discusses the nature of God, the creation of human beings, and the mysteries concealed in the physical world, itself a reflection of a higher, transcendent realm.

Between Reason and Revelation: Twin Wisdoms Reconciled is an annotated translation of the Persian text prepared by Henry Corbin and Mohammed Muʿin based on the single surviving manuscript of the work, now in the Süleymaniye Mosque Library in Istanbul. It is a work of great philosophical and spiritual insight, which is also a pioneering attempt to tackle difficult intellectual problems in the Persian language; it is at once lucid and lyrical, precise and speculative. Nasir's influence has been immense as both a poet and a thinker, and the Kitāb-i Jāmiʿ al-Ḥikmatayn is his crowning work.

Manuscripts: The Hunt for Topkapi
Getting images of manuscripts from Topkapi, Istanbul, is notoriously difficult. Here I describe how I succeeded in obtaining them. I am not saying my way is the only way. In fact, if you know of better ways, please do get in contact with me. All I am doing here is share my own experience.

The first step of that experience was to realize, after more than a year, that I was not going to do it without going there myself. I tried several connections, and some of them really went the extra mile for me, but in the end it did not work out.

So, I went there. Istanbul is great and if my readers would like to see a more general guide to manuscript hunting in Istanbul, I would be happy to write it. Please leave a response either here or on Facebook. I planned to stay for a week. This turned out to be too short. My suggestion is to be there for two weeks.

What you need to do at home is:

Know exactly which manuscripts you need. I have found out that the catalogue is lacking many details and contains wrong information. I suggest to use scholarly literature; you need to know about a call number from someone who has seen the manuscript itself. In my case the “Philologika” articles from Helmut Ritter were helpful. There is no reading room at Topkapi and you will not be allowed to peruse a bunch of manuscripts. You can only go there and say: “I want pictures of the manuscript with call number ####”.

What I took with me was:

2 hard copies and a digital copy of the Topkapi CD Request Form.
2 hard copies and a digital copy of my passport.
2 hard copies and a digital copy of a letter of endorsement from my supervisor, printed on paper with university letterhead.
2 hard copies and a digital copy of a letter explaining my purpose.
2 passport quality photographs (did not need them).
I stayed at the Netherlands Institute in Turkey. This came in really handy as I found out that you really need to either speak Turkish or have someone at your disposal who speaks Turkish to make things happen. The librarian was kind enough to help me out. She translated the letter in which I explained my purpose into Turkish.

With her help, calling to Topkapi, I also learned that you first need to get a letter of approval from the Ministry of Culture and Tourism. They are located in the Atlas Pasaji, on Istiklal Cadessi. Coming from Taksim, it will be on the left, a little before the Galatasaray Lisesi. In the Atlas Pasaji, the entrance is on the left, right next to the Tattoo Parlor (!). You will need a few Turkish words and a letter in Turkish explaining your purpose to talk yourself in. I had to go to the second floor where I was pointed to a door (they’re all bind with no signs). I opened it and saw a civil servant watching a television show on his computer. He only spoke Turkish. A colleague of him came, and his German was very good (English only limited).

The question they will ask you is: “Do you have permission from Ankara?”

The correct answer is: “I do not need to physically hold the manuscript, I only want photographs.”

With that established, they were actually very helpful. However, the letter I needed required a signature of someone who was not there. I agreed to come back the next day. Sometime in the morning, the next day, I actually received an e-mail saying the letter was signed. I went to pick it up and went to Topkapi Palace.

Once you have that letter, it is probably better to call ahead to Topkapi and make an appointment. I did not. When you are there, you can speak to the doorkeeper. You will receive a visitor’s pass and be on your way, from the entrance you take a right. I ended up talking to a lady who was, yet again, very helpful. I was asked again about Ankara and I repeated again that I only needed photographs. I asked her why it is a bit more difficult to get images from Topkapi than it is from Suleymaniye. She said that when Topkapi Palace was turned into a museum (Topkapi Palace Museum), all the manuscripts were logged as museum items, and so the library (Topkapi Palace Museum Library) uses different protocols in handling the manuscripts than other manuscript libraries do. Unlucky for me, they had not made photos of the manuscripts I was after (ergo: not all manuscripts are digitized). But I was surprised to learn how willing they were to do it, and they did not bill me any extra money.

About the money, the photos are not dirt cheap. For large quantities it is 2 liras per photo. I wanted to see three sizable manuscripts which amounted to €500,-. I think that's a fine price, but I am just saying, it ain't a bargain.

All of the above happened in a span of 3 days. But, of course, those photos needed to be taken, so I returned home empty-handed. She said that from here we would be able to handle it over the Internet. When I had returned home, it took several e-mails and 22 days to finally have the pictures.

In a next post, I will discuss the quality of these pictures, in comparison with other collections that offer digitalization.

Thanks for this post. Topkapi is definitely not the easiest place to deal with, but the University of Istanbul is equally difficult, and I am not going to mention impossibilities of the TIEM. Good luck with your research and I look forward to the next part.

World map from the Fatimid treatise, Book of Curiosities of the Sciences and Marvels for the Eyes; copy of manuscript originally written in the first half of the 11th century. Bodleian Library.

In 2002 the Bodleian Library at Oxford acquired one of the only known copies of an illustrated anonymous cosmography compiled in Egypt during the first half of the 11th century. This manuscript contains a series of early maps and astronomical diagrams, most of which are unparalleled in any other known Greek, Latin or Arabic material. The rhyming title of the volume, كتاب غرائب الفنون وملاح العيون Kitāb Gharā’ib al-funūn wa-mulaḥ al-ʿuyūn, loosely translates as The Book of Curiosities of the Sciences and Marvels for the Eyes. The Bodleian's copy may have been made in the late 12th or early 13th century.

"Its unique maps and diagrams include: diagrams of star-groups and comets; a rectangular map of the world with a graphic scale (the earliest surviving example of such a map); a circular world map; individual maps of islands and ports in the eastern Mediterranean, including Sicily, Tinnis, Mahdia, Cyprus, and the Byzantine coasts of Asia Minor; maps illustrating the Mediterranean Sea as a whole, the Indian Ocean, and the Caspian Sea; and maps of five major rivers (the Nile, Indus, Oxus, Euphrates, and Tigris)" (http://www.bodleian.ox.ac.uk/news/2007_mar_29, accessed 01-23-2014).

"The volume (now given the shelfmark MS. Arab. c. 90) consists of 48 folios (96 pages), each measuring 324 x 245 mm. Pages without illustrations have 27 lines of text per page. The treatise begins with a dedication to an unnamed patron and an abbreviated table of contents. The manuscript copy is incomplete, however, for the copyist has omitted the eighth and ninth chapters of the second book, and the manuscript has lost part of the penultimate chapter and all of the last one.

The Paper

"The lightly glossed, biscuit-brown paper is sturdy, rather soft, and relatively opaque. The paper has thick horizontal laid lines, slightly curved, and there are rib shadows, but no chain lines or watermarks are visible. The thickness of the paper varies between 0.17 and 0.20 mm and measures 3 on the Sharp Scale of Opaqueness; the laid lines are 6-7 wires/cm, with the space between lines less than the width of one line. The paper would appear to have been made using a grass mould. Paper of such construction was produced in Egypt and Greater Syria in the 12th and 13th centuries (greater precision is not possible). For similar Islamic papers, see Helen Loveday, Islamic Paper: A Study of the Ancient Craft (London, 2001); we thank the author for examining and discussing with us the paper in this particular manuscript.

Authorship, date and provenance

"The author of The Book of Curiosities is not named and has not been identified, although he refers to another composition of his titled ي al-Muḥītي (‘The Comprehensive’). On the basis of internal evidence, we can suggest that the treatise was composed in the first half of the 11th century, probably in Egypt. The copy we have today is more recent and appears to have been made some hundred and fifty to two hundred years later. Although the copy is undated and unsigned, the paper, inks, and pigments appear consistent with Egyptian-Syrian products made from the early 13th through the 14th century.ي

"Our author recognized the legitimate authority of the Fāṭimid imāms who came to power in Ifrīqiyah (modern Tunisia) in 909 and ruled at Cairo from 973 until their dynasty was brought to an end by Ṣalāḥ al-Dīn (Saladin) in 1171. At their heyday, the Fāṭimids ruled all over Syria, Egypt and North Africa. Whereas the ʿAbbāsid caliphs of Baghdad were recognized as the rightful leaders of the Muslim community by the Sunnī majority, the Fāṭimid imāms—who claimed to be the biological descendants of the Prophet Muḥammad through his daughter Fāṭimah—were recognized as legitimate by a faithful minority of Ismāʿīlī Muslims. Our author not only opens his work with an explicit acknowledgement of the Fāṭimids but also, further on, gives a brief but highly doctrinaire history of the rise of the dynasty, from the accession of the first imām, al-Mahdī, to the defeat of Abū Yazīd (al-dajjāl, the Antichrist) by his son, al-Qāʾim.ي

"The geographical focus of The Book of Curiosities is Muslim commercial centres of the 9th- to 11th-century eastern Mediterranean, such as Sicily, the textile-producing town of Tinnīs in the Nile Delta, and Mahdīyah in modern Tunisia. The author is equally acquainted with Byzantine-controlled areas of the Mediterranean, such as Cyprus, the Aegean Sea, and the southern coasts of Anatolia. The author’s occasional use of Coptic terms and Coptic months, together with the allegiance to the Fāṭimid caliphs based in Cairo, suggest Egypt as a likely place of production.ي

"The treatise was almost certainly composed before 1050. The tribal group of the Banū Qurrah are mentioned in chapter 6 of Book 2 as inhabiting the lowlands near Alexandria. As the Banū Qurrah are known to have been banished from the region of Alexandria by the Fāṭimid authorities in 1051–1052, it is very likely that this treatise was written before that date. Since Sicily is described as being under Muslim rule, the treatise could definitely not have been composed later than the Norman invasion of Sicily in 1070.ي

"The last dated event mentioned in the treatise is the construction buildings for merchants in the city of Tinnīs in 1014-1015. Moreover, al-Ḥākim bi-Amr Allāh, the Fāṭimid ruler of Egypt and Syria from 996 to 1021, is referred to in the chapter on Tinnīs as if he were no longer reigning. Therefore, the treatise was probably composed after 1021" (http://cosmos.bodley.ox.ac.uk/content.php/boc?expand=732,Offsite Link accessed 01-23-2014)

Iḥyāʾ ʿulūm al-dīn
Iḥyāʾ ʿulūm al-dīn
The Revival of the Religious Sciences (Iḥyāʾ ʿulūm al-dīn) is widely regarded as the greatest work of Muslim spirituality, and is perhaps the most read work in the Muslim world, after the Qurʾān.
The Revival of the Religious Sciences is divided into four parts, each containing ten chapters. Part one deals with knowledge and the requirements of faith—ritual purity, prayer, charity, fasting, pilgrimage, recitation of the Qurʾān, and so forth; part two concentrates on people and society—the manners related to eating, marriage, earning a living, and friendship; parts three and four are dedicated to the inner life of the soul and discuss first the vices that people must overcome in themselves and then the virtues that they must strive to achieve. Below we list the contents of the book, English translations, and links to printed editions in the original Arabic.

For a listing of Arabic language printed editions you may follow this link here.

Iḥyāʾ ʿulūm al-Dīn was first printed at Būlāq, 1269/1853 followed by a lithograph in India in 1863, then in 1894 on the margins of its commentary which is one of the most reliable editions to date. In the 25 Spetember 1939 Cairo edition by the Ḥalabī press it was edited by a committee of scholars headed by the Azhari scholar Aḥmad saʿad ʿAlī it was printed with the now standard addendum and marginal text of al-ʿIrāqī. All later publishers would follow suit with few modern exceptions.

al-Ghazālī. Iḥyāʾ ʿulūm al-Dīn. Cairo: Lajnat Nashr al-Thaqāfa al-Islāmiyya, 1356–57 (1937–38). This is the edition that the Dār al-Shaʿab based their editon on. It has been recreated here with the pagination in red on the pdf files. Thanks is due to Prof. Frank Griffel for this information, his help in recreating this edition and providing the scans of the missing pages. Do note that this is a very readable and an accurate edition that is used for scholarly work.

SUMMARIES: There are many summaries of the Iḥyāʾ, though only a handful are published; the others remain in manuscript form. For more information about the summaries of the Iḥyāʾ in Arabic, see this short article (Arabic html).
Summary by Aḥmad al-Ghazālī (pdf) Lubāb al-iḥyāʾ, published as Mukhtaṣar Iḥyāʾ ʿulūm al-dīn. The publisher claims that it is by Abū Ḥāmid al-Ghazālī, though I believe this is incorrect. (PDF). This book has been translated into English: Imam Al-Ghazālī Mukhtaṣar iḥyāʾ ʿulūm ad-dīn translated from the Arabic, and annotated by Marwan Khalaf. Lympia/Nikosia, Cyprus: SPOHR, 2014.
The Iḥyāʾ was summarized in a book entitled Minhaj al-qaṣidīn by Ibn al-Jawzī (d. 597 AH/1201 CE), (PDF1, PDF2) which was further summarized in Mukhtaṣar minhāj al-qaṣidin by Ibn Qudāma al-Maqdisī (d. 620 AH/1341 CE). (link Arabic HTML). This book has been widely distributed and reprinted several times, one of which by Dār al-Khayr, Damascus, 1998; with ḥadīth verification by M. W. Salman and A. A. H. Modern summary of the Iḥyāʾ comes from Saliḥ Aḥmad al-Shāmī, al-Muhadhab min iḥyaʾ ʿulum al-dīn, 2 vols. (Beirut: Dār al-Qalam, 1993). Sample translation (link) Also another edtion is available from Dār ibn al-Qayīm: PDF. This is an admirable attempt that closely follows the structure of the original book.
The late Saʿid Ḥawwa (d. 1989) wrote a summary for a training curriculum: al-Mustakhlaṣ fī tazkiyat al-anfus (Cairo: Dar al-Salam, 1984). (PDF) The author/activist was a prolific writer.
COMMENTARY: A commentary (sharḥ) of al-Iḥyaʾ by Murtaḍā al-Zabīdī's [d. 1791] Itḥaf al-sada al-muttaqīn bi sharḥ iḥyāʾ ʿulum al-dīn, printed in Cairo 1894 in 10 large volumes. This work is still in print in facsimiles of this edition as well as well as an unreliable DKI edition. Note that the link provided is for the complete 1894 edition. (download page)
Defense: As many were critical of al-Ghazālī there were as many if not more who rallied to his defense:
In his own defense, al-Ghazālī wrote: al-Imlāʾ fī ishkalat al-iḥyāʾ (Notes on issues of the Iḥyāʾ) printed as an appendix in some editions of the Iḥyāʾ (pdf) ʿAbd al-Qādir al-ʿAydrūs, Taʿarif al-aḥyāʾ bi faḍʾil al-iḥyāʾ (Introducing the living to the benefits of the Iḥyāʾ) printed as an appendix in some editions of the Iḥyāʾ (pdf). Note the pun in the title, which is, of course, intentional.

al-Suyūṭī, Tashyad al-ʾarkān fī laysa fī al-imkan ʾabdaʿ mimā kān (Fortifying the foundations of [the statement] “the best of all possible worlds”) printed as an appendix in some editions of the Iḥyāʾ (PDF). Note also this work was the basis of a study done in Theodicy in Islamic Thought: The Dispute over Al-Ghazālī’s “Best of All Possible Worlds” by Eric L. Ormsby (Princeton: Princeton University Press, 1984).
Unknown author: Risala fi bayan faḍil iḥyāʾ ʿulum al-dīn (mss in al-Azhar number 1956 [majami 91] folios 76-86).
Unknown author: Risāla fī al-rad ʿala min ʿatraḍa ʿala al-ghazālī fī qawlihi ana al-musabibāt ratabat ʿala al-ʾasbāb (mss in Dār al-Kutub al-miṣriyya [majāmīʿ 210])
Refutations: The Iḥyāʾ has generated some heated discussions mostly revolving around the traditions that al-Ghazālī included.
Ibn al-Jawzī (d. 597 AH) iʿlam al-aḥyaʾ bi aghlat al-iḥyāʾ (not printed and no known mss copies) al-Dhahabi mentioned that Abū al-Ḥasan b. Sukar wrote Iḥyāʾ mayit al-aḥya fi al-rad ʿala kitab al-iḥyāʾ (not printed and no known mss copies) Aḥmad b. Munir al-Iskandarī (d. 1284) wrote al-Ḍiyaʾal-mutalali fi taʿqub al-iḥyāʾ lil ghazālī as mentioned by Zabīdī (in commentary above) vol. 1. p .33, ln 10) (not printed and no known mss copies)
A Shiʿa ‘recension’: under the title: al-Maḥajjah al-bayḍā’ fī tahdhīb al-Iḥyāʾ by Muḥammad b. al-Murtaḍa al-madʿū bi-al-Mawla Muḥsin al-Kāshānī (d. 1681) Thanks to Prof. Alger for referring to this book in his monograph on Ghazali. (PDF)
Fatawas (judicial decrees) by scholars and these are too many list or know but Ibn Taymiyya is known to have written one as well as al-Ṭarṭushi. Even in modern times there have been fatwās issued by Saudi ʿulamāʾ. A typical critique along those lines is by ʿA. R. Dimashqīya: PDF.

Mishkāt al-Anwār or The Niche of Lights is an exegetical text written by the Islamic theologian Al-Ghazali (1058-1111) that discusses the Quran's Verse of Light.

Description
The commentary, probably written toward the end of the author's life, interprets this verse and a related hadith from a Sufi perspective. Among other things, it describes the metaphysics of light and the relationship between divine light and the human soul. It is written in terse language and cites numerous Quranic passages in its argument.

The text has three chapters. Chapter one analyzes the first sentence of the verse, and chapters two and three expand on the interpretation outlined. God's light, also identified with existence and knowledge, is described as the source underpinning creation. Al-Ghazali frequently uses analogies between the natural and supernatural world in his argument. He describes the role of purification in the soul's attempt to grasp divine illumination and the "holy prophetic spirit".[1]

The Laṭāʾif (Arabic: اللطائف) are special organs of perception and psycho-physiological functioning in Sufi spirituality. Depending on context, the laṭāʾif (plural) are also understood to be the experiential qualities or forms of those perceptions and functions.[1]

The Arabic word laṭīfa (singular) means “subtlety” and the phrase laṭā’if-e-sitta means “six subtleties” (although the number of laṭāʾif can differ depending on the specific Sufi tradition).

The laṭāʾif are viewed as components of Man's spiritual “Organ of Evolution”,[2] known as Qalb (Heart) (See "Disambiguation: Qalb (Heart) or Qalb (laṭīfa)").

The integration of the laṭāʾif into Qalb is considered by some Sufi orders -- especially the Naqshbandi -- to be a central part of the comprehensive spiritual development that produces the Sufi ideal of a Complete Human Being (Al-Insān al-Kāmil).

Different understandings of the laṭāʾif

Not all Sufi orders teach about the laṭā’if. Of those which do, descriptions and understandings can differ depending on the specific Sufi lineage and exponent representing it.

In addition, individual Sufi teachers (see Sheikh (Sufism)) sometimes understand aspects of laṭā’if theory and practice according to how the laṭāʾif have been uniquely revealed to them.[3]

In general, there are at least three major historical understandings of the laṭāʾif:

(13th century) The Kubrāwī order, exemplified by Ala ud-Daula Simnani (1261–1336), views the laṭāʾif as potential psychospiritual organs/capacities that can be realized as progressive stages in those undergoing spiritual development;

(17th century) The Mujaddidīyya branch of the Naqshbandi order, exemplified by Ahmad Sirhindi (1564–1624), views the laṭāʾif as psychospiritual organs/capacities that are potential receptors of Divine energy[3] when activated in those undergoing spiritual development;
(20th century) The Punjab tradition within the Naqshbandi order, exemplified by Idries Shah (1924–1996), views the laṭāʾif as actual human psycho-physiological organs/capacities that are implicit in everyday life and made explicit in those undergoing spiritual development.
Kubrāwī laṭā'if (13th century)
According to the view of the Kubrawi Order there are seven laṭā'if. They are understood cosmologically as "descending" levels through which reality is created and structured.[4][5]

In the process of spiritual development, the Sufi student is understood to "ascend" back through these levels progressively (see ontological Arcs of Descent and Ascent in Sufism).

The attainment of each level is associated with the activation/realization of a corresponding spiritual organ/capacity, interpreted symbolically through Islamic cosmology and the prophets and messengers in Islam.[6]

In ascending order they are:

Qalab (associated with an experience of the color gray) represents the acquisition of a new organ, an embryonic subtle body. It is understood symbolically as "the Adam of one's being", since Adam was the first human being.
Nafs (color blue) is an organ that corresponds to the animal soul and is a testing ground for struggle with desires and passions. It is understood symbolically as "the Noah of one's being", since Noah faced the same situation in dealing with the hostility of his people.
Qalb (color red) is the organ that will develop to become the True Ego, the real personal individuality. It is understood symbolically as "the Abraham of one's being", since the prophet Abraham historically represents the establishment of real religion.
Sirr (color white) is an organ of superconsciousness. It is understood symbolically as "the Moses of one's being", since the prophet Moses participated in spiritual communication with God through this consciousness.
Ruḥ (color yellow) is an organ through which an individual becomes capable of acting as vice-regent of God. It is understood symbolically as "the David of one's being", since the prophet David fulfilled that role.
Khafī (color black) is the subtle organ that receives spiritual inspiration. It is understood symbolically as "the Jesus of one's being', since the prophet Jesus was characteristic of such inspiration.
Ḥaqq (color green) is the subtle organ that is the final achievement of spiritual development: the True Ego. It is understood symbolically as "the Muḥammad of one's being”, since Muḥammad was the final prophet.

Naqshbandi laṭāʾif (Mujaddidīyya) (17th century)

According to the view of the Mujaddidīyya branch of the Naqshbandi order there are five laṭāʾif.[7] The reception of each laṭīfa’s “spiritual energy” from its corresponding cosmic realm is interpreted symbolically through the prophets and messengers in Islam, similar to the interpretation of the Kubrawi order:

Ikhfa (color green; located at sternum) (Muḥammad)

In this understanding, the laṭāʾif all have their physical association in the chest and so are said to be “of the Heart” (Qalb, the potential human “Organ of Evolution” -- see "Disambiguation: Qalb (Heart) or Qalb (Laṭīfa)").

Naqshbandi laṭāʾif (Punjab tradition) (20th century)

According to the Punjab tradition within the Naqshbandi order, which emphasizes modern-day psychological aspects of Sufism,[8] there are five laṭāʾif:[9]

Qalb (color yellow; experienced in left side of the body)
Ruḥ (color red; experienced in right side of the body)
Sirr (color white; experienced in solar plexus)
Khafi (color black; experienced in forehead)
Ikhfa (color green; experienced in center of chest)

Spiritual development and the laṭāʾif

For Sufi traditions that teach the laṭāʾif, spiritual development is undertaken on two dimensions:

refinement of the egoic, psycho-physiological "self", known as "Nafs"[17] activation (realization/opening/awakening/energizing/illumination (tajalli)) of the laṭāʾif.
The egoic Self is said to proceed through seven stages of development, the primitive stages of which distort or "veil" (see Hijab (Sufism)) full realization of the laṭā'if. In most Sufi traditions, accordingly, a general, progressive refinement of the Nafs precedes any explicit activation of the laṭā'if.

In the Naqshbandi tradition, however, it is the reverse: the activation of specific laṭāʾif is used to facilitate the progressive refinement of the Nafs. This is why the Naqshbandi teaching method is known as "where others end, there marks our beginning" ("indiraj al-nihayat fi'l-bidayat").[18]

See also: "Disambiguation: Nafs (Egoic Self) or Nafs (Laṭīfa)".

Activation of the laṭāʾif
Just as interpretations of the laṭāʾif vary depending on different Sufi traditions and teachers, so do methods of their activation.

The process of activating each laṭīfa consists of various methods, singly or in combination, such as:

Dhikr (“remembrance"): recitation of a Quranic phrase accompanied by postures, breathing, and movement[19]
Muraqabah (“watching”): persistent awareness directed to the part of the body associated with the laṭīfa[20]
Tawajjuh (“attention”): intentional transmission of the laṭīfa directly from teacher to student.[21]
Kubrawi
In the Kubrawi tradition, Sufi Ala ud-Daula Simnani (1261–1336) describes a dhikr type practice that involved certain postures, the rotation of attention and breath to different parts of the physical body, and the recitation of a Quranic credal formula.[22][23]

Khwajagan
In the Khwajagan tradition, Rif‘at Bey describes a practice in which the name of Allah is imagined “written in letters of light” at the physical location associated with a laṭīfa and repeated silently until the color associated with it is seen surrounding the letters.[13]

Naqshbandi (Mujaddidīyya)
In the Mujaddidīyya tradition, the laṭāʾif are opened through practice one-by-one in “ascending” order, beginning with Qalb. Viewed as a progressive activation, each laṭīfa (or progressive combination of laṭāʾif) is considered to be a level of spiritual realization.

The method of opening each laṭīfa typically begins with a direct transmission of Barakah (spiritual Presence) by teacher to student, and can also include physical touch (except for women) and the disclosure of a specific one of the Divine Names of God in Islam.

The student then continues the practice by silent dhikr of the Name, concentrating attention on the laṭīfa’s location; sometimes a visualization of the Name, the corresponding prophet, or the teacher is also added.[24]

Naqshbandi (Awaisi)
In the Awaisi tradition,[25] the laṭāʾif are illuminated through a dhikr cycle that begins with Qalb and continues with the other six laṭāʾif in order. The student inhales vigorously into the Qalb(Heart) with a silent, attentive “Allah” and exhales out to the specific laṭīfa with a silent, attentive “Hu”.

(See also: corresponding video in "External Links").

Naqshbandi (Punjab)
In the Punjab tradition, Idries Shah describes a type of muraqabah in which the student concentrates awareness on the part of the body that is associated with a laṭīfa.[26]

Direct experiences of the laṭāʾif
With rare exceptions, direct and explicit experiences of the laṭāʾif only arise in human beings who have undergone a spiritual evolution. These experiences can be of several different types, singly or in combination, among them:

“Visual” experiences
“Tactile” experiences
Kubrawi
In Persian Sufi Illuminationism (see: Najm al-Din Kubra), all creation is a successive outflow from the original Supreme Light of Lights (Nur al-Anwar) (see: Nūr (Islam)). The cosmology of this tradition is a kind of Emanationism in which immaterial Light descends from the Light of Lights in ever-diminishing intensity. In other words, Creation at all levels of its existence—including that of the laṭāʾif—is made up of varying degrees of Light.

Accordingly, the experiences of the laṭāʾif are both an external “visual” experience of photisms (“acts of light”) and a tactile inner sensation, as described by Henry Corbin.[27]

Khwajagan
The laṭāʾif are experienced primarily as colors seen surrounding the name of Allah at the physical location associated with each laṭīfa, as described by Rifa‘t Bey.[13]

Naqshbandi (Punjab)
Direct and explicit realizations of the laṭāʾif are experienced primarily as differentiated, localized forms of an overall tactile spiritual Presence (“Ḥuḍur”[28]) in the body.[29]

Indirect experiences of the laṭāʾif
Beyond direct and explicit experiences of the laṭāʾif, Sufi traditions can differ in their understanding of how the laṭāʾif affect human experience indirectly and implicitly.

Kubrawi
In traditions similar to the Kubrawi, for example, the laṭāʾif are only activated after the Nafs has been refined by other means.

As a result, the experiences of the laṭāʾif are viewed as higher spiritual capacities and virtues that are unrelated to the conventional experiences and capacities of the lower egoic Self (Nafs).

Naqshbandi
In traditions similar to the Naqshbandi, however, the process of activating the laṭāʾif is understood to itself contribute to the refinement of the Nafs. This refinement is experienced both as a reduction in specific vices and an increase in corresponding virtues.

Such changes in the egoic Self can therefore be understood as indirect, secondary effects of the (partially or wholly) activated laṭāʾif.

The activation of the Ruḥ laṭīfa, for example, is often connected with overcoming personal weakness and anger and replacing it with healthy strength and assertiveness.

Naqshbandi (Punjab)
Finally, traditions similar to the Naqshbandi (Punjab) understand the laṭāʾif to be spiritual organs/capacities that also underlie ordinary forms of human perception and functioning.

As such, they are thought to be activated and operating implicitly at all times and appear indirectly through the corresponding experiences that they pattern on the conventional mental/emotional/somatic level of the egoic Self.

Naqshbandi influenced [30] spiritual teacher Hameed Ali (A. H. Almaas) (1944–) understands some of these laṭāʾif and psycho-physiological correspondences as follows:[31]

Qalb (Enjoyment)
Ruḥ (Vitality)
Sirr (Confidence)
Khafi (Stillness)
Ikhfa (Sensitivity)
(See also: corresponding video in "External Links").

Disambiguation of the laṭāʾif
Even among traditions that recognize the laṭāʾif, Sufi teachings often include other features or terminology that have ambiguous relationships to the laṭāʾif.

In addition, there is perennial potential for ambiguity in discussing the laṭāʾif (both in primary sources and in their English translation) arising from the way that words in Arabic can have different meanings in different contexts.[32]

Arabic, Quranic, or Sufi meaning of laṭāʾif
The word laṭāʾif is the plural of the transliterated Arabic word laṭīfa, from the tripartite verb la-ṭa-fa, which means “to be subtle”.[33]

It assumed a spiritual meaning in the Qur’an where Al-Laṭīf is one of the 99 names of God in Islam, reflecting His subtle nature.[33][34]

And it was subsequently adopted by Sufism to refer to various aspects of reality that are not gross, material qualities of the physical world (see, for example, "Disambiguation: Ten, five, or six laṭāʾif").[35]

Transliteration or translation or interpretation of the laṭāʾif
English language authors use one or more of three methods when referring to specific laṭāʾif:

a transliteration of the Arabic word associated with the laṭīfa a translation of the word's general Arabic meaning an interpretation of the corresponding experience that is the word's specific Sufi meaning.
Laleh Bahktiar[4] uses both a transliteration and a translation:

Laṭāʾif ("Subtle [Organs]")
Qalabīya ("Mold")
Nafsīya ("Soul")
Qalbīya ("Heart")
Sirrīya ("Secret")
Ruḥīya ("Spirit")
Khafīya ("Inspiration")
Haqqīya ("Seal")
Idries Shah also[36] uses both a transliteration and a translation:

Laṭāʾif ("[Five] Subtleties")
Qalb ("Mind")
Ruḥ ("Spirit")
Sirr ("Consciousness")
Khafi ("Intuition")
Ikhfa ("Deep perception of Consciousness")
Hameed Ali[37] uses a transliteration and an interpretation:

Laṭāʾif
Qalb ("Joy")
Ruḥ ("Strength")
Sirr ("Will")
Khafi ("Peace")
Ikhfa ("Compassion")
Ten, five, or six laṭāʾif
In the version of Sufi cosmology proposed by Ahmad Sirhindi (1564–1624),[38] God created the universe in three stages:

First came the "World of God's Command" (alam al-amr), which emerged instantly when God said, "Be!" The five subtle qualities (laṭāʾif) of God's Command were: Qalb, Ruh, Sirr, Khafi, and Ikhfa.
Then came the "World of God's Creation" (alam al-khalq), which emerged through a process of evolution. The five subtle qualities (laṭāʾif) which patterned that Creation were: Consciousness (Nafs), Air (Baad), Fire (Nar), Water (Ma), and Earth (Khak). Finally, God created human beings, which combined the “World of God’s Command” with the “World of God's Creation”.

In this usage, then, there are ten laṭā’if in two categories:

five relating to the “World of God’s Command” and five relating to the “World of God’s Creation”.
In contrast, in most Sufi usages outside this cosmological one (including most of this webpage), there are either:

five laṭāʾif (from the first category alone, the “World of God's Command”) or six laṭāʾif (the five from the first category . . . plus Nafs from the second category, the “World of God’s Creation”) .
Inter-relationship of laṭāʾif
Most Sufi traditions arrange the individual laṭāʾif in some specific order.

For example, the laṭīfa Qalb is often given first priority because its activation is the student's first orientation to the related presence and importance of Qalb (Heart) -- Man's spiritual "Organ of Evolution".

In the Kubrawi tradition, the laṭāʾif are understood to reflect the hierarchy of successive historical prophets and messengers, beginning with Adam and culminating with Muhammad. The student's spiritual development is thought to unfold from an earlier, more limited revelation to a later, more complete one.

In the Naqshbanbdi (Mujaddidi) tradition, the realization of the laṭāʾif is sometimes understood to be not only progressive but also cumulative; each new laṭīfa's realization is a comprehensive combination of that laṭīfa and all previously realized laṭāʾif.

Finally, in those traditions that emphasize modern day psychological aspects of Sufism, the order of activation of the laṭāʾif is sometimes determined by the individual student's personal history. A student might, for example, have one or another laṭīfa that is less "veiled" than another, in which case it could be the first laṭīfa emphasized for activation.

Nafs (Egoic Self) or Nafs (laṭīfa)
The Nafs in Sufism is considered to be a person's egoic consciousness[39] or egoic, psycho-physiological "Self". It is the subtle (laṭīfa) quality of "God's Creation" that becomes individual and can undergo a spiritual development. This makes it unlike the five laṭā’if of "God's Command", which are transcendent, unchanging qualities.

Ruḥ (Spirit) or Ruḥ (laṭīfa)
The word "Ruḥ" is used in Sufism in two different ways, on two different levels:

"Ruḥ", as one of the laṭā’if described in the foregoing
"Ruh" (Spirit), as the Divine Spirit or “essence” in human beings, created by God from his own Spirit.[40]

Qalb (Heart) or Qalb (laṭīfa)
The word “Qalb”, like “Ruḥ”, is used in Sufism in two different ways, on two different levels:

“Qalb”, as one of the laṭāʾif described in the foregoing
"Qalb" (Heart), as the “Organ of Evolution” in human beings, the potential integration of Ruḥ (the Divine Spirit) and Nafs (the egoic Self).[41]
Sirr (Secret) or Sirr (laṭīfa)
The word "Sirr", like "Ruḥ" and "Qalb", is also used in Sufism in two different ways, on two different levels:

“Sirr”, as one of the laṭā’if described in the foregoing
“Sirr” (“Secret”), as a super-conscious state of Qalb (Heart) or Ruḥ (Spirit) experienced as unity with God.[42]
Laṭāʾif and the Jism Latif
The integration of the laṭāʾif into Qalb (Heart) is understood by Sufism to also represent the development of a corresponding subtle body known, in some traditions, as the "Jism Latif".[43]

Whereas Qalb (Heart) emphasizes the psycho-physiological functions of the laṭāʾif, the Jism Latif emphasizes their underlying spiritual substance and persistent spiritual Presence (“Ḥuḍur”[44]).

The Jism Latif is said to exist in one of ten forms, corresponding to the level of spiritual development an individual has undergone in life. As such, it is also the corresponding level at which a human being survives physical death.[45]

See also: "Disambiguation: Qalab or Sultan al-Azkar".

Qalab or Sultan al-Azkar
The laṭīfa named “Qalab” in the Kubrawi tradition is equivalent to the laṭīfa named “Sulṭan al-Azkar” (“King of Zikrs”[46]) in the Naqshbandi (Awaisi) tradition.[47] Traditions that recognize this laṭīfa consider its realization to be the realization of a subtle body. (See also "Disambiguation: Laṭāʾif and the Jism Latif").

Some (like the Kubrawi) consider Qalab to be a preliminary realization of the subtle body and therefore the first laṭīfa to be activated in spiritual practise. In this perspective, the realization of subsequent laṭāʾif is considered to be a refinement and differentiation of the subtle body.

Other traditions (like the Awaisi) consider Sultan al-Azkar to be a comprehensive realization of the subtle body and therefore the final laṭīfa to be activated in practise.[48] In this perspective, the subtle body is considered to be a unification and integration of previously realized laṭāʾif [49].

Ḥal (State), Maqam (Station), or laṭīfa

In addition to the laṭāʾif, some[50][51] Sufi traditions also speak about two other categories of conscious experience that can arise during spiritual practice:

“Ḥal” (State), is a temporary altered state of consciousness arising from psychological or spiritual influences acting upon a student. They are considered to be gifts from God that arise in experience and disappear, usually immediately.
“Maqam” (Station or Stage), is one of seven permanent stages of a Sufi's spiritual development/embodiment/transformation achieved by his own effort.
There appears to be no consensus that the laṭā’if are directly related to either of the categories Ḥal or Maqam.

Laṭāʾif and the number "Seven"
The number "seven" appears repeatedly in Islam and in Sufism, to reflect the relationships between entities within various categories.

In Islam, "seven" appears in the Quran, in the Hajj pilgrimage, and in the "Seven Heavens", among others. In Sufism, it appears in seven laṭāʾif, seven stages of Nafs development, and seven Maqamat.

In some cases this use of "seven" is understood literally . . . while in other cases it is understood to be a metaphor for an "infinite" or "complete" number of entities.[52]

Additionally, there is not always a consensus about correlating one category of seven things with another.

For example, Ala ud-Daula Simnani explicitly correlates the seven progressive laṭāʾif with the seven ontological levels of Islamic cosmology, whereas other Sufi orders, which recognize only five laṭāʾif, do not.

Divine Names or laṭāʾif
The Divine Names of God in Islam are understood by Sufism to refer (in the great majority of cases) to the relational action, functioning, or appearance of transcendental Divine Attributes/Qualities in immanent, manifest reality.[53]

The laṭāʾif, in contrast, while capable of being experienced indirectly through the somatic, emotional, and mental states they pattern in conventional experience, are primarily direct transcendental experiences of Divine Attributes themselves.[54]

There appears to be no consensus that the laṭā’if are directly related to the Divine Names.

The laṭāʾif outside Sufism
In addition to Sufism itself, the laṭāʾif are also found in certain spiritual teachings whose founders have been influenced by Sufism.

The Fourth Way

The Fourth Way is an approach to human self-development introduced to Europe in the early 20th century by George Gurdjieff (1867-1949) and his student P.D. Ouspensky (1878-1947). Substantial parts of the teaching are thought to be derived from Naqshbandi Sufism.[55]

For example, there are said to be seven Centers (Fourth Way) within human beings that organise specific functions:

Five “lower” centers: the "Intellectual", "Emotional", "Moving", "Instinctive", and "Sexual", which are understood to operate explicitly in humans from birth.[56]
Two “higher” centers: the "Higher Emotional" and "Higher Intellectual", which are understood to operate implicitly in humans but which can become explicit in those who undergo a spiritual development.[57]
In this teaching, the qualities of the Higher Emotional Center (equivalent to Qalb (Heart) in Sufism) are known as “Positive Emotions” or “sacred impulses”.[58]

John G. Bennett (1897-1974), a contemporary student of both Ouspensky and Gurdjieff, researched the sources of Gurdjieff’s teaching and concluded that these Positive Emotions were in fact derived from the laṭāʾif of Sufism.[59]

Nevertheless, specific knowledge and realization of the Positive Emotions as laṭā’if are rarely emphasized in schools of the Fourth Way teaching today.

The Diamond Approach
The Diamond Approach is a spiritual teaching developed by Hameed Ali (A. H. Almaas) (1944–) and Faisal Muqaddam (1946-) beginning in the 1970s. The history of the teaching was influenced both by Idries Shah and by Gurdjieff's Fourth Way.[60]

It confirms the Naqshbandi (Punjab) understanding of five fundamental laṭāʾif and then expands it to include dozens of similar human capacities for which the more general term “Essential Aspects” is adopted.[61]

Unlike the Gurdjieff/Ouspensky Fourth Way, the Diamond Approach uses various mental, emotive, and somatic methods for realizing the laṭāʾif, as a central part of its overall teaching and practice.[62]

(See also: corresponding video in "External Links").

History of the laṭāʾif
The spiritual experiences identified by Sufism as the laṭāʾif have their immediate historical antecedents in the Emanationism of Neoplatonism[63] (3rd century AD), which is known to have influenced the subsequent development of Sufism (see: Platonism in Islamic philosophy). The Emanations of Neoplatonism, in turn, arose from the Theory of forms of Plato (4th century BC).

The general concept of spiritual “subtle centers” originated within Persian Sufism:

Junayd of Baghdad (835–910), al-Hallaj (858–922),[64] and Shahab al-Din Abu Hafs Umar Suhrawardi (1145–1234).[65]

Kubrawi Sufi Najm al-Din Razi (1177–1256) proposed five “inner means of perception” (Qalb, Ruh, Sirr, Khafi, and Ikhfa) that parallel the five physical senses. It's unclear to commentators whether these inner senses were already understood as laṭāʾif at that time.[66]

The earliest systematic formulation of the laṭāʾif is thought to be that of Kubrawi Ala ud-Daula Simnani (1261–1336),[6] who proposed seven laṭāʾif, relating them to the seven ontological levels of Sufi cosmology.[67]

From the 17th to 19th centuries, the Indian Mujaddidis, beginning with Ahmad Sirhindi (1564–1624), returned to a standardized interpretation of five experiential laṭāʾif and associated their locations with parts of the physical body.[68]

The Punjab tradition within the Naqshbandi in the late 19th and 20th centuries continued with five laṭā’if but identified the experience of their physical locations differently and viewed them as spiritual organs/capacities that also underlie ordinary forms of human consciousness.[69]

It is thought by some[70] that, just as with the nominal 99 Names of God in Islam and their underlying Divine Attributes,[71] the number of laṭāʾif and their potential realization by humanity might actually be unlimited.

ACKNOWLEDGMENT

I HAVE greatly profited from hints, generously lavished in the course of correspondence, from Professors D.B. MACDONALD, R. NICHOLSON, and LOUIS MASSIGNON, in addition to recent works by the last two. My cordial thanks to these; and also to Professor D.S. MARGOLIOUTH for discussing with me some of the difficult points in the translation.

AUTHOR'S PREFACE

I AM so conscious that my general equipment was insufficient to warrant my having undertaken an introduction to this treatise (in addition to the translation), that my utmost hope is this,--that what I have written may be regarded by lenient Orientalists as something to elicit--provoke, if you will--the necessary supplementing and formative criticism; or as useful materials to be built into some more authoritative and better informed work: and that they may from this point of view be inclined to pardon what otherwise might seem an unwarrantable piece of rashness and indiscretion.

A still greater presumption remains to be forgiven, but this time on the ground of the great human simplicities, when I venture to inscribe this work, in spite of everything, to the beloved memory of

IGNAZ GOWZIHER

--that golden-hearted man--who in 1911 introduced me to the Mishkât; and to join with his name that of

{p. viii}

DUNCAN BLACK MACDONALD

who first introduced me to the Mishkât's author. Of these twain, the latter may perhaps forgive the lapses of a pupil because of the filial joy with which, I know well, he will see the two names joined together, howsoever or by whomsoever it was done. As for the former, . . . in Abraham's bosom all things are forgiven.

INTRODUCTION

The references in square brackets are to the pages of the Cairo Arabic edition, and to the present English translation.

THE MISHKÂT AL-ANWAR[1] is a work of extreme interest from the viewpoint of al-Ghazzâlî's[2] inner life and esoteric thought. The glimpses it gives of that life and thought are remarkably, perhaps uniquely, intimate. It begins where his autobiographical Al-Munqidh min al-Dalâl leaves off. Its esotericism excited the curiosity and even the suspicion of Muslim thinkers from the first, and we have deeply interesting allusions to it in Ibn Tufaill and Ibn Rushd,[4] the celebrated philosophers of Western Islam, who flourished within the century after al-Ghazzâlî's death in 1111 (A.H. 505)--a fact which, again, increases its importance and interest for us.

[1. The Mishkât al-Anwâr is numbered No. 34 in Brockelmann's Geschichte der Arabischen Literatur (vol. i, p. 423). It was printed in Cairo (matba`at as Sidq, A. H. 1322), to which edition the references in the present work are made. There is another edition in a collection of five opuscules of Ghazzâlî under the title of the first of the five, Faisal al-Tafriqa.

I. DATE, OBJECT, AND GENERAL CONTENTS

There is no way of fixing the Precise date of this treatise; but it falls among his later ones, perhaps among the latest; the most important hint we get from Ghazzâlî himself being that the book was written after his Magnum opus, the Ihyâ'al Ulûm (p. [9]). Other works of Ghazzâlî mentioned by him in this treatise are the Mi`âr al-`Ilm, Mahakk al-Nazar, and al-Maqsad al-Asnâ.

The object of the opuscule is to expound a certain Koran verse and a certain Tradition. The former is the celebrated Light-Verse (S. 24, 35) and the latter the Veils-Tradition. It is divided into three sections, of which the first is considerably the longest.

In this first section he considers the word "light" itself, and its plural "lights," as applied to physical light and lights; to the eye; to the intelligence (i.e. intellect or reason); to prophets; to supernal beings; and finally to Allah himself, who is shown to be not the only source of light and of these lights, but also the only real actual light in all existence.

{p. 3}

In the second section we have some most interesting prolegomena to the whole subject of symbolic language in the Koran and Traditions, and its interpretation. Symbols are shown to be no mere metaphors. There is a real mystical nexus between symbol and symbolized, type and antitype, outer and inner. The symbols are infinitely numerous, very much more numerous than those mentioned in Koran, or Traditions. Every object on earth "perhaps" has its correlative in the unseen, spiritual world. This doctrine of symbols reminds us of the Platonic "ideas" and their earthly copies, and of the "patterns of things in the heavens" and "the example and shadow [on earth] of heavenly things" in the Epistle to the Hebrews. A notable deduction is made from this doctrine, namely, the equal incumbency of keeping the outward letter (zâhir) of the Law as well as its inner meaning (bâtin). Nearly all the most advanced Sûfis were zealous and Minutely scrupulous keepers of the ritual, ceremonial, and other prescriptions of the Sunna law, and Ghazzâlî here supplies a quasi-philosophical basis for this fidelity--a fidelity which some of the bolder and more extreme mystics found illogical and "unspiritual".

In the third section the results of this symbology are applied to the Verse and Tradition in question. In the former the beautiful, and undeniably intriguing expressions of the Koran--the Light, the Niche, the Glass, the Oil, Tree, the East and the West--are explained both on psychological and religio-metaphysical lines; and a similar exegesis is applied to the tradition of the Seventy Thousand Veils.

II. MYSTERIES LEFT VEILED IN THIS TREATISE

In the course of all this Ghazzâlî gives us, incidentally, much that excites our curiosity to the highest degree; though always, when we get to the crucial point, we meet a "perhaps," or a patronizing allusion to the immaturity of his less-initiated reader. (Ghazzâlî's hesitations--"it may be," "perhaps", etc.--are worthy of study in this treatise. They do not so much have the impression of hesitancy in his own mind, as of a desire to "fence" a little with his reader.) He himself writes "incommunicable mystery"' across a number of these passages. Thus, the nature of the human intelligence and its peculiar affinity to the divine (pp. 16, 71); the mystic "state" of al-Hallâj, and other "inebriates," and the expressions they emit in their mystic intoxication (p. [20]) --"behind which truths," says Ghazzâlî, "also lie secrets which it is not lawful to enter upon"; the astounding passage (p. [24]) in which to the supreme Adept of the mystical Union with deity are ascribed features and functions of very deity; the real explanation of the word tawhîd, involving as it does the question of the reality of the universe and the nature of the soul's union or identification with deity; the nature of the Commander (al-Mutâ`) of the universe, and whether he be Allah or an ineffable supreme Vicegerent; who that Vicegerent is, and why it must be he and not Allâh who performs the prime function of the cosmos-ruler, viz. the issue of the command for the moving of the primum mobile, whereby all the motions of the Heavenly (and the Sublunary) spheres are set a-going; and the final mystery of Allah-an-sich, a Noumenal Deity, in whose case transcendence is to be carried to such a pitch that gnosticism and agnosticism meet, and the validity of every possible or conceivable predication is denied, whether of act or attribute (see p. [55])--all these things are incommunicable mysteries, secrets, from the revealing of which our author turns away at the exact moment when we expect the denouement. The art is supreme--but something more than tantalizing. Who were the adepts to whom he did communicate these thrilling secrets? Were these communications ever written down for or by his brother initiates? Or did he ever communicate them? Was there really anything to communicate? If so, what?

{p. 5}

{p. 6}

III. A GHAZZALIAN PHILOSOPHY OF RELIGION

On the whole it is the final section on the Veils-Tradition which, though really of the nature of an appendix, contains the most numerous and the most interesting problems for the study of Ghazzâlî's inner life, thought, and convictions. This tradition speaks of "Seventy Thousand Veils of Light and Darkness" which veil pure Godhead from the human soul. The origin of the tradition is, it is safe to hazard, Neoplatonic, and it therefore lent itself completely to the gnostic and theosophical mode of thought which so soon invaded Muslim Sûfism after its less successful effort to capture orthodox Christianity. Accordingly Muslim mystics seem to have seized upon the tradition with avidity, though they interpret it variously. For an entirely Neoplatonic, theosophical interpretation, as expounded by Rifâ`i dervishes, the translator's "'Way' of a Mohammedan Mystic" may be consulted.[1] According to this version, the soul, in its upward Seven-fold Way to Union with pure Deity, is at every stage stripped of 10,000 of these Veils, the dark ones first and then the bright. After that the naked soul stands face to face with naked Deity, with Absolute Being, with an unveiled Sun, with unadulterated Light. Ghazzâlî's treatment is different. According to him, these Veils are various according to the varieties of the natures which they veil from the One Real. And it is the classification of these natures, which is thus involved, that supplies rich material for an unusually inside view of Ghazzâlî's real views concerning men, doctrines, religions, and sects. It is not the orthodox schoolman, the fierce dogmatist, the rigid mutakallim, who is now speaking. We have the sensation of overhearing Ghazzâlî as he speaks aloud to his own soul, or to a circle of initiates. It is hardly less than an outline of a philosophy of religion with which we have to do. He divides mankind into four classes: those veiled with veils of pure darkness; those veiled with veils of mixed darkness and light; those veiled with veils of pure light; and those who attain to the vision of the Unveiled. Every line of this part of the work merits and requires the closest study. It is not possible to give this detailed study here--it has been given elsewhere, and to that the reader must be referred.[1] But a summary of Ghazzâlî's classification of souls and creeds may be given here, for thus, even more effectively than by an extended study, may a vivid preliminary appreciation be gained of the importance of this section for students of the Ghazzâlî problem. He begins at the bottom and works up the light-ladder, rung by rung, to the very top, thus giving a gradation of human natures and human creeds in respect of their approach to absolute truth. Sometimes the grades are definitely identified by the author. In other cases they may be certainly, or nearly certainly, identified from the description he gives. In the following summary Ghazzâlî's own identifications are given between round brackets; inferred identifications certain or nearly certain, between square brackets.

{p. 7}

[1. The Moslem World, year 1912, pp. 171 seqq., 245 seqq.; as separatum, Otto Harrassowitz, pp. 9, 10.]

{p. 8}

{p. 9}

Class I.--Those veiled with Veils of pure Darkness

Atheists--

(a) Naturist philosophers whose god is Nature,

(b) Egotists whose god is Self.

Subdivisions of (b):--

(1) Seekers after sensual pleasures (the bestial attributes).

(2) Seekers after dominion ("Arabs, some Kurds, and (the very numerous Fools").

(3) Seekers after filthy lucre

(4) Seekers after vainglory

(2-4) (the ferocious attributes).

Class II.--Those veiled with Veils of mixed Darkness and Light

{p. 10}

A. THOSE WHOSE DARKNESS ORIGINATES IN THE SENSES

(1) Image-worshippers. [Polytheists of the Hellenic (? and Indian) type.]

(2) Worshippers of animate objects of physical beauty. (Some of the most remote Turkish tribes.)

(3) Fire-worshippers. [Magians.]

(4) Astrologizing Star-worshippers. [Star-worshippers of Harran: ?Sabîans.]

(5) Sun-worshippers.

(6) Light-worshippers, with their dualistic acknowledgement of a supreme correlative Darkness. (Zoroastrians of the cult of Ormuzd and Ahrimân.)

B. THOSE WHOSE DARKNESS ORIGINATES IN THE IMAGINATION

(who worship a One Being, sitting [spatially] on his throne).

(1) Corporealists. {p. 11}

[Extreme Hanbalites: Zâhirites.]

(2) Karrâmites.

(3) Those who have eliminated all spatial ideas in regard to Allâh except the literal "up-above".

[Ibn Hanbal.[1] Hanbalites.[2]]

C. THOSE WHOSE DARKNESS ORIGINATES IN THE [DISCURSIVE][3] INTELLIGENCE

[Various sorts of Mutakallimîn]

(1) Anthropomorphists in respect of the Seven Attributes of Allah, "Hearing, Seeing," etc., and especially the "Word" of Allah.

(Those who said that the Word of Allah has letters and sounds like ours.) [Early literalists; Hanbalites: early Ash`arites.]

(2) Those who said that the word of Allah is like our mental speech (hadith al-nafs.)

{p. 12}

[Later Ash`arites.]

Class III.--Those veiled by pure Light

[i.e. purged of all anthropomorphism (tashbîh)]

(1) Those whose views about the Attributes were sound, but who refused to define Allah by means of them: replying to the question "What is the Lord of the World?" by saying, "The Lord, who transcends the ideas of those attributes; He, the Mover and Orderer of the Heavens."

[Hasan al-Basrî, al-Shâfi`î, and others of the bilâ kaifa school.]

(2) Those who mounted higher than the preceding, in declaring that Allah is the mover of only the primum mobile (the Ninth and outermost Heaven), which causes the movement of the other Eight, mediated by their respective Angels.

[Sûfî philosophers. (?) Al-Fârâbî.]

(3) Those who mount higher than these {p. 13} again, in putting a supreme Angel in place of Allah, Who now moves the heavens by commanding this supreme Angel, but not immediately by direct action.

[Sûfî philosophers. Al-Ghazzâlî himself when coram populo (Munqidh, p 11)!]

Class IV.--The Unveiled who Attain

Those who will predicate nothing whatsoever of Allah, and refuse to allow that He even issues the order for the moving of the primum mobile. This Commander (Mutâ`) is now a Vicegerent, who is related to the Absolute Being as the sun to Essential Light or live coal to the Element of Fire.

(1) Adepts who preserve self-consciousness in their absorption in this Absolute, all else being effaced.

(2) Adepts whose self-consciousness is also effaced ("the Fewest of the Few") [al-Hallâj and the extreme Mystics],

(a) who attain to this State with a single leap--as Abraham "al-Khalîl" did, {p. 14}

(b) who attain to it by stages,--as Mohammed "al-Habîb" did [at the Mi`râj].

IV. GHAZZALI PROBLEMS RAISED BY THE FOREGOING

The mere perusal of this graded scale of systems and of souls shows at once its extraordinary interest because of its revelation of Ghazzâlî's innermost thought about these things, and because of the piquancy and difficulty of some of the problems raised.

In the discussion of the whole subject the reader is referred to, the monograph upon the Mishkât to which allusion has been made. The problems may be indicated here in the form of questions, for the sake of defining them as particularly as possible:--

(1) How is it that some reputable Moslems are grouped with Idolators and Dualists in the second division ("mixed light and dark")?

(2) How is it that Jews and Christians are neither mentioned nor alluded to in this rather full sketch for a philosophy of religion? And where could they have been fitted in if they had been mentioned?

{p. 15}

(3) How is it that the later Ash`arites, the standard orthodox Theologians, are placed so low, viz. in the division where there are still veils of darkness?

(4) How is that the Mu`tazilites are neither mentioned nor alluded to; and that, according. to the differentia of the highest section of the second division, it would be inevitable to place them above the orthodox Ash`arites?

(5) How is it that the most pious believers of the earliest and most venerated type come no higher than the lowest section of the third division?

(6) How is it that to such men is ascribed any special concern about Allah as "mover of the Heavens"[1]

(7) How is it that the various doctrines about the mode of this Moving of the Heavens is made the main if not the sole differentia of the (ascending) grades of this division, though in other works Ghazzâlî treats this very matter with marked coolness[2]? How is it that on this

[1. This is all the more marked because the words are Ghazzâlî's own gloss on a quotation from the Koran; see below.

2. E.g. Tahâfut, pp. 57, 60.]

{p. 16}

is explicitly said to turn the superiority of the schools of Sûfî's over the pious Believers, and the superiority of one school of Sûfî's over another?

(8) How is it that this matter of Moving the Heavens is considered so particularly to threaten the Unity of Allah, and that that Unity is only saved when He is relieved from even the function of Commanding the (outermost) Heaven to be moved?

(9) And who is this Commander who thus commands, and who orders all things, and who is related to pure Being as the Sun to Elemental Light? And what was "the mystery (in this affair), the disclosure of which this book does not admit of"?

(10) What becomes of a Deity of whom nothing whatsoever can even be said or predicated? And how, then, can a "relation" between Him and His Vicegerent be asserted, still more described as above? And how can this Unknowable, Unimaginable and Inconceivable be nevertheless "reached" by mystic souls?

(11) What was "the book" into which Ghazzâlî himself says he put all his esoteric teaching (Jawâhir, p. 31); which he implores any into whose hands it may fall not to publish; which Ibn Tufail denies could have been this Mishkât (Hayy, ed. Gautier, pp. 13-15, trans. Gautier. pp. 12-14), nor any other of the supposed esoteric books that "had come to Andalus"?

{p. 17}

V. THE PROBLEM OF THE VICEGERENT IN IBN RUSHD AND IBN TUFAIL

After this it will cause no surprise that it is this figure of the Vicegerent (al-Mutâ` . . . alladhî amara bi tahrîk il-samâwât) who excited the curiosity and suspicion of thinkers in the century after Ghazzâlî's death. The passage is at least twice singled out, once by Ibn Rushd in the treatise already cited, and once by Ibn Tufail in his Hayy ibn Yaqzân.

(1) Ibn Rushd uses the passage to level at Ghazzâlî a direct accusation of gravest hypocritical insincerity over a matter which Ghazzâlî had ostentatiously singled out as the prime test of orthodoxy, namely.. the doctrine of emanation. According to Ibn Rushd the passage about the Vicegerent was the explicit teaching of this doctrine of the Philosophers, for which, elsewhere, Ghazzâlî can find no words strong enough to express his censure and contempt. The words of Ibn Rushd are as follows:

"Then he comes on with his book known as Mishkât al-Anwâr, and mentions therein all the grades of the Knowers of Allah; and says that all of them are veiled save those who believe that Allah is not the mover of the First Heaven, He being the One from Whom this mover of the First Heaven emanated: which is an open declaration on his part of the tenet of the philosophers' schools in the science of theology; though he has said in several places that their science of theology (as distinct from their other sciences) is a set of conjectures."[1]

It is not within the scope of this Introduction to follow in detail the evidence for and against the truth of this radical accusation. This has been done at length and with considerable minuteness in the monograph in Der Islâm, which has already been cited (pp. 133-145). The reader must be referred to that; and it must suffice here to say that after the full consideration of all the evidence the verdict given there. is Not Guilty. On the other hand, the existence of an esoteric doctrine in regard to this Vicegerent and his function is undeniable (and undenied); and it is clear, from the comparison of the Mishkât itself with the Munqidh, that that doctrine differed vitally from the one professed by Ghazzâlî exoterically (Munqidh, p. 11). Ghazzâlî himself, in a passage of remarkable candour,[1] admits that every "Perfect" man has three sets of opinions (madhâhib), (a) those of his own environment, (b) those he teaches to inquirers according as they are able to receive them, and (c) those which he believes in secret between himself and Allah, and never mentions except to an inner circle of friends or students.

{p. 19}

Ibn Rushd's accusation was an attempt to identify the figure of the Vicegerent, al-Mutâ` with that of Al Ma`lûl al Awwal, the First Caused, in the emanational scheme of the Neoplatonizing[2] philosophers of Islâm, with [1. Mîzân al `Amal, p. 214.

2. The unquestionable Neoplatonism of much of the forms and expression of Ghazzâlî's thought, if not of the thought itself {footnote p. 20} Contd. (see especially pp. 15, 16. 29, 47 seq.]), exposed him in a very special way to this charge of emanational pantheism. And it cannot have made it easier for him to steer clear of such dangers in fact.]

{p. 20}

al-Fârâbi and Ibn Sinâ at their head. This was the Demiurge, the Being who first emanates from the Absolute Being, and mediates between It and all the lower stages or relational existence, with their increasing limitedness and grossness, thus relieving the predicateless Absolute from all part in the creation or administration of the universe.

There can be no doubt that whatever Ghazzâlî's doctrine of the Vicegerent was, and whatever else his esoteric doctrine contained, the emanational theory formed no part of that doctrine. For this particular piece of pseudo-metaphysics he appears to have had a very particular dislike and contempt; and if Ibn Rushd was really serious in levelling his accusation he can hardly be acquitted of being blinded by his bitter prejudice against

"Abû Hâmid". The only possible ground for Ibn Rushd's accusation which I have been able to discover is as follows:--it is a fact that the extreme (ghulât) Imâmites did identify al-Rûh "The Spirit of Allah" with the First Emanation[1]. If, as is contended hereafter, Ghazzâlî identified al-Mutâ` with Al-Rûh, and Ibn Rushd was aware of this, he may have thought, or been pleased to think, that Ghazzâlî therefore thought that al-Mutâ` was the First Emanation. This would be an indirect confirmation of the identification which it is attempted presently to prove, namely, al-Mutâ` = al-Rûh.

{p. 21}

(2) We now pass to the other criticism of the passage, by Ibn Rushd's contemporary Ibn Tufail, in the introduction to his philosophical romance entitled Hayy Ibn Yaqzân.[2]

Ibn Tufâil's allusion to this perplexing passage is as follows:--

"Some later writers[3] have fancied they have found something tremendous in that passage of his that occurs at the end of al-Mishkât, which (they think) impales Ghazzâlî on a dilemma from which there is no escape. I mean where, after speaking of the various degrees of the Light-Veiled, and then going on to speak of the true Attainers, he tells us that these Attainers have discovered that this Existing One possesses an attribute which negates unmitigated Unity; insisting that it necessarily follows from this that Ghazzâlî believed that the Absolute Being has within His Essence some sort of plurality: which God forbid!"

{p. 22}

The excursus on this passage in the article cited from Der Islâm (pp. 145-151) can only be summarized here. It seems to have escaped the critics quoted by Ibn Tufail, that the Unveiled, according to Ghazzâlî himself, abandoned the position of the last of the Light-Veiled just because of this dread, viz. that the identification of al-Mutâ` with Allah would endanger "the unmitigated Unity" of Deity. Ibn Tufail himself, though he admits the serious contradictions which appear in Ghazzâlî's books, flatly refuses to see in this passage anything so monstrous, or anything sinister at all.

Unfortunately he does not give us his own exegesis of the passage; but it may perhaps be inferred from his own schematization of the grades of being. In this he makes elaborate use of the schema of reflectors, and reflectors of reflectors, which Ghazzâlî has already suggested in this book (pp. [15, 16]). "The essences of the Intelligences of the Spheres" are represented as successive, graded reflections of the Divine Essence. The highest of them is not the essence of the One Real nor is he the Sphere itself, nor is he other than both. He is, as it were, the image of the sun which appears in a polished mirror; for that image is neither the sun, nor the mirror, nor other than them both." It is probable that Ibn Tufail, who professed to have won through to his position after studying al-Ghazzâlî and Ibn Sînâ (the juxtaposition is singular!), would have more or less equated this conception of the highest Essence of the Intelligences of the Spheres with the conception of al-Mutâ` in the Mishkât, though he says nothing about the business of Heaven-moving in relation to this Being. It need not follow that al-Ghazzâlî would have accepted this explanation[1]; though both men were evidently striving equally to avoid a total pantheism, and both disbelieved in the emanational theory as taught by al-Fârâbî and Ibn Sinâ.

{p. 23}

[1. Though his "mirror" schema in Mishkât, p. [15], is near Ibn Tufâil's meaning.]

{p. 24}

VI. ONE SOLUTION OF THE PROBLEM OF THE VICEGERENT

In the absence of "the book" into which Ghazzâlî put these secret opinions, or inconceivable mysteries, including, we may suppose, the secret of this mysterious Vicegerent, we are not likely to reach any authoritative settlement of the question: nor, even if we be put on the right track, clear up the whole of the mystery. For want of direct help from our author, therefore, the only thing to be done is to examine minutely al-Mishkât itself, to see if it yields any indirect help. It would seem that from this examination two possible solutions emerge. In this section the first of these will be discussed.

This solution, which was first suggested to the writer by the distinguished French Orientalist, M. Louis Massignon, identifies the mysterious figure of this Vicegerent, al-Mutâ`, with the Qutb ("Axis") or some other Supreme Adept. According to the developed doctrine, this Qutb was an earthly Mystic of supremest attainment, who during his lifetime administered the affairs of the heavens and the earth. There was nothing about him, during his lifetime, to suggest to any observer that he was, engaged in so stupendous a task, and it was not known till after his death that he had been "the Axis of his time" (qutbu zamânihi).

The beginnings of this doctrine go back far beyond al-Ghazzâlî--a rudimentary form of it was held by even the ultra-orthodox Hanbalites,[1] and a developed form of the conception is expressed quite definitely in al-Hujwîrî's Kashf al-Mahjûb,[2] and must have been widely held, in orthodox circles too, in the fifth century, at the close of which our treatise was written.

Moreover, at least from the time of al-Hallâj, to whom, as we shall see, our author in. this treatise refers in terms by no means of repudiation, the very word under discussion, al-Mutâ` or some other form of the same verb, occurs in significant connexion with supreme sainthood. One of the accusations levelled against al-Hallâj was that he taught that "having attained to sainthood the Adept becomes al-Mutâ` he who says to a thing 'Be!' and it becomes".[1] It sounds startling enough, but it was a true accusation, though it has to be taken in connexion with the whole of Hallâj's philosophy of mystical union with the Divine. For he did definitely adopt from a predecessor, Ibn `Iyâd, the aphorism "Man atâ`a Allaha atâ`ahu kullu shay'",[3] an aphorism which received a later redaction (quite in the spirit of Hallâj, as has been shown), "man hudhdhiba ... fa yasîru mutâ`an, yaqûlu lish shay'i `Kun' fa yakûn," "He who has passed through the mystic askesis becomes Obeyed; he says to this or that, 'Be!' and it is."[4]

[1. Massignon, Passion d' al-Hallâj, p. 754.

2. p. 214 of trans.]

Since then al-Hallâj did so teach, and did use this very word, and since al-Ghazzâlî in this treatise betrays a very considerable admiration of al-Hallâj, and a sort of tremulous half-assent to his wildest utterances, including the notorious

[1. Massignon, op. cit., p. 791; ib., p. 472.

2. The sense in which he did use the expression, and the proof that it did not in his thought mean self-deification, is given very clearly in Massignon, op. cit., 519-521.

4. Al-Avnî on al-Istakhrî., quoted in a letter by M. Massignon to the writer.]

{p. 27}

"Ana-l Haqq" itself, it would seem that a strong prima-facie case has been made out for identifying the Mutâ` of our treatise, in spite of the cosmic nature of his functions, with some supreme Adept. But only a prima-facie case. To make out the thesis itself, the treatise itself must be interrogated; for it by no means follows that because a Hallâj held an opinion a Ghazzâlî adopted it.

There are, certainly, some passages that do suggest that the solution is along this line.

(1) The description of the adventures of a soul in highest state of Union (Mish., p. [24]) tends to bear out the Identification, or the general idea underlying it. The person there described is a supreme Adept, and in particular al-Hallâj himself. Having reached Union with the One divine Real, he ascends in and with Him "to the throne of the Divine Unity and from thenceforth administers the Command throughout His (or 'his,' for in this extraordinary passage the pronouns remain the same throughout) storied Heavens." The words translated "administers the Command", yudabbîru-l amr, are remarkable, for they contain an Arabic word (amr) which, as we shall see presently, is to the last degree significant, being the very word used in the Mutâ` passage (p. [55]), where Ghazzâlî confesses it is an obscure mystery. The Mutâ` (Commander) is said to move the outermost Heaven by precisely the amr (command). The words yudabbîru-l amr could no doubt be translated in a less significant way, owing to the troublesome double meaning of amr, ("affair," "command"), namely, "he disposes things." But in view of the fact that this amr was a notable Sûfî term, and a mysterious problem alluded to by Ghazzâlî in this very treatise, it seems inevitable to take it as "command" here. And a "Command" necessitates an "Obeyed".

(2) On p. [23], where the reference throughout is purely general, and presumably applies to anyone who has the necessary qualifications and attains this supreme mystical "state", Ghazzâlî says that when the mystic Ascent is complete, "if there be indeed any change, it is by way of 'the Descent into the Lowest Heaven', the radiation from above downwards." This also suggests supreme divine activity in the Universe below, especially if the word ishrâq refers, as it probably does, to causative activity.

(3) On pp. [13, 14] occurs another passage which strongly supports the general identification, though it leaves its particular and personal reference still obscure. In this the adepts, who in their mystical Ascent (mi`râj) "attained to that supreme attainment", are said to be "the Prophets", who "from thence looked down upon the entire World Invisible [precisely the world of the Heavens]; for he who is in the world of the Realm Supernal is which Allah, and hath the keys of the Unseen. I mean that from where he is descend the causes of existing things; for the world of sense is one of the effects of yonder-world of causes", etc. This looks almost like a reasoned, philosophic doctrine behind the mystical one, that to attain to the world of Reality is ipso facto to attain to the fount of causation; which involves the ability to direct the Causes which control all the Effects in the Heavens below and the Earth beneath. The Vicegerent does no more than this.

A close scrutiny of these passages leaves, one, nevertheless, with thc impression that the

Adepts whose celestial adventures are there described are too generalized, or perhaps one should say too pluralized, to be identifiable with this single, solitary figure of al-Mutâ` as he is presented in our passage. As far as these three passages go, this assumption of the reins of the Universe is only granted to Adepts in their mystic "States", to Prophets in their highly exceptional "Ascent". There is nothing to show that two or more such Attainers might not exist at one time, or that even one must always be existing; in other words, there is no trace of the complete and fully developed Qutb doctrine in this treatise. But these considerations make it impossible to identify any one of these Adepts, or all of them together, with the cosmic al-Mutâ`, whose function, related as it is to the very mechanism of the Heavens, is ceaseless, and coextensive with Time itself. And these last four words suggest a further consideration which in itself seems fatal to the proposed identification; namely, that al-Mutâ` was Vicegerent from the very foundation of the world; he is the one "who commanded the Heavens to be moved" (p. [55, 1. 12]). No

{p. 31}

Hallâj, no Adept, no Qutb, no Prophet even, ever claimed, or had claimed for him, such priority as this,[1] or even priority at all. But if not, none of them--and, if so, no terrestrial being at all--can claim to fill the role of this Vicegerent. The three passages were probably intended only to assert and account for the karâmât of the Saints in their wonder-working which was parallel to that of the Koranic Jesus.

The a-priori question of our author's attitude to the Qutb doctrine--whether, consistently with his published writings, he could have sustained such a doctrine in this work--is one which can only be indicated here. Professors R. Nicholson and D.S. Macdonald have both communicated to the writer, in reference to the passage under discussion, their opinion that there is an a-priori impossibility. To al-Ghazzâlî the doctrine was tainted with Imâmism, his special bete noire (see his attack on the Ta`lîmites in his Munqidh;[2] that since an omnipotent.

[1. The question of the priority claimed by a certain school for Mohammed, and of the nûr Muhammadi, will be considered, later.

2. See Nicholson, The Idea of Personality in Sûfism, p. 46]

{p. 32}

Administrator must also be an infallible Guide (whom Ghazzâlî would not have at any price), there is no room for the former in Ghazzâlî's thought (thus Professor Macdonald). If the Mutâ` is not Mohammed, he is certainly no Saint (thus Professor Nicholson).

Be this as it may, the above considerations, drawn from the study of the text itself, and from the passages which prima facie seemed to point to the Qutb-Mutâ` identification, seem finally, when more closely examined, to rule that identification out.

VII. ANOTHER SOLUTION

But there are other passages in our treatise which, when carefully studied, lead to the belief that in Ghazzâlî's own mind--though the identification is nowhere explicitly stated or significantly hinted--the Mutâ` is none than al-Rûh, THE SPIRIT OF ALLAH.[1]

In S. 17, 87, Mohammed himself had left this enigmatic entity as a divinely uncommunicated,

[1. Nicholson. The Idea of Personality in Sûfism, pp. 44, 45. The identification had occurred independently to the present writer before appearance of Professor Nicholson's work. It had also occurred independently to Professor D. B. Macdonald.]

{p. 33}

and therefore incommunicable, mystery. The passage runs as follows: "They ask thee of The Spirit: say, The Spirit pertains to my Lord's Word-of-Command, and ye have not been communicated knowledge [of It] save a little." The Arabic of the words italicized is min amri rabbî; and we are again faced, at the outset, with the troublesome double meaning of the word amr. The phrase min amr might merely mean--perhaps did only mean--"a matter of"[1] (my Lord's), a vague phrase, common in Arabic, meaning "something that pertains to" so and so. But in a case like this, we are not concerned with what Mohammed may originally have meant, but what mystic writers have taken him to mean. And enormously though this verse attracted puzzled, and baffled commentators and mystics of all ages, the latter seem to have taken the word amr, with practical unanimity, in the far more significant sense of "Command". The Hebrew root means "speak", and this meaning is implicit in the Arabic root also, which signifies spoken command. And

[1. The word min is itself tantalizingly ambiguous. It might mean "(derived) from" or "(part) of" or "pertaining to." Under such circumstances one looks round for the vaguest possible phrase to render the preposition.]

{p. 34}

just as later Jewish writers made out of a derivative of this root a Logos doctrine (Memra), so the Mohammedan mystics came near to making a Logos doctrine out of the word amr, taking their start from this very text.

A mystery having been definitely started by this text, a haze of mystification was thrown over the entire subject of "spirit": over angels as "spirits", over the human "spirit", the prophetic "spirit"; the interrelation between these, and the relation of all to "the Spirit"; finally Its relation to Allah. In our treatise there is a full measure of this mystification.

"The Spirit" is ar-Rûh. With this may be absolutely identified Rûh Allah "The Spirit of God"; Rûhuhu "His Spirit"; and al-Rûhu-l Qudsî[1] (or Rûhu-l Qudsî) "The Transcendent Spirit"--all Koranic expressions.

What then are the considerations which suggest that we have in this Figure of Mystery

[1. This is the Arabic for the Christian "The Holy Spirit". But in Arabic as in early Hebrew the word emphasized the idea of separation or transcendence rather than of righteousness or holiness.]

{p. 35}

the key to the mystery of the Vicegerent? On this supposition there would be no wonder that Ghazzâlî left the figure of the latter a mystery, and declined to divulge the secret of it (p. [55]). He could not divulge the whole secret, because by the decree of Allah and the Book, he could not know it himself--"save a little." And, there is no wonder he declined to discuss it, considering the interminable complexities and baffling obscurities of the recorded musings of Sûfî doctors on the theme.

At the very outset we are struck by the fact that the word Mutâ` occurs in the Koran (S. 81, 23), and not only so, but it occurs as an attribute of the mysterious Agent of Revelation, the vision of whom Mohammed saw at the. first (S. 53, 5-16). The text 87, 23, is not definitely cited in Mishkât; and in later Islâm the commentators, with their arid tameness, made a stereotyped identification of this Figure with the Angel Gabriel. But the Koran gives no warrant for this; and there is nothing in the Mishkât to show that Ghazzâlî thus taught. On the contrary, Gabriel is assigned a low place in the angelic hierarchy. No one can read those two Koranic passages (in S. 87 and S. 53) without feeling that Mohammed's awful visitant on those two occasions was the One of absolute supreme rank in the heavenlies: not a spirit but the Spirit. And It was mutâ`--"one who is obeyed." Is it not but a very short step from this to al-Mutâ`, The Obeyed-One?

The identification, however attractive, would nevertheless be precarious if there was not so much in the Mishkât itself that supports this identification.

(1) On p. [15] the ultimate kindling-place of the graded Lights, of which the Prophets occupy the lower and terrestrial ranks and the Angelic Beings the higher and celestial, is the theme of discussion. Both these ranks of beings are compared to "lights" and all of them are contrasted with the Highest of all, who is compared to "fire", from whose flame these graded lights are successively lit, from top to bottom. Who and what is this Highest of all next to Allah? He is said to be an Angel with countenances seventy thousand'. . . {p. 37} This is he who is contrasted with all the angelic host, in the words: 'On that day whereon THE SPIRIT ariseth, and the Angels, rank on rank.'" It is thus explicitly clear that this Being is the highest of all possible beings in heaven or earth next to Allah; and so, if the Vicegerent of p. [55] is also the highest of all, it would seem inevitable to equate them.

(2) In the very next page, p. [16], Ghazzâlî schematizes this conception, and, comparing Allah with the Sun (the source of light in the terrestrial system), he compares the highest of the ministrant lights to the Moon (all others being reflections, or reflections-of-reflections, of it). This "Highest is the one who is nearest to the Ultimate Light: . . . that Nighest to Allah, he whose rank comes nighest to the Presence Dominical, which is the Fountainhead of all these Lights" This "Nighest" and "Highest" cannot be other than THE SPIRIT spoken of in the preceding page. And on p. [31]--unless Ghazzâlî has suddenly changed all the symbols--the Sun is said to be the Sovereign, while "the antitype of the Moon will be that Sovereign's Minister (wakîl), for it is through the moon that the sun sheds his light on the world in its own absence, and even so it is through his own wakîl that the Sovereign makes his influence felt by subject who never beheld the royal person". Does not this wakîl who stands "highest and nighest" to his Liege-Lord, and who makes himself obeyed by all that Lord's subjects, strongly suggest "the Obeyed One", al-Mutâ`, the Vicegerent of the conclusion, whose function is, precisely, this?

(3) But what perhaps clinches the matter is the tell-tale word amr in that passage about al-Mutâ` himself on p. [55]. Those who stopped short of complete illumination, he says, identified al-Mutâ` with Allah just because he moves the primum mobile (and so all things) "with his Word of Command" (amr). "The explication of which amr (he continues), and what it really is, contains much that is obscure, and too difficult for most minds, besides going beyond the scope of this book." And then he says that the perfect Illuminati perceived that, al-Mutâ` the Obeyed One is not more than the Highest--other-than-Absolute-Deity, and is related to Him as the sun to Essential Light

{p. 39}

(mysterious enough this!) or as a glowing coal to the Elemental Fire: and therefore they turned their faces from that Being "who commanded (amara) the moving of the Heavens" to the One Existent, Transcendent, Incomparable, Predicateless.

With this word amr thus impressed on us with such penetrating significance we turn back to the Koran text: "The Spirit pertains to my Lord's Word of Command (amr) . . ." Unless the word min introduces a quite upsetting element, the identification between this SPIRIT and the Commander who is Obeyed seems complete.

But the history of the Sûfî teaching on the text shows that min need introduce no such upsetting element, and that the practical identification of Amr with Rûh, of The Word of Command with The Spirit, was with the Mystics a familiar idea. It was the explicit teaching of al-Hallâj[1] and the typical "word of command" which this Divine Spirit gave was the fiat "Kun!"

[1. Massignon, op. cit., pp. 519-21.]

{p. 40} "Be!"[1] We have seen the fascination which this treatise shows al-Hallâj had for al-Ghazzâlî. Does it not seem likely, nay almost certain, that in his meditation on the inscrutable text he followed al-Hallâj in this equation, with whatever mental reserve regarding the Spirit itself--whether divine or creaturely, eternal or originate? Not that it was only Imâmites or extreme Sûfî Sunnites like al-Hallâj who asserted the divinity of The Spirit. The ultra-orthodox Hanbalites "admitted in some manner the eternity of the Rûh Allah".[2] Ibn Hanbal himself had given them the lead with a characteristic hedging aphorism (which reminds us of similar remarks on the Sifat, the Kalâm Allah, and the Qur'ân) "Whoever says that al-Rûh is created, (makhlûq) is a heretic: whoever says that It is eternal (qadîm) is an infidel."[3] His followers held fast on to "uncreate", and it was hard to keep "eternal" from following. No wonder al-Ghazzâlî

[1. This mediation of the creative function would carry with it the mediation of the administrative. In this connexion use would unquestionably be made of S. 7, 53, "the sun, the moon, and the stars are compelled-to-work by His amr--His Word-of-Command--His Spirit--exactly the function of al-Mutâ`.

{p. 41}

gave a unique and mysterious tinge to his similitude for "The Obeyed", and that It figures, virtually, as an Arian Logos. Th more one reflects on what is said about the function of this Being in M., p. [55], and especially Its comparison with the Sun (Allah being Essential Light), or with glowing coal (Allah being Elemental Fire), the more unique It appears, and: the more mysterious our author's thought about It becomes. For such functions, and such a relation to Absolute Deity, are in very truth entirely unique, in kind as well as degree; and, thus described, the Vicegerent becomes, in a secondary way, as unique a Figure as is Deity Itself. No wonder the passage raised doubts as to the soundness of our author's monotheism! No wonder he was not anxious to go more deeply into the matter, out of consideration for the limited spiritual capacities of his readers! Perhaps, to preserve his own faith in the Unity, Indivisibility, and absolute Uniqueness of Allah,. he was glad to leave the dark problem of the Vicegerent where Allah Himself had left that of--the Spirit--an uncommunicated and incommunicable mystery, which now he only knew in part, and only saw as in a glass, darkly.

It remains to consider whether there is any evidence that Ghazzâlî extended the equation Mutâ` = Amr = Rûh to include the Nûr Muhammadî (as suggested tentatively by Professor R. Nicholson in his lectures on "The Idea of Personality in Sûfism'"), the archetypal spirit of Mohammed, the Heavenly Man created in the image of God, and regarded as a Cosmic Power on whom depends the order and preservation of 'the universe. If this could be sustained it would to some extent modify the conclusion reached before that al-Mutâ` had nothing to do with any human being, idealized or not, whether a Prophet or even Mohammed; though even so, there would be a vast difference between this archetypal Spirit and the historical Prophet.

While the germs of this idea, as of every other one, may be found much earlier than Ghazzâlî's century (the fifth), the study of the sketch which M. Massignon gives of the history of the doctrine (Hallâj, pp. 830 seqq.) does not create the impression that it was developed or received in orthodox circles[1] up to Ghazzâlî's time. Professor Nicholson does not find it in an orthodox Sûfî writer earlier than `Abdu-l Qâdir al-Jîlânî (b. 571, d. 561), in the generation immediately succeeding that of Ghazzâlî.[2] After which the doctrine developed and spread amazingly, reaching its height with Ibn al-`Arabî al-Jîlî several centuries later.[3]

[1. Pp. 46, 47, and Lecture III.]

{p. 43}

Thus the a-priori evidence is this time decidedly against Ghazzâlî's having anything to do with this doctrine. Unless, therefore, very clear actual evidence were found in his writings, it would be surely justifiable to assert definitely that it is not Ghazzâlîan. It appears not to be found in his works other than al-Mishkât. If this is so, it may be further asserted with confidence that it is not found in al-Mishkât either.

On the contrary, there is much there that shows a relatively simple, primeval conception of Mohammed on the part of Ghazzâlî. For him the archetypal man is Adam, as in the Koran, [1. It was at first prevalently Imâmite and Shî`ite (Nicholson, Idea of Personality in Sûfism, p. 58).

2. He described Muhammed as al-rûh al-qudus and rûh jasad al-wajûd "the Transcendent Spirit, the Spirit of the body of the Universe."

3. Nicholson, op. cit., p. 59.]

{p. 44}

not Mohammed.[1] An examination of the passage[2] in which the idea of the "Khalîfa" appears shows that here also his thought was not esoteric, and that Mohammed was not in his mind: he is thinking of the whole human race, or of Adam himself, the first and representative human being, the only "Khalîfa" particularized by the Koran. And the one passage in the Mishkât which at first sight does look as if it contained a "high doctrine of the person" of Mohammed, turns out on closer inspection to, prove the exact reverse, viz. that essentially be belonged to this world and to the time-order--to the prophets, above whom are ranked the celestial "Lights" culminating, as we have. seen, in the Supreme Angelical, The Spirit. This passage is on pp. [14, 15]. Here we have the Transcendent Spirit Prophetical (al-Rûh al-qudus al-nabawî) attributed to Mohammed as prophet, by reason of which he is called a Luminous Lamp (sirâj munîr). If this stood by itself we might be suspicious of something esoteric. But immediately after this the other prophets, and even saints, are said to be

[1. M., p. [34].

2. M., p. [22].]

{p. 45}

"Lamps"', and to possess, as Its name implies this Spirit Prophetical. The sequel shows that this Spirit is the Fire from which all the Angelical lights above and the Prophetical lights beneath are lit, and that this Spirit is the Supreme Angelical, "The Spirit," as in the passage already discussed.'

To sum up the conclusion to which I have been led by a consideration of the evidence of the Mishkât itself, top-ether with the a-priori evidence which supplements it and is checked by it,--the heavenly Vicegerent is the Spirit of Allah, the Transcendent Spirit of Prophecy, the divine Word-of-Command; he is not a Qutb or any Adept; he is not Mohammed nor the archetypal spirit of Mohammed.

Whether this mystery of the Vicegerent was connected in our author's mind with that of the divine-human, archetypal Sûra, as developed by al Hallâj and other advanced Mystics, will be discussed later.

[1. See above, pp. 36-37 The only thing that puzzles is that Ghazzâlî sometimes distributes and pluralizes the Spirit, see p. [15, l. 4] and p. [22. l. 8]. In each case the regulative singular, however, is close by. This reminds one of Rev. iv, 5 and v. 6, compared with Rev. ii. 7.]

VIII. AL-GHAZZALI AND THE SEVEN SPHERES

The Seven Planetary Heavens played a great part in Platonic,[1] Neoplatonic, and Gnostic-theosophical schemes. The naive adoption by Mohammed (in the Koran) of the Ptolemaic celestial construction was one of the things which added picturesqueness to early Mohammedan tradition and theology; caused endless trouble to generations of later theologians; made it easier for Neoplatonic ideas to graft themselves on to Islam; gave to the raptures of the Mystics sensuous form and greater definition; and afforded to the Philosophers a line of defence, and even of attack, in their war with the Theologians.[2] And the allusions of the Koran were heavily reinforced by the legend of the Mirâj, the exact origin of which is obscure, but which appears in a highly developed form almost from the first. The influences of the Mi`râj are indeed evident in page after page of the Mishkât.

Al-Ghazzâlî's sympathies in regard to this subject were divided. He disliked the Philosophers, [1. See the Vision of Er in the Republic, bk. X.

2. See Averroes' Ki tab al Kashf an manâhij al adillâ, quoted above on p. 11, note 2.]

{p. 47}

and this made him displeased with their confident assertions about the Heavens, while he detested the "philosophical" profit to which they put them. On the other hand, he was a Sûfî and thus in closest touch with persons who made very similar assertions about the Heavens, and also put them to profit in their own way. Finally, he was an Ash`arite Theologian, belonging to a school which had recently, after much trouble, eliminated from theology the dangerous ideas to which Mohammed's naive attitude to the Heavens, had given rise.

This uncertainty of touch comes out, as, might be expected, in a treatise like al-Mishkât with its blend of scholasticism and Neoplatonically-tinctured mysticism. The Heavens figure continually in its pages. They seem to play a most important part both in thought and in experience--towards the close of the book a determining part. Yet it is impossible to make. out exactly what that part was, in the mind of al-Ghazzâlî himself.

On p. [23] we have a correlation of the human microcosm and the macrocosm of the celestial realm, Ptolemaically construed, in describing the Ascension of a God-united soul. The, adept's body-and-soul structure is conceived of as subsisting in three planes or Spheres, which are correlated with the three lower spheres of the Seven Planetary Heavens. From the highest of these (the Intelligence) the soul takes its departure and ascends through the four upper Heavens (ila saba`i tabaqât) to the Throne [beyond the outermost Heaven]. Thus he "fills all things"' by his upward Ascent just as Allâh did by His downward Descent (nuzûl). In all this the pronoun "he" stands for the soul who is now Allâh-possessed and united, as described in what immediately precedes. It is the upward ascent of Allah (corresponding to His nuzûl illa-l samâ'i-l dunyâ), and not of the Adept only.

On the other hand, in p. [29], this Ascent is described in purely psychological terms, without this schema of the Heavens. And on p. [13] we have the following: "Do not imagine that I mean by the World Supernal the World of the [Seven] Heavens, though they are 'above' in respect of part of our world of sense-perception. {p. 49} These Heavens are equally present to our apprehension and that of the lower animals. But a man finds the doors of the Realm Celestial closed to him, neither does be become of or belonging to that Realm (mala-kûtî), unless this earth to him 'be changed into that which is not earth; and likewise the heavens;'[1] . . . and his 'heaven' come to be all that transcends his sense. This is the first Ascension for every Pilgrim who has set out on his Progress to the nearness of the Presence Dominical." And he continues: "The Angels ... are part of the World of the Realm Celestial, floating even in the Presence of the Transcendence, whence they gaze down upon our world inferior.

The last lines hardly give us the same ultra-spiritualizing impression which is conveyed by their predecessors. And, as we have already seen (Introduction, pp. 12-17), the part played by the Spheres with their Angels in the last section of the book is decisive, and there does not seem to be there any spiritualizing whatever.

[1. S. 14, 48.]

{p. 50}

How far, therefore, these passages are mere word-play, pious picturesqueness, or how far they represent speculation of a rather far-reaching character, is one of the puzzles of the book. In the Tahâfut, demolishing the arrogant claim of the Philosophers to prove their doctrine of the Spheres by syllogistic demonstration (burhân), he said: "The secrets of The Kingdom are not to be scanned by means of such fantastic imaginations as these; Allâh gives none but His Prophets and Saints (anbiyâ' and awliyâ') to scan them, and that by inspiration, not by demonstration."[1] So then there were mysteries and secrets in regard to the Spheres. In the Mishkât we are able to see pretty clearly that Ghazzâlî had his; but we are not able to see just what they were. He has kept this secret well.

IX. ANTHROPOMORPHISM AND THEOMORPHISM IN AL-MISHKAT

The doctrine of mukhâlafa--that the divine essence and characteristics wholly and entirely "differ from" the human-appears to be

[1. Tah., p. 60. Quoted in the writer's article in Der Islâm, see pp. 134-6, 151, 152, where parts of the subject are gone into in greater detail.]

{p. 51}

assorted, as this treatise's last word, in its most extreme and intransigent form. For the conclusion of the whole matter, the end of the quest for truth for those who "Arrive", is "an Existent who transcends ALL that is comprehensible by human Insight . . . transcendent of and separate from every characterization that in the foregoing we have made."[1]

Nevertheless, the Mishkât itself seems to be one long attempt to modify or even negate this its own bankrupt conclusion. Indeed, it goes unusual lengths in asserting a certain ineffable likeness between Allâh and man. It is true that the usual anthropomorphic expressions--the Hand, the Sessions on the Throne, the Descent to the Lowest Sphere, etc., those

[1. In Ghazzâlî the most extreme Agnosticism and the most extreme Gnosticism meet, and meet at this point; for, as he says (p [25]), things that go beyond one extreme pass over to the extreme opposite." For him "Creed because Incredible" becomes "Gnosis because Agnoston". What saved the Universe for him from his nihilistic theologizing was his ontology (see below, pp. 108 seqq.). What saved God for him from his obliterating agnosticism was the experience of the mystic leap, his own personal mi`râj. This may have been non-rational, but it was to him experience. Even those who regard the sensational experience of Sûfism as having been pure self-hypnotism cannot condemn them and the sense of reality they brought, in relation to the man who had thought his way out of both atheism and pantheism, and yet would nave been left at the end of the quest, by his thinking alone, with an Unknown and Unknowable Absolute.]

{p. 52}

perennial sources for Mohammedan theologizing-are used and are discounted in the usual way. But they are, in reality, only discounted by being replaced by a Sûfî system of theomorphism. This has three main aspects--

(1) a quasi-Platonic doctrine of terrestrial type and celestial antitype;

(2) the relation of the divine and human rûh (spirit);

(3) the relation of the divine and human sûra ("image," "form").

(1) The whole of the first two parts of the treatise are practically an exposition of an Islamico-Platonic typology. It is not explicitly said that earthly things are more or less faint copies of "the patterns of things in the heavens," though this is probably implicit in what is said, namely, that the heavenly realities (haqâ'iq), (ma`ânî), all have their symbols on earth. These symbols or types, as their Arabic term itself suggests (amthâl), do possess a "resemblance" to their celestial antitypes, for, as al Ghazzâlî remarks, "the thing compared (al-mushabbah, the antitype) is in some sort parallel, and bears resemblance, to the thing compared therewith (al-mushabbah bihi, the type or symbol), whether that resemblance be remote or near; a matter again which is unfathomably deep."[1] Ghazzâlî. can hardly be allowed to elude the application of this true principle to Allâh Himself, considering that this very Koran-verse which it is the object of the entire treatise to expound begins with a simile. "Light" is the chosen, or rather the God-given symbol, wherewith Allah is "compared", and which therefore He must "in some sort resemble". This analogy of light floods the whole book. Now Allah is the Sun: now the Light of lights: and at the end, in the same breath in which Abu Hâmid, with the incorrigible inconsistency which so angered Averroes, denied the validity of the similitude, description, relation, or even predication in regard to Allâh, we are told that He stands in relation to His Vicegerent (or "wakeel" in a parallel passage) as the pure Light-essence to the sun, or as the Elemental Fire to a glowing coal. Theomorphism has "in some sort" been admitted.

(2) In the Ihyâ' al `Ulûm Ghazzâlî speaks of the human rûh as amr rabbâni "a divine affair" (amr must surely bear here its other meaning); and he is there very anxious, not to say agitated, over the esoteric character of the doctrine; it must be kept a dead secret from the Many! it must not be set forth in a book![1] "The specific characteristic which differentiates humanity [from the lower creation] is something which it is not lawful to indite in a book."[2] The thing that agitates him is the relation of this human rûh to the Spirit of God, rûh Allâh, and its relation to Allâh. The matter is esoteric--it is to be "grudged" to the "commons"--because it is dangerous ground. It is dangerous ground because one has to talk warily in order to avoid a violation of the uniqueness of Allâh, which would involve confusing Creator with created, and so passing gradually to ishrâk, which is the worst "infidelity."

[1. M., p. [14].]

{p. 54}

This particular anxiety is not reflected in the present treatise; it is strange that the mystery of rûh does not figure in the list (see above, p. 5) over which the author's favete linquis! is [1. See Mizân, p. 214, quoted above.

2. Ihyâ, iv, p. 294, quoted in a letter to the writer from Professor R. Nicholson.]

{p. 55}

inscribed.[1] He is mainly occupied with working out what the New Testament calls the "operations", rather than the nature of the spirit. In so doing the singular "spirit" becomes plural "spirits", arwâh, which, as already observed, happens also in the Book of the Revelation. Ghazzâlî works out the theory of the several "spirits" of the human psychology; then the graded "spirits" of the heavenly hosts; and then the Neoplatonic or theosophic idea of the gradation of all these (in maqâmât), and the way in which they are "lit" (muqtabasa) from each other in order: we must not say "derived", for that would involve him in the emanationism be was ever anathematizing yet, for ever incurring the suspicion of.[2] In all this his tone is open, easy, confident. The special mystery of The Spirit had been already discounted in the Koran, so that was harmless. As for the identification of Rûh Mutâ`, if our theory is correct, that was a grand secret. But that secret he never intended even to hint at, and it would really seem as if we had surprised and betrayed a sirr maknûn!

[1. The human 'aql does figure on that list, pp. [6, 7].

2. See the writer's op. cit. in Der Islâm, pp. 138-141.]

{p. 56}

(3) It was the sûra tradition,[1] "ALLAH CREATED ADAM AFTER HIS IMAGE," that above all else led Moslem thinkers into temptation--the temptation of trenching on the uniqueness of Allâh. Its very riskiness seems, however, to have fascinated them supremely from the very outset. Not one of them could let it alone. In this very treatise

Ghazzâlî returns to it again and again. Perhaps it would accord with inner truth to say rather that both he and others returned to that tradition not so much as moths fascinated by a dangerous glare, but as those who are feeling cold return for warmth and cheer to even an alien fire. The aphorism, sacred as a Koran text, was the assertion and pledge that man somehow is, or may become, "like God." The word sûra became the symbol and the guarantee of theomorphism.

In the first allusion in the Mishkât to this tradition (p. [9]), the point of the similarity is the human intelligence (`aql). In virtue of his intelligence, Ghazzâlî hints, man is "after the image of Allâh." The `aql is "Allâh's balance-scale upon earth."[1] In its own sphere it is infallible.[2] From the `aql, as from a firm "taking-off" place, souls make their mystic Ascension to the heavenlies.[3] It is because it is thus the specifically human faculty that it is a determinative element in the human sûra.[4]

[1. Gen. i. 27, though Islâm ignores the parentage.]

The second allusion (M., p. [23]) carries us very much further--even to that verge from which Moslem mystics so often looked dizzily down, but from which they so seldom fell, into the pantheistic abyss. Behold a human soul in completest Union (jam`) with Deity, sitting on The Throne, and administering all things in heaven and earth! "Well might one," says our author, "in looking upon such an one," get a new view of this tradition. Is not such a uniate, indeed, "after the image of Allâh"? But, he continues[5], "after contemplating that word more deeply one becomes aware that it has an interpretation like [al-Hallâj's] 'I am the One Real.'"[5] Unfortunately he has omitted to

[1. M., p. [29].

2. Ib., p. [10].

3. Ib., p. [24]

4. Ib., [40].

5. How {to} translate this "Ana-l-Haqq"? Not by Jesus, "I am the Truth", tempting though this is. "I am the Absolute" would be a parallel rendering in modern philosophic parlance. Professor Nicholson's "I am God" is startling, but illuminating because perfectly justifiable: for al-Haqq and Allâh are mutually and exclusively convertible.]

{p. 58}

indicate what precisely that interpretation is. We have a tantalizing author to deal with.

What was that interpretation?

Probably we do not find it in the third passage (pp. [34, 35]), though it is deeply influenced by Hallâjian thought. There is in the celestial world something which "developpe, modalise, et concerte entre elles les creations divines ... une certaine structure interne particuliere a l'acte createur".' This living order, this organised "Presence" (hadar), is symbolized by the word Image, or Form. And this macrocosmic hadra has its earthly counterpart in an analogous human form, or sûra, which has the same "structure interne particuliere" (it is alluded to on p. [22, l. 1], and p. [34, 1. 3], and described in detail on pp. [39-41]). Therefore, man, formed in this Form, is "after the Form, the Image, of this Merciful One (al Rahmân)". Ghazzâlî's explanation of his preference for this variation of the tradition, to which, however, he by no means always adheres, is difficult to follow.

[1. Massignon, op. cit., p, 519, describing Hallâj's doctrine of the divine rûh, and exactly hitting off Ghazzâlî's difficult thought on p. [24, ll. 2, 3], (cf. p, [22, l. 2]). But from this point of view rûh and sûra merge into each other, as a careful comparison of the two Mishkât passages just cited shows.]

{p. 59} But the general idea clearly is that "but for this 'mercy' [i.e. of these two correlative and coincident Forms] every son of Adam would have been powerless to know his Lord, for 'only he who knows himself knows his Lord". The wheel has, indeed, brought us round a strange circle! Through the eternal grace of theomorphism we win back to a higher anthropomorphism, so that the proper study of God is--man! And this from the writer whose last word is that Allah must not have so much as an attribute predicated of Him, or the divine uniqueness will be violated! Truly, thus the whirligig of thought brings in his revenges.

We have already seen many indications that before he wrote this treatise Ghazzâlî must have been deep in the study of al-Hallâj; and the passage we have just been considering may be added to these indications. Yet there is no overt trace in it, or elsewhere in the Mishkât, of al-Hallâj's profoundest thought on this matter of the Divine-Adamic; no trace of that strange Figure--that Epiphany of humanized Deity, or Apotheosis of ideal-Humanity--which was presented by Allah to the angels for worship or ever the first man was created, and in which He Himself, on behalf of the human race, swore unto Himself the Covenant (mîthâq) of allegiance. For this conception, which has the closest interrelations with all the moments of the above discussion--rûh, amr, sûra, nûr-Muhammadî--the reader must be referred to the grand work which has brought to light so many hidden things, A Louis Massignon's La Passion d' Al Hosayn-ibn-Mansour al-Hallaj.[l] Ghazzâlî's silence on this so remarkable development of the Sûra tradition would suggest that it was precisely here that he felt it dangerous to follow al-Hallâj. What was possible for the seer might send the theologian over the line where Islam ends and pantheism begins. On the other hand, is it possible that here we have the explanation of our author's embarrassed words on p. [55] "on account of a Mystery which it is not in the competence of this book to reveal"? His inmost

[1. Pages 485, 599-602. In a note Massignon hazards the tentative suggestion that this epiphanized God (called by al-Hallâj al-Nâsût) in contra-distinction from the unknowable al-Lâhût) is analogical to, or suggestive of Ghazzâlî's Vicegerent (p. 601, n. 5). The suggestion is thrilling, as we see. It must be repeated that there is no overt trace of the doctrine in M.]

{p. 61}

thought may have been, "Perhaps al-Hallâj has penetrated here to something of what the Koran itself [in the Spirit-Verse] left obscure. I neither assert, nor deny. Allâhu a`lam!"

Thus we come to the ultimate question--the ultimate question with every Sûfî writer and book--does he and it escape pantheism? What light comes from this "Niche for Lights" upon this obscure question?

X. PANTHEISM AND AL-GHAZZALI, IN AL-MISHKAT

The root question in regard to al-Ghazzâlî, and every other advanced mystic and adept in Islâm, is the question of Pantheism: did he succeed in balancing himself upon the edge of the pantheistic abyss, and finding some foothold for his creationist theism, some position that cleared his conscience towards his orthodox co-religionists? Or did he fail in this? The Mishkât contains a good deal that is relevant to this final issue.

It contains much, in the first place, which on the face of it reads like naked pantheism; and in particular the whole passage on pp. [19, 201 and [22-4], where not only is the most extreme language of the extreme wing of Sûfism (Ana-l Haqq[1] and the rest) quoted with guarded approval, but there is open eulogy of the formula lâ huwa illâ Huwa "there is no it but HE", which is declared to be more expressive of real, absolute truth than the Mohammedan creed itself lâ ilâha ill-Allâh "there is no god but God". This would seem to be as unreserved an assertion of flat pantheism as could be found in philosophic Hinduism itself. Equally worthy of philosophic Hinduism is Ghazzâlî's "He is everything: He is that He is: none but He has ipseity or heity at all . ."[9](p. [22]). And then gain the experience of the advanced Initiates and Adepts is described in terms of thorough pantheism: to them "the plurality of things fell away in its entirety. They were drowned in the absolute Unitude[5] and their intelligences were lost in its abyss" (p. [19]); and when they return to earthly illusions again from that world of reality they "confess with one voice that they had seen nought existent there save the One Real

[1. Which, it must be remembered, might not unfairly be translated -I am God---; see footnote above.]

{p. 63}

(Allâh)". Existent! Do words mean what they say?

No, not precisely! with a Ghazzâlî, and with Mohammedan mystics, clinging desperately to orthodoxy! The matter, in fact, turns precisely on this word "existent". What is existence? What is non-existence? It was Ghazzâlî's ontological philosophy that seems to have yielded him a fulcrum on which he could precariously balance the pantheistic and the deistic moments of his religious thought.

This philosophy is poetically stated in our treatise, but in spite of the poetic, imaginative diction it can be recognized as identical with his usual doctrine.[1] It will be found on pp. [17-19, 21, 22]. We have there a picturesque representation of a doctrine well known to the schoolmen of Islâm, that Not-Being is a sort of dark limbo in which the Contingent awaits the creative word Kun "Be!"--compared in this "Light" treatise to a ray of light from the One Self-existing Being. Neither the Greeks nor the schoolmen could ever quite get over the feeling that, in predicating anything of Not-being or a Nonentity, in using the word "is" in a sentence with Not-being or a Nonentity as its subject, you have in some way ascribed, not existence, but a sort of quasi-being, to that subject. Hegel's solution was so to evacuate the category of mere, bare "Being" of all content, and to demonstrate its consequent total impoverishment and inanity, that it could be seen to be, the equivalent of Not-being. This was impossible for the schoolmen, above all for Oriental schoolmen, even of the most contradictory schools, who regarded the category of "pure" being (they would never have said "mere") as the sublimest and most radiant of all the categories, and the very object of the whole quest of life. But the obverse of the Hegelian paradox may nevertheless be seen in their ascription to contingent not-yet-being a sort of quasi-existence. The effect of the creative word was simply to turn this potential into actual being. Thus the universe, always contingent, indeed but formerly potential-contingent, now became actual-contingent.

[1. See, for example, Minqiah and the Lesser Madnûn (if that is Ghazzâlî's).]

{p. 64}

All this is schematized in al-Mishkât. The limbo becomes Darkness (p. 30); the potential-contingent, Dark Things;[1] the divine creator, the Sun; the creative act, a Ray from His real being, whereby a dark Nonentity flashes into being and becomes an Entity, but an Entity that depends continuously on the permanent illumination of that ray, for in the Mohammedan creational scheme, at any rate, Creator is equally capable of being Annihilator.

At this point Ghazzâlî's tortured thought is greatly helped out by the ambiguous word

[1. It is just here that, as it seems to the writer, the Philosophers with their Aristotelian doctrine of the eternity, the formless substrate of things--might well have forced a place for their thought, in spite of the Ghazzâlian wrath against them and it. For when the dark "self-aspect" of these contingencies of the Theologians is considered, prior to their "existence" (p. [59]), is there much to choose between the eternal potentiality asserted of them by Ghazzâlî, and the eternity asserted for hyle by the Philosophers? Ghazzâlî himself quotes a saying of Mohammed (p. [13]), on to which these Philosophers would eagerly have seized proving the point: "Allâh created the creation in darkness, then sent an effusion of His light upon it," For a man who was using this divine light-emanation to typify the act of creation, of Calling out of non-being to being it was dangerous surely to give, apparently so powerful an indication as this of a previous creation in "darkness" (= not being in Ghazzâlî's chosen symbology). It might very well have been claimed by the Philosophers that this creation-in-darkness is precisely their formless, chaotic hyle, eternal as darkness is eternal before the light shines. The Philosophers did pretend to prove their thesis from the Koran; see Averroes' Manâhij, ed. Müller, p. 13 (=Cairo ed. Faisafat Ibn Rushd, p. 12), where the following texts are cited in support, S. 11, 9; 14, 49; 41, 10.]

{p. 66}

wajh, which has two senses, or rather three, Face, Side, Aspect (logical). This gave him a formula: it was not the first time, nor the last, that the ambiguity of the chief word in a theological formula has been welcome to all concerned. He could take the Koran texts "the Wajh of everything faces (muwajjah) to Him and is turned in His direction," and "Whithersoever they turn themselves, there is the Wajh of Allâh;" and the hadîth qudsî, "Everything is a perishing thing except His Wajh;" and could then play on the word. In ancient and mediaeval times the merest plays on words were not considered figures of speech but profundities of thought. Quibbles masqueraded as discoveries. And so this word (a) enabled Ghazzâlî to keep his hold on creationism on the one hand, for these were "things" sure enough, all turned towards the central Sun and dependent for their existence on its creative light; and there was also the sound logical position, that under this aspect (wajh) of relatedness these things have actual being (p. [18j). So the actuality of the universe is saved, and the abyss of pantheism is avoided. And (b), on the other hand, he could say to the pantheistic Sûfî (and to himself in that mood), that equally under this "aspect" of relatedness things, if and when considered an sich, had no existence, were not existent at all. The only Existent was the Wajh Allâh (p. [22]) that is, Allâh Himself, for, as he carefully informs us i (p. [191), Allah cannot possibly be said to be greater" (akbar) than His own wajh; and I must, therefore, be identical therewith. And thus the out-and-out pantheist might well feel his case complete; the last vestige of dualism disappears; Allah is All, and All is Allah, lâ mawjûda ill-Allâh (M. p. [18])! As Ghazzâlî himself put it, Allah is the Sun and besides the sun there is only the sun's light. Quid plura?

Nevertheless, it may be believed that Ghazzâlî himself contrived to use this ontology so as to keep, not lose, his hold on the reality[1] and actuality of things, and that early training, central theological orthodoxy, and strong commonsense proved by its help too strong for the pull towards pantheism, with which his late

[1. I.e. in the modern or western sense of the word, = "objectivity" To the mediaeval eastern thinker the Arabic the word meant rather "ideality." It is a case of the difference between phenomenal and transcendental reality.]

{p. 68}

Sûfism with its Neoplatonic atmosphere and sensational ecstasies undoubtedly did pull him--as Sûfism pulled every Mohammedan mystical devotee. Is it not notable that even in the lyrical passages in this treatise, in which he describes (with a rather scared unction) the Mystics' intoxication and the verbal blasphemies which that state so happily permitted, and which were permitted to that state, Ghazzâlî keeps his head, and preserves the same cautious balance as he does in the ontological sections (see pp. [19, 20])? When these inebriates, he says, became sober again, "and they came under the sway of the intelligence they knew that that had not been actual Identity, but only something resembling Identity" (not homoousion but homoiousion!). If we correctly translate ittihâd[1] thus, the remark is of crucial importance; for the ultimate test of a complete Pantheism is whether things are identical with God, or only united with Him. All classes of mystics without exception assert at least the latter--it is the "Union" of the Christian, as of the Muslim, Catholic; but only those who have actually surrendered their balance and toppled over into the pantheistic abyss assert the former. And Ghazzâlî did not do so. He goes on to quote yet another "drunken" cry of a soul in Union, "I am He whom I love, and He whom I love is I," and shows how even here a distinction is preserved. And then that other, who likened the Union to a transparent Glass filled with red Wine--

[1. Professor Macdonald prefers "identification," to bring out the verb-aspect of the masdar more clearly.]

{p. 69}

"The glass is thin, the wine is clear.
The twain are alike, the matter is perplexed

For 'tis as though there were wine and no wineglass there,
Or as though there were wine-glass and nought of wine."

And thus comments: "Here there is a difference between saying 'The wine is the wineglass' and "tis as though it were the wineglass'." The former, he tells us, is Identity (tawhîd), the latter Unification (tawhîd), not in the commonalty's meaning of tawhîd, he honestly says (p. [20]), for them this is one of "the mysteries which we are not at liberty to discuss"--but at the same time not inconsistent With that meaning. What he had in mind was, perhaps, something like this: "I reject the herd's interpretation of tawhîd, the mere declaration-of-the-oneness of Allâh, as a bare truism, miserable in its inadequacy. I likewise reject the other extreme, the pantheist's interpretation of the word as an absolute denial of the actuality of things, or an assertion that things are Allâh. Against them both I assert that Allâh and the Universe constitute a UNITY, but one wherein the Universe is wholly relative to and dependent on Allâh, for existence or nonexistence; preservation or annihilation. All existing things are and must be 'united' to Allâh. But even this must not be declare, openly, for, then, what about Iblîs, Hell, and the Damned? I must not seem to teach 'universalism' any more than pantheism. Allâhu a'lam! "

{p. 70}

It therefore seems to the writer that Ghazzâlî's position, which he tortured rather than explained when he tried to describe and illlustrate it, really amounted to nothing more than the inevitable distinction between absolute and relative being; between things when viewed relationally, in their relation to their

{p. 71}

Author, and things viewed apart from that relation. Neither Author nor Things were to be denied actuality, or reality, as we understand the latter term. As between Allâh and human intelligences he even goes great lengths (in this very treatise of all others) in asserting parallelism and comparability, similarity therefore[1]; but between Allâh and all else ONE fundamental all-sufficient difference had to be asserted; namely, ALLAH is self-subsistent, qayyûm; things are not so. This distinction was the minimum one; yet also the maximum, for it preserved at once Creator and created, and gave actuality to each. There is, in truth, a good deal of wilful paradox in the Mishkât, of Oriental hyperbole, of pious highfalutin[2] intended perhaps to scare the "unco" orthodox of the day, to make their flesh creep a little for their health's sake, and to "wake them out of their dogmatic slumbers". For it is in the Mishkât that we find the following words, too, [1. And to assert similarity between two things is at once to have asserted two, and a distinction between them. See M, p. [7].

2. Is not this true for all Sûfî writers? Do we not take their language too seriously? It parades as scientific; it is really poetico-rhetorical.]

{p. 72}

which seem plain and harmless enough: "Being is itself divided into that which has being-in-itself, and that which derives its being from not-itself. The being of this latter is borrowed, having no existence by itself. Nay, if it is regarded in and by itself it is pure not-being. Whatever being it has is due to its relation to not-itself, which is not real being at all . . ." In other words, it is by a purely arbitrary mental abstraction that we "regard derived being in and by itself". The impossibility of really effecting this abstraction is precisely what preserves to derived being its measure of actuality --"whatever being it has . . ."[1] To us these last words are a clear concession of reality to conditioned being. It is true Ghazzâlî denies reality to it in the next sentence. But this only shows that when an Oriental talks of "Real" he means what we mean by "Unconditioned", and that when he is thinking of "Conditioned or Relative" he says "Unreal." The matter has become one of terms.

[1. Gh. has no more use for the Noumenon, for the Ding an sich, than had the post-Kantians; though for how different reasons.]

{p. 73}

It is impossible to demand more than this from Ghazzâlî as philosopher-theologian. He was, perhaps, not more successful than other eastern theologians in finding a place for the universe, philosophically, with or in Allâh. But has western philosophy been any more successful in finding a place for Allâh, philosophically, with or in the universe?

THE NICHE FOR LIGHTS
(Mishkât al-Anwâr)

Praise to ALLAH! who poureth forth light; and giveth sight; and, from His mysteries' height, removes the veils of night!

And Prayer for MUHAMMED! of all lights the Light; Sire of them that do the right; Beloved of The Sovereign of Might; Evangelist of the forgiven in his sight; to Him devoted quite; to sinner and to infidel the Arm that knows to fight and smile!

You have asked me, dear brother--and may Allâh decree for you the quest of man's chiefest bliss, make you candidate for the Ascent to the highest height anoint your vision with the light of Reality, and purge your inward parts from all that is not the Real!--You have asked me, I say, to communicate to you the mysteries of the Lights Divine, together with the allusions behind the literal meaning of certain texts in the Koran and certain sayings in the Traditions.

And principally this text[1]:--

"Allâh is the Light of the Heavens and of the Earth. The similitude of His Light is as it were a Niche wherein is a Lamp: the Lamp within a Glass: the Glass as it were a pearly Star. From a Tree right blessed is it lit, an Olive-tree neither of the East nor of the West, the Oil whereof were well-nigh luminous though Fire touched it not: Light upon Light!

"But as for the Infidels, their deeds are as it were massed Darkness upon some fathomless sea, the which is overwhelmed with billow topped by billow topped by cloud: Darkness on Darkness piled! so that when a man putteth forth his hand he well-nigh can see it not. Yea, the man for whom Allâh doth not cause light, no light at all hath he."

What is the significance of His comparison of LIGHT with Niche, and Glass, and Lamp, and Oil, and Tree?

And this Tradition

"Allâh hath Seventy Thousand Veils of

[1. The Light-Verse in S. 24, 35. The Darkness-Verse. which almost immediately follows, and is mentioned in the exposition, has been added.]

{p. 77}

Light and Darkness: were He to withdraw their curtain, then would the splendours of His Aspect[1] surely consume everyone who apprehended Him with his sight."

Such is your request. But in making it you have assayed to climb an arduous ascent, so high that the height thereof cannot be so much as gauged by mortal eyes [p. 3]. You have knocked at a locked door which is only opened to those who know and "are established in knowledge."[2] Moreover, not every mystery is to be laid bare or made plain, but-

"Noble hearts seal mysteries like the tomb."

Or, as one of those who Know has said--

"To divulge the secret of the Godhead is to deny God."

Or, as the Prophet has said--

"There is a knowledge like the form of a hidden thing, known to none save those who know God."

If then these speak of that secret, only the Children of Ignorance will contradict them. And howsoever many these Ignorants be, the [1. Or Countenance; see Introduction, p. 66.

2. Cf. S. 3, 6.]

{p. 78}

Mysteries must from the gaze of sinners be kept inviolate.

But I believe that your heart has been opened by the Light and your consciousness purged of the darkness of Ignorance. I will, therefore, not be so niggardly as to deny you direction to these glorious truths in all their fineness and all their divineness; for the wrong done in keeping Wisdom from her Children is not less than that of yielding her to those who are Strangers to her. As the poet hath it--

"He who bestoweth Knowledge on fools loseth it,
And he who keepeth the deserving from her doeth a wrong."

You must, however, be content with a very summarized explanation of the subject; for the full demonstration of my theme would demand a treatment of both its principles and its parts for which my time is at present insufficient, and for which neither my mind nor my energies are free. The keys of all hearts are in the hands of Allah: He opens them when He pleases, as He pleases, and with what {p. 79} He pleases. At this time, then, it shall suffice to open up to you three chapters or parts, whereof the first is as hereunder follows.

PART I.--LIGHT, AND LIGHTS: PRELIMINARY STUDIES

1. "Light" as Physical Light; as the Eye; as the Intelligence

The Real Light is Allâh; and the name "light" is otherwise only predicated metaphorically and conveys no real meaning.

To explain this theme: you must know that the word light is employed with a threefold signification: the first [p. 4] by the Many, the second by the Few, the third by the Fewest of the Few. Then you must know the various grades of light that relate to the two latter classes, and the degrees of the reality appertaining to these grades, in order that it may be disclosed to you, as these grades become clear, that ALLAH is the highest and the ultimate Light: and further, as the reality appertaining to each grade is revealed, that Allâh alone is the Real, the True Light, and beside Him there is no light at all.

{p. 80}

Take now the first signification. Here the word light indicates a phenomenon. Now a phenomenon, or appearance, is a relative term, for a thing necessarily appears to, or is concealed from, something other than itself; and thus its appearance and its non-appearance are both relative. Further, its appearance and its nonappearance are relative to perceptive faculties; and of these the most powerful and the most conspicuous, in the opinion of the Many, are the senses, one of which is the sense of sight. Further, things in relation to this sense of sight fall under these categories: (1) that which by itself is not visible, as dark bodies; (2) that which is by itself visible, but cannot make visible anything else, such as luminaries like the stars, and fire before it blazes up; (3) that which is by itself visible, and also makes visible, like the sun and the moon, and fire when it blazes up, and lamps. Now it is in regard to this third category that the name "light" is given: sometimes to that which is effused from these luminaries and falls on the exterior of opaque bodies, as when we say "The earth is lighted up", or "The light of the sun falls on the earth", or "The lamp-light falls on wall or on garment"; and sometimes to the luminaries themselves, because they are self-luminous. In sum, then, light is an expression for that which is by itself visible and [p. 5] makes other things visible, like the sun. This is the definition of, and the reality concerning, light, according to its first signification.

We have seen that the very essence of light is appearance to a percipient; and that perception depends on the existence of two things--light and a seeing eye. For, though light is that which appears and causes-to-appear, it neither appears nor causes-to-appear to the blind. Thus percipient spirit is as important as perceptible light quâ necessary element of perception; nay, 'tis the more important, in that it is the percipient spirit which apprehends and through which apprehension takes place; whereas light is not apprehensive, neither does apprehension takes place through it, but merely when it is present. By the word light, in fact, is more properly understood that visualizing light which we call the eye. Thus men apply the word light to the light of the eye, and say of the weak-sighted that "the light of his eye is weak", and of the blear-eyed that "the light of his vision is impaired," and of the blind that "his light is quenched." Similarly of the pupil of the eye it is said that it concentrates "the light of vision, and strengthens it, the eye-lashes being given by the divine wisdom a black colour, and made to compass the eye every way round about, in order to concentrate its "light." And of the white of the eye it is said that it disperses the "light of the eye" and weakens it, so that to look long at a bright white surface, or still more at the sun's light, dazzles "the light of the eye" and effaces it, just as the weak are effaced by the side of the strong. You understand, then, that percipient spirit is called light; and why it is so called; and why it is more properly so called. And this is the second signification, that employed by the Few.

You must know, further, that the light of physical sight is [p. 6] marked by several kinds of defects. It sees others but not itself. Again, it does not see what is very distant, nor what is very near, nor what is behind a veil. It sees the exterior of things only, not their interior; the parts, not the whole; things finite, not things infinite. It makes many mistakes in its seeing, for what is large appears to its vision small; what is far, near; what is at rest, at motion; what is in motion, at rest. Here are seven defects inseparably attached to the physical eye. If, then, there be such an Eye as is free from all these physical defects, would not it, I ask, more properly be given the name of light? Know, then, that there is in the mind of man an eye, characterized by just this perfection--that which is variously called Intelligence, Spirit, Human Soul. But we pass over these terms, for the multiplicity of the terms deludes the man of small intelligence into imagining a corresponding multiplicity of ideas. We mean simply that by which the rational man is distinguished from the infant in arms, from the brute beast, and from the lunatic. Let us call it the Intelligence, following the current terminology. So, then, the intelligence is more properly called Light than is the eye, just because in capacity it transcends these seven defects.

Take the first. The eye does not behold itself, but the intelligence does perceive itself as well as others; and it perceives itself as endowed with knowledge, power, etc., and perceives its own knowledge and perceives its knowledge of its own knowledge, and its know, ledge of its knowledge of its own knowledge, and so on ad infinitum. Now, this is a property which cannot conceivably be attributed to anything which perceives by means of a physical instrument like the eye. Behind this, however, [p. 7] lies a mystery the unfolding of which would take long.

Take, now, the second defect: the eye does not see what is very near to it nor what is very far away from it; but to the intelligence near and far are indifferent. In the twinkling of an eye it ascends to the highest heaven above, in another instant to the confines of earth beneath. Nay, when the facts are realized, intelligence is revealed as transcending the very idea of "far" and "near," which occur between material bodies; these compass not the precincts of its holiness, for it is a pattern or sample of the attributes of Allâh. Now the sample must be commensurate with the original, even though it does not rise to the degree of equality[1] with it. And this may move you to set your mind to work upon the true meaning of the tradition: "Allah created Adam after His own likeness." But I do not think fit at the present time to go more deeply into the same.

The third defect: the eye does not perceive what is behind the veil, but the intelligence moves freely about the Throne, the Sedile, and everything beyond the veil of the Heavens, and likewise about the Host Supernal, and the Realm Celestial, just as much as about its own world, and its propinquate, (that is its own) kingdom. The realities of things stand unveiled to the intelligence. Its only veil is one which it assumes of its own sake, which resembles the veil that the eye assumes of its own accord in the closing of its eyelids. But we shall explain this more fully in the third chapter of this work.

The fourth defect: the eye perceives only the exterior surfaces of things, but not their interior; may, the mere moulds and forms, not the realities; while intelligence breaks through

[1. Reading ### which both sense and rhyme demand.]

{p. 86}

into the inwardness of things and into their secrets; apprehends the reality of things and their essential spirits; [p. 8] elicits their causes and laws--from what they had origin, how they were created, of how many ideal forms they are composed, what rank of Being they occupy, what is their several relation to all other created things, and much else, the exposition of which would take very long; wherein I think good to be brief.

The fifth: the eye sees only a fraction of what exists, for all concepts, and many percepts, are beyond its vision; neither does it apprehend sounds, nor yet smells, nor tastes, nor sensations of hot and cold, nor the percipient faculties, by which I mean the faculties of hearing, of smelling, of tasting. nay, all the inner psychical qualities are unseen to it, joy, pleasure, displeasure, grief, pain, delight, love, lust, power, will, knowledge, and innumerable other existences. Thus it is narrow in its scope, limited in its field of action, unable to pass the confines of the world of colour and form, which are the grossest of all entities; for natural bodies are in themselves the grossest of the categories of being, and colour and form are the grossest of their properties. But the domain of intelligence is the entirety of existence, for it both apprehends the entities we have enumerated, and has free course among all others beside (and they are the major part), passing upon them judgments that are both certain and true. To it, therefore, are the inward secrets of things manifest, and the hidden forms of things clear. Then tell me by what right the physical eye is given equality with the intelligence in claiming the name of Light? No verily! it is only relatively light; but in relation to the intelligence it is darkness. Sight is but one of the spies of Intelligence [p. 9] who sets it to watch the grossest of his treasures, namely, the treasury of colours and forms; bids it carry reports about the same to its Lord, who then judges thereof in accordance with the dictates of his penetration and his judgment. Likewise are all the other faculties but Intelligence's spies--imagination, phantasy, thought, memory, recollection; and behind them are servitors and retainers, constrained to his service in this present world of his. These, I say, he constrains, and among these he moves at will, as freely as monarch constrains his vassals to his service, yea, and more freely still. But to expound this would take us long, and we have already treated of it in the book of my Ihyâ` al-`Ulûm, entitled "The Marvels of the Mind".

The sixth: the eye does not see what is infinite. What it sees is the attributes of known bodies, and these can only be conceived as finite. But the intelligence apprehends concepts, and concepts cannot be conceived as finite. True, in respect of the knowledge which has actually been attained, the content actually presented to the intelligence is no more than finite, but potentially it does apprehend that which is infinite. It would take too long to explain this fully, but if you desire an example, here is one from arithmetic. In this science the intelligence apprehends the series of integers, which series is infinite; further, it apprehends the coefficients of two, three, and all the other integers, and to these also no limit can be conceived; and it apprehends all the different relations between numbers, and to these also no limit can be conceived; and finally it apprehends

its own knowledge of a thing, and its knowledge of its knowledge of its knowledge of that thing; and so on, potentially, to infinity.

The seventh: the eye apprehends the large as small. It sees the sun the size of a bowl, and the stars like silver-pieces scattered upon a carpet of azure. But intelligence apprehends that the stars [p. 10] and the sun are larger, times upon times, than the earth. To the eye the stars seem to be standing still, and the boy to be getting no taller. But the intelligence sees the boy moving constantly as he grows; the shadow lengthening constantly; and the stars moving every instant, through distances of many miles. As the Prophet said to Gabriel, asking: "Has the sun moved?" And Gabriel. answered: "No--Yes." "How so?" asked he; and the other replied: "Between my saying No and Yes it has moved a distance equal to five hundred years." And so the mistakes of vision are manifold, but the intelligence transcends them all.

Perhaps you will say, we see those who are Possessed of intelligence making mistakes nevertheless, I reply, their imaginative and phantastic faculties often pass judgments and form convictions which they think are the judgments of the intelligence. The error is therefore to be attributed to those lower faculties. See my account of all these faculties in my Mî`âr al-`Ilm and Mahakk al-Nazar. But when the intelligence is separated from the deceptions of the phantasy and the imagination, error on its part is inconceivable; it sees things as they are. This separation is, however, difficult, and only attains perfection after death. Then is error unveiled, and then are mysteries brought to light, and each one meets the weal or the woe which he has already laid up for himself, and "beholds a Book, which reckons each venial and each mortal sin, without omitting a single one".[1] In that hour it shall be said unto him: "We have stripped from thee the Veil that covered thee and thy vision this day is iron."[2] Now that covering Veil is even that of the imagination and the phantasy; and therefore the man who has been deluded by his own fancies, his false beliefs, and his vain

{p. 90}

[1. S. 50, 18.

2. S. 22, 50.]

{p. 91}

imaginations, replies: "Our Lord! We have seen Thee and heard Thee! [p.11] O send us back and we will do good.[1] Verily now we have certain knowledge!"

From all which you understand that the eye may more justly be called Light than the light (so called) which is apprehended by sense; and further that the intelligence should more properly be called Light than the eye. It would be even true to say that between these two there exists so great a difference in value, that we may, nay we must, consider only the INTELLIGENCE as deserving the name Light at all.

2. The Koran as the Sun of the Intelligence

Further you must notice here, that while the intelligence of men does truly see, the things it sees are not all upon the same plane. Its knowledge is in some cases, so to speak, given, that is, present in the intelligence, as in the case of axiomatic truths, e.g. that the same thing cannot be both with and without an origin; or existent and non-existent; or that the same proposition cannot be both true and false; or that the judgment which is true of one thing is true of an identically similar thing; or that, granted the existence of the particular, the existence of the universal must necessarily follow.

[1. S. 12, 32.]

For example, granted the existence of black, the existence of "colour" follows; and the same with "man" and "animal"; but the converse does not present itself to the intelligence as necessarily true; for "colour" does not involve "black", nor does "animal" involve "man". And there are many other true propositions, some necessary, some contingent, and some impossible. Other propositions, again, do not find the intelligence invariably with them, when they recur to it, but have to shake it up, arouse it, strike flint on steel, in order to elicit its spark. Instances of such propositions are the theorems of speculation, to apprehend which the intelligence has to be aroused by the dialectic (kalâm) of the philosophers. Thus it is when the light of philosophy dawns that man sees actually, after having before seen potentially. Now the greatest [p. 12] of philosophies is the word (kalâm) of Allah in general, and the Koran in particular.

{p. 93}

Therefore the verses of the Koran, in relation to intelligence, have the value of sunlight in relation to the eyesight, to wit, it is by this sunlight that the act of seeing is accomplished. And therefore the Koran is most properly of all called Light, just as the light of the sun is called light. The Koran, then, is represented to us by the sun, and the intelligence by the Light of the Eye, and hereby we understand the meaning of the verse, which said: "Believe then on Allâh and His Prophet, and the Light which We caused to descend;"[1] and again: "There hath come a sure proof from your Lord, and We have caused a clear Light to descend."[2]

3. The Worlds Visible and Invisible: with their Lights

You have now realized that there are two kinds of eye, an external and an internal; that the former belongs to one world, the World of Sense, and that internal vision belongs to another world altogether, the World of the Realm Celestial; and that each of these two eyes has a sun and a light whereby its seeing is perfected; and that one of these suns is external, the

[1. S. 64,8.

2. S. 4, 174.]

{p. 94}

other internal, the former belonging to the seen world, viz. the sun, which is an object of sense. perception, and the other internal, belonging to the world of the Realm Celestial, viz. the Koran, and other inspired books of Allah. If, then, this has been disclosed to you thoroughly and entirely, then one of the doors of this Realm Celestial has been opened unto you. In that world there are marvels, in comparison with which this world of sight is utterly condemned. He who never fares to that world, but allows the limitations of life in this lower world of sense to settle upon him, is still a(brute beast, an excommunicate from that which constitutes us men; gone astray is he more than any brute beast, for to the brute are not vouched the wings of flight, on which to fly away unto that invisible world. "Such men," the Koran says, "are cattle, nay, are yet further astray!"[1] [p. 13] As the rind is to the fruit; as the mould or the form in relation to the spirit, as darkness in relation to light; as infernal to supernal; so is this World of Sense in relation to the world of the Realm Celestial. For this reason the latter is called the World Supernal or the World of Spirit, or the World of Light, in contrast with the World Beneath, the World of Matter and of Darkness. But do not imagine that I mean by the World Supernal the World of the [Seven] Heavens, though they are "above" in respect of part of our world of sense-perception. These heavens are equally present to our apprehension, and that of the lower animals. But a man finds the doors of the Realm Celestial closed to him, neither does he become of or belonging to that Realm unless "this earth to him be changed into that which is not earth, and likewise the heavens"[1]; unless, in short, all that comes within the ken of his sense and his imagination, including the visible heavens, cause to be his earth, and his heaven come to be all that transcends his sense. This is the first Ascension for every Pilgrim, who has set out on his Progress to approach the Presence Dominical. Thus mankind was consigned back to the lowest of the low, and must thence rise to the world of highest height. Not so is it with the Angels; for they are part of the World of the

{p. 95}

{p. 96}

Realm Celestial, floating ever in the Presence of the Transcendence, whence, they gaze down upon our World Inferior. Thereof spoke the Prophet in the Tradition: "Allâh created the creation in darkness, then sent an effusion of His light upon it," and "Allâh hath Angels, beings who know the works often better than they know them themselves." Now the Prophets, when their ascents reached unto the World of the Realm Celestial, attained the uttermost goal, and from thence looked down upon a totality of the World Invisible; for he who is in the World of the Realm Celestial is with Allâh, and hath the keys [p. 14] of the Unseen. I mean that from where he is the causes of existing things descend into the World of Sense; for the world of sense is one of the effects of yonder world of cause, resulting from it just as the shadow results from a body, or as fruit from that which fructuates, or as the effect from a cause. Now the key to this knowledge of the effect is sought and found in the cause. And for this reason the World of Sense is a type of the World of the Realm Celestial, as will appear when we explain the NICHE, the LAMP, and the TREE. For the thine, compared is in some sort parallel, and bears resemblance, to the thing compared therewith, whether that resemblance be remote or near: a matter, again, which is unfathomably deep, so that whoever has scanned its inner meaning had revealed to him the verities of the types in the Koran by an easy way.

I said that everything that sees self and not-self deserves more properly the name of Light, while that which adds to these two functions the function of making the not-self visible, still more properly deserves the name of Light than that which has no effect whatever beyond itself. This is the light which merits the name of "Lamp Illuminant",[1] because its light is effused upon the not-self. Now this is the property of the transcendental prophetic spirit, for through its means are effused the illuminations of the sciences upon the created world. Thus is explained the name given by Allâh to Mohammed, "Illuminant."[2] Now all the Prophets are Lamps, and so are the Learned-but the difference between them is incalculable.

[1. S. 33, 46.

2. S. 46, 33.]

{p. 98}

4. These Lights as Lamps Terrestrial and Celestial: with their Order and Grades

If it is proper to call that from which the light of vision emanates a "Lamp Illuminant", then that from which the Lamp is itself lit may [p. 15] meetly be symbolized by Fire. Now all these Lamps Terrestrial were originally lit from the Light Supernal alone; and of the transcendental Spirit of prophecy it is written that "Its oil were well-nigh luminous though fire touched it not"; but becomes "very light upon light" when touched by that Fire.[1] Assuredly, then, the kindling source of those Spirits Terrestrial is the divine Spirits Supernal, described by Ali and Ibn Abbas, when they said that "Allâh hath an Angel with countenances seventy thousand, to each countenance seventy thousand mouths, in each mouth seventy thousand tongues wherewith he laudeth God most High". This is he who is contrasted with all the angelic host, in the words: "On the day whereon THE SPIRIT ariseth and the Angels, rank on rank."[2] These Spirits Celestial, then, if they be considered as the kindling-source of the [1. S. 24, 35; see p. [45] of translation.

2. S. 28, 78.]

{p. 99}

Lamps Terrestrial, can be compared alone with "Fire".[1] And that kindling is not perceived save "on the Mountain's side".[2]

Let us now take these Lights Celestial from which are lit the Lamps Terrestrial, and let us rank them in the order in which they themselves are kindled, the one from the other. Then the nearest to the fountain-head will be of all others the worthiest of the name of Light for he is the highest in order and rank. Now the analogy for this graded order in the world of sense can only be seized by one who sees the light of the moon coming through the window of a house, falling on a mirror fixed upon a wall, which reflects that light on to another wall, whence it in turn is reflected on the floor, so that the floor becomes illuminated therefrom. The light upon the floor is owed to that upon the wall, and the light on the wail to that in the mirror, and the light in the mirror to that from the moon, and the light in the moon to that from the sun, [16] for it is the sun that radiates its light upon the moon. Thus these four lights are ranged one above the other, each

[1. S. 28, 29.

2. S. 28, 29: also 19, 53.]

{p. 100}

one more perfect than the other; and each one has a certain rank and a proper degree which it never passes beyond. I would have you know, then, that it has been revealed to the men of Insight that even so are the Lights of the Realm Celestial ranged in an order; and that the highest is the one who is nearest to the Ultimate Light. It may well be, then, that the rank of Seraphiel is above the rank of Gabriel; and that among them is that Nighest to Allâh, he whose rank comes nighest to the Presence Dominical which is the Fountain-head of all these lights; and that among these is a Nighest to Man, and that between these two are grades innumerable, whereof all that is known is that they are many, and that they are ordered in rank and grade, and that as they have described themselves, so they are indeed--"Not one of us but has his determined place and standing,"[1] and "We are verily the ranked ones; we are they in whose mouth is Praise."[1]

5. The Source of all these Grades of Light: ALLAH

The next thing I would have you know is that these degrees of light do not ascend in an infinite series, but rise to a final Fountain-head who is Light in and by Himself, upon Whom comes no light from any external source, and from Whom every light is effused according to, its order and grade. Ask yourself, now whether the name Light is more due to that which is illumined and borrows its light from an external source; or that which in itself is luminous, illuminating all else beside? I do not believe that you can fail to see the true answer, and thus conclude that the name light is most of all due to this LIGHT SUPERNAL, above Whom there is no light at all, and from Whom light descends upon all other things.

[1. S. 37, 164-7.]

Nay, I do not hesitate to say boldly that the term "light" as applied to aught else than this primary light is purely metaphorical; for all [p. 17] others, if considered in themselves, have, in themselves and by themselves, no light at all. Their light is borrowed from a foreign source; which borrowed illumination has not any support in itself, only in something not-itself. But to call the borrower by the same name as the lender is mere metaphor. Think you that the man who borrows riding-habit, saddle, horse, or other riding beast, and mounts the same when and as the lender appoints, is actually, or only metaphorically, rich? Or is it the lender who alone is rich? The latter, assuredly! The borrower remains in himself as poor as ever, and only of him who made the loan and exacts its return can richness be predicated--him who gave and can take away. Therefore, the Real Light is He in Whose hand lies creation and its destinies; He who first gives the light and afterwards sustains it. He shares with no other the reality of this name, nor the full title to the same; save in so far as He calls some other by that name, deigns to call him by it in the same way as a Liege-Lord deigns to give his vassal a fief, and therewith bestows on him the title of lord. Now when that vassal realizes the truth, he understands that both he and his are the property of his Liege, and of Him alone, a property shared by Him with no partner in the world.

You now know that Light is summed up in appearing and manifesting, and you have ascertained the various gradations of the same. You must further know that there is no darkness so intense as the darkness of No-being. For[1] a dark thing is called "dark" simply because it cannot appear to anyone's vision; it never comes to exist for sight, though it does exist in itself. But that which has no existence for others nor for itself is assuredly the very extreme of darkness. In contrast with it is Being, which is, therefore, Light; for unless a thing is manifest in itself, [p. 18] it is not manifest to others. Moreover, Being is itself divided into that which has being in itself, and that which derives its being from not-itself. That being of this latter is borrowed, having no existence by itself. Nay, if it is regarded in and by itself, it is pure not-being. Whatever being it has is due to its relation to a not-itself; and this is not real being at all, as you learned from my parable of the Rich and the Borrowed Garment. Therefore, Real Being is Allâh most High, even as Real Light is likewise Allâh.

6. The Mystic Verity of Verities

It is from this starting-point that Allâh's gnostics rise from metaphors to realities, as one

[1. Reading ### for ###.]

{p. 104}

climbs from the lowlands to the mountains; and at the end of their Ascent see, as with the direct sight of eye-witnesses, that there is nothing in existence save Allâh alone, and that "everything perisheth except His Countenance, His Aspect"[1] (wajh); not that[2] it perisheth at some particular moment, but rather it is sempiternally a perishing thing, since it cannot be conceived except as perishing. For each several thing other than Allâh is, when considered in and by itself, pure not-being; and if considered from the "aspect" (wajh) to which existence flows from the Prime Reality, it is viewed as existing, but not in itself, solely from the "aspect" which accompanies Him Who gives it existence. Therefore, the God-aspect is the sole thing in existence. For everything has two aspects, an aspect to itself and an aspect to its Lord: in respect of the first, it is Not-being; but in respect of the God-aspect, it is Being. Therefore there is no Existent except God and the God-aspect, and therefore all things are perishing except the God-aspect from and to all eternity. These gnostics, therefore, have no need

[1. S. 88, 28.

2. Reading ###.]

{p. 105}

await the arising of the Last Uprising in order to hear the Creator proclaim, "To whom is the power this day? To ALLAH! the One, the Not-to-be-withstood"[1]; [p. 19] for that summons is.. pealing in their ears always and for ever. Neither do they understand by the cry "Allah is most great" (Allâhu akbar) that He is only "greater" than others. God forbid! For in. all existence there is beside Him none for Him. to exceed in greatness. No other attains so much as to the degree of co-existence, or of sequent existence, nay of existence at all, except from the Aspect that accompanies Him. All existence is, exclusively, His Aspect. Now it is impossible that He should be "greater"' than His own Aspect. The meaning is rather that he is too absolutely Great to be called Greater, or Most Great, by way of relation or comparison--too Great for anyone, whether Prophet or Angel, to grasp the real nature of His Greatness. For none knows Allah with a real knowledge but He Himself; for every, known falls necessarily under the sway and within the province of the Knower; a state:

[1. S. 16, 40.]

which is the very negation of all Majesty, all "Greatness". The full proof whereof I have given in my al-Maqsad al-Asnâ fî ma`ânî asmâ'i llâhi-l Husnâ.

These gnostics, on their return from their Ascent into the heaven of Reality, confess with one voice that they saw nought existent there save the One Real. Some of them, however, arrived at this scientifically, and others experimentally and subjectively. From these last the plurality of things fell away in its entirety. They were drowned in the absolute Unitude, and their intelligences were lost in Its abyss. Therein became they as dumbfounded things. No capacity remained within them save to recall ALLAH; yea, not so much as the capacity to recall their own selves. So there remained nothing with them save ALLAH. They became drunken with a drunkenness wherein the sway of their own intelligence disappeared; so that one[1] exclaimed, "I am The ONE REAL!" and another, "Glory be to ME! How great is MY glory!"[2] and another, "Within this robe is nought but Allâh!"[2] ... But the words of

[1. Al-Hallâj.

2. Abû Yazîd al-Bistâmî. See Massignon's Hallâj, p. 513.]

{p. 107}

Lovers Passionate in their intoxication and ecstasy [p. 20] must be hidden away and not spoken of . . . Then when that drunkenness abated and they came again under the sway of the intelligence, which is Allâh's balance-scale upon earth, they knew that that had not been actual Identity, but only something resembling Identity; as in those words of the Lover at the height of his passion:--

"I am He whom I love and He whom I love is I;
We are two spirits immanent in one body."[1]

For it is possible for a man who has never seen a mirror in his life, to be confronted suddenly by a mirror, to look into it, and to think that the form which he sees in the mirror is the form of the mirror itself, "identical" with it. Another might see wine in a glass, and think that the wine is just the stain of the glass. And if that thought becomes with him use and wont, like a fixed idea with him, it absorbs him wholly, so that he sings:--

"The glass is thin, the wine is clear!
The twain are alike, the matter is perplexed:

[1. By al-Hallâj.]

{p. 108}

For 'tis as though there were wine and no wineglass there,
Or as though mere were wine-glass and nought of wine!"

He there is a difference between saying, "The wine is the wine-glass," and saying, "'tis as though it were the wine-glass." Now, when this state prevails, it is called in relation to him who experiences it, Extinction, nay, Extinction of Extinction, for the soul has become extinct to itself, extinct to its own extinction; for it becomes unconscious of itself and unconscious of its own unconsciousness, since, were it conscious of its own unconsciousness, it would be conscious of itself. In relation to the man immersed in this state, the state is called, in the language of metaphor, "Identity"; in the language of reality, "Unification." And beneath these verities also lie mysteries which we are not at liberty to discuss.

7. The "God-Aspect": an "advanced" Explanation of the Relation of these Lights to ALLAH

It may be that you desire greatly to know the aspect (wajh) [p. 21] whereby Allâh's light is related to the heavens and the earth, or rather the aspect whereby He is in Himself the Light of heavens and earth. And this shall assuredly not be denied you, now that you know that Allâh is Light, and that beside Him there is no light. and that He is every light, and that He is the universal light: since light is an expression for that by which things are revealed; or., higher still, that by and for which they are revealed; yea, and higher still, that by, for, and from which they are revealed: and now that, you know, too that, of everything called light, only that by, for, and from which things are revealed is real--that Light beyond which there is no light to kindle and feed its flame, for It is kindled and fed in itself, from Itself, and for Itself, and from no other source at all. Such a conception, such a description, you are now assured, can be applied to the Great Primary, alone. You are also assured that the heavens and the earth are filled with light appertaining to those two fundamental light-planes, our Sight and our Insight; by which I mean our senses and our intelligence. The first kind of light is what we see in the heavens--sun and moon and stars; and what we see in earth--that is, the rays which are poured over the whole face of the earth, making visible all the different colours and hues, especially in the season of spring; and over all animals and plants and things, in all their states: for without these rays no colour would appear or even exist. Moreover, every shape and size which is visible to perception is apprehended in consequence of colour, and it is impossible to conceive of apprehending them without colour. As for the other ideal, intelligential Lights, the World Supernal is filled with them--to wit, the angelic substance; and the World Inferior is also full of them--[p. 22] to wit, animal life and human life successively. The order of the World Inferior is manifested by means of this inferior human light; while the order of the World Supernal is manifested by means of that angelical light. This is the order alluded to in the passage in the Koran, "He it is Who has formed you from the earth, and hath peopled it with you, that He might call you Successors upon the earth" . . . and "Maketh you Successors on the earth," and "Verily I have set in the earth a Successor" (Khalîfa).[1]

{p. 109}

{p. 110}

Thus you see that the whole world is all filled with the external lights of perception, and the internal lights of intelligence; also that the lower lights are effused or emanate the one from the other, as light emanates or is effused from a lamp; while the Lamp itself is the transcendental Light of Prophecy; and that, the transcendental Spirits of Prophesy are lit from the Spirit Supernal, as the lamp is lit from fire; and that the Supernals are lit the one from the other; and that their order is one of ascending grades: further, that these all rise to the Light of Lights, the Origin and Fountainhead of lights, and that is ALLAH, only and alone; and that all other lights are borrowed from Him, and that His alone is real light; and that everything is from His light, nay, He is everything, nay, HE IS THAT HE is, none but He has ipseity or heity at all, save by metaphor. Therefore there is no light but He, while all other lights are only lights from the Aspect which accompanies Him, not from themselves. Thus the aspect and face of everything faces to Him and turns in His direction; and "whithersoever they turn themselves there is the Face of Allâh."[1] So, then, there is no divinity but HE; for "divinity" is an expression by which is connoted that towards which all faces are directed"[2] in worship and in confession--that He is Deity; but which I mean the faces of the hearts of men, for they verily are lights and spirits. Nay, more, just as "there is no deity but He," so there is no heity but He, [p. 23] for "he" is an expression for something which one can indicate; but in every and any case we can but indicate Him. Every time you indicate anything, your indication is in reality, to Him, even though through your ignorance of the truth of truths which we have mentioned you -know it not. Just as one cannot point to, indicate, sunlight but only the sun, so the relation of the sum of things to Allâh is, in the visible -analogue, as the relation of light to the sun. Therefore "There is no deity but ALLAH" is the Many's declaration of Unity: that of the Few is "There is no he but HE"; the former is more general, but the latter is more particular, more comprehensive, more exact, and more apt to give him who declares it entrance into the pure and absolute Oneness and Onliness. This kingdom of the One-and-Onliness is the ultimate point of mortals' Ascent: there is no ascending stage beyond it; for "ascending" involves plurality, being a sort of relatively involving two stages, an ascent from and an ascent to. But when Plurality has been eliminated, Unity is established, relation is effaced, all indication from "here" to "there" falls away, and there remains neither height nor depth, nor anyone to fare up or down. The upward Progress, the Ascent of the soul, then becomes impossible, for there is no height beyond the Highest, no plurality alongside of the One, and, now that plurality has terminated, no Ascent for the soul. If there be, indeed, any change, it is by way of the "Descent into the Lowest Heaven", the radiation from above downwards; for the Highest, though It may have mo higher, has a lower. This is the goal of goals, the last object of spiritual search, known of him who knows it, denied by him who is ignorant of it. It belongs to that knowledge which is according to the form of the hidden thing, and which no one knoweth save the Learned[1] is Allah. If, therefore, they utter it, it is only denied by the Ignorant of Him.

There is no improbability in the explanation given by these Learned to this "Descent into the Lowest Heaven", [p. 24] namely, that it is the descent of an Angel; though one of those Gnostics[2] has, indeed, fancied a less probable explanation. He, immersed as he was in the divine One-and-Onliness, said that Allah has "a descent into the lowest heaven", and that this descent is His descent, in order to use physical senses, and to set in motion bodily limbs; and that He is the one indicated in the Tradition in which the Prophet says, "I have become His hearing whereby He heareth, His vision whereby He seeth, His tongue wherewith He speaketh."' Now if the Prophet was Allah's hearing and vision and tongue, then Allah and He alone is the Hearer, the Seer, the Speaker; and He is the one indicated in His own word to Moses, "I was sick, and thou visitedst Me not."[1] According to this, the bodily movements of this Confessor of the divine Unity are from the lowest heaven; his sensation from a heaven next above; and his intelligence from the heaven next above that. From that heaven of the intelligence he fares upward to the limit of the Ascension of created things, the kingdom of the One-and-Onliness, a sevenfold way; thereafter "settleth he himself on the throne" of the divine Unity, and therefrom "taketh command"[2] throughout his storied heavens. Well might one, in looking upon such an one, apply to him the saying, "Allah created Adam after the image of the Merciful One"; until, after contemplating that word more deeply, he becomes aware that it has an interpretation like those other words, "I am the ONE REAL," "Glory be to ME!"[3] or those sayings of the Prophet, that Allah said, "I was sick and thou visitedst Me not," and "I am His hearing, and His vision; and His tongue". But I see fit now to draw rein in this exposition, for I think that you cannot hear more of this sort than the amount which I have now communicated.

8. The Relation of these Lights to ALLAH:
Simpler Illustrations and Explanations

It may well be that you will not rise to the height of these words, for all your pains; it may be that for all your pains you will come short of it after all. Here, then, is something that lies nearer your understanding, and nearer your weakness. The meaning of the doctrine that Allah is [p. 25] the Light of Heavens and Earth may be understood in relation to phenomenal, visible light. When you see hues of spring-the tender green, for example-in the full light of day, you entertain no doubt but that you are looking on colours, and very likely you suppose that you are looking on nothing else alongside of them. As though you should say, "I see nothing alongside of the green." Many have in fact, obstinately maintained this. They have asserted that light is a meaningless term, and that there is nothing but colour with the colours. Thus they denied the existence of the light, although it was the most manifest of all things--how should it not be so, considering that through it alone all things become manifest?, for it is the thing that is itself visible and makes visible, as we said before. But, when the sun sank, and heaven's lamp disappeared from sight, and night's shadow fell, then apprehended these men the existence of an essential difference between inherent shadow and inherent light; and they confessed that light is a form that lies behind all colour, and is apprehended with colour, insomuch that, so to speak, through its intense union with the colours it is not apprehended, and through its intense obviousness it is invisible. And it may be that this very intensity is the direct cause of its invisibility, for things that go beyond one extreme pass over to the extreme opposite.

If this is clear to you, you must further know that those endowed with this Insight never saw a single object without seeing Allah along with it. It may be that one of them went further than this and said, "I have never seen a single object, but I first saw Allah"; for some of, them only see objects through and in Allah, while others first see objects and then see Allah in and through those objects. It is to the first class that the Koran alludes to in the words, "Doth it not suffice that My Lord seeth all?"[1] and to the second in the words, "We shall shew them our signs in all the world and in themselves." For the first class [p. 26] have the direct intuition of Allah, and the second infer Him from His works. The former is the rank of the Saint-Friends of God, the latter of the Learned "who are established in knowledge".[2] After these two grades there remains nothing except that of the careless, on whose faces is the veil.

Thus you see that just as everything is manifest to man's Sight by means of light, so everything is manifest to man's Insight by means of Allah; for He is with everything every moment and by Him does everything appear. But here the analogy ceases, and we have a radical difference; namely, that phenomenal light can be conceived of as disappearing with the sinking of the sun, and as assuming a veil in order that shadow may appear: while the divine light, which is the condition of all appearance, cannot be conceived as disappearing. That sun can never set! It abides for ever with all things. Thus the method of difference (as a method for the demonstration of the Existence of God from His works) is not at our disposal. Were the appearance of Allah conceivable, heaven and earth would fall to ruin, and thence, through difference, would be apprehended an effect which would simultaneously compel the recognition of the Cause whereby all things appeared. But, as it is, all Nature remains the same and invariable to our sight because of the unity of its Creator, for "all things are singing His praise"[1] (not some things) at all times (not sometimes); and thus the method of difference is eliminated, and the way to the knowledge of God is obscured. For the most manifest way to the knowledge of things is by their contraries: the thing that possesses no contrary and no opposite, its features being always exactly alike when you are looking at it, will very likely elude your notice altogether. In this case its obscureness results from its very obviousness, and its elusiveness from the very radiance of its brightness. Then glory to Him who hides Himself from His own creation by His utter manifestness, and is veiled from their gaze through the very effulgence of His own light!

[1. S. 41, 53.

2. S. 3, 6.]

{p. 119}

But it may be that not even this teaching is intelligible to some limited intelligences, [27] who from our statement (that "Allah is with, everything", as the light is with everything) will understand that He is in every place. Too high. and holy is He to be related to place! So far from starting this vein imagining, we assert to you that He is prior to everything, and above everything, and that He makes everything manifest. Now manifester is inseparable from, manifested, subjectively, in the cognition of the thinker; and this is what we mean by saying. that Allah accompanies or is "with" everything. You know, further, that manifester is prior to, and above, manifested, though He be "with" it; but he is "with" it from one aspect, and "above" it from another. You are not to suppose, therefore, that there is here any contradiction. Or, consider, how in the world of sense, which is the highest to which your knowledge can rise, the motion of your hands goes "with" the motion of its shadow, and yet is prior to it as well. And whoever has not wit enough to see this, ought to abandon these researches altogether; for

"To every science its own people;
And each man finds easy that for which he has been created apt."

PART II.--THE SCIENCE OF SYMBOLISM, PROLEGOMENA TO THE EXPLANATION OF THE SYMBOLISM OF THE NICHE,

THE LAMP, THE GLASS, THE TREE, THE OIL, AND THE FIRE

The exposition of this symbolism involves, first of all, two cardinal considerations, which afford limitless scope for investigation, but to. which I shall merely allude very briefly here.

First, the science and method of symbolism; the way in which the spirit of the ideal form[1] is captured by the mould of the symbol; the mutual relationship of the two; the inner nature of this correspondence between the world of Sense (which supplies the clay of the moulds, the material of the symbolism) and the world of the Realm Supernal from which the Ideas descend.[1]

[1. Or Idea = in practically the Platonic sense.]

{p. 122}

Second, the gradations of the several spirits of our mortal clay, and the degree [p. 28] of light possessed by each. For we treat of this latter symbolism in order to explain the former.

(i) THE OUTWARD AND THE INWARD IN SYMBOLISM: TYPE AND ANTITYPE

The world is Two Worlds, spiritual and material, or, if you will, a World Sensual and a World Intelligential; or again, if you will, a World Supernal and a World Inferior. All these expressions are near each other, and the difference between them is merely one of viewpoint. If you regard the two worlds in themselves, you use the first expression; if in respect of the organ which apprehends them, the second; if in respect of their mutual relationship, the third. You may, perhaps, also term

[1. (By Ghazzâlî.) In this Light-Verse, in Ibn Mas'ûd's reading, the words "in the heart of the believer, "follow the words "of His light". And Ubayy b. Ka`b's instead of "the similitude of His light", has "the similitude of the light of the heart of him who believes is like". etc.]

{p. 123}

them the World of Dominance and Sense-perception, and, the World of the Unseen and the Realm Supernal. It were no marvel if the students of the realities underlying the terminology were puzzled by the multiplicity of these terms, and imagined a corresponding multiplicity of ideas. But he to whom the realities beneath the terms are disclosed makes the ideas primary and the terms secondary: while inferior minds take the opposite course. To them the term is the source from which the reality proceeds. We have an allusion to these two types of mind in the Koran, "Whether is the more rightly guided, he who walks with his face bent down, or he who walks in a straight Way, erect?"[1]

1. The two Worlds: their types and antitypes

Such is the idea of the Two Worlds. And the next thing for you to know is, that the supernal world of "the Realm" is a world invisible to the majority of men; and the world of our senses is the world of perception, because it is perceived of all. This World Sensual is the point from which we ascend to [p. 29] the world Intelligential: and, but for this connexion between the two, and their reciprocal relationship, the way upward to the higher sphere would be barred. And were this upward was impossible, then would the Progress to the Presence Dominical and the near approach to Allah be impossible too. For no man shall approach near unto Allah, unless his foot stand at the very centre of the Fold of the Divine Holiness. Now by this World of the "Divine Holiness" we mean the world that transcends the apprehension of the senses and the imagination. And it is in respect of the law of that world--the law that the soul which is a stranger to it neither goeth out therefrom, nor entereth therein--that we call it the Fold of the Divine Holiness and Transcendence. And the human spirit, which is the channel of the manifestations of the Transcendence, may be perhaps called "the Holy Valley".[1]

[1. S. 67, 22.]

Again, this Fold comprises lesser folds, some of which penetrate more deeply than others into the ideas of the Divine Holiness.

[1. S. 20, 12.]

{p. 125}

But the term Fold embraces all the gradations of the lesser ones; for you must not suppose that these terms are enigmas, unintelligible to men of Insight. But I cannot pursue the subject further, for I see that my preoccupation with citing and explaining all this terminology is turning me from my theme. It is for you to apply yourself now to the study of the terms.

To return to the subject we were discussing: the visible world is, as we said, the point of departure up to We world of the Realm Supernal; and the "Pilgrim's Progress of the Straight Way"[1] is an expression for that upward course, which may also be expressed by "The Faith," "the Mansions of Right Guidance." Were there no relation between the two worlds, no inter-connexion at all, then all upward progress would be inconceivable from one to the other. Therefore, the divine mercy gave to the World Visible a correspondence with the World of the Realm Supernal, and for this reason there is not a single thing in this world of sense that is not a symbol of something in yonder one. It may well hap that some one thing in this world may symbolize several things in the World of the Realm Supernal, and equally well that some one thing in the latter may have several symbols [p. 30] in the World Visible. We call a thing typical or symbolic when it resembles and corresponds to its antitype under some aspect.

A complete enumeration of these symbols would involve our exhausting the whole of the existing things in both of the Two Worlds! Such a task our mortal powers can never fulfil; or human faculties have not sufficed to comprehend it in the past; and with our little lives we cannot expound it fully in the present. The utmost I can do is to explain to you a single example. The greater may then be inferred from the less; for the door of research into the mysteries of this knowledge will then lie open to you.

2. An Example of Symbolism, from the Story of Abraham in the Koran

Listen now. If the World of the Realm Supernal contains Light-substances, high and lofty, called "Angels", from which substances the various lights are effused upon the various mortal spirits, and by reason of which these angels are called "lords," then is Allah "Lord of lords," and these lords will have differing, grades of luminousness. The symbols, then, of these in the visible world will be, preeminently, the Sun, the Moon, and the Stars.

And the Pilgrim of the Way rises first of all to a degree corresponding to that of a star. The effulgence of that star's light appears to him., It is disclosed to him that the entire world beneath adores its influence and the effulgence of its light. And so, because of the very beauty and superbness of the thing, he is made aware of something which cries aloud saying, "This is my Lord?"[1] He passes on; and as he be. comes conscious of the light-degree next above. it, namely, that symbolized by the moon, lo! in the aerial canopy he beholds that star set, to wit, in comparison with its superior; and he saith, "Nought that setteth do I adore!" And so he rises till he arrives at last at the degree symbolized by the sun. This, again, he sees is greater and higher than the former, but nevertheless admits of comparison therewith, in, virtue of a relationship between the two. [31] But to bear relationship to what is imperfect carries with it imperfection-the "setting" of our allegory. And by reason thereof he saith: "I have turned my face unto That Who made the heavens and the earth! I am a true believer, and, not of those who associate other gods with Allah!" Now what is meant to be conveyed by this "THAT WHO" is the vaguest kind of indication, destitute of all relation or comparison. For, were anyone to ask, "What is the symbol comparable with or corresponding to this That?' no answer to the question could be conceived. Now He Who transcends all relations is ALLAH, the ONE REALITY. Thus, when certain Arabs once asked the Apostle of God, "To what may we relate Allah?' this reply was revealed, "Say, He, Allah is one! His days are neither ended nor begun; neither is He a father nor a son; and none is like unto Him, no not one[1]; the meaning of which verse is simply that He transcends relation. Again, when Pharaoh said to Moses: "What, pray, is the Lord of the Universe?" as though demanding to know His essence, Moses, in his reply, merely indicated His works, because these were clearer to the mind of his interrogator; and answered, "The Lord of the heavens and the earth."[1] But Pharaoh said to his courtiers, "Ha! marked ye that!" as though objecting to Moses' evasion of his demand to be told Allah's essential nature. Then Moses said, "Your Lord, and your first fathers' Lord." Pharaoh then set him down as insane. He had demanded an analogue, for the description of the divine Essence, and Moses replied to him from His works. And so Pharaoh said, "Your prophet who has been sent you is insane."

[1. See for this whole passage S. 6, 75-8.]

3. Fundamental Examples of Symbolism especially from the Story of Moses in the Koran

Let us now return to the pattern we selected for illustrating the symbolic method. The science of the Interpretation of Visions determines for us the value of each kind of symbol; for "Vision is a part of Prophecy." It is clear, is it not, that the sun, when seen in a vision,

[1. For this passage see S. 26, 24-7, and for the whole thought--compare pp. [54, 55]. 9] must be interpreted by a Sovereign Monarch, because of their mutual resemblance and their share in a common spiritual idea, to wit, sovereignty over all, and the emanation or effusion of influence and light on to all. The antitype of the moon will be that Sovereign's Minister; for it is through the moon that the sun sheds his light on the world in its own absence; and even so, it is through his own Minister that the Sovereign [p. 32] makes his influence felt by subjects who never beheld the royal person. Again, the dreamer who sees himself with a ring on his finger with which he seals the mouths of men and the secrets of women, is told that the sign means the early Call to Prayer in the month of Ramadan.[1] Again, for one who sees himself pouring olive oil into an olive-tree the interpretation is that the slave-girl he has wedded is his mother, unrecognized by him. But it is impossible to exhaust the different ways by which symbols of this description may be interpreted, and I cannot set myself the task of enumerating them. I can merely say that just as certain beings of the Spirit-World Supernal are symbolized by Sun, Moon and Stars, others may be typified by different symbols. when the Point of connexion is some characteristic other than light.

[1. Because after the idhân, just before morning, food and sexual intercourse are fasted from till the next sunset.]

For example, if among those beings of that Spirit-World there be something that is fixed and unchangeable; great and never diminishing; from which the waters of knowledge, the excellencies of revelations, issue into the heart, even as waters well out into a valley; It would be symbolized by the Mountain.[1] Further, if the beings that are the recipients of those excellencies are of diverse grades, they would be symbolized by the Valley; and if those excellencies, on reaching the hearts of men, pass from heart to heart, these hearts are also symbolized by Valleys.[2] The head of the Valley will represent the hearts of Prophet, Saint, and Doctor, followed by those who come after them. So, then, if these valleys are lower than the first one, and are watered from it, then that first one will certainly be the "Right" Valley,[3] because

[1. S. 28, 29. 46.

2. S. 13, 18.

3. S. 28, 30. See S. 19, 53, and 10, 82.]

of its signal rightness[1] and superiority. And finally will come the lowest valley which receives its water from the last and lowest level of that "Right" Valley, and is accordingly watered from "the margin of the Right Valley",[2] not [p. 33] from its deepest part and centre.

But if the spirit of a prophet is typified by a lighted Lamp, lit by means of Inspiration ("We have inspired thee with [a] Spirit from Our power"),[3] then the symbol of the source of that kindling is Fire. If some of those who derive knowledge from the prophets live by a merely traditional acceptance of what they are told, and others by a gift of insight, then the symbol for the former, who investigate nothing, is a Fire-brand or a Torch or a Meteor; while the man of spiritual experience, who has therefore something in some sort common with the prophets, is accordingly symbolized by the Warming of Fire, for a man is not warmed by hearing about fire but by being close to it.

[1. Ghazzâlî here plays on the word ayman, the root of which means dexter or felix.

2. S. 28, 30.

3. S. 42, 52.]

{p. 133}

If the first stage of prophets is their translation into the World of Holy Transcendence away from the disturbances of senses and imagination, that stage is symbolized by "the Holy Valley".[1] And if the Holy Valley may not be trodden save after the doffing of the Two Worlds (that is, this world and the world beyond) and the soul's turning of her face towards the One Real (for this world and the world beyond are co-relatives and both are accidentia of the human light-substance, and can be doffed at one time and donned at another), then the symbol of the putting-off of these Two Worlds is the doffing of his two sandals by the pilgrim to Mekka,[2] what time he changes his worldly garments for the pilgrim's robe and faces towards the holy Kaaba.

Nay, but let us now translate ourselves to the Presence Dominical once more, and speak of its symbols. If that Presence hath something whereby the several divine sciences are engraven on the tablets of hearts susceptible to them, that something will be symbolized by the Pen.[3] That Within those hearts whereon those [1. S. 20, and 79, 16.

2. S. 20, 12.

3. S. 68.]

{p. 134}

things are engraved will be typified by the Tablet,[1] Book,[2] and Scroll.[3] [p. 34] If there be, above the pen that writes, something which constrains it to service, its type will be the Hand.[4] If the Presence which embraces Hand and Tablet, Pen and Book, is constituted according to a definite order, It will be typified by the Form or Image.[5] And if the human form has its definite order, after that likeness, then is it created "in the Image, the Form, of the Merciful One". Now there is a difference between saying, "In the image of the Merciful One," and, "In the image of Allâh." For it was the Divine Mercy that caused the image of the Divine Presence to be in that "Image." And then Allâh, out of His grace and mercy, gave to Adam a summary "image" or "form," embracing every genus and species in the whole world, inasmuch that it was as if Adam were all that was in the world, or were the summarized copy of the world. And Adam's form--this summarized "image"--was inscribed in the handwriting of Allâh, so that Adam is the Divine handwriting, which is not the characters of letters (for His Handwriting transcends both characters and letters, even as His Word transcends sound and syllables, and His Pen transcends Reed and Steel, and His Hand transcends flesh and bone). Now, but for this mercy, every son of Adam would have been powerless to know his Sovereign-Lord; for "only he who knows himself knows his Lord." This, then, being an effect of the divine mercy, it was "in the image of the Merciful One," not "in the image of Allâh," that Adam was created. So, then, the Presence of the Godhead is not the same as the Presence of The Merciful One, nor as the Presence of The Kingship, nor as the Presence of the Sovereign-Lordship; for which reason He commanded us to invoke the protection of all these Presences severally. "Say, I invoke the protection of the Lord of mankind, the King of mankind, the Deity of mankind!"[1] If this idea did not underlie the expression [p. 35] "Allâh created man in the image of the Merciful," the words would be linguistically incorrect; they should then have run, "after His image."' But the words, according to Bokhari, run, "After the image of the Merciful."

[1. S. 114.]

But as the distinction between the Presence of the Kingship and the Presence of the Lordship call for a long expression, we must pass on, and be content with the foregoing specimen of the symbolic method. For indeed it is a shoreless sea.

But if you are conscious of a certain repulsion from this symbolism, you may comfort yourself by the text, "He sent down from heaven rain, and it flowed in the valleys, according to their capacity;"[2] for the commentaries on this text tell us that the Water here is knowledge, and the Valleys are the hearts of men.

4. The Permanent Validity of the Outward and Visible Sign: an Example

Pray do not assume from this specimen of symbolism and its method that you have any

[1. And so they are quoted on p. [7].

2. S. 13, 19.]

{p. 137}

licence from me to ignore the outward and, visible form, or to believe that it has been annulled; as though, for example, I had asserted that Moses had not really shoes on, did not, really hear himself addressed by the words, "Put thy shoes from off thy feet."[1] God forbid!--The annulment of the outward and visible sign is the tenet of the Spiritualists (Bâtiniyya), who, looked, utterly one-sidedly, at one world, the, Unseen, and were grossly ignorant of the balance that exists between it and the Seen. This aspect they wholly failed to understand. Similarly annulment of the inward and invisible meaning in the opinion of the Materialists. (Hashawiyya). In other words, whoever abstracts and isolates the outward from the whole is a Materialist, and whoever abstracts. the inward is a Spiritualist, while he who joins the two together is catholic, perfect. For this reason the Prophet said, "The Koran has an outward and an inward, an ending and a beginning" (a Tradition which is, however, possibly, traceable to 'Alî, as its pedigree stops short at his name). I assert, on the contrary, that

{p. 138}

'Moses understood from the command "Put off thy shoes" the Doffing of the Two Worlds, and obeyed the command literally by putting off his two sandals, and spiritually by putting off the Two Worlds. Here you just have this cross-relation between the two, [p. 36] the crossing over from one to the other, from outward word to inward idea. The difference between the true and false positions may be thus illustrated. One man hears the word of the Prophet, "The angels of Allâh enter not a house wherein is a dog or a picture," and yet keeps a dog in the house, because, he says, "The outward sense is not what was meant; but the Prophet only meant, 'Turn the dog of Wrath out of the house of the Heart, because Wrath hinders the knowledge which comes from the Lights Angelical; for anger is the demon of the heart.'" While the other first carries out the command literally; and then says, "Dog is not dog because of his visible form, but because of the inner idea of dog--ferocity, ravenousness. If my house, which is the abode of my person, of my body, must be kept clear of doggishness in concrete form, how much more must the house of my heart, which is the abode of man's true and proper essence, be kept clear of doggishness in spiritual idea!" The man, in fact, who combines the two things, he is the perfect man; which is what is meant when it is said, "The perfect man is the one who does not let the light of his knowledge quench the light of his reverence." In the same way he is never seen permitting himself to ignore one single ordinance of religion, for all the perfection of his spiritual Insight. Such a thing is grievous error; an example of which is the evil which befell some mystics, who called it lawful to put by literal prescriptions of the Shariat as you roll up and put-by a carpet; insomuch that one of them perhaps went so far as to give up the ordinance of prayer, saying, forsooth, that he was always at prayer in his heart! But this is different from the error of those fools of Antinomians (Ibâhiyya) who trifle with sophisms, like the saying of one, "Allah has no need of our works"; or of another, "The heart is full of vices from which it cannot possibly be cleansed," [p. 37] and did not even desire to eradicate anger and lust, because he believes he is

{p. 140}

[not] (?) commanded to eradicate them. These last, verily, are the follies of fools; but, as for the first-named error, it reminds one of the stumble of a high-bred horse, the error of a mystic whom the devil has diverted from the way and "drawn him with delusion as with cords".[1]

To return to our discussion of "the Putting-off of the Shoes." The outward word wakens one to the inward signification, the Putting-off of the Two Worlds. The outward symbol is a real thing, and its application to the inward meaning is a real truth. Every real thing has its corresponding real truth. Those who have realized this are the souls who have attained the degree of the Transparent Glass (we shall see the meaning of this presently). For the Imagination, which supplies, so to speak, the clay from which the symbol is formed, is hard and gross; it conceals the secret meanings; it is interposed between you and the unseen lights. But once let it be clarified, and it becomes like transparent glass, and no longer keeps out the light, but on the contrary becomes a light-conductor. nay, that which keeps that light from being put out.

by gusts of wind. The story of the Transparent Glass, however, is coming; meanwhile, remember that the gross lower world of the imagination became to the Prophets of God like a transparent "glass" shade and "a niche for lights"; a strainer, filtering clear the divine secrets; a stepping-stone to the World Supernal. Whereby we may know that the visible symbol is real: and behind it lies a mystery. The same holds good with the symbols of "the Mountain," "the Fire," and the rest.

5. Another Example of this Two-sided and Equal Validity of Outward and Inward

When the Prophet said, "I saw Abdul-Rahmân enter Paradise crawling," you are not to suppose that he did not see him thus with his own eyes. No, awake he saw him, as a sleeper might see him in a dream, even though the person of Abdul-Rahmân b. `Awf was at the time asleep in his house. [p. 38] The only effect of sleep in this and similar visions is to suppress the authority of the senses over the soul, which is the inward light divine; for the senses preoccupy the soul, drag it back to the -Sense-world, and turn a man's face away from the world of the Invisible and of the Realm Supernal. But, with the suppression of sense, some of the lights prophetical may become clarified and prevail, inasmuch as the senses are no longer dragging the soul back to their own world, nor occupying their whole attention. And so it sees in waking what others see in sleep. But if it has attained absolute perfection, it is not limited to apprehending the visible form merely; it passes direct from that to the 'inner idea, and it is disclosed to such an one that faith is drawing the soul of an Abdul-Rahmân to the World Above (described by the word "Paradise"), while wealth and riches are drawing it down to this present life, the World Below. If the influences which draw it to the preoccupations of this world are more stubborn than those which draw it to the other world, the soul is wholly turned away from its journey to Paradise. But if the attraction of faith is stronger, the soul is merely occasioned difficulty, or retarded, in its course, and the symbol for this in the world of sense is a crawl. It is thus that mysteries are shown forth from behind the crystal transparencies of the imagination. Nor is this limited to the Prophet's judgment about Abdul Rahmân only, though it was only him he saw at that time. He passess judgment therein on; every man whose spiritual vision is strong, whose faith is firm, but whose wealth has so much multiplied that it threatens to crowd out his faith, only failing to do so because the power of that faith more than counterbalances it. This example illustrates to you the way in, which prophets used to see concrete objects, and have immediate vision of the spiritual, ideas behind them. Most frequently the idea, is presented to their direct inward vision first, and then looks down from thence on to [p. 39] the imaginative spirit and receives the imprint of some concrete object, analogous to the idea. What is conferred by inspiration in sleeping vision or dreams needs interpretation.[1]

{p. 142}

{p. 141}

(ii) THE PSYCHOLOGY OR THE HUMAN SOUL: ITS FIVE FACULTIES OR SPIRITS

The gradations of human Spirits Luminous;

[1. (Note by Ghazzâlî.) The proportion borne by dreams to the other characteristics of prophethood is as one to forty-six. That borne by waking vision has a greater ratio-as one to three, I believe, for it has been revealed to us that the prophetic characteristics fall definitely into three categories, and of these three one is waking vision.]

{p. 144}

in knowing which we may know the symbolism of the Light-Verse in Koran.

The first of these is the sensory spirit. This is the recipient of the information brought in by the senses; for it is the root and origin of 'the animal spirit, and constitutes the differentia, of the animal genus. It is sound in the infant at the breast.

The second is the imaginative spirit. This .is the recorder of the information conveyed by the senses. It keeps that information filed and ready to hand, so as to present it to the intelligential spirit above it, when the information is called for. It is not found in the infant at the beginning of its evolution. This is why an infant wants to get hold of a thing when he sees it, while he forgets about it when it is out of his sight. No conflict of desire arises in his soul for something out of sight until he gets a little older, when he begins to cry for it and asks to have it, because its image is still with him, preserved in his imagination, This faculty is possessed by some, but not all animals. It is not found, for example, in the moth which perishes in the flame. [p. 40] The moth makes for the flame, because of its desire for the sunlight, and, thinking that the flame is a window opening to the sunlight, it hurries on to the flame, and injures itself. Yet, if it flies on into the dark, back it comes again, time after time. Now had it the mnemonic spirit, which gives permanence to the sensation of pain that is conveyed by the tactile sense, it would not return to the flame after being hurt once by it. On the other hand, the dog that has received one whipping runs away whenever it sees the stick again.

Third, the intelligential spirit. This apprehends ideas beyond the spheres of sense and imagination. It is the specifically human faculty. It is not found in the lower animals, nor yet in children. The objects of its apprehension are axioms of necessary and universal application, as we mentioned in the section in which the light of intelligence was given precedence over that of the eye.

Fourth, the discursive spirit. This takes the data of pure reason and combines them, arranges them as premises, and deduces from them informing knowledge. Then it takes, for example, two conclusions thus learned, combines them again, and learns a fresh conclusion; and so goes on multiplying itself ad infinitum.

{p. 146}

Fifth, the transcendental prophetic spirit. This is the property of prophets and some saints. By it the unseen tables and statutes of the Law are revealed from the other world, together with several of the sciences of the Realms Celestial and Terrestrial, and pre-eminently theology, the science of Deity, which the intelligential and discursive spirit cannot compass. It is this that is alluded to in the text, "Thus did We inspire thee with a spirit from Our power. Thou didst not know what is the Book, nor what is Faith, [p. 41] but we made that spirit a light wherewith we guide whom We will of our vassals. And thou, verily, dost guide into a straight way."[1] And here, a word to thee, thou recluse in thy rational world of the intelligence! Why should it be impossible that beyond reason there should be a further plane, on which appear things which do not appear on the plane of the intelligence, just as it is possible for the intelligence itself to be a plane above the discriminating faculty and the senses; and for relations of wonders and marvels to be made to it that were beyond the reach of the senses and the discriminative faculty? Beware of making the ultimate perfection stop at thyself! Consider the intuitive faculty of poetry, if thou wilt have an example of everyday experience, taken from those special gifts which particularize some men. Behold how this gift, which is a sort of perceptive faculty, is the exclusive possession of some; while it is so completely denied to others that they cannot even distinguish the scansion of a typical measure from that of its several variations. Mark how extraordinary is this intuitive faculty in some others, insomuch that they produce music and melodies, and all the various grief-, delight-, slumber-, weeping-, madness-, murder-, and swoon-producing modes! Now these effects only occur strongly in one who has this original, intuitive sense. A person destitute of it hears the sounds just as much as the other, but the emotional effects are by him only very faintly experienced, and he exhibits surprise at those whom they send into raptures or swoons. And even were all the professors of music in the world to call a conference with a view of making him understand the meaning of this musical sense, they would be quite powerless to do so. Here, then, is an example taken from the gross phenomena which are easiest for you to understand. Apply this now to this peculiar prophetical sense. And strive earnestly to become one of those who experience mystically something [p. 42] of the prophetic spirit; for saints have a specially large portion thereof. If thou canst not compass this, then try, by the discipline of the syllogisms and analogies set forth or alluded to in a previous page, to be one of those 'who have knowledge of it scientifically. But if this, too, is beyond thy powers, then the least thou canst do is to become one of those who simply have faith in it ("Allâh exalts those that have faith among you, and those who acquire knowledge in their several ranks").[1] Scientific knowledge is above faith, and mystic experience is above knowledge. The province of mystic experience is feeling; of knowledge, ratiocination, and of faith, bare acceptance of the creed of one's fathers, together with an unsuspicious attitude towards the two superior classes.

{p. 147}

{p. 148}

[1. S. 58, 11.]

You now know the five human spirits. So we proceed: they are all of them Lights, for it is through their agency that every sort of existing thing is manifested, including objects of sense and imagination. For though it is true that the lower animals also perceive these said objects, mankind possesses a different, more refined, and higher species of those two faculties they having been created in man for a different, higher, and more noble end. In the lower animals they were only created as an instrument for acquiring food, and for subjecting them to mankind. But in mankind they were created to be a net to chase a noble quarry through all the present world; to wit, the first principles of the religious sciences. For example, a man may, in perceiving with his, visual sense a certain individual, apprehend, through his intelligence, a universal and absolute idea, as we saw in our example of Abdul Rahmân the son of `Awf.

PART III.--THE APPLICATION TO THE LIGHT-VERSE AND THE VEILS TRADITION

(i) THE EXPOSITION OF THE SYMBOLISM OF THE LIGHT-VERSE

We now come to what the symbolism of this Verse actually signifies. The full exposition of the parallelism between these five classes of Spirit, and the fivefold Niche; Glass, Lamp, Tree, and Oil, [p. 43] could be indefinitely prolonged. But we must be content with shortly indicating the method of the symbolism.

1. Consider the sensory spirit. Its lights, you observe, come through several apertures, the eyes, ears, nostrils, etc. Now the aptest symbol for this, in our world of experience, is the Niche for a lamp in a wall.

2. Take next the imaginative spirit. It has three peculiarities: first, that it is of the stuff that this gross lower world is made of, for its objects have definite and limited size, and shape, and dimension, and are definitely related to the subject in respect of distance. Further, one of the properties of a gross substance whereof corporal attributes are predicated is to be opaque to the light of pure intelligence, which transcends these categories of direction, quantity, and distance. But, secondly, if that substance is clarified, refined, disciplined, and controlled, it attains to a correspondence with and a similarity to the ideas of the intelligence, and becomes transparent to light from them. Thirdly, the imagination is at first very much needed, in order that intelligential knowledge may be controlled by it, so that that knowledge be not disturbed, unsettled, and dissipated, and so get out of hand. The images supplied by the imagination hold together the knowledge supplied by the intellect. Now, in the world of everyday experience the sole object in which you will find these three peculiarities, in relation to physical lights, is Glass. For glass also is originally an opaque substance, but is clarified and refined until it becomes transparent to the light of a lamp, which indeed it transmits unaltered. Again, glass keeps the lamp from being put out by a draught or violent jerking. [p. 44] By what, then, could possibly the imagination be more aptly symbolized?

3. The intelligential spirit, which gives cognizance of the divine ideas. The point of the symbolism must be obvious to you. You know it already from our preceding explanation of the doctrine that the prophets are a "Light-giving lamp."

4. The ratiocinative spirit. Its peculiarity is to begin from one proposition, then to branch out into two, which two become four and so on, until by this process of logical division they become very numerous. It leads, finally, to conclusions which in their turn become germs producing like conclusions, these latter being also susceptible of continuation, each with each. The symbol which our world yields for this is a Tree. And when further we consider that the fruit of the discursive reason is material for this multiplying, establishing, and fixing of all knowledge, it will naturally not be typified by trees like quince, apple, pomegranate, nor, in brief, by any other tree whatever, except the Olive. For the quintessence of the fruit of the olive is its oil, which is the material which feeds the lamps, and has this peculiarity, as against all other oils, that it increases radiance. Again, if people give the adjective "blessed" to specially fruitful trees, surely the tree the fruitfulness whereof is absolutely infinite should be named Blessed! Finally, if the ramifications of those pure, intellectual propositions do not admit of relation to direction and to distance, then may the antitypical tree will be said to be "Neither from the East nor from the West."

5. The transcendental prophetic spirit, which is possessed by saints as well as prophets if it is absolutely luminous and clear. For the thought-spirit is divided [p. 45] into that which needs be instructed, advised, and supplied from without, if the acquisition of knowledge is to be continuous; while a portion of it is absolutely, clear, as though it were self-luminous, and had. no external source of supply. Applying these, considerations, we see how justly this clear, strong natural faculty is described by the words, "Whose Oil were well-nigh luminant, though Fire touched it not;" for there be Saints whose light shines so bright that it is "well-nigh"' independent of that which Prophets supply, while there be Prophets whose light is "well-nigh" independent of that which Angels 'supply. Such is the symbolism, and aptly does zit typify this class.

And inasmuch as the lights of the human spirit are graded rank on rank, then that of Sense comes first, the foundation and preparation for the Imagination (for the latter can only be conceived as superimposed after Sense); those of the Intelligence and Discursive Reason come thereafter. All which explains why the Glass is, as it were, the place for the Lamp's immanence; and the Niche, for the Glass: that is to say, the Lamp is within the Glass, and the Glass within the Niche. Finally, the existence, as we have seen, of a graded succession of Lights explains the words of the text "Light upon Light."

Epilogue: the Darkness Verse

But this symbolism holds only for the 'hearts of true believers, or of prophets and saints, but not for the hearts of misbelievers; 'for the term "light" is expressive of right-guidance alone. But as for the man who is turned from the path of guidance, he is false, he is darkness; nay, he is darker than darkness. For darkness is natural; it leads one neither one way nor the other; but the minds of misbelievers, and the whole of their perceptions, are perverse, and support each other mutually in the actual deluding of their owners. They are like a man "in some fathomless sea, overwhelmed [p. 46] by billow topped by billow topped by cloud; darkness on darkness piled!"[1] Now that fathomless sea is the World, this world of mortal dangers, of evil chances, of blinding trouble. The first "billow" is the wave of lust, whereby souls acquire the bestial attributes,[2] and are occupied with sensual pleasures, and the satisfaction of worldly ambitions, so that "they eat and luxuriate like cattle. Hell shall be their place of entertainment!"[3] Well does this wave represent darkness, therefore; since love for the creature makes the soul both blind and deaf. The second "billow" is the wave of the ferocious attributes, which impel. the soul to wrath, enmity, hatred, prejudice,

{p. 155}

[1. S. 24, 40.

2. The following tripartite division of the soul, with its analogues, is Platonic (see Republic, bk. iv).

3. S. 12, 47.]

{p. 156}

envy, boastfulness, ostentation, pride. Well is this, too, the symbol of darkness, for wrath is the demon of man's intelligence; and well also is it the uppermost billow, for anger is mostly stronger even than Just; swelling wrath diverts the soul from lust and makes it oblivious of enjoyment; lust cannot for a moment stands up against anger at its height, Finally, "the cloud" is rank beliefs, and lying heresies, and corrupt imaginings, which become so many veils veiling the misbeliever from the true faith, from knowledge of the Real, and from illumination by the sunlight of the Koran and human intelligence. For it is the property of a cloud to veil the shining of the sunlight. Now these things, being all of them darkness, are well called "darkness on darkness piled", shutting the soul out from the knowledge of things near, [p. 47] let alone things far away; veiling the misbeliever, therefore, from the apprehension of the miraculousness of the Prophet, though he is so near to grasp, so manifest upon the least reflection. Truly it might be said of such an, one that "when a man putteth forth his hand, he can well-nigh see it not."[1] Finally, if all these Lights have, as we, saw, their source and origin in the great Primary, the One Real, then every Confessor of the Unity may well believe that "the man for whom Allâh doth not cause light, no light at all hath he."[1]

{p. 157}

And now you must be content with thus much of the mysteries of this Verse.

(ii) THE EXPOSITION OF THE SYMBOLISM OF THE SEVENTY THOUSAND VEILS

What is the signification of the tradition, "Allâh hath Seventy Thousand Veils of Light and Darkness: were He to withdraw their curtain, then would the splendours of His Aspect surely consume everyone who apprehended Him with his sight." (Some read "seven hundred veils;" others, "seventy thousand.")

I explain it thus. Allâh is in, by, and for himself glorious. A veil is necessarily related to those from whom the glorious object is veiled. Now these among men are of three kinds, according as their veils are pure darkness; mixed darkness and light; or pure light.

The subdivisions of these three are very numerous. That much only is certain. I could

{p. 158}

no doubt make some far-fetched enumeration of these subdivisions; but I have no confidence in the results of such defining and enumerating, for none knows whether they were really intended or not. As for the fixing of the number at seven hundred, or at seventy thousand, this is a matter that only the prophetic power can compass. My own clear impression, however, is that these numbers are not mentioned in the way of definite enumeration at all, for [p. 48] numbers are not infrequently mentioned without any intention of limitation, but rather to denote some indefinitely great quantity:--God knows best! That point, then, is beyond our competence, and all I can do now is to unfold to you these three main divisions and a few of the subdivisions.

1. Those veiled by Pure Darkness

The first division consists of those who are veiled by pure darkness. These are the atheists "who believe not in Allâh, nor the Last Day."[1] These are they "who love this present life more than that which is to come,"[2] for they do not believe in that which is to come at all. They

[1. S. 4, 37.

2. S. 14, 3.]

{p. 159}

fall into subdivisions.

First, there are those who desire to discover a cause to account for the world, and make Nature that cause. But nature is an, attribute which inheres in material substances, and is immanent in them, and is moreover a, dark one, for it has no knowledge, nor perception, nor self-consciousness, nor consciousness, nor light perceived through the medium of physical sight.

Secondly, their are those whose preoccupation is self, and who in no wise busy themselves. about the quest for causality. Rather, they live the life of the beasts of the field. This veil is, as it were, their self-centred ego, and, their lusts of darkness; for there is no darkness, so intense as slavery to self-impulse and self-love. "Hast thou seen," saith Allâh, "the man who makes self-impulse his god?"[1] and the Prophet, "Self-impulse is the hatefullest of the gods, worshipped instead of Allâh."

This last division may farther be subdivided. There is one class which has thought that this world's Chief End is the satisfaction, of one's wants, lusts, and animal pleasures, whether connected with sex, or food, or drink, or raiment. These, therefore, are the creatures of pleasure; pleasure is their god, the goal of their ambition, and in winning her they believe that they have won felicity. Deliberately and willingly do they place themselves at the level of the beasts of the field; nay, at a viler level than the beasts. Can darkness be conceived more intense than this? Such men are, indeed, veiled by darkness unadulterated. Another class has thought that man's Chief End is conquest and domination--the taking of prisoners, and captives, and life. [49] Such is the idea of the Arabs, certain of the Kurds, and withal very numerous fools. Their veil is the dark veil of the ferocious attributes, because these dominate them, so that they deem the running down of their quarry the height of bliss. These, then, are content to occupy the level of beasts of prey, nay, one more degraded still. A third class has supposed that the Chief End is riches and prosperity, because wealth is the instrument for the satisfaction of every lust. Their concern is therefore the heaping up and multiplication of riches--the multiplication of property, real estate, personal estate, thoroughbreds, flocks, herds, fields and the rest. Such men hoard their pelf underground--you may see them toiling their lives long, embarking on perils by land, perils by sea, up-date, down-lea, piling up wealth, and yet grudging it to themselves--and how much more others! These are they whom the Prophet had in view when he said, "Poor wretch, the slave of money! Poor wretch, the slave of gold!" And, indeed, what darkness is in tenser than that which blinds mankind to the fact that gold and silver are just two metals, unwanted for their own sakes, no better than gravel unless they are made a means to various ends, and spent upon things worth spending on? A fourth class had advanced a step higher than the total folly of these last, and has supposed that the supreme felicity is found in the extension of a man's personal reputation, the spread of his own renown, the increase of his own following and his influence over others. You may see these admiring themselves in their own looking-glasses! One of them, who may be suffering hunger and penury at home, will be spending his substance on clothes, and trying to look his smartest therein, [p. 50] just in order to avoid contemptuous glances when he walks abroad!

[1. S. 25, 43.]

Innumerable are the varieties of this species, and one and all are veiled from Allâh by pure darkness, and they themselves are darkness. So there is no need to mention all the individual varieties, when once attention has been called to the species. One of these varieties which we should, however, mention is the sort that confesses with their tongues the Creed "There is no god but Allâh," but are probably urged thereto by fear alone, or the desire to beg from Mohammadans, or to curry favour with them, or to get financial assistance out of them, or by a merely fanatical zeal, to support the opinions of their fathers. For if the Creed fails to impel these to good works, by no means shall it secure their elevation from the dark sphere to light. Rather are their patron-saints devils, who lead them from the light into the darkness. But he whom the Creed so touches that his evil deeds displease him and his good deeds give him pleasure, has passed from pure darkness even though he be a great sinner still.

2. Those veiled by mixed Light and Darkness

The second division consists of those who are veiled by mixed light and darkness. It consists of three main kinds: first, those whose darkness has its origin in the Senses; secondly, in the Imagination; thirdly, in false syllogisms of the Intelligence.

First, then, those veiled by the darkness of the Senses. These are persons who one and all have got beyond that self-absorption which was the characteristic of all the first division, as they deify something outside the self, and have some yearning for the knowledge of the Deity. The first grade of these consists of the idol-worshippers, the last grade consists of the dualists; between which extremes come other grades.

The first, the idolaters, are aware, in general, that they have a deity whom they must prefer to their dark selves, and believe [p. 51] that their deity is mightier than everything else, and more to be prized that every prize.

{p. 164}

But the darkness of sense veils from them the knowledge that they must transcend the world of sense in this quest; so that they make for themselves from the more precious minerals, gold, silver, gems, etc., figures splendidly fashioned, and then take those images unto themselves as gods. Such men are veiled by the light of Majesty and Beauty from the attributes of Allah and his light: they have affixed these attributes to sense-perceived bodies; which sense has blocked out the light of Allah; for the senses are darkness in relation to the World Spiritual, as we have already shown.

The second class, composed of the remotest Turkish tribes, who have no organized religious community and no definite religious code, believe that they have a deity, and that that deity is some particularly beautiful object; so that when they see a human being of exceptional beauty, or similarly a tree, or a horse, etc., they worship it and call it their god. These are veiled by the light of Beauty mixed with the darkness of Sense. They have penetrated further than the idolaters into the Realm of Light in the discovery of Light, for they are worshippers of Beauty in the absolute, not in the individual; and they do not limit it specially to one individual to the exclusion of others; and then, again, the Beauty they worship is of Nature's hand, and not of their own.

The third class say, Our deity must be in His essence Light, glorious in His express image, majestic in Himself, terrible in His presence, intolerant of approach; and yet He must be likewise perceptible. For the imperceptible is meaningless in the opinion of these. Then because they find Fire thus characterized, they worship it and take it unto themselves as lord. Such are veiled by the light of Dominion and of Glory, [p. 52] which are, indeed, two of the Lights of Allah.

The fourth class think that, since we have control over fire, kindling or quenching it at will, it cannot serve as divinity. Only that which possessing the attribute of Dominion and Glory and has us under its absolute sway, and is withal very higher and lifted up-only this avails for divinity. Astrology is the science that is celebrated among this folk, the attribution to each star of its special influence: so that some worship Cynosura and others Jupiter, and others some other heavenly body, according to the many influences with which they believe the several stars are endued. These, then, are veiled by Light, the Light of the Sublime, the Luminous, the Potent; which are also three of the Lights of Allâh.

The fifth class support the fourth in their fundamental idea, but they say that it does not befit their Lord to be describable as small or great among light-giving substances, but He must be the greatest of them; and so they worship the Sun, which, they say, is the Greatest of All. Such are veiled by the Light of Greatness, in addition to the former lights; but are still blent with the darkness of the Senses.

The sixth class advance higher still and say, The sun has no monopoly of light; bodies other than the sun have each one its light. So, as the deity must have no partner in lightfulness, they worship Absolute Light, which embraces all lights, and think that It is the Lord of the Universe, and that all good things are attributable to it. Then, since they perceive the existence of evils in the world, and will by no means allow them to be attributed to their deity, He being wholly void of evil, they conceive of a struggle between Him and the Darkness, [53] and these two are called by them, as I suppose, Yazdân and Ahriman; which is the sect of the Dualists.

This must suffice for the exemplification of this division, the classes whereof are more numerous than those we have mentioned.

Second, those veiled by some light, mixed with the darkness of the Imagination. These have got beyond the senses, for they assert the existence of something behind the objects of sense, but are unable to get beyond the imagination, and so have worshipped a Being who actually sits on a throne. The meanest grade of these is called the Corporealists; then all the various Karrâmites, into whose writings and opinions we cannot go here, for to multiply words thereon were bootless. But the highest in degree are those who denied to Allah corporality and all its accidentia, except one--direction, and that direction upwards; for (say they) that which is not referable to any direction, and cannot be characterized as either within or without the world, does not exist at. all, since it cannot be imagined by the imagination.[1] They failed to perceive that the very first degree of the intelligibilia takes us clean beyond all reference whatsoever to direction and dimension.

Third, those who are veiled by Light divine, mixed with the darkness of false syllogisms of the Intelligence, and who worship a deity, that "Heareth, Seeth, and hath Knowledge, Power, Will, Life", and transcends all directions, including direction upwards; but whose conception of these attributes is relative to their own; so that some of them may even have declared outright that His "speech" is with sounds and letters like ours; while others advanced a step higher, it may be, and said, "Nay, but it is like our thought-speech, both soundless and letterless." Thus, when they were challenged to show that "hearing, sight, life", etc., are real in Allâh they fell back on what was essentially anthropomorphism, though they repudiated it[1] formally; for they utterly failed to apprehend what [p. 54] the attribution of[1] these ideas to Allah really signifies. Thus they, say, in regard to His will, that it is contingent, like ours; that it is a demanding and a purposing, like ours. All of which opinions are well-known, and we need not go into further details with regard to them: These, then, are veiled by several of the divine Lights, mixed with the. darkness of false syllogisms of the intelligence., All such are various classes of the second division, which consists of those veiled by mixed. light and darkness.

{p. 169}

3. Those veiled by Pure Light

The third division are those veiled with, pure Light, and they also fall into several classes. I cannot enumerate all, but only refer to three.

The first of these have searched out and understood the true meaning of the divine. attributes, and have grasped that when thee divine attributes are named Speech, Will

[1. It seems inevitable to read ###. The feminine Pronoun could only refer to ### which makes nonsense. To refer it to a supplied masdar does not seem to be in our author's manner.]

{p. 170}

Power, Knowledge, and the rest, it is not according to our human mode of nomenclature. And this has led them to avoid denoting Him, by these attributes altogether, and to denote Him simply by a reference to His creation, as 'Moses did in his answer to Pharaoh, when the latter asked, "And what, pray, is the Lord of .the Universe?" and he replied, "'The Lord, Whose Holiness transcends even the ideas of these attributes,' He, the Mover and Orderer of the Heavens."[1]

The second mount higher than these, inasmuch as they perceived that the Heavens are a plurality, and that the mover of every several Heaven is another being, called an Angel, and that these angels form a plurality, and that their relation to the other Lights Divine is as the relation of the stars to[2] all other visible lights.[3] Then they perceived that these Heavens are enveloped by another Sphere, by whose motion all the rest revolve once in twenty-four hours, and that finally The LORD is He Who communicates motion to this outermost Sphere,

[1. See S. 26, 23 ff..

2. Reading ### for ###.

3. Cf. S. 41, 11.]

which encloses all the rest, on the ground (say they) that plurality must be denied of Him.

The third mount higher than these also, [p. 55], and say that this direct communication of motion to the celestial bodies must be an act of service to the Lord of the Universe, an act of worship and obedience to His command, and rendered by one of His creatures, an Angel, who stands to the pure Light Divine in the relation of the Moon to the other visible lights; and they asserted that the LORD is the Obeyed-One of this Angelic Movent, and that the Almighty must be considered the universal Movent indirectly and by way of command only (amr),[1] but not directly by way of act. The explication of which "command" and what it really is contains much that is obscure, and too difficult for most minds, besides being beyond the scope of this book.

These, then, are grades all of which are veiled by Lights without admixture of Darkness.

4. The Goal Of the Quest

But those who ATTAIN make a fourth grade, to Whom, in turn, it has been made clear that this Obeyed-One, if identified with, Allâh, would have been given attributes negative of His pure Unity and perfection, on account of a mystery which it is not in the scope of this book to reveal; and that the relation of' this Obeyed-One to THE REAL EXISTENCE is as the relaxation of the Sun to Essential Light, or of the live coal to the Elemental Fire, and so "turned their faces"[1] from him who moves the heavens and him who issued the command (amara) for their moving, and Attained unto an Existent who transcends ALL that is comprehensible by human Sight or human Insight; for they found IT transcendent of and separate from every characterization that in the foregoing we have made.

{p. 172}

And these last are also divided. For one class the whole content of the perceptible is. consumed away--consumed, obliterated, and annihilated; yet the soul itself remains contemplating the absolute Beauty and Holiness and contemplating herself in her beauty, which is conferred on her by this Attainment unto the

[1. See M. pp. [30, 31].]

{p. 173}

Presence Divine [p. 56] In them, then, the seen things, but not the seeing, soul, are obliterated.

And they are passed by others, among whom are the Few of the Few; whom "the splendours of the Countenance sublime consume",[1] and the majesty of the Divine Glory obliterate; so that they are themselves blotted out, annihilated. For self-contemplation there is no more found a place, because with the self they have no longer anything to do. Nothing remaineth any more save the One, the Real; and the import of His word, "All perisheth save His Countenance,"[2] becomes the experience of the soul. To this we have made reference in the first chapter, where we set forth in what sense they named this state "Identity," and how they conceived the same.

Such is the ultimate degree of those who Attain. Some of these souls had not, in their upward Progress and Ascent, to climb step by step the stages we have described; neither did their ascension cost them any length of time; but with their first flight they attained to the knowledge of the Holiness and the confession that His sovereignty transcends everything that it must be confessed to transcend. They were overcome at the very first by the knowledge which overcame the rest at the very last. The onset of God's epiphany came upon them with one rush, so that all that is apprehensible by the sight of Sense or by the insight of Intelligence was by "the splendours of His Countenance utterly consumed". It may be that that first was the way of Abraham, the Friend of Allâh, while the latter was the way of Mohammed, the Beloved of Allâh. Allâh alone knoweth the mysteries of their Progress and of their Stations on the Way of Light.

[1. See the Tradition on p. [2].

2. S. 28, 88.]

Such is our account of the classes of the veiled by the Veils; and it were not strange, if, after all these Stations were fully classified and the veils of the Pilgrims Mystical were fully studied, the number of classes were found to amount to Seventy Thousand. Yet, if you look carefully, you shall find that of them all not one falls outside the divisions which we have set forth. For, as we have shown, they must be veiled by their own human attributes or by the senses, imagination, discursive intelligence; or by pure light.

This is what has occurred to me by way of answer [57] to your interrogations, though, these came to me at a time when my thought was divided, and my mind preoccupied, and my attention given to other matters than this. May not my suggestion be, then, that you ask forgiveness for me for anything wherein my pen. has erred, or my foot has slipped? For 'tis a, hazardous thing to plunge into the fathomless. sea of the divine mysteries; and hard, hard it is to essay the discovery of the Lights Supernal that are beyond the Veil.

Pahlavi Texts, vol. 1 of 5. The Bundahis, Bahman Yast, and Shayast La-Shayast.
(0 Reviews)

The Sacred Books of the East is an enormous project undertaken by Max Müller and various authors from 1879 and 1910. The group's work was published by Oxford University Press and to this day many of the translations are the only ones existing or the most precise. These translations might be some of the most important literature in one collection the world has ever seen. It is not possible to buy the complete set of these works, but Google Books and Microsoft has done an effort to scan them all from library sources since they are now in the Public Domain. Please keep in mind that these volumes are huge, some of the files are more than 50 MB and has up to 3.000 pages. In total there is more than a hundred thousand pages.

Old Avestan Dictionary.
February 20, 2025 by languagehat 49 Comments
This is very cool and brand new: Heindio Uesugi's Old Avestan Dictionary is available as a free pdf from this page (in Japanese; just click the download button immediately below the image of the book cover). It looks very well done; here's the beginning of the Preface, which explains its history:

The Old Avestan Dictionary (OAD) is an attempt at a lexicographic synthesis of Old Avestan studies since the Altiranisches Wörterbuch (1904) by Christian Bartholomae (1855-1925) with a particular focus on aiding the elucidation of the Gāthās based on the line of analysis laid down by Helmut Humbach (1921-2017). The dictionary is accompanied by a new annotated translation of the Gāthās to further facilitate the general reader in discerning the sense behind the respective terms and passages when reading, reciting, or studying the original Avestan texts.

This dictionary is the fruit of a seed planted by Karl Hoffmann (1915-1996). In the years following the war, Hoffmann resumed his research on Vedic texts, which had been interrupted by his military service, and in particular on the Vedic injunctive verbal mood, which would later produce his habilitation thesis Der Injunktiv im Veda (1951, but not published until 1967). He had the idea of completing this work by citing the Avestan parallels.

While he worked on the Vedas, he asked his mother to collect all the Avestan verbal forms along with their translations from Bartholomae's dictionary into a card file so that he could analyze them. In going through the Avestan lexicon based on what he had discovered in Vedic, he noticed that Bartholomae (along with other scholars of his time) seemed to lack a clear idea of the single forms and of the verbal system of the Avesta, and in particular of the Gāthās.

Hoffmann soon realized that the Bartholomaean view of the Avestan verbal system had to be thoroughly revised, a task that seemed to exceed what he had anticipated as part of his research on the Vedic injunctive. He turned to Helmut Humbach to take on the task. In October 1949 or 1950, Hoffmann gave him the stack of cards containing the Avestan verbs and told him: "Schau mal, was du damit machen kannst."

Subsequently, Professor Humbach went on to publish three translations of the Gāthās with commentaries (and one minor edition (in parentheses below)) that would help shift the paradigm in Gāthic studies […]. The project of creating a dictionary became explicit during the preparation of the aforementioned 1991 translation.

However, various circumstances prevented him from completing this dictionary project. Considering his advanced age, he in turn decided to pass on his stack of materials to me, to whom he entrusted the task of completing the work. Although the skeletal framework of the dictionary was already in place, when looking at the details and through our discussions it quickly became apparent that each entry would require a thorough (re)assessment, and that the project would necessitate considerable time.

Until shortly before his passing, racing against time, we worked relentlessly on the dictionary project, going over my revisions, and spending hours debating each detail. […] After his passing, I was left with a promise to fulfill, the promise to complete the work as best I can, and to publish it in the best way possible.

We used Bartholomae back when I was studying Avestan with Stanley Insler half a century ago, and even then it was way out of date. This is a great resource, which I found at Nelson Goering's Facebook post. There a commenter said "The website has only 33 views. How did you end up being among first 30 in the world to know about this?" Nelson responded "saw the announcement in the Indo-Iranian Linguistics group here on FB. Only 159 people in that group to start with, apparently." So you're getting in on the ground floor.

he asked his mother to collect all the Avestan verbal forms

My mother would never have done that. I now realise that I had a deprived childhood.

The dictionary does indeed look very good.
The "Acknowledgments" section ends

Profoundly conscious of the prodigious alignment of the stars and the perspicacious goodwill which carried this vision step by step to fruition, with hands outstretched I thank you and bless you all from the bottom of my heart.

I'm going to have to work harder on my Acknowledgments sections …

I recall reading somewhere that Parsi priests were careful to chant correctly the traditional liturgy, many words of which have meanings they no longer understood.

If that is so, it might be interesting to hear now from Zoroastrian priests.

From what I think I've read, the pronunciation has been preserved – in India at least – much less exactly than that of the Vedas, with lots of substitutions of sounds from the local languages, so historical linguists have to rely on the spellings.

I might as well quote this bit from my 2009 post on Beckwith's Empires of the Silk Road:

He then goes on to the issue of Avestan, which causes all kinds of problems in trying to establish chronology and interrelationships, and brings up a point that bothered me back when I studied the language: "it has been remarked, 'The Avestan speech is very closely related to Sanskrit,' so astonishingly close, in fact, that 'we are able to transpose any word from one language into the other by the application of special phonetic laws.' Avestan's extensive case system and verbal conjugation system is not just similar to that of Vedic Sanskrit, it is almost identical to it. That is extremely odd." He gives an example of an Avestan sentence rendered mechanically into Sanskrit: təm becomes tam, yazatəm becomes yajatam, and so on. This "astounding closeness" is what makes people reconstruct a separate branch descending from a Proto-Indo-Iranian language. Beckwith has a different solution, one that I found immediately convincing: "Avestan looks less like an Iranian language than like a phonologically Iranized Indic language. The many inexplicable problems of Avestan… can be accounted for as an artifact of Iranians having adopted an oral religious text… from an Old Indic dialect. As required of Indic religious practitioners, they memorized it exactly, but… it underwent specifically Iranian sound shifts in the mouths of the Iranian-speaking oral reciters." This allows us to get rid of the separate Indo-Iranian branch entirely and makes the overall picture more plausible.

(I might add that the thread is enormously interesting and educational.)

I know nothing about Indo-Aryan, but was interested to discover recently that Pahlavi does the past-tenses-have-ergative-alignment thing, like Middle and Modern Indic languages. Similar origin, in replacing the original finite past tenses with periphrases using past participles, too.

Not sure what to make of that. I suppose it could be pure coincidence; after all, the Maya languages and Sumerian all do something rather similar with ergative alignment, so fancy Sprachbund explanations may well be superfluous.

Georgian, too. Ergative aorist, accusative otherwise.

Lameen says
February 21, 2025 at 2:45 am
Past tense ergativity is also Kurmanji Kurdish, and even a couple of Neo-Aramaic varieties – very much an areal feature. Geoffrey Haig and Eleanor Coghill are two of many good names to search.

David Eddyshaw says
February 21, 2025 at 8:10 am
Presumably the Neo-Aramaic could be plausibly attributed to Iranian influence, in which case perhaps this could be taken as a specifically Iranian-Indic areal phenomenon after all.

“Avestan looks less like an Iranian language than like a phonologically Iranized Indic language”

That’s a bold claim, but not a very likely one. For one thing, you’d have to assume that the “Indic” language in question was something more archaic in various respects than Vedic. Avestan preserves inherited words like aēšəmō “wrath” (cf. Greek οἶμα “attack (of a predator)”), which are not found in Vedic (nor, as far as I know, anywhere else in Indic). On the other hand, this is found in some other Iranic languages: we have, for example, Middle Persian xešm “wrath”. (Martin Kümmel lists this as a possible example of a PIE laryngeal reflected as Persian x-.) There are also morphological archaisms, like the Old Avestan nominative/vocative masculine plural vīspå̊ŋhō “all”, which metrically can’t be replaced by vīspe, the more innovative form found in both Vedic and Young Avestan (see 32.3a: aṯ yūš daēuuā vīspå̊ŋhō “but all you daiwas”).

There are also things like vāstrəm “pasture” that look like innovations in Old Avestan (to an inherited base), and certainly have no Vedic counterparts. This also has cognates in later Iranic. Same for Old Avestan spādā (dual to spāda- “army”), and probably at least a few more in the Old Avestan corpus (which isn’t huge), if you’d keep looking. Lexicon aside, I’m not sure how you’d explain morphological innovations like the genitive singular xratəuš vs. Vedic krátvas except by the operation of analogy (but not one found in Vedic for this word!) in a living language. (Young Avestan has xratβō, equivalent to the Vedic form, incidentally.) Old Avestan also shows distinctive Iranic semantic innovations, like vaēnahī “you see”, with *√wain- taking on the general semantic function of “see” that is very common in later Iranic. Vedic has the root, but still in the older sense “look for”. We do also have √spas- = Vedic √paś-, √spaś- still in Avestan, but the point is that the broader semantics of *√wain- already seem to be present.

A slightly different type of problem concerns close cognates that fit differently into the metrical patterns of Old Avestan just because of different sound changes in the two branches. In 45.4d, aṯ hōi dugədā “and his daughter”, disyllabic [dugdɑː] is required metrically, not trisyllabic Vedic duhitā.

I’m not a specialist in Indo-Iranic myself, and I’m sure more (and probably better) examples could be gathered. It’s certainly a claim that immediately rang false, even to a mere dabbler like myself. It sounds like he heard this one comment as a student, which is the sort of thing you say to get people excited, took it very literally, and built some grand claims off the idea without bothering to do even a little double-checking.

I’m also completely puzzled as to how the (rather larger) Young Avestan corpus, which is more conspicuously Iranian (in the normal view, because it’s younger and has had more time to accumulate innovations), is meant to fit into this. I guess you could propose that it’s an artificial attempt to emulate the Iranicized-Indic hymns of Old Avestan? It’s true that Old Avestan casts a long shadow over Young Avestan, but I have a hard time seeing how you’d make this work, if you drilled into the level actual language rather than glib overgeneralizations. (The quotation from Beckwith doesn’t actually give the impression that he’s aware of the difference between Old and Young Avestan. At any rate, his comments about lexical and morphological correspondence, even though they’re slightly exaggerated, only even sort of apply to Old Avestan, so I’ve read his “Avestan” with that adjective in front of it.)

“This allows us to get rid of the separate Indo-Iranian branch entirely”

What a strange thing to say. Even if you did want to explain Old Avestan this way, and ignored Young Avestan entirely, what about Old Persian? I imagine you’d probably even be able to establish Indo-Iranic well enough just on the basis of Middle Iranic, though it would obviously be more complicated. But some innovations, like the merger of *e, a, o > *a (both long and short!), and the relative chronology of palatalization first then vowel merger (e.g. PIE *-kʷe “and (enclitic)” > Vedic ca, Old Persian ca) is also there. I actually wonder how many of the major shared Indo-Iranic phonological or lexical innovations you couldn’t recover without Avestan.

Nelson Goering says
February 22, 2025 at 3:46 am
Another striking Iranicism already in Old Avestan struck me this morning: the various forms of gəuš.ā “ears”. The word does exist in Vedic, but only in the meaning “noise, din, sound”. Cognates of this still mean “ear” in various middle and modern Iranic languages (e.g. Sogdian ɣwš, Persian guš, Kurmanji guh, Baluchi goš, Pashto ɣwağ — the last with the extremely common derivative suffix *-ka- added on).

Nelson Goering says
February 22, 2025 at 4:42 am
(I said “various forms”, but actually the word occurs just twice in the Gathas.)

David Marjanović says
February 22, 2025 at 8:05 pm
Avestan also has straightforward phonological archaisms compared to Vedic. The cognate of Vedic medhá- is not *maida- (maēda-, I guess, but the exact outcome would depend on the stress or something), but mazda-. Vedic (and AFAIK Indic generally) has a (completely regular) merger here that Avestan (and AFAIK Iranic generally) lacks, and clusters like *zdh were sufficiently rare that anyone faced with a Vedic e would guess *ai.

(This is part of the Indic elimination of voiced fricatives; it may be blamed on Dravidian – like the reinterpretation of certain affricates as palatal plosives.)

So: Yes indeed. I actually own his Koguryo book. It’s a real object lesson in how not to do it. Here’s an absolutely justified takedown:

https://hal.science/hal-00194111/document

I think he basically doesn’t really understand how comparative linguistics works (I was just talking the other day about otherwise competent linguists who just don’t get comparative linguistics, and, worse, don’t realise that they don’t get it.) The fact that he seems to self-identify as a “philologist” may be a bit of a red flag in this regard.

Yes, that's my memory of his work as well.

I've read two of his non-linguistic books.Warriors of the Cloisters was an enjoyable, if somewhat overstretched, argument that universities are basically a Central Asian Buddhist invention; Empires of the Silk Road was a (well-informed) polemical rewriting of Eurasian history from the perspective of the steppe nomads being the good guys. (I say "good guys", but honestly the book's whole aesthetic felt worryingly fascist-adjacent. Possibly the biggest living fan of the comitatus.)

David Eddyshaw says
February 23, 2025 at 9:18 am
Beckwith's views on Indo-European seem to be basically crank stuff, and certainly betray a lack of understanding of even the basic principles of historical linguistics; see the comments on Appendix A here:

https://web.archive.org/web/20131226105908/http://www.ynlc.ca/ynlc/staff/hitch/review_of_Beckwith.pdf

It seems to me that his opinions on historical linguistics are essentially worthless.

He also wrote a comparative syntax thing called Phoronyms; the snippets of this on Google Books look very dicey. (He disses Alexandra Aikhenvald's opinions on these matters in one footnote, which frankly does not inspire confidence.) It looks like a survey based on questionable analyses of a few of his own pet languages, while lumping together several quite different phenomena under a supposedly unifying label.

I get the impression that he's very keen to picture himself as an "iconoclast." And to present himself that way.

J.W. Brewer says
February 23, 2025 at 9:34 am
I have actually read _Phoronyms_, maybe ten or twelve years ago, and thought it interesting although I did not dig deep enough into surrounding literature to assess with any reliability how plausible/implausible his attempt to draw connections between features of different languages (none IE as best as I can remember) typically treated as distinct by splitter-taxonomists was.

OTOH when I now go back to the online catalog of the New York Public Library (whose copy I read) I cannot seem to find it. Perhaps it has been deaccessioned because They are trying to suppress the Uncomfortable Truths he discovered? They do however seem to have two non-circulating copies of his Koguryo book (a 2004 printing and a 2007 one that may be a revised edition?) in the research collection.

David Eddyshaw says
February 23, 2025 at 9:46 am
Admittedly, judging a book on the basis of Google snippets is hardly fair play …

I'd have no trouble with him finding typological similarities between genetically unrelated languages*; though he seems to be prone to the schoolboy error of supposing that stray typological similarities can actually demonstrate genetic relatedness. (But, mysteriously, not in the case of Japanese and Korean, or of "Altaic" generally.) That wouldn't necessarily undermine the actual comparative-syntax side of the book, though.

* Waama and French share (among many other features): contrastive vowel nasalisation; grammatical gender; default noun-before-adjective ordering; basic SVO clause constituent order, but with personal-pronoun direct and indirect objects preceding the verb … one is driven to the conclusion that either Waama is Romance rather than Oti-Volta, or that the ancestors of the speakers of Waama spent a long period in contact with the speakers of Old French prior to migrating to Benin (or Dahomey, as it then was, of course …)

David Eddyshaw says
February 23, 2025 at 10:23 am
A gushing review of B's work on the Scythians tells me that he says that "much of the Arthurian legends of Britain come from the Ossetians." Another, that he describes himself therein as a "practitioner of what he calls 'classical comparative-historical linguistics'." And I'm an eminent nuclear physicist …

This emperor has no clothes.

Nelson Goering says

February 23, 2025 at 12:51 pm
“clusters like *zdh were sufficiently rare that anyone faced with a Vedic e would guess *ai”

Also a good point! Now that you mention it, the whole phonological conversion process seems a bit vaguely conceived. How would the reciters would have known to convert Indic h so consistently to either j or z (han-/jan- “smite”, but hasta-/zasta- “hand”), depending on a word’s etymology? Either there already was a spoken language pretty close to Old Avestan anyway so that the reciters could automatically substitute sounds in recognized cognates (and remarkably consistently so — no Old Saxon tins-effects* here, as far as I know), or reciters were extraordinarily lucky in how they happened to treat h in every instance. Or they were “Iranicizing” a form of Indic so archaic that it was practically Proto-Indo-Iranic.

*(This means “tax, tribute” is clearly adapted from OHG cins, itself from Latin census. The initial affricate of OHG has been replaced by its usual correspondent in OS: [t] for [ts]. An overgeneralization of the pattern from tin/cin “tin”, or timbar/cimbar “construction”, etc.)

David Eddyshaw says
February 23, 2025 at 2:22 pm
Found a pdf of the phoronyms book. It does reference a good bit of other work on classifiers, in fact, contrary to what I too rashly assumed. And he doesn’t here commit any sins of deducing language-relatedness from typological similarities – quite the contrary, if anything.

However, he does indeed lump together e.g. the “pack” element of both “pack of wolves” and “wolfpack” with classifiers of the kind seen in Mandarin – and more besides. It even has a section on “Russian classifiers” … (which turn out to words of the “pack” and “herd” type, in fact. “Terms of venery” …)

It describes English constructions like “pack of wolves” and “cup ot tea” as “pseudopartitive” (not a term B originated himself – he hasn’t simply invented it for the purpose) and attributes their distinctiveness to the syntax rather than the semantics in fine early-Chomskyan style, which makes it all seem more classifier-like. He asserts that these constructions differ formally from partitive genitive construnctions “in all languages examined.”

He should broaden his sample. Kusaal has formally identical possessor and partitive constructions, and the “pack of wolves” type is the same as the partitive/possessive. There is a difference between two distinct constructions of the noun nam “a plurality (of)”, which is used to pluralise any nominal which for whatever reason can’t make its plural by flexion (the standard orthography misleadingly writes nam as a suffix):

daam “beer”
daannam “beers”

na’ab “chief”
na’anam “chiefs”

But this difference is just in line with a much more general principle in Kusaal, that count nouns as generic dependents preceding another noun form compounds with them, whereas mass nouns do not. This has nothing to do with pseudopartitives versus partitives.

Beckwith does in fact go through quite a number of languages, in the process actually showing that treating all these constructions as aspects of one “phoronym” category is a pretty Procrustean process, even within his chosen language subset.

There’s a lot of stuff talking about the semantics of classification in general, but I can’t see that all that really helps his case that these are all manifestations of one single “phoronym” thing. All it shows is that classifier systems (properly so called) have strong semantic correlations. That doesn’t make “pack” a classifier in “pack of wolves.”

There’s something in all this, I think, and something quite interesting, too; but he’s seized on a partial insight and pushed it far beyond what the facts really support. Rather like what he’s done with “some Old Koguryo words rather look as if they are related to Japanese” or “Central Asia was much more civilised and significant culturally than has often been alleged.”

Japanese is described here as a “Koguryo-Japonic” language, incidentally, en passant, as if this were just an accepted fact rather than a fringe theory.

David Eddyshaw says
February 23, 2025 at 3:24 pm
[That should be daamnam “beers”, sorry. In the orthography I use in my grammar, which, unlike the standard, has consistent criteria for word division, “beers” is daam nám and “chiefs” is nà’-nàm, where nà’ is a bound word, rather than a mere word fragment.]

I was recently reading “Why Nations Fail”, and felt in need of a catchy term for that feeling you get when clearly eminent and knowledgeable authors treat an issue that you happen to know much more about than they do, and you find that their presentation is riddled with errors of fact and displays shocking unfamiliarity with basic sources; while, at the same time, they have a reputation within their own broader discipline of being particularly expert in that very subdomain, a reputation which they leverage into a key part of why people unfamiliar with that subdomain find their overall analyses convincing.

African history, in the case of WNF; historical comparative linguistics, in the case of Beckwith.

[Kusaal] na’ab “chief”

Is this from the same Arabic word that has been loaned and corrupted (via Persian and Hindi) into the English term “nabob”?

David Eddyshaw says
February 28, 2025 at 7:29 am
I doubt it.

The stem is na’a-, and the -b part is a noun-class suffix. It’s actually the human-plural suffix (cognate with the ba- part of “Bantu”), which appears as a singular suffix in a handful of nouns referring to older relations and other important people.

Mampruli, which has distinctly more words of ultimate Arabic origin than Kusaal, actually inflects the cognate word regularly: naa “chief”, plural naaba.

The etymon is, however, found only in Western Oti-Volta and Buli/Konni; it seems on first principles to be a plausible candidate to have originated from the unknown mother-tongue of the invaders who actually created the chieftaincy system of the Mossi-Dagomba states in the thirteenth century. They may have been influenced by Islam, though they were probably not actual Muslims (an awful lot of their descendants would have had to have become apostates if they were, which seems unlikely.) So I suppose you could speculate that proto-WOV *nàʔbá was the form of an original loan, and that the -bá was subsequently taken as a noun class suffix by analogy, with Kusaal (like Mooré and Farefare) showing a more conservative stage of the process than Mampruli and Dagbani, in still construing the suffix as singular.

Such a reanalysis is not in itself implausible. In the modern Oti-Volta languages, loan nouns are in fact usually fitted into the class system by analysing the final syllable as a class suffix where possible; as with e.g. Kusaal malif “gun”, plural mali, (cf mɔlif, plural mɔli “kob”), which is ultmately from the Arabic مدفع midfaʿ.

But the language of these invaders is entirely unknown, and although Western Oti-Volta shows a good bit of unique vocabulary compared to the rest of Oti-Volta, none of the relevant words look very Arabic; moreover, they include words like “water”, which do not seem like very likely candidates for borrowing from the language of foreign conquerors.

(When I first started on comparative Oti-Volta work, I overestimated the degree to which WOV is lexically divergent; eventually, I realised that this was an artefact of my knowing WOV languages much better than other Oti-Volta languages, so that I noticed the divergences more. When I started to look at actual numbers, I unsurprisingly found that every major OV branch has a good number of distinctive etyma of its own.)

“Chief” is not reconstructable to proto-Oti-Volta.

David Eddyshaw says
February 28, 2025 at 7:53 am
“Chief” is reconstructable in proto-Gurma, however: Gulmancema bádō, Moba bá̀d, Ncam ūbɔ́tī, Gangam ūbɛ́r, Konkomba ubɔr.This may share its root with Mooré bédré “great, big, fat” and Nawdm bed- “grow, get fat”: so perhaps originally “big man.” Lugal …

Now I think of it, Kusaal na’ab is the only case of this pluralis majestatis use of the -b(a) class suffix which isn’t a word for an older family member. Given the hostility of Kusaasi culture to imposed hierarchy in general, this might not mean much, but I think it’s the same in Mooré and Farefare, and Moorë even uses plural 2nd and 3rd person pronouns as respect singular forms. If “chief” is the sole word in WOV with a human-plural suffix which is not a family relationship term, that might bolster the hypothesis that the final *ba element was not actually a class suffix at all originally, and that proto-WOV *nàʔbá was a loanword.

David Eddyshaw says
February 28, 2025 at 8:34 am
There seems to be a semantic difficulty, in that even the Supreme Leader/King/Emperor is a na'ab, not just the local chiefs, who could reasonably be thought of as "deputies." Even the first Mamprussi king himself is called Naa Gbewaa in Mampruli.

On the other hand, I suppose there are plenty of precedents for words originally meaning "deputy" to get above themselves.

Owlmirror says
February 28, 2025 at 10:00 am
Regarding the semantic issue — one might speculate that even a Supreme Leader/King/Emperor might find it politically expedient to be thought of as a deputy or representative appointed by God/tutelary spirit(s)/ancestral spirit(s).

True. Examples do spring to mind …

David Eddyshaw says
February 28, 2025 at 12:30 pm
Though in the Mossi-Dagomba realms, it's actually the tendaannam, so-called "earth-priests", but literally "landowners", who have the religious backing; their approval is necessary for all land transactions, and to be eligible to be a tendaan you need to be able to assert a claim to be a descendant of the first indigenous settler. This is so entrenched as a principle that even the conquest by the Red Hunter's condottieri and the subsequent creation of the chieftaincies has never altered it. Proverbially, the chief owns the people, but he doesn't own the land.

(The resulting political tensions are very much a live issue to this day. We had an instance of that not long ago here on LH, regarding the politics of Tamale, in the Dagomba realm.)

Anyhow, "divine kingship" is very much not a thing in these cultures. Good old-fashioned right of conquest is more like it.

(Afrocentrists seem to be keen on divine kingship, as part of their ahistorical fixation on ancient Egypt. I expect the Golden Bough has got mixed into the stew somewhere along the line, too.)

On the other hand, I think there has been more Muslim influence than is often recognised in quite a few West African cultures that are not themselves Muslim, and Islamic notions of rulership do lend themselves quite readily to the ruler-as-deputy idea. And a piece of originally-Islamic political terminology could easily have been adopted without keeping all its specifically Muslim connotations.

I'd be keener on this idea if there were other cases in West Africa of words for "chief, king" that looked as if they might go back to the Arabic نائب; I can't think of any, but there are literally hundreds of West African languages of which I know nothing at all …

One for the Afrocentrists: Coptic ⲛⲏⲃ, Middle Egyptian nb "lord."
Coincidence! Is there anything it can't do?

There is also a Kusaal verb na'as "honour, respect"; this would do for a cognate, as -s can make causative/factitive derivatives. I've recorded it myself as having the right (low) tone to be cognate with na'ab, though both the Toende Kusaal and the Farefare dictionaries disobligingly show cognates with root high tone.

More to the point, there is a derived abstract noun na'am "chieftaincy", with exact cognates everywhere in Western Oti-Volta, and Buli too.

It's not just a stem na'a- with the mass/liquid/abstract noun class suffix -m: ringing the changes on noun-class membership as a derivation strategy is very common in Oti-Volta (as in Bantu) but na'am actually has a stem-final -m in all these languages.

Moreover, it has an unexpected tone pattern, with the Buli tones showing an exactly parallel irregular tone relationship to "chief" even though the actual Buli tones differ from WOV, with each word individually having the expected tone correspondences to WOV to be cognates, suggesting that the formation is older than proto-WOV itself. Though there's a lot of guesswork involved, I think that the protolanguage underlying proto-WOV and proto-Buli-Konni pretty much has to be put at a time depth of well over a millennium, and probably nearer two (or more), so certainly antedating the formation of the Mossi-Dagomba kingdoms.

So I think the WOV "chief" word is probably "honourable one" rather than "deputy" after all, and the *ba part really is just the human-plural suffix used as singular honorifically. Simple answers are often the best …

Thanks for the interesting question!

Simple answers are often the best …

Often they're also the hardest to find. But let's not get too real about this. You take what works for you at the moment, and repent later.

Is etymological nativization an option? (It would complicate everything most beautifully.)

David Eddyshaw says
February 28, 2025 at 5:30 pm
Yes, possibly.

The tone thing in Buli can possibly be finessed: the tone system of Buli differs from that of WOV, but matching up the correspondences is almost trivially easy from a comparative point of view, and the systems may well have been even more similar – even superficially – relatively recently.

The fact that the cognates of na'as "honour" outside Agolle Kusaal have the "wrong" tones to be related to na'ab may mean that this is just a chance resemblance, too. And I may have got its tones wrong: I'd back my own notes over the Toende Kusaal dictionary, but the Farefare dictionary is pretty reliable on tone.

The tonal peculiarity of na'am could be something of a two-edged sword, too. This peculiarity is specifically that it is the only case in my Kusaal materials of a word with Tone Pattern A (mid tones throughout, except for combining forms, which have all low tones) being derived from a noun* with Tone Pattern L (initial low tone.) If the word was a loan which has been reanalysed in terms of WOV morphophonemics, an imperfect reanalysis might underlie the apparent tonal inconsistency.

To complicate matters even further, it's not out of the question that the proto-WOV stem was *naʔ-b-m- rather than naʔ-m-. Underlying *bm may get broken up by the insertion of an epenthetic vowel when it arises in flexion, but in derivation it appears always to have assimilated to *mm or just *m. I can't see any way that this would help with the odd tone developments, though.

* There are a lot of Tone Pattern A nouns derived from low-initial verbs, but verbs do not distinguish between the A and L patterns at all, and it is not clear whether the verbal A/L pattern is the equivalent of noun Pattern A or of Pattern L, or represents a historical merger of the two. Synchronically it resembles the noun Pattern A most closely (I call it Pattern A in my grammar) but this may be misleading historically.

Finally, someone realised how difficult it is to study avestan without a proper dictionary…
One thing that confuses me though is why the authors omitted Yasna Haptanghaiti from the translation part and whether the dictionary includes vocabulary from YH or is restricted to just Gathas and Y27.13-15 and Y54.1?

I must have not seen the explanation to this issue in the preface itself so if someone could point me to it I would highly appreciate it, thank you.

Introduction to Part II mentions YH was not included in Part II because they deemed it less contentious (and instead to focus on the Gathas).
Introduction to Part I mentions YH is included in scope of Part I (one could potentially patch-up their translation based on that).

Secrets of the Book of Raziel
By Robert Zucker

Kabbalah's Secret Circles by Robert ZuckerThese pages are from the book on the legends and history of the Kabbalah, Sefer Raziel and the Book of Creation, "Kabbalah's Secret Circles." Read some of the chapters and download a free PDF sample of the book to preview.

The mystical "Book of Raziel," the Sefer Raziel, is considered to be one of the most important books on Jewish medieval magic. It is also called the "Book of Secrets" or the "Book of the Archangel Raziel (Ratziel)."

Angel Raziel in HebrewRaziel HaMalach (the full title) contains all of the knowledge of the Universe known at the time. This ancient manuscript explains everything from Astrology of the planets in our solar system to the creative life energy of this earth- birth, death, reincarnation of the soul and many other spiritual subjects.

This study section of the Kabbalah covers the Book of Raziel (also spelled as Ratziel and Reziel).

Angel Raziel Guards

The Book of Secrets
"Each day the angel Raziel makes proclamation on Mount Horeb, from heaven, of the secrets of men to all that dwell upon the earth, and his voice resounds throughout the world."
- Targum Ecclesiastes. 10, 20
The Book of Raziel originated when G-d gave the Secret Knowledge to the Archangel Raziel. Raziel HaMalach means "Secret of the King."

The Angel Raziel, Reziel, Rezial, Razial, Retziel. HaMalachAccording to the Old Testament, the original Book of Raziel - Sefer Raziel- was inscribed by Adam, the first human being. Legends also say the Book of Raziel was originally inscribed on a sapphire stone.

The Sefer Raziel has been one of the most reprinted mystical manuscripts besides the Sefer Yetzirah (Book of Formation).

The Hebrew word "Raziel" means "Secret(s) of God." Raz- means "secret" and -iel means "of God." In English, it can be spelled several ways, such as: ratziel, razel, razeil, reziel, retziel and other combinations.

How to Study Sefer Raziel
The information contained in the Book of Secrets is not easily revealed. Like most Qabalistic texts, there are riddles and puzzles to figure out to understand the true meaning.

When you study the book in English realize that the translation is based on the understandings of our culture and time- far removed from when the book was originally composed.

If you have a Hebrew edition, see the translation suggestions to translate it for yourself. You will learn much more about Raziel's secrets when you study the original Hebrew words.

Sefer Raziel

The Book of the Angel Raziel (book review)
By Rabbi Eli Mallon

Go to almost any Jewish bookstore — and you will not find a translation as far as I know. Yet, two translations exist: “Sepher Rezial Hemelach,” translated by Steve Savedow [1] and “Book of Raziel,” translated by Giovanni Grippo [2].

I usually try to write only positive reviews. In the case of both these books, I must begin by mentioning some problems: The first has to do with English-usage itself. I found some of the English unnecessarily difficult to understand. Mr. Savedow translated from the Hebrew rather literally — in some cases, perhaps too literally. There seemed to be many problems with English syntax, some of which might have been from trying to maintain Hebrew syntax in English. Continue reading R. Mallon's review on Sefer Raziel.

Sepher Raziel: A Sixteenth Century
English Grimoire
(Sourceworks of Ceremonial Magic Series) Hardcover – September 8, 2010
by Don Karr (Author), Dr Stephen Skinner (Author)

The Sepher Raziel text is given in two forms: a literal transcription with no changes in spelling or wording and a modern English version. This volume also includes a foreword which offers an overview of Raziel manuscripts, which represent a number of independent traditions, an essay on the literature of Solomonic magic in English, an introduction to the Sepher Raziel manuscript presented, an appendix on incense nomenclature as a supplement to Tractatus Thymiamatus, a list of printed notices and manuscript sources of Sepher Raziel, and a full bibliography of printed works on Solomonic magic and items of related interest.

Sepher Rezial Hemelach: The Book of the Angel Rezial

This is the first English translation from ancient Hebrew of the rare and complete 1701 Amsterdam edition by Steve Savedow. Includes an explanatory text on the holy names of God, the divisions of Heaven and Hell, and the names and hierarchy of the angels and spirits. Paperback: 320 pages. Publisher: Weiser Books (December, 2000). Language: English. Although it is comprehensive and has translations of the text, there has been controversy over Savedow's translations. It is a good starting point if you can't read Hebrew.

Sepher Raziel(German) Paperback – May 1, 2010 by Giovanni Grippo (Author). "Das Buch Razuel."

Liber Salomonis: Sepher Raziel by King Solomon (Author), Tarl Warwick (Editor). Paperback – February 15, 2016

The Liber Salomonis, referred to in its own composition as the Sepher Raziel, claims to be a book given directly to King Solomon by a mysterious prince and sorcerer from the East. Actually written in the Renaissance or perhaps as early as the Medieval period, it synthesizes Kabbalistic and Hermetic lore together and is divided into seven treatises. The subject matter ranges from the high occult of invocation and the names of angels and of the Judeochristian god, to herbal medicine and the creation of incense for the calling of spirits, to the categorization of twenty four beasts and stones to coincide with the hours of the day. With the entire core of the work ruled over by seven angels and seven celestial bodies, the philosophy behind its somewhat apocryphal historical content is nonetheless of extreme interest and is here presented in modernized English for the modern audience. 82 pages.

Download free copy of Sefer Raziel
Another option is to download a free copy of Sefer Raziel. This is a short, public domain, version of the manuscript in English.

If unable to download a copy of the Hebrew Sefer Raziel text, Amazon.com has a 70 page copy of the Hebrew edition in paperback called Book Raziel Hamalach.

On the download page are instructions to find free translation tools on the Internet. You do not have to know how to read Hebrew since these web-based translators do it for you.

Abstract
Pinchas Giller is one of the finest contemporary scholars of the zoharic corpus. His current study, Reading the Zohar, constitutes an excellent sequel to his earlier book, The Enlightened Will Shine. The Zohar certainly warrants the kind of thoughtful and serious reflection that Giller devotes to it, insofar as the Zohar is a massive, complex corpus consisting of some two dozen distinct strata. In Enlightened, Giller examined major themes in Tikkunei Zohar and Raʿyaʿ Mehemnaʿ. Although these are rich and interesting compositions, chronologically they are among the latest and were undoubtedly written by someone other than whoever was responsible for the foundational writings of the Zohar. In Reading the Zohar, Giller is primarily concerned with three seminal aspects of the zoharic corpus: Sabaʿde-mishpatim, cosmogonic descriptions that are preserved in various strata, and the four interconnected ʿIdrot texts. On its own, an analysis of such disparate and challenging sources would be an admirable undertaking. What makes Giller's study even more ambitious is that he also examines how these particular works were studied and interpreted. In particular, Giller is interested in how the kabbalists of Safed, most notably R. Moses Cordovero and R. Isaac Luria, incorporated these zoharic texts into their distinctive theosophical systems.

This short note deals with an epigram preserved by the Anthologia Palatina Book IX (360) attributed to a Metrodorus whom, especially for chronological reasons, one tends to identify with the Epicurean Metrodorus of Lampsacus, at least from the Phoinix von Kolophon by Gustav Adolph Gerhard (1909). This epigram looks like a “symmetrical” polemical reply to the immediately preceding one (AP IX 359), ... [Show full abstract]

Mastering new skills should be both efficient and enjoyable, and that is exactly what Reading The Zohar was designed for. This tutorial takes you through every stage of discovery and application, offering a structured pathway that simplifies complex tasks into achievable steps.

Each reader begins from a different starting point, so Reading The Zohar accommodates all experience levels. Whether you are learning a completely new system or refining existing knowledge, the guide adapts naturally to your pace and objectives.

From the opening chapter, you are introduced to a clear framework that defines the learning outcomes. The roadmap outlines where you are, where you are going, and what you will gain after completing each stage. This structure removes guesswork and builds momentum.

The initial section explains the environment you will work in. Before executing any task, Reading The Zohar ensures that you understand the necessary tools, requirements, and terminology. Preparation saves time and prevents avoidable confusion later in the process.

Once your foundation is in place, you progress to step-by-step walkthroughs. Each procedure is presented sequentially, using concise language and visual cues that make replication simple. Readers can follow along in real time, applying each instruction immediately.

Every phase ends with a short recap summarizing key actions, common mistakes, and troubleshooting advice. These checkpoints in Reading The Zohar reinforce what you have learned and prepare you for more advanced material ahead.

Practicality drives every lesson. Instead of theoretical discussion alone, examples demonstrate exactly how the concepts manifest in real situations. You will see how a specific command, formula, or principle affects outcomes when applied correctly.

In addition to guided tasks, Reading The Zohar includes optional challenges. These mini-projects test your ability to think independently and encourage problem-solving skills essential for mastery. Solutions and explanations follow each challenge for self-evaluation.

The writing style throughout remains professional yet approachable. Jargon is minimized; explanations favor clarity and relevance. Our goal is for every reader to feel confident enough to act, not intimidated by technical complexity.

Because learning rarely happens in one sitting, progress tracking tools are integrated. You can note completed sections, set reminders, or highlight parts to revisit later. This organization makes Reading The Zohar suitable for both short study bursts and extended sessions.

Each step is interlinked with contextual tips that save time or enhance efficiency. For instance, you might find keyboard shortcuts, automation scripts, or quality-of-life improvements that streamline future work. These small efficiencies compound into major productivity gains.

As the tutorial advances, so does the depth of discussion. Intermediate sections introduce situational variables—explaining how outcomes shift when conditions change. This adaptive perspective encourages flexible thinking instead of memorization.

Visual aids and infographics complement textual explanations, translating data into clarity. Every diagram in Reading The Zohar serves a purpose: to illustrate relationships that words alone cannot fully convey.

One of the most valuable qualities of Reading The Zohar is scalability. The same step-based logic can be applied to broader projects, larger teams, or long-term initiatives. By following its framework, you can replicate successful processes across different domains.

To sustain engagement, each segment concludes with reflection prompts. These encourage you to assess what you achieved, how confident you feel, and what you intend to apply next. This reflection transforms information into understanding.

Should any obstacle arise, a detailed troubleshooting appendix is available. It lists common errors, probable causes, and verified fixes. This proactive support minimizes downtime and strengthens user autonomy.

Another dimension of Reading The Zohar is collaboration. It encourages sharing insights with peers, inviting discussion, and comparing solutions. Collective learning accelerates improvement and reinforces community expertise.

At a technical level, all resources are formatted for smooth navigation—fast loading, responsive layout, and instant search functionality. These qualities ensure that nothing distracts from your focus while studying.

Security and version control are also addressed. Each iteration of Reading The Zohar carries validation markers so readers know they are using the latest verified edition, maintaining consistency across references.

Upon completing the tutorial, you receive more than factual knowledge—you acquire a repeatable methodology for continuous improvement. This skillset extends beyond the topic itself and into other areas of professional and personal development.

The closing chapters integrate advanced insights, tying earlier lessons into a coherent system. Here, you learn how to evaluate performance, document findings, and scale solutions effectively.

Finally, Reading The Zohar emphasizes lifelong learning. Technologies evolve, industries shift, and new tools emerge; the habits you form here—curiosity, discipline, and structure—will keep you relevant in any environment.

Take advantage of what this guide offers. Read, apply, reflect, and refine. Each repetition brings deeper understanding and measurable progress. Reading The Zohar exists to make that transformation attainable.

Start now. Follow the steps in Reading The Zohar , and watch as clarity replaces confusion, efficiency replaces effort, and mastery replaces uncertainty. Knowledge is waiting—one well-defined step at a time.

https://www.amazon.com/Tikkunei-Zohar-Revealed-English-Commentary/dp/1506134823

Just to note, most, if not all English translations of kabbalah seforim are highly inaccurate and are authored by people who don't subscribe to orthodox Judaism, sometimes they aren't even Jewish at all.

The one exception I can think of is Rav Aryeh Kaplan ZT"L, I have had the privilege to learn from his talmidim and have gained tremendously from his works, I would recommend learning his works starting with Inner Space.

As Bluejayke said above, it is incumbent upon a person to spend many years learning the basics of niglah, a.k.a the revealed parts of Torah like Tanach, Shas Bavli and Yerushalmi, Medrash, and Shulchan Aruch well before truly delving into the works of kabbalah head-on. If one has spent time learning these basics he won't need an English translation.

I have only learned the works that Rav Kaplan wrote on the general concepts of kabbalah which, according to Halachah, is permitted to be learned without extensive knowledge of the basics, each person should consult their Rav regarding when is the right time for him to delve into kabbalah on a legitimate level.

B"H

I don't necessarily recommend the translation, especially for people who haven't learned torah for 40 years and/or is older than 40, depending on the opinions (and I would much rather recommend actual chassidus that can be grasped by ones brain even in a simple and practical eat) but here it goes

If you think reading "nefesh habehamis this, nefesh ha'elokis that" is going to save the world, go for it. B'hai sifra yifqun beih min galuta berachamei. In this book [of the Zohar the Jews] will get up out of exile in a goodness. This is especially true of the Tikkunim which being in `Asiyah is already full of pikudim for example BRASYT = TReY SBT Two Shabbats, YRA BST, Have Fear of Heaven and Humility etc. etc. –

@nissim but the rebbe injured much more about the Torah than any of us do, and if he said that every soul should learn chitas, them we should probably trust him, and that statement applies equally to the chawseedis as explained by chabad, the current tanya is at one of the pretty intense parts right now, it's hawshgawcha prawteess of you start now, but I can't force anything, I'm just saying that the Rebbe, who knows much more than anyone here, says that it's something that every soul from the nation of Yisroyayl must do, even someone who never put on tefillin the Rebbe said to learn it –

Holy Zohar text. Daily Zohar -1069

[highlighter color="light-blue"]After you complete this study download and read this PDF Hadran-tikunei-zohar[/highlighter]
Tikkun 11

Rabbi Shimon opened and said "בְּרָא שִׁית, בְּרֵאשִׁית" "In the beginning" "created six" and these are six seas that God created. They are the aspect of the six sefirot of Zeir Anpin.

Ecclesiastes 1:7
"כָּל-הַנְּחָלִים הֹלְכִים אֶל-הַיָּם, וְהַיָּם אֵינֶנּוּ מָלֵא; אֶל-מְקוֹם, שֶׁהַנְּחָלִים הֹלְכִים–שָׁם הֵם שָׁבִים, לָלֶכֶת. "
"All the rivers run into the sea, yet the sea is not full; unto the place whither the rivers go, thither they go again."

The seventh sea is the aspect of Malchut. The 'rivers' that run into the sea are the aspect of the six Sefirot. They bring the light to nourish Malchut. The sea is not getting full because Malchut provides energy to the lower levels and creates returning light.

Psalms 104:25
"זֶה, הַיָּם גָּדוֹל–וּרְחַב יָדָיִם:
שָׁם-רֶמֶשׂ, וְאֵין מִסְפָּר; חַיּוֹת קְטַנּוֹת, עִם-גְּדֹלוֹת"
"Yonder sea, great and wide, {N} therein are creeping things innumerable, living creatures, both small and big."

This fish in the sea is the aspect of all the 'consumers' of the Light in Malchut. The small and big students need the 'water' of the Torah.

Proverb 31:15
"וַתָּקָם, בְּעוֹד לַיְלָה–וַתִּתֵּן טֶרֶף לְבֵיתָהּ; וְחֹק, לְנַעֲרֹתֶיהָ."
"She riseth also while it is yet night, and giveth food to her household, and a portion to her maidens."

The ‘maidens’ are the aspect of the seven seas that connect to the Shechina and that gives her the name ‘Bat Sheva’ meaning daughter of seven’.

The low level creatures in the sea are the aspect of the negative side that wish to hold and nourish from the light of the Torah.

The Shechina represents the Light of the Torah in Malchut. The Zohar reveals to us that she accepts the students that come to her with pure desires to dwell and nourish from the water of the seven seas. At the same time she can and will reject the ones that are not pure.

Rabbi Shimon reveals that in the aspect of the יהוה YHVH name, the ו V is the rivers (six Sefirot of Zeir Anpin) that bring the water to the Sea, which is the ה H of Malchut.

Those people with souls that know, come with בְּדָחִילוּ וּרְחִימוּ awe and love to unify the upper levels of Chokmah,י Y and ה Binah build a bridge between the YH and the VH. With that they create a flow of light to the world. Those who are not able to reach the higher level of unification are rejected and stay in the lower levels.

Rabbi Shimon teaches us here that coming with pure soul, awe and love for the Light of the Creator, our souls can ‘drink’ the upper waters and receive nourishment in Malchut from the highest levels.

After he finished his words, all the souls that came to listen to him rose up and blessed him saying “Your mouth reveals the Shechina, Sinai, Sinai, praise worthy are the ears that listen to these words from your mouth.”

They called Rabbi Shimon Sinai Sinai because in the previous study we learned that this is how he was called by the archangel, Metartron. They also used the double name as God used to call Abraham, Jacob and Moses to signify strong connection above and below.

Rabbi Shimon and the Zohar are our connection to mount Sinai, the light of the Torah and the Shechina. With every Zohar study we reveal that light for the whole world. [note color=”#EDC4E8″]With this Zohar section we completed the study of the entire Tikunei Zohar. I want to thank God for guiding me to this work that changed me on the soul level in so many ways. Thanks to Rabbi Shimon who wrote the Zohar to enlighten us and give us this amazing tool to better our souls and life. I want to thank my wife, Esther, for editing and correcting ‘Israeli English’ and pointing me to where I can expand or change the text to bring a clearer explanation.

I wish to thank you for being part of this study, keeping your candles lit and increasing the light of Tikunei Zohar thousands of times fold.

Now that we finished the study of the Tikunei Zohar, it is a good time to celebrate this event with a small meal and blessing of the food. This will help to manifest the light of the entire book in your life. Even if you joined the study recently you are still part of the global group that some of them studied from the beginning. With the right consciousness you share the merit of the entire group.

Tomorrow we continue the Daily Zohar and start the study of Zohar Pinchas.

with Love Thanks and Blessings to all,

Zion

Here you will find the original Aramaic version of The Book of Zohar PDF with its Hebrew translation and the Sulam (Ladder) commentary by Kabbalist Rabbi Yehuda Leib HaLevi Ashlag, as well as the English translation of The Zohar with the Sulam (Ladder) commentary by Rabbi Yehuda Ashlag, and commentary by as studied in private lessons with his teacher, Rabbi Baruch Shalom HaLevi Ashlag.

The Zohar PDF
Introduction to the Zohar - A Must-Read Before Approaching the Zohar in English PDF
Before opening The Zohar PDF, it is recommended to become grounded in an introduction to the book, and how to approach it.

Over the generations, kabbalists have often referred to The Zohar as “The Book.” Indeed, it is “the book” of the wisdom of Kabbalah. Today, it is surfacing in order to guide us to the world of perfection and harmony that it describes.

What is so unique about The Zohar and about the wisdom of Kabbalah? Why is the wisdom of Kabbalah more available on a global scale today than in any other epoch?

We constantly develop. Once upon a time, all we needed was to eat, sleep, find shelter, and procreate. Desires for food, sex, family, and shelter are the fundamental survival desires that exist in every individual. As time passes, our desires grow. We start feeling that other people have something—and we start wanting it too. We thus further develop through desires for money, honor, control, and knowledge. The more our desires grow, the more we exert to try and fulfill our desires, and we run after fulfillment and happiness by trying to satisfy the desires that constantly surface in us.

The more we progress from generation to generation, the more we also accumulate suffering. While we have suffered greatly over the course of history, today we suffer in a very unique way compared to the past. The root of our suffering today is a growing inner emptiness. This emptiness becomes expressed as more and more depression, loneliness, stress, anxiety, obesity, divorce, drug abuse, and suicide, among several other problems.

If we are common folk living in cities and towns anywhere in the world, then we are most likely influenced by materialistic values that make us constantly try to keep up with the Joneses. Society tells us that we should continually replace our wardrobe, get a new and better car, find a better job or career, achieve a higher academic title, travel to other parts of the world, and fork out money to buy anything that is on sale, even mostly when we have no need for it.

However, the moment we satisfy the desire is the same moment the satisfaction starts waning, and we are left empty again. New desires then surface, making us once again aim ourselves to replace our new empty sensation with another fulfillment—and we go for it once again. This process is nothing new. It has been happening throughout our entire history. Today, however, since our desires are bigger than they ever were in the past, then likewise, the feeling of emptiness is also much bigger, and it awakens existential questions more and more: “What’s the point of running after all these pleasures in life if we just get left empty again and again?” Whether or not we verbalize the question as such, ultimately we ask, “What is the meaning and purpose of life?”

The uniqueness of our era is that we have entered a transition phase where, on one hand, we are reaching the satiation of our materialistic desires, and on the other hand, we are asking about the meaning and purpose of life more than ever before. We never asked about the meaning of our lives like we do today. It was never felt as a growing empty void that leaves us with a sense of purposelessness in our material pursuits.

The Zohar appeared precisely in order to answer such questions about the essence of our existence. We had no need for such a book in the past, and it was thus concealed for a long time. Today, however, our need for its wisdom—to reveal our life’s purpose—is the main reason for its appearance. Also, while our desires are bigger than ever before, making us want to take from others and nature more than we ever had in the past, we have also become more globally interdependent than ever before. Our growing global interdependence coupled with our growing desires is a formula for crisis on a global scale. In addition to increasing personal problems, we also experience more and more problems on social, national, and global scales, whether it be increases in crime, mass shootings, terror attacks, nuclear anxiety, natural disasters or the pandemic, the accumulation of suffering in so many fields of our lives causes grave concern about our very survival as we head into an uncertain future. In the past, when we had children, we thought that they would have better lives. That is not the case anymore.

The Zohar predicted this state of the world. There is also an example in history of a similar situation that we can learn from. That example is the story of the Tower of Babel. In the story, people gathered in one place—ancient Babylon—with a goal of building a tower that would reach the heavens. It was the first example of the formula—Interdependence + Egoism = Crisis—in practice. Moreover, it was out of this atmosphere that the wisdom of Kabbalah, the wisdom that The Zohar describes, emerged.

The wisdom of Kabbalah states that we sense only a tiny portion of the true reality that exists, and it provides a method for attaining that much more expansive and higher reality. Moreover, the wisdom of Kabbalah describes our desires’ development over the generations as part of a process leading us to the discovery of this higher reality, and that when we discover it, we will see how the reason we were born, raised, and developed over history was solely for the attainment of the higher reality. Attaining the higher reality is the key to exiting the loop of pursuing pleasures in the midst of growing emptiness. It is the key to finding out why we are alive, and how to achieve an eternal and perfect state during our lifetime instead of dying with half of our desires being left unfulfilled.

In the story of the Tower of Babel, Abraham the Patriarch discovered the workings of our operating system: how we are managed from the higher reality in concealment, in order to gradually lead us to its revelation. Through his own discovery of the higher reality, he found how our entire material development reaches a limit, and that our spiritual development begins from that limit onward. According to Kabbalah, our desires for food, sex, family, money, honor, control, and knowledge are named “the heart,” and our desire to discover the meaning of life is named “the point in the heart.” The point in the heart is also called “a part of the higher reality from above,” and if we approach our desires a certain way, using the method of Kabbalah, then we can attract forces from the higher reality that influence the point in the heart until we literally get “pulled” up into the higher reality through that desire. This is how Abraham discovered the higher reality.

Abraham taught the method that he discovered to the Babylonians of the time who came to study with him. And why did they come to study with him? It was because of the growing divisive atmosphere that the story of the Tower of Babel describes—that some people sought solutions to the ruptures tearing throughout Babylonian society, and Abraham taught the method of how to rise above the differences and discover how nature works from the vantage point of the higher reality.

In kabbalistic terminology, which he used in his book, the wisdom of Kabbalah describes how reality starts expanding from the world of Ein Sof (the world of Infinity), through the worlds of Adam Kadmon, Atzilut, Beria, Yetzira, and Assiya, down to our world that we perceive in our inborn senses. It describes the soul of Adam HaRishon, and how it shattered into 600,000 souls, which fell into the level of our world, and how this soul undergoes development in concealment and exile until it start awakening to its root, and from its detachment in consciousness and sensation, it awakens and ends up discovering the same root in the higher reality that it once fell from, which is ultimately its place in the world of Ein Sof.

While Abraham was not the first kabbalist, he was the first to teach people and groups how to discover the soul and gradually experience the higher reality through it. The higher reality consists of five worlds, each with five levels, each of which then divides into five additional levels. As such, kabbalists define 125 levels (5 x 5 x 5) by which we ascend in our perception and sensation until we attain reality in its entirety. Moreover, this is a process that does not take place in some afterlife, after our death, but it takes place while we are alive here in this world.

When we attain the higher reality, we discover the flip side of our lives. We find how our lives in this world are like an imprint, and the higher reality is its stamp. In other words, we find how this world is the world of consequences or “branches,” and the higher reality is the world of causes or “roots.” Discovering the higher reality thus means discovering the causes for everything taking place in our lives, and how we can affect changes in our lives from its causal level. Our lives in this world are like lives of characters in a movie. They do not know the actors acting them, nor the script running them, nor the director behind the scenes. They simply act out actions that are prepared for them in advance. When we rise to the higher reality, then we rise from the level of characters in a movie to the level of the director. We get to understand the script behind our lives, and we enter into a conversation with the director about how to best influence the entire production taking place.

The longer we remain at the level of the characters, without discovering the deeper levels of our lives, then the more we will be led down a path of increasing suffering that will make us question its cause and purpose more and more. And the more we suffer, the riper we become to exit our current level of life, and rise into the higher reality. The wisdom of Kabbalah describes this entire process, and provides a method by which we can undertake the ascent to the higher reality.

Likewise, in our times, we find ourselves at a crossroad before two paths: one is the path of suffering, a negative form of development where we get prodded from behind, as we have been doing throughout history; and the other path is the path of light, or the path of Kabbalah, which is an active and conscious way to attract forces from the higher reality that advance us ahead of the suffering, with pleasure and understanding. Kabbalists knew that without implementing the wisdom of Kabbalah, we would reach a state where our very survival is in question. Both The Zohar and Kabbalist Yehuda Ashlag (Baal HaSulam) pointed to the end of the 20th century as the time when the wisdom of Kabbalah would start becoming revealed en masse, because existential questions would emerge much more throughout humanity from that time onward. And the longer we fail to address these questions and advance ourselves along a path of consciousness and understanding, then the longer we would experience an accumulation of suffering. Baal HaSulam called the path of consciousness and understanding “the path of Torah” where he wrote:

“There are two ways to discover the completeness: the path of Torah and the path of suffering. Hence, the Creator eventuated and gave humanity technology, until they have invented the atom and the hydrogen bombs. If the total ruin that they are destined to bring is still not evident to the world, they can wait for a third world war, or a fourth one and so on. The bombs will do their thing and the relics after the ruin will have no other choice but to take upon themselves this work ... If you take the path of Torah, all will be well. And if you do not, then you will tread the path of suffering.”

- Baal HaSulam, “The Solution.” (For more on this topic, see Baal HaSulam’s “Introduction to The Book of Zohar” [item 16], and the essay, “The Peace.”)

Today, nature is developing us by increasing suffering on all scales—personal, social, economic, ecological, and global—and cornering us into a situation where we will need to seek a way out, otherwise we will face destruction. And the way out is to discover the higher reality, the causal forces managing us and how to enter into balance with them. As we develop without understanding our lives’ purpose, we create all kinds of technologies with the aim of improving our lives. However, by creating these technologies “in the dark,” so to speak, they fail to ultimately improve our lives. This is because they fail to respond to our innermost needs that need to be met in order for our lives to truly improve. Thus, before developing technologies or any other creations in our world, kabbalists say that it is better to “sit and do nothing,” i.e. to contemplate the direction in which we are headed, and how to balance ourselves with the laws of nature working on us, before we set out on conducting actions to better the world.

When Abraham first revealed the wisdom of Kabbalah to the group he taught, some 3,800 years ago, they became known as “the people of Israel,” and the method remained with them for some time. After further development, around 2,000 years ago, the wisdom of Kabbalah entered a state of concealment from the public—a period known as “exile”—and was studied in secret by relatively small groups of kabbalists ever since. The purpose of its concealment and the exile was in order to wait for the time that humanity would need it, and in the process, let humanity intermingle to such an extent that the method would no longer remain with a single group that Abraham once taught. Also, in the process of Kabbalah’s concealment, several researchers of other teachings came into contact with it at some level, and without attaining the higher reality, they blended Kabbalah with religion, mysticism, tarot, magic, witchcraft, and several other teachings. Such mixtures of Kabbalah with other teachings only confuses people, as the sole purpose of the wisdom of Kabbalah is to provide a method for attaining the higher reality, and using it in detachment from that purpose is simply a waste of time. The hidden nature of the wisdom of Kabbalah over history gave it a certain appeal, and in our consumer-oriented society today, there are several organizations and companies marketing services and products with the name “Kabbalah” plastered all over them—which have no connection at all to authentic Kabbalah.

Today, however, the time of Kabbalah’s concealment has ended, and it has become readily available to anybody regardless of age, gender, race, or any other seeming difference. The wisdom of Kabbalah is a higher science. It belongs to no religion or faith, nor does it pose any boundaries or limitations to one who wishes to study it. Any person who wishes to understand the world he or she lives in, to know the soul, to know one’s fate and to learn how to govern it is welcome to study Kabbalah. Through the education that the wisdom of Kabbalah provides, we can grow up to become happy, confident, and secure people in the fullest sense of those terms: by establishing a connection with the causal level of our existence, and being able to toggle the tap that fills our lives with an abundant force from that higher reality. When we learn how to correctly conduct ourselves with these forces, then we match the conditions for revealing them, and we experience life on a whole other level than we currently do.

The Zohar is the book that holds the most powerful force in reality. Why? It is because it was written at the time when the wisdom of Kabbalah shifted from its openness to its exile. It was a time when desires grew in humanity, and upon the heightened desire of that time, it was written by authors who rose from the lowest level of this world to the heights of reality. Their exalted attainments led them to understand the need for such a text in the future, as such attainment brought with it an understanding of how humanity—and creation in general—develops. Therefore, they organized that the book would become concealed immediately after they wrote it.

The authors of The Zohar wrote it for our current generation: to let us discover and turn on the light switch in our reality that appears increasingly darker the more we progress without it. If we want to make a better life for ourselves, for our children, and for our grandchildren, then we need to learn how to approach The Zohar. It is a book like no other: it is a means through which we can connect to the higher reality. When we learn how to approach The Zohar in such a way, we will be able to access the higher reality, the abundance of spiritual fulfillment.

Kabbalist Yehuda Ashlag (Baal HaSulam) wrote four introductions to The Book of Zohar, which are necessary to study in order to gain a proper grounding and approach to The Zohar.

3) A Speech for the Completion of the Zohar

4) Preface to the Sulam Commentary

As a means of studying two of these introductions in depth, we recommend the book Introduction to the Book of Zohar by Kabbalist Dr. Michael Laitman. This book contains the full texts of these articles as well as detailed commentary by Dr. Laitman, together with several student questions and Dr. Laitman's answers, in order to become well-acquainted with the fundamental principles and basic concepts required to embark on reading The Zohar.

Before Opening the Zohar
Use this checklist to make sure you have gained a proper grounding and approach to The Zohar before opening it, in order to maximally spiritually benefit from the reading.

1) Take the Short Zohar Introductory Course, “Enter the Zohar”

Starting from light to heavy, we have created a short course that we recommend taking before reading The Zohar, “Enter the Zohar.”

Comprised of a handful of high production quality videos, as well as related materials and activity, in this course, you will learn:

What is The Book of Zohar? Where did it come from? What for? And how can we begin to grasp what is written there? Delve into the “language of branches” and see why The Zohar was written specifically in the way it was.

Understand the reader of The Zohar: understand who we are, how we currently perceive reality – and where is it that we want to get to.

Understand the writers of The Zohar: Who wrote The Zohar? When? And most importantly – Why?
Delve into “the law of equivalence of form” and start uncovering how through this law, The Zohar can help us build a second nature.

See how The Zohar lets us access the perception and sensation of the Creator, the general law of Nature.
How your nature is a will to receive, and what it means to truly reach an unconditional desire to give.

2) Learn the Fundamental Principles and Basic Concepts of the Wisdom of Kabbalah.

Since The Zohar is a key Kabbalistic text, then it should be approached as one. Without understanding basic Kabbalistic principles and concepts, which span what Kabbalah is and is not, what is the language of roots and branches that Kabbalists write their texts in and how to approach such text in order to reap maximal spiritual benefit, as well as concepts of who we are, what is our perception of reality, where is our free choice, and how to work with our intention during the study of Kabbalah, then you will simply be lost (in a spiritual sense) when reading The Zohar.

Our most recommended course of study to learn Kabbalah's fundamental principles and basic concepts is our course, Kabbalah Revealed at KabU.

3) Learn Kabbalist Yehuda Ashlag’s Four Introductions to the Book of Zohar

In the related documents section of this page, we have linked to Kabbalist Yehuda Ashlag’s (Baal HaSulam) four introductions to The Zohar, as well as to a book by Kabbalist Dr. Michael Laitman that gives in-depth commentary to two of those introductions.

As well as writing the most comprehensive commentary to The Zohar for our generation, and translating The Zohar’s Aramaic to Hebrew, Baal HaSulam wrote these four introductions to The Zohar in order to calibrate its readers toward a spiritual experience of the text, and not to get lost in empty philosophizing.

4) Review Other Zohar Preparatory Materials

We have created and gathered various materials on how to prepare one’s grounding, approach, and intention to the reading of The Zohar in the section “Preparation for the Zohar.” In this section, you will find the book, The Revelation of the Book of Zohar in Our Time by Kabbalist Dr. Michael Laitman. It is built of quotes from Dr. Michael Laitman taken from a series of Daily Zohar Lessons, and answers to questions of students, that aim to clarify why The Zohar was written for revelation in our time, the approach to studying The Zohar, the effort during the study of The Zohar, confusion and disturbances while studying The Zohar, and the importance of forming spiritual connections with others through the reading of The Zohar.

5) Watch Zohar Lessons for Beginners

Here are some recorded lessons on The Zohar with the participation of students from around the world, aimed more at beginners, so that you can experience a Zohar reading as it was originally intended: not as an individual undertaking, but as an act that takes place with others.

Introduction

"But the wise shall understand that their elevation comes from the Creator, the Tree of Life. And they who are righteous shall shine like the brightness of the firmament" (Daniel 12:3) thanks to the book of Rabbi Shimon, which is The Book of Zohar, from the supernal force that brings all back to the Creator. In the future the children of Israel will taste from the Tree of Life, which is The Book of Zohar; they will leave the exile with the Creator's mercy" (Naso 90).

The Night of the Bride

Rabbi Shimon was sitting and studying the Torah on the night when the Bride, Malchut, was to be joined with her husband, Zeir Anpin. Rabbi Shimon opened the discussion by saying, "In the beginning God created the heaven and the earth." The Zohar PDF
Introduction to the Zohar - A Must-Read Before Approaching the Zohar in English PDF
Before opening The Zohar PDF, it is recommended to become grounded in an introduction to the book, and how to approach it.

Over the generations, kabbalists have often referred to The Zohar as “The Book.” Indeed, it is “the book” of the wisdom of Kabbalah. Today, it is surfacing in order to guide us to the world of perfection and harmony that it describes.

What is so unique about The Zohar and about the wisdom of Kabbalah? Why is the wisdom of Kabbalah more available on a global scale today than in any other epoch?

We constantly develop. Once upon a time, all we needed was to eat, sleep, find shelter, and procreate. Desires for food, sex, family, and shelter are the fundamental survival desires that exist in every individual. As time passes, our desires grow. We start feeling that other people have something—and we start wanting it too. We thus further develop through desires for money, honor, control, and knowledge. The more our desires grow, the more we exert to try and fulfill our desires, and we run after fulfillment and happiness by trying to satisfy the desires that constantly surface in us.

The more we progress from generation to generation, the more we also accumulate suffering. While we have suffered greatly over the course of history, today we suffer in a very unique way compared to the past. The root of our suffering today is a growing inner emptiness. This emptiness becomes expressed as more and more depression, loneliness, stress, anxiety, obesity, divorce, drug abuse, and suicide, among several other problems.

If we are common folk living in cities and towns anywhere in the world, then we are most likely influenced by materialistic values that make us constantly try to keep up with the Joneses. Society tells us that we should continually replace our wardrobe, get a new and better car, find a better job or career, achieve a higher academic title, travel to other parts of the world, and fork out money to buy anything that is on sale, even mostly when we have no need for it.

However, the moment we satisfy the desire is the same moment the satisfaction starts waning, and we are left empty again. New desires then surface, making us once again aim ourselves to replace our new empty sensation with another fulfillment—and we go for it once again. This process is nothing new. It has been happening throughout our entire history. Today, however, since our desires are bigger than they ever were in the past, then likewise, the feeling of emptiness is also much bigger, and it awakens existential questions more and more: “What’s the point of running after all these pleasures in life if we just get left empty again and again?” Whether or not we verbalize the question as such, ultimately we ask, “What is the meaning and purpose of life?”

The uniqueness of our era is that we have entered a transition phase where, on one hand, we are reaching the satiation of our materialistic desires, and on the other hand, we are asking about the meaning and purpose of life more than ever before. We never asked about the meaning of our lives like we do today. It was never felt as a growing empty void that leaves us with a sense of purposelessness in our material pursuits.

The Zohar appeared precisely in order to answer such questions about the essence of our existence. We had no need for such a book in the past, and it was thus concealed for a long time. Today, however, our need for its wisdom—to reveal our life’s purpose—is the main reason for its appearance. Also, while our desires are bigger than ever before, making us want to take from others and nature more than we ever had in the past, we have also become more globally interdependent than ever before. Our growing global interdependence coupled with our growing desires is a formula for crisis on a global scale. In addition to increasing personal problems, we also experience more and more problems on social, national, and global scales, whether it be increases in crime, mass shootings, terror attacks, nuclear anxiety, natural disasters or the pandemic, the accumulation of suffering in so many fields of our lives causes grave concern about our very survival as we head into an uncertain future. In the past, when we had children, we thought that they would have better lives. That is not the case anymore.

The Zohar predicted this state of the world. There is also an example in history of a similar situation that we can learn from. That example is the story of the Tower of Babel. In the story, people gathered in one place—ancient Babylon—with a goal of building a tower that would reach the heavens. It was the first example of the formula—Interdependence + Egoism = Crisis—in practice. Moreover, it was out of this atmosphere that the wisdom of Kabbalah, the wisdom that The Zohar describes, emerged.

The wisdom of Kabbalah states that we sense only a tiny portion of the true reality that exists, and it provides a method for attaining that much more expansive and higher reality. Moreover, the wisdom of Kabbalah describes our desires' development over the generations as part of a process leading us to the discovery of this higher reality, and that when we discover it, we will see how the reason we were born, raised, and developed over history was solely for the attainment of the higher reality. Attaining the higher reality is the key to exiting the loop of pursuing pleasures in the midst of growing emptiness. It is the key to finding out why we are alive, and how to achieve an eternal and perfect state during our lifetime instead of dying with half of our desires being left unfulfilled.

In the story of the Tower of Babel, Abraham the Patriarch discovered the workings of our operating system: how we are managed from the higher reality in concealment, in order to gradually lead us to its revelation. Through his own discovery of the higher reality, he found how our entire material development reaches a limit, and that our spiritual development begins from that limit onward. According to Kabbalah, our desires for food, sex, family, money, honor, control, and knowledge are named "the heart," and our desire to discover the meaning of life is named "the point in the heart." The point in the heart is also called "a part of the higher reality from above," and if we approach our desires a certain way, using the method of Kabbalah, then we can attract forces from the higher reality that influence the point in the heart until we literally get "pulled" up into the higher reality through that desire. This is how Abraham discovered the higher reality.

Abraham taught the method that he discovered to the Babylonians of the time who came to study with him. And why did they come to study with him? It was because of the growing divisive atmosphere that the story of the Tower of Babel describes—that some people sought solutions to the ruptures tearing throughout Babylonian society, and Abraham taught the method of how to rise above the differences and discover how nature works from the vantage point of the higher reality.

In kabbalistic terminology, which he used in his book, the wisdom of Kabbalah describes how reality starts expanding from the world of Ein Sof (the world of Infinity), through the worlds of Adam Kadmon, Atzilut, Beria, Yetzira, and Assiya, down to our world that we perceive in our inborn senses. It describes the soul of Adam HaRishon, and how it shattered into 600,000 souls, which fell into the level of our world, and how this soul undergoes development in concealment and exile until it start awakening to its root, and from its detachment in consciousness and sensation, it awakens and ends up discovering the same root in the higher reality that it once fell from, which is ultimately its place in the world of Ein Sof.

While Abraham was not the first kabbalist, he was the first to teach people and groups how to discover the soul and gradually experience the higher reality through it. The higher reality consists of five worlds, each with five levels, each of which then divides into five additional levels. As such, kabbalists define 125 levels (5 x 5 x 5) by which we ascend in our perception and sensation until we attain reality in its entirety. Moreover, this is a process that does not take place in some afterlife, after our death, but it takes place while we are alive here in this world.

When we attain the higher reality, we discover the flip side of our lives. We find how our lives in this world are like an imprint, and the higher reality is its stamp. In other words, we find how this world is the world of consequences or “branches,” and the higher reality is the world of causes or “roots.” Discovering the higher reality thus means discovering the causes for everything taking place in our lives, and how we can affect changes in our lives from its causal level. Our lives in this world are like lives of characters in a movie. They do not know the actors acting them, nor the script running them, nor the director behind the scenes. They simply act out actions that are prepared for them in advance. When we rise to the higher reality, then we rise from the level of characters in a movie to the level of the director. We get to understand the script behind our lives, and we enter into a conversation with the director about how to best influence the entire production taking place.

The longer we remain at the level of the characters, without discovering the deeper levels of our lives, then the more we will be led down a path of increasing suffering that will make us question its cause and purpose more and more. And the more we suffer, the riper we become to exit our current level of life, and rise into the higher reality. The wisdom of Kabbalah describes this entire process, and provides a method by which we can undertake the ascent to the higher reality.

Likewise, in our times, we find ourselves at a crossroad before two paths: one is the path of suffering, a negative form of development where we get prodded from behind, as we have been doing throughout history; and the other path is the path of light, or the path of Kabbalah, which is an active and conscious way to attract forces from the higher reality that advance us ahead of the suffering, with pleasure and understanding. Kabbalists knew that without implementing the wisdom of Kabbalah, we would reach a state where our very survival is in question. Both The Zohar and Kabbalist Yehuda Ashlag (Baal HaSulam) pointed to the end of the 20th century as the time when the wisdom of Kabbalah would start becoming revealed en masse, because existential questions would emerge much more throughout humanity from that time onward. And the longer we fail to address these questions and advance ourselves along a path of consciousness and understanding, then the longer we would experience an accumulation of suffering. Baal HaSulam called the path of consciousness and understanding “the path of Torah” where he wrote:

“There are two ways to discover the completeness: the path of Torah and the path of suffering. Hence, the Creator eventuated and gave humanity technology, until they have invented the atom and the hydrogen bombs. If the total ruin that they are destined to bring is still not evident to the world, they can wait for a third world war, or a fourth one and so on. The bombs will do their thing and the relics after the ruin will have no other choice but to take upon themselves this work ... If you take the path of Torah, all will be well. And if you do not, then you will tread the path of suffering."

- Baal HaSulam, "The Solution." (For more on this topic, see Baal HaSulam's "Introduction to The Book of Zohar" [item 16], and the essay, "The Peace.")

Today, nature is developing us by increasing suffering on all scales—personal, social, economic, ecological, and global—and cornering us into a situation where we will need to seek a way out, otherwise we will face destruction. And the way out is to discover the higher reality, the causal forces managing us and how to enter into balance with them. As we develop without understanding our lives' purpose, we create all kinds of technologies with the aim of improving our lives. However, by creating these technologies "in the dark," so to speak, they fail to ultimately improve our lives. This is because they fail to respond to our innermost needs that need to be met in order for our lives to truly improve. Thus, before developing technologies or any other creations in our world, kabbalists say that it is better to "sit and do nothing," i.e. to contemplate the direction in which we are headed, and how to balance ourselves with the laws of nature working on us, before we set out on conducting actions to better the world.

When Abraham first revealed the wisdom of Kabbalah to the group he taught, some 3,800 years ago, they became known as "the people of Israel," and the method remained with them for some time. After further development, around 2,000 years ago, the wisdom of Kabbalah entered a state of concealment from the public—a period known as "exile"—and was studied in secret by relatively small groups of kabbalists ever since. The purpose of its concealment and the exile was in order to wait for the time that humanity would need it, and in the process, let humanity intermingle to such an extent that the method would no longer remain with a single group that Abraham once taught. Also, in the process of Kabbalah's concealment, several researchers of other teachings came into contact with it at some level, and without attaining the higher reality, they blended Kabbalah with religion, mysticism, tarot, magic, witchcraft, and several other teachings. Such mixtures of Kabbalah with other teachings only confuses people, as the sole purpose of the wisdom of Kabbalah is to provide a method for attaining the higher reality, and using it in detachment from that purpose is simply a waste of time. The hidden nature of the wisdom of Kabbalah over history gave it a certain appeal, and in our consumer-oriented society today, there are several organizations and companies marketing services and products with the name "Kabbalah" plastered all over them—which have no connection at all to authentic Kabbalah.

Today, however, the time of Kabbalah's concealment has ended, and it has become readily available to anybody regardless of age, gender, race, or any other seeming difference. The wisdom of Kabbalah is a higher science. It belongs to no religion or faith, nor does it pose any boundaries or limitations to one who wishes to study it. Any person who wishes to understand the world he or she lives in, to know the soul, to know one's fate and to learn how to govern it is welcome to study Kabbalah. Through the education that the wisdom of Kabbalah provides, we can grow up to become happy, confident, and secure people in the fullest sense of those terms: by establishing a connection with the causal level of our existence, and being able to toggle the tap that fills our lives with an abundant force from that higher reality. When we learn how to correctly conduct ourselves with these forces, then we match the conditions for revealing them, and we experience life on a whole other level than we currently do.

The Zohar is the book that holds the most powerful force in reality. Why? It is because it was written at the time when the wisdom of Kabbalah shifted from its openness to its exile. It was a time when desires grew in humanity, and upon the heightened desire of that time, it was written by authors who rose from the lowest level of this world to the heights of reality. Their exalted attainments led them to understand the need for such a text in the future, as such attainment brought with it an understanding of how humanity—and creation in general—develops. Therefore, they organized that the book would become concealed immediately after they wrote it.

The authors of The Zohar wrote it for our current generation: to let us discover and turn on the light switch in our reality that appears increasingly darker the more we progress without it. If we want to make a better life for ourselves, for our children, and for our grandchildren, then we need to learn how to approach The Zohar. It is a book like no other: it is a means through which we can connect to the higher reality. Before Opening the Zohar
Use this checklist to make sure you have gained a proper grounding and approach to The Zohar before opening it, in order to maximally spiritually benefit from the reading.

1) Take the Short Zohar Introductory Course, “Enter the Zohar”

Starting from light to heavy, we have created a short course that we recommend taking before reading The Zohar, “Enter the Zohar.”

Comprised of a handful of high production quality videos, as well as related materials and activity, in this course, you will learn:

What is The Book of Zohar? Where did it come from? What for? And how can we begin to grasp what is written there? Delve into the “language of branches” and see why The Zohar was written specifically in the way it was.

Understand the reader of The Zohar: understand who we are, how we currently perceive reality – and where is it that we want to get to.

Understand the writers of The Zohar: Who wrote The Zohar? When? And most importantly – Why?
Delve into “the law of equivalence of form” and start uncovering how through this law, The Zohar can help us build a second nature.

See how The Zohar lets us access the perception and sensation of the Creator, the general law of Nature.
How your nature is a will to receive, and what it means to truly reach an unconditional desire to give.

2) Learn the Fundamental Principles and Basic Concepts of the Wisdom of Kabbalah.

Since The Zohar is a key Kabbalistic text, then it should be approached as one. Without understanding basic Kabbalistic principles and concepts, which span what Kabbalah is and is not, what is the language of roots and branches that Kabbalists write their texts in and how to approach such text in order to reap maximal spiritual benefit, as well as concepts of who we are, what is our perception of reality, where is our free choice, and how to work with our intention during the study of Kabbalah, then you will simply be lost (in a spiritual sense) when reading The Zohar.

Our most recommended course of study to learn Kabbalah's fundamental principles and basic concepts is our course, Kabbalah Revealed at KabU.

3) Learn Kabbalist Yehuda Ashlag's Four Introductions to the Book of Zohar

In the related documents section of this page, we have linked to Kabbalist Yehuda Ashlag's (Baal HaSulam) four introductions to The Zohar, as well as to a book by Kabbalist Dr. Michael Laitman that gives in-depth commentary to two of those introductions.

As well as writing the most comprehensive commentary to The Zohar for our generation, and translating The Zohar's Aramaic to Hebrew, Baal HaSulam wrote these four introductions to The Zohar in order to calibrate its readers toward a spiritual experience of the text, and not to get lost in empty philosophizing.

4) Review Other Zohar Preparatory Materials

We have created and gathered various materials on how to prepare one's grounding, approach, and intention to the reading of The Zohar in the section "Preparation for the Zohar." In this section, you will find the book, The Revelation of the Book of Zohar in Our Time by Kabbalist Dr. Michael Laitman. It is built of quotes from Dr. Michael Laitman taken from a series of Daily Zohar Lessons, and answers to questions of students, that aim to clarify why The Zohar was written for revelation in our time, the approach to studying The Zohar, the effort during the study of The Zohar, confusion and disturbances while studying The Zohar, and the importance of forming spiritual connections with others through the reading of The Zohar.

The Zohar PDF

Introduction to the Zohar - A Must-Read Before Approaching the Zohar in English PDF

Before opening The Zohar PDF, it is recommended to become grounded in an introduction to the book, and how to approach it.

Over the generations, kabbalists have often referred to The Zohar as “The Book.” Indeed, it is “the book” of the wisdom of Kabbalah. Today, it is surfacing in order to guide us to the world of perfection and harmony that it describes.

What is so unique about The Zohar and about the wisdom of Kabbalah? Why is the wisdom of Kabbalah more available on a global scale today than in any other epoch?

We constantly develop. Once upon a time, all we needed was to eat, sleep, find shelter, and procreate. Desires for food, sex, family, and shelter are the fundamental survival desires that exist in every individual. As time passes, our desires grow. We start feeling that other people have something—and we start wanting it too. We thus further develop through desires for money, honor, control, and knowledge. The more our desires grow, the more we exert to try and fulfill our desires, and we run after fulfillment and happiness by trying to satisfy the desires that constantly surface in us.

The more we progress from generation to generation, the more we also accumulate suffering. While we have suffered greatly over the course of history, today we suffer in a very unique way compared to the past. The root of our suffering today is a growing inner emptiness. This emptiness becomes expressed as more and more depression, loneliness, stress, anxiety, obesity, divorce, drug abuse, and suicide, among several other problems.

If we are common folk living in cities and towns anywhere in the world, then we are most likely influenced by materialistic values that make us constantly try to keep up with the Joneses. Society tells us that we should continually replace our wardrobe, get a new and better car, find a better job or career, achieve a higher academic title, travel to other parts of the world, and fork out money to buy anything that is on sale, even mostly when we have no need for it.

However, the moment we satisfy the desire is the same moment the satisfaction starts waning, and we are left empty again. New desires then surface, making us once again aim ourselves to replace our new empty sensation with another fulfillment—and we go for it once again. This process is nothing new. It has been happening throughout our entire history. Today, however, since our desires are bigger than they ever were in the past, then likewise, the feeling of emptiness is also much bigger, and it awakens existential questions more and more: “What’s the point of running after all these pleasures in life if we just get left empty again and again?” Whether or not we verbalize the question as such, ultimately we ask, “What is the meaning and purpose of life?”

The uniqueness of our era is that we have entered a transition phase where, on one hand, we are reaching the satiation of our materialistic desires, and on the other hand, we are asking about the meaning and purpose of life more than ever before. We never asked about the meaning of our lives like we do today. It was never felt as a growing empty void that leaves us with a sense of purposelessness in our material pursuits.

The Zohar appeared precisely in order to answer such questions about the essence of our existence. We had no need for such a book in the past, and it was thus concealed for a long time. Today, however, our need for its wisdom—to reveal our life's purpose—is the main reason for its appearance. Also, while our desires are bigger than ever before, making us want to take from others and nature more than we ever had in the past, we have also become more globally interdependent than ever before. Our growing global interdependence coupled with our growing desires is a formula for crisis on a global scale. In addition to increasing personal problems, we also experience more and more problems on social, national, and global scales, whether it be increases in crime, mass shootings, terror attacks, nuclear anxiety, natural disasters or the pandemic, the accumulation of suffering in so many fields of our lives causes grave concern about our very survival as we head into an uncertain future. In the past, when we had children, we thought that they would have better lives. That is not the case anymore.

The Zohar predicted this state of the world. There is also an example in history of a similar situation that we can learn from. That example is the story of the Tower of Babel. In the story, people gathered in one place—ancient Babylon—with a goal of building a tower that would reach the heavens. It was the first example of the formula—Interdependence + Egoism = Crisis—in practice. Moreover, it was out of this atmosphere that the wisdom of Kabbalah, the wisdom that The Zohar describes, emerged.

The wisdom of Kabbalah states that we sense only a tiny portion of the true reality that exists, and it provides a method for attaining that much more expansive and higher reality. Moreover, the wisdom of Kabbalah describes our desires' development over the generations as part of a process leading us to the discovery of this higher reality, and that when we discover it, we will see how the reason we were born, raised, and developed over history was solely for the attainment of the higher reality. Attaining the higher reality is the key to exiting the loop of pursuing pleasures in the midst of growing emptiness. It is the key to finding out why we are alive, and how to achieve an eternal and perfect state during our lifetime instead of dying with half of our desires being left unfulfilled.

In the story of the Tower of Babel, Abraham the Patriarch discovered the workings of our operating system: how we are managed from the higher reality in concealment, in order to gradually lead us to its revelation. Through his own discovery of the higher reality, he found how our entire material development reaches a limit, and that our spiritual development begins from that limit onward. According to Kabbalah, our desires for food, sex, family, money, honor, control, and knowledge are named “the heart,” and our desire to discover the meaning of life is named “the point in the heart.” The point in the heart is also called “a part of the higher reality from above,” and if we approach our desires a certain way, using the method of Kabbalah, then we can attract forces from the higher reality that influence the point in the heart until we literally get “pulled” up into the higher reality through that desire. This is how Abraham discovered the higher reality.

Abraham taught the method that he discovered to the Babylonians of the time who came to study with him. And why did they come to study with him? It was because of the growing divisive atmosphere that the story of the Tower of Babel describes—that some people sought solutions to the ruptures tearing throughout Babylonian society, and Abraham taught the method of how to rise above the differences and discover how nature works from the vantage point of the higher reality.

In kabbalistic terminology, which he used in his book, the wisdom of Kabbalah describes how reality starts expanding from the world of Ein Sof (the world of Infinity), through the worlds of Adam Kadmon, Atzilut, Beria, Yetzira, and Assiya, down to our world that we perceive in our inborn senses. It describes the soul of Adam HaRishon, and how it shattered into 600,000 souls, which fell into the level of our world, and how this soul undergoes development in concealment and exile until it start awakening to its root, and from its detachment in consciousness and sensation, it awakens and ends up discovering the same root in the higher reality that it once fell from, which is ultimately its place in the world of Ein Sof.

While Abraham was not the first kabbalist, he was the first to teach people and groups how to discover the soul and gradually experience the higher reality through it. The higher reality consists of five worlds, each with five levels, each of which then divides into five additional levels. As such, kabbalists define 125 levels (5 x 5 x 5) by which we ascend in our perception and sensation until we attain reality in its entirety. Moreover, this is a process that does not take place in some afterlife, after our death, but it takes place while we are alive here in this world.

When we attain the higher reality, we discover the flip side of our lives. We find how our lives in this world are like an imprint, and the higher reality is its stamp. In other words, we find how this world is the world of consequences or “branches,” and the higher reality is the world of causes or “roots.” Discovering the higher reality thus means discovering the causes for everything taking place in our lives, and how we can affect changes in our lives from its causal level. Our lives in this world are like lives of characters in a movie. They do not know the actors acting them, nor the script running them, nor the director behind the scenes. They simply act out actions that are prepared for them in advance. When we rise to the higher reality, then we rise from the level of characters in a movie to the level of the director. We get to understand the script behind our lives, and we enter into a conversation with the director about how to best influence the entire production taking place.

The longer we remain at the level of the characters, without discovering the deeper levels of our lives, then the more we will be led down a path of increasing suffering that will make us question its cause and purpose more and more. And the more we suffer, the riper we become to exit our current level of life, and rise into the higher reality. The wisdom of Kabbalah describes this entire process, and provides a method by which we can undertake the ascent to the higher reality.

Likewise, in our times, we find ourselves at a crossroad before two paths: one is the path of suffering, a negative form of development where we get prodded from behind, as we have been doing throughout history; and the other path is the path of light, or the path of Kabbalah, which is an active and conscious way to attract forces from the higher reality that advance us ahead of the suffering, with pleasure and understanding. Kabbalists knew that without implementing the wisdom of Kabbalah, we would reach a state where our very survival is in question. Both The Zohar and Kabbalist Yehuda Ashlag (Baal HaSulam) pointed to the end of the 20th century as the time when the wisdom of Kabbalah would start becoming revealed en masse, because existential questions would emerge much more throughout humanity from that time onward. And the longer we fail to address these questions and advance ourselves along a path of consciousness and understanding, then the longer we would experience an accumulation of suffering. Baal HaSulam called the path of consciousness and understanding “the path of Torah” where he wrote:

“There are two ways to discover the completeness: the path of Torah and the path of suffering. Hence, the Creator eventuated and gave humanity technology, until they have invented the atom and the hydrogen bombs. If the total ruin that they are destined to bring is still not evident to the world, they can wait for a third world war, or a fourth one and so on. The bombs will do their thing and the relics after the ruin will have no other choice but to take upon themselves this work ... If you take the path of Torah, all will be well. And if you do not, then you will tread the path of suffering.”

- Baal HaSulam, “The Solution.” (For more on this topic, see Baal HaSulam’s “Introduction to The Book of Zohar” [item 16], and the essay, “The Peace.”)

Today, nature is developing us by increasing suffering on all scales—personal, social, economic, ecological, and global—and cornering us into a situation where we will need to seek a way out, otherwise we will face destruction. And the way out is to discover the higher reality, the causal forces managing us and how to enter into balance with them. As we develop without understanding our lives’ purpose, we create all kinds of technologies with the aim of improving our lives. However, by creating these technologies “in the dark,” so to speak, they fail to ultimately improve our lives. This is because they fail to respond to our innermost needs that need to be met in order for our lives to truly improve. Thus, before developing technologies or any other creations in our world, kabbalists say that it is better to “sit and do nothing,” i.e. to contemplate the direction in which we are headed, and how to balance ourselves with the laws of nature working on us, before we set out on conducting actions to better the world.

When Abraham first revealed the wisdom of Kabbalah to the group he taught, some 3,800 years ago, they became known as “the people of Israel,” and the method remained with them for some time. After further development, around 2,000 years ago, the wisdom of Kabbalah entered a state of concealment from the public—a period known as “exile”—and was studied in secret by relatively small groups of kabbalists ever since. The purpose of its concealment and the exile was in order to wait for the time that humanity would need it, and in the process, let humanity intermingle to such an extent that the method would no longer remain with a single group that Abraham once taught. Also, in the process of Kabbalah’s concealment, several researchers of other teachings came into contact with it at some level, and without attaining the higher reality, they blended Kabbalah with religion, mysticism, tarot, magic, witchcraft, and several other teachings. Such mixtures of Kabbalah with other teachings only confuses people, as the sole purpose of the wisdom of Kabbalah is to provide a method for attaining the higher reality, and using it in detachment from that purpose is simply a waste of time. The hidden nature of the wisdom of Kabbalah over history gave it a certain appeal, and in our consumer-oriented society today, there are several organizations and companies marketing services and products with the name “Kabbalah” plastered all over them—which have no connection at all to authentic Kabbalah.

Today, however, the time of Kabbalah’s concealment has ended, and it has become readily available to anybody regardless of age, gender, race, or any other seeming difference. The wisdom of Kabbalah is a higher science. It belongs to no religion or faith, nor does it pose any boundaries or limitations to one who wishes to study it. Any person who wishes to understand the world he or she lives in, to know the soul, to know one’s fate and to learn how to govern it is welcome to study Kabbalah. Through the education that the wisdom of Kabbalah provides, we can grow up to become happy, confident, and secure people in the fullest sense of those terms: by establishing a connection with the causal level of our existence, and being able to toggle the tap that fills our lives with an abundant force from that higher reality. When we learn how to correctly conduct ourselves with these forces, then we match the conditions for revealing them, and we experience life on a whole other level than we currently do.

The Zohar is the book that holds the most powerful force in reality. Why? It is because it was written at the time when the wisdom of Kabbalah shifted from its openness to its exile. It was a time when desires grew in humanity, and upon the heightened desire of that time, it was written by authors who rose from the lowest level of this world to the heights of reality. Their exalted attainments led them to understand the need for such a text in the future, as such attainment brought with it an understanding of how humanity—and creation in general—develops. Therefore, they organized that the book would become concealed immediately after they wrote it.

The authors of The Zohar wrote it for our current generation: to let us discover and turn on the light switch in our reality that appears increasingly darker the more we progress without it. If we want to make a better life for ourselves, for our children, and for our grandchildren, then we need to learn how to approach The Zohar. It is a book like no other: it is a means through which we can connect to the higher reality. When we learn how to approach The Zohar in such a way, we will be able to access the higher reality, the abundance of spiritual fulfillment.

1) Take the Short Zohar Introductory Course, “Enter the Zohar”

Starting from light to heavy, we have created a short course that we recommend taking before reading The Zohar, “Enter the Zohar.”

Comprised of a handful of high production quality videos, as well as related materials and activity, in this course, you will learn:

What is The Book of Zohar? Where did it come from? What for? And how can we begin to grasp what is written there? Delve into the “language of branches” and see why The Zohar was written specifically in the way it was.

Understand the reader of The Zohar: understand who we are, how we currently perceive reality – and where is it that we want to get to.

Understand the writers of The Zohar: Who wrote The Zohar? When? And most importantly – Why?
Delve into “the law of equivalence of form” and start uncovering how through this law,

The Zohar can help us build a second nature.

See how The Zohar lets us access the perception and sensation of the Creator, the general law of Nature.

2) Learn the Fundamental Principles and Basic Concepts of the Wisdom of Kabbalah.

Since The Zohar is a key Kabbalistic text, then it should be approached as one. Without understanding basic Kabbalistic principles and concepts, which span what Kabbalah is and is not, what is the language of roots and branches that Kabbalists write their texts in and how to approach such text in order to reap maximal spiritual benefit, as well as concepts of who we are, what is our perception of reality, where is our free choice, and how to work with our intention during the study of Kabbalah, then you will simply be lost (in a spiritual sense) when reading The Zohar.

Our most recommended course of study to learn Kabbalah's fundamental principles and basic concepts is our course, Kabbalah Revealed at KabU.

3) Learn Kabbalist Yehuda Ashlag’s Four Introductions to the Book of Zohar

In the related documents section of this page, we have linked to Kabbalist Yehuda Ashlag’s (Baal HaSulam) four introductions to The Zohar, as well as to a book by Kabbalist Dr. Michael Laitman that gives in-depth commentary to two of those introductions.

As well as writing the most comprehensive commentary to The Zohar for our generation, and translating The Zohar’s Aramaic to Hebrew, Baal HaSulam wrote these four introductions to The Zohar in order to calibrate its readers toward a spiritual experience of the text, and not to get lost in empty philosophizing.

4) Review Other Zohar Preparatory Materials

We have created and gathered various materials on how to prepare one’s grounding, approach, and intention to the reading of The Zohar in the section “Preparation for the Zohar.” In this section, you will find the book, The Revelation of the Book of Zohar in Our Time by Kabbalist Dr. Michael Laitman. It is built of quotes from Dr. Michael Laitman taken from a series of Daily Zohar Lessons, and answers to questions of students, that aim to clarify why The Zohar was written for revelation in our time, the approach to studying The Zohar, the effort during the study of The Zohar, confusion and disturbances while studying The Zohar, and the importance of forming spiritual connections with others through the reading of The Zohar.

Take The Right Steps To Approach The Zohar Properly
Before one approaches The Zohar, it is recommended to be firmly grounded in Kabbalah's fundamental principles

Without the proper grounding, one can very easily be led astray by The Zohar PDF, and instead of attaining spirituality, one will be led into all kinds of imaginary fantasies and stories.

For this reason, Bnei Baruch holds free courses to guide one's first steps to understanding Kabbalah's fundamental principles and how to approach Kabbalistic texts such as The Zohar.

We recommend taking such courses before approaching these texts in order to reap the most spiritual benefit out of them.

Introduction

"But the wise shall understand that their elevation comes from the Creator, the Tree of Life. And they who are righteous shall shine like the brightness of the firmament" (Daniel 12:3) thanks to the book of Rabbi Shimon, which is The Book of Zohar, from the supernal force that brings all back to the Creator. In the future the children of Israel will taste from the Tree of Life, which is The Book of Zohar; they will leave the exile with the Creator's mercy" (Naso 90).

"In the beginning Elokim created" (Elokim is the Creator's name that points to His attitude towards the souls by the force of law). This is when He thought and initially created 13 words to surround the Community of Israel and guard it. Here they are: THE, HEAVEN, AND THE, EARTH, AND THE EARTH, WAS, WITHOUT FORM, AND VOID, AND DARKNESS, WAS UPON, THE FACE, OF THE DEEP, AND THE SPIRIT, up to the word Elokim. more...

Flower Buds

"In the Beginning," Rabbi Shimon quoted the verse, "the flower buds appeared on the earth" (In Hebrew the words "country" and "earth" are designated by the same word Aretz; Shir HaShirim 2:12). "The flower buds" refer to the act of creation. more...

Who Has Created These

And who is He? He is the opening of the eyes, which is the Malchut of the Rosh (head) of Arich Anpin. And you shall see that Atik is concealed and within it lies the answer to the question: WHO HAS CREATED THESE? WHO is called MI, ZAT de Bina, the highest boundary of heaven, and everything depends on Him. Since the question lies in Him, He is concealed. He is called MI, because MI is when the question "Who?" is asked, because beyond him there lies no question. This question is only found at the highest boundary of heaven. more...

"Who Has Created These" of Eliyahu
Rabbi Shimon said, Elazar, my son, reveal the supernal secret, which the dwellers of this world know nothing about. more...

The Mother Lends Her Clothes To Her Daughter

The heavens were created by the name (property) MA (Malchut). However, the phrase "above the heavens" refers to Bina, which is called MI, the heavens that are above ZA. The explanation of this lies in the name of Elokim. MA (Malchut) rises up, includes itself into Bina, and receives its properties. Bina is called Elokim. more...

The Letters By Rabbi Amnon Saba

It is said that when the Creator was about to create the world, all of the letters were still hidden. For two thousand years before the creation of the world, the Creator watched the letters and amused Himself with them. more...

Supernal Wisdom

The word BERESHEET consists of the words BARAH (created) and SHEET (six), meaning that 6 properties were created. And who created them? He who is not mentioned; He who is concealed and unknown, Arich Anpin. more...

The Lock and the Key

There is a lock with a tiny and narrow keyhole inside the gates. This lock is marked and known only by the impression of the key. No one knows about it without having the key. It is written about this secret, BERESHEET BARAHELOKIM - IN THE BEGINNING THE CREATOR CREATED. "In the beginning" is the key in which everything is hidden, as it unlocks and locks. more...

Abraham

When did this key unlock the gates, and prepare everything for the existence and development of generations? This occurred when Abraham appeared, as he is the property of Hesed (mercy), of which it is written: "These are the generations of the heavens and of the earth Be-Ibar'am (with which He created)." more...

The Vision of Rabbi Chiya

The Two Points

At the end of all those gates, He set up a gate with many locks, many entrances, and many chambers one on top of the other. He said, "Whoever wants to reach Me must first pass through this gate. Whoever enters through this gate, may enter." This is the first gate to supernal wisdom, the gate of the fear of the Creator, which is Malchut. This is why it is called the "beginning." more...

The Night of the Bride

Rabbi Shimon was sitting and studying the Torah on the night when the Bride, Malchut, was to be joined with her husband, Zeir Anpin. All the friends present in the bridal chamber on that night, following the holiday of Shavuot, are obliged to stand under the wedding canopy (Heb. Houppah) and rejoice in the corrections of the Bride, i.e. study the Torah, the Prophets, Holy Writings and finally the inner secrets of wisdom, for these are Her corrections (Heb. Tikkunim) and adornments. more...

Heavens and Earth

Rabbi Shimon opened the discussion by saying, "In the beginning God created the heaven and the earth." This verse has to be examined carefully because whoever claims that there is another Creator will be wiped from the face of the world, as it is written, "He who says that there is another Creator, will perish from the earth and from heaven because there is no other Creator besides the Lord." more...

Among all the Wise Men of the Nations, There is None Like You

A philosopher of a remote nation approached me, and said, "You claim that your Creator governs the entire heavens, and all the heavenly hosts are not able to attain Him, nor do they know His place. However, this verse does not add a lot to His greatness, as it is written, ‘as among all the wise men of the nations, and in all their kingdoms, there is none like You.' What kind of a comparison is this, with a human being who is nothing?" more...

Chapter 1
הקדמה א Hakdama 1
ונתחיל מ"ש חז"ל כי חמשה שמות יש לנפש, וזה סדרם ממטה למעלה, נפ"ש, רו"ח, נשמ"ה, חי"ה, יחיד"ה. ואין ספק כי לא נפל קריאת השמות הנזכרות, במקרה ובהזדמן. אמנם דע, כי האדם עצמו, הוא הרוחניות אשר בתוך גוף, והגוף הוא לבוש האדם, ואיננו האדם עצמו. וכמש"ה על בשר אדם לא ייסך, וכנזכר בזוהר פרשת בראשית דף כ' ע"ב. ונודע כי האדם מקשר כל ד' עולמות אבי"ע, ולכן בהכרח הוא שיהיו בו חלקים מכל הארבעה עולמות, ואלו החלקים כל חלק מהם, נקרא בשם אחד מן החמשה שמות הנז' שהם נרנח"י כמו שיתבאר. ולא ברגע אחד זוכה לקחת כלם, רק כפי זכיותיו. ובתחלה נוטל חלק אחד הגרוע שבכלם, והוא הנקרא נפש. ואח"כ אם יזכה יותר, יקח גם את הרוח. וכמבואר בכמה מקומות בספר הזוהר, מהם בפרשת ויחי, ומהם בפרשת תרומה, ובפרט בריש פרשת משפטים דף צ"ד ע"ב, וז"ל, ת"ח, בר נש כד אתייליד, יהבין ליה נפש וכו'. ואחר שנתבאר זה, צריך שנודיעך עתה קצת הקדמות בענין דרוש הנזכר: We start with what is written by Chazal, that "there are five names given to the Nefesh," and the order of them from lowest to highest is: Nefesh, Ruach, Neshama, Chaya, and Yechida. Know, that a person (Adam) itself, he is the spirituality that is inside a body; and the body is a garment (Lavush) for the person, but it [the body] is not the person itself. As it says, "the flesh does not cover up the person," just as the Zohar says in Parshat Bereishit, Page 20:2. As it is known, that the person is the source of all four worlds - ABiYah (Atzilus, Beriah, Yetzirah, Asiyah), and it is obvious that there are parts of each world within him, and these parts are what we referred to above (from one of the five names of the souls - Nefesh, Ruach, Neshama, Chaya, Yechida ("NaRaNChaY") as we described). But we do not merit to take them all in one moment; rather, we earn them through our merits. First, we take the coarsest part which is called Nefesh. Afterward, if we merit further, we take the Ruach. And, just as it is described in multiple places in the Sefer haZohar, Parshat Vayechi and Parshat Terumah, and specifically, at the beginning of Parshat Mishpatim, Page 94:2, "When a person is born, he is given a Nefesh." And after we explain this, I need to let you know more of what is said above.
ענין נר"ן וכו', וחלוקא דרבנן, נתבאר עניינם באורך בש"ד, שער הפסוקים בפסוק ומעיל קטן תעשה לו אמו (שמואל א' ב'). (וגם נתבאר בש"ה שער המצות, בפרשת ויחי בדיני האבילות ע"ש, ועוד נחדש 3: The matter of Nefesh, Ruach, Neshama, etc. and its rabbinic subdivisions are discussed at length in Gate Four of Sha’ar HaP’sukim on the verse “His mother would also make a little robe for him” (I Samuel 2:19). Also explained in Gate Five of the Gate of the Mitzvot, Va’ychi, in the laws of mourning. And we will also add more that is new.

דע, כי כל הנפשות הם מעולם העשיה בלבד, וכל הרוחות הם מעולם היצירה, וכל הנשמות הם מעולם הבריאה. אמנם רוב בני אדם, אין להם כל החמשה חלקים, הנקראים נר"ן וכו', רק חלק הנפש בלבד, נחלקת לחמשה פרצופים, הנקראים - א"א, ואו"א, וזו"ן. והנה האדם טרם שיזכה להשיג רוחו, אשר מעולם היצירה, צריך שיהיה שלם בכל חמשה פרצופי נפש העשיה:
ואע"פ שנודע, שיש מי שנפשו מן מלכות דעשיה, ויש מן יסוד דעשיה וכו', עכ"ז צריך שיתקן כל איש ואיש כל כללות עולם העשיה, ואח"כ יוכל לקבל רוחו אשר מן היצירה, לפי שהיצירה גדול מכל העשיה כלה. וכן עד"ז כדי להשיג נשמתו אשר מן הבריאה, צריך שיתקן האדם כל חלקי רוחו בכל היצירה, ואח"כ יוכל לקבל נשמתו אשר מן הבריאה, ולא יספיק לו כאשר יתקן מקום פרטי, שבו נאחז שרש נשמתו, רק צריך שיתקן כנזכר, עד שיהיה ראוי אל כל העשיה, ואז ישיג רוח היצירה. ועד"ז בשאר העולמות. פירוש הדברים, שיעסוק בתורה ובמצות, אשר היא כפי ערך העשיה כלה, ולא יספיק כפי פרטיות מקום אחיזת נפשו, והרי זה בבחי' קיום התורה והמצות: Know that all of the "Nefashot" are from the world of Asiyah only, and all of the "Ruchot" are from the world of Yetzirah, and all of the "Neshamot" are from the world of Beriah. But, not all people (B'nei Adam) have all of the five parts [of the soul], which are called Nefesh, Ruach, and Neshama, etc. They only have a part of the Nefesh, which is from the world of Asiyah. However, even with this, there are many levels, because Asiyah itself is separated into five "Partzufim" which are called "Arich Anpin" (Yechida), and "Aba" (Chaya), and "Imma" (Neshama), and "Zeir" (Ruach), and "Nukveh" (Nefesh). If a person is worthy to merit and to reach [receive] his Ruach (which is from Yetzirah), he must be complete with all of the five Partzufim from Nefesh of Asiyah. ...
וכן אם חטא ופגם באיזה מקום של העשיה, אע"פ שאיננו מקום אחיזת נפשו, צריך לתקנו. האמנם אם איזה נפש אחרת חסר מלעשות איזו מצוה, אשר היא מעולם העשיה, או אם עשה שום עבירה ופגם בה, אין זה מחוייב לתקן חסרון מצוה, או פגם של עבירה זולתו, אא"כ היו שניהם ממקום אחד, כמו שיתבאר לקמן בע"ה. או אפשר, כי אין שם תקון נופל, אלא בתקון פגם עבירה בלבד, ולא בעשיית קיום כל רמ"ח מצות עשה. או אפשר, והוא הנכון, כי דרך משל, מי שהוא ממלכות דנוקבא דעשיה הנקראת נפש דעשיה, צריך שיתקן כל המלכיות דרוח, ונשמה, וחיה, יחידה של העשיה. והנה מי שלא תקן רק מלכות של עשיה, אין בו רק נפש מן הנפש שבעשיה. ומי שתקן גם ז"א דעשיה, יהיו בו נפש רוח מן העשיה. ואם תקן גם אימא דעשיה, יהיו בו נר"ן מן העשיה. וכן עד"ז, עד שנמצא, כי מי שתקן כל חמשה פרצופים דעשיה, יש לו נרנח"י, וכל חמשה בחינות אלו, כל בחינה מחמשתן, שלימה בשלשה חלקיה, שהם עבור, ויניקה, ומוחין כנזכר בפסוק ומעיל קטן תעשה לו אמו וגו', נקראת נפש שלימה דעשיה, ואז יזכה אל הרוח מן היצירה. וגם בחלקן זה הנקרא רוח, יש בו כל חמשה מדרגות הנז', וכלם נקראים רוח שלם: דיצירה. וכן עד"ז בנשמת הבריאה. וכן בחיה. וכן ביחידה. ואין להאריך בזה עתה: And even if he might know that his soul is from "Malchut of Asiyah" or whether it is from "Yesod of Asiyah," etc, each of these [people] must fix/rectify all of the entire world of Asiyah [meaning, the whole Torah, Mitzvos, and Halachos are from the world of Asiyah. We need to master these first!]. Then, he can receive his Ruach which is from Yetzirah which is higher than the entire Asiyah. Also, even if he is able to reach his Neshama which is from Beriah, a person must fix all of the parts of his Ruach [first] within all of Yetzirah. Then, he will be able to receive his Neshama which is from Beriah, and it is not enough for him to fix only the specific place which is the source ("shoresh") of his Neshama. [In summary, a person has to first fix all of the parts of his Nefesh which is in the world of Asiyah] until he "graduates" from the entire world of Asiyah, and then he will receive the Ruach (which has its source in the world) of Yetzirah, etc. throughout all the other worlds. Here is the explanation: A person should toil in Torah and Mitzvot in their completion, and he shouldn't stop learning or fulfilling them regardless of where he is in the source of his Nefesh. He should learn Torah and do the Mitzvot (which have their source in the world of Asiyah).

ועתה צריך שנבאר, חלוק אחד שיש, בין הנפש של העשיה, אל שאר החלקים, שמן היצירה, והבריאה, והאצילות. ובזה יתבאר ג"כ תימא גדולה, שאיך אפשר שמי ששרשו במלכות דעשיה, יוכל לעלות עד הכתר דעשיה כנזכר, שא"כ נמצא, שכיון שכל בני ישראל מוכרחים להתגלגל, עד שיושלמו בכל נרנח"י, נמצא שמוכרח הוא שכלם יתעלו בכתר דעשיה, ובכתר דיצירה, ובכתר דבריאה. וכל שאר הבחינות יהיו בטלים. ואמנם זה לא יעלה על הדעת, כי פשוט הוא אצלינו, כי יש מבני ישראל אנשים מבחי 'מלכות, ויש מן היסוד וכו', כנזכר בתחלת ספר התקונים, דאית בהו ראשי אלפי ישראל מצד הכתר, וחכמים מצד החכמה, ונבונים מן הבינה: Similarly, if he sinned ("chet," referring to something missing) or damaged ("pagam") any part of Asiyah, even though this isn't the place that is relevant to his Nefesh['s purpose], he must fix it. Similarly, if some other Nefesh (another person) is missing the performance of any mitzvah that is from the world of Asiyah, or if he did an aveira (sin) and he damaged it [the soul], you are not required to fix his missing mitzvah, nor the damage from his aveira. However, if the two of you are in one place (same room, or you are both from the same shoresh of your soul) as we will explain soon be'ezrat Hashem [you must help him fix it]. Or it is possible [from what we said earlier] that it is there that the fixing was required to be fixed from (a future editor will clarify this). In a way of an analogy -- one who is from "Malchut of Nukvah of Asiyah" which is called "Nefesh from Asiyah," he must fix all of the "Malchuts" of his Ruach, Neshama, Chaya, and Yechida OF ASIYAH. [Skipping for a future editor.] Once a perfects (completes) his Nefesh of Asiyah, then he merits a Ruach from Yetzirah. And within this Ruach, there are all five levels (as we described before), and each of them comprise a complete Ruach of Yetzirah. And also regarding the Neshama from Beriyah. And also with a Chaya. And also with a Yechida. But this is not something we will go into now: ...

ואמנם באור ענין זה הוא תלוי במה שנבאר, כי יש חלוק בין העשיה, לשאר שלשה העולמות שלשתם ביחד. והוא באופן זה, דע, כי בענין העשיה לבדה, הוא באופן זה, כי מי ששרשו במלכות דעשיה, פשוט הוא, כי נפשו היא במלכות דעשיה בדוקא, אמנם עכ"ז, ע"י תקון מעשיו, מזדככת נפשו, מדרגה אחר מדרגה, עד שתתעלה היא עצמה בכתר דעשיה, ותוכלל ותתעלה עד שם ממש. אבל עכ"ז שעלה עד הכתר דעשיה, עדיין שם איננו רק בבחי 'מלכות דכתר דעשיה, כי אין שרשו אלא מבחי 'מלכות, אבל מוכרח הוא שצריך שיזדכך עד שיעלה עד הכתר דעשיה ממש, אע"פ שעדיין אז איננו נקרא, רק מבחי ' מלכות דכתר דעשיה. ועל דרך זה בשאר מדרגות העשיה, כי איננו נקרא רק בבחינת מלכות של המדרגה ההיא: And now we need to explain one difference between [the entire] Nefesh of Asiyah, and the other parts that are from Yetzirah, and Briah, and Atzilut because with this we will explain something big. [Since you are requiring each person to rectify the entire world of Asiyah until his Nefesh reaches Keter of Asiyah,] how is it possible that someone who has the source of his soul in Malchut of Asiyah that he is able to elevate [his soul] all the way to Keter of Asiyah? If that is the case, then if every B'nei Yisroel is obligated to reincarnate until he completes all of the NeRuNChaY (Nefesh, Ruach, Neshama, Chaya, Yechida), we will find that everyone will rise to Keter of Asiyah, and [then] Keter of Yetzirah, and Keter of Briah, and all the other levels [below these] will become nullified (because all of the souls would eventually be on the same level). This is relevant to us because there are people of B'nei Yisrael who have (their source) in the level of Malchut, and there are those who have their source in Yesod, etc., just as is described at the beginning of Sefer haTikkunim (page 1:2, and re: Korach 1, page 8). There are leaders of thousands of Yisroel on the level of Keter, just as the "wise" are on the level of Chochma, and those that understand ("Nevonim") which are from Binah. ...

וצריך שנבאר טעם אל האמור, והוא, לפי שהעשיה היא למטה בכל העולמות, ולכן היא נתונה שם בין הקליפות הסובבים אותה, ולכן אע"פ שכבר האדם תקן נפשו, כפי בחי' מקום שרשו אשר בעשיה, עכ"ז אם יניחנה שם, יש פחד אולי יתאחזו בה הקליפות אשר שם, ולכן צריך שיזדכך מעשיו יותר ויותר, עד שיעלנה למעלה למעלה כל מה שיוכל, עד מקום שרשו בכתר דעשיה. ואמנם היצירה, מכ"ש שאר העולמות שלמעלה ממנה, אין שום פחד מאחיזת הקליפות אשר בעולם העשיה, ולכן כיון שתקן את רוחו בשרשו אשר ביצירה, הנה אם יתקן יותר, אז ישאר רוחו הראשון שם במקום שרשו, ויקנה רוח שני יותר עליון מלמעלה, ואין צריך להעלות את רוחו הראשון למעלה, כי אין שם פחד: However with Yetzirah, or Briah, or Atzilut, this isn't the way it works. Because one who has the source of his Ruach in Malchut of Yetzirah, and he rectifies and completes this level, then he will merit and be able to rectify Yesod of Yetzirah. So, he will ALSO receive a Ruach from Yesod of Yetzirah, and the first Ruach that he had which was at the level of Machut of Yetzirah remains below at Malchut of Yetzirah because that is its' place. And similarly if he completes also Hod of Yetzirah -- he will have one Ruach from Yesod of Yetzirah, and a second Ruach from Hod of Yetzirah. This is the way it is all the way to Keter of Yetzirah. When he rectifies his Nefesh in all of the levels of Asiyah, he is able to receive a Ruach from each of the levels of Yetzirah, and so too with the level of Neshama which is from Beriah. ...

גם בזה תבין ענין המפורסם בדברי רז"ל, כי רוחיהון דצדיקייא או נשמתיהון, באים ומתעברים באדם, בסוד הנקרא עיבור, לסייעו בעבודת השי"ת, וכמ"ש במדרש הנעלם מכתיבת יד, על הבא ליטהר מסייעים אותו, ר' נתן אומר נשמתם של צדיקים, באות ומסייעים אותו. וכמ"ש בהקדמה פרשת בראשית בספר הזוהר: על רב המנונא סבא, שבא אצל ר"א ורבי אבא, כדמות טעין חמרי וכו': And this is the secret ("sod") (Shmuel 2 14:14) "No Nefesh will be rejected from Hashem," etc. Because all of the thoughts he might think [in fear that the Klipot might grab hold of him] are at the level of Nefesh only (which is at the world of Asiyah), and at that level, there is a fear that maybe he will be pushed away from Hashem because the Klipot are there. However, from the rectifications that he does to his Nefesh, Hashem (Elokim) will not push it away. To recap, Hashem wouldn't raise up a person and give him another Nefesh higher than the one he originally had (at its source level). Because if he did this, the first Nefesh would need to remain below in its original place, and it would be pushed away, meaning -- it would be pushed away [from Hashem] because of the Klipot that are there. Therefore, we do not give him another Nefesh at a higher level -- only the first Nefesh itself rises higher to higher levels according to his actions, until it reaches Keter of Asiyah, and he is not given another higher Nefesh. However, in Yetzirah and the other worlds, [where he receives] his Ruach or his Neshama, these remain below in their source level, and he receives another higher Ruach when he rectifies his actions, as we already described. And this is the secret of "Kadma Nodaat" (Rambam citation); that each Adam (person) is able to reach the level of Moshe Rabbeinu alav haShalom. If he wants to purify his actions, he is able to take a higher level Ruach, and then another higher level Ruach until he reaches the top of Yetzirah, and then he can do the same thing with a Neshama, until he reaches the top of Beriah, etc. ...

blessed). And just as it is written in במדרש הנעלם מכתיבת יד, he comes to purify him, and to help him. Rabbi Natan refers to these as the Neshamas of Tzaddikim, which come to help him. And, just as it said at the beginning of Parshat Bereishit in Sefer haZohar, 'על רב המנונא סבא,שבא אצל ר"א ורבי אבא, כדמות טעין חמרי וכו':
עוד יש טעם שני אל מש"ל כענין החלוק שיש בין העשיה אל שאר העולמות, והוא, כי נודע כי כל העולמות הם כללות י"ס בלבד, והנה העשיה כלה איננה רק ספירה אחת לבדה, והיא ספירת המלכות. ולכן הנפש אשר משם, יכולה לעלות היא עצמה עד הכתר דעשיה, כי הכל ספירה אחת, אבל היצירה היא בחינת ששה ספירות חג"ת נה"י כנודע, והם בחינות נפרדות זו מזו, ולכן מי ששרשו ממלכות דיצירה, אע"פ שנתקן, אין יכול לעלות ולהכלל ולעמוד למעלה ביסוד דיצירה, ולכן צריך שישאר למטה, ויקנה רוח חדש מן היסוד דיצירה, אם ירצה לעלות שם, ע"י מעשיו הטובים. וכן עד"ז בשאר שש קצוות שביצירה כנזכר:
[Rough translation] So with this there is no doubt, that the Ruachs and Neshamas of Tzaddikim, which are bound with life ('Tzarur HaChaim'), each one of them in the source of where their soul is located to that Tzaddik, that they (the Tzaddikim) are with Hashem [in Gan Eden], and we do not say that they lower themselves from their elevated place at all. Rather, the parts of their souls (their Ruachs) that they have already perfected, those parts remain down there (where their place is), in every level in Yetzirah, and they do not rise all the way up (as we described what happens with the Nefesh because of the Klipot in Asiyah). So these (Ruachs and Neshamas of Tzaddikim) come down and come into a person in the form of an Ibur, to help him as we described. And his main Ruach soul which is higher up [in Yetzirah] because he acquired it through his actions, it is and continues to be bound in life, and it does not descend from its place. So too with the Neshama of the Tzaddik, etc.
דע, כי כמו שנתבאר אצלינו, שבכל עולם ועולם יש חמשה פרצופים, א"א, ואו"א, וזו"ן. כך יש כנגדם חמשה בתי 'בנשמות האדם, והם בסדר זה ממטה למעלה, נרנח"י. והנה הנפש ההיא, מנוקבא דז"א. והרוח, מז"א, והנשמה, מאימא. וחיה, מאבא, שהוא חכמה, כי שם מקום החיים, כנודע בסוד והחכמה תחיה בעליה. והיחידה, מא"א, הנקרא כתר, לפי שהוא יחיד ומיוחד, מכל שאר הספירות, שאין לו נקבה, כנודע מפסוק ראו עתה כי אני אני הוא, הנדרש בסה"ז פרשת בראשית: [Rough Translation] There is another reason that I will explain regarding the difference between a part of the soul a person has in Asiyah, and the part of the soul he has in all of the other worlds. And this explanation is, that we know that all of the other worlds [Yetzirah, Beriah, Atzilus] are comprised of ten sefiros, but the entire Asiyah is only comprised of one Sefirah, and that is the Sefira of Malchut. Therefore, the Nefesh which is there, it is able to elevate itself all the way to 'Keter of Asiyah' because all of Asiyah is only one Sefirah. However, [in the greater picture], Yetzirah [which comprises the emotional attributes of an Adam] comprises six Sefirot -- Chesed, Gevurah, Tiferet, Netzach, Hod, and Yesod, as we know. And each one of these is separate one from the other. Thus, one who has the source of his soul in "Malchut of Yetzirah," even though he perfects it, he is not able to elevate that soul and complete it and raise it all the way to the higher levels of Yetzirah; rather, it must stay below [in its place], and the Adam (person) acquires a new Ruach from "Yesod of Yetzirah" if he wants to elevate himself to that level through his good deeds (Torah and Mitzvos). So too concerning all six levels of Yetzirah, as described.
ודע, כי אחר שהאדם זכה ליקח נר"ן, ואח"כ פגם בהם ע"י חטאו, ולכן יצטרך לחזור בגלגול לתקן את אשר עוות, הנה בחזרתו לבא בגלגול, ותבא בו הנפש, אע"פ שתקן את הנפש הזאת, אין הרוח שלו נכנס ובא אצלו, לפי שהרוח הוא פגום, ואיך ישרה וינוח על הנפש הנתקנת, ולכן הרוח ההוא יבא בגלגול באדם אחד, מורכב על נפש הגר. וכן הנשמה באופן זה. והנפש שנתקנה לגמרי, תבא לו רוח אחד מתוקן, של איזה צדיק שנתדמה אליו במעשיו הטובים בפרטם כיוצא בהם, והוא אליו תמורת רוחו של עצמו ממש. וכן

עד"ז אם תקן גם רוחו לגמרי, תבא לו נשמת איזה צדיק כנזכר, ותהיה אליו תמורת נשמתו ממש. וז"ס מ"ש חז"ל גדולים צדיקים במיתתם יותר מבחייהם כו'. והנה כאשר יפטר האיש הזה מן העולם, תלך נפשו עם הרוח ההוא, ועל ידו תקבל השפע הראוי אליה. וכאשר רוחו של עצמו הבאה בגלגול באדם אחר, מורכב על נפש הגר כנזכר, נתקן גם הוא לגמרי, אז הנפש הראשונה אומרת, אלכה ואשובה אל אישי הראשון, כיון שנתקן. וכן הענין בנשמה עם הרוח, אחר פטירת האדם כשחוזרים בגלגול להתקן יחד:

Know, that just as we described, with each and every world there are five partzufim ("faces"), [which are] Arich Anpin, Abba, Imma, and Zeir Anpin. And in each of these, there are the five types of souls of a person, and going from lowest to highest, they are Nefesh, Ruach, Neshama, Chaya, and Yechida. Here, the Nefesh is from Nukveh d'Zeir Anpin; the Ruach is from Zeir Anpin; the Neshama is from Imma; the Chaya is from Abba which is Chochma (wisdom), because Chochma is the place of life in the secret of "והחכמה תחיה בעליה". And the Yechida is from Abba and Imma which are called Keter because it is alone and unified, because, unlike all the other Sefirot, it does not have a female counterpart, just as we know from the passuk "ראו עתה כי אני אני הוא," as is explained in Sefer haZohar, Parshas Bereishis.

[Rough Translation] And know, that after an Adam (a person) merits to take his Nefesh, Ruach, and Neshama, and then he damages (blemishes) them though a sin ('chet' meaning, something missing), [he blemished his Nefesh, his Ruach, and his Neshama], he must then return in a gilgul (in a reincarnation) to rectify what he blemished. When he comes back in a gilgul, he gets only his Nefesh [in the new body]. However, because he blemished his Nefesh, his Ruach is unable to enter his new body and to come with it. Even if he rectified the sin which blemished the Nefesh, it is not possible for a blemished Ruach to join him in this lifetime, because the Ruach also was damaged from his sin, so how can a blemished Ruach rest on a rectified Nefesh? So this Ruach comes in a gilgul into another person -- usually into the Nefesh of a Ger (which has a brand new unblemished Nefesh). So too with the Neshama. Once the Nefesh is rectified completely, he is able to receive a Ruach, [but because his own Ruach is either blemished (damaged), or it is in the body of another person who is in the process of rectifying it], another Ruach (e.g., the Ruach of a Tzaddik which has a similar soul source as he) will come to him. Through the Tzaddik joining his Ruach to this person, the Tzaddik takes part in the good deeds that this person does (and the Tzaddik's own Ruach is elevated from this interaction). Similarly, [in the next gilgul where he receives his Ruach (once it is rectified in the previous gilgul), because he also damaged his Neshama, it is either in a blemished state [so it is incompatible to join the Nefesh and the Ruach], or it could be in the body of another person getting rectified through their actions. While this is happening,] this person can receive a Neshama of a Tzaddik (and the Tzaddik also benefits from the elevation that occurs from this interaction). This is the secret where it is said that "Tzaddikim are greater in their death, more than during their lifetime, etc." And here, when this person dies from the world, his Nefesh goes with the Ruach of the Tzaddik [e.g. to the high level of Gan Eden that the Tzaddik is at], and this way, he receives [a greater level of shefa ('G-dly radiance')] which is of the level of the shefa that the Tzaddik receives at his higher level. When his own Ruach comes from the gilgul in which it was in the other person [e.g., the ger who was rectifying it, once he dies] the Nefesh of the Ger (who rectified his Ruach through his good deeds) [joins him at his level], and the first Nefesh (his Nefesh) says, "I will go and return to my first husband," and it joins with the Ruach (which was just rectified by the Ger). Similarly, the Neshama re-joins the Nefesh and the Ruach in the same way.

בסדר כניסת הנר"ן באדם, בתחלת גלגוליהם בפעם הראשונה החדשה, כמו שיתבאר בע"ה. הנה בעת שנולד גוף האדם ויוצא לאויר העולם, נכנסת בו הנפש שלו, ואם יוכשרו מעשיו, יזכה ויכנס בו הרוח בתשלום שנת השלש עשרה שאז נקרא איש גמור כנודע. ואם יוכשרו עוד מעשיו מאז ואילך, נכנסת בו הנשמה בתשלום שנת העשרים, כנזכר בסבא דמשפטים אבל אם לא תקן את הרוח לגמרי, לא תכנס בו הנשמה, ויהיו בו נו"ר בלבד. וכן אם לא תקן את הנפש לגמרי, אין בו רק נפש בלבד, וישאר מבלי רוח ונשמה, וישארו הרוח והנשמה באתר ידוע לקב"ה, ותמן אזדמן דוכתייהו לכל חד וחד מנהון: In the seder (order) in which a Nefesh, Ruach, and Neshama enter into a person, in the first new gilgul, we will explain (with Hashem's help). Here, at the time the body of the person was born, and comes out into the air of this world, his Nefesh enters into him. If he makes his actions kosher, he will merit that a Ruach will enter into him (around the age of 13), and thus he is called a complete man, as we know. And if he continues to keep his actions kosher moving forward, a Neshama will enter him at the age of 20, as is explained in בסבא דמשפטים. However, if he does not rectify completely his Ruach, a Neshama will not enter into him, and he will only have a Nefesh and a Ruach. Similarly, if he does not rectify his Nefesh completely, he won't have anything except for his Nefesh, and the Ruach and Neshama will remain above.

ואמנם אם לא תקן את הנפש לגמרי בפעם א', ונפטר מן העולם, אז צריך שתחזור הנפש ההיא בגלגול, עד כמה פעמים, עד שתזדכך כל צרכה לגמרי, ואז אע"פ שנשלמה, אין הרוה שלה נכנס בה, כיון שלא נתקן הנפש אלא ע"י גלגול, אם לא בדוחק גדול, כמו שיתבאר לקמן בע"ה. ולכן צריך שיפטר מן העולם, ותחזור הנפש להתגלגל, ואז תזכה אל הרוח שלה. ואם יתקן גם הרוח, אז צריך שיפטר מן העולם, ואח"כ יתגלגל, ותבא בו גם הנשמה, ע"ד הנז' בענין הרוח. ואם לא תקן הרוח, צריך שיתגלגלו כמה פעמים הנפש עם הרוח, עד שיתוקן הרוח, ואז ימות האדם, ויחזור ויתגלגל הנפש והרוח וגם הנשמה, עד שיתוקנו שלשתם, ואז אין לו צורך עוד להתגלגל כלל, כי בהיות גם הנשמה נתקנת, הרי הוא אדם שלם כנודע: However, if he does not rectify his Nefesh completely the first time, when he leaves this world (dies), he will be required to return with his Nefesh in a gilgul (a reincarnation), even many times, until he purifies completely everything that he is required to. And so, after he completes his Nefesh, his Ruach is unable to join him (in this gilgul). This (the possible need for multiple gilgulim) is not a problem, as we will explain soon, with the help of Hashem (this is explained at the end of Ch. 3). Therefore, [to get his Ruach,] he will need to leave this world, and his Nefesh will need to reincarnate into a second body. In this second gilgul, he will merit for his Ruach to join his Nefesh. And if he rectifies his Ruach [in this second gilgul], he will need to leave this world (and reincarnate into a third body). In this third gilgul, he will merit for his Neshama to join his Nefesh and his Ruach. But if he did not rectify the Ruach [in the previous gilgul], he will be required to reincarnate [possibly] many times, each time the Nefesh will remain with the Ruach, until he rectifies the Ruach. Then, when he dies, he will need to return into another gilgul, where his Neshama will join his Nefesh and his Ruach until the three of them are rectified (completed). Once this happens, he will no longer require any reincarnation because his Neshama is complete, and from this, he becomes an "Adam Shalem" (or, a complete person).

אבל צריך שתדע, כי כאשר נתקנה הנפש וחזרה אח"כ לבא בגלגול, כדי לקחת את הרוח שלה כנזכר, כדי לתקן גם אותו, הנה אם באותו גלגול יחטא האדם איזה חטא, אין פגם ההוא פוגם בנפש, כדי שנאמר שצריכה עוד הנפש ההיא להתגלגל פעם אחרת יחידית להתקן ע"ד הנזכר, לפי שכיון שיש שם רוח, הנה הפגם ההוא פוגם ברוח לבדו עד שיתוקן. ולכן אם יצטרך איזה גלגולים אחרים, כדי לתקן את הרוח, באים נפש ורוח ביחד, ומתגלגלים שניהם, עד ישתלם תקון הרוח, ואז יפטר האדם, ויחזור ויתגלגלו הנפש והרוח, גם הנשמה שלשתם ביחד, עד שישתלם גם תקון הנשמה, ואז בגלגולים ההם, אם חטא אדם, אין הפגם פוגם רק בנשמה לבדה, ע"ד שביארנו בענין תקון הרוח: However, it is important to know, that when a person rectifies the Nefesh and returns afterward in the next gilgul, in order to receive his Ruach (as we described), in order to rectify the Ruach, if (in this gilgul) he sins with whatever 'chet', he does not damage the Nefesh (if he was able to, then his gilgulim could continue forever). So when he receives his Ruach [his purpose would then be to rectify only the Ruach], if he damages it through a sin, it is only the Ruach that is blemished (damaged). So he would require [as many gilgulim as is necessary] to rectify the Ruach, and in these gilgulim, his Nefesh and Ruach will enter the body together until he completes the rectification of his Ruach. Then, when he dies, he will return in a new gilgul with his Nefesh, his Ruach, and his Neshama together in one body, until he completes his Neshama. If he sins, he only damages (blemishes) his Neshama. This is how we explain the concept of Tikkun haRuach.

והנה לפעמים יהיה, שהנפש בעת תקון שלה, נשלמה ונזדככה בתכלית גדול, ואז איננה צריכה לחזור להתגלגל עם הרוח, בעת תקון הרוח, אבל הנפש נשארת למעלה במקום הראוי לה בצרור החיים, והרוח לבדו ירד בגלגול לתקן עצמו, והנה אינו יכול לבא יחידי, אלא מלבוש תוך נפש, ולכן הנה הוא מתלבש תוך נפש הגר, כנזכר בסבא דמשפטים, ומתגלגלים יחד שניהם עד שיתקן הרוח הזה, ואז יפטר מן העולם, ויחזור להתגלגל, ואז תתחבר עמו הנפש הראשונה שלו, ויתגלגלו יחד שניהם, כדי לקבל גם את הנשמה שלהם, עד שתתוקן גם הנשמה גם היא. ולפעמים ג"כ יבא הרוח לבדו בגלגול עם הנשמה, עד שתתקן הנשמה, ואז אין לאדם הזה עוד שום גלגול, ויתחברו שלשתם יחד למעלה בצרור החיים כראוי אליהם: [Rough Translation] It could also be that during his reincarnations, it is not required that his Nefesh reincarnate with the Ruach during those gilgulim in which he is working to rectify the Ruach. The Nefesh can remain above in its place in 'Tzarur HaChaim', and the Ruach alone can go down into a gilgul to rectify itself. Here, a Ruach cannot come down on its own, except by dressing itself into [another] Nefesh. If this happens, here, the Ruach dresses itself into the Nefesh of a Ger (as we explained in בסבא דמשפטים, and it reincarnates alone (without its Nefesh, but together with the Nefesh of a Ger), until the Ruach is rectified. Then the person dies from the world, and

he returns in another gilgul. But, the Ruach that helped this person with his Tikkun of this person's Nefesh reincarnates together with him in order so that this person can also receive his Neshama (and then it helps him rectify his Neshama as well). It could also happen that his Ruach enters into a gilgul with his Neshama [without his Nefesh] until his Neshama is rectified (completed). After the Neshama is rectified, the person no longer needs reincarnation, and the three of them (his Nefesh, Ruach, and Neshama) rejoin together above in 'Tzarur haChaim'.

ודע, כי עכ"ז אותה נפש הגר, כיון שנתחברה בעה"ז עם הרוח ההוא, וסייעו להטיב מעשיו, והיתה מרכבה אליו בעה"ז, ועל ידה זכה הרוח ההוא להתקן, לכן גם נפש הגר ההיא, תעלה עם נפש העיקרית של הרוח ההוא: ויהיו שתיהם במדריגה אחת בעה"ב, שכנים יחד, ולא תתפרד ממנה

And know, that with all of this [where his Ruach is enclothed into the Nefesh of the Ger], since his Ruach is connected in this world with him, it helps him and improves his actions and acts as a merkava for him in this world. Through this, the Ruach can rectify itself, but also, the Nefesh of this Ger elevates together with the Ruach, and the two of them remain on the same level in the Olam Haba because they remain as unified neighbors, and they do not separate [after death].

גם דע, כי לפעמים יהיה, שכאשר תתגלגל הנפש לבדה לתקן עצמה, תשתלם כ"כ במעשיה, עד שתזכה אל מדרגת הרוח שלה, והנה אז אין יכולת אל הרוח שלה לבא עמה כנז"ל, לפי שהכלל הוא שאין שניהם או שלשתם יכולים להתחבר יחד בגלגול אחד, אם לא בדוחק גדול, כמו שיתבאר בדרוש אחר, שם, אלא כל אחת תתגלגל לבדה כנז"ל, כי תחלה צריך לתקן הנפש, ואף אשר נתקנה, אי אפשר לרוח לבא עמה, אבל צריך שימות, ואחר כך תחזור הנפש להתגלגל, ואז תזכה אל הרוח. וכן אחר שנתחברו שניהם נפש ורוח, ונתקנו שניהם, אי אפשר שיקבלו הנשמה שלהם, עד שיתגלגלו פעם אחרת, ואז יזכו אל הנשמה:

Also know, that sometimes it happens that when the Nefesh reincarnates alone to fix itself, if it completes all of its tasks, raising it to the level that it could be able to receive its Ruach [in theory], in that same gilgul, it is not possible to receive its Ruach, as we described earlier. This is because they (the Nefesh and the Ruach, or the Nefesh, the Ruach, and the Neshama) were not together [at the beginning of] this lifetime. But this is not something to be worried about, as we will explain in another explanation [at the end of Ch. 3]. However, each one can reincarnate alone [seemingly in different bodies, at the same time], as we explained above. First the Nefesh needs to rectified, and after it is rectified, it is impossible for the Ruach to join it [in this life]. So the person needs to die, and the Nefesh can reincarnate (not for its own rectification, because it was already rectified in the previous gilgul). Then, when the Ruach joins the Nefesh [in the next gilgul] and they are both rectified (the Nefesh in the previous gilgul, and the Ruach in this gilgul), it is impossible for him to receive his Neshama (until he reincarnates again). Then (in the third gilgul), his Neshama can join his Nefesh and his Ruach.

וצריך לידע, מה נעשה לנפש בעוד שכבר נתקן לבדה בלתי הרוח שלה כנזכר. ואמנם סוד הענין הוא, כי כפי מדרגת הזדככות, ומעלת תקון הנפש ההיא, כך במדרגה ההיא עצמה, יתגלגל אז בגוף האדם ההוא, בעודו בחיים חיותו, נפש אחד של איזה צדיק, אשר כבר נשלם להתקן ולהתגלגל, ולא נצרך להתגלגל, ונכנס כאן ונעשת נפש הצדיק הזה, במקום רוח אל נפש האדם הזה, ולפעמים אפשר שיתגלגלו שם נפשות ראשונים, עד אברהם אבינו ע"ה, וכיוצא בו, כפי תקון והזדככות נפש האדם הזה:

[Need a better translation in the following section.] We also must know what is happening when the Nefesh enters into a gilgul without his Ruach, as we described. The secret of the concept is that according to the level of merits and elevation that this person's Nefesh received, so too, into that same level he will reincarnate. However, in that same body of the person while he is still alive, he can also receive another Nefesh of a Tzaddik that already completed his Nefesh (and does not require gilgul). This Nefesh of a Tzaddik can enter into his body (via the secret of Ibur), and this Nefesh can come in the place of where a Ruach would ordinarily go [noting that this person's Ruach cannot join him in his lifetime, so the Nefesh of the Tzaddik 'fills the emply slot' where the Ruach would go]. This second Nefesh helps the person perfect himself more fully. Sometimes it is possible that Nefashot of Rishonim, even of Avraham Avinu (alav haShalom), and others like him [they could enter into him as an Ibur] in order to rectify and purify the Nefesh of this person.

וענין זה שהוא גלגול בחיים, נקרא אצל החכמים סוד העבור וזהו ההפרש שיש בין גלגול לעבור. ולפעמים אפשר שיתעבר בו רוח ממש, של אדם צדיק, אפילו שיהיה מרוחות הצדיקים הראשונים, עד האבות נ"ע, אפילו בזמנינו זה האחרון, והכל תלוי כפי ערך מצות שעושה האדם הזה, כי יש מצות שיש בסגולתם כח, להמשיך נפש הצדיק בסוד עבור, ויש מצות ממשיכות רוח צדיק כנזכר: This concept that a person can reincarnate [into him] during his life is called by the Chachamim (Rabbis) as the "secret of the Ibbur." This is the difference between gilgul [reincarnation where one's soul(s) enter the body at birth] versus Ibur [the entering of the souls of a Tzaddik during one's lifetime]. Sometimes, it is possible that not only the Nefesh of a Tzaddik enters into him (via Ibur), but also that Tzaddik's Ruach as well. This can even be the Ruchot of the Tzaddikim haRishonim, even the Avot (who have their souls in Gan Eden). This can even happen in our lifetime. All of this is dependent on the level of mitzvot that this person does. For example, there are mitzvot that have the segula (power) to bring down a "Nefesh" of a certain Tzaddik [in the form of an Ibur], and there are mitzvot that can bring down the "Ruach" of a tzaddik, as we explained.

גם אפשר, שלפעמים יארע כי יתעבר בו נפש איזה צדיק, ואח"כ יזכה ויתעבר בו עוד נפש צדיק אחר יותר גדול מן הראשון. ונמצא כי יש בו נפש מפאת עצמו, והנפש של הצדיק שבאה לו בתחלה, הוא לו במקום רוח: It is also possible that sometimes, a Nefesh of a Tzaddik can come into him (via Ibur), and afterward [through his additional good deeds], another Nefesh of a Tzaddik which is on a higher level from the first can enter into him (via Ibur). How this works is that the Nefesh of the first Tzaddik comes in [in the 'slot'] of where the Ruach would be, and the second Nefesh from the other (higher) Tzaddik would enter [in the 'slot'] where the Neshama would be.

ואמנם הכלל הוא, כי כפי ערך תקון וזכוך מעשה הנפש ההיא של האדם, כך תוכל לזכות, להשיג נשמה מנשמות הראשונים, עד תכלית העליון שבכולם. ואפילו בדורינו זה, יוכל להיות כך. ועד"ז תוכל להקיש ג"כ, כאשר נתגלגלו יחד הנפש והרוח של האדם, וכבר נתקנו שניהם, והנה אינם יכולים להשיג הנשמה שלהם עד גלגול אחר כנזכר. והנה בעודם בחיים אז אירע להם ע"ד הנז"ל, כי נכנס עמהם בסוד העבור, איזו נפש, או רוח, או נשמה, של איזה צדיק, והיא להם בבחינת נשמתם. וכל הפרטים שנתבארו בענין היות הנפש לבדו מתוקנת, הם ג"כ עתה ממש, ואין להאריך:

גם לפעמים יארע, שאחר שנתגלגלו יחד שלשת חלקיו, נר"ן שלו, ונתקנו כולם, כי אז יתעבר בו איזו נפש, או רוח, של איזה צדיק כנזכר, הנה כשיפטר מן העולם, יוכל להתעלות כפי בחי 'הצדיק ההוא שנתעבר בו, ושם בעולם הבא יהיו שניהם במעלה ובמדרגה אחת. וז"ס מ"ש בהקדמת בראשית בספר הזוהר דף

ז 'ע"ב, שנפל הרשב"י ע"ה על פניו, וראה את רב המנונא סבא ז"ל, וא"ל דבההוא עלמא יהוויין שכיבין הוא ורב המנונא סבא, ודי בזה, יחד: Also sometimes it happens, that after a person reincarnates with all three parts of his soul (Nefesh, Ruach, and Neshama), he rectifies them all (and he is still alive) -- a Nefesh or Ruach of a Tzaddik [can come into him in the secret of an Ibur, and that Tzaddik would help him and raise him to a higher level and complete his Nefesh, Ruach, and Neshama]. Then when this person leaves this world, he is able to elevate to the level of the Tzaddik who entered into him (via Ibur), and there in the Olam Haba, the two of them will be together on one level. This is the secret of what is written at the beginning of Bereishit in Sefer haZohar, page 7:2, that haRav Shimon ben Yochai (alav haShalom) fell on his face, and he saw Rav Hamnuna Saba (zichron l'vracha). He [Rav Hamnuna Saba z'l] said to him in the Olam Haba that they would be together as neighbors -- he and Rav Hamnuna Saba [because he entered Rav Shimon ben Yochai as an ibur during his lifetime].

והנה ענין העבור הזה, הוא לשתי סבות, האחת היא, כי ע"י עבור נפש הצדיק באיש הזה, תתוקן נפש האיש הזה, ותזדכך, כדוגמת ערך נפש הצדיק ההוא, ועי"כ תוכל לעלות בעוה"ב, במדרגת מעלת הצדיק ההוא, כנזכר כי הצדיק ההוא יעזרהו ויסייעהו, להוסיף מצות וקדושות יתירות, והנה סבה זו היא לצורך האיש הזה. עוד סבה שנית, לתועלת הצדיק עצמו המתעבר בו, כי כיון שהוא מסייעו להוסיף מצות ותקונם, נוטל חלק בהם, וז"ס מ"ש ז"ל, גדולים צדיקים, שאפילו במיתתם זוכים לבנים וכו'. והוא, כי הוא מזכה אל האיש הזה, ונעשה לו כאב להדריכו ולסייעו, וזוכה בסבתו כנזכר: Here, the Ibur can happen for two reasons. The first is, that through the Ibur of the Nefesh of a Tzaddik into this person, [the Tzaddik] helps him rectify his Nefesh. And through his merits, he [the person] is able to rise in the Olam Haba to the high level of this Tzaddik. The reason is that this Tzaddik helps him and raises him so that he can add on mitzvos and holiness, and this is the reason he enters the person. A second reason is to benefit the Tzaddik himself which enters into the person -- because when he raises the person up and helps him to add mitzvos and rectifications, the Tzaddik gets a part of the benefit from his activities. This is the secret of what the Rabbis would say, that "Great Tzaddikim, even in their death they merit to have children, etc." This is, that the person into which he enters [does mitzvot], and he becomes like a father to him, to help him [like a father helps a child], and in return, the Tzaddik merits, as we described.

ודע, כי הצדיק הזה, כיון שנכנס בו לסייעו בחיים חייתו בסוד העבור כנזכר, ולא בסוד גלגול, לכן הוא קרוב לשכר ורחוק להפסד, כ"א האיש הזה יעשה מצות, נוטל חלק בשכר ההוא. וז"ס מ"ש ז"ל כי הצדיק נוטל חלקו וחלק חבירו בג"ע, והבן סוד העמוק הזה, ואין עתה עת להאריך בו. אמנם אם ירשיע האיש הזה, אין לצדיק ההוא שום עונש והפסד עמו, יען כי הוא איננו מתעבר בו, רק להיטיב אליו, ולא להרע לו, ואדרבא אם האיש ההוא חוזר בו מאשר תקן להטיב, אז הצדיק ההוא נפרש ממנו והולך לו. וטעם הדבר הוא, במה שנתבאר, כי סוד העבור הוא בחיים של האדם, ואיננו דבוק ונקשר עם גוף האדם, כמו הנפש של האדם עצמו בגלגול, שנכנסה בו בעת שנולד, ונתקשרה ונתדבקה שם בתכלית הדבוק, ואינה יכולה לצאת משם עד יום המיתה. משא"כ בנפש הצדיק שנכנסת שם בסוד העבור, כי נכנסת ברצונה, ויוצאת ברצונה. ואם האדם יתמיד בצדקתו, גם הצדיק ההוא יתמיד שכונתו אצלי, כדי ליטול חלק במעשה האיש הזה, ועומד שם עד שיפטר האיש הזה מן העולם, ויעלו שניהם יחד במדרגה אחת כנז"ל. ואם האיש הזה ירשיע מעשיו, אז הצדיק ההוא מואס בחברתו והולך לו, כי הנה איננו עומד שם בקבע, רק בהשאלה, כדמיון אושפיזא המתאכסן בבית בעל הבית, עד זמן שיוכשר בעיניו, ואם אינו מוצא שם נחת רוח הולך לו, ולסבה זו ג"כ כאשר יקרה איזה יסורין אל האיש הזה, אין הצדיק ההוא מרגיש בצער כלל, ואינו סובלם עמו, יען כי איננו דבוק שם רק בהשאלה: [Rough translation] And know, that when this Tzaddik enters into him to help him during his life in the secret of Ibur, as we described, and not in the secret of gilgul (reincarnation), he is close to the reward, and far from a 'hefsed'

(loss). This is, when this person does mitzvos he shares part of his reward with the Tzaddik. This is also the secret of what is written, that "the Tzaddik shares part of his share with his friend in Gan Eden." And understand that this is a deep secret, and we are not going into this in-depth here. However, if the person acts with evil (becomes bad), the Tzaddik does not have any punishment or loss from him, and he is not required to stay in Ibur with him [he is there only for his good, not for his bad]. On the other hand, if the person returns and undoes what he did already to rectify his soul, the Tzaddik can separate from him and go away from him. The reason for this is, from what we explained, that the secret of ibur takes place in the life of an Adam (a person), and [the Tzaddik] is not stuck or connected with the body of the Adam like a Nefesh of the Adam would be. So when a soul enters into the body at the time it is born, it is connected to and stuck there in a complete entanglement, and it is not able to leave from there until the day he dies. Nonetheless, the Nefesh of a Tzaddik that enters into him in the secret of an ibur, he enters at his will, and he leaves at his will. If the person remains in a state of Tzedek, the Tzaddik will always continue to dwell with him (so that he can take part in his actions), and he will stand there until the person leaves from the world, and then they will both go up together to the same [high] level [of the Tzaddik], as explained. But if this person becomes evil in his actions, the Tzaddik will become fed up with his company, and he will leave him. This is because the Tzaddik isn't standing there in a fixed way, but rather, he is on loan, like a hospitalist staying in the owner's house until the time that he sees fit. And if he [the Tzaddik] does not find comfort there, he will go. For this reason, when some suffering happens to this person, the Tzaddik does not feel sorrow [for him] at all, and he doesn't suffer with him. Rather, he is not stuck there, but rather, he has only loaned himself to this person.

הכלל העולה, כי לפעמים יעשה האדם איזו מצוה גדולה, אשר על ידה יזכה שיתעבר בו נפש איזה צדיק מן הראשונים, ואז אפשר להיות כי יתוקן ויזדכך כל כך, עד שתשוב נפשו של האיש הזה, במדרגת נפש הצדיק ההוא ממש, ואז צריך שישלים האדם גם רוחו ונשמתו בתכלית הזכוך, עד אשר יהיו ראויים להתלבש בנפש המזוככת ההיא. ואחרי זה יהיה שקול במדרגת הצדיק ההוא ממש, ויעלה למעלה ממקום שרש נשמתו אשר ממנה חוצבה. וכל זה הוא, לסבת עזר וסיוע הצדיק ההוא:

ודע, כי לפעמים אפשר שתתעלה נפש האדם, עד שתהיה נפשו מעולם האצילות, והוא, כי הנה כלל הדבר הוא, כי הנפש מן עשיה, והרוח מן יצירה, והנשמה מן בריאה, ואמנם בדרך פרט, הנה בכל עולם מאלו, יש. בו בח "נר"ן, ונמצא כי לפעמים יהיו באדם נר"ן, מעשיה יצירה בריאה. ולפעמים יהיו לו נר"ן ממלכות ומז"א ומאימא דעשיה, ולפעמים שלשתם מן היצירה, ולפעמים שלשתם מעולם הבריאה, ולפעמים כלם מן האצילות, נפש, מנוקבא דז"א. רוח, מז"א. נשמה, מאימא. חיה, מאבא. ולפעמים נפש מעשיה, ורוח ונשמה מיצירה. ולפעמים נפש מיצירה, ורוח ונשמה מבריאה. ולפעמים נפש מבריאה, ורוח ונשמה מאצילות. וכן עד"ז בכל פרט ופרט שבכל עולם מד 'עולמות אבי"ע כנודע כי כל עולם מאלו הד ' עולמות, כלול הוא מכל ד 'עולמות אבי"ע, ומי"ס, וכן עשר מעשר עד אין מספר, ואין כח בקולמוס להאריך בכל פרטים אלו כלם, כי עצמו מספר, והמשכיל יבין ויקיש מעצמו:

אבל צריך שתדע, כי מה שאמרנו, שפעמים יהיו לו נר"ן מן היצירה, או מן הבריאה וכו ', אין כונתינו לומר , שאין לו נפש מצד העשיה כלל, כי הנה נודע שאפילו השכינה הנקראת מלכות, היא מקננא בעשיה , ומכ"ש בנפש של האדם. אבל כונתינו לומר, כי הנפש של האדם הבאה מעשיה, תזדכך כל כך, עד שאינה נרגשת, בערך סבת אור הנפש דיצירה שבו, ואז נקרא הכל נפש דיצירה. וכן עד"ז בשאר החלוקות, כי אפילו כשאנו אומרים שיהיו לו נר"ן מן האצילות, הוא בהיותם מתלבשים תוך הנפש ורוח ונשמה, דעשיה יצירה בריאה, אלא שאינם עולים בשם, וכלם נטפלים ונקראים בשם אצילות. ומזה תקיש אל שאר הפרטים הנזכרים:

ע"י אחיו, אשר זה נקרא סוד היבום, והוא, כי כשבא בבחי 'גלגול לכך, הנה אינם מתגלים ביחד שלשתם הנר"ן, ולא שניהם יחד, אלא הנפש לבדה עד שתתקן, ואח"כ בגלגול אחר, הנפש והרוח לבדם, עד יתוקן הרוח. ואח"כ בגלגול אהר, הנר"ן, עד שתתקן הנשמה, ואז נשלמו גלגוליו כנז"ל. או לפעמים כל אחד משלשתם יתגלגל לבדו בפני עצמו כנז"ל. אבל כשמתגלגל ע"י אחיו, ובא בסוד יבום, יכולים להתגלגל שם יחד שלשתם הנר"ן. אמר הכותב חיים, הנה מן הסבא דמשפטים משם דאפילו בסוד היבום, אינם באים יחד, אלא הנפש והרוח לבדם, ולא הנשמה וצ"ע:

בענין הגלגול והיבום והעבור, וז"ל, וראיתי להרחיב יותר בדרוש זה של הגלגול והיבום והעבור. הנה בחי ' העבור היא בחיים כנז"ל, ר"ל, כי לפעמים יזדמן ליד האדם איזו מצוה, ויעשנה כתקנה, ואז יזדמן לו נפש אחד, מן איזה צדיק קדמון, שעשה אותה המצוה עצמה כתקנה, וכיון שנתדמו יחד בענין מצוה זאת, יתעבר בו נפש הצדיק ההוא. ולא עוד, אלא שגם אפשר, שבהיות גם הצדיק ההוא נמצא עמו בזמנו בחייו, תתעבר בו נפשו לסבה הנז', כי כאשר האיש הזה יעשה איזו מצוה, או מצות המתייחסות אל הצדיק ההוא, כי גם הוא עשאם כמוהו כתקנם, אז תתעבר בו נפש הצדיק ההוא, עם היות שניהם ביחד בחיים. וז"ס פסוק ותדבק נפש דוד ביהונתן, כי בהיות שניהם יחד בחיים, נתעברה נפש דוד ביונתן. ואמנם בחי ' הגלגול, צריך להרחיב מעט בענינה, ולכן נתחיל עניינה מאדם הראשון, לכשיובנו הדברים בנקל) - הגהה. אמר הכותב, נראה כי במצוה אחת כתקנה יספיק להמשיך התחלת העבור ולא יצטרך להישתלם בכל המצות עד כאן: Hakdama 3 - Regarding Reincarnation, Yibbum, and Ibur. I saw fit to widen out this explanation of reincarnation, yibbum, and Ibur. Here, regarding Ibur, this [happens] during the life of a person (as explained in Hakdama 2). I wanted to say, that sometimes a person will merit through some mitzvah, and this makes a rectification. And through this rectification, he receives another Nefesh from an ancient Tzaddik (which already departed from the world). This Tzaddik [has a similarity to him in that he also] did the same mitzvah, and when the person does the mitzvah, the Nefesh of the Tzaddik enters into him (like a pregnancy or an additional soul added onto him). Not only this [that this happens from a Nefesh of a Tzaddik that already departed from this world], but it is also possible that this happens when the Tzaddik himself is alive and found with him within this person's lifetime. If this happens (that an Ibur of the Tzaddik happens when he is alive), the Ibur [of a spark of the Tzaddik's Nefesh] enters into him for the reasons we explained. So when this person does this mitzvah or mitzvot which are relevant to the Tzaddik that is with him in his lifetime, a spark of the

Tzaddik's Nefesh enters into him, even though they are both alive at the same time. And this is the secret of the passuk, "Dovid's Nefesh connected to Yonoton." Even though the two of them were alive together, Dovid's Nefesh implanted (Ibur) into Yonoton. However, with regard to reincarnation ("Gilgul"), we need to widen out this concept a bit. Thus, we will begin the concept from Adam haRishon (another editor will fill in missing parts):

דע, כי כאשר חטא אדה"ר, נפגמו כל הנצוצות, של נפשו ורוחו ונשמתו. והענין הוא במה שנודע, כי כמו שגופו של אדם, כלול מכמה נצוצות, ברמ"ח איברים ושס"ה גידים, ויש כמה נצוצות בראשו, וכן בעיניו, וכן בכל אבר ואבר, כן הנפש ההיא. וכמו שדרשו במדרש תנחומא, ובמ"ר, בפרשת נשא על פסוק איפה היית ביסדי ארץ, מלמד שהיה אדה"ר מוטל גולם, וזה תלוי בראשו וכו'. וכדמיון זה, נחלק הרוח שבו. וכן הנשמה שבו. וכשחטא, אז נפגמו רוב הנצוצות של נפשו ורוחו ונשמתו ונתעבר בין הקליפות. וז"ס מ"ש בספר התקונים, בהקדמה על פסוק כצפור נודדת מקנה, כי כמו שהשכינה גלתה בין הקליפות, כן הצדיקים יגלו עמה, ואזלין מנדדין אבתרהא מדוך לדוך. וכפי בחינת הנצוצות, כך גלו במקום המכוון להם בתוך הקליפות, ראש בראש עין בעין וכו'. וז"ס ענין גלות הנשמות הנזכר שם. והנה גם קין והבל בניו, חטאו חטא אחר, זולתי חטא אדם אביהם, וגם הם נטבעו נצוצותיהם בעמקי הקליפות אח"כ

: Know, that when Adam haRishon sinned, he damaged all of the sparks ("nitzutzot") of his Nefesh, his Ruach, and his Neshama. The concept is what we already know, that just as the body of an Adam (a person) includes many sparks, (and these sparks comprise) the 248 limbs and 365 sinues of a body, [so too, each limb is subdivided into many parts], there are many sparks in his head, so too in his eyes, and so too in each and every limb. So too, his Nefesh [also comprised these], just as it was explained in Midrash Tanchuma and in the Midrash Rabbah in Parshat Tisa on the passuk "איפה היית ביסדי ארץ" (edit this, please, and add in missing parts.) And when Adam haRishon sinned, he damaged most of the sparks of his Nefesh, of his Ruach, and his Neshama, and they fell into the Klipot. This is the secret of what is written in the Sefer haTikkunim in the Hakdama on the passuk "כצפור נודדת מקנה" (a bird flying from one birdhouse to another). Because, just like the Shechina goes into the Klipot [to save a person], so too the Tzaddikim also release him (they "fish him out" from the klippot) -- they go into galut from place to place, and if there is a spark (of kedusha), the release it from its place [where it was trapped in the klipot]. "Head in head," [meaning, the sparks that were in the 'head' of kedusha fall to the 'head' of klipah], "eye in the eye," [same concept], etc. And this is the secret of the concept that both Kain and Hevel (his sons) sinned in different sins [notwithstanding the sin their father Adam did], so their sparks (nitzutzot) sunk into the depths of the klipah:

ואמנם בכל דור ודור, יוצאות קצת נצוצות ההם, ובאים בגלגול בעוה"ז, הכל כפי בחינת מחצב נשמות הדור ההוא, או מנצוצי הראש, או מנצוצי העין וכיוצא, ונתקנים בעוה"ז. ויש מי שאף גם שבא בגלגול להתקן, לא נזהר מן החטא, וחזר להשתקע עוד בתוך הקליפות כבראשונה, הוא וכל הנצוצות הנמשכות ממנו ותלויות בו, וזו היא בחינה בינונית, כוללות גלגול ועבור, כי כל נצוצי הנפש, אפילו אותם שנתקנו, באים בגלגול גמור, עם הנצוץ הפרטי המקולקל מעת שנולד, ואינם נפרדים כלל עד יום המיתה

: So in every generation, we take out some of the sparks [from the klipot], and we come into a gilgul (through reincarnation) into this world, and how we come is according to the level of our neshamot in our generation. Or, from the sparks in the head, or from the sparks of the eye, etc., we rectify these in this world. And there are those that come in a gilgul (who are reincarnated) to fix [a serious aveira] (requires further translating; I don't want to say this incorrectly). [When a gilgul or an Ibur happens, all of the 'sparks' of the Nefesh come with him into his new body, even 'sparks' [belonging to body parts] which were already rectified. The rectified 'sparks' come into the body of the one being reincarnated along with the 'sparks' that were spoiled (through the serious sin that he did in the previous life). All of these 'sparks' come with him from the moment that he is born, and they do not separate from him at all until the day that he dies. ...

אמנם הגלגול של הנצוצות המתוקנות, נקרא עבור, לפי שאינה נוטלת חלק בעבירות של זה הגוף, רק בזכיותיו בלבד. כדרך שנתבאר בנפשות הצדיקים שכבר מתו, ובאות בסוד עיבור ממש בחיים, ולא מיום שנולד. ונמצא, כי הניצוץ שלא נתקן כלל, ע"י קיום המצות המתייחסות לו, או שעבר עבירה מאותם שאין לו תחיה, הוא המתגלגל בגוף השני ונקרא על שמו. והנצוצות שנתקנו במצות, אלא שנפגמו בעבירה קלה, באים בעבור הנז', אע"פ שהוא ג"כ גלגול. אך הנצוצות שלא נפגמו בעבירה אחר שנתקנו במצות, אינם באים כלל, זולתי ע"י עבור בחיים, וגם זה אינו אלא אם יזכה: However, the gilgul of the 'sparks' which were already rectified, they come into the body and have the status of an Ibur -- this means that they do not take part [or get affected by] any aveirot (sins) that this person does in this body; rather, the 'sparks' only take part in the merits (just like what happens with an Ibur of the Nefesh of a Tzaddik who has already passed on). We find that the sparks which were not rectified at all through the fulfillment of the mitzvot that are relevant to him, or through a serious aveira (sin) [the kind of sin where the person won't rise during techiyas hameisim] -- this person must reincarnate into a new body (which is now his body), and the sparks that he previously rectified through the mitzvot (even if they were damaged in a small sin) -- they come with him [into this new body], but with the status of an Ibur (meaning, they are not harmed by the aveiros he does in this new body, but they benefit from his mitzvot), even though the rectified sparks are coming into him in the form of a gilgul (meaning, they are joining him with his new body at the time of his birth). So just as the 'sparks' (of the tzaddikim which come in the form of an Ibur while they are still alive) are not damaged or blemished by an aveira (because the sparks of a Tzaddik do not require rectification or gilgul), so too when they (his sparks from a previous gilgul where they [the sparks] have been rectified) can come into his body while he is still alive (to help him). All of this only happens if the person merits getting a Nefesh or a spark of the Tzaddik through actions. [You can see I am confusing where R' Chaim Vital is referring to sparks of a Tzaddik entering into a body versus his own rectified sparks which enter his body either through birth, and I think also when someone rectifies an aveira that he did - I believe the text is saying that those sparks which previously fell into klipah re-enter his body during his lifetime if/when he does teshuva.]
העולה מזה הוא, כי כאשר הנפש מתגלגלת בעוה"ז, אין עיקר גולגולה, אלא באותו חלק הפרטי הפגום, המתייחס אל הגוף ההוא, ושאר חלקי הנפש שכבר באו בגופות אחרים ונתקנו שם, אינם באות שם אלא בבחינת עבור. ולכן כאשר החלק המתייחס אל הגוף ההוא, יעשה איזו מצוה בעוה"ז, גם שאר חלקי הנפש המתעברת בו, תטול חלקה במצוה ההיא, כי גם היא מסייעתו בעשותו המצוה הזאת, ע"ד הנז"ל בסוד העבור של איזה צדיק אחד. משא"כ כשחוטא זה החלק הפרטיי, כי אז אין לשאר הנפש חלק ולא להרע, בענשו, יען כי היא מסייעתו להטיב: From this, we understand that when a Nefesh reincarnated into this world (and the rectified sparks come into the body, but in the status of an Ibur, but perhaps they can be benefitted because of a minor sin that was previously committed), the purpose of the gilgul of the Nefesh [is not for the sparks] but it is for the specific part of the Nefesh that he damaged (through a serious sin). So the sparks that come with him help the body and the other parts of the Nefesh (because they were already rectified in other bodies this person already had, and they were rectified then). Thus, the nitzutzim (sparks) do not enter the new body except with the status of an Ibur. Thus, when the part of the body [that was previously involved in a serious aveira in a previous body] does whatever mitzvah it needed to in this world (in this gilgul), so too, all the parts of the Nefesh that came into the body with the status of an Ibur also benefit from the mitzvot this person does in this body. Not only this, but the person in this new body also helps (through his other mitzvos) the nitzutzot which come into his body (since they can benefit from mitzvot which are not the reason he reincarnated into this body [just as the secret of an Ibur can help a tzaddik who enters into his body to help him in the form of an Ibur]). However, if he sins, these sparks or any other parts of his Nefesh that have already been rectified are not punished because they are only there to help him for good, and they are not affected by the bad he does: ...

ונמצא, כי בעת שנולד האדם בגלגול, כל הנפש בכללות חלקיה מתגלגלים שם, אבל עיקר הגלגול איננו, אלא לאותו החלק הפרטיי המתייחס אל הגוף ההוא, הבא ליתקן ממה שפגם בגוף הקודם, ובו תלוי השכר והעונש. אבל שארית חלקי הנפש, נוטלים חלק בשכר, ולא בעונש כנזכר. והנה, כיון שהנפש הזו בכללותה, סובלת עתה היסורין והעונשים, הבאים אל הגוף הזה בחייו, מלבד מה שסבלה כבר בגופים הראשונים, של שאר נצוצותיה, וגם סובלת צער המיתה הזאת, וצער שלאחר המיתה, עי"כ מתכפרים עונותיה הראשונים. ואמנם המצות שעשתה בגלגולים הראשונים, וגם המצות שעשה זה הנצוץ עתה, יש לה חלק בהם כנזכר, ועי"כ נשלמת תקוניה ושלימותה. ואמנם אם היתה נוטלת חלק גם בעבירות שעושה עתה זה הנצוץ, לא היה לעולם שום תקון אל הנפש, בכל הגלגולים שבעולם, כי לעולם האדם חוטא, ומוסיף פשעים על חטאיו הראשונים שקדמו לו בגלגולים אחרים, ואין קץ אליהם. אבל כיון ששאר חלקי הנפש אינם נוטלים חלק ברשעת הנצוץ הזה, אלא בזכיותיו, נמצא שהעבירות נשלמים להתכפר, ואינם נתוספים. והזכיות מתחדשים ונוספים בכל גלגול נצוץ ונצוץ, ועי"כ יש סיום אל בחי' הגלגול, ואל תקוני הנפש, והבן זה היטב. והנה עד"ז נשלמת הנפש בכל נצוצותיה, ע"י הגלגולים עד שיושלמו להתגלגל ולהתקן כל הנצוצות, מראש הנפש ועד רגליה, וכדין יסתיימין רגלין ליתיי משיחא, כנזכר בזוהר פרשת פקודי דף רנ"ח ובסוף פרשת ויקהל: So we find, that from the time a person is born via a gilgul (because he required reincarnation), the entire Nefesh with all of its parts reincarnate with him there (into his new body). However, the purpose of the gilgul is not [to benefit the parts of the Nefesh that were already rectified but perhaps can still benefit from rectifying a minor aveira], but rather, [the rectified parts of the Nefesh] are only there to help the new body [to do the specific mitzvos] (with the purpose of rectifying those specific parts of the Nefesh that were blemished) from a serious aveira that was committed in a previous body (thus requiring gilgul). And, dependant on [whether he rectifies the specific serious aveira in this gilgul] determines whether he is rewarded or punished (in this life). However, the other rectified parts of the Nefesh (which came with him into this new body) do participate in the reward that he receives from his mitzvos, but they do not receive punishment from his aveiros in this new body (because they come into him having the status of an Ibur). So here, when this Nefesh (the person in this new body) suffers issurim (hardships) or punishments which come to him in this new body in this life (the 'theme' of his life and its hardships usually are related to the part of his Nefesh that needs fixing). So whatever hardships or tragedies he suffers in this body are related to what he did to his Nefesh or the sparks of his nefesh in the previous body [to cause him to require reincarnation]. Also, (it is possible that he was reincarnated only for death, because) death itself is a big 'tzar' (suffering), so too what happens after death is also a tzar. But through this tzar (or the hardships in his life), these atone for what he did in previous bodies (in previous gilgulim). At the same time, the mitzvos that he did in previous gilgulim, and also the sparks [which were created or previously elevated through mitzvot performed in a previous body], these sparks come with him and join him now in this gilgul, and he has these sparks (and the rectified parts of his Nefesh) which take part in his tikkun (of the serious aveiras he committed in a previous gilgul). However, if in this body he continues to sin, or if he increases in his aveiros and doubles and adds onto them, you might think that there will be no end to his needing reincarnation! But, since the rectified parts of his Nefesh that come with him, and the sparks from his previous gilgulim join him with the status of an Ibur, they are not affected by the aveiros he does in his life; they only are benefitted by him if or when he does any mitzvah in this body. So from one gilgul to another, to another, he eventually rectifies his Nefesh and the sparks one spark at a time. And through this, he eventually finishes the need to reincarnate, because he has completed the tikkun (rectification) of his Nefesh. So through this, he completes his Nefesh, and rectifies all of his netzitzut (sparks) through his reincarnations. This continues until he completes his gilgulim and he rectifies all of the nitzutzot (for each body part) from the head of the Nefesh to the feet of the Nefesh. And when he finishes the rectification of the sparks in his feet, then Moshiach will come to complete [I assume the entire body of] Israel, as is explained in the Zohar, Parshat Pikudei, page 258, and in the end of Parshat Vayakhel.

אמנם בבחי 'היבום אינו כן ,והטעם הוא ,לפי שהמתגלגל לסבות אחרות ,מחמת כל שאר העבירות שבתורה ,יש לו תקנה על ידי היסורין שסובל בעוה"ז ,או בגיהנם ,ולכן כל חלקי הנפש אינם צריכים אל הגלגול ,אלא בדרך עבור כנזכר ,והנצוץ הפרטיי הוא המתגלגל .אבל מי שבא בסוד היבום ,הוא לסבת שמת בלא בנים ,והרי הוא כאלו לא הצליח כלל ועיקר ,וכאלו לא היה בעולם ,וגוף הראשון הוי כלא היה , כנזכר בפרשת וישב ולכן צריך שהנפש ההיא שהיה בגוף הראשון בכל חלקיה ,חוזרת להתגלגל לגמרי עתה מחדש לצורך עצמה ,וגוף השני זה הוא גופו העיקרי ,וכשנתקן בו ויפטר מן העה"ז ,הנה בעת תחית המתים לא תשוב הנפש כי אם בו ,אבל בגוף הא 'אינו נכנס בו רק ההוא רוחא דשבק באנתתיה ,כנזכר בסבא דמשפטים .והרי נתבאר חלוק שיש ,בין מי שמת בלא בנים ובא בסוד היבום ,למי שמת לסבת שאר עבירות שבתורה שבא בגלגול כפי ההזדמן ,ולא על ידי יבום .והנה גם כל הפרטים הנז ',נוהגים ברוח ונשמה ,ע"ד מה שביארנו בענין נצוצי הנפש: However, it is not the same concerning [what happens in] 'Yibbum', and the reason for this is that reincarnation happens for reasons other than committing aveirot (sins) of the Torah. For aveirot, there is a rectification [for his sins] which come through hardships and suffering in this world or gehinom. [If the sins came through violating a certain negative mitzvah], then all of the [rectified] parts of his Nefesh do not require gilgul. Rather, they can come with him having the status of an Ibbur, as we already described. So too with the sparks [that were already rectified in a previous lifetime -- they can come with him having the status of an Ibbur]. However, one who comes through the secret of Yibbum, this happens because he died without children (he did not do the mitzvah of 'Pru u'rvu' of having children, which apparently is required in every lifetime). Thus, he is as if his efforts [in his previous lifetimes] were for nothing; it is as if he was never in this world, and it is as if his previous body never existed, as we learn in the Zohar, Parshat Vayeshev. Therefore, his Nefesh that was in the first body (which died without children), and all of its parts reincarnates completes now as if it is a completely new entity [referencing Ch.2, where a body is born with a Nefesh, Ruach, Neshama; and if he damages the Nefesh with a sin, the unblemished Ruach cannot rest on a damaged Nefesh, so the two cannot be together in this lifetime until he reincarnates and fixes the blemish in his Nefesh from whatever sin he did]. This [child born via Yibbum now can reset in this] second body;

this second body becomes his primary body, and if he rectifies it [meaning, if he fixes the issue he created in the first body of dying without having children], then when he dies from this world, in the time [of Moshiach] when techias haMeisim happens, his Nefesh will return [not to the first body, which I assume did not have any serious aveiros which would require gilgul] but to this new second body [which he acquired through Yibbum]. However, the Ruach which was in his first body [has its own interaction between the original husband, his wife, and the new husband and his Ruach; this is not covered yet in the text], goes according to what is written in בסבא דמשפטים. So to explain this part, there is a difference between someone who dies without children, and comes into a new body via Yibbum, and someone who dies (having other aveirot of the Torah) that comes back via gilgul (reincarnation), and not via Yibbum. Also here, recall everything we discussed about a Ruach and a Neshama comes into a body through what we explained concerning 'sparks' (nitzutzei) of the Nefesh.

עוד יש חלוק אחר, בין היבום אל הגלגול, והוא, מה שנתבאר אצלינו בתחלת הדרוש הזה, כי הנה המתגלגל בסוד יבום, כיון שגופו הראשון נחשב כלא היה כלל כנזכר, אשר לסבה זו תבא הנפש בגלגול בכללות חלקיה כנזכר, ונמצא כי זהו בנין חדש ממש, ולכן יתגלגלו עמה גם הרוח והנשמה שלשתם ביחד, אמנם לא בפעם אחת, רק כאשר יזכה ויעשה מצות הראויות אל הרוח, יכנס בו הרוח. וכן בענין הנשמה. כדוגמת מה שביארנו למעלה בתחלת כל הדרוש, בענין תחילת ביאת האדם בעה"ז, בהיותו חדש ממש, אשר עליו נזכר בסבא דמשפטים זכה יתיר, יהבין ליה רוחא וכו', זכה יתיר, יהבין ליה נשמתא וכו' משא"כ במגולגל, כמו שיתבאר. ולכן גם הבא בסוד היבום, שהוה דומה לבנין חדש, יכול להשיג שלשתם נר"ן יחד בפעם ההיא כפי מעשיו כנזכר: There is another distinction, between the Yibbum and Gilgul, and this is what we described at the beginning of this explanation. And that is when a person is reincarnated via the secret of Yibbum (not via Gilgul), it is as if the first body never existed (because it died without having any children). So the Nefesh and all of its parts are born into the child created via Yibbum, as we already described. We find that this [child] is a new creation (a new 'building'), literally, and therefore it can have reincarnated into it [with the Nefesh] also the Ruach, and the Neshama, and all three of them can [immediately] be in one body [rather than having to come together through multiple gilgulim, one after the other]. However, this does not happen all at once; rather, [he gets the Nefesh at birth,] and when he merits it and does mitzvot which would merit a Ruach [e.g., when he becomes Bar Mitzvah], a Ruach enters into him, and so too with a Neshama, just as we explained above at the beginning of the entire explanation about the birth of an Adam (a person) in this world when he was literally new, just as is described in בסבא דמשפטים, that he merits a Ruach in the second reincarnation, and then the Neshama in the third reincarnation, etc. Therefore, in a birth resulting from the secret of Yibbum, he is like a brand new creation (his first life), and he is able to receive all three of his Nefesh, Ruach, and Neshama in one life, according to his actions as we already explained: his brother] into this world through Yibbum, so too with this Yibbum, he is able to return and add onto [the child created through Yibbum] all of his Nefesh, and also his Ruach, and his Neshama into one body. However, this happens only through [the child doing] good deeds [the child must earn them]:

אמנם הגלגול שלא ע"י יבום, אין כח בהם להמשיך שלשתם, רק אחד לאחד בלבד כנז"ל, כי בתחלה תתגלגל הנפש לבדה, עד אשר תתוקן לגמרי וימות. אח"כ יתגלגל הרוח לבדו בגוף אחר עד שיתוקן, ואמנם גם הנפש מתגלגלת עמו, אלא שהוא בסוד עבור בלבד, כיון שהיא מתוקנת, ואינה באה עמו אלא לעזרו להיטיב אליו, ולא להרע, ולכן לוקחת חלק במעשה הרוח הטובים, ולא ברעים ממש, ע"ד מש"ל בענין הנפש בעצמה, המתגלגלת כלה עם חלק אחד פרטיי שלה, ויושבת עמו בסוד עבור וכו' וגם בזה יתבאר, איך יש סוף אל גלגולי הנפש, ויכולה להתתקן, כיון שאין לה חלק בעבירות הרוח כנזכר. ואח"כ ימות, ואח"כ תתגלגל הנשמה לתקן עצמה, ואז הנפש והרוח באים בו עמו בסוד עבור לבד כנזכר, עד שתזדכך. ואז אין עוד צורך לאיש ההוא להתגלגל בעה"ז כלל לצורך עצמו, אמנם אפשר שיבא בסוד עבור בעוה"ז: בעוד אדם אחר בחיים, לסייעו ולזכותו, וליטול חלק עמו, כנז"ל באורך: However, in the Gilgul that takes place not through Yibbum [e.g., through a person blemishing his Nefesh via a certain serious aveira], he does not have the power or ability to bring down all three of them [the Nefesh, Ruach, and Neshama in one lifetime], but rather, one at a time [one more in each lifetime], just as we described. This is, in the first lifetime, he gets only the Nefesh until he completes it entirely and then he dies. Then, he is reincarnated with a Ruach alone in another body until he completes it and then he dies, and then the Nefesh can reincarnate with the Ruach. However, with the secret of Ibur, when a soul is completed, it comes into the body only to help it (it cannot be damaged itself by the sins the person commits). And, since it comes into the body having the status of an Ibur, it takes part in the good deeds that are done with the Ruach, and not the bad [it is not affected by the aveiras the body commits]. [Please add translation.] Also with this, we explained, how there is an ending to the reincarnations (gilgulim) of the Nefesh, and a person is able to perfect it, since it is not affected by the sins that are done by the person (who is working on perfecting the Ruach), as we explained. And then he dies, and then he reincarnates with his Neshama with the purpose of perfecting it, and the Nefesh and Ruach come with him but have the status of an Ibur, until the Neshama is perfected. Then, there is no more need for gilgulim in this world for the perfection of his soul. However, he is able to come with the secret of Ibur into this world again in another person who is living -- to help him in his merits, and to give a piece of himself, as we described at length (in Ch. 2):

ועתה נבאר מה שידענו למעלה בתחלת הדרוש לבאר, והוא, כי גם בסוד הגלגול, בדוחק גדול אפשר, שיזכה החדשה קצת להשיג שלשתם ביחד, נר"ן בפעם אחד, בגוף אחד, ולא יצטרך לגלגולים רבים, וישלים תקון שלשתם בגלגול אחד לבדו. והענין הוא, כי הנה כאשר נתגלגל הנפש לבדה בתחלה, אם נתקנה בתכלית הזכוך לגמרי, והנה אז אין הרוח יכול לבא עמה כנז"ל לפי שהיא שלימה, והוא חסר התקון, אמנם יש לו תקנה אחת, כיון שנתקן הנפש לגמרי כנז"ל, והוא, כאשר האדם ישן בלילה, ואז מפקיד נפשו בידו יתברך כנודע, אפשר שתשאר נפשו למעלה דבוקה בבאר העליון, בסוד מיין נוקבים, כמבואר אצלינו בשער התפלה בשכיבת הלילה וע"ש, וכאשר יעור משנתו בבקר, יכנס בו הרוח לבדו, והרי זה כאלו נתגלגל ממש פעם אחרת בגוף אחר, והולך ונתקן עד שיושלם לגמרי, ואז יכולה הנפש לחזור בגוף כבראשונה, כיון ששניהם נתקנים, ויתלבש הרוח בנפש, ותהיה הנפש מרכבה אליו. ואח"כ אם יזדכך הרוח לגמרי, אפשר כי גם יצאו הנפש והרוח בלילה בעת השינה בסוד פקדון כנזכר, וישארו שם למעלה, ואז בבקר בהקיצו משנתו, תכנס בו הנשמה, ותתקן בו. ואחרי שנשלם תקונה יחזרו לבא הנפש והרוח המתוקנים, ויתחברו שלשתם יחד בגוף הזה, ויעשה זה מרכבה לזה כנודע, ולא יצטרך עוד לגלגולים אחרים: And now we will expound on what we explained at the beginning (of Hakdama 2). That [there is a way for a person can rectify all of his Nefesh, Ruach, and Neshama (NaRaN) even in one gilgul where he does not require another gilgul]. [Further translation required here.] Sometimes a person can reach all of his Nefesh, Ruach, and Neshama together at one time, in one body, and he does not require many gilgulim; he can complete all three [souls] in only one gilgul. The concept is that here, when a person is reincarnated [I assume this means after blemishing his Nefesh, Ruach, and Neshama that were together in one body, in his next gilgul], he is given only a Nefesh. If he merits to rectify it completely, the Ruach is unable to come join it [because only the Nefesh is rectified,] but the Ruach is missing rectification [because it was blemished]. There is one way to fix it, and that is when he fixes the Nefesh completely (as we described above), when that person sleeps at night, he gives away his Nefesh into the hands of Hashem, as we know, "B'yadecha, afkid Ruchi..." Thus, it is possible that his Nefesh can remain above in a sticking (clinging) to the "Be'er haElyon" in the secret of "Mayin Nukvin," as it was explained to us in Sha'ar haTefilah. When one lies down at night, [and the Nefesh returns above,] when he wakes from his sleep in the morning, [instead of his Nefesh returning and entering into him,] his Ruach alone can enter into him, and so it is like he is literally reincarnated again in another body [although he is still in the same body], and so he goes forth and fixes [his Ruach], until he rectifies it completely. Then, his Nefesh can return into that same body, since both [the Nefesh and now the Ruach] are both rectified. So the Ruach is clothed over the Nefesh, and the Nefesh becomes a Merkava (a chariot) to it. And afterward, if he merits to rectify the Ruach completely, both the Nefesh and the Ruach may leave the body at night at the time that he goes to sleep (in the secret of giving them away, as we described), and these souls will remain there above. Then in the morning when he wakes up from his sleep, his Neshama alone will enter into him. And when he rectifies it, and completes it, the Nefesh and the Ruach [that he already rectified] will return, and then all three will connect together in this same body, and [I assume the Nefesh and the Ruach] will become a Merkava (chariot) [for the Neshama], as is known, and this person will no longer require any additional gilgulim.

והנה ענין התקון הזה, נרמז בפסוק נפשי אויתיך בלילה אף רוחי בקרבי אשחרך. פירוש, כי הנה בחי ' הנפש שלי, כאשר נזדככה בתכלית הזכוך, עד שתוכל להתדבק עמך, בסוד ולדבקה בו, אז אויתיך ונשתוקקתי מאד לדבקה בך, וענין תאוה וחשק הזה, הוא בלילה, בעת פקדון הנפשות, שעולות שם בסוד מיין נוקבים, לעורר זווג עליון. ומכח תאוה זו, כיון שהיא מזוככת, ויכולה להתדבק שם דבוק גמור, נשארת שם, ואינה יורדת. וכאשר הגיע השחר, עת ירידת הנפשות, היא אינה יורדת, אלא רוחי ירד ונכנס בקרבי אז בשחר. ולכן לא אשחרך בבחי 'נפשי, אלא בבחי 'רוחי הנכנס אז בקרבי להתקן כנזכר. ולכן ר"ת של תיבות 'בלילה 'אף 'רוחי, הוא באר, לרמוז אל הנז"ל, כי נפשי אויתיך לעלות אל בא"ר העליון כנזכר. ואמנם האדם היודע בעצמו שהשלים בחי 'נפשו, נכון הוא לו שיאמר פסוק זה, של נפשי אויתיך בלילה, וגו ', בכל הכונה הנז"ל, כשישכב על מטתו, ועי"כ ישיג אל סוד הרוח, וכן אל הנשמה, ולא יצטרך עוד לגלגולים אחרים, והבן זה הסוד הנעלם, והזהר בו. ואמנם מה שאנו אומרים פסוק בידך אפקיד רוחי וגו ', איננו מועיל אל הנזכר, כי אין כונתינו בו רק שיעלו נפשותינו בבחי 'פקדון לבד, ויחזרו לירד בבקר. אבל פסוק נפשי אויתיך, הוא להשאיר הנפש למעלה, ולהוריד הרוח או הנשמה כנז"ל). הגהה - אמר שמואל, ענין זה, של פסוק נפשי אויתיך נתבאר בש"ו שער הכונות ע"ש (לקמן הקדמה ו 'אופן אחר)

Related to this concept of rectification, there is a "remez" (a hint) in the passuk, " נפשי אויתיך בלילה אף רוחי בקרבי אשחרך." The explanation is that with "my Nefesh," when he merits to completely purify it, until it is able to cling to You (Hashem), with the secret "לדבקה בך," (to cling to him), with this being a yearning and desire, he is "in the night" at the time that he deposits his Nefashot, and they go up [with the secret of Mayin Nukvin" to arouse the "zivug haElyon" (the connection with Hashem). And from the strength of this desire when he merits and is able to cling to Him there in a complete clinging, he will remain there and not come back down. And when the morning arrives, and the time for the coming down (returning) of the Nefashot, his Nefesh does not come down. Rather, "My Ruach" (his Ruach) comes down, and it enters "into me," in "the morning." Thus, [this requires a better translation,] his Nefesh does not come down, but rather, his Ruach [comes down] and enters into him [so that he can] rectify it, as we described. Therefore, the Roshei Teivot (first letters of each word of) " 'בלילה 'אף 'רוחי, הוא באר' ", ("Be'er," or the well), and this is a hint, that when my soul desires you and it elevates to the Be'er haElyon, as we described. But, when a person knows within himself that he has completed his Nefesh, it is appropriate for him to say this passuk, " נפשי אויתיך בלילה וגו'" with all of the kavanah (intention) as we described above. So that when he sleeps on his bed, through this, he can reach (receive instead) his Ruach, and so to [afterward] his Neshama, and he wouldn't need any more gilgulim [after this]. But understand this hidden secret, but you must be careful with it [warning]. The reason for this is that when we say the passuk, "בידך אפקיד רוחי וגו'" we don't mention it [the Nefesh], and our intention is only that our soul should rise in the way of a deposit ONLY. And it should return and come down [back] to us in the morning. But, the passuk, "נפשי אויתיך" is said [with the intention] that the Nefesh should stay above and that the Ruach or the Neshama should come down [instead of it], as we described above. Shmuel explained the concept of the passuk, "נפשי אויתיך" in Sha'ar 6 of Sha'ar haKavanot, page 131:1.

Chapter 4

בענין הגלגול, ויבאר בו ענין גלגול כפול מה ענינו, וז"ל, עוד יש שני חלוקים אחרים בענין הגלגול לבדו, האחד הוא, כי מי שבפעם אחד החדשה שבא בעה"ז, זכה והשיג נר"ן, ואח"כ חטא ופגם אותם, הנה, האיש הזה כאשר יחזור להתגלגל לתקן, לא יוכל להשיג בגלגול ההוא נר"ן ביחד, אם לא ע"ד התקנה שנתבארה לעיל), בדף הקודם (שיאמר בשכבו על מטתו, פסוק נפשי אויתיך בלילה וכו'. והשני הוא, כי מי שבפעם ראשונה החדשה, לא זכה אלא אל הנפש בלבד, וחטא ופגם אותה, הנה כשיתגלגל, יוכל להשיג נר"ן בגלגול ההוא עצמו, כיון שמתחלה לא נפגמו הרוח והנשמה, יכולים עתה לבא עם הנפש אחר שנתקנה, כאלו היה בפעם א' החדשה, שנאמר בה אז זכה יתיר וכו' כנז"ל, משא"כ כאשר בתחילה באו

ואמנם. כלם ונפגמו כלם, כי אז איך תהיה נפש המתוקנת מרכבה אל הרוח הנפגם, וכן בענין הנשמה כאשר לא פגם בראשונה רק את הנפש, יכולים לבא שלשתם אח"כ בגלגול כנזכר: Regarding the Gilgul, Explaining The Concept of Double Gilgul: There are two other parts of reincarnation (gilgul). 1) The first is one who in his first life coming to this world (e.g., when he is a 'new neshama'), he is able to merit and obtain his Nefesh, Ruach, and Neshama [in one lifetime, through his merits and performance of the Mitzvahs that are relevant to him]. But [in that lifetime] after he makes a sin ('chet') and he blemishes them (in that first time he has come to this world). Here, when that person returns to reincarnate, to rectify [what he sinned or blemished in his first lifetime], he is unable to receive in this reincarnation his "NaRaN" (Nefesh, Ruach, and Neshama) at once. [This is because even if he rectifies his Nefesh in that life, his blemished Ruach (from the sins of the previous life) and blemished Neshama cannot rest on a perfected Nefesh). He can also rectify his soul as we described (at the end of Ch. 3) by saying as he lays down on his bed the passuk, "נפשי אויתיך בלילה וכו'." The second way 2) is via one who in his first life, he did NOT merit anything other than his Nefesh alone [meaning, he never received his Ruach or his Neshama to blemish them]. This person [with only his Nefesh] sinned and damaged [only] his Nefesh [through the sin]. When he reincarnates [to fix the Nefesh, and he fixes it], he is able to receive his "NaRaN" (his Nefesh, Ruach, and Neshama) in this gilgul itself, since he did not damage his Ruach or his Neshama [in the previous life, because he did not receive them in that life]. Therefore, he can now come with the Nefesh after he has rectified it as if it was his first life. As it says with this, "אז זכה יתיר וכו' כנז"ל." However, in the first time that he came to this world, if he came with them all (he receives each of his Nefesh, Ruach, and Neshama, and he blemished them all, [in his next life,] even if he rectifies his Nefesh, how can a rectified Nefesh be a chariot ('merkava') for a blemished Ruach? Similar question with a Neshama. In the case of when in his first life he only blemishes his Nefesh [because he did not merit to receive the Ruach or Neshama], [and here in this same first life he rectifies that blemish, (I am guessing through Teshuvah,)] he is able to receive all three souls in that same lifetime, as we described.
ונלע"ד, כי כל בחי 'תקון, ר"ל קיום המצות התלויות באיברי הנפש, ובחי 'פגם, היא עשיית עבירות של
מל"ת. ונודע, כי השלמת כניסת הנפש בגוף, שהוא הנקרא תקון נפש, אינו אלא ע"י קיום המצות. אמנם
העבירות פוגמים הנפש, ואינם מחסרות נצוצותיה מליכנס, אבל יש ב 'חלוקים אחרים בענין זה, והוא, כי
הנה אם בפעם א', אשר לא השיג אלא נפש, אם לא זכה לתקן אותה כלה ומת, הנה כיון שהגוף הזה הא '
לא השלים לתקן את כל בחי 'הנפש, לכן בעת תחית המתים, אין לו לגוף הא', אלא אותו החלק הפרטיי
אשר תקן הוא בחיים, ולכן כשמתגלגלת הנפש הזאת בגוף אחר להשלים תקונה, יכול להשיג נר"ן, ואז
בחי 'החלקים של הנפש שנתקנו בגוף הזה השני, עם כל כללות הרוח עם הנשמה, הם לזה הגוף הב '
בזמן התחיה, באופן כי אין לגוף הא 'שום חלק ברוח ובנשמה, אבל חולק עם הב 'במקצת הנפש, כפי
החלקים אשר תקן ממנה, ושאר חלקיה הם לשני. וזהו ע"ד הנז"ל בסבא דמשפטים, בענין היבום, כי
הגוף הא 'דלא אצלח בפריה ורביה, אינו זוכה רק לנצוץ פרטיי של הנפש ההיא, והוא אותו הנצוץ דשבק
באנתתיה בביאה א', ושארית חלקי הנפש עם הרוח והנשמה, הם לגוף השני. וז"ס מ"ש בזהר בפרשת
חיי שרה דף קל"א ע"א, דהנהו גופין דלא אצלחו להוו כלא הוו, והדבר הזה מתמיה, כי אין לך אדם
מישראל שאינו מלא מצות כרמון, ולמה יתבטל לגמרי בזמן התחיה, אבל רמז אל האמור, כי הנה עיקר
התענוג העתיד לבא, הוא לבחי 'הרוח והנשמה, והגוף הא 'שאין בו אפילו נפש שלימה, רק נצוץ פרטיי,
ההוא רוחא דשבק באנתתיה וכו', נמצא כי אין לו תענוג, ובערך זה הוי כלא הוי. אבל אם זה הגוף הא',
זכה לתקן את כל הנפש, אלא שאח"כ חזר ופגם בה, הנה כאשר חוזרת להתגלגל הנפש ההיא עם הרוח
והנשמה בגוף הב 'כנזכר, הם מתגלגלים בהתחברות נצוץ נפש אחרת, כדי שתסייעם במצות, וזה נקרא

later blemished or damaged it), when that Nefesh comes back to reincarnate [to fix the minor blemish], [when he reincarnates without receiving his Ruach or Neshama in the first body of his first life], his Ruach and Neshama are able to come with him into his second body so that he can perfect them. So too, [in the case where there is only a minor blemish, in his next gilgul where he reincarnates to fix that minor blemish], [it can happen that NOT ONLY] all of the parts of his Nefesh that are reincarnated [into the second body] [but the nitzutot of his Nefesh can also be] connected to the nitzutzot of ANOTHER NEFESH (e.g., of the Nefesh of a Tzaddik who shares the same soul source as him) so that he [the Tzaddik] can help him with his mitzvot. This is called "Gilgul Kaful" ("Double Gilgul") [because there are two Nefashot which are reincarnated into one body]. When [a Gilgul Kaful happens], when it comes time for Techias haMaisim, the Nefesh, Ruach, and Neshama will return to the first body, and this second body will only merit the nitzutz of the Nefesh of the Tzaddik that came into it, and so this second body will be the main body [of the Tzaddik], because the first Nefesh was already completed in the first body. This is just as what happened with Rav Sheishet, as it said, my soul will be happy, and it will say, "to you I call, and for you I learned," etc.
והנה צריכים אנו לידע, כאשר האדם זכה לנפש ורוח ונשמה, ואח"כ פגם אותם, והנה נתבאר שכשחוזר בגלגול, אין שלשתם באים יחד, רק כל אחד מהם בגלגול בפני עצמו, והנה צריך לידע מה יהיה משפט הנפש והרוח והנשמה האלו, דע, כי כאשר הנפש נתגלגלה בגוף אחר להתקן, ונתקנה, ואז אין הרוח יכול ליכנס שם כנזכר, כי איך יתלבש רוח פגום בתוך נפש נתקנת. ואם נאמר שיתלבש הרוח הנפגם בנפש קודם שנתקנה, גם זה אי אפשר, כי אין הרוח נכנס, עד תשלום תקון הנפש, שהיא למטה ממדרגתו. ואמנם צריך שהרוח ההוא יבא בגלגול אחר לבדו, מורכב על נפש הגר תמורת נפשו, ושם נתקן. וכן עד"ז באה הנשמה בגוף אחד לבדה, מורכבת על נפש הגר. וז"ס מ"ש בסבא דמשפטים דף צ"ח ע"ב, דפגעי נשמתין בנפשי דגיורי וזכו בה וכו', כי הרוח לבדו, או הנשמה לבדה, אינם יכולים להתלבש בגוף אחד, אלא ע"י נפש, ולכן לוקחים תמורתה את נפש הגר, ועל ידה נתקנים: So here, we must know that when an Adam (a person) merits a Nefesh, Ruach, and Neshama [all together the first time he is alive] and he later blemishes (damages) them, as we explained, when he comes back in a gilgul, all three cannot come together; only each one of them in a gilgul of its own. And here we must know what is the law regarding this Nefesh, Ruach, and Neshama. Also, know that when a Nefesh reincarnates into another body to rectify itself, and it [successfully] rectifies itself, the Ruach is unable to enter into that body, as we explained, because how can a blemished Ruach dress itself into a perfected Nefesh? And if you would suggest that the blemished Ruach dresses itself into the blemished Nefesh before the Nefesh was perfected, this also is not possible, because a Ruach cannot enter until the rectification of the Nefesh is completed. This is because the Nefesh is at a lower level (than the Ruach), and so the Ruach is required to come into another gilgul on its own, e.g., resting on the Nefesh of a Ger [who has a new Nefesh], and there (in the Ger) the Ruach is rectified. And the same thing happens with the Neshama - it can only be rectified in the same way -- resting on the Nefesh of a Ger. And this is the secret of what is written in בסבא דמשפטים, p.98:2, that blemished Neshamot [are rectified] in Geirim, and they are merited through them. Specifically, a Ruach alone, or a Neshama alone, cannot dress themselves (rest upon / enter into) the body of another; rather, they could only rest upon a Nefesh. So they rest upon the new Nefesh of the Ger, and through that they are rectified.
ובזה יתבאר לך תימא גדולה, שיש אל מה שתמצא בדברינו, כי רוב בני אדם אינם זוכים רק לנפש, ומועטים הם בדורותינו אלה האחרונים, שיזכו לרוח ונשמה, והרי נודע כי אין בן דוד בא עד שיכלו רוחות

ונשמות להתקן, אבל יובן עם הנזכר, כי גם הרוח או הנשמה נתגלגלו בגופות אחרים, בהיותם מורכבים
על נפש הגר ואז יתוקנו גם הם. ואמנם הנפש העיקריית שלו כאשר זכה להתקן, תוכל לקבל רוח אחר
של איזה צדיק, שנדמה אליו במעשיו, ויהיה לו תמורת רוחו ממש. וכן עד"ז יתקן, עד גדר שיכול להשיג
ג"כ נשמה של איזה צדיק. וכשנפטר הנפש הזה מן העולם, אם עדיין הרוח העיקרי שלה לא נגמר תקונו, אז ביני וביני הולכת נפש זו עם הרוח של הצדיק ההוא לעה"ב, ועל ידו תקבל השפע הראוי לה. וכאשר נגמר תקון הרוח שלו בגלגולו בגוף אחר כנז"ל, אז הנפש אומרת אלכה ואשובה אל אישי הראשון,
ומתחברת עם הרוח שלה, וכן הענין בנשמה כאשר נתקנה, חוזרים הנפש והרוח לחזור עמה יחד בכל
הנז"ל: And with this, I can explain to you a big reason for what we find in our midsts, that most of b'nei Adam have only merited a Nefesh, and only a minority of them in our later generations have merited a Ruach or a Neshama. And it is known, that Moshiach ben Dovid will not come until the Ruchos and Neshamot are rectified. But as we described, even the Ruach or the Neshama must be reincarnated into other bodies -- they each require the Nefesh of a Ger, and that is how even they were [already] rectified. However, [returning to the person who already received his Nefesh, Ruach, and Neshama, but then he damaged them -- when he comes into a second gilgul with only his Nefesh], when his Nefesh merits to be rectified, [since he cannot receive his own blemished Ruach], he is able to receive another "Ruach" of a Tzaddik that is similar to him in his actions, and he can be a vehicle for the Tzaddik's Ruach. Through this, he rectifies [the Tzaddik's Ruach], all the way until he is able to receive also a "Neshama" of a Tzaddik. Then, when this Nefesh leaves this world, if his own Ruach is not yet finished being rectified [e.g., it is still alive in this world in another body], between this time (until it is finished being rectified), the Nefesh goes with the Ruach of this Tzaddik to Olam Haba, and through the Tzaddik, it receives the shefa on the level of that Tzaddik. When his Ruach is finished being rectified in the body of another person as we explained above, the Nefesh says, "I will go and return to my first husband," and the Nefesh reconnects with its Ruach (even if the Ruach is still in a body that is alive resting on another Nefesh, it will still return and join with it in the form of an ibur). So too with the Neshama once it is rectified, both his Nefesh and his Ruach will return to the Neshama (even in the form of an ibur if the Neshama is in another person), according to all that we have already learned.

ונבאר עתה ההפרש שיש בענין הגלגול, לצדיק ולרשע. ובזה יובן חלוק הנמצא בפסוקים ובדברי רז"ל, כי
פעמים ראינו שאין הגלגול נוהג אלא עד שלשה גלגולים, בסוד פעמים שלש עם גבר. ובסוד על שלשה
פשעי ישראל ועל ארבעה לא אשיבנו. ובסוד פוקד עון אבות על בנים על שלישים ועל רבעים. ומצאנו
בספר התקונים תקון ס"ט, דצדיק אתגלגל עד אלף דרין, וכיוצא בזה. ואמנם הפסוק עצמו תירץ זה, כי
ענין ארבע דורות הוא לרשע, כמש"ה פוקד עון אבות וגו', לשנאי. אבל למי עושה חסד לאלפים לגלגולם, לאוהביו ולשומרי מצותי: Now we will describe the difference between the gilgul of a Tzaddik and a Rasha, and this this, we will understand a a piece of what we find in the pesukim and the divrei Razal. Sometimes we see that a person cannot reincarnate more than three times, in the secret of what is written that sometimes it takes three times to succeed. And this is the secret of what is written, " על שלשה פשעי ישראל ועל ארבעה לא אשיבנו." This is also what is written that, "the sins of the father are visited on his children until the third or fourth [generation]." However, we find in Sefer haTikkunim, Tikkun 69, that a Tzaddik can reincarnate until one thousand generations, etc. So we can understand from the passuk itself that the concept of "four generations" refers to the rasha, just as it is written, "the sins of the father are visited [on his children, until the third or the fourth generation]," ...the fourth generation for those who hate me.

However, he who does Chesed, he can reincarnate a thousand times [because he] loves me, and he protects my mitzvot.

ובאור הענין הוא, דע, כי כאשר נפש האדם, אחר שבא מחדש בפעם א', וחטא ופגם בה, הנה אח"כ מתגלגלת בגוף אחד להתקן, וזה נקרא גלגול א'. ואם לא נתקנה אז, חוזרת בגלגול שני. ואם לא נתקנה אז, חוזרת בגלגול שלישי. ומשם ואילך, אין לה עוד תקנה בגלגול, ואז נאמר בה, ונכרתה הנפש ההיא מעמיה לגמרי. אמנם אין זה, רק כאשר לא נתקנה כלל שום תקון בשום פעם מאלו, אבל אם באיזה פעם מאלו השלשה, התחילה לתקן קצת, אינה נכרתת, אמנם יכולה לחזור ולהתקן, אפילו עד אלף דור אם יצטרך. ולכן הראשון שלא תקן כלל, נקרא רשע. והאחרון שתקן קצת, נקרא צדיק. וכל מה שמתגלגל, הולך ומשלים תקונו: And to bring light to this concept, know that when a Nefesh of an Adam (person) after he comes as a new [Nefesh] the first time [in this world], if he sins and he damages it [his Nefesh], afterward, he is required to reincarnate into another body to rectify it. This second body is called his first gilgul. If he does not fix his Nefesh, he must return into a second gilgul. If he still doesn't fix his Nefesh, he must return in a third gilgul. After this, he is no longer a possibility for him to reincarnate, and thus it is said of him, that this Nefesh is cut off ('karet') from the nation, completely. However, this [karet] is only when he did absolutely no rectification at all, in any of the three lifetimes. However, if at any time of these three [lifetimes] the Nefesh was rectified even a little bit [e.g., even if he did ONE mitzvah in any one of the lifetimes, his Nefesh] is NOT cut off. But rather, it is able to return and do rectification even until a thousand generations if it needs. Therefore, [the person who is] a first [life] that does not rectify at all is called a rasha, and after when he rectifies even a small bit [of mitzvas], he is called Tzaddik, and thus he can continue reincarnating and completing his rectification.

ונלע"ד ששמעתי ממורי ז"ל, כי אין זה נוהג אלא בנפש, לפי שהיא מן העשיה, הטבועה בעמקי הקליפות. ולכן לא נזכר בתורה כרת, אלא בנפש, כי נכרתה מן הקדושה, ונטבעה בקליפות. אבל בר"ן, שהם מיצירה ובריאה, שאין שם כ"כ תגבורת אחיזת הקליפות, ודאי הוא שיתוקנו כלם, אלא שיש שנתקנים מהרה, ויש באורך זמן אחר כמה גלגולים. ועוד נבאר טעם ההפרש הנזכר שיש בין הצדיק לרשע, ויובן במ"ש ז"ל על אלישע אחר, לא מידן לדייניה, משום דעסק בתורה וכו'. כי הנה הצדיק העוסק בתורה, ובפרט אם יהיה מן הקדמונים, אין דנים אותו בגיהנם. והנה מוכרח הוא שיתמרקו עונותיו כדי שיכנס בג"ע, ולכן אין לו תקנה אחרת אלא בגלגול, כי על כל עון ועון אשר יש לו שלא נתכפרו לו ע"י יסורין בחייו, וגם לא נכנס בגיהנם לקבל ענשו עליהם, צריך גלגול אחר לכל עון מהם לתקנו, ולכן הוא מתגלגל גלגולים רבים, לכפר ולתקן עונותיו. משא"כ ברשע, שנכנס לגיהנם, ומתמרקים שם כל עונותיו יחד, ואין לו צורך לחזור בגלגולים: [R'Chaim Vital z"l says] And it appears to me according to my understanding that I learned from my teacher z"l, that [the concept of karet haNefesh, and that one might think that there is no rectification of the soul with reincarnation after the three initial gilgulim (the three chances)] that there is no such a thing except with the Nefesh, since it is from the world of Asiyah which is sunk into the depth of the klipot. So there is no mention in the Torah of "Karet" except for the Nefesh. This is because 'Karet' ("cutting off," literally refers only to) cutting off from Kedusha ("holiness"), [where the Nefesh] sinks into the klipot [which is the side of evil]. However, with the Ruach and the Neshama -- since they are from [the worlds of] Yetzirah and Beriah, where there is no strength or grasp by the Klipot (so there is no concept of 'Karet' with the Ruach and the Neshama). [I need a better translation here, but it is basically saying that even if the Nefesh falls into klipah, the Ruach and Neshama can still be rectified in the ordinary way, e.g., by joining onto the Nefesh of a Ger], and while this might take a long time, even multiple reincarnations, [it is still possible to rectify them]. And to further [explain] the difference between a Tzaddik and a Rasha, and to understand what we said (z"l) regarding Elisha Acher, [again, I need editing of the translation here] he didn't have in his hands a judgement (a 'din'), because he worked hard and engaged himself ('osek') in Torah study, etc. We learn from here, that when a Tzaddik studies Torah, and specifically if he is from one the Rishonim, there is no possible judgement on him that he enter into Gehinom (Gehinom has no rule over him). Rather, he (goes through gilgulim) to clean up his sins so that he can enter into Gan Eden. Therefore, he has no directive other than Gilgul (reincarnation), and through this, each one of his sins that he might have which were not already atoned for through hardships during his life -- they are not purged through receiving punishment by entering Gehinom. But rather, he requires another gilgul (another reincarnation) until every one of his sins are rectified. Therefore, he (the Tzaddik) can reincarnate through many gilgulim to atone for and to rectify his sins. This is not the case, however, for a Rasha. He is required to enter into Gehinom to clean up all of his sins once, and after that, he is not required (or given the opportunity) to return in many gilgulim. [The logic here is that a Tzaddik can go through many gilgulim to rectify each and every part of his soul. However, a Rasha is given the 'easy route,' which is a purge of his sins in Gehinom. The logic is that if he were given additional lifetimes, he might continue to sin. Thus, a Rasha (as we will explain in the next section) is not given the opportunity to reincarnate many times like a Tzaddik can.]

ויש בזה מקום שאלה, כי כפי הנראה לכאורה, שיותר טובה הוא ליכנס לגיהנם למרק תכף כל עונותיו, ולא לחזור בכמה גלגולים. והנלע"ד חיים לתרץ, כי הקב"ה צופה ומביט, כי הרשע הזה אם יחזור בגלגול יוסיף על חטאיו פשערם, וירבה בעבירות על הזכיות, ולכן בראותיו שכבר השלים אותם המצות המועטות המוכרחות לו כפי שרש נפשו, מסלקו מן העולם ומורידו לגיהנם, ומתמרקין עונותיו, ונשארים זכיותיו שלימים, כי חפץ חסד הוא. אמנם הצדיק שעונותיו מועטים מזכיותיו, הם מתמרקים ע"י כל היסורין שסובל בגלגולים, ונשארים לו זכיותיו המרובים הנוספים לו בכל גלגול עד אין קץ, וגם שכרו נפלא ע"ד מ"ש רז"ל רצה הקב"ה לזכות את ישראל לפיכך הרבה להם תורה ומצות: With this, there is a question: It appears that it is better for him (his Nefesh) to enter into Gehinom to clean up all of his sins, and not to return many times in Gilgulim. [R' Chaim Vital says that] It appears according to my understanding to explain that [Gilgul is actually better than Gehinom, because through Gilgul, he can merit by doing the mitzvos and good deeds that he would do in the next body. However, for this Rasha,] Hashem looks into him and recognizes that this Rasha -- if he returned into another Gilgul -- he would only add onto his sins. He would also multiply his sins over his merits. Therefore, he sees that if he already completed the mitzvot that were required of him according to where he is in the source of his Nefesh, [it would be better for him to leave the world,] and so he leaves this world and he enters into Gehinom in order to clean his sins. Thus, his merits remain complete, "כי חפץ חסד הוא." However, with the Tzaddik (where his sins are fewer than his merits), they are cleaned through all the different types of hardships and sufferings that he would experience through Gilgulim. And, his merits remain with him and are multiplied and added to with each Giglul ad infinitum. Also, his reward is beautiful, according to what has been said by the Rabbis z"l, that "Hashem wanted to merit Yisrael, therefore he multiplied on them Torah and Mitzvos."

גלגול רב ששת. כבר נתבאר בדרושים שקדמו, ענין גלגול כפול, והנה זהו ג"כ ענין מ"ש בגמרא על רב ששת, שהיה סגי נהור, וכשהיה עוסק בתורה, היה שמח, ואומר חדאי נפשאי, לך קראי, לך תנאי וכו'. ולכאורה אין הבנה בדברים אלו, כי לעצמו היה מטיב ולא לזולתו, וכמש"ה אם חכמת חכמת לך. גם

ולהבין זה, נקדים תחלה ענין רב ששת, מי היה גלגולו. דע, כי בבא בן בוטא החסיד, מתלמידי שמאי הזקן, שכל ימיו היה מקריב אשם ספק, הוא שחזר עתה להתגלגל ברב ששת, להשלים איזה תקון שהיה צריך לו עדיין, ולפי שהורדוס המלך נקר את עיניו, גם עתה היה ג"כ סגי נהור כנודע. והנה אותיות בב"א הם שש"ת בא"ת ב"ש. ובזה נבא אל הבאור, דע, כי הנה מי שלא השלים תקונו בגלגול א' מוכרח להתגלגל עוד שנית להשתלם, אף אם חסרונו דבר מועט. והנה אם בגלגול א' השלים נפשו, ולא חסר לו כי אם דבר מועט, הנה כשחוזר להתגלגל שנית, כל השכר של התורה והמצות שעשה בגלגול השני הוא לצורך נפשו הבאה עתה בגוף השני הזה להשתלם, וכאשר יקומו בזמן התחיה, תחזור נפשו אל הגוף הראשון, שבו עסק בתורה ובמצות רוב הצריך לו, ולא בא בגוף הב' הזה, אלא בהשאלה. לכן רב ששת ידע בנפשו, כי היה בראשונה בגוף בבא בן בוטא, שהיה אדם גדול בתורה ובחסידות מפורסם, ולא חזר להתגלגל עתה בזה הגוף הב', אלא על דבר מועט שהיה חסר ממנו, ולכן היה גופו עצב על הדבר הזה, כי הנה כל עמלו לוקחו הנפש ההיא, וסופו ללכת לחזור בגוף הא' בזמן התחיה. באופן כי כל מה שהיה עוסק בתורה ובמצות תועלת נפשו הוא, ולא לגופו, ולכן הנפש ראויה לשמוח, ולא הגוף. וז"ש חדאי נפשי וכו': To understand this, we must preface who Rav Sheishet was in his Giglul. Know, that 'Baba Ben Buta' the Chassid, who was a student of Shamai haZaken, spent all of his days as a korban safek ('אשם ספק'). When he returned now in a gilgul as Rav Sheishet, he did so to complete whatever particular rectification he needed to (to fix whatever small damage he did), and when King Hordus took out his eyes in his previous life, so too in this life, (Rav Sheishes) was also blind. This [connection between the two of them] is also seen in the letters of their names. With this, we'll come to the explanation -- know that what rectification one does not complete in a first gilgul, he is required to reincarnate again to complete it, even if it is for something small that is missing. Here, if in the first gilgul he completed [the rectification] of his Nefesh, but he was only missing a small thing, when he returns in his second gilgul, all of the reward of the Torah and mitzvot that he does now in this second gilgul, it is for the benefit of his Nefesh (which was rectified in the first gilgul). So when he comes now into the second body to complete [the minor thing missing], when it comes for a body to rise in Techias HaMeisim, his Nefesh will return to the first body with which he toiled in Torah and mitzvot, as was required of that body (to rectify his Nefesh). He does not return to this second body; he only borrowed it (this body will only rise with the specific nitzutot which were connected to it. Thus, Rav Sheishet knew that his Nefesh was already in the first body of Baba Ben Buta; that he was a great 'Adam' in the Torah and he was a well known chassidic celebrity, and that he did not return to reincarnate into this second body except to borrow it for a small item that he was missing. Thus, his [second] body was sad about this, because for him (Rav Sheishes), the Nefesh in his body would be taken by the other body (that perfected it), and in the end (at the time of Techias HaMeisim), his Nefesh would go and return to the first body. So it was, in a way, that all of what he did as far as his toiling in Torah study was not meant for the happiness of his body, and with this, he said, " חדאי

נפשי וכו'", and not for me (not for my body). Rather, all my efforts I do for you (for his Nefesh which will belong to the other body), and not for me.

Chapter 5
בענין ההפרש שיש, בין הגלגול, לעבור. והם ב 'מיני גלגול. וב 'מיני עובר. והוא זה, כי הנה בגלגול הא ', הוא כניסת נפש אחת בגוף האדם, מיום שנולד ויוצא לאויר העולם. והב 'הוא, שלפעמים אפשר שיתגלגלו יחד שתי נפשות, וגם זה בעת שנולד האדם, וזה נקרא גלגול כפול, כמו שנתבאר בדרוש שקדם , ובמקומות אחרים. והנה שתיהם הנפשות מתגלגלות יחד ובאות לעולם, בעת שנולד גוף האדם, ואינם נפרדים כלל עד יום המיתה. ושתיהם נקראות נפש אחת, ונעשות נפש אחד, וסובלות הצער והיסורין הבאים אל הגוף ההוא כל ימי חייו, וצער המיתה. אמנם העבור אינו באדם ביום שנולד, כמו שנתבאר למעלה. אבל יש בו ב 'בחינות, האחת הוא, כאשר בא לצורך עצמו של הצדיק, המתעבר באדם להשתלם באיזה דבר שחסר לו, כמו שיתבאר במקומו. והשנית הוא, כאשר בא לצורך האדם, לעזרו ולסייעו בתורה ובמצות. והנה כאשר בא לצורך עצמו, אינו נכנס באדם עד היות בן י"ג שנה ויום אחד, שאז נתחייב האדם בתורה ובמצות, ויכול הוא לתקן גם את עצמו ע"י מצות האדם, ולכן אינו נכנס קודם זמן הזה, רק אחר שנתחייב במצות, ואז נכנס ומתפשט תוך הגוף ההוא, כדמיון שנתפשטה בו נפש האדם עצמה, ושתיהם סובלים היסורין הבאים על הגוף הזה, בהשואה אחת, ויושבת שם עד מלאת לה זמן קצוב לה, לתקן ולהשלים מה שהיא צריכה, ואז יוצאת בחייו, וחוזרת למקומה העליון בג"ע. אבל כאשר בא לתועלת האדם, ולא לצורך עצמו, הנה הוא בא בבחירת עצמו, ולא בהכרח, ולכן איננו כפוף לסבול צער הגוף הזה כלל, ואיננו מרגיש כלל בצערו וביסורין הבאים עליו, ואם מוצא נחת רוח באדם, הוא יושב שם עמו, ואם לאו הוא יוצא משם והולך לו, ואומר סורו נא מעל אהלי האנשים הרשעים האלה וגו': With regard to the difference between a Gilgul (where a Nefesh is reincarnated during the time of birth) to an Ibur (where a Nefesh is enclothed in a body of a person during his life) -- there are two different types of Gilgul, and there are two different types of Ibur, and these are: 1) a gilgul where ONE Nefesh enters into the body of an Adam when he is born and he comes out into the air of the world, and 2) sometimes it is possible that TWO Nefashot will reincarnate together, also when the Adam is born; this is called a "Gilgul Kaful" ("Double Gilgul"), as we explained before (and as we will explain later). Here, both of their Nefashot reincarnate together, and they come into the world at the time the body of the Adam is born, and they [the two Nefashot] are not separated at all until the day of their death. [Watch the tenses in the Hebrew here; the uses of plural and singular forms is interesting.] Both of them are called "one Nefesh" (and they are connected as one), and they are formed as one Nefesh. And, they both suffer the hardships that come to the body all of their life, and they both experience the pain of death. However, with an Ibur, there is not entry of an Adam at the time of his birth, just as we described above. There are two types [of Ibur]: 1) When a Tzaddik comes for his own benefit, he enters (he 'iburs') into an Adam to complete whatever thing it is missing (for example, if he did not have the chance to do a particular mitzvah in his life), just as it will be explained in its place [in the Hakdama 11]. [The second type of Ibur is] 2) when he comes for the benefit of the Adam, to help and raise him in his (observance of) Torah and mitzvos. [He still benefits from them, but the focus is on the benefit of the other.] When he comes for his own benefit (Ibur Type 1), he does not enter the Adam until he is 13 years old and one day, because only then the child is obligated to Torah and mitzvos. Once he is this age, he [the Adam] can rectify not only himself [his own Nefesh], but also the Neshama of the Ibur. Thus he does not enter before this time (of Bar Mitzvah), only afterwards, when he is obligated to do mitzvot. Then, he will enter and spread into the body, similar to the way that the Nefesh of the Adam himself spreads in the body, and both of the can suffer and experience the hardships that come to this body, and they suffer together, and the ibur remains there for whatever time it was set [by the heavenly court] for it to be there to rectify and complete whatever it needed to, and [when complete,] it can leave while the body is still alive, and it can return to its place above in Gan Eden. However, when it comes for the benefit of the Adam and not for his own benefit (Ibur Type 2), he comes according to his own volition [not according to the decree of a heavenly court], and not based on a directive. Thus he is not obligated to experience the pain of the body at all, and it does not feel at all the hardships and difficulties that come to the body. And if it is no longer comfortable for it to remain with the body, he can leave it at will, as it says, " סורו נא מעל אהלי האנשים הרשעים האלה וגו'."

ועתה נבאר את אשר התחלנו, כי הנה הפסוק אומר פוקד עון אבות על בנים. פירוש, כי עד שלשה נפשות מגולגלות וישנות, עם נפש אחת חדשה, יכולות להתגלגל יחד בגוף אחד, מיום שנולד, באופן שהם ארבעה נפשות יחד. וז"ס על רבעים. גם ז"ס פעמים שלש עם גבר. כי שלשה נפשות מגולגלות, יוכלו להתגלגל עם גבר אחד, הוא הנפש הזה החדש. אבל יותר מזה, אי אפשר להתגלגל ביחד. אמנם אפשר להיות פחות מחשבון זה, כי אפשר להיות שתתגלגל נפש אחת לבדה בגוף אחד, או נפש אחת מגולגלת, עם נפש אחת חדשה בגוף אחד, או שתי נפשות מגולגלות לבדם בגוף אחר, או שנים מגולגלות עם חדשה אחת, או שלשה מגולגלות לבדם, או שלשה מגולגלות עם חדשה אחת. אבל יותר מחשבון זה, אי אפשר להכנס בגוף אחד כנזכר: And now to explain what we started (regarding 'Gilgul Kaful'), as the pasuk says, "פוקד עון אבות על בנים." (Hashem visits the sins of the father on the children.) To explain this, until three Nefashot (referring to the three chances a Nefesh has). When the Nefesh was new [in his first life], he is able to reincarnate alone in a body from the day it was born, and [I could be translating wrong here, but it appears that it says that the reincarnation can be in a way where there could be FOUR Nefashot together in a body, and this is the secret of "על רבעים." Alternatively, this could simply be referring to the 4 lifetimes, meaning the three reincarnations, or three chances a new Nefesh has to do a mitzvah before it is considered a Rasha and is cut off from kedusha.] This is also the secret of 'three times to overcome', because [again, maybe I am mistranslating here, but it appears to say that] three Nefashot are able to be reincarnated into one person, and this is the new Nefesh (which has on top of it three more Nefashot). However, more than this, it is not possible for them to reincarnate together (into one body). However, it is possible for it to be less than this calculation, because it could be that one Nefesh along is reincarnated into one body, or one Nefesh is reincarnated with another new Nefesh into one body, or two Nefashot are reincarnated together into one body, or two [Nefashot] who are reincarnated with a new [Nefesh], or three [Nefashot] which are reincarnated together, or three [Nefashot] who are with one New [Nefesh]. However more than these calculations, it is not possible to enter into one body, as we described.

ודע, כי אלו המתגלגלים יחד בגוף אחד כנזכר, אינו נוהג אלא בזמן שכלם הם נאחזים בשרש אחד, בסוד וגאל את ממכר אחיו. ואע"פ שזה המגולגל החדש, לא חטא באיזה חטא של המגולגלים אחרים, עכ"ז אם הוא מבחינת הפנימית יותר מכולם, כמו אם הוא מבחינת הגידים שבאבר ההוא של אדה"ר, והם מבחי' הבשר שהוא גרוע מהגידים, צריך זה החדש לנקות הפגם והעפוש שנעשה מחמת עונות הראשונים, כדי שימשך החיות אל כל השרש ההוא: And know that these who are reincarnated together in one body (with a new Neshama) as we described, it only happens when all of them are from the same source, in the secret of what is said, "וגאל את ממכר אחיו." Even though this (body) is a new Nefesh (it is the first time it is in the world), and even though it did not sin with some sin that the other souls who are reincarnated with it have done, with all of this it [the new soul] is more 'pnimiut' that all the others, as if it is at the level of 'veins and sinues' (which connect different body parts, just as it [the new soul] connects the other souls that come with it in the body). Each of the souls in the body are from the same part of Adam HaRishon, and the source of their souls can be from the bones, the sinues, or the flesh. If they are from the flesh, this is worse [lower level] than souls coming from the veins or sinues. This new soul comes to clean the difficult blemishes that were done by the sins of the earlier Nefashot, and this [rectification of this place on the the body of Adam haRishon where all the souls from this same soul source come] bring down life force to the entire source [of that part of the spiritual body where those souls are coming from].

והנה גם בבחי' העבור הוא עד"ז כי אי אפשר שיתעברו באדם, ויתגלגלו בו רק שלושה נפשות הבאות לסייע הנפש ההיא עצמה של האדם הזה, אשר עמו הם ארבעה, אבל לא יותר מזה. אבל פחות אפשר להיות. ואמנם אותם הבאות בסוד גלגול ממש, כלם באות לצורך עצמם, לתקן את אשר עוית, או להשלים איזה מצוה שחסר להם: And here, so too with an ibur, this same way applies: It is impossible to enter into an Adam (to 'ibur' into him) and gilgul into him, [because] only three Nefashot can come to help the Nefesh that is [in] this Adam. So with him, there are four [Nefashot], but not more than this. However, it is possible that there are fewer [Nefashot] than this. It is also possible that they can come in the form of an actual gilgul ('sod gilgul mamesh,' perhaps referring to yibbum). Each of them (the Nefashot coming in the form of ibur) come for their own needs, to rectify whatever minor sins they did (so they come in the form of a gilgul which has the 'citizenship status' of an ibur, and they are called an actual gilgul because they come at time of birth). Or, they come to complete whichever mitzvah they are missing (so they reincarnate as a complete gilgul).

העשרה, והם, הא, 'והב, 'והג, 'ואלו השלשה תתגלה הארתם בעבור ההוא לעזרו, ושאר השבעה אחרים תתבטל הארתם שם, מכח הארתם של השלשה עליונים, ויחשבו כאלו אינם. באופן כי אי אפשר להתגלות בסוד עבור, רק שלשה נפשות בלבד, ועם נפש האדם עצמו, הם ארבעה, אבל יותר מזה אי אפשר כנזכר: And I must inform you of the concept of the ORDER of ibur in more depth. [To do this, I will] give an analogy: Say, a person exerts himself to rectify himself when he is in this gilgul in this body. Let's say he has in the source of his souls ten other Nefashot which are at a higher level than he is. If this Adam merits, he can have the 10th [the lowest of the ten Nefashot which are higher than him] Nefesh enter into him in the form of an ibur, and it [the 10th lowest Nefesh] is higher than him. This 10th lowest Nefesh helps him and lifts him, and if he merits further, he can receive the 9th lowest Nefesh (as a second ibur). And if he merits further, the 8th lowest Nefesh can enter into him (as a third ibur), and thus he has received three Nefashot which have entered into him as an ibur [the 10th, the 9th, and the 8th,] so counting him, there are four [Nefashot], and it is not possible for more to 'ibur' into him. But if he merits further, the 7th Nefesh can 'ibur' into him; if this happens, the 10th lowest Nefesh will be nullified as an ibur (it will not be considered as the three Nefashot who are entering into him as an 'ibur' [because the 10th lowest Nefesh no longer helps him, but it is not disconnected from him, and it still gets the benefits from his Torah and mitzvos]). And this is the way it continues until he reaches the top three of the ten highest Neshamot, and they are the 1st, the 2nd, and the 3rd. These are the three that reveal influence to him to help him, and the other seven's influence is nullified due to the greater influence of the higher three Neshamot. You might think that they are as if they are not there (but they do not leave completely); they are just unable to reveal (light) to him through the secret of ibur, because only three Nefashot can enter into him only, and with his own Nefesh, this is four Nefashot. But more than this -- it is not possible, as we already described.

הנה הכתוב אומר, הן כל אלה יפעל אל פעמים שלש עם גבר. פירוש, כי בג 'הגלגולים הראשונים, אז מתגלגל נפש האדם לבדה, בלי שתוף זולתה, תוך הגוף. אבל אם עדיין לא נתקנה בשלשתם, ותצטרך לחזור עוד בג 'הגלגולים שניים, אינה באה לבדה, כיון שאין בה כח לתקן, ולכן באה בשתוף גבר שהוא צדיק אחד המתעבר בו, כדי לסייעו ולהדריכו למוטב. ולכן לא אמר שלש פעמים, שהיה נראה שהוא בשלשה פעמים הראשונות, אמנם אמר פעמים שלש, להורות כי בפעם השניה הכוללת שלשה גלגולים שניים, אז הוא עם גבר זולתו משותף עמו כנזכר:

ענין מתמיה שבאר הסבא דמשפטים, בענין המגולגל בכמה פעמים, באיזה גוף מהם יקום בזמן התחיה. דע, כי הלא נתבאר אצלינו מ"ש בהקדמת התיקונים, על פסוק כצפור נודדת מקנה וגו'. וכן מ"ש בזוהר פרשת פקודי בענין השכינה, איך גלתה בקליפות, עד דמטאת רגלין ברגלין וכו'. ואמרנו, איך גם נשמות הצדיקים גלו בתוך הקליפות עם השכינה. ואמנם בזמנים הקדמונים, היו הנשמות ההם הגולים עמה, בחי 'אותם הניצוצים והחלקים אשר הם מבחי 'מדרגה, ששם עומדת השכינה בגלות בזמן ההוא, ועד"ז בכל דור ודור. ואמנם עתה בדורות אחרונים אלו, כבר השכינה ירדה עד רגלין, וגם הנשמות שבדורות אלו, הם מבחינת הרגלים. ולפי שבתחילה גלו כל הנשמות כולם שם עם השכינה, לכן עתה אותם הנשמות הראשונות העליונות, שכבר עלו ונתקנו, אז הם יורדות להדריך ולהיישיר את אלו הנשמות השפלות, כדי שיתוקנו. ונמצא כי כמה חלקים ונצוצות יש בכל נשמה ונשמה, וכל החלקים ההם נקראים בשם נשמה אחת, וכן הענין בכל נשמה ונשמה, וכאשר יהיה זמן התחיה, כל גוף וגוף יקח חלקו של נשמתו, כפי חלק הזמן שלו באיזו מדרגה היתה:

הנה לפעמים יארע, כי אע"פ שיהיה באדם נפש אחת טהורה ועליונה, יבוא איזה פעם לידי כעס, ואז תצא ממנו, ותכנס במקומה נפש אחרת גרועה, או ג"כ יחלה האדם איזה חולי גדול, ואז תתחלף נפשו בנפש אחרת, או יארע לו חולי הנופל והנכפה, ותתחלף נפשו ותלך באיש אחר, ותכנס בו נפש אחרת. וז"ס צדיק כל ימיו, ובסוף הרשיע. או להפך. וכיון שהדבר כך, אפשר ג"כ שימשך מזה עוד דבר אחר, והוא, כי אם

עד עתה היתה מזומנת אל האיש הזה איזו אשה בת זוגו, כיון שנתחלפה נפשו ונתנה לאיש אחר, אותו איש אחר יקחנה:
דע, כי יש יכולת ביד נפש האדם, או רוחו, או נשמתו, ללקט נצוצותיהם המוטבעות בעמקי הקליפות, ולהעלותם משם, ויתוקנו על ידו, כדוגמת מה שנתבאר אצלינו, בענין טעם הריגת עשרה הרוגי מלכות, ועיין שם:
דע כי יש חלוק בין המתגלגל לסיבת תקון שאר עבירות, למתגלגל לסיבת שלא היו לו בנים, ולא קיים מצות פריה ורביה. כי המתגלגל לסיבת בטול פריה ורביה, אע"פ שיהיה כשמעון בן עזאי שלא הוצרך להתגלגל על בנים, עכ"ז כשיתגלגל איזה פעם באיזה גוף בעת שנולד, לסבת צרכו לתקן איזו פגם אחר, אלא שבא להועיל לאחרים, וכן אם יבא בסוד העבור בחיים כנודע, הנה אי אפשר לו לבא יחידי, משותף עם אחר, לפי שהוא פלגא דגופא, ואינו יכול לבא יחידי. ואפשר כי זה ג"כ נקרא גלגול כפול, כנז"ל בדרושים הקודמים. וזהו המתגלגל שלא ע"י יבום, כנלע"ד חיים:

Chapter 6
בענין נשמות חדשות וישנות מה עניינם. וכבר נתבאר קצת ענין זה בש"ה שער המצות במצות שלוח הקן. גם נבאר התחלת שורש הנשמות מהיכן התחילה:
דע, כי כאשר נבראו כל העולמות, ואפילו עולם האצילות, נתהוה בתחלה בסוד זווג אחור באחור. ואח"כ חזר להתהוות בבחי 'פנים בפנים. והנה גם בחי 'נשמות של בני אדם, היו כך, כי תחלה נתהוו בבחי ' אחור באחור. ואח"כ מן העת אשר נברא אדם הראשון ואילך, עד ביאת המשיח, התקון הנעשה מאז ואילך, הוא לאותם הנשמות, שאז נתהוו בבחי 'אחור באחור, שיהיו עתה חדשות יוצאות מזווג פנים בפנים. לפי שאחר שנתהוו בתחלה מאחור באחור, ירדו עם גלות השכינה למטה בתוך הקליפות, וכאשר איזה צדיק מכוין איזו כונה גמורה טובה, יכול להמשיך ע"י כונתו ההיא איזו נשמה חדשה, פירוש, שהנשמה שבתוך הקליפה, תתעלה משם ולמעלה, בסוד חדשים לבקרים רבה אמונתך, ושם תתחדש, ואח"כ תרד משם בעה"ז מבח "פנים בפנים, ועתה הם תחלת ברייתם, ונקראים חדשות. ואלו הנשמות מוכנות שלא לחטוא כשאר הנשמות:
אך דע, כי אין בנו כח בכל הזמן הזה רק להמשיך אלו הנשמות החדשות, אותם שהם מן הבי"ע, שהם סוד נשמה רוח נפש כנודע. אבל לעתיד לבא אחר התחיה, יבואו נשמות חדשות יותר מעולות, מעולם האצילות והם מבחי 'הנשמה דאצילות שהיה לאדה"ר, הנקראת בשם זיהרא עילאה, כמו שיתבאר בדרושים הבאים. וז"ס מ"ש בס"ה פרשת פקודי דף רנ"ג ע"א, שמיום שנחרב בית המקדש, לא נכנסו נשמות בהיכל האהבה. כי אלו החדשות דפנים בפנים מן עולם האצילות, לא נכנסו שם. אבל הנשמות שמן הבי"ע החדשות, אפשר שיבואו אפילו בזמן שלאחר החרבן. אבל כל שאר נשמות הבאות בעולם, הם מאותם שהיו כלולות בנשמת אדה"ר, אחר אשר נברא אחור באחור, חזר ונסרו מבחי 'פנים בפנים, והחזירו פנים בפנים. ונמצא כי כל הנשמות הישנות הם באים ממנו:

ודע, כי אדה"ר מתחלק לרמ"ח איברים, על דרך גופו הנכלל מן רמ"ח איברים. גם יש בו בחי 'אחרות, והם מבחי 'כמה מיני שערות התלוים בו לאין קץ. והנה כל נצוצי פרטי הנשמות שבעה"ז, כולם הם מבחי 'אלו שיש באדה"ר כנזכר. ואמנם אלו הפרטים והבחי 'הנז, 'נמשכו אח"כ בגופות האנשים הנולדים מן אדה"ר. ואלו הפרטים הם הנקראים אצלינו שרשי הנשמות, להיותם כולם נמשכות משם מבחי 'אלו של אדם כנזכר. והנה לדעת עתה כל איש ואיש, מה שרש של נשמתו, צריך שידע ויכיר, במי נתחלקו כל פרטי נצוצות איברים ושערות של אדה"ר, וזה יקרא שרשי הנשמות הבאות ממנו, וכן בכל אבר ואבר, ע"ד מה שדרשו חז"ל בפסוק איפה היית ביסדי ארץ:

וכבר ביארנו לך, כי רוב הנשמות הם בחי 'קין והבל, בניו של אדה"ר, ומשם יפרדו אח"כ לכל הנולדים מאז ואילך. ואע"פ שלא נבאר עתה הענין הזה בדיוק גמור, כי אין פה מקום הדרוש הזה, אמנם בדרך משל נבאר ענינן. כי הגע עצמך שנאמר, שהבל הוא בחי 'הראש של הנשמות כלם, נמצא כי נשמת הבל, היא השורש של כל פרטי נצוצי הנשמות שבבני אדם, שהם מבחי 'הראש. וכן אם אברהם אבינו ע"ה הוא בחינת זרוע ימין של אדה"ר, נאמר כי כל פרטי נצוצי הנשמות שבבני אדם מבחי 'הזרוע ימין של אדם, הם נכללים באברהם, והוא שרש שלהם. ועד"ז בכל שאר איברים ושערות של נשמת אדה"ר, ואין כאן מקום דרוש זה:

אמנם נבאר עתה ענין חלוקי פרטי התשובה הצריכה לבני אדם, ובהם יובן קצת מן הדרוש הזה, הנה חלקי התשובה הם שמונה, האחת היא, כי מי שיש בו נפש מעולם העשיה, הנה כשחוטא אדם, גורם להפריד העשיה מן היצירה, בבחי 'פרטיות המקום, שהוא תלוי בו שרש נפשו, ולכן היא תשובתו שיתקן עד שיחזיר להתחבר עשיה ביצירה, בבחי 'המקום ההוא של שרש נפשו. וכן מי שיש בו רוח מן היצירה, וחטא, צריך לחבר יצירה בבריאה בפרטות בחי 'שרשו כנזכר. ומי שיש בו נשמ"ה מן בריאה, צריך לחבר בריאה באצילות עד הנז"ל. והרי אלו שלשה חלקי תשובה תחתונים, כי הם בעולמות בי"ע:

עוד יש חמשה חלקי תשובה יותר עליונים כי הם בעולם האצילות עצמו. הא 'היא, להחזיר המלכות דאצילות למקומה, אשר הוא תחת היסוד, וזה בבחי 'פרטיות שרש נשמתו כנזכר. הב, 'להשיבה יותר למעלה עד נה"י, כי שם מקום אצילותה כנודע. הג, 'להשיבה יותר למעלה, עד חג"ת. הד, 'להשיבה יותר למעלה, עד חב"ד, שהם שלשה מוחין דז"א. והרי ארבעה עליות אלו, וכולם בבחי 'מדרגת ז"א. עוד יש תשובה חמישית עיקריית ועליונה מכלם, והיא להשיבה ולהעלותה עד מקום או"א. ואל חלק זה רמזו בס"ה, ובספר התקונין, וקראוה תשובה דרגא תמינאה, כנודע כי אימא היא תמינאה ממטה למעלה:

וצריך שתדע, כי כפי מעלת מקום נשמת האדם, כך חוזק וחומר פגימת חטאו, כי מי שיהיה לו נפש ממלכות דאצילות, יעלה פגמו עד שם, ויפגום בחלק שרשו אשר שם, ועד"ז בשאר הבחי. 'גם צריך שתדע, כי אם איזה אדם מן הראשונים שקדמו אליו, שהיו מבחי 'בעלי נשמתו, היו לו נפש ורוח מן העשיה ויצירה, וחטא ופגם בחי 'רוחו, והוצרך להתגלגל באדם הזה הב 'אשר נולד עתה, הנה עם היות שהאדם הזה לא נכנסה בו רק בחינת הנפש בלבד, הנה כאשר חוטא, הוא פוגם עד למעלה ביצירה, כאלו נכנס בו גם בחי 'רוח. וכאשר ירצה לשוב בתשובה, צריך שיתקן כאילו היה בו רוח ונפש ונפגמו שניהם, ועד"ז בשאר הפרטים:

גם לענין תקון תשובתו של האדם, צריך האדם עוד אופן גלגולו, באופן אחר שנבאר עתה בקצור, עם שכבר נתבאר אצלינו במקום אחר, והוא, כי הנה אם בסדר גלגולי נשמתו קדמו אליו ע"ד משל, עשרים או שלשים מגולגלים, צריך לדעת אם הראשון שבכל אלו השלשים, היו בו ע"ד משל נר"ן מבי"ע, ופגם בהם, הנה כל השלשים הבאים אחריו, אעפ"י שלא נכנס בהם רק בחי 'נפש בלבד, צריכים להתקן כאלו פגמו בכל בי"ע. לפי שבתחלה בראשון שקדם לכלם, היתה הנפש מקבלת אור מן הנשמה של הבריאה, ועתה צריך להחזיר אליה האור ההוא שהיה לה בתחלה, ואז יושלם תקון תשובתה. וז"ס פסוק כי לקחה מיד ה' כפלים בכל חטאתיה. כי לפעמים יחטא האדם חטא קל מאד, וידקדקו עמו, ונפרעים ממנו כאלו חטא חמור מאד, כפלים מאשר חטא. ולכן אין להרהר אחר מדותיו יתברך, אם יראה האדם כיוצא בדברים אלו, שלכאורה אין הדעת סובלתם, והכל מאתו יתברך בצדק ובמשפט. ואמנם אם מן הראשון עד הט' הראשונים שבאלו השלשים, לא זכו רק אל נפש ורוח, והעשירי זכה גם אל הנשמה, ואחר כך חטא ופגם בה, הנה החטא ראשונים פגימתם וגם תקונם ותשובתם, היא סוד רוח לבד, ומכ"ש נפש. אבל העשירי, וכן כל השאר שממנו ואילך, עד סיום השלשים, פגימתם ותקונם הוא גם בסוד נשמה. ומזה תקיש לשאר פרטי פרטים עצמו מספר. ונמצא, כי אין האדם יכול לשוב בתשובה שלימה כתקנה, עד שידע שרש מקום

בפסוק הגידה לי שאהבה נפשי וכו ,'שצריך האדם לידע מי נשמתו, ועל מה בא לעה"ז, ומה צריכה לתקן , כנזכר שם בארך:

Chapter 7
וז"ל, ועוד נרחיב בדרוש הזה, ענין נשמות החדשות והישנות מי הם. הנה כבר נתבאר כי קצת נשמות יש , שלא באו כלולות בנשמת אדה"ר כשנברא, ואלו נקראים נשמות חדשות באמת לגמרי. אבל כל הנשמות אשר כבר באו כלולות בנשמת אדה"ר, הם הנקראים נשמות ישנות, בערך החדשות האמתיות הנז '.
אמנם יש בהם בעצמם ב 'מדרגות חלוקות. ועתה נבאר ענין אלו הנשמות, כי הנה יש בהם שלש מדרגות , האחת היא, הנשמות שלא נכללו בנשמת אדה"ר, ואלו נקראים נשמות חדשים לגמרי. השנית הוא, כי
כשחטא אדה"ר, נודע הוא כי נשרו ממנו איבריו, והלך ונתמעט, עד אשר לא עמד אלא עד ק 'אמה, בסוד
ותשת עלי כפכה. וכמו שאירע זה בבחי 'גופו, כן אירע לו בבחי 'נשמתו. והנה אותם הנצוצות של נשמתו , שנשארו קיימות בו אחר החטא, שהם העצמות הנשאר לחלק אדה"ר, הנה כאשר אחר חטאו הוליד את
קין והבל כסברת רז"ל וס"ה, הנה מנצוצות הנז 'יצאו קין והבל, ואלו נקראים מדרגה שניה. השלישית
הוא, אותם הנצוצות של נשמתו, שנסתלקו ממנו כאשר חטא, וחזרו לרדת וליפול לעמקי הקליפות, אשר
לזה רמזו חז"ל וקראום בשם נשירת אברים. ודע, כי מזו המדרגה השלישית, היתה נשמתו של שת, בנו של אדה"ר:
והנה המדרגה הראשונה, היא נקראת נשמה חדשה לגמרי, ולכן כאשר תרד נשמה זו בעה"ז בגוף איזה
נפש כשנולד, עליו רמזו רז"ל, בריש פרשת משפטים דף צ"ד ע"ב, וז"ל, ת"ח בר נש כד אתייליד, יהבין
ליה נפשא וכו, 'זכה יתיר וכו. 'כי באותה הפעם הא 'שבא לעולם, יכול להשיג מנפש דעשיה, עד נשמה
לנשמה של אצילות, מדרגה אחר מדרגה, כמ"ש זכה יתיר וכו. 'וכל זה בקלות גדול, שלא ע"י טורח
מרובה, וכבר נתבאר למעלה בענין זו המדרגה הא':
אבל אם בפעם ההיא חטא ופגם, וימות, ויצטרך לחזור בעולם, הנה אז יקרא מגולגל וישן, וכבר נתבאר
למעלה, כי הנפש בא לו בעת שנולד, והרוח א"א לבא עד י"ג שנים ויום אחד, והנשמה מבן כ 'שנה ואילך .
ועד"ז הולך וגבה מאד כפי מעשיו, עד שיכול להשיג נר"ן דאצילות, כפי מדרגת שנותיו:
המדרגה השנית, והיא נצוצות הנשמה שנשארו באדה"ר אחר שחטא, אשר מהם הוריש אח"כ לקין והבל
בעו כשנולדו, הנה אלו נקראים נשמות חדשות בבחי 'מה, ולא לגמרי. וכאשר יתוקנו, תהיה מעלתם
גדולה על שאר הנשמות שנשרו ונפלו מאדה"ר כנזכר, כיון שהיה גם בהם כח להשאר קיימים באדם, ולא
נפלו בקליפות, ויש להם מעלה זו בפרטות, והוא, כי כאשר הורישם אדם לקין והבל בניו, אין זה נחשב
לגלגול ממש כשאר המגולגלים, שמת הגוף הא', ונשמתו מתגלגלת בגוף הב, 'אבל זה הם בחיים חייתו
של אדה"ר, שהורישם לבניו כשנולדו, ולכן כל הנצוצות שהיו כלולים בקין והבל, נחשבים כאלו עדיין היו
כלולים באדה"ר עצמו, ולא נשרו ממנו. ונמצא, כי כשבאו כלולות אלו הנצוצות בנשמת אדם, שלא באו

לתקון עצמם, כי אינם שלו, רק שנכללו בו כאלו לא באו כלל דמיין. וגם כשבאו אח"כ כלולות עם נשמת קין והבל בחיי אדם, גם זו אינה נחשבת ביאה כלל, כיון שלא באו שם לצורך עצמם, דכיון שעדיין לא נתחלקו לנצוצות בפני עצמם בגופות שלהם, אלא שהיו כלולות בלבד בגוף בקין והבל, עדיין גם זה אין נחשב להם לביאה כלל. ולכן כאשר איזה נצוץ יתחלק ויבא אח"כ בעולם, בגוף איזה איש, אז תחשב להם ביאה ראשונה חדשה בצד מה ולא לגמרי, כי נקרא ביאה מה שבאו באדם וקין והבל, כמו שיתבאר. ואם אז בפעם ההיא יחטא, ויפגום, וימות, ויחזור לבא בגוף ב', אז יקרא מגולגל וישן:

והנה בפעם הביאה הראשונה, שיבואו בעולם, יקראו נשמה חדשה בצד מה כנזכר, והוא, כי גם היא בפעם זו הראשונה, יכול להשיג כפי מעשיו, נפש דעשיה, ורוח דיצירה, ונשמה דבריאה, ונפש דאצילות, ולא יותר מזה. כנשמה החדשה האמתית, שיכולה להשיג עד נשמה לנשמה דאצילות כנז"ל. וזהו הפרש אחד, שיש בין מדרגה הראשונה, לזו השניה. והטעם הוא, לפי שנודע, כי כשחטא אדם הראשון, נסתלקה ממנו זיהרא עילאה, כנזכר בזוהר בס"ת פרשת קדושים דפ"ג ע"א, והיא בחי' 'נרני"ח מעולם האצילות, כי כל זה נקרא זיהרא עילאה, ואלו לא ירדו לקליפות ח"ו, כנודע שאין קליפות רק בג' עולמות בי"ע. אבל נסתלקו למעלה למקומם. ומכל חלקי האצילות הנקרא זיהרא עילאה, לא נשאר בו רק נפש דאצילות בלבד. ולכן גם עתה כשיבאו הנצוצות שהיו כלולות בקין והבל, ויבאו עתה לעולם בפעם הא', יכולים להשיג ע"י מעשיהם עד נפש דאצילות ולא יותר, כפי מה שהיה להם בתחלה בלבד. אבל הנשמות החדשות לגמרי של המדרגה הראשונה, יכולות בפעם א' להשיג מסוף העשיה עד רום האצילות הנקרא 'זיהרא עילאה כלה. והרי זה יתרון אחד של נצוצות המדרגה הא' על המדרגה הב':

עוד יש להם יתרון אחר, והוא, כי מי שיש לו נשמה חדשה לגמרי, הנקראת מדרגה א', הנה כשיבוא בעולם בפעם ראשונה, יכול להשיג בנקל כפי מעשיו יחד באותו הגוף, מנפש דעשיה עד תשלום נשמה לנשמה דאצילות כנזכר, ויעשה הנפש משכן וכסא אל הרוח, והרוח אל הנשמה וכו'. משא"כ במדרגה השנית, שהם הנצוצות הנכללות בקין והבל, כי אלו אעפ"י שביארנו שיכולים להשיג בפעם א' עד נפש דאצילות, הוא עד ועד בכלל, אינו בנקל ע"ד המדרגה הא', אלא ע"י טורח גדול, כמו שנתבאר בדרושים הקודמים, והוא הנזכר שם בסוד היבום, בלילה בפסוק נפשי אויתיך בלילה וגו', כי אחר שכבר נתקנה הנפש לגמרי, יוצאת מן האדם בלילה כשישן והולכת לו, ואח"כ בבקר נכנסת בו נפש הגר, והרוח של האדם עצמו, ומתלבש הרוח תוך זו הנפש, עד שיתקן הרוח לגמרי, ואז חוזרת נפשו הראשונה לגופו, ועומדים שם ביחד, הנפש שלו כסא אל הרוח שלו עצמו. ואם יזכה אח"כ יותר, יוצאים נפשו ורוחו בלילה, כנזכר, ובבקר נכנסת בו נשמתו, ויושבת שם עד שתתקן לגמרי. ואחר כך נכנסים בו נפשו ורוחו, ועומדים שם שלשתם יחד, וכ"ז ע"י טרח ודוחק גדול, וכונה גדולה, בסוד פסוק אם ישים אליו לבו רוחו ונשמתו אליו יאסוף. פירוש, כי אם יהיה חכם ויודע כונה הנזכרת, בסוד היבום בלילה, וישים לב וכונה, יוכל לאסוף אליו, ר"ל אל זה הגוף עצמו, את רוחו ונשמתו, ולא יצטרך לגלגולים אחרים:

ולפעמים אם האדם הנזכר ישלים לתקן נפשו לגמרי, ולא יהיה יודע לכוין כונה הנזכרת, להמשיך רוחו אליו, לתקנו ע"י יציאת הנפש בלילה, בכונת פסוק נפשי אויתיך בלילה, כמבואר לעיל בדרושים שקדמו, הנה ימות האיש הזה, כדי שאח"כ יבא רוחו להתקן בגוף השני, וכשיתוקן יבא אליו נפשו ביחד עמו כנזכר. ואם גם אז לא ידע לכוין לשלח את הרוח בלילה, ולהביא הנשמה לתקנה ע"י הכונה הנזכרת, הנה ימות שנית, ותבא נשמתו בגוף שלישי להתקן, ואחר תקונו, יכנסו בו נפשו ורוחו ונשמתו ביחד, עם הנשמה כנזכר:

וזהו הטעם נפלא, לקצת צדיקים גמורים, שמתים בקצרות שנים, כי להיות שתקנו נפשם בתכלית השלמות בשנים מועטות, וכיון שאינם יודעים להמשיך רוחם, ולשלח נפשם בכונה הנזכרת, הם מתים בקצרות שנים, כי אין נפשם צריכה להתעכב בעה"ז, ואדרבא ימות, כדי שיבא אח"כ הרוח בגוף שני, ויתוקן גם הוא. וכן עד"ז בצדיקים שזכו לנפש ורוח בתכלית התקון, ולא ידעו לשלחם ולהמשיך הנשמה כנזכר. וז"ס פסוק ימותו ולא בחכמה, כי לפעמים ימותו בני אדם, לחסרון חכמה, שלא ידעו להמשיך רוחם או נשמתם כנזכר:

אמנם דע, כי אין דין זה נוהג, אלא במי שתקן נפשו, ועדיין רוחו ונשמתו פגומים מפעם א'. אבל מי שרוחו ליכנס, הנה כאשר ישלים עתה לתקן הנפש, יכולים לבא הרוח, או גם הנשמה, או נשמתו מתוקנים כבר, ולהתלבש בנפש ההיא, מאחר שהם מתוקנים כמוה. והרי נתבארו ב' היתרונות שיש אל המדרגה הראשונה על השניה:

ועתה נבאר יתרון אחר, שיש אל המדרגה השנית, על הראשונה. והוא, כי מן המדרגה הראשונה, אינם יכולים להשיג נר"ן וכו' בפעם א', אע"פ שיזכו להם רק ע"י מספר השנים. פירוש, כי בעת שנולדו, זוכים לנפש. ובהיותם בן י"ג שנה ויום אחד, אם יזכו מעשיהם, יכנס בהם גם הרוח. ואם יזכו עוד, הנה בהיותם בן כ' שנה, יכנס בהם הנשמה ג"כ. ועד"ז עד סיום הכל. אבל המדרגה הב', יכולים להשיג עד נפש דאצילות, קודם תשלום י"ג שנה ויום אחד. כי כיון שבהיות נצוצות אלו כלולות בקין והבל, היו יחד זוכים אל כל החלקים הנזכרים, גם עתה יכולים להשיג כל החלקים הראוים להם ברגע אחד, ואינו תלוי במספר שנים, אלא כפי מעשיהם, וגם ע"י כונה הנז"ל:

ובזה יתורצו ב' מאמרים החולקים יחד, כי המאמר הנוכר בתחלת פרשת משפטים דף צ"ד ע"ב, וז"ל, ת"ח, בר נש כד אתיליד, יהבין ליה נפשא וכו', זכה יתיר וכו', שהדבר תלוי כפי מעשיו, ולא במספר השנים. מדבר בנשמות של מדרגה השנית, שהיו כלולים בקין והבל, הנקראות חדשות בצד מה. והמאמר הנזכר בסבא דמשפטים דף צ"ח ע"א, נראה שהדבר תלוי במספר השנים, דקאמר כד זכה ליומא דתליסר שנין, אתמר עליה אני היום ילדתיך, ויהבין ליה רוחא. וכד זכה לשנת הכ', יהבין ליה נשמתא, וכדין כתיב עליה כי בן הייתי לאבי וכו'. מדבר במדרגה הראשונה, שהם הנשמות החדשות לגמרי, שמעולם לא נכללו בנשמת אדה"ר:

המדרגה השלישית, והם הנשמות שנפלו בקליפות, אחר שחטא אדה"ר, אשר מהם היתה נשמת שת בן אדם וזולתו, אשר אלו נקראים נשמות ישנות בכל הבחי' הנה הם גרועים מכולם, לפי שכיון שנשרו מן אדם, נפרדו לנצוצות ולחלקים רבים מחמת חטאו של אדם, ולכן באותו הפעם שהיו באדם, היו נקראות ישנות מגלגול אחר בלבד, וכאשר תבא איזו נשמה מהם מאז ואילך בפעם א' בגוף איזה איש וימות, נקרא מגולגל מב' פעמים, וכן כיוצא בזה משם ואילך. ולכן כאשר תבא איזו נשמה ממדרגה הזאת, בגוף איזה אדם, בפעם ראשונה, אין בהם יכולת לתקן, רק חלק אחד בכל גלגול וגלגול, כי הנה בתחלה תבא חלק הנפש להתקן, כיצד, הרי שהיתה הנפש הזאת ממלכות נוקבא דעשיה, צריך שתתקן עד תשלום כתר דעשיה, וכשישלים תקונה זה, ימות האיש הזה, ויבא אח"כ הרוח שלו בגוף שני, ובהשתלם תקונו, ימות גם הוא. ואח"כ תבא הנשמה בגוף שלישי, ובהשלים תקונה, ימות גם הוא. וכבר נתבאר לעיל, כי כשיבוא הרוח להתקן, הנה הוא בא מורכב ומתלבש בנפש הגר. וכן עד"ז הנשמה גם היא. ואמנם אם כאשר תבא הנפש שבתחילה לא תשלים תקונה, צריכה להתגלגל עוד כמה פעמים, עד שתשלים תקונה לבדה. ואח"כ יבא הרוח בגוף אחר ע"י נפש הגר, ויתגלגל לבדו כמה פעמים, עד שישתלם. ואח"כ תבא הנשמה לבדה בגוף אחר, ותתגלגל אם יצטרך כמה פעמים עד שתשתלם כנז"ל:

גם צריך שתדע, כי אף שתיקן הנפש והרוח והנשמה, ואח"כ חטא ופגם בהם, והוצרך להתגלגל, יארע לו ע"ד הנזכר ג"כ, כי לא יוכל לתקן בכל פעם רק הנפש לבדה, או הרוח לבדו, או הנשמה לבדה, ע"ד הנז"ל. אמנם אם תקן נר"ן וכו', עד רום האצילות וכיוצא בזה, והוצרך להתגלגל לסבת תקון זולתו ולא לעצמו, כי לא חטא ולא פגם, הנה איש כזה יכול ליקח עתה בגלגול הזה, כל מה שהיה לו בתחלה בבת אחת, אפילו בקטנותו. וז"ס ענין בריה דר' המנונא סבא, הנזכר בפרשת בלק, ושאר הינוקי הנזכרים בזוהר, שהיו מופלאים במעשיהם וחכמתם. והטעם הוא, לפי שהיו שלמים בחלקיהם נר"ן וכו', בכל מה שהיה להם בתחלה קודם גלגולם זה. ואני חיים הכותב מסופק, אם גם כשיבוא להתגלגל לצורך עצמו, לא לתקן פגם חטא, אלא להשלים חסרון, מה יהיה דינו:

ונבאר עתה, ענין החלוקים שיש בין המדרגה הב', למדרגה השלישית הזאת, והוא, כי המדרגה הב' של הנצוצות של קין והבל, אי אפשר אל הרוח שלהם לצאת מעמקי הקליפות, עד שישתלם תקון נפשם, ואחר כך יצא. וכיון שכן, נמצא שאין תקון אל הרוח שלו ע"י איש זולתו, אלא ע"י עצמו. ולכן או ימות האיש הזה, ורוחו עם נפשו יבא אח"כ בגוף אחד כנז"ל. או אפשר שהוא בעצמו ע"י הכונות הנז"ל, בסוד נפשי אויתיך בלילה, אחר תקון תשלום הנפש, תצא, ויבא בו הרוח לבדו להתקן כנז"ל. וכן הענין הזה בנשמה. אבל הנצוצות המדרגה השלישית יש להם כח באופן אחר, והוא, כי אף שאינם יכולים להשיג בבת אחת כל חלקיהם, הנה יש להם תיקון על ידי כונתם בעת נפילת אפים בתפלה, להוציא את הרוח שלהם מעמקי הקליפות, אע"פ שלא השלים תקון הנפש, בסוד עליית מיין נוקבין בפסוק אליך ה' נפשי אשא וכו'. ויבא הרוח שלו בחיים חייתו בגוף איזה איש אחר שיולד, מורכב בנפש הגר. ואם יזכה יותר אפשר שימשיכנה בבנו עצמו הנולד לו. וצריך שתדע, כי לא שייך תיקון אל הרוח לבדו, כי יכול לצאת מן הקליפה ע"י כונת נפילת אפים, קודם תקון תשלום הנפש. אבל הנשמה אינה יוצאה בשום אופן מעמקי הקליפות, עד

ונחזור לבאר ענין הרוח והנפש כנזכר ,כי הנה אעפ"י שיכולים לבא שניהם בעולם ,בשני גופים מחולקים , ע"י כונת נפילת אפים ,ויתוקנו שניהם ,עכ"ז עומדים בשקול גדול האנשים האלה ובכף מאזנים ,איזה מהם ינצח לחבירו ,כי אם האיש ההוא שלקח הרוב ,השלים תקונו קודם שהאחר תקן את הנפש ,נמצא שבעל הרוח הוא העיקר ,ולכן בזמן תחית המתים ,יכנסו הרוח והנפש שניהם בגוף בעל הרוה .אבל אם בעל הנפש השלים תקונו בתחלה ,איני זוכר מה ששמעתי בו .והנלע"ד ששמעתי ,כי שניהם יכנסו בגוף בעל הנפש בתחית המתים ,כי הוא העיקרי:
עוד יש חלוק שקול גדול ,אל האיש ההוא שלקח הרוח הזה ,שיצא ע"י נפילת אפים טרם תשלום תקון הנפש כנזכר ,והוא ,כי אם האיש ההוא יזכה במעשיו ,יוכל להמשיך כל הטוב של הרוח ההוא אליו ,וישאר האחד כלו רע .וז"ס פסוק יגמר נא רע רשעים ותכונן צדיק .כי מי שהרשיע מעשיו ,גומר ליקח כל הרע אליו .וזה אומרו ,יגמור נא רע רשעים ,ואז כל הטוב לוקחו הצדיק ההוא שמזכה מעשיו ,ועי"כ נגמר ומתכונן לגמרי ,וזהו ותכונן צדיק ,כנודע כי האדם מעורב טוב ורע ,טהרה בקליפה ולפעמים מעוטו טוב ,ורובו רע וכו' ,וצריך לזכך כל הרע שבו ,עד שישאר טוב גמור:
אמר הכותב ,כך שמעתי דברים אלו מפי מורי ז"ל ,ואיני זוכר הבנתם היטב ,אבל נ"ל באורם ,כי אפשר שהרע אשר אל הנפש והרוח .שניהם ילכו יחד בגוף האיש הזה מהם ,אשר הרשיע מעשיו .הטוב אשר בנפש והרוח ,ילכו בגוף האיש המטהר מעשיו כנז"ל .ובזה תבין מה היתה יראת דוד המלך ע"ה ,באמרו רבים אומרים לנפשי אין ישועתה לו באלהים סלה .כי דבר זה מתמיה ,שיאמרו גנות באיש הזה גדול כדוד המלך .ולהבין זה נדייק מש"ה ,אין ישועתה לו ,והל"ל אין ישועתה לה ,ויחזור למלת נפשי הנזכרת בתחלה ,אבל יובן עם הנזכר והוא זה ,דע ,כי דוד המלך ע"ה ,היתה נפשו גבוהה עד מאד ,אמנם ע"י חטאו של אדה"ר הקדום ,מאז ירדה אל עמקי הקליפות בסטרא דנוקבא של הקליפה ,וכאשר נולד דוד , היה פעם א 'שיצא מן הקליפות ,ולכן לא התחיל תקונו אלא מבחי 'העשיה הנקראת נפש ובלבד לסבת היותו מגולגל ממדרגה השלישית כנז"ל .וז"ס הנזכר בסבא משפטים דף ק"ג ע"א ,וגם בכמה מאמרים אחרים ,כי דוד היה מסטרא דנוקבא ולא מדכורא ,אלא בעולם המיתה הנקראת נוקבא ,והבן זה:
ולכן אמרו שם אמאי איקרי עובד ,דאעדר אילנא ותקין ליה .והוא ,לפי שהיה טבוע בעמקי הקליפות דנוקבא .וכיון שכן ,נמצא שאי אפשר לדוד שיקח אז ,רק הנפש לבדה ,ואז הרוח שלו יבא בחייו בגוף אחר שיולד .וכיון שדוד חטא בבת שבע ,ופגם בנפשו ,הנה בעל הרוח שלו יזכה להשלים את רוחו בתחלה , טרם שדוד ישלים את הנפש ,ועי"כ נמצא בו בתחית המתים ,אין ישועתה לו לדוד שהוא הגוף ,יען כי הגוף האחר בעל הרוח ,יקח שניהם נפש ורוח ,אבל אל הנפש עצמה אין לה נזק בזה ,רק אל הגוף ,ולזה אמר אין ישועתה לו ,ולא אמר אין ישועתה לה .וזהו המשך לשון הפסוק רבים אומרים ,לסבה שאין בי רק נפש ,כלשון הזה שאין ישועתה לגופו של דוד בתחית המתים:
עוד יש פירוש אחר בפסוק הנזכר של יגמור נא רע רשעים הנזכר ,כי לפעמים יארע שנפש האדם לא תכנס בו שלימה וגמורה ,רק תהיה רובה טוב ,ומעוטה רע .ואמנם מעוט הטוב שבה עם רוב הרע שבה , תכנס בגוף איש אחד ,ואז שני האנשים האלה חברים ,והאיש אשר רובו טוב ,יש בו כח להמשיך כל חלק הטוב אליו ,וכל חלק הרע נדחה אל האיש שרובו רע .ועל השני נאמר ,יגמור נא רע רשעים .ועל הראשון נאמר ,ותכונן צדי"ק ,ע"ד הנז"ל בפירוש הא':
גם אפשר ,ששניהם מחצה על מחצה שקולים ,ואז אם האחד מהם בא לידו איזה עבירה ,ומכ"ש אם השני בא לידו איזה מצוה ,כי אז מתגבר על חבירו ,ומתחיל להמשיך אצלו הטוב מעט מעט ,עד שנשלם זה בטוב וזה ברע ,על הדרך הנזכר ובזה תבין מאמר חז"ל וז"ל ,אחאב שקול היה .וזש"ה)מלכים א 'כ"ו (וכל צבא השמים עומדים עליו מימינו ומשמאלו ,הנאמר בענין אחאב המלך .והנה הוא מתמיה ,כי הכתוב מספר שהקלות של אחאב היו כחמורות של ירבעם ,ואיך אמרו שהיה שקול .אבל הענין הוא ,כי במעשיו לא היה שקול ,אלא מוטה לכף חובה .אמנם בבחי 'נפשו ,היה שקול ,חציה טוב וחציה רע .ואע"פ שלפעמים היתה גוברת עליו בחי 'הרוח ועובד ע"ז ,הנפש עצמה היתה חציה טובה וחציה רעה ,ולכן השי"ת לא דחאו לגמרי ,והיה חפץ שישוב בתשובה אולי ייטב .ולכן אליהו הנביא ז"ל היה רודף תמיד אחריו להשיבו בתשובה ,עד שאירע ענין חטאו בנבות היזרעאלי)מלכים א 'כ"א(:

הקדמה קטנה בענין גלגול הנשמות, למה מתגלגלים. דע, כי הנשמות יתגלגלו לכמה סבות, הראשונה הוא, לפי שעבר על איזו עבירה מעבירות שבתורה, ובא לתקן. הב' הוא, לתקן איזו מצוה שחסר ממנו. השלישית היא, שבא לצורך אחרים, להדריכם ולתקנם. והנה הראשונה היא קרוב לחטא, כיון שבתחלה חטא. והב' הוא רחוק מלחטא. והשלישית ודאי שלא יחטא. עוד יש סבות אחרות, ואלו הם, כי לפעמים יתגלגל, ליקח את בת זוגו, כי לא זכה בראשונה לקחתה. ופעמים שכבר לקח בת זוגו, אלא שחטא באיזו עבירה, והוצרך להתגלגל לתקן אותה כנז"ל, ואז אינו בא רק יחידי, כמ"ש הסבא דמשפטים על פסוק אם בגפו יבא וכו'. ופעמים הוא שיש לו זכיות, ולכן אע"פ שהיא אינה צריכה להתגלגל, מחזירים אשתו להתגלגל עמו, בסוד ויצאה אשתו עמו. ופעמים הוא, שלא זכה בראשונה ליקח בת זוגו, אמנם נזדמנה לו אשה לפי מעשיו, ובכל נשמות הנשים שבעולם, אין מי שתהיה קרובה אליו כאשה זו, אעפ"י שאינה בת זוגו ממש, וכאשר חטא ונתגלגל, מגלגלים עמו לאשה הזאת, אעפ"י שהיא אינה צריכה לגלגול, ואעפ"י שאינה בת זוגו ממש:
עוד דע, כי יש כמה שרשים של נשמות, שנשרו בקליפות, הם ונשיהם בת זוגם, והזכרים יכולים לצאת עתה בעה"ז מתוך הקליפות, אבל נקבותיהם אינם יכולים לצאת כלל עד ביאת המשיח, והם עתה טבועות ומסורות בתוך הקליפות הנקבה, ושכחתי מה שמה, אם היא אגרת בת מחלת, או נעמה אמם של שדים. והנה כל השרש של חור בנה של מרים, לא יצאו נשמות הנקבות שלהם עד ביאת המשיח. ונלע"ד ששמעתי ממורי זלה"ה, כי גם אהרן הכהן לא נשא בת זוגו, כי הוא קרוב לשרש נשמת חור בנה של מרים אחותו כמבואר אצלינו:

Chapter 9
והיא אחת מת 'שאלות, שהיה ששאל דואג ואחיתופל במגדל הפורח באויר. דע, כי מדת הגלגול נוהגת באנשים הזכרים, ולא בנשים הנקבות. וז"ס פסוק דור הולך ודור בא והארץ לעולם עומדת. ר"ל, דור הולך ודור בא, והם האנשים המתגלגלים. אבל הארץ שהם הנשים הנקראות ארץ כנודע, לעולם עומדת, ואינם חוזרות בגלגול. עוד יש טעם אחר, והוא, כי האנשים לפי שמקיימים מצות עסק התורה, אינם יכולים ליכנס בגיהנם, כי אין אור של גיהנם שולטת בהם. וכמ"ש באלישע בן אבויה, לא מידן נדייניה, משום דעסק בתורה. ולא לעלמא דאתי נסקיה, כיון דחטא. ולכן מוכרחים הם להתגלגל, למרק עונותיהם תמורת גיהנם. אבל הנשים שאינם עוסקות בתורה, יכולים ליכנס בגיהנם למרק עונותיהם ואינם צריכים להתגלגל. האמנם אע"פ שאינם מתגלגלות, הנה הם באות לפעמים בסוד העבור, עם נצוצי נשמות חדשות נקבות כנשים. גם דע, כי אפשר שאחר שבאה בסוד העבור באיזו אשה, אם האשה ההיא תתעבר ותהר ותלד בת נקבה, אפשר שאותה שבאה בה בסוד העבור, תתגלגל עתה בבחי 'גלגול גמור, בבתה הנולדת לה עתה:
גם דע, כי לפעמים יתגלגל האיש בגוף נקבה, לסבת איזה עון, כמו משכב זכור וכיוצא בו. והנה הנקבה הזאת שהיא גלגול נשמת זכר, אינה יכולה לקבל הריון ולהתעבר, לפי שאין לה בחי 'מיין נוקבין להעלות ולקבל טפת מיין דוכרין, והנה האשה הזאת צריכה זכות גדול לשתוכל להתעבר ולהוליד, ואין לה מציאות אחר, זולתי שתתעבר בה איזו נשמת אשה נקבה אחרת בסוד העבור, ובכן בכח שתופה עמה, תוכל לעלות מיין נוקבין, ולקבל הריון ותלד. אמנם אי אפשר לה ללדת בנים זכרים לשתי סבות, האחת היא, לפי שהכתוב אומר, אשה כי תזריע וילדה זכר, אבל כאן האשה היא זכר כבעלה, ואינה יכולה ללדת זכרים אלא נקבות. הסבה הב 'היא, לפי שכיון שאותה נשמה של הנקבה שנכנסה בה, לא נכנסה רק בסוד העבור לבד, כדי לסייעה שתתעבר ותלד, ולכן כיון שהאשה הזאת יולדת, אין הנשמה ההיא צריכה עוד להשאר שם בסוד העבור ללא צורך, ואז בעת שיולדת נכנס בה הנשמה ההיא של סוד העבור, ואז הולד ההוא יוצא נקבה ולא זכר, ואז היא שם בבחי 'גלגול ממש, ולא עבור כבתחלה. ונמצא שכל אשה שנשמתה נשמת זכר כנז"ל, אי אפשר שתלד זכר אלא נקבה, ואותה הנקבה אשר תלד, היא היא אותה הנשמה של הנקבה שנכנסה בה בתחלה בסוד העיבור לסייעה כנזכר: Know that sometimes a man may reincarnate into the body of a woman, because of a sin, (cultural context) or something similar. Now this woman who has received the soul of a man, will not be able to conceive and become pregnant. ... This woman will need great merit to enable her to become pregnant and give birth. The only way it can be done is that some other feminine soul must enter her as an ibur. However, she cannot give birth to sons for two reasons. The first is [as follows:] There is a verse that says, "…If a woman puts forth seed, and a male child is born" (Lev. 12:2). In this case, the woman is a male, just like her husband. She cannot give birth to boys, only to girls. The second reason is that the feminine soul that has entered her does so only as an ibur, in order to help her become pregnant and give birth. Once this woman gives birth, that soul does not need to stay there any longer for no reason. And then, at the time that she gives birth, that [feminine] soul enters into the fetus as an actual Gilgul, and not as an Ibur, like it was at first. That is why the child that is born most be female and not male. (the text goes on the explain how sometimes it is possible for her to give birth to a male soul, when the male soul currently in her enters to child, and several other scenarios).
ואמנם לפעמים, ע"י זכות גדול ונפלא, אפשר שבעת שנולד הולד ההוא, תסתלק משם אותה הנשמה הנקבה שהיתה שם בסוד העבור ותלך לה, ויכנס בולד ההוא נשמת זכר ויהיה זכר. וא"כ אח"כ אי אפשר לאשה הזאת לחזור ללדת פעם אחרת, זולתי אם תחזור אותה הנשמה הנקבה להתעבר בה כבראשונה. ולכן אם הולד הא 'היה נקבה, תצטרך למות עתה זו הבת הנקבה, ואולי הנשמה תחזור להתעבר בה באשה הנז 'כבראשונה, ותתעבר ותהר ותלד בת נקבה, שנשמתה היא מזאת הנקבה המתעברת בה

בסוד העבור הנזכר .ועד"ז הולכת בעבור ובגלגול פעמים רבות ,והיא היא ,וכה משפטה תמיד .אמנם אם ילדה זכר ,אז אין הולד הזה צריך למות ,כי אותה הנשמה הנקבה שנתעברה בה בסוד העבור בתחלה והלכה לה בעת שילדה כנזכר ,היא צריכה לחזור שנית להתעבר בה בסוד העבור ,ותהר מן בת ,ותלד נקבה .וגם לזה צריך זכות גדול:

גם אפשר לפעמים ,אע"פ שילדה בתחלה נקבה ,אינה צריכה הבת ההיא למות עתה ,לפי שאפשר שתבא נשמת נקבה אחרת ,ותתעבר באשה הנז 'בסוד העבור ,ותהר ותלד בת ,והנשמה ההיא תתגלגל בה בגלגול ממש כנזכר .ועד"ז בכל הריון והריון שתהר האשה הזאת ,אפשר להתחלף בה כל הבחי 'הנז ' ואמנם לזאת המציאות האחרון ,צריך זכות גדול ונס עצום ,לפי שיש לנו הקדמה אחת בסוד העבור ,כי אין שום נשמה נכנסת בגוף האיש או האשה בסוד העבור בחיים ,אלא אם כן כי יש ביניהם קורבה גדולה זה לזה ,ולכן האשה הזאת ששרשה נשמת זכר ,הצריכה לעיבור נשמת הנקבה ,הנה כדי שתמצא נשמת נקבה בכל תנאיה ,שתצטרך להתעבר מפאת עצמה ,וגם שתהיה קרובה אליה או דומה אליה ,צריך זכות גדול ,ומכ"ש אם יצטרך הדבר לבא בעיבור פעם ופעמים כנז"ל ,ומכ"ש למצא נשמות רבות של נקבות בתנאיה הנז ,'וגם שיבאו בה בסוד העיבור כל אחד ואחד בזמן אחד צריך זכיות גדולים ונסים רבים:

Chapter 10

בבחי 'הבנים שאדם מוליד ,וגם בענין התלמידים עם הרב שלהם .ועתה נדבר בבחי 'הבנים שאדם מוליד , דע ,כי בין אם האדם לוקח בת זוגו ,בין אם לוקח אשה שאינה בת זוגו ,אין חלוק ביניהם לענין זה ,והוא כי יכול הוא להוליד בנים מן הנצוצות של הנשמות של שרשו עצמו ,או להוליד מנשמות שרשים אחרים .עוד דע ,כי האב הוא נותן חלק מנשמתו אל בניו ,ואותה החלק נעשה לבוש אל נשמת הבן ,ומסייעו ומדריכו בדרך הטובה ,ולסבה זו חייב הבן בכבוד אביו .ואמנם אם אין חלוק בין נשמת האב לנשמת הבן ,רק פחות מת"ק מדרגות ,הנה אז נשאר חלק נשמת האב עם נשמת הבן אפילו לימות המשיח .אבל בתחית המתים או לעולם הבא ,כל דבר חוזר לשרשו ,ונפרדים לגמרי .האמנם אם יש הפרש ביניהם שעור ת"ק מדרגות ,או יותר מת"ק ,אז מתבטלת הגרועה בגדולה ,ומתחברים חבור גמור לעולם ,ועד לא יפרדו , ושניהם הם בשרש אחד:

והנה זה הוא מבחי 'האב עם הבן ,אבל ענין הרב עם התלמיד ,כבר נתבאר אצלינו לקמן ,כי הרב נותן רוחא גו תלמידיה ,ע"ד האב לבנו ,אלא שהוא חבור יותר נמרץ ,כי לעולם ועד נשאר ההוא רוחא עם התלמיד קיים לעולם לא יפרדו ,בסוד ותדבק נפש דוד ביהונתן .וזהו טעם יתרון כבוד הרב מכבוד האב . והנה אם הרב של התלמיד הוא בנו ממש ,יש לו ב 'דבוקים ,אחד לפי שהוא רבו .ואחד לפי שהוא בנו . ולכן אם יש ביניהם יותר מת"ק מדרגות ,אז שניהם מתדבקים זה עם זה ,האב עם בנו ,לפי שהוא רבו . 'והבן עם אביו ,לפי שהוא אביו .ושניהם מתדבקים יחד זה בזה וזה בזה מב 'אלו הבחי 'הנז:

עוד נדבר בענין הבנים הנולדים מן האב ,דע ,כי בהיות האיש מזדווג עם אשתו להוליד בנים ,הנה מכח האב נמשך בחי 'אור מקיף בבן ,ומכח האם נמשך בבן ג"כ בחי 'אור פנימי .והנה אפשר שבעת זווגם

יתקדשו עצמם שניהם בכונות מצוה וקדושה .או יהיה כונת שניהם שלא לשם מצוה ,אלא להנאת עצמם
ולרעה .או יהיה כונת האב לטובה והאם לרעה ,או להפך .ואמנם אם שניהם נתכוונו לדבר מצוה ,יהיה
הולד ההוא צדיק גמור באור המקיף ובאור פנימי .ואם שניהם נתכוונו לרעה ,יהיה הבן ההוא רשע גמור
באור מקיף ובאור פנימי .ואם האב נתכוון לטובה ,ואמו לרעה ,אז יהיה אור המקיף של הבן צדיק .ואור
הפנימי ,רשע .ובהמשך הזמן יכוף המקיף את הפנימי ,ויהיה צדיק גמור ,לפי שהמקיף כולל בתוכו את
הפנימי ,ומהפכו לזכות .ואם האב נתכוון לרעה והאם לטובה ,אז המקיף רע והפנימי טוב ,ובהמשך הזמן
יכוף המקיף הרע את הפנימי הטוב ,ויהיה רשע גם הוא:
והנה אם תרצה לידע ,מי גובר בו ,כח האב או האם ,תוכל להכיר זה כפי קלותו של הבן או כבדותו ,לפי
כי האור הפנימי מוגבל ,ואינו יכול להתנועע .אבל האור המקיף מבחוץ ,מתנועע ,ומניע את האדם למקום
שהוא חפץ .ונמצא כי אם תראה איזה אדם קל כנשר ורץ כצבי בכל מעשיו ,ומהיר במלאכתו ,נמצא שגבר
עליו אור המקיף אשר מכח אביו .ואם הוא עצל וכבד התנועה ,יורה תגבורת אור הפנימי בו מצד האם , והכל כפי מעשיהם .רוצה לומר ,כי אם האב נתכוון לשם מצוה בעת התשמיש ,הנה הבן הזה יהיה מהיר
במלאכת שמים ,וגדול מאד בתורה .ואם אביו נתכוון להנאת עצמו ,יהיה הבן הזה מהיר במלאכת העה"ז .
וכן להפך אם יהיה כבד התנועה ,אם אמו נתכוונה לשם מצוה ,יהיה עצל במלאכת העה"ז .ואם לא
נתכוונה לשם מצוה ,יהיה הבן עצל במלאכת שמים:
ובזה תבין טעם כי נמצאים לידים קטנים חריפים לא יוכלו השקט ,ויש ילדים עצלים כבדי התנועה מאד:

Chapter 11
בתכלית הקצור בענין הגלגול ,וז"ל ,ענין הגלגול בתכלית הקצור ,מה שיצטרך בהכרח כל האדם לדעת ,
איך יתנהג לתקן את עצמו .נודע הוא כי ד 'עולמות אבי"ע ,וכל עולם מהם ,יש בו חמשה פרצופים ,א"א , ואו"א ,וזו"ן .האמנם אין ענין כלם שוה ,לפי ששלשה עולמות בי"ע ,הם בערך פרטיות אימא וזו"ן דאצילות .
אבל בדוגמת א"א ואבא דאצילות ,לא יש שני עולמות דוגמתם למעלה מבי"ע ,לפי שהם בתכלית של
ההעלם .גם נודע ,כי מכל הבחי 'שנכללו בד 'עולמות אבי"ע ,יוצא נשמות בני אדם ,בסוד בנים אתם לה ' אלהיכם .וא"כ נמצא ,כי בחי 'הנשמות יהיו ממש כדמיון העולמות עצמם בכלל ופרט .כיצד ,הנשמות שיש
מעולם האצילות ,יתחלקו לחמשה בחי 'גם הם ,כנגד ה 'פרצופי האצילות ,כי הנמשכות מן א"א ,נקראות
יחידה .ומן אבא ,נקראות חיה .ומן אימא ,נקראות נשמה .ומן ז"א ,נקראות רוח .ומן נוקביה ,נקראות

נפש .וכלם הם חלקי האצילות .אח"כ יש יותר תחתונות ,והם ,כי הנמשכות מעולם הבריאה ,כלם נקראים נשמה דבריאה .ומן היצירה ,כלה נקראת רוח דיצירה .ומן העשיה ,נקראת נפש דעשיה .והרי זה דרך כלל .ודרך פרט הוא זה ,כי הנה הנשמות יוצאות מן אריך דאצילות ,נחלקות לחמשה בחינות ,כי מכתר דאריך ,נקראת יחידה שביחידה .ומחכמה שבו ,נקראת חיה דיחידה .ומבינה שבו נקראת נשמה דיחידה . ומשש קצוותיו נקראת רוח דיחידה .וממלכות שבו ,נקראת נפש דיחידה .וכל חמשה חלקים הנז 'נקראים בכללותם יחידה .ועד"ז יתחלקו חמשה בחי 'החיה ,שמן אבא דאצילות ,וכלם נקראים חיה .וכן חמשה חלקי הנשמה דמצד אימא ,כלם נקראים נשמה .וכן חמשה חלקי רוח דמז"א ,כלם נקראים רוח .וכן חמשה חלקי נפש דמנוקביה ,כלם נקראים נפש דאצילות:

ועד"ז בשלשה עולמות בי"ע אשר כל עולם מהם בכל חמשה חלקיו ,אינו רק בערך פרצוף אחד פרטי דאצילות כנזכר ,כיצד ,הנה הנשמות שמן אריך של הבריאה ,נקראות יחידה דבריאה .ושמן אבא ,נקראות חיה, ושמן אימא נקראים נשמה .ושמן ז"א נקרא רוח .ושמן נוקביה דבריאה ,נקראות נפש דנשמת הבריאה .וכל חמשה חלקים אלו שמן חמשה פרצופי הבריאה ,נקראים נשמה של הבריאה .וכן הנשמות שבחמשה פרצופי היצירה ,יחידה ,חיה ,נשמה ,רוח ,נפש .וכלם נקראים רוח דיצירה .וכן הנשמות שמחמשה פרצופי העשיה ,יחידה ,חיה ,נשמה ,רוח ,נפש .וכלם נקראים נפש דעשיה .והרי נתבארו ענין הנשמות בכלל ופרט:

והנה כל בחי 'הנשמות הנז ,'כלם נכללו באדה"ר ,והנה אדם היה כלול מרמ"ח איברים ושס"ה גידים גם בבחי 'הנשמות שבו ,באופן כי כל חלק מהנזכר ,נתחלק לסדר הנזכר ,כיצד ,הנה חלק היחידה דאצילות , נחלק לתרי"ג אברים וגידים ,וכל אבר וגיד מהם נקרא שורש א .'וכן החיה ,או הנשמה ,או הרוח ,או הנפש דאצילות ,כל בחי 'מהם נתחלקה לתרי"ג שרשים .וכן כל בחי 'מחמשה פרצופי הבריאה ,נתחלקה לתרי"ג שרשים ,וכלם נקראים נשמה דבריאה כנז"ל .וכן כל בחי 'מחמשה פרצופי היצירה ע"ד הנז"ל .וכן כל ה ' פרצופי העשיה ע"ד הנז"ל .ועוד אפשר שיתחלקו כל חלק מהנזכר חלוק יותר פרטי ,וזה היה ע"י חטאו של אדה"ר ושאר הנבראים:

ולהבין הענין ,נבאר חלק אחד מהם ,וממנו תקיש לכל השאר ,ונתחיל מן נוקבא דעשיה .הנה נוקבא דעשיה ,כוללת תרי"ג איברים וגידים ,ואלו נקראים תרי"ג שרשים גדולים ,ר"ל שפחות מזה אי אפשר להיות ,וכל שרש מאלו ,אינו פחות מתרי"ג נצוצות ,שכל נצוץ נקרא נשמה אחת שלימה ,ונקראים תרי"ג נצוצות גדולים .והנה ע"י הפגם ,יתחלקו התחלקות יותר פרטיי ,והוא ,כי תרי"ג שרשים גדולים ,יתחלקו עד ס 'רבוא שרשים קטנים ולא יותר ,אבל פחות מזה אפשר להיות ,וגם אינו מוכרח שכל שרש גדול , יתחלקו לחשבון שוה בשרש חבירו ,כי הכל לפי הפגם .ויש שרש גדול שיתחלק לאלף שרשים קטנים ,ויש למאה וכיוצא בזה .האמנם בבחינת כל התרי"ג שרשים גדולים ביחד ,אי אפשר שיתחלקו ליותר מס ' רבוא שרשים קטנים .ועד"ז בנצוצות התרי"ג שבכל שרש ושרש ,מתרי"ג שרשים גדולים ,כי כל נצוץ מהם יתחלק לכמה נצוצות .האמנם יש נצוץ גדול שיתחלק לאלף נצוצות קטנים ,ויש למאה ,וכיוצא בזה . האמנם כל תרי"ג הנצוצות הגדולים בכללותם יחד ,אין מתחלקים ליותר מס 'רבוא נצוצות קטנים:

עוד צריך שתדע ,כי כמו שכל כללות תרי"ג שרשים גדולים דנוקבא דעשיה ,הם נפרטים ,כי תחלה יש נשמה אמת ,אב לכל ,והיא בדרך זה ,כי תחלה יש נשמה אחת אב לכלם והוא אדה"ר כולל כלם ,ואח"כ נכללות כלם בג 'אבות ,אברהם ,יצחק ,ויעקב .ואח"כ נכללות כלם לשנים עשר שבטים ,ואחר כך נחלקים לע 'נפש .ואח"כ אלו הע 'נפש ,נחלקים עד ס 'רבוא נצוצות גדולים .כך כל שרש מהתרי"ג גדולים ,נעשה פרצוף כולל תרי"ג ,ויתחלק ע"ד הנזכר ,עד ס 'רבוא נצוצות קטנים .כיצד ,הנה אדם היה כולל כל תרי"ג שרשים גדולים שבפרצוף שלם דנוקבא דעשיה ,והנה אבר כתף השמאלי דאדה"ר ,הוא שרש אחד גדול והוא פרצוף שלם מתחלק לע 'שרשים קטנים ולא יותר .ואלו ע 'שרשים כוללים כל תרי"ג איברים וגידים שבזה הפרצוף ,וכל אלו הע 'שרשים קטנים נחלקים לס 'רבוא נצוצות קטנים .ואמנם קין הוא כולל כל שרש הגדול הזה ,הכולל הע 'שרשים קטנים ,מס 'רבוא נצוצות קטנים ,והוא כדמיון אדה"ר .ויש בשרש הגדול הזה שלשה אבות כוללים כלו ,ואח"כ י"ב שבטים ,ואח"כ ע 'נפש ,ואת"כ נחלקים לס 'רבוא קטנים:

ועתה נבאר פרט הע 'שרשים הקטנים .הנה נתבאר ,שכלם יחד יתחלקו לס 'רבוא נצוצים קטנים ,אבל כל שרש מהם ,אינו מוכרח שיהיה חשבון נצוצותיו בחברו אך הצד השוה שבהם הם כי כל שרש מהם יתחלק לתרי"ג נצוצות פנימיים ועיקריים ,והם הת"ח אשר בשרש ההוא ,ומהם מתפשטים סביבותיהם ענפים , והם בעלי בתים ,ועמי הארץ ,ובאלו אין מספר קבוע כנזכר וזה באורו ,הנה אחד מן הע 'שרשים קטנים

שבאבר כתף השמאלי, הנקרא ע"ש קין, שכלם הם שרש אחד גדול אשר באדה"ר, הנה שרש א 'מאלו הע, 'הוא אבר העקב שברגל השמאלי של הפרצוף הכולל כל שרש קין. ובזה השרש הקטן, יש בו תרי"ג נצוצות, שכלם ת"ח, וסביבותיהם מתפשטים כל שאר נצוצות נשמות בני אדם, בעלי מצוה, וסוחרים, ועמי הארץ, ולאלו אין מספר קבוע כנזכר, כי אין הכרח, רק שכל נצוצות שבעים השרשים הקטנים שבשרש אחד הגדול, לא יהיו יותר מס 'רבוא נצוצות קטנים:

גם דע, כי כל אבר כלול, מבשר, וגידים קטנים, ועצמות, ואין הגידים שבאיברים מכלל השס"ה גידים הגדולים, ונמצא כי התרי"ג נצוצות שבזה העקב, שהם נצוצות הת"ח, הם נחלקים בג 'חלקים הנז', שהם בשר, וגידים, ועצמות. וכן עד"ז שאר נצוצות של בעלי מעשה וכו', כנז"ל, נחלקים בשלשה חלקים הנז', וסדר מעלתם הוא, בראשונה הבשר, ולמעלה ממנה הגידים, ולמעלה משניהם הן העצמות, לבחי 'המוח שבתוכם, ולא הם בעצמם. והרי נתבאר ענין פרצוף נוקבא דעשיה, כי כלו היה נכלל באדם, ומזה תקיש לכל שאר הפרטים עד אריך דאצילות:

ועתה נבאר, ענין אחיזת נשמת האדם בכל העולמות כלם. וכמ"ש ז"ל על פסוק איפה היית ביסדי ארץ. (איוב ל״ח:ד׳) הנה מי שהיה נצוץ נשמות מין אחד, מהנצוצות הפרטיות שבאבר העקב שמאלי, שהוא שרש קטן א 'מן הע 'שרשים קטנים שבשרש הגדול, שהוא אבר כתף השמאלי של פרצוף אדה"ר, מבחי ' נוקבא דעשיה, הנה גם יהיה נאחז במקום ההוא עצמו, בפרצוף ז"א דעשיה, ובפרצוף אימא דעשיה, עד רום המעלות, שהוא בעקב של רגל שמאלי, שהוא השרש הקטן האחד, מן הע 'שרשים קטנים, שבשרש אחד גדול, שהוא אבר כתף השמאלי של א"א דאצילות. וכל אלו החלקים נקראים נשמה אחת. והאדם הזה, עולה ולוקח חלקיו כלם מסופם לראשם כנזכר, כי תחילה לוקח חלקו שבנוקבא דעשיה, שהוא העקב הנז 'ונקרא נפש שבנפש, וכן עולה ונוטל עד חלקו שבאריך דעשיה, בבחי 'העקב הנז"ל, ואז נשלם בכל חלקי נפשו שמעולם העשיה, ועד"ז ברוחו שמן היצירה וכו', עד שעולה לקחת חלקו שבא"א דאצילות, בבחי 'העקב הנזכר, ונשלם בו היחידה שלו מעולם האצילות, ונגמר תשלום נשמתו בכל תלקים. והנה זהו תכלית פרט אחיזת חלק נשמתו בפרטי פרטות:

ואמנם דרך כללות, יש עוד ענין אחר, והוא, כי הגם שנתבאר שנצוץ נפש האדם עצמו, היא לבדה, נקראת נשמת האדם לבדו פרטיית ועיקריית, הנה גם כל נצוצות הנשמות פרטיות שנתחלקו בזה העקב הנזכר, שהוא עקב של כללות כל הפרצוף שבשרש הגדול הנקרא קין, שהוא אבר הכתף השמאלי של אדה"ר, כלם יחד נקראים נשמה אחת שלימה גדולה, כנזכר שתרי"ג נשמות גדולות יש בכל שרש מהגדולים, הנה כל העקב הנזכר הוא אחד מן תרי"ג נשמות גדולות, שיש בשרש אבר הכתף שמאלי שנקרא שרש גדול, ולקמן נבאר תועלת הענין הזה:

ואחר שנתבאר היטב בחי 'הנשמות, ומקום אחיזתם נבאר עתה משפטיהם. דע, כי אין האדם נקרא שלם, עד שיתקן בחייו, ויזכה עד שיקח יחידה דא"א דאצילות כנז"ל. ואמנם מי שלא זכה כי אם ליקח כל אחד בחי, 'דעשיה, הנה זה האיש זכה ליקח נפש שלימה, מכללות כל עולם העשיה, ועד"ז בכל שאר החלקים, עד שיהיה שלם לגמרי כנזכר. והנה תקון האדם, תלוי בדברים רבים, כמו בעשיית כל מצות עשה, ובעסק התורה וכו', כמו שיתבאר. וכפי מה שירבה בהם, כך יושלם תקונו, לזכות לקחת כל חלקי נשמות. וכאשר ח"ו יחטא, ויעבור על שס"ה מל"ת, כך יהיה הפגם שיפגום בחלקי נשמתו, גם אם עשה מ"ע הרבה:

ודע, כי ענין התקון או הפכו שהוא הפגם, הכל הוא במקום אחיזת נשמתו בלבד, ולא בשאר מקומות. וגם זה הוא ע"ד הנז"ל, כי עיקר התקון או הפגם ההוא, במקום אחיזת נשמתו, שהוא נצוץ הפרטי. האמנם גם בכל הנצוצות שהם קרוביו, הוא מתקן או פוגם. כיצד, הנה מי שהיה מן העקב שמאלי, שבפרצוף אבר כתף השמאלי הנקרא שרש קין. אם יתקן, הנה גורם תקון בכל נצוצות העקב הנזכר. ואם יפגום, גורם פגם בכלם, אע"פ שהם כבר תקנו כל צרכם לגמרי, והנוגע לנצוצותם הפרטיות דכל אחת מהם, אינם נקראים שלימים ומתוקנים לגמרי, עד אשר לא ישאר שום נצוץ קטן או גדול מכל נצוצי העקב, כי אם שלם לגמרי, כי הם כל העקב הזה, נקרא נצוץ נשמה גדולה אחת כנז"ל, ולכן כל הנצוצות ההם, אפילו אם יהיה שמואל הנביא ע"ה אחד מהם, לא נקרא שלם, עד שיושלמו כל הנצוצות של זה העקב להתקן, אפילו הגרוע שבכלם. ולכן כלם באים לסייע את הנצוץ הפגום בעה"ז לתקנו. האמנם שאר נצוצות כל אבר הכתף השמאליי, אין להם לא תקון ולא פגם מחמת נצוצות זה העקב כלל:

הכלל העולה, כי כל שרש ושרש מהשרשים הקטנים שבכל אבר, הנקרא שרש גדול מתרי"ג שרשים גדולים שבפרצוף אדה"ר, הנה כל השרש הקטן ההוא, נקרא נשמה אחת גדולה, וכלם מסייעים זה לזה

כנזכר .ואמנם לא פגם אחד פוגם בכל החלקים אשר בכל העולמות כנז"ל ,אבל יש חטא שפוגם בנפשו אשר מצד העשיה ,ויש פוגם בחלק רוחו אשר ביצירה וכו 'כנודע .ובהיות נצוץ פרטיי שלו פוגם בעשיה ,גם כל נצוצי העקב הנז 'שבעשיה ,יש בהם פגם כמוהו כנזכר ,וכן בשאר העולמות .אבל פשוט שעיקר העונש , מתמעט בכל נצוצותיו ,אלא שהשפע הנמשך בעקב ההוא ,אלא אל הנצוץ הפרטיי הזה ,או השכר אינו מחמת פגם זה הנצוץ הפרטיי:

ועתה נבאר התקון והפגם בפרטות .ונתחיל בבחי 'תקון הנפש אשר מעולם העשיה ,כי היא היותר תחתונה מן הכל ,והיא הנכנסת באדם בעת לידתו תחלת הכל .כי כבר ידעת ,כי אין חלק עליון נכנס ,עד ישתלם תקון התחתון ,כי תחלה צריך שיושלם תקון כניסת כל חלקי הנפש דעשיה ,ואח"כ יתחיל להכנס בו חלקי הרוח שביצירה ,וכשיושלם יכנס הנשמה דבריאה וכו ,'עד תשלום הכל .ואמנם התנאים והחלוקים שיש בענין זה ,יתבאר בשער זה ש"ח שער הגלגול .דע ,כי כל תקון האדם שיזכה לנפש דעשיה ,הוא ע"י קיום מצות עשה שהם רמ"ח .וכל הפגם ההוא ,או בחסרון קיומם ,או בעבורו על אחת משס"ה מל"ת .כי עסק התורה הוא לקנות הרוח שביצירה ,כמו שיתבאר:

ודע ,כי האדם צריך שיקיים כל התרי"ג מצות .ואם חסר אחת מהם ,עדיין נפשו חסירה ,כפי שעור המצות שחסרו ממנו. ואמנם הרמ"ח מ"ע נחלקים לחמשה חלוקות ,א ,'הם המצות אשר האדם נמנע מלקיימם כגון מצות שהם תלויות בזמן שב"ה היה קיים ,כמו הקרבנות וכיוצא בהם .ואלו אין האדם חוזר בגלגול לקיימם ,כי מה תועלת יש בגלגול ,אמנם כשיבנה ב"ה יקיימם .הב ,'הם המצות שיכול האדם לקיימם ,כמו ציצית ותפילין וכיוצא בזה ,ואלו אם לא קיימם ,צריך בהכרח שיחזור להתגלגל פעמים רבות ,עד שישלים את כלם .באופן כי מי שכבר נתגלגל וקיים קצת מצות ,די לו בגלגולו זה ,כשקיים המצות החסירות ממנו , שלא קיימם מעולם כלל .ודע ,כי כשיתגלגל על כך ,אפשר שיחטא ויבואו על ידו עבירות רבות:

ג ,'הם המצות שאין חובה עליו לקיימם ,אלא אם כן באה לידו ,כגון תרומות ומעשרות ושלוח הקן ,שאינו מחוייב לרדוף אחריהם ,אלו ג"כ מוכרח הוא שיתגלגל לקיימם ,אמנם כיון שלא הוצרך להתגלגל אלא לסבה זו ,מובטח הוא שלא יחטא בזה הגלגול הב .'הד ,'הם מצות שאין יכולת בידו לקיימם ,אם לא כאשר האלהים אנה לידו ,כמו פדיון הבן ,ויבום ,וחליצה ,או גט ,שאינו מחוייב לגרשה ,אא"כ לא תמצא חן בעיניו כנודע ,לפי שקשים גרושין וכו ,'ומזבח מוריד עליו דמעות ,וכיוצא באלו יש בהם חלוק ,כי אם לא נזדמנו לו אינו חוזר להתגלגל ,אבל יבא בסוד העבור לפי שעה בלבד ,עד אשר יקיים אותם ,ותכף מסתלק מן העולם והולך לו ,אבל אם באו לידו ולא קיימם ,אז מוכרח הוא להתגלגל ,אבל לא קבלתי ממורי ז"ל אם מובטח לו שלא יחטא בענין החלוק השלישי אם לאו:

גם נסתפקתי בענין שאר המצות ,ובפרט באותם שאינו מחוייב לרדוף אחריהם ,כמו מעקה ושלוח הקן ,וכיוצא ,אם רצה לקיימם ,אלא שלא היה בידו יכולת לקיימם ,כגון שהיה עני ולא יכול לקנות בית לעשות מעקה ,אם נאמר שזה נקרא אנוס ,ויספיק לו העיבור ,או אם יצטרך גלגול גמור .ובמקום אחר כתבנו , שנראה שנפטר מן הגלגול ,ויספיק לו סוד העבור איך אפשר לומר שיתגלגל אלא שהשם יתברך יזמין לו בודאי המצוה ההיא ,ויתן לו יכולת לקיימה .החמישית היא מצוה פרטיית ,והיא לפרות ולרבות ,והיא מהמצות שמחוייב האדם לרדוף לקיימה ,וגם יש יכולת בידו לקיימה ,וזו היא חמורה מכל המצות ,והוא ,כי מי שמת בלא בנים ולא קיים אותה לא די במה שיתגלגל ,אלא ששאר המתגלגלים על ידו על חסרון איזה מצוה כנז"ל ,הנה כל גוף וגוף מהם יקום ויחיה בזמן התחיה ,ויכנס בו נצוצות נשמתו כפי שיעור המצות שקיים בהיותו באותו גוף .אבל זה שמת בלא בנים כל חלקי נצוצות נשמתו ,יכנסו בגוף השני שנתגלגל בו בסוד היבום ,ואז קיים מצות פריה ורביה .אבל הגוף הראשון שלא קיימה ,אין נכנס בה רק ההוא רוחא קדמאה דיהיב באנתתיה כשנשאה בביאה א 'כנודע .הששית היא ,מצוה פרטיית ,והיא לעסוק בתורה , והיא שקולה כנגד כל המצות ,כי ת"ת כנגד כלם .ויש בה ד 'פירושים ,שסימנם פרד"ס ,פשט ,רמז ,דרש , סוד .וצריך לטרוח ולעסוק בכלם ,עד מקום שיד שכלו מגעת ,ויבקש לו רב שילמדהו ,ואם חסר אחת מארבעתם כפי השגתו ,יתגלגל על זה:

גם צריך שתדע ,כי האדם צריך לקיים כל תרי"ג מצות ,במעשה ,וכן בדיבור ,ע"ד מה שאמרו רז"ל כל העוסק בפרשת עולה ,כאלו הקריב עולה וכו .'וכן במחשבה ,אם לא קיים כלם בשלשה בחי 'אלו ,יתגלגל , עד שיקיים כל התרי"ג מצות בשלשה בחי 'אלו:

עוד דע ,כי התרי"ג מצות מתחלקות בתרי"ג איברים וגידים של אדה"ר ,שנקראים תרי"ג שרשים גדולים , ובכל אבר ואבר מהם יש מצות פרטיות ,כנזכר כי בכל אבר הכתף השמאלי ,יש אחד עשרה מ"ע וט"ו

מל"ת .וכל מי שהוא מן הכתף הזה ,מחוייב להשלים אלו המצות יותר מכל שאר התרי"ג .ולא נתברר לי היטב ענין זה ,כי כיון שכל אדם מחוייב להשלים כל התרי"ג מצות כנז"ל ,מה הוא החיוב המשונה שיש בין אלו המצות הפרטיות שבכל אבר אל שאר התרי"ג כלם:

גם שמעתי ממורי ז"ל ,כי אינו דומה מי ששאר הנצוצות שהם מן משרש נפשו אשר קדמו אליו קיימו כל המצות ,למי שהנצוצות הקודמות אליו לא קיימו גם הם אלו המצות שלא קיים גם הוא ,ולא ידעתי מה הוא החלוק שיש בין זה לזה .והרי נתבאר ענין קיום המ"ע:

ונבאר ענין מל"ת ,דע ,כי יש מצות ל"ת שתשובה ויום הכיפורים מכפרים .ויש שצריך גם כן יסורין לכפרם . אבל יש עבירות חמורות ,כמו כריתות ומיתות ב"ד וכיוצא ,שאינם מתכפרים עד שימותו .ויש באלו חלוק , כי אם היא עבירה שאינם מאותם שגופם כלה ואשם קם בתחית המתים ,כמ"ש ז"ל ואלו שאין להם חלק לעה"ב ,המינים והאפיקורסים וכו .'הנה הנפש הזאת תתגלגל ,לתקן מה שחטא ,וגופו הראשון כלה ונאבד כנזכר .ואם אינה מבחי 'זו ,הנה הגוף הראשון אינו נאבד ,אמנם הנפש ההיא מתגלגלת בגוף הזה השני ,בהצטרפות איזה נצוץ אחד משרשו שנכנס שם ,שהוא בעל הגוף ההוא ,ושם נתקן זה המגולגל עמו הנקרא אורח ,ולא בעל הבית:

גם דע ,כי האדם המחטיא לחבירו באיזו עבירה שצריך גלגול ,אבל הוא עצמו לא חטא ,יבא בעיבור עם המתגלגל ,עד יתקן החטא ,ואף זה שהחטיאו יסתלק משם .ודע ,כי לא די לאדם עצמו פרטיות אחרות אחיזת נפשו למעלה ,רק כל חלקי העשיה והיצירה וכו ,'וזה מסייע למה שכתבתי פה ,שאע"פ שיש מצות פרטיות בכל אבר ,צריך שישלים כל התרי"ג מצות .אמנם נלע"ד פי 'הדברים באופן אחר ,והוא ,כי אם נפש האדם דרך משל מנוקבא דעשיה ,לא יספיק לו כאשר יתקן בחי 'ההיא לבדה ,ועי"כ יכנס בו בחי ' הרוח שלו ,שהיא מנוקבא דיצירה .אלא צריך שיתקן גם כל חלקי הנפש ,שהם מחלקו של עשיה .כגון נפש ממלכות ז"א דעשיה ,וממלכות דאימא ואבא ואריך דעשיה ,כי כל אלו הם חלקי נפשו בשלמות ,שהם נרנח"י שיש בעשיה ,וכולם נקראים נפש דעשיה שלימה .ואז יתחיל לשבות נפש שברוח דיצירה שבחלקו . דאל"כ אלא שצריך שישלים כל העשיה בכללותה ,א"כ אין בעולם רק נפש אחת לבדה .וגם זה מוכיח כי אין צורך לאדם לתקן רק שרש הקטן אשר ממנו חוצב:

ועתה נבאר ענין הרוח והנשמה ,אעפ"י שכבר נתבאר עניינם למעלה ,כי תקון הרוח דיצירה הוא ע"י עסק התורה כהלכתה לשמה בתורה שבע"פ משנה ותלמוד וכו .'ותקון הנשמה דבריאה ,תלוי בידיעת סודות ורזי התורה הפנימיים בחכמת הזוהר .ובמקום אחר כתבנו ,כי העושה מצות עשה בלי כונה מתקן עולם העשיה שהיא נפש .והעוסק בתורה בלי כונה ,מתקן היצירה שהיא הרוח .והעושה מצוה או העוסק בתורה בכונה ,מתקן בריאה שהיא נשמה .ובמקום אחר כתבתי ,כי המחשבה והתדבקות בהוי"ה דס"ג , ובאהיה יה"ו ,ובאהיה אשר אהיה ,הם תועלת הנשמה הבאה מן בריאה .ועסק התורה בדיבור ,הוא תועלת הרוח שמן היצירה .וקיום מצות מעשיות ,ובפרט התלוים בהליכת הרגלים ,כגון בקור חולים ,ולוית אורחים ומתים ,תועלת הנפש שמן העשיה:

אמר הכותב חיים ,זהו הנלע"ד באמת בענין הגלגול הוא זה ,הנה הנפש לשתהיה שלימה לעלות אל מקומה ,הוא ע"י שני תנאים ,האחד הוא הנקרא תקון שלמות הנפש ,והוא קיום כל רמ"ח מ"ע .והשני הוא תקון פגם הנפש ,אם עשתה שום עבירה משס"ה מצות ל"ת .ונודע כי אין הרוח נכנס בגוף ,עד שתשתלם הנפש בשני חלקים הנז .'והנה אם הנפש ההיא ,שהיא נצוץ אחד פרטיי ,שאי איפשר לו להתחלק יותר ,כי בפחות מזה איננו נקראת נפש גמורה ,אם השלימה בשני התנאים הנז ,'כבר נקראת נפש שלימה ,מוכנת לקבל את הרוח .ואחר כך אם יחטא האדם ,אין הפגם ההוא פוגם בנפש ,כי אם ברוח:

השני הוא ,אע"פ שהשלימה כל הרמ"ח מ"ע ,אם עשתה עבירה מאותם המונעות תחית המתים מאותו הגוף ,תתגלגל הנפש הזאת בגוף שני היא לבדה ,ושם תתקן פגם העבירה הנז .'כי המצות כבר עשאתה ואח"כ בעת התחיה תכנס בזה הגוף השני ,והגוף הראשון ימהה מן העולם .ומכ"ש שיהיה כן ,אם לא השלימה כל רמ"ח מצות עשה בגוף הראשון:

והשלישי הוא אם לא השלימה כל רמ"ח מ"ע בגוף הראשון ,ולא נפגמה בשום עבירה ,או גם אם נפגמה באיזו עבירה ,שאינה מאותם העבירות שגופו כלה בתחית המתים ,כי אז תתגלגל היא לבדה כולה בגוף שני גלגול ממש ,ואח"כ בעת התחיה ,תתחלק הנפש ההיא לחלקים עם היות כי אין שום חלק מהם נקרא נפש גמורה כנז"ל .ואותם החלקים שעשו המ"ע הנכונים להם בגוף הא ,'יחזרו שם בעת התחיה ,כי בו נתקיימו המצות ההם .ואע"פ כן הוצרכו להתגלגל החלקים ההם בגוף השני ,כי אינם נפש אחת גמורה ,

וצריכים להמצא גם הם בגוף השני ,בקיום שאר המצות החסרות .ואם עברה איזה עבירה בגוף הראשון , יתקנוהו עתה בגוף השני ,וסובלת יסורין וצער מיתה עמו ,והחלקים שעשו המצות שחסרו בגוף השני ,
יקומו בגוף השני בזמן התחיה ,כי בו נעשו .ואם איזו עבירה נפגמה בגוף השני ,אין עונשה נוגע כלל
לחלקים הראשונים .ואם זה הגוף השני השלים תשלום רמ"ח מצות עשה ,וגם לא נפגם בשום עבירה ,אז
יכניס בו גם כל הרוח בחייו ,וכן אחר התחיה יכנס כל הרוח ,עם קצת חלקי הנפש בגוף השני:
הרביעי הוא ,אם השלימה הנפש כל רמ"ח מ"ע בגוף הראשון ,ונפגמה באיזו עבירה קלה כנזכר ,כי אז
תתגלגל בגוף השני עם נפש אחרת חדשה ,וזה נקרא גלגול כפול .ואם תקבל צער יסורין ומיתה על עונש
עבירה שלה ,ולא על עונש עבירות הנעשות בגוף הב .'אך במצות הנעשות בגוף הב ,'יש לה שכר ,ובעת
התחיה היא תחזור לגוף הא ,'והגוף הב 'יקח הנפש החדשה ,כי היא העיקרית שלו .ודע ,כי זאת הנפש
החדשה ,אם לא תהיה משרשי הנפש הראשונה ממש ,לא תתגלגל עמה ,אלא אם כן יהיו ב 'נצוצות
נפשות אלו שתיהם משרש אחד ממש:
גם דע ,כי זה הגלגול של הנפש הראשונה ,נקרא עבור בצד מה ,כיון שאינה נוטלת עונש על העבירות של
הגוף הב ,'וגם כי סופה לשוב בתחיה בגוף הראשון .וזה הענין עצמו בחלוקה הג ,'והיא בהתגלגל קצת
חלקי הנפש שכבר נתקנו עם שאר חלקיה בגוף הב ,'כי בחי 'גלגולי החלקים שנתקנו ,יקרא עבור לסבה
הנז 'בצד מה:
ונלע"ד ,כי בזו החלוקה הד ,'איננה גלגול גמור לנפש הא ,'רק כל זמן שצריכה לשבת שם ,עד תשלום
הפגם של הגוף הראשון ,כי אז סובלת הצער והיסורין של הגוף הב .'וכשהשלימה, תצא בחייו ,ותלך
למעלה ,ואם לא הושלם עונשה רק עם המיתה ,תשב שם עד תסבול צער מיתת הגוף השני ,ולכן ענין זה
נקרא עיבור הדומה לגלגול .וכן הענין בחלוקה השלישית ,כי החלקים הראשונים ישבות בסוד גלגול גמור ,
עד יקיימו מצות החסרות ,וכשיושלמו ,יצאו להם בעודו בחיים .ואם לא הושלמו ,תשב שם עד שימות:
וממקום אחר נראה חלוק אחר בשתי החלוקות הנז ,'כי כאשר אלו המצות החסרות מזו להנפש ,עדיין לא

ואם נתקיימו ע"י הנצוצות שקדמו אליו ,די לו הגלגול הנז 'שנקרא עיבור .ובמקום אחר נתבאר ,כי גם
לצורך קיום מצוה יספיק עיבור:

Chapter 12
בענין נשמות החדשות והישנות:
כבר נתבאר למעלה ,כי כל הנשמות כלם היו בתחלה כלולות באדה"ר ,וכשחטא נשרו איבריו ,ונתמעטה
קומתו .ובארנו פי 'ענין זה ,שהוא שירדו הנשמות אל עמקי הקליפות ,ולא נשתיירו בו אלא קצתם ,שהוא
סוד מאה אמות .במארז"ל על פסוק ותשת עלי כפכה .והנה באדה"ר היו כלולות קצת נשמות חדשות

שלא באו לעולם, ואלו נקראות נשמות חדשות אמיתיות. ולמטה מהם היה מדרגה אחרת, והם הנשמות שנשתיירו כלולות בו, ולא נשרו ממנו, ואלו נקראים ג"כ חדשות, אבל לא בערך הראשונות הנז"ל. והנה כאשר אלו הנשמות שממדרגה ב', יבאו בגוף בגלגול, אחר שמת אדה"ר ונפרדו ממנו, עדיין אז יקראו חדשות. והטעם הוא, לפי שיצירת האדם הא' היתה בבחי' זווג עליון אחור באחור ולכן עד שתחזור לבא עם ההיא בבחי' זווג עליון דפנים בפנים, אז תקרא פעם א' שבאה לעולם, ונקראת חדשה, ואם גם אחר מיתת אדה"ר, לא זכתה הנשמה ההיא לבא פעם אחרת בעולם, אלא בבחינת זווג אחור באחור, עכ"ז תקרא עתה פעם א' שבאה לעולם, אע"פ שלא באה ע"י זווג פנים בפנים, לפי שכבר באה עתה אחר מיתת אדם הראשון:

ואחר מדרגה זו, יש עוד מדרגה שלישית תחתיה, והיא מהנשמות שנשתיירו באדה"ר, שמהם הוריש אדם לקין והבל בניו כשנולדו, ומדרגה זו שוה אל המדרגה הב', כי גם בהיותם בקין והבל, אינם שם בבחי' פעם א', כיון שלא באו בקין והבל אחר מיתת אדם, אלא בחייו הנחילם להם, לכן אין היותם כללות בקין והבל נחשבת אפילו לפעם א', אלא הרי הם כאלו עדיין היו כלולות באדם. וכאשר מתו קין והבל, אם יחזרו נשמות אלו לבא בעולם, אפילו שיבאו מבחי' זווג אחור באחור תקרא אז פעם א' שבאה בעולם, ותקרא חדשה. ומשם ואילך אם תמות ותתזור לבא בעולם, אז נקראת מגולגלת. אך אע"פ שדינה שוה אל המדרגה הב' עכ"ז בבחי' אחרות, הם גרועות אלו הנשמות שנכללו בקין והבל מהנשמות שנשתיירו באדם עצמו, ואינם נקראים כ"כ חדשות כמותם:

ואחריה מדרגה רביעית גרועה מכולם, והם הנשמות שנשרו מאדם עצמו אל עמקי הקליפות, כי אלו ישנות נקראים. ואפילו בפעם א' שבאו לעולם, אחר שנפלו בקליפות, נקראים נשמות ישנות מגולגלות. ואחריה מדרגה ה' גרועה מכלם והם נשמות הבאות בגוף הגרים המגיירים. ואמנם כל המדרגות הנז"ל ירדו אל הקליפות, חוץ מן המדרגה הראשונה, שהם הנקראים חדשות אמיתיות. אבל שאר המדרגות כולם ירדו אל הקליפות. וזהו הצד השוה שבהם. אלא שעדיין יש בהם חלוק, ואינם שוים במדרגת נפילתם, והוא, כי אותם שנשתיירו באדם הנקראים מדרגה שניה, אין בהם רק פגם אחד, שנפגמו בחטאו של אדם. ואותם שהנחיל לקין והבל בניו, והם המדרגה הג', יש בהם שני פגמים, פגם חטאו של אדם, ופגם עצמם של קין והבל, כי גם חטאו, כנזכר בספר התקונין תקון ס"ט:

ודע, כי כאשר הגיע זמן צאת הנשמה מתוך הקליפות לבא בעה"ז, הם צריכות בתחלה לבא בעבור במעי של המלכות נקבה העליונה, כדי להטהר להנקות שם מחלאת טומאת זוהמת הקליפות, אשר נתעכבו בה בהיותה בתוכם:

ואמנם זמן שהייתם שם אינו שוה, כי כפי גדר הנשמה, כך יהיה לה כח וזכות להתעכב שם בבטן המלאה, עד שתזדכך לגמרי ותתחדש:

ונבאר סדר החמשה מדרגות הנז', הנה המדרגה הראשונה, שהם הנשמות הנקראים חדשות אמיתיות, יכולות להשתהות בסוד עבור בבטן המלכות י"ב חדשים, ואח"כ יורדות בגוף בעה"ז, ולכן דוגמת זה מצינו עבור באשה י"ב חדש, כנזכר בגמרא מעשה דאשתהי תריסר ירחי, ואכשר רבה תוספאה. והמדרגה הב', והם הנשמות שנשתיירו באדם, ונקראים חדשות ולא לגמרי, אין בהם כח להשתהות במעי המלכות רק ט' חדשים בלבד, ואח"כ באות לעולם. והמדרגה הג', והם נשמות קין והבל, אשר גם הם חדשות בצד מה, אלא שאינם לא כראשונות ולא כשניות, לפי שיש בהם ב' מיני פגם, הנה אלו אין בהם יכולת להשתהות במעי המלכות רק שבעה חדשים בלבד. והמדרגה הד', והיא שאר הנשמות שנשרו מן אדה"ר, וירדו אל הקליפות, אע"פ שיצאו משם, וירדו ובאו לעה"ז בפעם א', הרי הם כשאר מדרגות הראשונות הבאות בפעם שניה, וכלם נקרא נשמות ישנות מגולגלות כנזכר, ולכן בין אלו שממדרגה הרביעית בבואם בפעם ראשונה, ובין אותם שממדרגות הראשונות בבואם בפעם שנית ומשם ואילך, כל אלו הם אינם מתעכבות בבטן המלכות רק מ' יום כנגד יצירת הולד, ואח"כ תיכף יורדות בעולם. והמדרגה הה', והם נשמות הגרים, אינם יכולות להתעכב בבטן המלכות רק שלשה ימים בלבד, כדי קליטת זרע, ואח"כ באות בעה"ז.

ודע, כי כפי יתרון זמן עכובם בסוד העבור תוך המלכות, כך יתרון גודל הארתם וזכוכם מחלאת הקליפות:

Chapter 13

וגם היא נקשרת עם האמור ,וז"ל ,גם דע הקדמה אחרת והיא ,כי כל אלו הנשמות כאשר יוצאות מתוך הקליפות לעלות אל הקדושה בסוד העבור כנזכר ,אינם יוצאות אלא על ידי תפלותיהם של ישראל ,כי אז הם יוצאות ועולות אל הקדושה בסוד מ"ן כנודע ,או ג"כ יוצאות ע"י איזה יחוד שמייחד האיש הצדיק בעה"ז ,כמבואר אצלינו בשער רוח הקדש ,מציאות היחודים ועניינם .או יוצאות ע"י איזו מצוה שיעשה האדם בעה"ז .ודע ,כי יש נשמות שע"י איזו פגם שיש בתחתונים ,או מחמת פגם שיש בהם עצמם שחטאו בתחלה בהיותם בעה"ז ,וע"י זה הם יורדות בעמקי הקליפות ,ואם אז נזדמנה יציאת ועליית איזו נשמה מתוך הקליפה להתעבר במעי המלכות ולהתקן שם כנזכר ,יש יכולת באותה נשמה שבמלכות לאחוז אותם הנשמות שהם פגומות קודם שירדו אל הקליפות ולהעמידם ממקומם ,ולהחזירם עמה למעלה במעי המלכות בסוד העבור ,ושם יתוקנו כלם ,ואח"כ יבואו בעולם:

והענין הוא ,כי בהיות הנשמה במעי המלכות ,תמיד היא שם מעלה מיין נוקבין למעלה ,ובכח אותם המיי"ן נוקבין שהיא מעלה ,יכולה להעלות עמם לאותה הנשמה כנז .'אמנם אי אפשר זה ,אם לא ע"י שיניח קצת רוחא וישדי בגוה .פי ,'שהנשמה הראשונה שהיא במלכות ,נותנת כח אחר ממנה באותה נשמה הפגומה , והיא מתלבשת בההיא רוחא ,ונתקנה על ידה ,וזה הרוח נשאר תמיד קשור עמה עד זמן התחיה ,ואז מתפרשים זה מזה:

גם דע ,כי אם אותה הנשמה שהיתה מעוברת בבטן המלכות ,היא ממדרגת אותם הנשמות שעומדות בעיבור י"ב חדשים ,יש בה יכולת וכח ,שגם אותה הנשמה הפגומה שעכבה עמה ,תעמוד כמוה י"ב חדש , אפי 'שאינה אלא ממדרגה הגרוע שבכלם ,שהיא נשמת הגרים ,שאינם מתעכבות רק עד שלשה ימים .וכן אם הראשונה היא ממדרגת ט 'או ז 'חדשים ,ואחרת היא גרועה יותר ,שהיא מבחי 'מ 'יום ,או ג 'ימים , תעמוד כמוה ט 'חדשים או ז 'חדשים .ואם הדבר הוא להפך ,שהראשונה המעכבת מאת האחרת ,אינה אלא ממדרגה ט 'חדשים ,והב 'שנתעכבה על ידה ,היא מדרגה י"ב חדש ,אז שתיהם עומדות י"ב חדש . באופן שלעולם אזלינן בתר רווחא ועלויא דמלתא:

והנה אני מסופק בזה איך שמעתי ממורי ז"ל ,והמשל בזה ,כי אם הנשמה החדשה שהיתה מדרגת קין ,והבל ,שזמנה שבעה חדשים ,ועכבה עמה נשמה אחרת שהיתה ממדרגת אדם הראשון שנשתיירו בו , שהיתה זמנה ט 'חדשים ,אלא שהיתה נשמה ישנה ,שבאה שני פעמים לעולם .אם נאמר ,שכיון שזו הנשמה השניה היא ממדרגת ט 'חדשים ,א"כ עתה שנתעכבה ,ונתקנה ע"י הראשונה ,א"כ גם אם זו הנשמה תהיה משבעה חדשים ,גם שתיהם מתעכבים ט 'חדשים:

גם דע ,כי יארע לפעמים ,שנשמה אחת תעכב נשמה אחת מלירד אל הקליפות כנזכר ,וזה ע"י דשדי חד רוחא בגוה כנזכר ,ואח"כ מכח שתופם יחד ,יהיה כח בשתיהם לעכב עוד נשמה שלישית אחרת מלירד אל הקליפות ,וזה ע"י דשדי הנשמה השנית בשלישית חד רוחא ,וגם הנשמה הא 'שדי חד רוחא בשלישית .ועד"ז אפשר עד עשר נשמות ,זו קשורה בזו ,עד שנמצא כי בנשמה העשירית ,יש בה חד רוחא מן הנשמה הא ,'וכן חד רוחא מן כל א 'משאר הט 'נשמות שקדמו אל זו העשירית ,וכפי זה נמצא , כי הראשונה יש לה ט 'רוחין בט 'נשמות שתחתיה ,והב 'יש לה ח 'רוחין וכו ,'והעשירית אין לה רק כח שבה ,ואין תחתיה מי שקבלה ממנה רוחא כלל ,ונמצא ג"כ כי כל הט 'נשמות אחרונות משועבדות אל הראשונה ,כי היא אליהם כדמיון אב לכלם ,והוא מדריך ומתקן לכלם ,ע"י ההוא רוחא דשדי בגווה דכל חדא וחדא מנייהו, וכיון שכן נמצא שהוא נוטל חלק עם כל הט' בכל המצות שהם עושים, והוא מחוייב להדריכם בדרך טובה, ובטובתם יקח גם הוא חלקו. אבל הם אינם נוטלים חלק במעשיו, ולכן אינם מחוייבים להדריכו. ועכ"ז השניה, כל השמונה נשמות שאחריה, משועבדות לה, והיא אינה משועבדת להם, וכן עד"ז בכלם. וז"ס מ"ש חז"ל, והביאו הרמב"ם ז"ל בהלכות שכנים פ"ג וז"ל, ה' גנות המספקות מים ממעין א', ונתקלקל המעיין, כלם מתקנות עם העליונה וכו'. וברור הענין הוא כך הוא, דע, כי אין לך צדיק וצדיק שבעולם, שאין לו שתי נשמות, כנזכר בזוהר ריש פרשת נה בתוספתא, על פסוק אלה תולדות נח נח, וכן משה משה שמואל שמואל וכו', תרין זמנין) הגהה - אמר שמואל, הנה באור התוספתא הזאת ביארתיה בשער ב' שער מאמרי רשב"י בפרשת נח, ולכן לא חזרתי וכתבתי אותה פה ומצאת שם כי תדרשה):

Chapter 14

הקדמה קטנה בענין הגלגולים:

דע, כי אע"פ שתמצא כתוב אצלינו במקומות רבים, כי פלוני נתגלגל בפלוני, ואחר כך בפלוני וכו', אל תטעה לומר כי הנשמה הראשונה עצמה, היא המתגלגלת תמיד. אבל הענין הוא, כי הנה כמה שרשים לאין קץ נתחלקו נשמות בני אדם, ובשרש אחד מהם יש כמה נצוצות נשמות לאין קץ, ובכל גלגול וגלגול נתקנים קצת נצוצות מהם, ואותם נצוצות שלא נתקנו, חוזרים להתגלגל להתקן. ואותם שכבר נתקנו, אינם מתגלגלים, אמנם עולים ועומדים במדרגה הראויה להם:

ובזה תבין מה שהודעתיך בענין נדב ואביהו, כמה פעמים נתגלגלו, וכמו שנתבאר בפסוק ויהי נא פי שנים ברוחך אלי, כי נדב ואביהו היו תחלה באליהו ז"ל, ואח"כ היו באלישע, מלבד כמה גלגולים. והענין הוא, כי נדב ואביהו הם שרש נשמה אחת, ותלויים בהם נשמות נצוצות פרטיות לאין קץ, ובכל גלגול היו נתקנים כמה נצוצות וחלקי השרש ההוא, ואותם נצוצות שעדיין לא נתקנו, הם היו אשר בקש אלישע ליקחם מן אליהו. כי אותם שנתקנו עלו במדרגתם הראוי להם. ולהיות כי אלישע היה מעורב בשתי בחי', כי אע"פ שעיקר נצוץ נשמתו היה משרש יוסף הצדיק כמבואר אצלנו, עכ"ז היה מעורב משרש נדב ואביהו, שהם מבחי' קי"ן. וכמו שהודענוך כי נקרא אלישע, להורות כי בקין כתיב ואל קין ואל מנחתו לא שעה מפני חטאו, ובאלישע שנתקן חטאו של קין, נקרא אלישע, כי הקב"ה שעה לו, וקבלו. ואותיות לא שעה, נהפכו ונעטו אל"י שע"ה. ובעבור כי היה לו אותו הנצוץ מן שרש קין בתחלה, לכן רצה שגם אלו הנצוצות של נדב ואביהוא, שיתחברו עמו, כמש"ה ויהי נא פי שנים ברוחך אלי, וזכה להם, מחמת אותו נצוץ של קין שהיה בו מתחלה כנזכר. ומזה תקיש ותבין לכל הגלגולים שבעולם, כי אין הראשונים ממש אותם המתגלגלים, אלא הם בחי' נצוצות שלהם שלא נתקנו בתחלה:

ובה יתבאר טעם, למה מצינו היות צדיקים גדולים, בני רשעים גמורים. וכמו שמצינו באברהם, שהיה בן תרח, כומר גדול, ועושה פסילים למכור לכל העולם ולהחטיאם. ובזה יתבאר, למה הקליפות מתאוים כ"כ להחטיא את האדם, עד כי גרמו להחריב בית המקדש, ולהגלות שכינתו יתברך בין הגוים, ולהכעיס את השי"ת אשר בראם. וסוד הענין דע, כי ע"י חטאו של אדה"ר, נפלו כל הנשמות לתוך עמקי הקליפות.
והנה הקליפות הם שיורי הזוהמא והפסולת שנברר מן הקדושה במיתת המלכים של אדום, כמבואר אצלינו והקליפות האלו הם בעצמם, הנקראים בשם דרגא דמותא. אבל הקדושה, היא אלהים חיים ומלך עולם, ולכן הם רודפים אחר הקדושה הנקראת חיים, כדי ליזון ולהחיות ממנה. ובעוד שהקדושה בתוכה, הם חיים ונזונים ממנה. וכשאין קדושה בתוכה, הם מתים, ואין להם חיות ושפע, ולכן הם טורחים אחר הקדושה, ומחטיאים את נשמת האדם הקדושה, כי אז גורמים אל הקדושה, ואל אותה הנשמה שתכנס ברשותם, והם חיים ונזונים על ידה. לפי שהנשמה הקדושה אי אפשר לה להכרת ממקום הקדושה, כי הבורא יתברך חשב מחשבות לבלתי ידח ממנו נדח, אפילו נצוץ קטן של נשמה קדושה, וממקום קדושתו יתברך משפיע, וממשיך מזון אל אותם הנשמות שבתוך הקליפות ההם, ומאותו השפע נותנים גם הקליפות, ולכן רודפים להחטיא את האדם, כאחד הרודף וטורח אחר מזונותיו, ולא יבוזו לגנב כי יגנוב למלא נפשו כי ירעב:
והנה כאשר נחרב בית המקדש, גלתה שכינה בין הקליפות, לפי שהנשמות שגלו ביניהם, אין בהם כח ויכולת לצאת מתוכם, כיון שנפגמו בחטאם. וע"כ שכינתו יתברך, אשר עליה נאמר כי ה' אלהיך אש אוכלה, נכנסת ביניהם כדי ללקט אותם נצוצות נשמות אטר בתוכם, ומבררת אותם ומעלה אותם למקום הקדושה, ומחדשם, ומורידם בעה"ז, בגופות האנשים. ובזה תבין היטב סוד גלות שכינה. ומיום שנחרב בית המקדש, זו מלאכתו יתברך, עד שיכלה מלאכתו ללקוט כל הנשמות שנפלו בין הקליפות של האדם הבליעל ונתערבו בו מראשו ועד רגליו, ועד שיגמר ללקט אפילו אותם שנפלו עד הרגלים, אין המשיח נגלה, ואין ישראל נגאלים. כמבואר אצלינו בזוהר בפרשת פקודי וז"ל, כד מטו רגלין ברגלין, כדין כתיב ועמדו רגליו ביום ההוא על הר הזיתים. ואמנם אין השכינה מלקטת אותם, אלא ע"י מעשה התחתונים ותפלותיהם, בסוד תנו עז לאלהים. וכפי גדר מעשה התחתונים, כך גדר הוצאות הנשמות והנצוצות ההם.
ואלו כל ישראל היו שבים בתשובה גמורה, היה כח בשכינתו יתברך להוציא כל הנשמות משם ברגע אחד. אבל חטאתינו מתישים כחה, וכמש"ה צור ילדך תשי. וכאשר יכלו הנשמות מלצאת משם, אז גם שכינתו יתברך תצא משם, ויסתלק חיותם, וימותו הקליפות, והרשעה כלה בעשן תכלה, וז"ס פסוק בלע המות לנצח וגו'. ר"ל, שהקליפות הנקראות מות, יכלו ויבולעו ברגע אחד, מסבת הסתלקות שכינתו יתברך מתוכם. וכל נצוצות נשמות אשר ביניהם כנזכר: And behold, when the temple was destroyed, the divine presence was exiled among the husks, because the souls that were exiled among them did not have the power to extract themselves from them, since they were blemished by their sins. That is why His divine presence, may He be blessed, about which it is stated, For the Lord your God is a consuming fire (Deuteronomy 4:24), enters among them — in order to gather those sparks of souls among them, separate and elevate them to the place of holiness, renew them, and bring them down to this world into the bodies of people. And with this, you can understand the secret of the exile of the divine presence. And this is His work, may He be blessed, from the time that the temple was destroyed until the end of the work of collecting all of the souls that fell among the husks of the Scoundrel Man and got mixed into him, from his head to his feet. And until He finishes collecting even the ones that fell to the feet, the Messiah will not be revealed and the Jewish people will not be redeemed, as it is explained for us in the Zohar, Parshat Pekudei (51:737). And these are its [words]: When the feet reach the feet, like that which is written, On that day, He will set His feet on the Mount of Olives (Zechariah 14:4)." However the divine presence only collects them by way of the actions of the earthly ones and their prayers via the secret of, give might to God [alluding to Psalms 68:35]. And according to the level of the actions of the earthly ones, so too is the level of the extraction of those souls and sparks. And if all of the Jewish people was to completely repent, His divine presence would have the power to instantly extract all of the souls from there. But our sins weaken its power, which is as it is written, You neglected the Rock that begot you (Deuteronomy 32:18). And when the souls are finished exiting from there, His divine presence, may He be blessed, will then exit from them and withdraw their life-force. Then the husks will die, and evil will end like smoke [alluding to the amidah prayer of the high holidays]. And this is the secret of the verse, He will swallow up death forever, etc. (Isaiah 25:8). It means to say that the husks, which are called death, will end and be swallowed up instantly, as a result of the removal of His divine presence, may He be blessed, from within them. And all of the sparks of the souls that are among them [will be redeemed], as mentioned.

ונחזור לענין, כי בהיות השכינה בתוכם, מוכרח הוא שיקבלו מזון ושפע וחיות, ואין השכינה גולה ביניהם, אלא לסבת הנשמות. ולכן כל מגמתם היא, להמשיך הנשמות בתוכם, ולעכבם שלא יצאו, כדי שיחיו ויתפרנסו על ידם. והנה כפי גדול ערך הנשמה, כך גודל ערך השפע הנמשך אליהם. ולכן בהיות איזו נשמה יקרת הערך, אינם מניחים אותה לצאת מתוכם, וכל מגמתם לטנפה ולטמאה ככל הבא מידם, כדי לעכבה אצלם תמיד. ולפעמים שהם מתייראים אולי איזה צדיק גדול יעשה איזה מצוה גדולה, ויהיה יכולת בידו להוציא אותה הנשמה מתוכם, ולהמשיכה בטפת זרעו בהזדווגו בקדושה עם אשתו, ולכן בראותם איזה רשע פגום בתכלית, טורחים הרבה ומקטריגים לפני השי"ת על הנשמה ההיא, להכניסה בטפת זרעו המזוהמת, כדי שעי"כ תתקלקל הנשמה ההיא יותר מבתחלה ותפגום בתכלית, ועי"כ תחזור לידם פגומה מאד, ולא תצא עוד מתוכם. והנה הקב"ה חושב מחשבות לבלתי ידח ממנו נדח, ובפרט זו הנשמה הטהורה והמעולה, ואז שומע לקולם, ומכניס במקום הרע ההוא, וכיון שיצאת מתחת ידם, הקב"ה עוזר אותה, והיא מתנערת מעפר שריפת חטאתה וטומאתה, ומכשרת במעשיה, כמרגלית המתרחצת ומראה זכותה לעיני הכל, ולא די כי אותה הנשמה נתקנת, אלא גם אביו שהולידו זוכה ע"י בנו וחזר בתשובה ע"ד מה שנתבאר אצלינו בענין איוב, שהיה גלגול תרח אבי אברהם, אשר שב בתשובה ע"י בנו אברהם. והקב"ה מרמה בקליפות, כי חשב מחשבות לבלתי ידח ממנו נדח:

Chapter 16

ובה יתבאר שכל מי שנשמתו חדשה, צריך לקיים כל תרי"ג מצות. דע, כי כל מי שהוא נשמה חדשה, צריך לקיים כל התרי"ג מצות. ונודע, כי יש כמה שרשים מחולקים בהם כל הנשמות שבעולם, וכל שרש מהם, הוא אבר א' מאברי נשמות אדה"ר, כמו שיתבאר. וכל שרש מהם, מתחלק לנצוצות נשמות לאין קץ, כמו שיתבאר וכו'. והנה כל נצוץ ונצוץ מהם, צריך אם הוא חדש, לקיים כל תרי"ג מצות, לפי שאין אבר שאינו כלול מכל רמ"ח איברים כנודע, אבל מי שאינו חדש, אלא נתגלגל וחזר בעה"ז, אין צריך שישלים עתה, רק אותם המצות החסרות ממנו שלא קיימם בגלגול הא' שקדם. ובזה יתבאר לך מה שמצינו בתלמוד, כי חכם פלוני היה זהיר במצוה פרטיית יותר משאר המצות, וחכם א' היה זהיר במצוה אחרת. וכמו שמצינו שהיה שואל אמורא פלוני לחבירו אבוך במאי הוה זהיר טפי, וחבירו השיבו שהיה זהיר בציצית או תפילין וכיוצא בזה. וכפי הנראה שזה הורס את המשנה, האומר והוי זהיר במצוה קלה כבחמורה. אבל סוד הענין הוא, כי כל חכם וחכם היה זהיר באותה המצוה שהיתה חסירה ממנו בגלגול הקודם, או כלה, או פרט מפרטיה. וגם ז"ס מה שמצינו בתלמוד כי פלוני היה בורר לו מדות אלו, ופלוני היה בורר לו מדות אחרות, כמ"ש שאלו לפלוני במה הארכת ימים. א"ל, מימי לא עברתי על מדותי וגו', כל א' בורר לו מדות, כפי בחי' גלגולו:

ואמנם אינו דומה מי שהנצוצות הנשמות הקודמות אליו בשרש נשמתו, קיימו כל תרי"ג מצות, אע"פ שזה הנצוץ עתה שלו לא קיימם למי שהנצוצות הקודמות אליו, גם הם לא קיימוה. וכמו שיתבאר בדרושים הבאים בע"ה:

ודע, כי המצות שיכול האדם לקיימם, ובאה לידו איזו מצוה מהם, ולא קיימם, או אם היה יכולת בידו לעשותם ולא עשה, מוכרח הוא שיתגלגל עד שיקיימה. ואמנם המצות שאין יכולת באדם לקיימם אם לא כאשר השי"ת אנה לידו, כמו, בפדיון הבן, ויבום, וחליצה, וגט, וכיוצא בזה. יש בזה חלוק, כי אם השי"ת אנה לידו אחת מהם ולא קיימה, דינו כדין הראשונים, שיתגלגל בהכרח לקיימה. אבל אם לא באה לידו, איננו מחוייב גלגול על מצות אלו, אבל יבא בסוד עבור באיזה אדם שבאו לידו, ויקיים אותם, ואח"כ ילך לו ויחזור למקומו ככלותו לעשותם:

ואמנם הבחי' השלישית, והם המצות שהוא מן הנמנע לקיימם בזמן הזה, כמו מצות הקרבנות וכיוצא בזה, והנה נתבאר שהאדם מוכרח לקיים כל התרי"ג מצות, ולהתגלגל עד שיקיים אותם, ואמנם בזמן הזה לא יתגלגל לקיימם, כיון שאין יכולת לקיימם. אמנם אחר ביאת המשיח שיבנה בית המקדש במהרה בימינו אמן, אז יתגלגלו בגלגול ממש כדי לקיימם, ואל זה רמז ר' ישמעאל בן אלישע כ"ג כשהטה את הנר בליל שבת, שאמר אכתוב על פנקסי, לכשיבנה בית המקדש אביא חטאת שמנה:

והנה יש חלוק בענין הנזכר והיא, כי מה שנתעצל מלקיים איזו מצוה שאינה חובה, כמו הק"ש והתפילין וכיוצא בזה, אמנם היא מצוה שאינו מחוייב לרדוף אחריה, כמו שלוח הקן דכתיב ביה כי יקרא קן צפור וכו', או שלא היה לו בית וכו', ונמנע מלעשות מעקה וכיוצא באלו, כי לא נזדרז לחפש אחריהם ולקיימם, הנה האיש הזה מחוייב גלגול כנזכר, אבל מובטח הוא שלא יחטא בגלגול הזה. אבל אם באה לידו המצוה ונזדמנה לו, ולא רצה לקיימה, והנה הוא מחוייב גלגול, וכשיתגלגל איננו מובטח כמו הראשון שלא יחטא. אבל מי שנתגלגל על שעבר איזו עבירה, זה יחטא בודאי, כמבואר בדרושים שקדמו:

עוד צריך שתדע, כי האדם צריך לקיים כל התרי"ג מצות, במעשה, ובדבור, ובמחשבה. וכמ"ש ז"ל על פסוק זאת התורה לעולה ולמנחה וכו', כל העוסק בפרשת עולה, כאלו הקריב עולה וכו'. וכוונו בזה שהאדם מחוייב לקיים כל התרי"ג מצות בדבור, וכן עד"ז במחשבה. ואם לא קיים כל התרי"ג בשלשה בחי' הנז', מחוייב להתגלגל עד שישלים אותם. עוד דע, כי האדם מחויב לעסוק בתורה בד' מדרגות, שסימנם פרד"ס: פשט, רמז, דרוש, סוד. וצריך שיתגלגל עד שישלים אותם:

Chapter 17
והיא מקושרת עם האמור, שהאדם מחוייב לעסוק בתורה בארבעה מדרגות שבה, והיא זאת, דע, כי כללות כל הנשמות הם ס' רבוא ולא יותר. והנה התורה היא שרש נשמות ישראל, כי ממנה חוצבו, ובה נשרשו. ולכן יש בתורה ס' רבוא פירושים, וכלם כפי הפשט. וס' רבוא ברמז. וס' רבוא בדרש. וס' רבוא בסוד. ונמצא, כי מכל פי 'מן הס' רבוא פרושים, ממנו נתהווה נשמה אחת של ישראל, ולעתיד לבא כל אחד ואחד מישראל, ישיג לדעת כל התורה כפי אותו הפירוש המכוון עם שרש נשמתו, אשר ע"י הפרוש ההוא נברא ונתהווה כנזכר. וכן בג"ע אחר פטירת האדם, ישיג כל זה. וכן בכל לילה כאשר האדם ישן, ומפקיד נשמתו ויוצאה ועולה למעלה, הנה מי שזוכה לעלות למעלה, מלמדים לו שם אותו הפירוש, שבו תלוי שרש נשמתו. ואמנם הכל כפי מעשיו ביום ההוא, כך באותה הלילה ילמדוהו, פסוק אחד, או פרשה, כפי פלונית, כי אז מאיר בו יותר פסוק ההוא משאר הימים. ובלילה האחרת יאיר בנשמתו פסוק אחר, מעשיו של אותו היום, וכלם ע"ד הפי 'ההוא אשר תלויה בו שרש נשמתו כנזכר. ומורי ז"ל, בכל ערב וערב היה מסתכל בתלמידיו העומדים לפניו, ורואה בהם איזה פסוק מאיר יותר באיש ההוא מצחו מצד השרות נשמתו המאירה שם. והיה מבאר לו קצת מן הפירוש של הפסוק ההוא, כפי הפירוש השייך אל נשמתו כנזכר, וקודם שהיה ישן האיש ההוא, היה מכוין אל הפירוש ההוא שבאר לו קצתו, והיה קורא בפיו הפסוק ההוא, כדי שכאשר תעלה נפשו למעלה בפקדון בשינתו ילמדוהו עוד תשלום. ועי"כ הנפש מזדככת, ועולה למעלה מדרגות גדולות לאין קץ, ויתגלו לו דברים אחרים, גם אם החומר לא ירגיש בהם כשיקיץ. וכבר נתבאר, כי ס' רבוא פירושי התורה הם כלם כפי הפשט, וכנגדם באגדה, וכנגדם בקבלה, וכו', הנרמזים בר"ת פרדס. לפי שאין נשמה מישראל שאינה כלולה מד 'בחי 'אלו. ואמנם יש נשמה שמשיגה שני מיני פירושים, ויש יותר ויותר. והנה נשמתו של מרע"ה היתה משגת כל ס' רבוא פירושים שבתורה, וכמ"ש רז"ל שידע אפילו כל מה שתלמיד ותיק עתיד לחדש, וטעם הדבר הוא, לפי שנשמתו היתה כוללת כל ס' רבוא נשמות ישראל, ולכן גם שאר חכמי ישראל ישיגו כ"כ פירושים בתורה, כפי בחי ' הנשמות הנכללות בו: And it is connected with that which was said, that man is required to occupy himself with the Torah on its four levels. And this is it: You should know that the sum of all souls is 600,00 and no more. But behold, the Torah is the root of the souls of the Jewish people, for they were hewn from it, and they were implanted in it. And hence there are 600,000 explanations in the Torah, all of them according to the straightforward meaning [peshat], 600,000 in hints [remez], 600,000 in exegesis [derash], and 600,000 in the esoteric teachings [sod]. So it comes out that every soul in Israel is made from one of the 600,000 explanations. And in the future to come, each and every Jew will grasp knowledge of all of the Torah according to that explanation which is directed to the source of his soul, through which it was created and made, as mentioned above. And likewise, in the Garden of Eden, after a man's death, he will grasp all this. And so too, every night when a person sleeps and deposits his soul and it exits [his body] and ascends above, there they teach that explanation that the root of his soul depends upon to whoever merits to ascend. Of course, everything is according to his deeds that day — according to that, will they teach him one verse or a certain section that night, so that verse will be clearer to him then than on other days. And on a different night, another verse will be clarified to his soul, according to his deeds on that day. But all of them will be according to that explanation upon which the root of his soul depends, as mentioned. And my teacher [Ari], may his memory be blessed, would gaze at his students standing before him each evening and see which verse was shining more on his forehead from the angle of the residence of his soul shining there. So he would clarify something of the explanation of that verse according to the explanation relevant to his soul, as discussed. And before that man would sleep, he would have this explanation, which he explained a little, in mind and would read this verse orally so that when his soul ascended above as a deposit during his sleep, they would teach him the rest as well. And the soul is purified through this and ascends countless great levels; and other things would be revealed to it, even if [his] physicality would not notice it when he awoke. And it has already been explained that the 600,000 explanations of the Torah are all according to the straightforward meaning, and likewise corresponding to them in the Aggadah [homiletical teachings], and likewise corresponding to them in the Kabbalah, etc. which are hinted to in the initials, PaRDeS. That is because there is no soul in Israel that is not made up of these four aspects. Of course, there will be a soul in Israel that, grasps two types of understandings, and there are those [with] more and more. So behold, our teacher Moses grasped all 600,000 explanations of the Torah. And it is like the rabbis, may their memory be blessed, said — that he knew even that which a senior student would develop in the future. And the reason for the thing is because his soul included all of the 600,00 souls of Israel. And therefore even the other sages of Israel grasped many explanations of the Torah, according to the aspects of the souls included in him.

והנה פעם אחת בא איש אחד לפני מורי ז"ל, ונסתכל בו, ואמר לו ענין אחד, ונכתבהו פה, אולי ממנו תוכל להקיש ולהבין איזה ענין אחר, בענין קיום המצות, וזה מ"ש לו:

דע, כי המצות כלם, יש בהם זכרים ונקבות בין במצות עשה בין במצות לא תעשה ואמנם אין לך אבר מרמ"ח אברי נשמות אדם הא', שאינו כלול מבשר וגידים ועצמות כנודע, ואמנם הבשר והעצמות הם מצות עשה שבאבר ההוא, והגידים הם מל"ת. ולקמן יתבאר בעהי"ת שאין הגידים אלו שבכללות האברים, כאותם הגידים האחרים שמספרם שס"ה גידים כנודע לקמן בע"ה. וא"ל, כי שרש מחצב נשמתו, היא באבר הכתף השמאלי של אדה"ר, מבחי' פרצוף לאה העומדת שם מאחוריו. ומספר המצות אשר באבר הזה הנקרא כתף שמאלי, הם י"א מצות עשה, כמנין ו"ה, שהם ב' אותיות אחרונות של ההוי"ה. והם בגימטריא כתף באופן זה הנקרא הכאה, כיצד, תכה וי"ו פעמים ה"י, הם ש"ל, ו"ו פעמים ה"י הם ק"ף, הרי תק"י, תסיר מהם י"א כמספר ו"ה, ישאר עם הכללות ת"ק, כמנין כתף. ואמנם מספר מצות ל"ת שבאבר הכתף הם ט"ו, כמנין שני אותיות הראשונות של הוי"ה שהם י"ה, וכמ"ש חז"ל י"ה עם שמי שס"ה, ו"ה עם זכרי רמ"ח. וגם שני אותיות אלו הם בגימטריא כתף, באופן זה, יו"ד פעמים ה"י, הם, ש. יו"ד פעמים ה"ה, הם ר. הרי ת"ק, כמנין כתף. ואמנם עשר מצות ל"ת, הרמוזים באות י', הם זכרים. וה' הנשארים, הנרמזים באות ה' ראשונה, הם נקבות. והשש מצות עשה הרמוזים באות ו', הם זכרים. וה' הנרמזים באות ה' אחרונה, הם נקבות:

והנה העשר מצות ל"ת הזכרים, לא קבלתים ממורי ז"ל, ואלו הם השאר החמשה מצות לא תעשה הנקבות, שבאות ה' ראשונה, הם אלו, א', לא תרצח, ובכללה שלא להלבין פני חברו ברבים, דאזיל

סומקא ואתי חוורא, והרי הוא כאלו שופך דמים. ב. לא תגנובו, שהוא אזהרת ממון. ג. לא תבשל גדי בחלב אמו. ד. לא תאכל חלב. ה. לא תאכל דם:
וששׁ מצות עשה שבאות ו', הם אלו, א, וחי אחיך עמך, והיא קרובה למצות צדקה, ובאורו שתבקש המצאה לאחיך, שיוכל לחיות עמך ולהתפרנס. ב. לאכול מעשר שני בירושלים. ג. ועשית מעקה לגגך. ד. פרו ורבו ומלאו את הארץ. ה. למול את הבן, ובפרט בנו עצמו של האדם. ו. ואהבת לרעך כמוך:
וחמשה מצות עשה הנקבות, סבאות ה' אחרונה, הם אלו, א, הלואה לעני, וסימניך אם כסף תלוה את עמי, אל תקרי אם, אלא אם בצירי. ב. מצות ציצית, ובכללה ליתנה על הכתף, לפי ששרש הנפש הנזכר היא מן הכתף:
ג. כי יקרא קן צפור, וסימנך שלח תשלח את האם. ד. להשמיט בשביעית. ה. לזכור יציאת מצרים:
גם דע, כי האדם שאינו עוסק בתורה, פוגם בספירת הת"ת, שבכל עולם מד' עולמות אבי"ע, כי התורה היא בת"ת שבכל עולם. האמנם יש בה ד' מדרגות וסימנם פרד"ס, והם, פשט, רמז, דרש, סוד. ומי שזכה לירד לעומק ארבעתם זוכה לסוף כל המעלות, ועליו נאמר יעשה למחכה לו. האמנם מי שלא רצה לעסוק אפילו בפשטי התורה והמקרא, פוגם בת"ת שבעשיה. ומי שלא רצה להביא ראיה לדבר, פוגם בת"ת שביצירה. ומי שלא עסק בדרשות התורה, פוגם בת"ת שבבריאה. ומי שלא עסק בסודות התורה, פוגם בת"ת שבאצילות:

Chapter 18
כבר הודעתיך כי ד' עולמות הם, וסדרם אבי"ע. והנה כל עולם ועולם מאלו הד', כלול מארבעתם באופן זה, כי בעולם האצילות, אבא נקרא אצילות, ואימא בריאה, וז"א יצירה, ונוקבא עשיה, ועד"ז בכל עולם מהם. האמנם בחי' א"א, להיותו נעלם מאד, אינו נזכר. ודע, כי מן עולם אצילות יוצאות נשמות, ומן הבריאה רוחין קדישין, ומן היצירה מלאכים, ומן העשיה אופנים:
והנה האדם התחתון, כולל כל העולמות הנזכר, ובתחלה זוכה לנפש דעשיה, ואם לא זכה אל הרוח מפני שחטא ופגם את הנפש, והכניסה ע"י מעשיו בתוך הקליפות, אומרים לו יתוש קדמך ומעולה ממך, מפני שהיתוש לא עשה מעשה פגם למעלה כדי שיכניס בקליפות. אבל אם לא חטא בנפש ההיא, אז הוא בסוד אופנים. ואמנם צריך שתדע, כי לפעמים יהיה באדם נפש בלבד, ויהיה יותר חשוב ומעולה ממי שיש בו רוח. והענין הוא במה שנבאר, כי כל עולם ועולם כלילו מארבעתם ונמצא כי גם הנפש דעשיה כלולה מבחי' נר"ן ונשמה לנשמה, וארבעתם מן העשיה, וכלם נקראים נפש בלבד דרך כללות. והנה לפעמים אדם א' שיהיה מבחי' נשמה דעשיה, וכיון שהתחיל להאיר ולהתקן קצת, תכף מאירה בו בחי' הנשמה של כללות דרוח דיצירה, אעפ"י שעדיין לא נתלבשה בו ממש לגמרי, כי כבר הודעתיך, שאי אפשר שהרוח שביצירה יתלבש ממש לגמרי באדם, אלא עד שיתוקן נפשו בכל חלקי העשיה לגמרי, אבל מאיר בו הארה בלבד, ויהיה אדם א' שהוא מבחי' נפש דעשיה, ויש בו ג"כ נפש מן היצירה, הנקרא נפש של הרוח כנזכר, ואדם זה בודאי שהוא גרוע מן הראשון:

גם דע, כי יש אדם שיוכל להשיג עד נפש מעולם האצילות, והוא ממלכות דאצילות. וכן יותר למעלה מכל בחי' אצילות. ודע, כי אם יזכה האדם להיות בו רוח מן היסוד דאצילות, יהיה נקרא איש האלהים, בעלה דמטרוניתא, ועליו נאמר צדיק מושל יראת אלהים. כי כמו שיש צדיק אחד, אשר בפטירתו עולה בסוד מ"ן במלכות דאצילות, כן יש צדיק שעולה בסוד מ"ד ביסוד דאצילות. ובזה תבין מ"ש בזוהר בפרשת תרומה דף קס"ו ע"ב בפסוק אור זרוע לצדיק, אור שכבר נזרע, והענין הוא, כי אחר החרבן נתפרדו ז"א מנוקבא, והגנן העליון שהוא יסוד, איננו זורע גנתו. אמנם גנתו מזרעת מאיליה, מן הספיחים שיצאו וצמחו בה מתחלה, ומהם חוזרת וצומחת. והנה הספיחים הם נשמות הצדיקים, אשר טרם החרבן זרעם הגנן בגנה העליונה וצמחו בה. וכאשר חוזרת ונפטרים מן העה"ז, חוזרים לעלות שם בה בסוד מ"ן, או ביסוד שהוא הגנן העליון בסוד מ"ד, ומהם חוזרת וצומחת. וז"ס פסוק אור זרוע לצדיק, שכבר האורות האלו נזרעו בתתלה בגנה העליונה, והם עצמם שחוזרים ונזרעים, ואין זה זרע חדש והבן זה:

והוא. עוד דע, כי האדם מתעסק בעשית המצות לבד, הנה הוא זוכה אל הנפש הנקרא עשיה ולא יותר דומה, לאשה שהלך בעלה למדינת הים, והניחה ערומה רעבה וצמאה, והיא דומה אל השכינה היושבת בגלות, וביתה נחרב ויושבת בגלות בחושך, כך נפש האדם בהיותה בלתי רוח שהיא בעלה, אין לה לא אור ולא שכל להשכיל. ואם ישתדל עוד האדם הזה, לעסוק גם בתורה, ולומד והוגה ושונה בה תמיד בתורה שבע"פ, ועוסק תמיד לשמה בה, אז יזכה גם אל הרוח שהוא מן יצירה. ואז ידמה לאשה שבא בעלה, ודר עמה בביתה תמיד, ומלבישה, ומאכילה, ומשקה, וחוזרת למעלתה. כך האדם הזה, כשיבא בו הרוח, וישרה תוך נפשו, אז תתמלא נפשו ברוח חכמה, ותתעלה נפשו מעשיה ליצירה:

ואם ישתדל עוד האדם הזה, ויעסוק בחכמה הנעלמת, ובסודות התורה, אז יזכה גם אל הנשמה, שהיא מן הבריאה, ותאיר הנשמה ברוח שבו, ותוסיף מעלה על מעלתו, וחכמה על חכמתו, ואז נקרא אדם שלם, אשר עליו נאמר, ויברא אלהים את האדם בצלמו. וסוד הענין הוא, כי בהיות האדם נפש לבדה, אין לו השפעה, אלא משם אדנ"י בלבד, וכשיעסוק בתורה לשמה, זוכה גם אל הרוח הבא משם יהו"ה, וכשיעסוק בסודות התורה, זוכה גם לנשמה, וימשך עליו כח והשפעה גם משם אהי"ה. ובהתחבר באדם שלשה שמות אלו, יעלו בגימטריא יב"ק. ואז יאמר עליו, ה' הושיעה המלך יעננו ביום קראנו ר"ת יב"ק, ואז יהיה האדם בנפש מן עשיה, ורוח מן יצירה, ונשמה מן בריאה. ואם יתקן עצמו יותר, אז יהיו לשלשת מן היצירה, ואם יתקן עצמו ביותר, יהיו השלשה מן בריאה, ואם יתקן עצמו ביותר, יהיו לו כל השלשה מהאצילות:

ענין הנבראים. דע, כי ד' יסודות הם, וסימנם ארמ"ע, ר"ת, אש, רוח, מים, עפר. והם הם עצמם ארבע אותיות ההוי"ה, כמבואר בזוהר ריש פרשת וארא ומהארבעה יסודות אלו שהם רמוזים בארבע אותיות ההוי"ה, מהם נתהוו ונבראו כל הברואים שבע"ז. וכפי היסוד שנתגבר בנברא ההוא, על שאר היסודות, כך היה השנוי שמן הנברא ההוא אל זולתו, ואמנם ידעת, כי ד' אותיות ההוי"ה מצטרפים בי"ב צרופים, ועל ד"ז הולכים ומתרבים הצרופים, משונים זה מזה, ממדרגה אל מדרגה וממספר אל מספר, עד שהם מספר ס' רבוא צרופים, ע"י הנקודות שבהם כנודע. ומן הצרופים ששים רבוא הנזכר, יש בחינותיהם במספרם בארבע היסודות, וע"כ היה כח בארבע היסודות להרכיב ולהוליד נבראים משונים זה מזה לאין קץ, וכלם מבחי' ארבע היסודות בלבד. אמנם שינויהם הוא, כפי כח היסוד הגובר בנברא ההוא כנז"ל, וכמ"ש הרמב"ם ז"ל בהלכות יסודי התורה והנשמות של בני אדם שהם מארבע היסודות בכל איבריה, יש בכל אחד הארבעה יסודות בכל הצרופים ששים רבוא הנזכר, וע"כ הנשמות מתחלקות לכמה חלקים כפי הצרופים, וכל חלק וחלק יש בו פרצוף שלם, הנקרא אדם. והחלוק הזה מתחלק לאין קץ. ובזה תבין סוד הגלגול, שהוא גלגול החלקים שלם, וביאתם כל אחד בזמן הראוי לו והבן זה:

כבר ביארנו במקום אחר, בדרוש שרש הנשמות של המלאכים וב"א מה הפרש יש ביניהם, כי אלו יוצאים מזווג הנשיקין העליון, ואלו מזווג התחתון שביסוד. ובזה נתבאר לכמה מדרגות נתחלקו וע"ש. ונמצאו כמה מדרגות שונות יש בשרשי הנשמות עד אין קץ. ואמנם כמה וכמה מיני נשמות נמשכו מזווג העולם העליון, וירדו למטה ע"י הפגם, ואין ירידתם שוה, כי זו יורדת מדרגה אחת, וזו שתים וכו', והם כמה מיני ירידות, שיורדות הנשמות ע"י הפגם:
והנה נמצאו בהם ב' חלקים, האחת היא, שבעבור הפגם ירדה למטה, וכשבאה בעוה"ז, יוצאה מתוך המדרגה שלמטה אשר ירדה לשם. הב' הוא, שהנשמה אשר מחצב שרשה, הוא במקום ההוא עצמו, אשר משם יוצאות לבא בעה"ז. ולכן אין דיניהם שוה. ואמנם עיקר תקון זה הוא, או בלילה בעת פקדון נפשו, באמרו בעת השכיבה בידך אפקיד רוחי וגו', כי אז תעלה נשמתו בזווג יותר עליון, וחוזר לצאת משם בריה חדשה, בסוד חדשים לבקרים. וכן יכול לעלות ממדרגה למדרגה עד שיעלו עד שרשו ממש. או ביום בסוד נפילת אפים, בכונת פסוק אליך ה' נפשי אשא, יכולה לעלות ממדרגה למדרגה וישתלם כפי מעשיו, עד שרשו ממש כנזכר. והנה הנשמה שהיא מלמעלה, אלא שירדה למטה מחמת הפגם כנזכר, המשל בזה אם היא מעולם האצילות, ועל ידי הפגם ירדה עד עולם העשיה, ומשם יצאה לבא בעה"ז בגוף האדם, הנה כפי מעשיו, יש בו יכולת להתקן ולעלות עד האצילות, ויבא משם מאותו הזווג דאצילות, ויוכלל עד שם בחיים חיותו, ואין צריך להתגלגל כדי להתקן. ועליותה היא ביום, ע"י נפילת אפים דשחרית כנזכר, כי אז הוא זווג יעקב ברחל, הנקראת עקרת הבית, כי היא הספירה העשירית שבאצילות, והיא עיקריית מכלל העשר ספירות דאצילות, כמבואר אצלינו. אבל הנשמה שרשה למטה, אלא שעתה ע"י מעשיה הטובים, רוצה לעלות למעלה ממקום שורשה, אין עלייתה גדולה כעלית מי ששרשו למעלה ויורד וחוזר לעלות, ולכן אינה יכולה לעלות אלא בלילה, ע"י פסוק בידך אפקיד רוחי כנזכר, כי אז הוא זווג יעקב בלאה, שאינה מכלל הי"ס, אלא בחינת אחור דמלכות של התבונה כנודע, אבל הצד השוה שבהם שבכל הנשמות הוא, כי כלם יכולות ע"י מעשיהם לעלות ממדרגה למדרגה עד אין קץ, וכל זה אם ישים אליו לבו ויכוין לכך) הגהה - אמר שמואל, אגב שהזכרתי ענין המלאכים, אכתוב הקדמה קטנה על ענין הנזכר, וז"ל, דע, כי המלאכים דבריאה, גדולה מעלתם על נשמת הצדיקים, שהם מעולם היצירה. ועד"ז מלאכים יצירה, גדולים מנשמת דעשיה. אבל הנשמות של בריאה, גדולות ממלאכים דבריאה עצמה, ומכ"ש ממלאכים דיצירה. ועד"ז ביצירה ועשיה. גם דרך פרט הוא ע"ד הנזכר, כי הנשמות דכתר דבריאה, גדולים ממלאכים דכתר דבריאה. אמנם המלאכים דכתר דבריאה, גדולים מנשמת דחכמה דבריאה. ועד"ז בכל שאר הפרטים לאין קץ:

Chapter 20
הקדמה מענין בת זוגו של אדם:
כבר ביארנו לעיל, אם משפט הגלגול נוהג בנשים כאנשים או לאו. ודע, כי הנה רז"ל אמרו בפ"ק דסוטה
על פסוק אלהים מושיב יחידים ביתה מוציא אסירים בכושרות, כי יש זווג א 'וב. ומ"ש וקשה לזווגם
כקריעת ים סוף, איירי בזווג ב, דע, כי אין הבנת זווג א 'וב 'כפשטו, כי כמה זווגים שניים הם טובים מן
הראשונים, כמו שראינו בעינינו מעשים בכל יום. אבל באור הענין הוא יובן, במ"ש הסבא דמשפטים
בזהר, על פסוק אם בעל אשה הוא ויצאה אשתו עמו. והענין הוא, דע, כי כאשר האדם הוא חדש, ר"ל כי
אז היא הפעם הראשונה שבא בעוה"ז, ואז בת זווגו נולדת עמו כנודע, וכשיגיע זמן לקיחתו אותה, מזדמנת לו ברגע, בלי שום טורח כלל ועיקר. ואמנם אם האדם הזה חטא איזה חטא, והוצרך להתגלגל
בסבתו, אלא שהוא מאותם שכתוב בהם ויצאה אשתו עמו, כנזכר בסבא דמשפטים, שמגלגלים גם לבת
זווגו, שתחזור להתגלגל עמו לטובתו, הנה האדם הזה כשיגיע זמן לקיחתו אותה, אינה מזדמנת לו ברגע,
אלא אחר טורח גדול, לפי שכיון שנתגלגל על סבת איזה עון, יש מקטרגים עליו למעלה, ורוצים למנוע
אותה ממנו, ומכניסים בהם קטטות. וע"ז אמרו, קשה לזווגם כקריעת ים סוף, והוא באופן הנזכר, כי הוא
נקרא זווג שני, ר"ל כי היא בת זוגו האמיתית, אלא שכבר נזדווגה לו פעם אחרת בתחלה, ועתה בזה
הגלגול נקרא זווג שני, כי האשה היא עצמה ראשונה, אבל הזווג הוא שני. ולזה לא אמרו זווג שנית, אלא
זווג שני, שחוזר אל הזווג ולא לאשה:
ובזה יתבאר לך, איך לפעמים נושא אדם אשה ברגע בלי שום טורח וקטטה כלל, ולפעמים אינו נושא
אשה אלא ע"י קטטות גדולות עד שישאנה, ואחר שנשאה הם בשלום ושלוה, וזה יורה על היות זווג גמור, אלא שהוא זווג פעם ב', ואלו לא היתה בת זוגו, לא היה שלום ביניהם אחר שנשאה אותה:
והנה האחת הוא, כי הגלגול באנשים, ולא בנשים. כי הנשים מקבלות עונשן בגיהנם בעוה"ב. משא"כ באנשים הלומדים תורה, כנזכר בדרושים אחרים). הגהה - אמר שמואל, וז"ס כמוס עמדי, בפסוק הן כל
אלה יפעל אל פעמים שלש, והוא סוד הגלגול ונאמר בו עם גבר, זהו האדם ולא האשה. (וטעם לזה הוא, כי סוד הגלגול באות ו', שהוא שש קצוות, שבהם נאמר שש שנים יעבוד, וכנזכר בזוהר בפרשת פנחס
בר"מ כי אות י 'הוא גלגל, ועם אות ו 'הוא גלגול) הגהה - אמר שמואל, נלע"ד, כי אות י 'הנזכרת כאן, היא אות י 'אחרונה של אדנ"י, ולכן גלגול דקאמר בגימטריא ס"ו, והוא אדנ"י עם הכולל. (אבל בשביעית
שהיא הנקבה מלכות, אין בה גלגול, כמ"ש ובשביעית יצא לחפשי חנם. ואמנם לפעמים גם האשה
מתגלגלת כאשר היא סבת בעלה, שהוצרך להתגלגל, ומביאים אשתו עמו, כנזכר בסבא דמשפטים, בפסוק אם בעל אשה הוא ויצאה אשתו עמו:
גם דע, כי מי שהיה ת"ח, והיה גדול ומופלא בדורו בחכמתו, וחטא, וחזר בגלגול, הנה יש שני מיני עונות,
אשר לסבתם יגרמו לו שתתעלם חכמתו ממנו עתה, ולא נכרת בו חכמה כלל:
גם דע, כי כל הבעלי תורה אשר בדור הזה עתה, הם בחי 'אנשי דור המדבר, שעליהם נאמר כימי צאתך
מארץ מצרים אראנו נפלאות, וכמבואר אצלינו בפסוק הנך שוכב עם אבותיך וקם וגו'. וזהו הטעם
שנשותיהם מושלות עליהם לפי שבימיהם עשו הערב רב את העגל ולא מיחו בהם, אבל הנשים לא רצו
לתת נזמי הזהב לעגל, ולכך הם מושלות עתה עליהם נשיהם:
גם דע, כי אם ימצאו בדור אחר ב 'נשמות משרש אחד, בשני אחים, או בשני חברים, יהיו שניהם שונאים
ומקטרגים זה לזה בטבעם בלי ידיעה, דאע"ג דאינהו לא חזי מזלייהו חזי, לפי ששניהם זה חפץ לינק מן
השרש ההוא יותר מחבירו, והם מקנאים זה לזה בטבעם, ולכן אם ישיגו לדעת ברוח הקדש, כי שניהם
משרש א', אז ודאי יהיו אוהבים זה לזה. ודע, כי אין זה, אלא כאשר הם שניהם בחיים בעה"ז. אבל
הנשמות של הצדיקים שכבר מתו, הם חושקים והם תאבים מאד לתקן ולהיטב ולהשלים תקון הנשמות
אשר בחיים בעה"ז שהם מן השרש שלהם, כי אז אין להם מעשה, כדי שיקנאו בחיים לומר שהם רוצים
להשלים יותר מהם. כמש"ה, כי אין מעשה וחשבון בשאול אשר אתה הולך שמה וגו', ואדרבה יש להם
תועלת גדול במעשים טובים של החיים אשר הם מן שרשם:

גם דע, כי כבר נתבאר בדרושים אחרים, כי ע"י חטאם של קין והבל, נתערבו כל הנשמות בתוך הקליפות, וזה נקרא ערוב הטוב ברע, ומאז והילך הולכים ומתבררים הנשמות מתוך הקליפות, כצרוף הכסף הטוב מן הסיגים, והברור הזה נמשך עד אשר יושלמו להתברר כל הנשמות שנפלו ברמ"ח איברים של אדם הבליעל, עד שיושלם להתברר עד סיום קומתו, שהוא עד סוף רגליו של אדם דקדושה, מתוך רגליו דאדם דקליפה, אשר לזה רמזו רז"ל בזוהר פרשת פקודי, עד דמטי רגלין ברגלין, כדין כתיב ועמדו רגליו ביום ההוא. וכיון שיתבררו כל הנשמות לגמרי, אז אין אדם דקליפה שהוא הסיגים צריכים להסירם ע"י מעשה, כי מאליו יפול ויבולע בבל יראה ובל ימצא, כי הקדושה שהיא החיים הובדלה מן הסיגים הנקראים מות, ואין להם עוד חיות כלל, ובעיבן יכלו, וזש"ה בלע המות לנצח וגו', כי לא יבולע עד שיתבררו כל הנשמות כלם. לכן בר"ת 'בלע המות' לנצח ר"ת הבל, לרמוז כי עד שיושלם גלגולו של הבל, שהוא מרע"ה המתגלגל בכל דור ודור, לברר כל הנשמות בתוך הסיגים, וכשיכלו, אז יבא המשיח, ואז בלע המות לנצח: ובזה תבין מש"ה, הנך שוכב עם אבותיך וקם והוא א' מן המקראות שאין להם הכרע) הגהה - אמר שמואל, לאפוקי ממאן דפירוש שאין להם הכרע, ר"ל, איני יכול להכריע אם נדרש לפניו או לאחריו). פירוש, כי מלת וקם, נמשכו לפניו ולאחריו, ושניהם אמת, כי הנה עתיד משה עצמו יחזור בגלגול בדרא בתראה ואז יקום, וזהו הנך שוכב עם אבותיך וקם. גם אז בדרא בתראה, יתגלגלו כל דור המדבר עם הערב רב, וזהו וקם העם הזה וגו'. והענין הוא, כי אין לך דור ודור שמרע"ה אינו בתוכו בסוד וזרח השמש ובא השמש, דור הולך ודור בא, כדי לתקן את הדור ההוא. וגם דור המדבר עצמו, עם הערב רב, כלם יתגלגלו בדרא בתראה, כימי צאתך מארץ מצרים. וגם משה יקום בתוכם, כי כלם הם מסוד הדעת, משה, ודור המדבר, וגם הערב רב, כמבואר אצלינו בפרשת שמות. וזש"ה אח"כ, אשר הוא בא שמ"ה, והם אותיות מש"ה, כי משה יתגלגל עמהם כנזכר. וז"ס כל הת"ח שבדור הזה, נשותיהם שולטות עליהם, לפי שהם מזמן דור המדבר, שהם לא נתנו נזמיהם לעגל. והאנשים חטאו, ונתנו נזמיהם לעגל. אמר שמואל, וכ"כ לעיל ע"ש:

עוד דע, כי כל הנשמות ע"י חטאו של אדה"ר, נתערבו טוב ברע, ולכן לפעמים יהיה, שקצת טוב שבנפש הצדיק, נתערב ברשע וקצת רע של הרשע, נתערב בצדיק. ובזה תבין מש"ה, אשר יש צדיקים שמגיע אליהם כמעשה הרשעים וכו'. כי כמה צדיקים יש שהם עוברים איזו עבירה פרטיית, ונכשלים במה שלא יכשל רשע אחד. וכן להפך כמה רשעים גמורים עושים קצת מצות פרטיות בתכלית עשייתם ונזהרים בהם כל ימיהם. גם תבין בזה ענין צדיק גמור, ורשע גמור, ובינוני. כי הכל תלוי כפי חלקי נצוצות הטוב שבו, וכפי מספר חלקי נצוצי הרע שבו. ועוד כי אופני העבירות או המצות שעושים, הם כפי ערך בחי' הנצוצות שבו, ובאיזה אבר ושרש הם, אם טוב ואם רע, כך הם חושקים ותאבים אל המצות או אל העבירות ההם יותר מזולתם ורודפים תמיד אחריהם:

והנה לסבה זו החמירו בס"ה, שצריך האדם למרדף בתר חייביא, ולמזכה להו כמאן דרדיף בתר חייו וכו', והענין הוא, כי ברדוף הצדיק אחר הרשע לזכותו, אולי הרשע ההוא יש בו אותם נצוצות טובות שנאבדו ממך, ונצוצותיו הרעות נתנו לך, וע"י שתתחברו יחד בחשק ואהבה, אז הטוב שבו יוסר ממנו ויותנו בך, ואז אתה נשלם בכל הטוב, והוא נשלם בכל הרע. וז"ס צדיק נוטל חלקו וחלק חבירו בג"ע, רשע נוטל חלקו וחלק חבירו בגיהנם. וזש"ה אם רעב שונאך האכילהו לחם. וכמ"ש ז"ל על פסוק כי תראה חמור שונאך, אין הכתוב מדבר אלא באדם רשע שמותר לשנאותו כמש"ה הלא משנאך ה' אשנא, ואמר אם רעב שונאך תאכילהו לחם, ר"ל מחמת נצוץ טוב שבו, ומתאוה ורעב לעשות טובה, האכילהו לחם לחמה של תורה ומצות, ותזכהו, כי עי"כ גחלים שהם נצוצי הרע שבך, אתה חותה על ראשו, ויתחברו עמו, ויוסרו ממך. וכמש"ה, ונשא השעיר עליו את כל עונותם אל ארץ גזירה, ונצוצי הטוב שבו יוסרו ממנו, וה' ישלימם לך, ונמצא שאתה שלם בטוב, והוא שלם ברע. וכמ"ש ז"ל, אל תקרי ישלם לך, אלא ישלימהו לך, ולפי שהשי"ת טוב אינו מזכיר שמו על הרעה, כמש"ה כי גחלים אתה חותה על ראשו. אבל על הטוב הזכיר שמו, כמש"ה וה' ישלם לך כנזכר כי הוא עושה הטוב הזה:

Chapter 21
והיא מיוסדת בעניני התשובה והגלגול .דע, כי התשובה היא באימא .והגלגול הוא באבא .ולכן כל מי שחטא, אם יעשה תשובה, אז אימא עילאה הנקרא תשובה, יש בידה לתקן פגם האדם, ובזה יספיק .אבל אם לא עשה תשובה, אז צריך שיתגלגל בגלגול לתקן עונו, וזה ע"י אבא, כי הוא הנקרא מחשבה כנודע, ועליו נאמר וחשב מחשבות לבלתי ידח ממנו נדח, והוא המחזירו בגלגול לתקנו .ונבאר עתה עניני התשובה, עם שכבר התחלנו לבאר חלקי התשובה שהם שמנה בהקדמה ששית:
ועתה נבאר באופן אחר, ובו יתבאר מאמר ר 'מתיא בן חרש ז"ל, בפרק בתרא דיומא בענין ד 'חלקי כפרה, עבר אדם על מצות עשה, והנה כללות הענין הוא, כי תשובה ר"ל, תשוב ה .'והענין הוא כמה (שהודעתיך כי האדם כלול מכל העולמות, ואע"פ שלא זכה עדיין אל כלם, רק אל נפש דעשיה, במה עכ"ז מוכן הוא לקבל את כלם לכשיתקן מעשיו, וזה תלוי ביד האדם, כפי מעשיו כך ישיג מיצירה, או מבריאה, או מאצילות .וז"ס פסוק ויוצר רוח האדם בקרבו, שארז"ל שהנפש של האדם נגדלת בהיות בתוכו והבן זה .ואמנם הפרש גדול יש בין הזוכה לזה או לזה, והוא, כי הנה הודענוך כלל אחר, כי נפש האדם כלולה ברמ"ח איברים שלה, ובשס"ה גידים שלה .וכן הרוח .או הנשמה .והנה כשהאדם חוטא פוגם באיברי פרטיי מאברי הנפש, או הרוח, או הנשמה .וכפי מה שיש בו, כך הוא גדולת חטאו .אם יש לו נפש, פוגם בנפש, ואם רוח ברוח, ואם נשמה בנשמה:
וכן עד"ז כפי גדולת הנפש של האדם, כך היא גדולת תוקף יצרו וכמ"ש ז"ל כל הגדול מחבירו, יצרו גדול הימנו .והענין כך הוא במה שידעת כי גם את זה לעומת זה עשה האלהים וכמו שיש אבי"ע, ושבעה היכלות בכל עולם מהם, מבחי 'הקדושה .כן ישנם בבחינת הקליפות .וז"ס צופה רשע לצדיק, כי רוצה להדמות אל הקדושה, כקוף בפני אדם .ובזה תבין תוקף חומר חטאו של אדה"ר שגרם קלקול ופגם בכל העולמות, עד סוף כל הדורות .והסבה היא, עמ"ש כי כפי תוקף גדולת נשמתו, כך תוקף הפגם שפגם .וכן עד"ז בצדיקים וחסידים גמורים כגון ריב"ז, כי חטא קל אצלו, והוא חמור מכמה חטאות של אחרים .ונמצא כפי זה, כי מי שיש לו נפש מן עשיה, אינו פוגם רק בעשיה בלבד, כי עד שם השגת ידו ולא יותר .ועד"ז גם כן כאשר ישוב בתשובה, הוא מתקן בעשיה, שהוא המקום אשר פגם:
וכבר הודעתיך כי ד 'אותיות של הוי"ה, מתחלקות בד 'עולמות אבי"ע, ובכל אות מהם יש הוי"ה אחת, והם, אות י 'והוי"ה אחת מהם דע"ב, באצילות .ואות ה 'והוי"ה אחת מהם דס"ג, בבריאה .ואות ו 'והוי"ה אחת מהם דמ"ה, ביצירה .ואות ה 'והוי"ה דב"ן, בעשיה .נמצא, כי החוטא פוגם כביכול בד 'עולמות הנזכרים, וגם בשמו הגדול יתברך .וז"ס פסוק ויצאו וראו בפגרי האנשים הפושעים בי, פירוש, בשמי ממש .כל אחד כפי מדרגת נפשו, כמו שביארנו .ועד"ז כששב בתשובה, מתקן בשמו הגדול ממש, בארבעה אותיותיו .וז"ס ארבעה חלוקי כפרה, ותשובה לד 'מיני חטאות .נמצא, כי הארבעה חטאות פוגמים בארבעה אותיות ההוי"ה, וארבעה מיני תשובות וכפרות, חוזרים לתקן ארבעה אותיות הוי"ה:
ואחר שהקדמנו לך ההקדמות הנז', נבאר עתה לשון המאמר, וזה עניינו, הא, 'עבר אדם על מ"ע, לא זזו משם עד שמוחלים לו וכו .'וקודם שנבאר עניינו, נחזור להקדים הקדמה אחרת, והענין הוא, דע, כי תשובה, ר"ל, תשוב ה .'וארבעה מיני תשובות הם, לפי שלפעמים תרד העשיה, שהיא ה"א תתאה, אל שלשה ראשונות של י"ס דקליפה, וזה נקרא גלות שכינה .ואם החטא יותר חמור, יוריד האדם בחטאו את העשיה, בשלשה אמצעיות של הקליפות .ואם יותר חמור, יורידנה בשלשה תחתונות של הקליפה .ואם החטא יותר חמור, יורידנה במלכות הרשעה העשירית שבי"ס של הקליפות .הם הם ארבע בחי 'של גלות

שכינה שהיא העשיה, היורדת בתוך הקליפות:
אמנם מי שפוגם ביצירה, או בבריאה, או באצילות, אינו גורם שיורדין אל הקליפות, כי הקליפות למטה מעולם העשיה עומדות, אבל הוא באופן אחר, ובו ארבעה מדרגות הנז 'ממש, והוא, כי היצירה יורדת בעשיה, בשלשה ראשונות שבה. ולפעמים בשלשה אמצעיות. ולפעמים בשלשה תחתונות. ולפעמים במלכות של עשיה. והרי הם ארבעה מדרגות בירידת היצירה בעשיה, וגם הם נקראים גלות אל עולם היצירה, יען ירד מקדושתו החמורה, אל קדושה קלה שבעשיה. ועל דרך זה מדרגות אלו הארבעה הם בירידת הבריאה ביצירה, ונקרא גלות הבריאה. וכן על דרך זה בירידת האצילות אל הבריאה, ונקרא גלות האצילות, בארבעה מיני מדרגות עצמם הנזכר וכל אלו נקראים גלות שכינה:
הכלל העולה, כי ארבעה סיגים הם, וכל סוג כלול מארבע מינים. פירוש, כי ארבעה עולמות הם, וכנגדם יש ארבעה מיני תשובות כוללות. ובכל עולם מהם, יש ארבעה מיני תשובה פרטית:
ונתחיל לבאר הראשונה, וממנה יתבארו כל ארבעה אחרות, וזה החלי לבאר בע"ה, הא 'הוא, אם עבר אדם על מצות עשה, ועשה תשובה וכו', כי הנה אז פוגם בעולם העשיה, וכששב בתשובה, לא זז משם, עד שמוחלים לו מיד, לפי שע"י מה שעבר על מצות עשה, גרם להוריד מלכות העשיה, ולהפריד הה"א מן הת"ת, ויורדות בשלשה ראשונות של הקליפות בלבד. וכששב בתשובה, בנקל הוא להעלותה משם, ותקף נתקנת. כמו שהודעתיך, כי השלשה ראשונות דקליפה, הם עצמם חוזרות להיות קדושה. והם סוד מ"ש רז"ל, וכן ירדן שנטל מזה ונתן לזה. ולכן תכף בשובו בתשובה, עולה מלכות דעשיה שהיא הה"א, למעלה למקומה, וחוזרת להתחבר עם הת"ת, וזה נקרא תשובה, תשוב ה. 'והרי זו בחי 'אחת בעשיה עצמה:
בחי 'ב 'בעשיה עצמה, והוא, אם הפריד גם הת"ת מן בינה, באופן שגרם שירדה העשיה, עד שלשה אמצעיות דקליפה, כפי מה שחטא במצות עשה. וכששב בתשובה, גם כן הוי תשובה, תשוב ה, 'כי תשוב ה: 'תתאה, עד ה 'עילאה, בינה. ואז יעלה גם הת"ת עמה:
בחי 'ג 'בעשיה עצמה, והוא, אם חטא במצות עשה, באופן שפגם גם בבינה, וגרם להורידה, וירדה העשיה עד שלשה אחרונות דקליפה, וכשיושב גם כן הוי תשובה, תשוב ה, 'כי התשובה שהיא בינה, ג"כ תרד עד המלכות, ואז יחזרו מלכות ות"ת, כי ע"י ירידת הבינה, תגרום חיבורם, וזהו תשובה:
בחי 'ד, 'והיא, אם חטא במצות עשה, באופן שפגם גם בחכמה, והפרידה מן הכתר, ואז כשישוב בתשובה, הוי ג"כ תשובה, כי תשוב ה 'עילאה בינה אל הכתר, ואז גם חכמה יעלה עמה, והרי נתבאר 'חלוק כפרה הא:
חלוק כפרה הב, 'אם עבר אדם על מצות ל"ת ועשה תשובה וכו, 'אז תשובה תולה, וי"ה מכפר, כי אז בחטאו פוגם ביצירה בת"ת, ונפרדה המלכות, ונסתלקו גם השש קצוות. וכששב בתשובה, אז המלכות חוזרת למקומה בסוד תשובה, תשוב ה. 'אמנם אותם השש קצוות, החלל שיש ביניהם, רוצה היא לעלות שם למעלה במקומה להתחבר עמהם, ואינה יכולה עדיין לעלות שם, ונמצאת תלויה עד שיבואו אורות הבריאה, הנקראים יום הכפורים, ואז עולה עד שם, וזהו תשובה תולה, ויה"כ מכפר. וגם בזה יש ד 'בחינות שזכרנו בעשיה, אלא שכלם הם בסוד ירידת היצירה אל העשיה, ולא בקליפות כנז"ל:
חלוק כפרה הג, 'אם עבר אדם על חייבי כריתות, פגם בבריאה, ואז כשישוב בתשובה ויוה"כ תולין ע"ד הנזכר, כי ת"ת ומלכות שניהם אינם יכולים לעלות למעלה ממקומם, עד אשר יבואו יסורין מן או"א, וימרקו העון ההוא, בסוד פסוק יסור יסרני יה, שהוא או"א. ובסוד פסוק מן המצר קראתי י"ה, כי מהם הצרות והיסורין. וגם בה יש ארבעה בחי 'כנזכר:
חלוק כפרה הד 'הוא, אם עבר אדם על חלול ה, 'כי אז פוגם באצילות, הנקרא עולם החיים, שאין שם מות כלל, וגרם מיתה בעולם החיים הנצחיים, ולכן תשובה וי"ה תלוין, כי אין אחד משלשה עולמות יכול לעלות למעלה ממקומו ע"ד הנז"ל, עד יום המיתה, מדה כנגד מדה, והיא ממרקת הכפרה לגמרי, וגם בזה יש ד 'בחי 'הנז"ל:
ועתה נבאר ג"כ השינוי, שיש בין חטא לעון, ופשע. דע, כי הפשע הוא, כאשר יודע האדם את רבו, ומכוין למרוד בו להכעיסו, ואז גורם שהקליפות יקחו כל השפ"ע ההוא, תמורת הפש"ע, ואינם נותנים כלל ממנו אל התחתונים, ישראל. ועון הוא, כאשר עושה כרצונו, אלא שאינו להכעיס, רק שאוכל נבילות לתאבון, ואז גורם שהקליפות יקחו ג"כ השפע היורד, אמנם אחר שלוקחים אותו, חוזרים הם ומורידים מן השפע ההוא שלקחו, ונותנים לנו קצת, כי ז"ס הגלות כנודע. ובזה תבין מ"ש ז"ל ב 'מאמרים במסכת יומא פרק בתרא

חד אמר ,גדולה תשובה שזדונות נעשות לו כשגגות ,כי זה מדבר בזדון הנקרא פשע ,שבתחלה גרם שהקליפות היו לוקחים כל השפע כלו לעצמם ,ועתה ע"י התשובה גרם שגם שהקליפות שיקחו כל השפע , עכ"ז חוזרים ומורידים לנו מן השפע ההיא על ידי עצמם ,אחר שלקחוהו לעצמם .וחד אמר שזדונות נעשות לו כזכיות ,הוי בעון ,שאינו חוטא אלא לתאבון ,כי אז כששב בתשובה גורם שהקליפות לא יקחו מן השפע היורד כלל לעצמם ,ומנע מהם אפילו השפע שהיו לוקחים לעצמם:

Chapter 22

מדברת בענין עונש הנשמות של הרשעים ,וגלגוליהם ,ובאיזה דבר מתגלגלים .ועתה אכתוב מעט בענין עונש הנשמות של הרשעים בעוה"ז ,שמתגלגלים ובאים בכמה גלגולים לכפר עונם .ודע ,כי כמעט אין אדם בארץ אשר ימלט מגלגולים אלו .ודע ,כי הנה הרשעים אחר מיתתם ,נכנסים בגיהנם ,ומקבלים שם ענשם ,ומתכפר להם .ומשפטם י"ב חדש .ויש רשעים שכתוב בהם ואת נפש אויבך יקלענה בתוך כף הקלע ,ואינם זוכים ליכנס לגיהנם אחר פטירתם למרק עונם ,אמנם נפשם הולכת מדחי אל דחי בגלגולים משונים ,עד ימרק ענשו קצת ויוכל ליכנס אח"כ בגיהנם י"ב חדש להתכפר לגמרי .ולאלו אין זמן קצוב ,כי לפעמים ילכו בגלגולים ההם עשרים שנים ,או מאה ,או אלף ,והכל תלוי כפי ערך העונות שעשה בתחלה בעה"ז .אמנם הצדיקים ות"ח ,אין אור של גיהנם שולטת בהם ,כמ"ש ז"ל על אלישע אחר לא מידן נדייניה משום דעסק באורייתא ,ולכן הם צריכים להתגלגל בעה"ז למרק איזה חטא אשר להם ,כי אדם אין צדיק בארץ אשר יעשה טוב ולא יחטא ,והנה ,הצדיק אחר פטירתו מן העוה"ז ,הוא מוכן לעלות במדרגה במעלות גדולות בעוה"ב ,אבל לא בפעם אחד ,האמנם תכף אחר פטירתו יענישוהו ,למרק העונות היותר חמורים אשר לו ,ואז יכניסוהו במחיצה אחת במעלה ,ובהגיע תור עלייתו למחיצה יותר עליונה ,יחזירוהו להענישו למרק החטאים היותר קלים מן הראשונים ,ואז יעלה במדרגה שנית יותר עליונה ,אח"כ יחזרו להענישוהו עוד על דקדוקי מצות שהם כחוט השערה ,בסוד וסביביו נשערה מאד ,ואז יעלוהו במחיצתו האמיתיית הראוייה אליו .ולקמן יתבאר מציאות ענשים אלו איך עניינם:

והנה הצדיקים גמורים כדוד המלך ע"ה ודניאל ,הוצרכו להתבשר מאתו יתברך ,שינוחו בעה"ב ולא יצטרכו לעונשים ולגלגולים האלה ,וכמ"ש דוד המלך ע"ה לולי האמנתי לראות בטוב ה' בארץ החיים וגו' . וכתיב אחת שאלתי מאת ה' אותה אבקש שבתי בבית ה' כל ימי חיי וגו' .ונתבשר ע"י אביגיל הנבואה , באמרה והיתה נפש אדוני צרורה בצרור החיים וגו' .גם דניאל נתבשר ,ואתה לך לקץ ותנוח ותעמוד . ועכ"ז מצינו במדרש הנעלם של הזוהר בכתיבת יד ,בפסוק על כל הטובה אשר עשה ה' לדוד ולישראל עמו ,שישב דוד בעה"ב שבעה שנים אחר פטירתו ,קודם שהכניסוהו בירושלים של מעלה .גם מצינו בשמואל הנביא שקול כמשה ואהרן ,כשהעלהו שאול באוב ,שאמר למה הרגזתני לעלות ,וארז"ל שנתיירא אולי היה יום הדין הגדול .כנראה שאפילו שכבר עומד לדין בעת פטירתו ,עדיין יש דינים ועונשים אחרים .גם ריב"ז שלא הניח מקרא ומשנה וכו' ,והיה בוכה בעת פטירתו ,כנזכר במסכת ברכות ומה יעשו שאר הצדיקים שאינם דומים אליהם ,ומכ"ש שאר בני האדם בעו"ה ,ואין להאריך במקום שראוי

וכבר כמה פעמים הייתי עם מורי ז"ל הולך בשדה, והיה אומר לי, הנה איש אחד הנקרא בשם כך, והוא צדיק ות"ח, ולסבת עון אחד פלוני שעשה בחייו, הוא עתה מתגלגל תוך אבן זה, או צומח זה, וכיוצא בו, וכמו שיתבאר לקמן. ומעולם לא הכיר בו מורי ז"ל, והיינו חוקרים אחר הנפטר ההוא, ומצאנו דבריו כנים ואמיתיים ואין להאריך בדברים אלו, כי לא יכלם ספר. ולפעמים היה מסתכל מרחוק ת"ק אמה בקבר אחד, שבין עשרים אלף קברים אחרים, והיה רואה נפש המת הנקבר שם עומד על הקבר ההוא, והיה אומר לנו הקבר ההוא קבור בו איש פלוני ושמו פלוני, ומענישים אותו עונש פלוני, על עון פלוני. והיינו חוקרים על האיש ההוא, ומצאנו דבריו אמתיים, וכאלה רבות וגדולות לא יכילם רעיון:
ונחזור אל הדרוש שלנו, כי הנה אחר פטירת האדם, נפרעים ממנו על חטאתיו, קודם שיכניסוהו בגיהנם, בהרבה מציאיות של עונש, וכלם נקראים גלגולים. רוצה לומר, כי יתגלגל או בדומם, או בצמח, או בחי, או במדבר. וכמעט רוב בני האדם לא ימלטו מלהתגלגל בגלגולים אלה. והטעם הוא, כי אינו יכול לקבל ענשו, עד שיהיה מוגשם בגוף ונפש, ואז בהתגלגלו שם, סובל ומרגיש הצער ההוא, ועי"כ מתכפרים עונותיו. ואמנם כפי ערך חטא האדם, כך בחי 'אופני גלגולו, אם בצומח, אם בב"ח וכו'. ולכן אפילו הצדיקים ות"ח, יש קצתם אשר מתגלגלים ע"ד הנז"ל, מחמת שבחייהם בא לידם איזה עון, הצודק כפי עונש הגלגול ההוא, ואח"כ עולים במעלה הראויה להם, כי בהכרח העון צריך להמחק, והקב"ה אינו ותרן, כי הוא תמים פעלו, כי כל דרכיו משפט. ואע"פ שהוא צדיק גמור, לא יקבל ממנו שום שוחד על מצוה כמ"ש ז"ל, ולא עוד אלא שגם כשירצו להעלותו במדרגה יותר עליונה, חוזרים ומתגלגלים אותו בגלגולים הנז', אם עדיין נשאר להם למרק איזה עון שצריך גלגול כזה:
ופעם אחת הייתי עם מורי ז"ל, וא"ל, כי היה רואה בעיניו איש אחד, מזמן דור התנאים שמגולגל בעז אחת נקבה, לסבת שהיה משמש מטתו לאור הנר, ונודע דהויין ליה בנים נכפים, ונמצא שגרם לבניו שיהיו נכפים, ושימותו בקטנותם, וה"ז שופך דמים ממש. ולא עוד אלא ששופך דם בניו. ופעם אחרת אמר לנו, שהיה רואה בעיניו חכם אחד גדול מדור שלפנינו זה כמה שנים, שהגיע זמנו להעלות עתה למחיצה יותר עליונה ממה שהיה בתחלה, ולכן עתה בעת ההיא עצמה, ראה בעיניו שחזרו להענישו על דקדוקי מצות קלות כנז"ל, כדי להעלותו אל המעלה הגדולה ההיא, כי כפי ערך המעלה שמעלים אותו, צריך שיזדכך יותר, אפילו בדקדוקי מצות כחוט השערה כנז"ל. ומכלל הדברים שהיה נענש אז, לשתי סבות, האחת, על שהסיח עצמו מן התפלין, באומרו יהר"מ שלא נגע לריק ולא נלד לבהלה, כמו שאומרים אחר קדושת ובא לציון גואל, ולהיותו מכוין בתפלה ההיא, הסיח דעתו מן התפילין, ונענשין על זה הדקדוק הקל. ומה יעשה מי שאינו מכוין בתפלתו, ולא בתפילין שעל ראשו. גם נענש, לפי שיום שבת אחת יצא לרשות הרבים, ונכנס מעט עפר תוך מנעליו, והלך בו ארבע אמות ברשות הרבים בלי כונה. ובזה תבין כי אין מנוחה אל הצדיקים בעה"ב כמ"ש ז"ל על פסוק ילכו מחיל אל חיל. והטעם הוא, כי בכל מדרגה ומדרגה שעולים, צריכים מרוק מחדש כנז"ל:
וראוי עתה לבאר, מה ענין גלגולים אלו. הנה נתבאר אצלינו, כי כל העולמות כלם, נבראו מברורי אותם ז' מלכים שמלכו בארץ אדום אשר מתו, והיותר זך הוברר בעולם האצילות, ואחריו הוברר לצורך עולם הבריאה, ואחריו ליצירה, ואחריו לעשיה. והיותר זך שבעשיה, הוא האדם. והוברר תחלה, ואחריו ב"ח בלי מדבר, ואחריו הצומח, ואחריו הדומם. ואמנם הצדיק ע"י מעשיו, וע"י המצות שעושה באכילתו וכיוצא, יש כח לברור עוד מחלק הדומם, להעלותו אל הצומח, ואל החי, ואל האדם. כמבואר אצלינו בשער המצות בפ' עקב, במצות ברכת המזון:
ואמנם הרשע ע"י מעשיו, גורם להפך שמורידים ולא מעלים, ויש מיני עונות שגורמים שחלק האדם ירד עד בחי 'הדומם, ויש עד הצומח, ויש עד החי בלי מדבר. ולכן כנגד זה, יש רשע שאחר מותו מתגלגל באבן דומם, כפי מה שחטא בחייו, ויש רשע שמתגלגל בצומח ויש שמתגלגל בבעלי חיים, כי ע"י עונם נמשל כבהמות נדמו, ובמעלה אחת הם עומדים ונדמים זה לזה. והנה אלו המתגלגלים בגלגולים אלו, יושבים שם זמן קבוע, עד שימרק עונו שגרם לו להתגלגל שם בצומח, וככלות זמנו עולה ומתגלגל בבעל חי, וככלות זמנו עולה ומתגלגל באדם ממש:
ואמנם ענין זה הגלגול שמתגלגל באדם, הוא בא 'מב 'פנים, הא, 'ענין אלו הנשמות של הרשעים אחר שמתו, ולא זכו ליכנס בגיהנם, נכנסים בגופות בני אדם החיים בע"ה, ומדברים ומספרים כל הקורות אותם שם כנודע רחמנא לשזבן. והב 'הוא, כי מתעברים באדם בסוד עבור, כנז"ל בדרושים שקדמו,

ומתדבקים בו בהסתר גדול ,ואז אם האדם ההוא יחטא ,מתגבר עליו נפש ההיא המתעברת בו ,ומחטיאו , ומסיתו לדרך רע ,ע"ד מה שנתבאר אצלינו בדרושים הקודמים ,שכאשר נשמת הצדיק מתעברת באדם , מסייעו להיטב .כך נפש הרשע מסיתו להרשיע וכבר נתבאר אצלנו ענין זה ,כי לפעמים המתעבר באדם ,
הוא לתועלת עצמו ,כדי להתקן עצמו המתעבר עצמו .ולפעמים הוא תועלת האדם ,כדי שהנפש ההיא
מסייעתו להטיב .וב 'בחי 'אלו ,ישנם גם בנפש הרשע המתעבר באדם ,או יהיה לתועלת הנפש ההיא
המתעברת ,לפי שהאדם הזה הוא צדיק ,או יהיה האדם רשע ותתעבר בו הנפש ההיא להחזיקו ברשעתו , עד יאבדוהו מן העולם ח"ו .והנה שהנפש המתגלגלת באדם באחד מב 'פנים הנזכר ,השלים זמנו הקצוב
לו לעמוד שם ,ונתכפרו עונותיו ,אז יוכל לבא אח"כ בעה"ז בגלגול גמור אמיתי ,ויולד בגוף בעה"ז כשאר
בני אדם:
ונחזור לענין ,כי ראוי שתדע ,כי לא בכל זמן יש כח אל המגולגלים הנז ,'בדומם ובצומח וכו ,'לעלות משם
ולהתקן ,כי לכל זמן ועת לכל חפץ .אמנם זהו זמן עלייתם ,דע ,כי מי שנתגלגל בדומם ,וגזרו עליו זמן
קצוב של כך וכך שנים ,הנה כאשר יגיע זמן עלייתו מן הדומם ,להתגלגל במדרגת הצומח ,אינו עולה רק
בארבעה חדשים אמצעיים שבי"ב חדשי השנה ,והם ,אב ,אלול ,תשרי ,חשון .ואם זמן הקצוב להם
לעלות ,נשלם בארבעה חדשים אלו ,עולה .ועם לאו ,צריך להמתין עד שנה אחרת ,בארבעה חדשים
אמצעיים הנז ,'אשר בה .וזמן עלייתם מן הצומח אל החי ,הוא בארבעה חדשים ראשונים ,שהם ,ניסן , אייר ,סיון ,תמוז .וזמן עלייתם מן החי אל האדם ,הוא בד 'חדשים אחרונים ,שהם ,כסליו ,טבת ,שבט , אדר:
ואמנם אע"פ שסדר עלייתם הוא ע"ד הנז"ל מן הדומם אל הצומח ,ומן הצומח אל החי ,ומן החי אל
המדבר .הנה לפעמים ויעלה המגולגל שתי מדרגות יחד ,כמו מי שנתגלגל בתחלה בדומם שהוא העפר , ותבא איזו בהמה ותאכל עשב ,ובו מעורב מעט עפר ,אשר בו היה מגולגל הנפש ההיא ,והנה עתה נפש
זו נתגלגלה בבהמה ההיא ,ועלה ב 'מדרגות יחד ,שהוא מן הדומם אל הב"ח .או באופן אחר ,כי אם יהיה
מגולגל בצומח ,שהוא הירקות ופירות האילן ,ויאכלם האדם ,נמצא כי המגולגל ההוא עלה מן הצומח אל
האדם ,והם ב 'מדרגות ביחד .ולפעמים יעלה המגולגל כל המדרגות בפעם אחת ,שהוא מן הדומם לאדם , כגון הרי שהאדם אכל מעט עפר שנתערב בתוך התבשיל ,ובאותו עפר היה מגולגל אחד ,נמצא שעלה מן
הדומם לאדם:
ודע ,כי המגולגל במים ובמלח ,אינם נקראים דומם רק צומח ,והטעם הוא ,לפי שהמים הם חיים ונגרים
ונובעים ואינם דוממים כמו העפר .והמלח נעשה מן המים ,ולכן נקרא גם הוא צומח .וז"ש רז"ל במסכת
שבת ,הנוטל מלח מן המחצב שלו ,חייב משום קוצר .וידוע הוא ,כי אין קצירה אלא בצומח:
והנה ענין המגולגלים נתבאר עניינם במקומות רבים ,וכנזכר בפסוק הצילה מחרב נפשי מיד כלב יחידתי , גם רמזו רז"ל באמרם ריש תורא בדיקולא סליק לאגרא וכו ,'כי הרואה שור שחור בימי ניסן ,יברח ממנו , ויעלה לגג ,מפני שהשטן מרקד בין קרניו .והענין הוא ,כי השור שהוא דינא קשיא ,יותר מוכן להתגלגל בו
הנפש ,יותר משאר הבהמות ,ולכן יברח ממנו ,משא"כ בשאר הבהמות .לפי שקדם לנו ,שאין זמן עליית
המגולגל בצומח לב"ח ,אלא מניסן ואילך ,לכן ביומי ניסן ,שאז נכנס בו המגולגל הרשע ההוא ,אולי ע"י
תוספת העבור ההוא הרע ,יזיק למי שיפגע בו .אבל אחר שהורגל בו ,אינו מזיק ,ולכן אין קפידא אלא
בחדש הא 'לעלייתו ,הוא חדש ניסן ,שהשור באכלו העשב הצומח ,נתגלגל בו הרשע ההוא ,שהיה
בתחלה בצומח ההוא .וכבר נתבאר אצלינו בשער הפסוקים בענין יונוס ויומברוס ,בני בלעם הרשע ,שעשו
את העגל בחדש תמוז ,ועליו נאמר בתבנית שור אוכל עשב) .הגהה - ובמקום אחר מ"כ משם מהרח"ו
ז"ל ,כי עשב ר"ת שבעה עשר בתמוז:
וענין המתגלגל בדומם ,נתבאר בענין נבל הכרמלי ,שכתוב בו וימת לבו בקרבו ,והוא היה לאבן .וסוד
הענין יובן במש"ל ,כי לבן נתגלגל בבלעם ,ואח"כ בנבל הכרמלי .והנה בלעם הרשע ,היה לקראת נחשים ,
ואין כחו אלא בפיו לקלל בני אדם ,וכשנהרג בלעם נתגלגל באבן אחת ,שהיא בחי 'דומם ,לכפר לחישתו
בפיו כנזכר .וכשנתגלגל אח"כ בנבל הכרמלי ,כי אז היתה תחלת ביאתו בעולם הזה להתקן ,הנה כשאירע
אותו המעשה שחרף את דוד ,ואמר מי דוד ומי בן ישי וגו ,'ורצה דוד להרגו ,יען כי בא לתקן דבור הרע
של בלעם ,והיסיף פשע ,וחזר וחטא בדבור ,לקלל את דוד מלך ישראל ,ואז זכר נבל וידע כי בתחלה
נתגלגל באבן לתקן דבור הרע של בלעם ,ועתה חזר לקלקולו ,ולכן וימת לבו בקרבו בזכרו כי הוא היה
לאבן בתחלה כנזכר ,ולכן לא כתיב ויהי ,אלא והוא היה לאבן .והנה נבל היה אדם גדול ,ואין תימא איך

ידע זה .גם אפשר שהגיד לו איזה נביא או חכם .גם אפשר דמזליהו חזי ,אע"ג דאיהו לא חזי .גם ענין הגלגול בדומם ,נרמז אצלינו בפסוק כי אבן מקיר תזעק ,כי יש מגולגלים באבן שבקיר שהיא בדומם ,או בכפיס מעץ יעננה שהוא הצומח ,ומשם זועקים מרוב העונש אשר להם שם ,ועוד יתבארו קצת פסוקים אחרים עתה בע"ה:

והנה נבאר עתה קצת מיני מגולגלים ,דע ,כי המדבר לשון הרע וכיוצא בו ,מתגלגל באבן דומם ,כמו שביארנו בענין נבל ,שכתוב בו ויהי לאבן ,כי תמורת הדבור הוא דומם:

המאכיל נבלות לישראל ,מתגלגל בעלה האילן ,והוא הצומח ,ואז ענשו הוא ,שהרוח מכה בעלה ההוא , ומחזירתו לכאן ולכאן ,ואין לו מנוחה .וכשנשלם זמן הקצוב לו ,נעקרת העלה ההיא מן האילן ,ונובלת ונופלת לארץ .וזהו בדוגמת מיתה ממש אצלו שנכרת ונעקר מן העולם .וז"ס פסוק והעלה נובל .כי מי שמאכיל נבלות לישראל ,מתגלגל בעלה הנובלת לארץ .גם ז"ס כי תהיו כאלה נובלת עליה .ולפעמים כי אחר שהעלה הזאת נובלת ,חוזר להתגלגל בעלה אחרת ,וגם היא נובלת עד כמה פעמים ,ע"ד האדם שמתגלגל בעה"ז כמה פעמים כפי העונש הראוי להם:

ויש מי שמתגלגלים במים ,והם גם כן נקראים צומח ,כנז"ל והם אלו ,מי ששופך דמים בעה"ז ,מתגלגל במים ,וסימניך על הארץ תשפכנו כמים ,ונאמר שופך דם האדם באדם דמו ישפך ,וענשו הוא שעומד בקלוח המים ,ושם המים נקלחים עליו תמיד ,והוא רוצה לקום ולעמוד ,והמים מפילים אותו בכל רגע ,ואין לו מנוחה כלל ,ותמיד הוא מתגלגל סביב במקום קלוח המים ההם .גם נרמז זה בפסוק)שמואל ב י"ד (כי מות נמות וכמים הנגרים ארצה .גם כל מי שמיתתו בחנק ,ולא נענש בב"ד של מטה ,מתגלגל במים ,ושם נחנק בכל רגע כנזכר:

והנה הבא על אשת איש ,אשר מיתתו בתנק ,מתגלגל בריחיים ,שנותנים בהם החטים ,וטוחנים על ידי המים המגלגלים הריחים ,ושם נידונים האיש והאשה ההיא ,בסוד תטחן לאחר אשתי:

גם המזלזל בנטילת ידים ,מתגלגל במים .וז"ס פסוק אזי עבר על נפשנו המים הזדונים ברוך ה' שלא נתננו טרף לשניהם .כי הנה ר"ת 'נתננו טרף' לשניהם ,ר"ת נטל .וז"ס מ"ש ז"ל האוכל בלא נטילת ידים נעקר מן העולם ,ונדון במים כנז"ל .גם ממילא רמז להפך ואמר ,ברוך ה' שלא נתננו טרף לשניהם ,ר"ת שנטל ,כי ע"י שנטלנו ידינו ,לא נתננו טרף לשניהם של המים הזדונים הנז"ל ,ולכן ברוך ה' ,שלא עשנו כמו הרשעים ,שאינם נוטלים ידיהם ,גם מי שאינו מברך ברכת הנהנין ,ומזלזל בהם ,גוזל אביו ואמו חבר הוא לאיש משחית ,וגם הוא מתגלגל במים:

ויש מי שמתגלגלים בבעלי חיים ,והנה הפרנס המתגאה על הצבור יתגלגל בדבורים .וכמ"ש רב נחמן בר יצחק ,לא יאי יהרותא לנשי ,חדא שמה כרכושתא ,וחדא שמה זבורתה .והם דבורה הנביאה ,שנתגאה על ברק ,ושלחה אחריו לקראו והיא לא רצתה ללכת אצלו גם חולדה הנביאה ,בזתה לצדקיהו המלך ,ואמרה אמרו לאיש הזה אשר שלח אתכם אלי) ,מלכים ב' כ"ב (כמ"ש ז"ל והנה בתוך דבריהם רמזו ,כי דבורה היא בעלת גאוה ,ולכן אינה עושה מלאכה ,וגם היא דברנית ,כי בכל שעה לא תשקוט פיה .ולכן פרנס המתגאה על הצבור ,וכן מי שמדבר דברים שלא כהוגן ,שניהם מתגלגלים בדבורה ,שיש בה שני מדות אלו:

ודע ,כי אין לך שום אחד מאלו המתגלגלים כנזכר ,או שום נשמה שנענשת בב"ד של מעלה ,שאין לפניו כרוז אחד שמכריז ענשו ועונו תמיד בכל הזמן ההוא שהיא מתגלגל שם ,או שנענש שם כנזכר ,ואינו זז מאצלו .גם יש עמו שוטר א' ,שמעניש אותו באותו ענש הראוי לו ,או שמגלגלו באותו גלגול הראוי לו ,כגון מי שנתגלגל במים ,הנה השוטר ההוא עומד עליו תמיד ,להפילו במים בכל רגע ,עד זמן הקצוב לו .גם רוב המתגלגלים או הנענשים כנזכר ,יש לפניהם ב"ד שדנים אותו בעת גלגולו או ענשו ,ומשנים את ענשו ,כפי הדין והמשפט הראוי לו ,מעונש זה אל עונש אחר ,מעת לעת:

אמר שמואל ,עוד מצאתי לקוטים קרובים אל הנזכר ,ואע"פ שבתוך דברי הרב ז"ל ,נראה שאינם מפי מורי הרב ז"ל ,המשביר בר הגדול זלה"ה ,כאשר כתב הוא כן ,עכ"ז לא נמנעתי מלהציגם לפניך ,וז"ל ,זה מצאתי בקונטרס הר"א הלוי ז"ל .ונלע"ד בלי ספק שאינו ממורי ז"ל ,הבא על הבהמה ,יתגלגל בעטלף .
הבא על הנדה ,יתגלגל בגויה .הבא על אשת איש ,יתגלגל בחמור .הבא על אמו ,יתגלגל באתון נקבה .
הבא על הזכר ,יתגלגל בשפן או בארנבת ,כפי מה שחטא או בועל נבעל .הבא על כלתו ,יתגלגל בפרדה .
הבא על הגויה ,יתגלגל בקדשה יהודית .הבא על אשת אביו ,יתגלגל בגמל .הבא על אשת אחיו ,יתגלגל בפרד זכר .הבא על אחותו בת אביו או בת אמו ,יתגלגל בחסידה ,ויהרגוהו חברותיה כמ"ש ז"ל .וז"ס

פסוק ואיש כי יקח את אחותו בת אביו או בת אמו חסד הוא .וכן הבא על חמותו .השוכב עם בהמה חיה
ועוף ,יתגלגל בעורב .המסתכל תמיד בעריות ומביע בהם ,יתגלגל בראה שרואה למרחוק יותר מכל
העופות .וכל זה אם לא עשה תשובה:
אמר שמואל ,עוד הקדמה זאת ,כבר העתקתי אותה בשער מאמרי רז"ל ,דף ועכ"ז לא רציתי מלהסירה
מכאן ,שהוא מקומה האמיתי ,והוא בשכר נשמות הצדיקים ,ואחרתיה עד אחר חבוט הקבר:

Chapter 23
והיא בענין עונש חבוט הקבר .כבר נודע מ"ש ז"ל בפרקי ר 'אליעזר ,במאמר פרקי חבוט הקבר ,איך בא
עליו המלאך על קברו ,ושואל לו מה שמך ,ומשיבו גלוי וידוע לפניו יתברך שאיני יודע שמי וכו .'ובלי ספק
יש לתמוה ,מה צורך לשאלה זו ,וגם למה הוא שוכח שמו ,ומה מעלה ומה מוריד ענין זה במציאות ענשו .
האמנם דע ,כי כל הנשמות כלם היו כלולים באדה"ר קודם שחטא ,כמו שביארנו כמה פעמים ,וכאשר
חטא ,נשרו איבריו ממנו ,שהם אותם הנשמות שהיו כלולות בו ,ונפלו לעמקי הקליפות ולא נשאר בו
באדה"ר רק בחי 'מאה אמה ,כמבואר אצלינו במקומו ,והנה לא כל הנשמות שוות ,כי אין הפגמים שוים , כי האיברים אשר נמצאו יותר נאחזים באותו החטא שחטא אדם הראשון ,הם נפלו לתוך הקליפה יותר
בעומק מן המקום שנפלו שאר האיברים ,שהיו יותר רחוקים מן הפגם ההוא ,כי ודאי הוא שאין כל
הנשמות שוות ,כי יש נשמה שנתאוות וחשקה יותר בחטא ההוא מנשמה אחרת .ונמצא כי כפי ערך בחי '
פגם הנשמה ,כך בחי 'מקום נפילתה בעמקי הקליפות .והענין הוא ,כמה שתדע ,כי גם את זה לעומת זה
עשה האלהים ,וכמו שיש אדה"ר דקדושה ,כן יש אדם בליעל בקליפות ,ויש בו רמ"ח איברים ושס"ה גידין .
וכפי האיברים שחטאו באדה"ר ,כך כפי בחינתם ג"כ אותם האיברים כיוצא בהם ,אשר באדם בליעל , לקחו אותם הנשמות שנעשו מאדה"ר ,ונתלבשו בתוך הקליפות ההם ,ונעשה להם לבושים מאותם
הקליפות אשר כיוצא בהם ממדרגת מקומם ,כי כל דרכיו יתברך משפט בקו היושר ולא בערבוביא ,רק כל
נשמה נפלה כפי מדרגתה באבר א 'מן האדם הבליעל הדומה אליה .ונמצא כי כל אותם הנשמות שנשרו
מאדם ,שהיו מלובשים בגדי קדש קודם שחטאו ,ועתה בנפלם בתוך הקליפות ,התנצלו מעדיים ובגדי
תפארתם ולבשו לבושי קדרות שהם הקליפה .ונמצא כפי זה ,כי אין לך נשמה ,שאין לך בחי 'קליפה
אחת ,העשויה לה כעין מלבוש המיוחס לה ,כפי בחינתה ומדרגת חטאה ,בהיותה כלולה באדם הראשון
כשחטא כנזכר ,ואותה הקליפה מלבשת אותה ,ומלפפתה כל ימי חייה מסביב לה ,לפי שהנשמה היא
קדושה ורוחנית ,ומלתבשת בתוך הקליפה המזוהמת ההיא:
וז"ס פסוק כי אם עונותיכם היו מבדילים וכו ',כי אותה הקליפה הנעשת מפני העון ,מלבישתו ומבדלת בין
הנשמה ,אל ה 'אלהים שממנה חוצבה ,והאור הנמשך אליה מאתו יתברך אינו נמשך ומאיר בה מחמת
קליפתה ,אשר סובבת עליה ,וענין זה נרמז במ"ש ז"ל מלמד שבא נחש על חוה והטיל בה זוהמא וכו .'
וגם על האדם ועל זרעו הבאים אחריו עד ימות המשיח ,אין אדם נצול ממנה ,לפי שכלם היו אז כלולים
באדה"ר כשחטא .וזהו הצד השוה ,שבכל הנשמות אפילו באותם שמתו בעטיו של נחש ,היה בהם הטלת

זוהמא הנזכר:
האמנם לא כלם שוים ,ויש הפרש ביניהם כנז"ל ,כי כל נשמה נפגמה כפי מדרגה וקרובה אל החטא שחטא אדה"ר .ודע ,כי כל החטאים והעונות שחוטא האדם בפני עצמו ,זולת מה שחטא אדה"ר ,ודאי הוא שהאדם ממשיך עליו קליפה וזוהמת הנחש ,כפי ערך חטאו .האמנם הכל תלוי בתשובת האדם ,כי ע"י התשובה יכול לדחות מעליו הזוהמה ההיא שנדבקה בו ע"י חטאתיו ,אפילו אם הם חטאים גדולים .אבל הזוהמה והקליפה שנדבקה בכל הנשמות כאשר חטא אדה"ר ,אינו תלוי בתשובה ,ומוכרח הוא למות , ואח"כ יתוקן הפגם ההוא ע"י המיתה .ואע"פ שהקב"ה קבל גם תשובת אדה"ר ,ונתכפר לו עונו ,עכ"ז הזוהמה והקליפה שנדבק בו כשחטא ,לא הוסר ונפרד ממנו אלא אחר המיתה .וטעם הדבר הוא ,לפי שחטאו של אדם היה גדול עד מאד ,מכמה סבות אין מקום לבאורם .וז"ס אותם שמתו בעטיו של נחש שהם בנימין וישי ,וכלאב ,ולוי ,ויהושע בן נון ,שלא חטא בעון העגל כנזכר בזהר פרשת תשא ,שאע"פ שלא היה להם שום חטא כלל ,עכ"ז אותה קליפה וזוהמה שנדבקה בהם בחטאו של אדה"ר ,לא נפרדה מהם עד אחר המיתה .וז"ס אמרם ז"ל שמתו בעטיו של נחש ,ר"ל ,בשביל זוהמת הנחש ,שהטיל באדם וחוה:
ואמנם צריך לבאר טעם למה המיתה מפרדת הקליפה מן האדם ,ודע ,כי הקדושה נקראת חיים ,כמש"ה ראה נתתי לפניך את החיים ואת הטוב ,וכתיב ואתם הדבקים בה 'אלהיכם חיים כלכם היום ,לפי שהקב"ה נותן שפע ומזון לכל ברואיו .אבל הסטרא אחרא שמסלקים השפע והחיות מן הנבראים נקרא מות ,כמש"ה ואת המות ואת הרע .והנה האיש החוטא ,ממשיך עליו סטרא אחרא הנקרא מות ,ולכן אין הקליפה ההיא נפרדת מן האדם אלא אחר מיתה ,כי אז נקבר האדם ובשרו מתעכל בעפר ,ונפרד ממנו הקליפה שנדבקה בו בזוהמת הנחש שהטיל בחוה ובאדם:
ובזה תבין ענין חבוט הקבר ,וזה עניינו ,והוא ,כי אחר מיתת האדם ואחרי קבורתו בעפר הארץ, אז תכף ומיד ,באים ד 'מלאכים ,ומשפילים קרקע הקבר ,ומעמיקים אותו למטה ,ונשאר חלל בקבר כשעור קומת האדם הנקבר שם ,כנזכר במסכת פרק חבוט הקבר וע"ש .ואז מחזירים נפשו בגופו כמו בחייו ,והטעם הוא ,לפי שהקליפה היא דבוקה עדיין וקשורה עם הנפש ועם הגוף ואיננה נפרדת מהם ,ולכן צריך שיחזור נפשו בגופו ביחד .ואז המלאכים הנזכרים אוחזים בו כל אחד מקצה ,ומנערים אותו ,וחובטים אותו במקלות של אש ,כדרך שאוחזים בטלית בשתי קצוותיה ,ומנערים אותה מן האבק הנדבק בה ,עד שנפרדה מהם הקליפה ההיא לגמרי ,ולכן נקרא חבוט הקבר ,כאדם שחובט טליתו ומנערה .וע"כ צריך להעמיק הקבר ,כדי שיהיה מקום לחלל לנערו ולחבטו .ואמנם לא כל האנשים שוים ,כי הצדיקים אשר בחייהם נתרחקו מן היצה"ר ,והיו מכניעים עצמם וחובטים עצמם ביסורין הבאים עליהם ,וגם ע"י התורה והמצות שמתישים כחו של אדם ,עד שנמצא כשהגיע זמנם ליפטר מן העולם ,ולקבל חבוט הקבר ,אין צריכים צער גדול ,כי בחבטה כל שהיא מספיק להם להפרידה מהם .משא"כ ברשעים ,שאדרבה ע"י תענוגיהם בעה"ז הם מקשרים ומחזקים יותר את הקליפה בגופם ובנפשם .ונמצא כי ז"ס למה אין אדם נצול מחבוט הקבר ,כנזכר בפרק חבוט הקבר:
וכמו שביארנו לעיל ,באותם שמתו בעטיו של נחש ,שאין להם תקנה להפרידה ,זולת ע"י המיתה והיבוט הקבר ,זולתי אותם הנז 'שם בפרק חבוט הקבר ,ע"י איזו מצוה הסגולית לזה הדבר ,אבל כל שאר בני אדם כלם ,צריכים חבוט הקבר ,אלא שיש הפרש בין חבוט רב למעט כנזכר ,וכל א 'וא 'הוא סובל ענשו , כפי מדרגת קליפתו ,וכפי עוצם דבקותה .ואמנם אפילו אותם הנצולים מחבוט הקבר כנזכר ,הנה אותם המצות הסגוליות לזה כנזכר ,הם המפרידות את הקליפות מהם בלי צער אחר מיתתם ,אבל מוכרח הוא שימותו ,כנז"ל בענין שמתו בעטיו של נחש:
ושמעתי ממורי ז"ל ,כי כל הנקבר בע"ש אחר חמש שעות ביום ,ושעה חמישית בכלל ,אינו רואה חבוט הקבר ,כי קדושת שבת מפריד ממנו הקליפה בלי צער חבוט הקבר .וז"ס יום הששי בהא יתירה ,כי משעה חמישית של יום הששי ולמעלה ,כבר קדושת שבת מאירה אז:
ובזה יתבאר ענין טעם ,למה הרשעים שוכחים את שמם כנז"ל .הנה נתבאר למעלה ,כי אין שום נשמה בעולם ,שאין לה לבוש אחד של קליפה מזוהמת הנחש ,ואותה הקליפה היא סוד היצה"ר ,הנכנס באדם מיום שנולד ,כי הנה ע"י חטאו של אדה"ר ,נשתרש ונדבק עמו היצר הרע .והקליפה ההיא עם אותה הנשמה מעת שחטא אדה"ר ואילך ,עד שכמעט נעשו שניהם הנשמה והקליפה ,כעיסה אחת מעורבת מסלת וסובין ,קשורים יחד בתכלית .ובזה תבין סוד ,למה היצה"ר יש כ"כ כח בידו להטות לאדם להנהיגו

בדרך רע ,לפי שהוא בעה"ב גמור תוך גוף האדם כנזכר .והנה נתבאר כי אין כל הקליפות שוים ,כי כל קליפה וקליפה הוא נצוץ נפש רעה מסטרא אחרא ,מאבר פרטיי שברמ"ח איברי אדם הבליעל הטמא , ע"ד מה שנבאר בדרושים שקדמו ,בענין נצוצות נשמות הקדושה שכל אחת ואחת היא מנצוץ אבר פרטיי שבאדם העליון הקדוש .וכמו שנשמות הקדושות כל אחת ואחת יש לה שם ידוע ,כפי בחי 'אבר שממנו חוצבה ,וכמו שארז"ל על פסוק אשר שם שמות בארץ ,אל תקרי שמות ,אלא שמות .כך כל נצוץ ונצוץ שבקליפה ,יש לה שם ידוע בפני עצמו .ונמצא כי היצה"ר שבאיש הזה ,אינו כעין היצה"ר של האיש האחר .ונמצא כי כאשר נולד האדם ,וקוראים לו אביו ואמו שם אחד העולה בדעתם ,אינו באקראי ובהזדמן ,כי אם הקב"ה משים בפיו השם ההוא המוכרח אל הנשמה ההיא ,כמש"ה אשר שם שמות בארץ ,כפי מקום האבר שבאדם העליון ,אשר ממנו חוצב ,והשם הזה נרשם למעלה בכסא הכבוד כנודע , ולכן ארז"ל שמא גרים .גם זהו טעם אל ר 'יהושע בן קרחה ור"מ דהוו בדקי בשמא .והנה גם את זה לעומת זה עשה האלהים ,וכמו שיש שם קבוע אל הנשמה הקדושה אשר באדם ,והוא השם שקוראים לו אביו ואמו בעת שנמול כנודע ,כך יש שם קבוע בקליפה ,שהוא היצה"ר הנכנס באדם מיום שנולד ,ונמצא שכל אדם יש לו שני שמות ,אחד מצד הקדושה ,ואחד מצד הקליפה .והנה אם האדם בהיותו בחיים חיותו בעה"ז ,היה יכול להשיג ולדעת מה שם הקליפה ההיא אשר בו ,היה יכול לחקור מהיכן נחצבה ,ובאיזה בחינה היא באדם הבליעל ועי"כ היה יודע מקום הפגם ,ומציאותו תקון הצריך לו ,והיה יכול לתקן הפגם ההוא בנקל ,ועי"כ היתה הקליפה ההיא נפרדת ממנו בנקל בחייו ,ולא היה צריך להפרידה ממנו ע"י חבוט הקבר כלל .ולכן כשנפטר האדם הצדיק ,אינם שואלים ממנו מה שמו מסטרא אחרא ,כי כיון שבחייהם טרחו וסבלו היסורין להפריד מעליהם הקליפה ההיא כנ"ל ,ובקלות גדול נגמרת להפרד ע"י חבוט הקבר . אבל הרשע ,שאדרבא גרם לקשרה בחוזק גדול בו ,צריכים מכות ועונשים גדולים להפרידה ממנו בחבוט הקבר .ואלו היה יודע בחייו שמו דמסטרא אחרא, היה מתקן הדבר בחייו בקלות גדול ,ולכן מכים אותם הכאות נמרצות ,על שאינם יודעים אותו השם כנזכר ,ולא חקרו לדעת אותו בחייהם ,כיון שלא רצו לטרוח במעשיהם ,כדרך שטרחו הצדיקים:

אמר שמואל ,עוד מצאתי הקדמה אחרת בענין חבוט הקבר טובה מאד ,וז"ל ,ענין חבוט הקבר מה ענייננו , וכבר נתבאר אצלינו למעלה ועי"ש ,ואמנם נתבאר שם ,כי ע"י חטאו של אדה"ר ,גרם ערוב טוב ברע בכל הנשמות כלם .וכמו שנתבאר זה בענין קין והבל .והנה ז"ס פסוק ויקרא האדם שמות וגו ,'כי כמו אשר קרא מצד נשמות הקדושות ,כך קרא להם נשמות מצד שמות דקליפה ,לפי שכאשר חטא האדם בעץ הדעת טוב ורע ,גרם כי כמו שחוצבים נפש לאדם ממחצב הקדושה ,כך חוצבים לו נפש ממדרגת הקליפה .ואמנם כבר הודעתיך ,כי בעולם העשיה הרע גובר על הטוב וגם כי הם מעורבים .וביצירה ,הם שוים ,ומעורבים .ובבריאה הטוב גובר על הרע ,ואינם מעורבים:

והנה יש אנשים שיש להם נפש ממלכות דעשיה שבקליפה ,ויש מי שיש לו נר"ן מהקליפות ,ואמנם מי שלא הרשיע כ"כ ,כי עדיין לא ניתן בו נשמה מן הקליפות ,אין תקונם מפח נפש ,וע"י תשובה יכולים להתקן ,וכאשר יתגלגלו בעה"ז ויקבלו ענשם ,יהיו כדמיון ירבעם בן נבט וחבריו שאין להם חלק לעה"ב , שהוא שיעלו נשמותיהם למעלה בבחי 'מ"ן בזווג העליון של או"א ,הנקרא עה"ב ,אמנם יעלו בבחי 'מ"ן בזווג זו"ן .אבל מי שיש לו נר"ן מן הקליפות ,צריך שיתרקבו עצמותיהם ויאכלו את בשרם .וז"ס רות וערפה ,כי ערפה שבה אל עמה ואל אלהיה .וזה ג"כ סוד פסוק הכסיל חובק את ידיו ואוכל את בשרו ,ומכלים את עצמם ,וכדי להפריד מהם הנפש ההיא ,לכן הוצרך ענין חבוט הקבר ,שחובטים אותם כדי להפריד מהם הנפש ההיא .ואפילו בארץ ישראל ,יש מעט מחבוט הקבר ,לפי שהנולדים בארץ ישראל בפרוד מהם בא ,ודבר זה תלוי כפי מעשה האדם ,אם לטוב ואם לרע:

ודע ,כי כל מי שיש לו קנאה במילי דשמיא ,עליו ארז"ל אין אדם מקנא לאשתו ,אא"כ נכנסה בו רוח טהרה .אבל מי שיש לו קנאה במילי דעלמא ,הוא מהם ,לפי שהיא קנאה הנמשכת מן החיצונים ,ועל כן עצמותיהם מתרקבים .וכמ"ש במסכת שבת על ר 'אחאי בר יאשיה ,על פסוק ורקב עצמות קנאה .אמנם המקנא במילי דעלמא ,עצמותיו מרקיבין ,והעש אוכלם:

וסוד הדבר כמה שהודעתיך ,כי ש"ע נהורין הם בקדושה ,וכשנעשים שע"ח נהורין ,אז הם בגימטריא חשמ"ל ומלבו"ש ,כי הוא נעשה כמין מלבוש וכסוי מקיף על ד 'עולמות אבי"ע ,מאלו השע"ח נהורין .ועי"כ אין החצונים שולטים באותם האורות .ונודע הוא כי ד 'מלבושים הם לד 'מלבושי עולמות אבי"ע .וכל אחד עב מחבירו ,ושל העשיה עב מכלם ,לפי ששם עיקר אחיזת הקליפות ,וצריך שיהיה עב ביותר מהשאר .

והנה כמו שיש ש"ע נהורין בקדושה, ישנו בחיצונים, ונקראים בהפוך ע"ש, וז"ס פסוק כי כבגד יאכלם עש, עש יאכלם, והוא האוכל ומרקיב עצמות המת:
גם כי כמו שיש תולע בקדושה, בסוד ותולעת שני, ובסוד אל תראי תולעת יעקב, והוא שם אבגית"ץ, שהוא בגימטריא תולע, והוא סוד החסד שבשבעה שמות שם בן מ"ב, והוא הכהן, וזהו ונת"ן לכהן הזרוע והלחיים וכו', ומלת ונתן בגימטריא שם הנזכר, גם הוא בגימטריא שו"ר, שעליו נאמר בגמרא שור שחור ביומי דניסן, לפי שהוא שם מ"ב, שהוא גבורה חזקה. ואמנם יש כנגדו בקליפות תולע, האוכל בשר המת בקבר, אשר עליו נאמר הכסיל חובק את ידיו ואוכל את בשרו, ועליו נאמר אם יאדימו כתולע כצמר יהיו.
האמנם מי שהיה צדיק בעה"ז, יכול לתקן הכל בהיותו בחיים בעה"ז, כדמיון רב אחאי בר יאשיה, שלא היתה בו קנאה במילי דעלמא, שהיא קנאה הנמשכת מן הקליפות, ולכן לא שלטו בו במיתתו לא התול"ע ולא הע"ש החיצונים. ובדוד הע"ה אמר, אף בשרי ישכון לבטח, עד שתמצא שכבר נמצאו אותם הארבעה שאע"פ שמתו, לא מתו אלא בעטיו של נחש, וכמו שנתבאר עניינם אצלינו:

Chapter 24
מדברת בענין שכר הנשמות של הצדיקים. ואע"פ שכבר העתקתיה בשער מאמרי רז"ל כי שם מקומה האמיתית וע"ש. עכ"ז חזרתי והעתקתיה פה כמו שמצאתיה, וז"ל, והנה אחר שדברנו בעונש הנשמות של הרשעים, נדבר קצת בשכר נשמות הצדיקים. ובזה יתבאר חלוק א' שמצינו בדברי רז"ל, מאמרים שונים. כי פעמים נזכר בדבריהם, פלוני יש לו חלק לעה"ב, או הרי הוא בן העה"ב, או הרי הוא מזומן לחיי העה"ב, וזה ענין פרטותם, דע, כי אחר פטירת נשמת הצדיק מן העה"ז, אם אינו בר עונשין, כי הוא צדיק גמור, הנה יש בהם שלשה כתות כת אחת היא, שבאותה שעה עצמה שנפטרים מן העולם, וגם אחר פטירתם, תמיד הם עולים בסוד מ"ן עילאין, ביסוד אימא עילאה בינה, הנקראת עה"ב כנודע, ושם מעוררים זווג העליון ההוא, ומזדווג אבא באימא, וכת זו נקראת בני העה"ב. פירוש, כמו שז"א הנקרא בן אימא עילאה, הוא לבדו עולה בסוד מ"ן עד או"א, ומזווגם. כן הצדיק הזה נקרא בן העה"ב, שהיא אימא עילאה, והוא לבדו גורם הזווג העליון ההוא:
הכת הב', גרועה מזו הראשונה, והוא, כי יש צדיק שאינו כדאי לעלות לבדו ולעורר זווג או"א, אבל צריך שיצטרף ויתחבר עם נשמת הצדיק אחר עליון ממנו, ובאמצעותו יעורר הזווג ההוא העליון, ועל כיוצא באלו ארז"ל כל ישראל יש להם חלק לעה"ב. כי כל ישראל הכשרים, אע"פ שאינם מן הצדיקים הגמורים, יש להם חלק מועט, בהצטרפם עם שאר הנשמות, לעלות עד זווג העה"ב העליון, אבל הם אינם לבדם בני העה"ב, כבן בית העולה לבית אביו יחידי, בלי שתוף איש אחר שיעלהו אצלו:
הכת הג', גדולה משתי הכתות הנז', ועל אלו נאמר מזומן לחיי עה"ב. והענין הוא, כי זה מדבר לעה"ב העיקרי, שאינו אחר פטירת האדם, אלא מדבר לעתיד לבא, שאז כתיב והיה אור הלבנה כאור החמה. והענין הוא, כי אז יחזרו או"א פעם אחרת לעלות בסוד עבור בתוך א"א, כמו שהיה בעת בריאת העולם. ונודע, כי כל חזרת העבור, הוא לחדש המוחין שלהם, ועי"כ יהיה בהם כח להגדיל אור הלבנה כאור

החמה שהם זו"ן .והנה המוחין ההם נקראים חיי העה"ב, כי הם החיים שלהם, כנודע כי המוחין נקראים חיי המלך .בסוד מ"ש ז"ל כל המניח תפילין מאריך ימים, שנאמר ה 'עליהם יחיו .כי הם החיים הנמשכים אל העה"ב שהיא אימא .ולכן מי שיהיה אז כדאי והגון לעלות בסוד מ"ן למעלה בא"א, לעורר הזווג העליון שבא"א, לצורך עבור המוחין של או"א, עליו נאמר מזומן לחיי העה"ב .ובזה תבין ענין שמואל הנביא ע"ה, שאמר למה הרגזתני לעלות אותו, שנתיירא מיום הדין הגדול לעתיד לבא .ואע"פ שכבר ידע שהוא מבני עה"ב, עדיין היה מסופק אם היה כדאי להיות מן המזומנים לחיי עה"ב:

עוד יש כת רביעית, והם אותם המפורשים במסכת סנהדרין פרק חלק וז"ל, ואלו שאין להם חלק לעה"ב, שלשה מלכים וד 'הדיוטות וכו .'כי אלו, אעפ"י שיסבלו ענשם אינם אפילו מן הכת השנית היותר גרועה, שהיא אשר יש להם חלק לעה"ב אחר פטירתם, בסיוע נשמות אחרות, כי אלו אינם עולות כלל לעה"ב, לעורר מ"ן בזווג או"א, אמנם נשארים למטה בסוד מ"ן שבמלכות נוקבא דז"א ולא יותר:

Chapter 25

בענין בריאת ההרים והגבעות והמעיינות והיכן רומזים, וז"ל, וראיתי להביא פה דרוש אחד ממורי ז"ל, בענין ההרים והגבעות שברא הבורא יתברך בעה"ז .וכן בענין המעיינות .דע, כי כמו שהארץ העליונה, נחלקת לז ' נחלקת לשבעה חלקים, שהיא המלכות, הנקראת לסבה זו בת שבע .כן הארץ התחתונה, נחלקת לז ' אקלמי"ם כנודע .וכן כל חלקי הארץ הזאת, אשר בה אין דבר באה למטה, שאין כנגדה למעלה שר ממונה על הדבר ההוא .והנה ההרים הגדולים הגבוהים אשר בארץ הזאת, יש עליהם שרים מחולקים על כל אחד מהם למעלה, ובערך גבהות ההר התחתון על ההר האחר, כך ערך גבהות ומעלת השר ההוא התחתון, על השר של ההר האחר הנמוך ממנו, כנודע, כי השמים הם בכל פעולתם ודמיוניהם דומים אל הארץ הזו התחתונה .ודע, כי ההרים אלו בכל יום ויום מעת בריאת העולם ואילך, הם הולכים וגדולים, אבל אין הגדול ניכר בהם .וכן להפך, יש הרים שמתמעטים ומנמיכין ע"ד מ"ש ז"ל בענין א"י, שהיתה ת ' פרסה, ונזדעזעה ונקצרה .ויש הרים שגדלים ומתגברים, ודבר זה כפי מעלת וגדול השר שעליהם למעלה בשמים, או כפי מעט כחו .ולפעמים שהשר של החי הוא שלמעלה מתבטל לגמרי ממעלתו, ואז גם ההר ההוא שלו התחתון, מתבטלת מעלתו ולא מציאותו, והוא כי הוא מתדבק ומתחבר עם הר אחר ומתבטל בו, ואינו ניכר מפני עצמו .ולפעמים יהיה הדבר בהפך, כי השר של ההר ההוא, מסירים ממנו קצת ממשלתו, ונחלקת ממשלתו, ונתנה חציה לשר אחר, וחציה נשארת אליה, ואז גם למטה אותו ההר שהיה תחת ממשלתו, נבקע ונחלק לשנים .ולכן תראה לפעמים סלע גדול שנבקע לשנים ממש, ואין בבקיעה ההיא עפר אחר החולק באמצע, רק הסלע עצמו נחלק ונבקע לשתי בקיעות:

וענין המעיינות, הם כנגד הבחינות של המעיינות של מ"ן שיש בארץ העליונה מלכות, וכנגדם למטה המעיינות שבארץ הזאת, הם בחי 'מ"ן עולים מן התהום למעלה, על פני כל הארץ .אבל הגשמים היורדים על הארץ, מן הגשמים הם בתי 'מ"ד .ונמצא כי אין לך מעין למטה בקרקע, שאין כנגדו למעלה בארץ העליונה אור אחד עליון, המעלה מ"ן מן המלכות אל ז"א, כל ימי המשך המעיין התחתון .וכאשר איזה

מעיין או באר מים למטה בארץ נסתם ויבש, גם כחו למעלה נתייבש, ואינו מעלה מ"ן. גם לפעמים תראה שנתחדש מחדש, ויצא מעין או מקור מים חיים מן הבאר למטה, מה שלא היה מתחילה, וזה יורה כי גם למעלה נתחדש איזה אור עליון, או איזו נשמה המעלה אז מ"ן מן הנקבה אל ז"א:
גם בענין האילנות שבארץ הזאת, יש על כל אחת שר למעלה, וכשזה נופל זה מתייבש. ולא עוד, אלא שבכל פעם שנופלים עלה האילן למטה, גם איזה כח עליון חסר מן השר העליון למעלה בעת ההיא, וממה שכתבתי לך עתה, תוכל להקיש ולהבין מדעתך דברים הנפלאים אם עיני שכל לך:

Chapter 26
הקדמה כ"ו והיא מדברת בענייני הנשמות:
דע, כי אין שום נשמה בעולם, שתהיה ח"ו ערומה מבלי לבוש אחד, שבו מתלבשת בעה"ז. וענין הלבוש הזה נרמז בזוהר, בפרשת משפטים בדברי ר' ייבא סבא, על פסוק שארה כסותה ועונתה. ועל פסוק לא ימשול למכרה בבגדו בה. ונבאר עתה מה ענין הלבוש הזה שיש אל הנשמה, הנה כל מה שאירע ליוסף הצדיק בעה"ז, עם אדונתו אשת פוטיפרע, שיצאו י' טפות זרע מבין צפרני רגליו, כמש"ה ויפוזו זרועי ידיו. כמו כן אירע למעלה ביוסף הצדיק העליון, שהוא ספירת היסוד. וכאשר יצאו אותם עשר טפות ונצוצות נשמות קדושות מן היסוד העליון הזכר לבטלה, ולא נתקבלו ברחם הנקבה העליונה, נאחזו הקליפות באותם הנשמות. וכבר הודעתיך כמה בחי' פרצופים יש למעלה תלויים בזו"ן, ובכל הפרצופים ההם יש בהם בחי' היסוד שבהם. ונמצא כי מכל בחי' יסוד שיש למעלה, יצאו ממנו נצוצות נשמות לבטלה, ונאחזו בהם הקליפות, כי כל היסודות נרמזים ביוסף הצדיק. והנה חמש בחי' זווגים יש שם למעלה, ומכל יסוד מהם יצאו נצוצות כנזכר:
וזה סדרם כפי מעלת מדרגתם:
זווג א':
הוא ז"א הנקרא ישראל, עם נוקביה הנקראת רחל, וזמן זווג זה, הוא במוסף דשבת, כי אז רחל נגדלת בכל ארך ז"א ממש כמוהו, ואז מזדווגים יחד ע"י היסוד האמיתי של ז"א:
זווג ב':
הוא זווג יעקב עם רחל, וזמנו בשחרית של ימי החול, והוא מזדווג עמה ע"י היסוד שלו האמיתי:
זווג ג':
הוא זווג יעקב עם לאה, אחר חצות לילה, ואז שניהם נגדלים, ומתפשטים בארך כל ז"א כלו, ע"י מציאות יסוד אחד שבו:
זיוג ד':
הוא זווג ישראל עם לאה, במנחה דימי החול, והיא אינה מתפשטת רק בשעור חציו העליון, שהוא עד החזה שלו, ואז הוא מזדווג עמה ביסוד שהיה לו בתחלה אל ז"א, בהיותו בבחי' שש קצוות בלבד, כמבואר אצלינו בענין התפלות:

זווג ה':
הוא זווג יעקב עם לאה, בתפלת ערבית דימי החול, והוא בחצי העליון של ז"א, ואז הוא ע"י בחי 'היסוד האחר:
הרי מצינו חמשה מיני זווגים, ולהם חמשה מיני יסודות, ומכל אלו היסודות יצאו טפות קרי, ואמנם אלו הטפות הם סוד לבושי הנשמות. ודע, כי לבושים האלו תמיד נשארים דבקים עם הנשמות, ואין הלבוש הזה נפרד מן הנשמה שבתוכו לעולם, אפילו לאחר התחיה. ודע, כי ג"כ הוא בכל מיני הלבושים שלוקחום שאר הנשמות:
ונבאר עתה כל אלו החמשה בחי', הבחי' א', שהוא הזווג היותר מעולה שבכלם, הוא זווג ישראל עם רחל. והנה יש בו ב' בחי', משא"כ בשאר הזווגים, והוא, שביסוד האמיתי של ישראל שהוא המזדווג עם רחל, יש בו חמשה חסדים וחמשה גבורות, הנמשכים שם ממוחין דאימא, וגם חו"ג ממוחין דאבא. כי הנה היסוד דאבא המתלבש תוך ז"א, הנה הוא מגיע ומתפשט עם סיום היסוד דז"א ממש, והנה העשר גבורות, שהם, חמשה דאבא, וחמשה דאימא, הם בחי' עשרה הרוגי מלכות, אשר נשמותיהם נתלבשו באלו הטיפות. והחמשה גבורות דאבא, הם. ר' עקיבא, רשב"ג, ר' ישבב הסופר, ר' ישמעאל בן אלישע כ"ג, ור' יהודה בן בבא. ונלע"ד, כי סדרם כך ממש, כי ר' עקיבא הוא חסד שבגבורות. ורשב"ג גבורה שבגבורות וכו'. ואל תתמה אם נשמת ר' עקיבא הוא משרש קין שהוא מאימא, כנזכר בדרושים אחרים, ולבוש נשמתו יהיה מאבא, ועד"ז בכל אחד ואחד מהאחרים כפי מה שהוא, ודע כי אין בזה קפידא, והטעם הוא, כי כבר ביארנו במקום אחר איך חסדים דאימא, הם מתלבשים ביסוד אבא, ושם נקראים גבורות דאבא. ועוד כי הנה הכל מתערבים בהיותם בתוך היסוד, ולכן יש ליוסף קורבה עם כל השבטים להיותו מבחי' היסוד. ושאר לבושי הנשמות חמשה הרוגי מלכות הנשארים, הם מן חמש גבורות דאימא. והנה לפי שאלו העשרה הנזכר, הם (הנז' לבושים מבחי' הגבורות והדינים), לכן הוצרכו ליהרג, לפי שהקליפות הם נאחזות מאד בגבורות כנודע, ובפרט מטפות קרי כמו אלה העצומים והגדולים:
והעשרה חסדים דאו"א, הם לבושי הנשמות של עשרה תלמידי הרשב"י ע"ה, הנזכר בזוהר ובאדרא רבא קדישא, ובספר התקונין, והם, ר"א בנו, ור' אבא, ור' יהודה, ור' יצחק וכו' (הגהה - אמר שמואל, צ"ע בדברי מורינו ז"ל, שהרי תלמידי הרשב"י ע"ה, לא היו זולתי תשעה בלבד, כאשר נזכרו בתחלת האדרא רבא דף קכ"ז ע"ב, וז"ל, תנא אתמנו חבריא קמיה דר"ש, ואשתכחו, ר"א בריה א', ר' אבא ב', ר' יהודה ג', ר"י בר יעקב ד', ר' יצחק ה', ר' חזקיה בר רב ו', ר' חייא ז', ר' יוסי ח', ר' ייסא ט', וכו' וכו'. ועוד איתא בסוף האדרא דף קמ"ד ע"ב, וז"ל, והוו קראו להו ר"ש, שבעה אנן עיני ה', דכתיב שבעה אלה עיני ה', ועלן אתמר. א"ר אבא, אנן שתא בוציני, דנהרן משביעאה, אנת הוא שביעאה דכלא, ודא הוא בתר דמיתו אינהו תלתא. הרי מפורש שאינם כי אם ט' בלבד, ואם לומר שמא עם רשב"י הם עשרה כאמור, גם זה לא יתכן, שמורינו ז"ל כבר כתב, שרשב"י עצמו הוא בחי' היסוד עצמו, ואינו מכלל העשרה חסדים וצ"ע. ואולי נוכל לדחוק עצמנו ולתרץ, שמונה עמהם את ר' ייסא זוטא, אשר נתחבר אח"כ עמהם, כמו שא"ל ר' אבא ע"ה, יתיר תהא מר' ייסא חברנא וכו', עוד איתא בפרשת תרומה סעד לדברינו, וז"ל, ואנא מאן יהיב לי וכו', כ"ש אנא למהוי בינייהו בדף קנ"ד ע"א א"כ מכאן סעד לדברי, כי רב ייסא השלים מנין עשרה, מלבד הרשב"י ע"ה כנלע"ד. (ולהיותם בחי' חסדים, לא הוצרכו ליהרג, לפי שאין הקליפות נאחזות בהם.
ואמנם השלשה חברים שמתו באדרא רבא קדישא, שהם, ר' יוסי בר יעקב, ור' חזקיה, ור' ייסא, הם היו בחי' שלשה חסדים של אימא המגולים, המתפשטים בתנ"ה של ז"א, כי אלו הם העולות למעלה להאיר בזעיר אנפין כמבואר אצלינו ולכן שלשה חברים ההם נסתלקו אז, ועלו למעלה:
והנה רשב"י ע"ה הוא בחי' היסוד עצמו, שממנו יצאו אותם העשרה טיפין, ולכן הוצרך ללמדם תורה ולתקנם. האמנם בעשר הגבורות, שהם עשרה הרוגי מלכות, לא מצינו להם רבי מיוחד שלימד לכלם, והטעם הוא במה שנתבאר אצלינו בסוד התפילין הנעשים כסברת ר"ת ז"ל, על פסוק והבוטח בה' חסד יסובבנו, כי החסדים של אבא, אינם עומדים בתוך היסוד של אבא, לפי שהוא מקום צר, ולכן יצאו לחוץ ומקיפין את היסוד דאבא מבחוץ, ונמצא, כי החסדים דאבא כלם עומדים תוך היסוד דאימא, המלביש את יסוד דאבא. משא"כ בגבורות, כי הם נפרדות, אלו ביסוד דאבא, ואלו ביסוד דאימא, ולכן אי אפשר לכנות ולסמן ולקבוע להם רבי אחד ויסוד אחד מיוחד ללמד לכלם. ודע, כי מתשובתו של מורי זלה"ה, ראיתי שאין זה אלא דחיה בעלמא, לפי שאני הקשתי לו על טעם הנזכר, דא"כ יהיו להם ב' מלמדים, כנגד ב' היסודות, ודחה אותי בדברים, ולא רצה להשיב לי, כנראה שלא רצה לגלות כל הצורך בזה, ואין אני יודע

הסבה .ודע, כי להיות אלו העשרה תלמידי רשב"י ע"ה מבחי 'החסדים, ובפרט מן הזווג המעולה שבכלם,
שהוא מישראל עם רחל, לכן זכו שנתבאר ונגלה להם כל סודות התורה, שלא מתוך צער כלל, מה שלא יהיה כן עד דרא דמלכא משיחא, כנזכר בזוהר בכמה מקומות:

'זווג ב':

שהוא יעקב עם רחל, ונודע כי אין כל הדינים מרובים ברחל כמו בלאה, וגם כי יעקב הוא מן הארת המוחין
דאבא בלבד אשר בתוך ז"א, ולכן אין ביסוד שלו, רק חמשה חסדים, וה 'גבורות של אבא בלבד. והנה
בחי 'היסוד הזה, הוא רבינו הקדוש ז"ל, אשר סדר המשכות ותלמידיו בני ישיבתו, הם טפות החו"ג שיצאו ממנו, והם, ר 'חייא, ור 'אושעיא, ובר קפרא, ולוי בר סיסי, ור 'חנינא בר חמא, ורב, וכיוצא בהם:

'זווג הג':

כפי סדר מעלת הזווגים, הוא יעקב עם לאה, אחר חצות לילה, כי אז אע"פ שלאה יש בה דינים, להיותה
עתה מבחי 'לאה, אחר חצות לילה נמתקים הדינים שבה. ועוד, כי עתה אחר חצות לילה, היא ויעקב
מתפשטים בכל ערך ז"א כלו, משא"כ בזווג הקודם לזה של יעקב ורחל. והנה ביסוד של הזווג הזה, יצאו
ממנו עשר טפות, שהם, חמשה חסדים, וחמשה גבורות מן אבא. ולכן בשני הזווגים אלו, שהם הזווג
השני של יעקב ברחל, וזווג הג 'של יעקב בלאה דאחר חצות, אין בהם הריגה, לפי שהם מיסוד דיעקב,
שהוא מצד מוחין דאבא, ואינם דאימא שהם דינים:

ודע, כי בזה הזווג השלישי, נכלל בו עוד זווג אחר, אע"פ שלא כתבנוהו לעיל, והוא, כי נודע, דבקדרותא
דצפרא, הוא יותר רחמים ממה שהוא בחצות לילה האחרונה, לפי שכבר אז כמעט נקרא יום, ואז חוזרים
יעקב ולאה הנז', להזדווג שנית, כנזכר בזוהר בפרשת שמות דף י 'ע"א. ומהזווג ההוא יוצאים ב 'טפות
בלבד, האחת כוללת חמשה חסדים, והשנית כוללת חמשה גבורות, ואלו השתי טפות, הם מעולות יותר
מכל העשרה הנז 'שיצאו מזווג שלאחר חצות לילה, והרי הם י"ב טפות:

ודע, כי הנה קודם חצות לילה, היו יעקב ולאה מהחזה ולמעלה של ז"א, כמו שיתבאר בזווג החמישי לקמן. ואחר חצות לילה, נתארכו ונתפשטו בכל קומת ז"א כנזכר, ולכן רושם הראשון של היסוד הא ', שהיה ליעקב קודם חצות לילה, לא נתבטל, לפי שלא חזרו יעקב ולאה אחר חצות אחור באחור, כדי
שנאמר שנתבטל בחינתם הראשונה. אמנם בהיותם עדיין פנים בפנים, נשארו במציאותם, אלא שנתארך
קומתם יותר, ונתפשטו עד למטה, ולכן מה שהיה להם בתחלה לא נתבטל. ונמצא, כי יש עוד עשר טפות
אחרות שיצאו מהיסוד, שהיה קודם חצות, אלא שלא יצאו רק אחר חצות לילה. וכן עד"ז יש עוד שנים
אחרות היוצאים משם, מזמן קדרותא דצפרא, והם מעולים מן אלו העשרה. ואמנם אלו הי"ב השניים הם
גרועים במעלה מן הי"ב הראשונים. ואפשר שאלו השנים השניים של קדרותא דצפרא, יוכללו עם עשרה
ראשונים, לפי שהם מעולים יותר מן העשרה שניים. והבט נא וראה, כי בזה הזווג השלישי, נכללו בו
ארבעה זווגים, ומהם ארבעה ועשרים טיפות, וארבעתם נקראים זווג אחד, ולכלם יש יסוד אחד שממנו
יצאו, לפי ששתי היסודות אחד של קודם חצות זה, ואחד שלאחר חצות, זה נכלל בזה, והכל יסוד אחד.
ובסוף הדרוש הזה נבאר, מי הם אלו הארבעה ועשרים טפות, ומי הוא הרב שלהם:

'זווג הד':

כפי מעלת סדר הזווגים, הוא זווג ישראל ולאה במנחה בימי החול. ולפי שהם עומדים מן החזה דז"א ולמעלה, אין שם מקום התפשטות אל החו"ג, ולכן החסדים מתקבצים בזרוע ימין, והגבורות בזרוע
שמאל. ולכן אינם נקראים רק בשם שתי טפות בלבד. ולהיות הזווג הזה דמנחה עם לאה, שהם דינים
קשים, לכן היו טפות אלו בחי 'ב 'אחים, פפוס ולוליאנוס, הנקראים הרוגי לוד כנודע, וגברה מעלתם להיותם מבחי 'ישראל, ולא יש שם יסוד ניכר ממש, ולכן אין להם יסוד ורבי מיוחד:

'זווג הה':

והוא האחרון שבכלם כפי סדר מעלתם, הוא יעקב ולאה קודם חצות לילה, ואלו הם דינים גמורים,
ונקראים הרוגי ביתר. והיסוד והרבי שלהם, הוא ר 'אלעזר המודעי, אשר נהרג שם בביתר כנודע. ודע, כי
יש חלוק והפרש בין אלו החמשים טפות או יותר, הנכללים בחמש הזווגים הנז ', ובין כל שאר הנשמות,
ויש לאלו מעלה גדולה ועצומה, על כל שאר הנשמות, והוא, כי כל שאר הנשמות, הם באים מן אתערותא
דנוקבא, שהיא מתעוררת אל הזווג בתחלה, ומתאוה אל הזכר, ואח"כ מתעורר הזכר גם הוא. והנה כיון
שהזכר לא היה בו התעוררות מרצונו, אלא שיתעורר על ידה, לכן אותם הטפות של החו"ג הנמשכות
בזווג ההוא, אינם נמשכות מן הדעת עצמו של הזכר, אשר משם נמשכת תשוקתו, אמנם נמשכות מן

החו"ג המתפשטים בו למטה בשש קצוותיו כנודע, אחר שנתלבשו אותם הטפות, ונתעכבו שם בהיותם למטה בו"ק. אבל אלו החמשים טפות שבחמשה הזווגים הנז', מאתערותא דדכורא אינון בלבד, כיון שהם טפות קרי, מורה על כי הזכר אותה נפשו להזדווג בנוקביה, ולהשפיע בה טפות אלו, ולא מצאה, יען כי נוקביה היתה אז למטה בעולם הבריאה, או כיוצא בזה, ואז יצאו לבטלה. ובזה תבין היטב, סבה אל טפות הקרי, איך הם לבטלה. ונמצא כי כיון שטפות אלו נמשכים מאתערותא דדכורא עצמו, כי מאליו נתעורר, והנה אין התעוררות הזווג אלא ממוח הדעת, ולכן ודאי כי טפות אלו נמשכו ממוח הדעת עצמו מן החו"ג אשר שם, וכשנמשכו דרך השש קצוות שבו, לא נתעכבו ונתלבשו שם, רק עברו דרך מעבר לבד, ונשארו בזכותם הראשון, ולכן מעלתם גדולה ועצומה, על כל שאר הנשמות עד אין קץ:

והנה כל זה שאמרנו, הוא בענין הלבושים של הנשמות, אשר מהם נעשים רמ"ח איברים, והנשמה מתלבשת בתוכם. ודע, כי כל הלבושים, אינם כי אם מהחסדים הראשונים, שבזמן אצילות זו"ן, ולא מן החסדים של אח"כ כנזכר. ולפי שגם בחי 'הנשמות של כל אלו הלבושים הנז"ל, כלם הם גם כן ע"ד הנז"ל, מבחי 'מוח הדעת עצמו, ולא מהתפשטותו למטה, לכן נתנו להם אלו הלבושים שהם הטפות הנז', אשר הם מן הדעת עצמו. האמנם אע"פ שביארנו כי יש קשר אמיץ בין כל אלו הטיפות הנז', עכ"ז כל זה הוא במציאות הטפות עצמם, שהם הלבושים. אבל הנשמות עצמם המתלבשות בתוכם, כל נשמה מהם, היא מן השרש שלה, ואינם כלם מן שרש אחד. אמנם הצד השוה שבהם כי כלם הם מבחי 'מוח הדעת עצמו למעלה, אבל אינם קשורות יחד, כי אינם משרש אחד כלם:

גם דע, כי באלו הטפות שהם בחי 'לבושים, יש בהם פנימיות וחיצוניות, כי יש טפות שנמשכות מן המוחין עצמם המלובשים תוך נה"י דאבא או דאימא, ויש טפות נמשכות מן החיצוניות, שהם הלבושים של המוחין הנז', והם הכלים של נה"י דאו"א. ושתי בחי 'אלו, שייכי בין בז"א בין ביעקב. ואמנם כל ב 'בחי ' אלו, כלם הם מן המוח של הדעת עצמו למעלה כנזכר:

ודע, כי כל אלו הטפות והלבושים הנז"ל, שהם בעשרה הרוגי מלכות, ובעשרה תלמידי רשב"י, ובהרוגי לוד וביתר, כלם כנז"ל, הם מבחי 'הפנימיות. ועוד כנגדם טפות אחרים וכנגדם וכמספרם, והם מבחי ' החצוניות. ואמנם לא ביאר לי מורי ז"ל עניינם, מי הם הצדיקים אשר לקחו הלבושים האלה:

ודע, כי כל בחי 'אלו הטפות והלבושים הנז"ל, הם הנקראים בדברי הנביאים, בלשון שארית. אלא שאותם שהם מבחי 'ישראל, נקראים שארית ישראל, וכמש"ה שארית ישראל לא יעשו עולה וגו'. ואותם שהם מן בחי 'יעקב, נקראים שארית יעקב. וכמש"ה, והיה שארית יעקב בגוים. ולפי שיש חמשה בחי 'בחמשה הזווגים הנז"ל, לכן כנגדם נזכר בדברי הנביאים פעמים רבות שארית יעקב שארית ישראל. גם נזכר ב ' פעמים שאר בפסוק, שאר ישוב, שאר יעקב, כנגד שארית ישראל, ושארית יעקב:

ונבאר עתה, מי הם הטפות של הזווג השלישי. דע, כי אע"פ שכפי סדר מעלת הזווגים האלו, הטפות של הזווג השלישי, הם גדולים משל הרביעי וחמישי. אמנם לענין תולדותם וביאתם בעה"ז, הם אחרונים שבכל החמשה זווגים, ואלו הם עתידים לבא בדור אחרון, קודם ביאת משיחנו בעהי"ת. ולפי שהם עתידים לבא בגלות זה האחרון, לכן נרמז ביאתם בנבואת ישעיה הנביא ע"ה, בפסוק משא דומה אלי קורא משעיר וגו'. וכבר נתבאר בזוהר, כי נבואה זו, נאמרה על גלות זה האחרון. והענין הוא במה שנודע מספר הזוהר בפרשת בא, כי ליל הוא קודם חצות, ולילה הוא לאחר חצות. והם ענין שתי הכתות הנז"ל בזווג השלישי, אשר כלם הם מן הזווג של אחר חצות לילה, אלא שהי"ב מהם הם מכללות החצי הראשון של הלילה, ועליהם נתנבא ישעיה ע"ה, שהשכינה צועקת מתוך גלותה בשעיר, שהיא גלות אדום, ואומרת לשי"ת, שומר מה מלילה, שהם הכת האחת של הי"ב טפות, שמן הזווג שאחר חצות לילה, הנקרא לילה. וכנגד הכת האחרת, שהם הי"ב טפות, שיצאו מזווג כללות חצי הראשונה של לילה, כי ליל, אמר שומר מה מליל. והקב"ה הנקרא שומר, משיב לה, כמט"ה אמר שומר אתא בוקר וגם לילה, אתא בקר, הם אותם הנולדים מזווג קדרותא דצפרא שהוא בקר. וכנגד העשרים הנולדים מזווג שלאחר חצות, אמר וגם לילה. גם אמר אם תבעיון בעיו, פי, 'כי להיות ארבעה ועשרים טפות אלו, של השתי כתות הנז', באים בדרא בתראה, לכן צריכים שישתדלו להרבות בתשובה, ובשאלות ובתחנונים לפני הקב"ה, שיושיעם מן הגלות ויגאלם. ולכן בפסוק שאר ישוב שאר יעקב, נזכרו שתי פעמים שאר, כנגד ב 'הכתות הנז 'כאשר כתבתי לעיל וע"ש). הגהה - אמר שמואל, צ"ע, שכפי הדרוש הזה היה לו הפסוק להקדים מלת ליל בתחלה, היל"ל שומר מה מליל שומר מה מלילה, וצ"ע:

Chapter 27
דע, כי אין לך אדם שאין לו נשמה, בבחי 'אור מקיף ואור פנימי, דוגמת מה שנתבאר אצלנו בדרוש הצלם של המוחין דז"א. והנה כאשר נולדו נדב ואביהוא ובאו לעולם, אז היתה יאשית והתחלת תקון שרש קין, של בחינת הב 'שורש מאדה"ר שהיא היותר מעולה, ושם באו כלולים כל הנשמות שבשרש הנזכר, בצלם של נדב ואביהוא, בבחי 'או"מ עליהם. אבל עדיין לא נטהרו כל הנשמות ההם, זולתי שתי נצוצות נדב ואביהוא עצמם, וכל שאר הנשמות של השורש הנזכר, שבאו כלולות שם בצלם אור מקיף של נדב ואביהוא, כל נשמה ונשמה מהם היתה מעורבת בתוך קליפת הרע שלה. וכאשר נולדה נשמה אחרת, מאותם שהיו כלולות בו בצלם נדב ואביהוא, ובאה בעה"ז, אז אותה הנשמה היתה נקיה וטהורה מן קליפתה, וכל שאר הנשמות של השרש הזה, באו כלולות בצלם של זו הנשמה שנטהרה, ועדיין כלם נתונות תוך:
קליפתם. ועד"ז נמשך הדבר, כי היתה נשמה אחרת נטהרת ומתגלת שם מתוך קליפתה, ואז באה לעה"ז, וכל השאר של השרש הזה שעדיין לא נטהרו, היו באות כלולות בצלם, בסוד או"מ של הנשמה שכבר נטהרה ובאה בעה"ז:
וכבר הודעתיך, כי אין טהרת הנשמות וביאתם בעה"ז, כפי סדר מעלתם ומדרגתם, רק כפי המזדמן, כפי זכיות השעה ההיא של האדם התחתון, אשר המשיך הנשמה ההיא בטפת זרעו, כמבואר בדרושים הקודמים כי לפעמים הנשמות שהם יותר גבוהות ומעולות, עומדות בעמקי הקליפות, ואינם יכולים לצאת משם, עד זמן רב שיזדמן איזה זכות מתייחס אליהם להוציאם. ונשמות הגרועות מהם, יוכלו לצאת משם, קודם האחדות לסבב זכות הנעשה אז, המייתחס אליהם. ולפעמים שאדם חוטא איזה חטא ולבא בעה"ז, ורוצים הקליפות לאבדו ולהטעותו, ואז ממשיכים לו נשמה אחת משרשו, שהיתה טבועה ביון בעה"ז, ומעורבת עם כמה קליפות וחיצונים, ומוציאם אותם משם, וממשיכים אותה משם, בבחי ' מצולת הקליפות, צלם על האדם ההוא שחטא, כדי להחטיאו יותר. ולפעמים יארע כי הנשמה הזאת שהמשיכוה עליו, היא נשמה גדולה, אלא שהיתה טבועה בעמקי הקליפות, והקליפות חשבו כי כבר היא אבודה ביניהם ולא תשוב לקדמותה, והקב"ה עוזרה, ומתנערת מקליפתה, ומראה כחה וקדושתה, ואדרבה מסייעת את האדם ההוא להיטיב. וז"ס פסוק עת אשר שלט האדם באדם לרע לו, ר"ל, עת אשר שלט האדם הבליעל של הקליפה, באדם שהיא הנשמה הקדושה, והוא טעה, כי חשב שהיתה לטובתו של הקליפה, ואדרבה הוא לרע לו, כנזכר בסבא דמשפטים. ואח"כ הנשמה ההיא מזדככת ונטהרת, ובאה גם היא אח"כ בעה"ז ע"ד הנז"ל:
קצורו של דבר דע, כי הנשמות כלם ע"י חטאו של אדה"ר או של קין והבל וכיוצא, נתערבו טוב ברע, פירוש, כי ירדו בעמקי הקליפות, בתוך האדם הבליעל, ונתעלמו שם. וכאשר הגיע זמן איזה נשמה מהם לבא בגוף בעה"ז, מחמת זכיות איזה האדם בעה"ז כנזכר, אי אפשר לה להתגלגל תכף בגוף בעה"ז, בצאתה מעמקי הקליפות, אבל צריך שאחר שתצא מעמקי הקליפות, שתכלל בבחי 'צלם ואור מקיף שלשה פעמים על ראש שלשה אנשים זה אחר זה, שיהיו מן השרש שלו, ואח"כ תכנס בגוף הנולד אח"כ,

ותהיה בו בבחי 'נשמה של אור פנימי גמור, ואז בפעם הזאת נקרא גלגול א 'שלה, ומשם ואילך תתגלגל גלגולים אחרים כפי הצורך כנודע. ולפעמים יארע, שג 'אנשים שקדמו לו שבא הוא כלול הוא בצלם אור מקיף שלהם, לא נתקנו בתחלה בזמנם ככל הצורך, ואז כאשר יתגלגל האדם הזה בגלגול הא ', יתגלגלו גם הם יחד עמו להשלים תקונם. האמנם אין הגוף הזה נקרא, אלא ע"ש האדם הזה החדש שנתגלגל פעם א 'זו, והשלשה אחרים הם שם כאורחים אע"פ שהם ממש מגולגלים שם עד יום המיתה:
גם דע, כי האיש הזה מחדש שבא עתה בגלגול בפעם א ', יש לו טורח גדול להכניע יצרו, אע"פ שנשמתו תהיה גבוהה מאד, לפי שזה הוא התחלת הזדככו מן הקליפות, כי אפילו בהיותו בבחי 'צלם, היה מעורב בקליפתו כנז. 'גם לטעם הנזכר, מוכרח הוא שהאיש הזה יהיה עצב מאד כל ימיו, ודואג בקרבו תמיד ללא סבה, אבל הסבה האמיתית הוא, כי הקליפות מהם המשכת העצבון כנודע. וז"ס טעם מספיק אל דוד המלך ע"ה, ידידו יתברך ומצינו בו שהיה יצרו מתגבר עליו בבת שבע ובאביגיל, והוא פלא גדול, אלא הטעם מובן עם הנזכר, כי אז היתה התחלת יציאתו מעמקי הקליפות. ובזה תבין כמה פסוקים שהיה אומר דוד המלך ע"ה על עצמו, טבעתי ביון מצולה וכו ', וכיוצא, ודע כי לטעם הנזכר, אין עונות האיש הזה החדש נחשבים לפניו יתברך כשאר בני אדם, לפי שעדיין הוא נתון בין הקליפות, וטרחו גדול לצאת מתוכם. וז"ס ארז"ל אלמלא אתה דוד והוא שאול, הייתי מאבד כמה דוד מפני שאול, והבן זה מאד:
ולפעמים יארע כי האיש הזה החדש, תהיה נשמתו מעולה וגבוה מאד, ואינו יכול להכניע יצרו, ואל"כ בקלות גדול היה יכול להיות חסיד גדול. בזה יתבאר לך סוד נמרץ, כי לפעמים חטא קטן של אדם אחד, יענש עליו מאד. ועון גדול של אדם אחר, אינו נענש עליו. וז"ס הצור תמים פעלו כי כל דרכיו משפט וכו ', ודי בזה למשכילים. ולכן אין להרהר אחר מדותיו יתברך, אף לא אחר הצדיקים, אף אם יחטאו. גם צריך שתדע, כי מי שהוא מבחי 'קין השנית המעולה, הנה עם היותו מעורב טוב ברע, הנה הטוב שבו גדול מאד, אלא שהוא מעורב בקליפות רעות רבות ומזוהמות, והרע הוא מרובה בו על הטוב, והסבה היא לפי שכל שרש קין הוא מן הגבורה, שבהם נאחזים הקליפות והחיצונים:

Chapter 28
דע, כי ז"א יש לו שלשה מוחין, שהם חו"ב, וביניהם המוח השלישי הנקרא דעת, הכלול מחו"ג, תרין עיטרין. וכאשר חטא אדה"ר, גרם שירד מוח הדעת למטה בין ב 'הכתפות של ז"א, בשליש העליון של הת"ת, שהוא עד מקום החזה, ושם נפרדו החסדים בכתף ימין, והגבורות בכתף שמאל. ונודע, כי קין והבל נולדו אחר שחטא אדה"ר, והנה קין הוא מן אלו הגבורות שבכתף השמאלי, אחר ירידתם שם, כי אז אין להם כ"כ הארה כמו בהיותם למעלה במוח עצמו, והרי זה גרעון אחר. עוד גרעון ב ', כי אלו היה הדעת למעלה במקומו בראשו, היה חיצוניות הנפש, מן העצם והבשר של הראש עצמו, כי נודע שאין נשמה שאין בה פנימיות וחיצוניות שהוא הלבוש שלה. ונמצא כי הפנימיות שהוא מן הגבורות של מוח הדעת, היה מתייחס עם החיצוניות שלה, שהיא עצם ובשר של הראש מצד שמאל. אבל כיון שירד מוח הדעת למטה, נמצא כי פנימיות נשמת שרש של קין, הם ממוח הגבורות שבדעת, וחיצוניותם הוא מאבר כתף

השמאלי, ואינם מתייחסים יחד, והרי יש להם גרעון אחר בבחי 'פנימיותם, שאינם מאירים עתה, כמו אלו היו למעלה במקומם בראש. וגרעון שני בבחי 'חיצוניותם, שהם ממקום תחתון, שהוא מן הכתף, ולא ממקום העליון הראוי להם שהוא מן הגלגלתא:

ודע, כי אעפ"י שבעה"ז אין כח ביד האדם לתקן גרעונות אלו, אפילו ע"י מעשים טובים, עכ"ז אם האדם יטיב מעשיו בעה"ז, זוכה כי לעתיד לבא בימי המשיח בע"ה, יתוקנו הפגמים האלה, והדעת יעלה למעלה במקומו בראש, ואז יאירו פנימיות הנשמות הנז 'כמתחלה בהיותם למעלה בראש, וגם חיצוניותם יהיה אז ממקים עליון הראוי להם, שהוא מן הגלגלתא:

ודע, כי אני מסופק בענין החצוניות אשר להם עתה, שהוא מן הכתף השמאלי, אם אמר לי מורי ז"ל, שישאר גם אז בימות המשיח, עם פנימיות הנשמות הנזכר, כיון שעתה בעולם הזה נתחבר יחד. או אם הוא הפך זה. גם דע, כי כמו שירד הדעת למטה בין הכתפים בהטאו של אדה"ר, כן ירדה בחי 'פרצוף לאה מאחורי הדעת של ז"א, כי שם היתה מקומה תחלה. ועתה אחר חטאו של אדה"ר, ירדה גם היא למטה, באחור הכתפים, כנודע כי לאה יוצאת מן המלכות של אימא, שבמוח הדעת של ז"א. המלובש תוך היסוד דאימא כנודע:

ודע, כי כל אלו הנשמות שהזכרנו בדרושים אלו, שהם כמו ר 'עקיבא וזולתו, שהם אחד משרש קין, כלם הם מן גבורת ההוד שבדעת, שהיא הגבורה החמשית. וגם כל הנשמות היוצאות מגבורת ההוד אשר בדעת של לאה, כלם הם קרובים אל שרש של ר 'עקיבא כנזכר, ונקראים שרש אחד. ועד"ז תקיש בשרש הבל, שהוא מן החסדים שבדעת:

ענין שרש קין וממנו תקיש לשרש הבל. דע, כי כל אלו הנצוצות של נשמות התלויות בשרש קין, כלם היו תלויים בו בקין. וכאשר חטא, כל הנצוצות ההם נתערבו בקליפות וכל הנצוצות המעולות והחשובות, ירדו למטה יותר מכל השאר, כי אלו נפלו לעמקי הקליפות, לפי שעון קין היה פוגם במחשבה עליונה, כנזכר בספר התקונין, תקון ס"ט. והנה ר 'עקיבא בן יוסף, מקום אחיזת שורש נפשו, הוא בזרועות, בסוד וידו אוחזת בעקב עשו, כמבואר בדרושים אלו, והנה היד לפעמים האדם משפיל אותה עד העקב, ולפעמים יכולה להעלותה עד הראש, משא"כ בשאר איברים. ולכן אלו הזרועות יפלו לעמקי הקליפות עד העקב. וכאשר ר 'עקיבא נהרג, נתעלה ועלה עד המחשבה העליונה, וז"ס מ"ש הקב"ה למרע"ה על הריגת ר 'עקיבא, שתוק, כך עלה במחשבה, כדי לתקן הפגם. ונמצא כי כל הנשמות שהם מבחי 'אלו הזרועות יכולות ע"י מעשיהם הטובים, לעלות במעלה רמה ונשאה לאין קץ, יותר מכמה אנשים שקדמו אליהם בזמנים הראשונים וזכור זה:

גם דע, כי אע"פ שאיזו נשמה משרש קין הנזכר, תבא לעה"ז בפעם ראשונה, שאז נקראת חדשה, צריך להשלים נפשו רוחו ונשמתו ממה שנפגמו בהיותם כלולות בנפשו של קין כשחטא, וצריכה לתקן ולהשלים בחי 'חלקה אשר בשרש הנזכר:

הנה נתבאר למעלה בענין המ"ע ומצות ל"ת, איך הם תלויים ברמ"ח איברי נשמת אדם הראשון, ואין לך אבר שאינו כלול מן בשר וגידים ועצמות. ודע, כי העצמות היא הבחי 'היותר מעולה, בבחי 'המוח שבתוכו בפנים, ולא בבחי 'העצמות עצמם. ואחריו במעלה הם הגידים יען כי חיות האדם עובר בתוכם, שהוא הדם המתפשט בתוך העורקים של גוף האדם, וגם כי הם מקושרים כל האיברים כלם, ומעמידים אותם בבחי 'קומה אחת. והגרוע שבשלשתם הוא הבשר. והנה בכל בחי 'מאלו השלשה, שהם, בשר, וגידים, ועצמות, יש בהם נשמות, הנקרא שרשי הבחינה ההיא, והם הת"ח אשר שם, וסביבותיהם נמשכים הענפים שהם בעלי בתים, ובעלי מעשה, ועמי הארץ. וענין זה שייך בכל בחי 'מאלו השלשה, שבכל אבר ואבר. ודע, כי יש איברים ארוכים כמו הזרועות והשוקים, ואז יש הרחק גדול בין הנפשות אשר באבר ההוא בין זו לזו. אבל מי שהוא מן אבר הכתף וכיוצא בו, הנה כל הת"ח אשר שם מחוברים יחד וקרובים זה לזה קורבה גדולה:

Chapter 29
הקדמה כ"ט בענין בריאת אדם הראשון ותולדותיו:
דע, כי אם אדה"ר כאשר נברא ביום ששי, היה מתעכב וממתין מלהזדווג עם חוה אשתו, עד ליל שבת, היו כל העולמות נתקנים כמו שהודעתיך. ולפי שבו ביום שהיה חול עלה למטה והוליד, לכן יצא קין מעורב טוב עם רע, כמו שיתבאר. גם אם קין לא היה חוטא, היה הוא הבכור, והיה הוא ותאומתו כדוגמת חכמה ובינה, והיו הבל ותאומתו כדוגמת ת"ת ומלכות:
וכן עד"ז יצאו אח"כ עשו ויעקב כדוגמת קין והבל. ואלו היה עשו ראוי וצדיק, היה לו יתרון עם יעקב, כי היה הבכור במקום חכמה, ויעקב במקום ת"ת. וכיון שחטא עשו, נטלה ממנו הבכורה, ונטל יעקב פי שנים, חלקו וחלק אחיו עשו, ולכן נקרא יעקב כנגד ת"ת, וישראל כנגד חכמה. גם בזה תבין ענין, ויאהב יצחק את עשו כי ציד בפיו:
ונחזור לענין, כי כאשר חטא אדם בע"ש, ועי"כ היה כח בנחש להטיל זוהמא בחוה אשתו, ואז נולדו קין והבל מעורבים מטוב ורע, אך היה שנוי ביניהם, והוא, כי קין היה רובו רע ומעוטו טוב, והבל היה להפך. ואמנם זה הענין הוזכר אצלינו בהרבה מקומות, וצריך להודיעך ביאורו, ומה ענין רובו או מיעוטו וזכרהו:
דע, כי קין היה בו נר"ן מבי"ע דקדושה, ושלשה אלו נתערבו בקליפות דרע בנר"ן, אמנם הבל היו בו נר"ן קדושות כנזכר בקין, אמנם תערובת הרע של הקליפה, לא נתערבה רק בנפש ורוח שבו, אבל הנשמה היתה כלה טוב, בלי תערובת רע. וזה ענין אומרו רובו טוב ומעוטו רע, כי לא היה שוה בשוה בשלשה חלקיו. אמנם קין, היו שלשתם מעורבים טוב ברע:
ונניח עתה מלבאר גלגולי קין, ונבאר גלגול הבל אחיו, כבר נתבאר אצלינו, כי אין הרוח מתגלגל, עד אשר תתגלגל הנפש בתחלה ותושלם להתקן, ואח"כ בא הרוח ומתגלגל להתקן, ואחר תקון הרוח, מתגלגלת הנשמה. והנה הבל היו בו נפש ורוח מקולקלים ומעורבים רע בטוב, אבל הנשמה היתה טובה לגמרי.
והנה כאשר נתגלגלה כדי להתקן, הנה התחלה הנפש להתגלגל בסדר הנזכר, ונתנה לשת בנו של אדה"ר, ואז נסתלק ממנה הרע שבה, ונתנה בבלעם הרשע. והנה ב 'בחי 'אלו הטוב והרע של הנפש, שהיו כלולים בהבל, נרמזו בשמו. כי הטוב שבה, היא ה 'של הבל, וזו נתנה לשת כנזכר, וז"ס כל שת"ה תחת רגליו, אותיות שת"ה הם שת ה', וכבר ידעת כי מזמור זה נאמר על משה, שעליו נאמר ותחסרהו מעט מאלהים והנה הוא שת עצמו כמו שיתבאר. והרע שבנפש הבל, הם שתי אותיות ב"ל, וז"ס ומשפטים בל ידעום, כי שתי אותיות מורים על הקליפות, ואלו שתי אותיות נתנו אל בלעם, ב"ל מן בלעם:
וכבר הודעתיך, כי אפילו בחי 'הרע, כאשר מצטרפת ונבררת מתוך הטוב, בהכרח הוא שיהיה בה קצת ערוב נצוצי קדושה, וז"ס בלעם, שהיה נביא מכח הנצוצות האלו. גם ז"ס שאמרו רז"ל שהיה שקול כמשה, וזה להיותם מבחי 'אחת, כי גם משה היה מן שת מהטוב שבו, כמו שיתבאר. ולכן נתגלגל הטוב המועט שהיה בבלעם, ונתן בנבל הכרמלי, ושם התחיל להתקן. ולפי שבלעם אין כחו אלא בפיו בלשון הרע ובקללות, לכן כשהרגו פנחס, נתגלגל באבן דומם, לתקן לשון הרע שהיה בפיו, שהוא הפך הדומם. וכמו שנתבאר אצלינו גלגולי אדם בדצח"ם. וכאשר נבל אחז דרכו, ופגם יותר בלשון הרע שאמר על דוד המלך ע"ה, באומרו מי דוד ומי בן ישי וכו', ואדרבה חזר וקלקל את אשר עותו מתחלה, ולא די שלא תקן, אלא שקלקל, לכן כתיב בו ויהי לאבן, כי מזלייהו חזי, מה שנתגלגל תחלה והיה לאבן דומם כנזכר, וראה שקלקל יותר, ואז וימת לבו בקרבו:
והרי נתבאר, כי נפש הטוב דהבל, נתנה לשת ושם נתקנה לגמרי. ונפש הרע דהבל, אשר עדיין היו בה קצת נצוצי קדושה, נתגלגלה בבלעם, ואח"כ בנבל, ולכן יש בו בנבל אותיות ב"ל מבלעם והבל:

ואחר שנתקנה הנפש לגמרי, אז כבר יכול הרוח להתקן, ואמנם נודע, כי הרוח בא משש קצוות, חג"ת נה"י, אבל כללותו הוא שלשה קוים, ימין, ושמאל, ואמצע. ואמנם הרוח הזה, נתגלגל בנח הצדיק, והוא בחי 'התפשטות הו"ק של הת"ת. ואח"כ כשהוליד שלשה בנים, אז הרוח הכולל שלשה קוים כנזכר, נתגלגל בשלשתם, והם, יפת, כנגד חסד. חם, כנגד גבורה. שם, כנגד ת"ת. וזו הבחי 'של הת"ת שבשם, היא בחי 'ספירת ת"ת בעצמה, אשר גם יש בה כללות כל הו"ק. ואמנם הרוח הזה לא נתקן, ולא הוברר הרע שבו לגמרי, כמו שנתקנה הנפש בשת כנזכר, ולכן כיון שעדיין נשאר מעורב מטוב ורע, לכן מן חם בן נח יצא טבי עבדו של ר"ג, ולכן נקרא טבי, ע"ש שהוא מבחי 'הטוב שהיתה עדיין מעורבת ברע, ועתה נתנה בטבי:

אח"כ נתגלגל הנשמה במרע"ה, ולפי שמעולם לא נתערב בה שום קליפה דרע כנז"ל, והיה טוב בלי רע, לכן נאמר בו ותרא אותו כי טוב הוא, לאפוקי הנפש והרוח שהיו מעורבים מטוב ורע כנזכר. ואמנם כבר הודעתיך, כי הגם שכל זמן שאין הנפש נתקנה לגמרי, אין הרוח בא עד שתתקן הנפש, וכן אין הנשמה באה עד שיתוקן הרוח, האמנם אחר שכבר נתקן הרוח, יכולה הנפש שכבר נתקנה בתחלה, לבא עתה להתחבר עם הרוח הנתקן. ולכן אחר שנתקנה הנשמה, יכולים הנפש והרוח שכבר נתקנו בתחלה, לבא עתה להתחבר עם הנשמה הנתקנת. והנה משה שהנשמה שלו היתה נתקנת, יכלו לבא בו גם הנפש והרוח שכבר נתקנו כנזכר, ולכן כל הבחינות של גלגולי הנפש והרוח נרמזו במשה באופן זה, כי הנה ש' של שת היא במשה, ושתי אותיות ש"ם כלם במשה, וה' של הבל היא במשה:

ובזה תבין פסוק ראה אתה אומר ואתה אמרת ידעתיך בשם, ולא נמצאת אמירה זו נזכרת בשום פסוק, אבל ירמוז אל מה שכתוב, כי שם נתגלגל במשה. ועליו)גם נח (רמז ואתה אמרת ידעתיך בשם. גם נח נתגלגל בו, ועליו רמז וגם מצאת ח"ן בעיני, הם אותיות נ"ח למפרע. ויען היות שם נגלה באותיות משה, הזכיר בו ידיעה, כמש"ה ידעתיך בשם, שהוא נודע ונגלה. אבל בנח שלא נרמז שמו במשה, לא הזכיר בו ידיעה, אלא מציאה, וגם מצאת חן, כמי שמוצא מציאה טמונה ונסתרת, ולכן חזר ואמר ויאמר אם נא מצאתי חן בעיניך הודיעני נא את דרכיך, ולא אמר אם נא ידעתני בשם, ואם מצאתי חן, לפי שבחי 'שם כבר היתה פשוטה לו, כיון שנרמזה ונגלתה בשמו. אבל בחי 'נח איני יודע אם היא כלולה בי, כיון שלא נרמז בשמי, ולכן אם גם נח כלול בי, ועי"כ מצאתי חן בעיניך, תמורת נח הודיעני נא את דרכיך ואדעך, למען אמצא חן בעיניך, כי גם בענין נח תהיה לי ידיעה מבוררת שמצאתי חן בעיניך להיות נכלל בי:

אמר שמואל, עוד מצאתי לקוטים מפוזרים, נעים ונדים מהדרושים הנז 'באדה"ר, ואמרתי להעתיקם פה, אע"פ שאין להם שייכות כ"כ פה, וז"ל, דע, כי קודם שחטא אדה"ר, היה בו כללות כל ד 'עולמות אבי"ע, בכל חמשה בחי 'שבכל עולם מהם, שהוא, יחידה, חיה, נשמה, רוח, נפש. ואחר שחטא, נסתלקו ממנו קצתם, וחזרו למקומם בקדושה, וזו מדרגה אחת. וקצתם נשארו בו באדם, ולא שלטו בהם הקליפות וזו מדרגה שנית. וקצתם נשארו ממנו, ונפלו לתוך הקליפות, נשמות הזכרים שהיו באדם, נפלו בקליפה דכורא. ונשמות הנקבות שהיו בחוה נפלו בקליפה נוקבא, וזו מדרגה שלישית. ודע שהמדרגה השניה, נחלקת לשתים, הא 'היא, הנשמות שנשארו באדם, לצורך גופו ועצמו. והשנית היא, הנשמות שנשארו בו, אמנם כשנולדו בניו קין והבל, הנחילם להם ונתנו בהם:

ונבאר עתה כללות כל השלשה מדרגות הנז"ל בקצור, וקודם לכן צריך שנקדים כמה הקדמות. נודע, כי ד' עולמות אבי"ע, הם נקראים או"א וזו"ן. ונודע, כי באבא אין שום קליפה נאחזת בו, ובאימא בג 'ראשונות שבה, ובזו"ן בכתרים שלהם. ובכל שאר בחינותיהם יש בהם אחיזת הקליפות כשבני אדם חוטאים:

ונבא אל הבאור, הנה כל הבחי 'הנז', שאין הקליפה נאחזת בהם, נקראת זיהרא עילאה דאדה"ר, זולתי בחי 'הנפש שבהם. ונמצא, כי בחי 'יחידה חיה נשמה רוח, דכל עולם האצילות הנקרא אבא כנזכר, וכן בחי 'או"א של עולם הבריאה הנקרא אימא כנזכר וכן בחי 'עשרים כתרים שבזו"ן של עולם הבריאה, ושמנים כתרים שבאו"א וזו"ן דיצירה, ובאו"א וזו"ן דעשיה, סך כלם עשרה פרצופים, וכל פרצוף מהם כלול מי"ס, וכל ספירה מהם כלולה מעשר, ויש בה בחי 'כתר, נמצא שהם ק 'כתרים בעשר פרצופים הנז', והנה גם כל כתר מהם כלול מי"ס, וארבעה בחי 'עליונות שבו, שהם, יחידה חיה נשמה רוח שבכל כתר מן ק 'כתרים הנזכר, נקרא זיהרא עילאה, ובכל בחי 'אלו נסתלקו לגמרי מן אדם, ועלו למקום קדושתם.

באופן שהם ב 'בחי 'דזיהרא, הא 'היא זיהרא עילאה דאצילות, שהם יחידה חיה נשמה רוח שבעולם האצילות. והב 'היא, זיהרא עילאה שבשלשה עולמות בי"ע, והיא כוללות כל ב 'פרצופים או"א, שהם חיה, ונשמה של עולם הבריאה, וכ"ש א"א הנקרא יחידה דבריאה. וכן ד 'בחי 'הנקראות יחידה, חיה, נשמה,

רוח, שבכל כתר מק 'כתרים שיש בעשרה פרצופים, שיש מזו"ן דבריאה עד סוף נוקבא דעשיה, כל זה נקרא זיהרא עילאה של שלשה עולמות בי"ע כנזכר. וב 'מיני זיהרא אלו, נסתלקו לגמרי מן אדם, וזו נקראת מדרגה א':

מדרגה ב', גם היא נקראת זיהרא עילאה, שאין קליפה נאחזת בה, אמנם להיות גרועה מעט מהמדרגה הראשונה, לא נסתלקה לחזור למקומה לגמרי, אמנם נשארה באדם, והיא בחי 'נפש דעולם האצילות, וזו בחי 'אחת דאצילות. הבחי 'הב 'היא, הנפש שבק 'כתרים הנז 'שבשלשה עולמות בי"ע, ושתיהם נשארו באדם ממש כנזכר. ונקראים המדרגה השנית. המדרגה הג 'היא, כל שאר הספירות, שיש בעשר פרצופין הנז, 'זולת המאה כתרים הנז, 'כי כ"ם נשרו ממנו וירדו למקום הקליפות כנז"ל:

ועתה אכתוב, מה שנסתפק לי, כי לא קבלתי ממורי ז"ל, והוא זה, כי הנה שמעתי ממנו, כי המדרגה הזו השניה, נחלקת לשתים, האחת העליונה היא, הנשמות שנשארו תמיד באדם עצמו בגופו. השנית הגרועה ממנה, היא הנשמות שהוריש לקין והבל כשנולדו, ואפשר כי אין עלוי וגרעון הנז, 'רק לאותה הבחי, 'אבל לבחינות אחרות אפשר שזאת הב 'מעולה מן הראשונה. גם נסתפקתי, מה הם הנשמות שנשארו באדם, ומה הם הנשמות שהוריש קין להבל, ואיך נתחלקה מדרגה זו השנית לשתי חלוקות, וכיצד סדר חלוקתם. ואמנם ידעת מה שכתבתי, כי קין והבל היו בהם ב 'בחי, 'אחד נשמותיהם של קין והבל עצמם, שהם מג 'עולמות בי"ע לבד, כשאר נשמות בני אדם, שאינם מהמדרגה השנית הנזכר.

והשנית היא, החלק הב 'מן המדרגה הב 'הנזכר שכתבנו, שהורישה אדם אביהם להם, ויש בה כללות כל המשכת ד 'עולמות אבי"ע, מן סוף הנפש של עולם העשיה, ועד תחילת הנפש דעולם האצילות, וזו היא בחי 'מעולה מאד מאד:

גם כתבנו, כי שתי חלקי זו המדרגה הב 'שוים, זולתי לענין בחי 'א 'לבדה הנזכר שם. גם כתבנו, כי קין והבל לקחו נפש דאצילות, נראה כי יותר גבוהה ומעולה חלק הב 'ממדרגה הב, 'שהיא של קין והבל, יותר מנשמות שנשתיירו באדם לצורך עצמו, לא נשארה באדם ממש, וגם לא נסתלקה לגמרי, אבל נשארה חופפת ומרחפת על ראש אדם, עד שנולדו קין והבל ולקחוה, ועוד בחי ' חלקיהם אשר בשלשה עולמות בי"ע. גם כתבנו, כי אחר שחטא אדה"ר, לקח חנוך זיהרא דאריך, ואדם זיהרא דאבא, וחוה דאימא, והבל דז"א, וקין דנוקבא. ולא ידעתי אם כל זה הוא בחלקי האצילות, או בחלקי בי"ע וכ"ז צ"ע:

גם בענין שלשה ראשונות, שהם, אריך, ואו"א דבריאה כנז"ל, לא שמעתי ממורי ז"ל, מי לקחם, אם אדם, אם קין והבל בניו, וכ"ז צ"ע. ובמקום אחר כתבתי, כי מרע"ה שהיא גלגול הבל לקחם:

עוד כתבתי, כי דעת דז"א, הוא נעשה מתרין פרקין דשתי זרועות דא"א, אותם המחוברים בתרין כתפין דאריך, ואלו נקראים ירושה, שהורישו או"א לבניהם זו"ן, ושאר ד 'פירקין שבשתי זרועות, נשארו לעצמם, ונקראים אחסנתא דאו"א. ונודע, כי קין והבל, מזה הדעת דז"א יצאו, ונמצא כי אדם וחוה, שהם נקראים או"א, לקחו לעצמם בחי 'ד 'פירקין הנז, 'שמהם נעשו חו"ב כפולים לשניהם, ותרין פרקין שהורישו לבניהם, הם הנקראים דעת דז"א כנזכר. וכן נראה בפירוש במקום אחר, כי שאר המוחין השאיר אדם לעצמו, והדעת לבדו הוא שהוריש לקין והבל בניו, נמצא שנוכל לומר, שכל חלקי הדעת הוריש לקין והבל, מן הדעת שבנפש דאצילות, עד הדעת דנוקבא דעשיה. ומה שנשאר באדם לעצמו, הם שאר חלקי המוחין חו"ב שבו, המתפשטים בכל י"ס גופו. כי כן גם החו"ג של הדעת שהוריש לקין ולהבל, גם הם מתפשטים בכל גוף ז"א בי"ס שבו כנודע, וזה מוכרח. ובזה יובן גריעות נשמת קין והבל, מנשמות שנשתיירו באדם עצמו לפי שעיקר אחיזת הקליפות הוא בדעת, בסוד עץ הדעת טוב ורע, כמבואר אצלינו. אבל בבחי ' עצמם, יותר מאירות הנשמות הבאות מן הדעת, מהנשמות של תרין מוחין חו"ב, כי יש להם כמה לבושים ומסכים, כנודע ממעלת נדב ואביהוא על אלעזר ואיתמר, כמו שכתבנו במקום אחר, ושם נתבאר היטב, ענין קין והבל בכל אלו הספקות שנסתפקתי, וגם איך הגבורות שהם עיטרא דנוקבא יצא מהם קין ונצוצותיו זכרים וע"ש היטב:

הקדמה קטנה בסוד היבם, וז"ל, הנה האדם כאשר נתחייב לבא בגלגול ומת, ואח"כ נולד לו בן, אחר מיתתו שהניח אשתו מעוברת, הנה האיש ההוא מתגלגל ובא בגוף הבן ההוא, וז"ס היבום. וז"ס אביי האמורא, כי נולד אחר שמת אביו, ואז נתגלגל אביו ממש, ולכן נקרא אביי ע"ש אביו שנתגלגל בו. ונלע"ד שאין זה ממורי ז"ל, אלא להר"א הלוי ז"ל:

הקדמה קטנה, יש נפשות שאינם מבחי 'שרש קדושת שבת עצמו, אלא מכללות תוספת השבת, ואין להם

רק אותה בחינה לבדה. גם אינה יכולה לעלות יותר מאותה בחינה, כיון שאין שרשה אלא משם:

Chapter 30
בענין קיום המצות, וז"ל, עוד צריך שתדע בענין הנזכר, של קיום המצות, הנה כל אבר מרמ"ח איברים נשמת אדם הא, 'נכלל בו כל רמ"ח איברים, ולכן תלוי בו כל שעור קומת אדה"ר, מן הראש עד העקב. המשל בזה מי שהוא מאבר הכתף כנז"ל, והנה יש בו כללות רמ"ח מן הראש ועד העקב וכו, 'הנה מי ששורש נשמתו היא בפרטיות העקב של הכתף הזה, אינו צריך להשלים כל הכתף ולתקן כל הפגמים שבו, רק בחי 'העקב לבדו. ואם איזה נצוץ נשמה שמבחי 'העקב הזה, עשה איזה פגם, הנה כל הנצוצות של העקב הזה צריכים לתקן הפגם הזה בעדו, כי כל הנצוצות הנתלים בעקב הזה, כלם ערבים זה לזה, לתקן כל אחד מהם פגם של חבירו, וכשיושלם זה העקב להתקן, אין צורך לשום נצוץ שבו להתגלגל כלל, לתקן שום פגם של שאר נצוצי הכתף:
גם דע, כי כאשר איזה נצוץ מאלו הנצוצות של העקב הנזכר, עשה עבירה אחת, אשר לסבתה הוצרך להתגלגל לתקן הפגם ההוא, הנה הוא מתגלגל עם נצוץ אחר חבירו שבעקב הזה ונתקן עמו. אבל אם העבירה שעשה, היא מאותם שלסבתה גופו כלה, ואינו קם בתחית המתים כנזכר, הנה הנצוץ ההוא שחטא, הוא לבדו מתגלגל בלי שותף בגוף אחר, וגופו הא 'נאבד וכלה. האמנם אם אינו מתגלגל רק לסבת תשלום איזה מצוה שחסר ממנו, אז אינו צריך להתגלגל עם נצוץ אחר, רק הוא לבדו מתגלגל בגוף שני, וכן עד כמה גלגולים הולך ומתגלגל הוא לבדו, עד שישלים כל התרי"ג מצות, ואז כל אותם הגופים שנתגלגל בהם, נוטל לזמן התחיה אותו החלק הנשלם בו, וכלם קמים בתחיה. והרי נתבאר כאן עוד חלק אחד שיש בין המתגלגל להשלים מצוה, למתגלגל לתקן פגם עבירה:
גם דע, כי אם איזה נצוץ של זה העקב, ישלים לתקן נפשו, הנה כל הנצוצות של העקב ההוא אשר קדמו אליו, יתגלו עתה בו, ויאירו בו, ויהיו מאירים בתוך גופו יחד, ויעזרוהו בכל דרכיו לעבודת קונו. ואם יחטא, יחזרו להסתלק ממנו ח"ו, וזה נקרא סוד העבור. והכל כפי מעשיו, כי כפי שעור או בחי 'המצות שעושה, כך יתגלו בו הנצוצות הנז'. וכפי בחי 'העבירות שעשה, או כשיעור מספרם, יסתלקו ממנו הנצוצות. ועד"ז בחלק נצוצות הרוח, אם תקן נצוץ רוחו. וכן בנצוצות הנשמה, אם תקן נצוץ נשמתו:
גם דע, כי כפי ערך מעשיו הטובים או הרעים, כך יהיה קרוב או רחוק הנצוצות ההם עמו, כי לפעמים יהיו איזה נצוצות מרוחקים ממנו הרבה, או קרובים אליו. ויש שיהיו מקיפין אותו מרחוק, ויש שיהיו מקיפין אותו בסמוך, וחופפים עליו:
גם דע, כי אפילו אם הנצוצות שהם משרש העקב הנזכר, חסר מנצוץ אחד מהם איזו מצוה, וצריך שיתגלגל עם איזה נצוץ אחר משרשו, אינו מתגלגל אלא עם הנצוץ היותר דומה לו, שבכל נצוצי העקב הזה, אע"פ שכלם הם משרש העקב הזה:
גם דע, כי אם איזה אדם יגרום להחטיא את חבירו, אע"פ שאין שניהם משרש אחד, צריכים שניהם להתגלגל, אותו שהחטיאו יתעבר בו, לסייעו לתקן מה שהחטיאו בתחלה:

דע, כי אע"פ שנתבאר למעלה, כי כל אבר שיש ברמ"ח איברי נשמת אדה"ר, הוא שורש אחד בפני עצמו, ובו נכללים נצוצות נשמות לאין קץ, עכ"ז צריך שתדע, כי כאשר חטאו אדה"ר וחוה אשתו, וקין והבל בניו, הנה אז נתערבו כל נצוצות הנשמות כלם יחד זה בזה, נצוצות של אדם בקין והבל, ונצוצות קין באדם והבל, ונצוצות הבל באדם וקין, וכיוצא בזה. ולכן לפעמים תהיה נפש האדם מן קין, ותכנס בו רוח א' מן אדה"ר, לפי שכשנתערבו יחד, ונצוצות אדם עם נצוצות קין באו פעמים הרבה, שנתדבקו יחד רוח מבחי' אדם עם נפש מבחי' קין. וכן כיוצא בזה בענין הנשמה עם הרוח והנפש. ונמצא, כי אם האדם הזה השלים לתקן את הנפש אשר בו, שהיא מבחי' קין, עד שתהיה דומה ממש במציאות השואה אחת עם הרוח ההוא שמבחי' אדה"ר, הנה יכנס הרוח ההוא ויתלבש בנפש ההוא, אע"פ שאין שניהם ממקור האחד ומסוג אחד, כי זה מאדם וזה מן קין:

ואמנם ענין ערובים אלו, נמשכים עד ביאת המשיח ואליהו ז"ל, אבל משם ואילך, כל דבר ישוב לשרשו, כי הרוח שמבחי' קין, יתחבר יחד עם הנפש הדומה אליו, אשר מבחי' קין. והרוח שמבחי' אדה"ר, יתחבר עם הנפש מבחי' אדם הראשון, אותה הדומה אליה בפרטות. וז"ס פסוק הנה אנכי שולח לכם את אליה הנביא לפני בא יום ה' הגדול והנורא והשיב לב אבות על בנים ולב בנים על אבות. פירוש, כי יחזיר וישיב כל אחד ואחד משרשו הראוי לו בפרטות. והבן זה. ואמנם טעם הדבר הזה נעשה ע"י אליהו ז"ל הוא, כי גם אליהו ז"ל היה מעורב ע"ד הנז"ל, כי נפשו היתה מבחי' נדב ואביהוא, שהם מבחי' קין כמו שיתבאר לקמן, אבל רוחו היה מבחינה אחרת, ולא קבלתי פרטותיו בו ממורי ז"ל, ואע"פ שעוד יש טעמים אחרים בענין:

Chapter 31

דע, כי כל הנשמות ורוחות ונפשות שבכל הנבראים בעה"ז, כלם כלולים ונתלים באדה"ר, כי הנה אדה"ר היה כולל כל החמשה חלקים הנז"ל הנקרא ממטה למעלה נרנח"י הנמשכות מן חמשה פרצופין, י"ס, הנקראים ממעלה למטה א"א ואו"א וזו"ן. ונתחיל לבאר בחי' הנפש, וממנה תקיש אל הרוח ונשמה וכו'. דע, כי נפש אדה"ר כלולה ברמ"ח איברים ושס"ה גידים, ומספר כלם הם תרי"ג. ונמצא היות נפש האדם כלולה מתרי"ג שרשים. ואמנם כל אבר ואבר מרמ"ח איבריו, וכל גיד וגיד משס"ה גידיו, יש לו פרצוף אחד שלם, כולל כל התרי"ג איברים וגידים שבו ממש. ולכן כל אבר או גיד מהם, נקרא שרש אחד גדול ושלם. אמנם לפעמים ע"י העבירות והפגמים, גורם שאלו התרי"ג הגדולים יתחלקו ויתפרדו עד ס' רבוא שרשים קטנים, וגם הם נקראים שרשים ממש, אלא שהם קטנים ולא כראשונים. אבל יותר מס' רבוא שרשים קטנים, אי אפשר להם להתחלק, כי אין גלגול יותר מס' רבוא. כנזכר בתקונין תקון ס"ט. וכן עד"ז כל אבר ואבר, וכל גיד וגיד שבאדה"ר, הנקרא שרש אחד גדול כנזכר, הנה הוא נחלק לתרי"ג נצוצות נשמות כנזכר, ונקראים נצוצות גדולים, וכלם שרש אחד. ולפעמים ע"י הפגם יתחלקו גם הם לס' רבוא נצוצות קטנים, באופן כי הם תרי"ג שרשים גדולים, ולא פחות מזה. אבל אפשר להתחלק עד שעור ס' רבוא שרשים קטנים ולא יותר. ועד"ז בכל שרש מהתרי"ג הגדולים יש בו נצוצות גדולים כמספר תרי"ג, ולא

פחות .אבל יותר אפשר להם להתחלק עד ס 'רבוא נצוצות קטנים ,ולא יותר .האמנם יותר מתרי"ג ,ועד ס '
רבוא ,אפשר שיתחלקו ,עד עשרה אלפים ,וכיוצא בזה עד ס 'רבוא ולא יותר .ודע כי ,כל זה בחלק הנפש .
וכן עד"ז כי יש שיתפרד עד אלף ,ויש עד אלפים ,ויש ממש ,הוא בחלק הרוח .וכן עד"ז בחלק הנשמה:
וסבת הפרש התחלקות הנזכר בין רב למעט הוא ,כפי הפגם והעונות .ודע ,כי קין והבל ,הם ב 'כתפות
אדה"ר ,קין בשמאל ,והבל בימין .ובחי 'הכתף הזה ,הוא אותו הפרק והאבר המחבר את הזרוע עם הגוף , והוא דבוק ממש ומחובר בגוף ,ונוטה מעט לצד אחורי הגוף מלמעלה .וכיון שהדבר כן ,נמצא כי קין והבל
כל אחד מהם ,נתחלקו איבריו עד ס 'רבוא נצוצות קטנים .וכל זה גרם להם חטאם הנודע ,וז"ס מ"ש
בתקונין תקון ס"ט ,כי מרע"ה הוא בקדמיתא הבל ,ואתפשטותיה עד שתין רבוא ,ואתגלגלו נצוצותיו בכל
דור ודור ,בסוד דור הולך ודור בא ,והבן זה:
ויש מעלה אחת לאלו השתי כתפות שבהם נתלים קין והבל ,כי הנה מוח הנקרא דעת ,הנמשך בגוף דרך
חוט השדרה ,בתחלה נמשך דרך ב 'כתפות אלו ,ומשם יורד עוד ונמשך עד היסוד ,ומשם יוצאת טפת
הזרע .ובהגיע טפת הזרע מן הכתף היסוד נקרא היסוד כפת תמרים ,והם אותיות כתף .גם בהתחבר יחד
ב 'הכתפות ביסוד ,שיורדת הטפה משניהם עד היסוד ,אז כתיב שתי כתפות חוברות יהיו לו אל שני
קצותיו וחובר ,כי אז מתחברים ביסוד .גם אז היסוד נאמר בו האלף לך שלמה ,כי שלמה שהוא היסוד
הנקרא את בריתי שלום ,ואז עולה למנין אלף ,שהם בגימטריא ב 'פעמים כתף .האמנם כל כתף לבדו ,
הוא בגימטריא ת"ק ,כמנין אותיות הנעלמות במלוי שד"י כנודע:
ונבאר עתה ענין הכתף השמאלי של אדם ,הנקרא שרש קין .דע ,כי הנה הכתף הזה נקרא אבר א 'כנזכר ,
ונודע כי כל אבר כלול בשר וגידים ועצמות .ודע ,כי אלו הגידים שבכל אבר ואבר ,אינם מכלל השס"ה
גידים הידועים שאינם מכלל הרמ"ח איברים ,אבל הם העורקים הקטנים שבפרטות כל אבר ואבר .והנה
אבר הכתף הזה ,בשלשה בחינותיו ,שהם ,בשר ,וגידים ,ועצמות ,מתחלק עד ס 'רבוא נצוצות נשמות , הכלולות בפרצוף אחד שלם ,מן הראש ועד העקבים .והנה העקב השמאלי שבפרצוף ההוא ,מתחלק
ליותר מן תרי"ג נצוצות נשמות ,ומכללם הם ,נשמת חזקיה מלך יהודה .ונשמת ר 'עקיבא בן יוסף .ונשמת
עקביא בן מהללאל .וכמו שיבאר פרטיהם לקמן .ושלשלת יחוס נשמת השרש הזה .ואמנם בחי 'טפת
הזרע ,הנמשכת ממקום העקב הזה עד היסוד ,לפעמים נעשת יעקב ,ולפעמים נעשת עקביא בן מהללאל , ולפעמים עקיבא ,וכיוצא בזה:
ודע ,כי כל בחינת העקב ,היא המלכות שבאותו פרצוף ,ולכן יש יכולת בכל הנשמות שבעקב הזה ,לעלות
למעלה עד סוד המחשבה ,בסוד נקבה תסובב גבר .ולסבה זו זכה ר 'עקיבא לעלות עד המחשבה ,וכמו
שרמזו רז"ל באמרם עליו ,שתוק ,כך עלה במחשבה ,והבן זה:
ודע ענין א 'בשתי כתפות אלו ,כי כאשר יש פגם מחמת איזה עון ,בכתף אחד מהם ,או אם הפגם הוא
בכתף השמאלי ,כמו אם נפגם בחטאו של קין שעומד שם ,אז גם הכתף הימני נפגם ,וכן כיוצא בזה .ולכן
מי ששרשו מן הכתף השמאלי הנזכר ,יהיו בו שערות ארוכות בכתפו הימין והשמאל ,אלא ששערות
השמאל יהיו מרובים על של ימין ,לפי כי שם עיקרם .אבל כאשר נפגם כתף הימני בחטאו של שרש הבל
הנאחז שם ,אז אין הסימן הנזכר ניכר רק בכתף ימין לבד .ונמצא כי מי שהוא מאבר כתף השמאלי ,יהיו
בכתף השמאלי שערות ארוכים יותר משאר השערות של הגוף ,וזה להורות כי שם הוא מקום אחיזתו
באדה"ר .ובשער רוח הקדש בפרק הכרת הפרצוף נתבאר קצת מענין אותיות הנר"ן וכו ,'ע"ש:
ועתה אוסיף קצת ביאור בענין אלו השתי כתפות דאדה"ר .כבר הודעתיך ,איך נצח והוד דעתיק יומין , מתלבשים תוך חו"ג ,תרין דרועין דא"א ,ואח"כ תרין דרועין דאריך ,נתלבשו בתרין מוחין חו"ב דאו"א .
ותרין כתפין דאריך ,נתלבשו במוח דעת דז"א ,הנחלק לתרין עיטרין ,הנקראים חו"ג כנודע ,ומהם נמשך
אור המקיף אל נוקבא דז"א .גם ידעת ,כי עתיק יומין אין בו רק ט 'ספירות ,והם הנקראים בפרשת נח
בזהר ,בשם ט 'היכלין ,דלאו אינון היכלין ולאו אינון נהורין וכו .'כמו שנתבאר אצלינו בבאור ריש אדרא
זוטא וע"ש .ולא הוזכרה בחי 'מלכות בעתיק יומין כלל ,ולכן שרש המלכות לא נרמזה אלא בספירת ההוד
שבו ,כנודע כי לעולם עומד הזכר בנצח ,והנקבה בהוד .והנה ההוד של עתיק יומין ,מתלבש בגבורה
דא"א ,והיא הכתף השמאלי דא"א ,הנקרא עיטרא דגבורה ,והבן זה השם של עיטרא מה עניינה ,בסוד
עטרת בעלה ,כי שם נרמזת ונאחזת המלכות כנזכר .ונמצא כי מזה הכתף השמאלי ,נמשך נצוץ אור
אחד ,להיותו בחי 'אור מקיף אל נוקבא דז"א ,ולכן שרש קין אשר הוא מצד נוקבא דז"א ,נאחז בכתף
שמאלי של אדה"ר .ואמנם הכתף הימני הוא מן נצח דעתיק יומין ,ובו סוד ז"א דכורא ,ולכן שרש הבל הוא

בכתף ימני של אדם .וכבר נודע כי המלכות אפשר לה לעלות למעלה ממקום הזכר ,בסוד עטרת בעלה , ובפרט בבחי 'או"מ כנזכר ,ולכן תדע גודל מעלת הכתף השמאלי של אדם הראשון כמה הוא:
עוד ביאר לי ענין התרי"ג איברים באופן זה ,דע ,כי כל הנשמות כלולות באדם הראשון ,ובו נחלקים
לשרשים רבים ,וזה עניינם ,בתחלה הם נחלקים לג 'אבות ,ואח"כ לי"ב שבטים ,ואח"כ לע 'נפש ,ואח"כ
מתחלקים עוד ,עד ששים רבוא שרשים קטנים ,ומהם נכללת נשמת אדם הראשון .והנה הכתף הימני של
אדה"ר ,מתחלקים פרטיו ,ע"ד פרטי הכלל הנזכר ,כי תחלה נחלק לשלשה אבות ,ואח"כ לי"ב שבטים , ואח"כ לע 'נפש .וכל אלו הם בחי 'ע 'שרשים קטנים שבו ,וכלם אינם רק שרש אחד פרטי ,משרשים
גדולים של אדה"ר .ואמנם אין בו רק ע 'שרשים קטנים ,וכלם יחד הם פרצוף אדם אחד ,ואח"כ אלו הע '
שרשים מתמלקים עד ס 'רבוא נצוצות נשמות .ואינם נקראים שרשים אלא נצוצות:
והנה כל שרש א ,'מאלו השבעים שרשים קטנים שבכתף הימני הנזכר ,הנה יש לו פרצוף אחד שלם ,וכל
ס 'רבוא נצוצות שבכתף הימני ההוא ,הם נקראים שרש א 'גדול שבאדה"ר ,והוא הנקרא בשם שרש הבל
בנו של אדה"ר .ועד"ז הוא בכתף שמאלי של אדה"ר, כי יש בו שלשה אבות ,ונחלקים לי"ב שבטים , ונחלקים לע 'נפש ,ואלו הע 'נקראים ע 'שרשים קטנים שבו ,ולא עוד .וכל הע 'שרשים אלו ,מתחלקים ג"כ
לס 'רבוא נצוצות ,ואינם נקראים שרשים .וכל שרש מאלו השבעים ,יש לו פרצוף א 'שלם ,וכל אלו הע '
שרשים ,הם נקראים בשם שרש קין בנו של אדה"ר:
והנה משרש א 'של אלו ע 'שרשים בו נאחזים ר 'עקיבא ,עקביא בן מהללאל ,חזקיה המלך ,כנז"ל בדרוש שקדם .וזה השרש הנזכר ,הנה הוא נחלק ליותר מתרי"ג נצוצות ,וכלם יחד הם פרצוף אחד שלם , ובפרצוף השרש הזה ,שם נאחזים חזקיהו המלך ,ור 'עקיבא ,ועקביא בן מהללאל .האמנם חזקיהו המלך
הוא נאחז בראש הפרצוף הזה ,אבל ר 'עקיבא ועקביא בן מהללאל וזולתם הם נאחזים בעקב של הפרצוף הזה:
ונלע"ד חיים ,כי כפי מה שביארנו עתה ,וממה שביארנו בדרוש שקדם ,נמצא כי זה השרש הנזכר הוא
בחי 'העקב של כללות הכתף הזה ,שהוא שרש א 'מן חשבון הע 'שרשים של קין ,ובראש עקב זה חזקיהו ,
ובסוף עקב זה שהוא פרטות העקב של העקב ,שם הם ר 'עקיבא ועקביא כנלע"ד:
ואמנם בדרוש הקודם נתבאר ,כי הנשמות הנכללות באדם ,מתתלקים לתרי"ג שרשים גדולים ,ואח"כ נחלקים לס 'רבוא שרשים קטנים ,ופה ביארנו שמתחלקים באופן אחר ,שהם שלשה אבות ,וי"ב שבטים ,
וע 'נפש בלבד ,ואחר כך נחלקים לס 'רבוא שרשים קטנים .אמנם אם נדקדק ,תראה כי הכל הולך אל
מקום אחד ,ותראה איך התרי"ג נחלקים לס 'רבוא ,כי הנה אותיות ת"ר מן תרי"ג ,הם מתחלקות ת"ר
אלף ,שהם ס 'רבוא .ואות הג ',היא בחי 'שלשה אבות .ואות י 'היא בחי 'ע 'נפש ,כי הנה שש קצוות הם
כנגד ס 'רבוא כנודע ,ותוסיף י 'על ששים ,יהיו ע 'נפש .גם ב 'אותיות י"ג ,הם בחי 'י"ב שבטים ,והאחד
הוא כללותם ,הרי איך תרי"ג הוא כללות כל החלוקים הנז':
ונחזור לענין קין והבל כי הנה תרין עיטרין ,הם עיטרא דחסד ועיטרא דגבורה ,הגנוזים תוך או"א ,והנה אדם וחוה הם או"א ,והבל הוא עיטרא דחסד ,וקין הוא עיטרא דגבורה:
עוד סדר לי מורי ז"ל ענין שרשי הנשמות באופן אחר ,וזה עניינו ,הנה נתבאר למעלה ,כי יש באדם ,נפש
מעשיה ,ורוח מיצירה ,ונשמה מבריאה ,ונפש מנוקבא דז"א דאצילות ,ורוח מז"א דאצילות ,ונשמה מבינה
דאצילות ,ונשמה לנשמה הנקראת חיה ,מאבא דאצילות ,ויחידה מכתר הנקרא א"א דאצילות .והנה כל
שרש ושרש משרשי הנשמות ,יש לו חלק בכל אלו המדרגות הנז ',האמנם זה סדר חלוק השרשים של
הנשמות הנה ראשית חלוקם ,הם נחלקים לחמשה שרשים ,והם ,א"א ,ואו"א ,וזו"ן .וכאשר נברא העולם , נתחלקו חמשה שרשים אלו באופן זה ,זיהרא עילאה דאדם ,אשר זכה בה אח"כ חנוך ,היא בחי 'א"א .

כמבואר אצלנו בשער הפסוקים ,בפסוק והאדם ידע את חוה אשתו וע"ש .והנה כל שאר הנשמות

בע"ה:
והנה כל שרש ושרש משרשי הנשמות, כולל פרצוף אחד שלם ברמ"ח איברים ושס"ה גידים, וכללותם תרי"ג, והם יחד בנין פרצוף הנשמה בכללותה, הנקרא שרש אחד, אבל בפרטה הם תרי"ג נצוצות, אשר כלם הם ת"ח. ועוד יש בכל שרש מהם נצוצות הרבה, וכלם הם עמי הארץ, העוסקים בישוב העולם, כי כל שרש מהם דומה לאילן אחד, שמוציא פירות, שהם הת"ח, ועלים וענפים ועצים וקליפין וכו', והם עמי הארץ. והנה כאשר בא עת יציאת נצוצות נשמות אלו בעה"ז, אפשר שימצאו יחד שנים או שלשה או עשרה נצוצות וכיוצא, וכלם בזמן אחד ובדור אחד, עם היותם כלם משרש אחד, והוא כי הנה אפשר שיבאו יחד בעה"ז ב' נצוצות, אחת מעין ימני, ואחת מעין שמאלי שבשרש ההוא, או שיבואו יחד חמשה נצוצות, שהם חמשה פרקים ראשונים של חמשה אצבעות יד ימין. או שיבוא עשרה פרקין ראשונים של עשר אצבעות יד ימין ויד שמאל, וכן כיוצא בזה, וכן עד"ז ימצאו יחד בדור אחד כמה נצוצות שהם מבחי' הגידים, אלא שהם סמוכים זה לזה. ולכן אל תתמה, אם ימצאו יחד ר' עקיבא ועקביא בן מהללאל, וכן אם ימצאו יחד בדור אחד של אמוראים, אביי, ורמי בר חמא, ורב דימי מנהרדעא, אע"פ שכלם משרש קין, מאבר כתף שמאלי של אדם הראשון, כמו שיתבאר לקמן בע"ה:
עוד יש סבה אחרת אל הנזכר, והוא במה, שנתבאר אצלינו, כי כאשר גלתה השכינה בתוך הקליפות, גלו עמה כל הנשמות של הצדיקים, וכפי בחי' המצות שיעשה איזה צדיק מן השרש ההוא, וכפי הזמן ההוא, כך יוכל להוציא נצוץ אחד או שנים וכו' מתוך הקליפות, ויעלה אותם משם, ויבאו בעה"ז, ואע"פ שלא יהיו הנצוצות סמוכים זה לזה בשרש ההוא, כי הכל תלוי כפי הזמן, וכפי המצות שיעשה הצדיק של שרש ההוא כנזכר:
עוד ענין אחר קרוב אל הדרוש הנזכר, הנה אדה"ר היו לו נפש מעשיה, ורוח מן יצירה, ונשמה מן הבריאה, ועליהם נר"ן דאצילות, מנוקבא דז"א, ומז"א, ומאימא. ואלו השלשה שהם מעולם האצילות, נקראים זיהרא עילאה דאדם, הנזכר בסתרי תורה בפרשת קדושים דף פ"ג ע"א, וכבר נתבאר בזוהר, כי קודם שנולדו קין והבל, חטא אדה"ר, ואז נסתלקה ממנו זיהרא עילאה, שהם שלשה חלקי האצילות הנז', ובזה נתקיים גזרתו יתברך, כי ביום אכלך ממנו מות תמות, כי נסתלקו ממנו שלשה חלקי האצילות כנזכר, ואין לך מיתה קשה מזו. והנה כשהוליד קין והבל, אז נתנה נפש דאצילות, שנסתלקה מאדם, ונתחלקה בשניהם בקין והבל, ולקמן יתבאר בע"ה ענין גלגול קין מבחי' נפש דאצילות שזכה בה, איך נתגלגלה ונתפשטה בקינן ומהללאל, עד שנתגלגלה בנדב ואביהוא בני אהרן, שהיו שניהם תרי פלגי גופא, כנזכר בזהר פרשת פינחס ובפרשת אחרי מות. וזש"ה ויהי אנשים אשר היו טמאים לנפש אדם ממש, הנדרש על נדב ואביהוא, כמ"ש רז"ל. והענין הוא, כי הם הם בחי' נפש דאצילות דאדם הראשון ואח"כ לקחם פינחס במעשה זמרי, כנזכר בזהר. וכמו שיתבאר לקמן בע"ה. גם יתבאר, איך אע"פ שקין והבל לקחו נפש דאצילות דאדם, כדי לתקנה, לפי שחטא אדם בעץ הדעת וערב טוב ברע כנודע:
אמנם הרוח דאצילות של אדם הא', לקהו אליהו הנביא ז"ל, ולכן עלה בשמים, ולא מת כשאר בני אדם, כי היה דומה למלאך ה' צבאות, ולא לבני אדם, ואח"כ נעשה מלאך בשמים כנודע. וזהו טעם שלעולם לא הזכיר באליהו ז"ל, אלא בחי' רוח, וכמש"ה ויהי נא פי שנים ברוחך אלי, וכתיב נחה רוח אליהו על אלישע, וכתיב ורוח ה' ישאך. אמנם לא זכה אל הרוח הזה דאצילות, עד שהרגו לזמרי במעשה שטים, לפי שמוכרח הוא שאין הרוח שוכן באדם אלא עד היות בו נפש ולכן כאשר פינחס הרג לזמרי, זכה ולקח נפש דאצילות, שהיתה בנדב ואביהוא. ואחר שזכה לנפש דאצילות הזאת, אז זכה לחלק הרוח דאצילות, ועליו נתבשר הנני נותן לו את בריתי שלום, כי הרוח הוא מן הת"ת והיסוד כנודע, ושניהם נקראים שלום, כנודע מפסוק שלום שלום לרחוק ולקרוב, ת"ת ויסוד:
וחלק הנשמה של אצילות, לקחה חנוך בן ירד, ולכן היה מלאך בשמים, הנקרא מטטרו"ן כנודע. ולכן לא מת כבני אדם גם הוא. ודע, כי בחי' זו הנשמה דאצילות, היא הנקראת שרו של עולם, להיותה נמשכת מעולם האצילות, והיא שולטת על העולמות כלם. ובזה יתורץ הקושיא הנודעת בענין חנו"ך ומטטרו"ן, דאם שניהם אחד, א"כ בעולם היצירה, הנקראת עולם דמטטרון, מי היה אז שר העולם, בהיות חנוך עדיין למטה בארץ בעה"ז. אבל הענין יובן, במ"ש בזהר ריש פרשת נח, בתוספתא על פסוק נח נח, כי כל צדיק יש לו תרין רוחין, חד בארעא לתתא, וחד בשמיא לעילא וכו', והבן זה. וז"ס הנה בשמים עדי, זהו חנוך, שהוא בגימטריא עד"י. וסהדי במרומים, זה אליהו ז"ל, כי שניהם מלאכים בשמים כנזכר. וז"ס עדות ביהוסף שמו, והענין הוא, כי יוסף הצדיק, זכה לנשמה זו של חנוך, הנקרא עדי כנזכר, ולכן ויהי יוסף יפה

תואר, כי זכה ליפיו של אדה"ר, הנמשכת לו מפאת אותה הנשמה עילאה דאצילות. ואמנם לא זכה אליה יוסף, עד אותה הלילה שהיתה מקץ שנתים ימים, שנגזרה עליו גזירה לצאת אז מן הסוהר, וביום ההוא עלה לגדולה, וזש"ה בצאתו על ארץ מצרים:

ויובן זה, במה שנתבאר בדרושים הקודמים, כי כניסת הרוח או הנשמה באדם, היא בלילה בהקיצו משנתו. גם בזה יובן מ"ש חז"ל על סיום הפסוק שפת לא ידעתי אשמע, כי באותה הלילה בא גבריאל, ולמדו ע 'לשון. והענין הוא, כי הנה חנו"ך מטטרו"ן, הוא מלך על ע 'שרים של ע 'אומות, ויודע ע 'לשונותיהם. וכאשר נכנסה בו בלילה ההיא נשמת מטטרו"ן כנזכר, לכן ברגע אחד למד כל ע 'לשון. והנה גם נשמה זו דחנוך, נתגלגלה בר 'ישמעאל בן אלישע כ"ג, כמבואר אצלינו, כי הוא גלגולו של יוסף הצדיק, ולכן גם ר 'ישמעאל הנזכר היה יפה תאר מאד, כנודע למאמר רז"ל וגם ז"ס מה שנזכר בפרקי היכלות, כשהיה עולה ר 'ישמעאל הנזכר למרום, היה קורא אותו מטטרו"ן הדר זיוי. האמנם צורך גלגול נשמה זו בר 'ישמעאל הנזכר, הוא לשתי סבות, הראשונה היא, לפי שהקב"ה אמר כי ביום אכלך ממנו מות תמות, והנה לא נמצאה נשמה זו באדה"ר כשמת, ולא סבלה ממש עונש המיתה, אמנם נסתלקה ממנו כשחטא. ועוד הוסיף על זה סבת שנית, כי גם יוסף הצדיק חטא, על שגרם לאחיו שימכרוהו, וגירה והסית אותם עליו ע"י חלומותיו, ובהביא דבתם רעה אל אביהם, ולכן הוצרכה נשמה זו להתגלגל בר 'ישמעאל בן אלישע כ"ג, כדי שתסבול עליו ממש עונש המיתה. ודע, כי אדם הראשון זכה קודם שחטא, אל נרנ"ח מן מלכות ות"ת ובינה וחכמה דאצילות, מארבעתם יחד. ומרע"ה זכה אל הדעת דאצילות. ושלשה אבות אברהם יצחק ויעקב, זכו לחג"ת דאצילות, זה בחסד, וזה בגבורה, וזה בת"ת:

Chapter 32

ובה יתבאר מאמר חז"ל במסכת ברכות פ"א וז"ל תנא מיכאל באחת גבריאל בשתים אליהו בארבע וכו '.

מה ענין ארבע עפיפות אלו לאליהו כבר נתבאר למעלה בדרושים שקדמו, כי אדה"ר קודם שחטא, היה בו נר"ן מיצירה עשיה בריאה, ועליהם נר"ן, ממלכות ותפארת ובינה דאצילות. גם נתבאר, כי כל הנשמות היו אז כלולות באדה"ר, זולת הנשמות החדשות ממש, שלא זכה בהם אדה"ר, ולא נכללו כלל. והנה אחר שחטא בעץ הדעת, נשרו ממנו איבריו בכל המקומות שהיה הולך, כמ"ש ז"ל שאירע לו כמו שאירע ליפתח הגלעדי בעון בתו, וכמש"ה ויקבר בערי גלעד, ולא כתיב בעיר גלעד, ובאורו הוא, כי כל אותם הנשמות הנכללות באיברי נשמתו של אדם הראשון, נשרו ממנו כשחטא, ונפלו לתוך עמקי הקליפות כל אחד ואחד, כפי הבחי' הראויה להם ממש. האמנם נר"ן שלו מן האצילות, הנזכר בזוהר בפרשת קדושים, בשם זיהרא עילאה, לא נפלו חס ושלום בקליפות, אבל נסתלקו ממנו בחי' הרוח והנשמה כשחטא, ופרחו למעלה. והנפש של אצילות, היא נשארה עמו פורחת עליו, אבל לא נסתלקה ממש. וכבר נתבאר בדרושים הקודמים, כי חנוך אחר שזכה אל נפשו ורוחו ונשמתו, מן העשיה ויצירה ובריאה, זכה ליקח גם עד בחי' נשמה דאצילות, שנסתלקה מאדם כשחטא:

ונבאר עתה, ענין הנפש של אדם מעולם האצילות, אשר נשארה פורחת עליו, ולא נסתלקה כנזכר. כי הנה כאשר הוליד את קין והבל בניו, לקחו הם בחי' נר"ן, המגיע להם מעשיה יצירה בריאה, ועוד לקחו בחי' הנפש דאצילות של אדם אביהם. ונודע כי כל נשמה יש בה בחי' אור מקיף ואור פנימי, והנה הנפש הזאת היתה בבחי' אור מקיף ואור פנימי. אח"כ כאשר נתגייר יתרו חותן משה, זכה אל חלק הנפש של אצילות שנתנה לקין כנזכר, אלא שלא לקח רק בחי' אור פנימי שלה לבד, ואז כתיב בה, וחבר הקיני נפרד מקין, כמו שיתבאר במקומו. ונדב ואביהוא, לקחו אור המקיף דנפש דאצילות דאדם, הנתן לקין בנו כנזכר: וכאשר נולד פינחס, כתיב ואלעזר בן אהרן לקח לו מבנות פוטיאל לו לאשה ותלד לו את פינחס, וארז"ל פוטיאל זה יוסף, שפטפט ביצרו, וזה יתרו שפטם עגלים לע"ז. וסוד הענין הוא, כי פינחס בעת שנולד, היה כלול משתי נצוצות נשמות. וזהו פוטיאל, לשון טפין, כי היה משני טפין של נשמות, נצוץ אחד היה משרש נשמת יוסף הצדיק. ונצוץ שני, משרש נשמת יתרו. ובחי' ב' נשמות אלה, נקרא פנחס. ואל תתמה, איך נתערב הנצוץ של יתרו, עם הנצוץ של יוסף, כי כבר ידעת, שיוסף הוא ביסוד, אשר שם נמשכים טפות הזרע של כל החו"ג, ומתערבים בו, ולכן אין לתמוה איך נתערבה נצוץ נשמת יתרו, שהיא משרש אחר, עם נצוץ השרש של יוסף. ונמצא כי פינחס לקח נצוץ משרש יתרו, שהוא מן בחי' אור פנימי דנפש אדם הראשון דאצילות. אח"כ כאשר מתו נדב ואביהוא במעשה הקטרת שחטאו בו, ואירע אח"כ ענין פינחס שהרג לזמרי, וזכה שנכנסו בו בחי' נפשות נדב ואביהוא, שהיו מבחי' אור המקיף של נפש דאדם מן האצילות. וזה גרם לו, היות כבר בו נצוץ משרש יתרו, שהוא מאור פנימי דנפש דאצילות, ועי"כ נשלם עתה בפינחס נפש דאצילות, באור פנימי ובאור מקיף. אלא שהאור פנימי נכנס בו בסוד גלגול ממש, אחר שנולד וגדל. והאור המקיף בסוד עבור בלבד, כשנולד:

וכיון שהיה חלוק זה בו, לכן היה בו ענין אחר, והוא, כי צריך שתדע, שהנשמה הבאה לאדם בעת שנולד, בסוד גלגול ממש, אעפ"י שתהיה מורכבת ומעורבת משתי נצוצות, כנזכר בענין פינחס, שהיה בו נצוץ מיוסף ונצוץ מיתרו הכל נקרא נשמה אחת, ואינה צריכה לבחי' אחרת שתחברם. אבל הנשמה הבאה בסוד עבור אחר שנולד האדם, כגון נפש נדב ואביהוא שנתעברו בפינחס, הנה צריכה היא שתבא עוד עמה נצוץ נשמה אחרת חדשה, רוצה לומר שזאת תהיה פעם ראשונה שבאה לעולם, ולא תהיה ישנה ומגולגלת, וזו החדשה היא מחברת את זו הנפש דנדב ואביהוא, הבאה בסוד עבור להתעבר עם נפש פינחס, של בחי' גלגול ממש. ולכן הוצרך להתעבר עוד בפינחס, נפש חדשה אחרת, והיא הנקראת בשם אליהו התשבי מתושבי גלעד, והוא משרש גד, והיא נשמה חדשה כנזכר, ובאה עתה בו, כדי לקשר ולחבר יחד את נפש נדב ואביהוא, עם נפש פינחס עצמו, שהיתה בו בגלגול גמור מיום שנולד:

ואמנם עוד צריכה נשמה אחרת חדשה גם כן, כדי לקשר ולחבר נשמה חדשה הנקראת אליהו התשבי, עם שאר הנשמות הישנות שהם נפש פינחס ונפש נדב ואביהוא, ולכן הוצרך עוד לבא בפינחס נשמה אחרת חדשה, והיא הנקראת ג"כ אליהו משרש בנימין, הנזכר בדברי הימים, בפסוק ויערשיה וזכרי ואליהו בני ירוחם. וכמ"ש אליהו ז"ל בעצמו אל החכמים, מבני בניה של רחל. וכמו שיתבאר ענין זה, בסיום הדרוש הזה:

ונמצא, כי ד' בחי' נכללו בפינחס, האחת, היא נפש פינחס עצמו כשנולד, כי אע"פ שהיתה כלולה מב' טפין דיוסף ויתרו, נקראים נפש אחת. הב', היא נפש נדב ואביהוא, כשבאה בסוד עבור, וגם זו נפש אחת נקראת ולא שתים, כנודע מספר הזהר בפרשת אחרי מות דנדב ואביהוא תרי פלגי גופא הוו. והשלישית,

היא נפש הנקראת אליהו התשבי משרש גד .הרביעית, היא נפש הנקראת אליהו דשרש בנימין .וז"ס מ"ש חז"ל הנז"ל, תנא מיכאל באחת וכו', ואליהו בארבע וכו', והבן זה:
אח"כ כאשר אירע מעשה דבת יפתח הגלעדי שארז"ל שיפתח היה שופט, ולא רצה לילך לבית אליהו שיתיר לו נדרו, וגם אליהו לא רצה לילך אצלו, כי אמר מאן דחייס לכיבי אזל לאסיא, ואז בין דא לדא הלכה הבת של יפתח, ושניהם נענשו, כי יפתח להיותו הוא בעצמו בעל הדבר, נענש עונש, שבכל מקום שהיה הולך, היו נושרים איבריו, וכמש"ה ויקבר בערי גלעד לשון רבים .ואליהו נענש, שנסתלקה ממנו שכינה, כמ"ש רז"ל על פסוק לפנים ה 'עמו הנאמר על פינחס, בספר שופטים, דנראה לפנים היה ה 'עמו ולא עתה, ואז גם אותה הנפש שנכנסה בו בסוד העבור של נדב ואביהוא, נסתלקה ממנו והלכה לה, ונתגלגלה בשמואל הנביא, כמו שיתבאר לקמן .וז"ס מ"ש רז"ל כי ו 'של בריתי שלום היא קטיעא. גם אמרו בזוהר בפרשת אחרי מות, כי י 'של פינחס הוא זעירא:
והענין הוא, כי במעשה זמרי זכה אל עבור זה דנדב ואביהוא, כי כשרצו להרגו פרחה ממנו נשמתו, ואז נכנס בו עבור דנדב ואביהוא, כנזכר בפרשת פינחס בזוהר וכשנאבד ממנו בחטא בת יפתח את העבור הנזכר, אז היתה ו 'קטיעא, כי בחי 'הו 'היא ספירת היסוד הנקרא בריתי שלום, ונקטעה אז, כשנסתלקה ממנו שכינה ועבור נדב ואביהוא, והנה אז במעשה דבת יפתח לא נשאר בו רק אותו הנצוץ של טפת שרש יוסף בלבד, כי עבור נדב ואביהוא הלכו בשמואל כנזכר .וגם נצוץ טפת יתרו נסתלקה ממנו:
ואז נולד חיאל בית האלי אשר בנה את יריחו, ונכנסה בו בגלגול גמור, כמו שיתבאר .והטעם הוא, כי עבור נדב ואביהוא, וגם אליהו דשבט גד, ואליהו דבנימין כנז"ל, הנה אינם שם בפינחס, רק דרך השאלה בסוד העבור, ואינם העיקריים בגוף ההוא, ולכן אין החטא ההוא דבת יפתח פוגם בהם .וכן נצוץ דטפת יוסף, אינה קרובה לחטא, החטא ההוא בנצוץ יתרו .לפי שנצוץ יתרו, היא באה מן קין, וכשבאה ביתרו, היה שם כומר, מפטם עגלים לע"ז, ולכן עיקר החטא היה מנצוץ של יתרו, ולכן נסתלק, ונתגלגל בחיאל בית האלי:
והבט וראה, כי אותיות חיאל, הם אותיות אלי"ה, אם תחליף ח 'בה 'באותיות אחע"ה .גם האלי הם אותיות אליה .וז"ס בית האל"י, בית אליה .פירוש, בית מושב אליהו ז"ל, כי אליהו מושבו היה בגוף פינחס, כי הוא נצוץ טפת יתרו כנזכר .ונמצא כי עיקר הגוף ההוא, הוא של פינחס, ולא של אליהו, רק נקרא בית מושב אליהו ז"ל:
והנה ארז"ל כי חיאל הוה גברא רבא, שהיו הולכים לביתו, אחאב המלך ואליהו ז"ל .האמנם עבירה א ' שחטא, במעשה דבת יפתח, גרמה לו עבירה זו שבנה את יריחו, כי הם דומות .כי ענין בת יפתח היתה בענין נדר כנודע .וכן עבירה זו היתה, שעבר על הנדר שהדיר והחרים יהושע, שלא יבנו את יריחו .ולפי שיריחו מיותסת לשרש קין, כמש"ה ובני קני חותן משה עלו מעיר התמרים שהיא יריחו, לכן ביקש חיאל שהוא משרש קין, לבנות את יריחו .ואחר כך נשתנה שמו ונקרא אליהו התשבי, לפי שכיון שנדב ואביהוא עדיין לא נתקנו בו כנזכר, וגם בחי 'פינחס עצמו דבן יתרו, חטא בבת יפתח, וגם אליהו דשבט בנימין לא נתעבר בו, אלא לקשרו עם הנשמות האחרות כנז"ל, נמצא כי העיקר עתה הוא אליהו דשרש גד, ולכן לא נקרא עתה פינחס, אלא אליהו התשבי, המורה על נשמת שבט גד:
ואז כשחזרה בו הנבואה, בהיותו נקרא אליהו התשבי, אחר שמת שמואל, חזרו להתעבר בו נדב ואביהוא, ונשלמו הם להתקן בענין הר הכרמל, כאשר נפלו כל העם על פניהם, ואמרו ה 'הוא האלהים, ואז נמחל להם עון שלהם, שקוצצו בנטיעות ופגמו בשכינה, ונתקן זה באמרם ה 'הוא האלהים, והבן זה .גם לפי שבתחלה חטאו על שהציצו בשכינה בהר סיני, כמש"ה ויראו את אלהי ישראל כו', ועתה נתקן בנפילת אפים, שלא להציץ באש היורד מן השמים .גם זהו טעם שנקרא אליהו ולא פינחס, לפי שבגלל עבודה זו זכה לשנוי זה השם, וכמו שיתבאר לקמן בענין אלישע הנביא וע"ש .ואחר שנתקנו, לא הוצרכו לעמוד שם ונסתלקו להם נדב ואביהוא:
והנה איזבל אשת אחאב, היתה מכשפה גדולה, כנז 'בפסוק שהדיחה את ישראל בכשפיה וידעה בכשפיה שנסתלקו נדב ואביהוא מן אליהו אשר עליהם נתבשר הנני נותן לו את בריתי שלום שהוא היותו חי לעולם .ואז אמרה לו, כי כעת מחר אשים את נפשך כנפש האחד מהם, כיון שנסתלק ממנו גזרת החיים והשלום .גם רמז אל נדב ואביהוא שנשרפו באש הקטרת, וז"ס כנפש אחד מהם .וכיון שהרגיש אליהו שנאבד ממנו מתנה זו, נתיירא, וברח להר חורב .וז"ש וירא וילך לו אל נפשו, ר"ל, לפי שלא היתה רק נפשו יחידית מפני כך נתיירא מן איזבל:

ואח"כ חזר להרויחה במערת הר חורב פעם אחרת, עד שעלה בסערה השמים, ואז אליהו התשבי שהוא משבט גד, נתעלה בשמים, ונשאר שם, ושוב לא ירד עוד, ואליהו דשבט בנימין זה, נתגלגל אח"כ באותו עלה, כשנפטרו ואח"כ 'וכו. וזכרי בני ירוחם ואליהו ויערשיהו, והוא מש"ה הנזכר בספר דברי הימים,
ונתחבר עם אותו אליהו התשבי שעלה בשמים ונשאר שם זה אליהו דשבט בנימין, הוא העולה ויורד תמיד לעשות נסים אל הצדיקים, ולדבר עמהם. ולהיות כי החכמים היו יודעים שאליהו היה כלול מד 'בחי ', לא היו יודעים איזו בחי 'מהם, היא היורדת ועולה ומדבר עמהם, ונחלקו בסברותיהם, עד שהודיעם, ואמר להם, רבותי מה אתם חלוקים עלי, מבני בניה של רחל אני, שכך כתיב ויערשיה ואליה וכו, 'והודיעם כי זו הבחינה היא המדברת עמהם, ובחי 'זו הנקראת אליהו דבנימין, נתחברה עם הבחינה הנקראת טפת יתרו שנתנה לחיאל בית האלי, ומת ונטלה אליהו עמו:
אמר הכותב נלע"ד, כי שתיהם נתגלגלו באליהו של בנימין. ואותה הבחי 'הנקראת טפה דיוסף, נתנה אליהו אל יונה בן אמיתי בן הצרפית, כשהחיה אותו. וז"ס מ"ש בזוהר בפרשת ויקהל דף קצ"ז ע"א וז"ל, תנא יונה מחיליה דאליהו קא אתי, ודא איהו בן אמיתי, כד"א ודבר ה 'בפיך אמת. וז"ס מ"ש רז"ל תנא דבי אליהו, אותו הנער שהחייתי, משיח בן יוסף הוא, כי להיותו מטפת יוסף, ולכן הוא יהיה משיח בן יוסף במהרה בימינו, ומה שישאר אחר כך לעתיד לבא לחלק אליהו עצמו האמיתי, הוא אותו אליהו דשבט בנימין. ועבור נדב ואביהוא, נתנו אל אלישע הנביא בסוד עבור, כשעלה לשמים. וז"ס מה ששאל אלישע, ויהי נא פי שנים ברוחך אלי. ובספר הקנה כתוב, פי שנים הם נדב ואביהוא. והענין הוא, כי נ"א ר"ת נדב ואביהוא, שהם פי שנים שנתעברו ברוחו של אליהו. גם ר"ת "נא "פי "שנים "ברוחך "אלי. הוא נפש בא, ר"ל, כי נדב ואביהוא, שהם מבחי 'נפש דאצילות דאדה"ר כנז"ל, שבא אליך בעבור שהרגת לזמרי, תתנם עתה אלי:
והנה אלישע הוא משרש חנוך הנקרא מטטרו"ן, שהוא מצד נשמה דאצילות הנקראת זיהרא עילאה דאדה"ר, ולכן הוצרך ליקח נפש זו דנדב ואביהוא, שהם נפש דזיהרא עילאה דאדם, שהיו באליהו. ולפי שאליהו זכה לרוח דזיהרא עילאה כנז"ל, לזה אמר ברוחך אלי. גם רמז ברוחך, אל מה שנתבאר אצלינו, כי אביהוא נפשו ורוחו משרש קין, אבל נדב נפשו משרש אחר, ורוחו משרש קין בלבד, ויען שרוהו לבד היא משרש זה של קין, לכן אמר ברוחך:
ולכן נקרא שמו אלישע, לרמוז, כי בקין נאמר ואל קין ואל מנחתו לא שעה, ויען שנתקן קין נקרא אלישע, כלומר, לי שעה הקב"ה, מה שלא שעה אל קין בהיותו בלי תקון. וכבר רמזתי לך למעלה, כי פינחס נקרא אליהו, להורות על עבור נדב ואביהוא, הבאים מן קין שנתקנו בו. ולכן שלשה אותיות אלי שבאליהו, ישנם ג"כ באלישע, להורות כי גם אלישע השלים לתקן בג 'אותיות אלו, כמו אליהו:
וז"ס מה שצחקו בו הילדים, וא"ל עלה קרח עלה קרח, והענין הוא, במה שיתבאר לקמן, כי קרח בן יצהר, הוא רוחו של קין מצד הרע, ולכן ירד חיים שאולה, וא"ל הילדים לביישו ולגדפו, כי הנה קרח ירד שאולה, וצריך לעלות, ואתה נמשך משרש קרח, ואיך אתה רוצה לעלות. גם רמזו, כי הנה קרח בן יצהר גלחו משה, והיה קרח בשערותיו כנודע, ולכן גם אלישע היה קרח בשערותיו כמוהו, כי שרש נשמתו יש בה חלק ואחיזה מן קרח. וזה גרם שנתעברו בו אחר כך נפש נדב ואביהוא, שגם הם משרש נשמת קרח. גם כמו שמרע"ה הזכיר שם בן מ"ב, והרג את המצרי שהוא נפש קין מצד הרע, כן אלישע הזכיר שם בן מ"ב, והרג מ"ב ילדים אלו כנזכר בזוהר:
ואחר כך נתגלגל בחזקיהו מלך יהודה לרמוז אל מ"ש ז"ל כי בימי המבול תלאו הקב"ה לקין ברפיון, ועליו נאמר וימח את כל היקום. ועתה כשנתקן, נקרא חזקיהו, כי בו נתחזק קין מרפיונו ובו נתקנו ג 'אותיות יה"ו מן אליהו הנביא, ובחזקיהו זכה אל חלק א 'משלשה חלקי הבכורה הראוים לקין שהיה בכורו של אדה"ר, והם, כהונה, ומלכות, וחלק בכורה, כנזכר בתרגום פסוק ראובן בכורי אתה וגו'. ועתה בחזקיהו לקח כתר המלכות, וז"ס מ"ש ז"ל בקש הקב"ה לעשות לחזקיהו משיח וכו'. והטעם הוא, לפי שהוא מן קין הבכור, והיה ראוי ליקח כתר המלכות, ולהיות משיח לעתיד לבא, ונתבטל, מפני שלא אמר שירה:
אחר כך נתגלגל במתתיה בן חשמונאי, שהיה כ"ג ומלך, ואז זכה ביחד לשני חלקי הבכורה. ואח"כ נתגלגל בעקביא בן מהללאל, וכבר ביארנו, כי קין נרמז בסוד עקב עשו, ולכן נקרא שמו עקביא, ולפי שעקביא זה תקן ג"כ בחי 'מהללאל בן קינן, לכן נקרא עתה עקביא בן מהללאל. ואחר כך נתגלגל בריב"ז, ולכן בעת פטירתו, אמר הכינו כסא לחזקיהו מלך יהודה שבא ללוותו, להיותו משרש גלגול נשמתו. וגם בו זכה כתר כהונה של קין הבכור. אחר כך נתגלגל בר 'עקיבא בן יוסף, וגם בו נרמז בחי 'העקב של עשו,

כנזכר בעקביא .ובזה תבין מ"ש במסכת רות של הזוהר ,כי יששכר הוא ר 'עקיבא ,וכמו שיתבאר לקמן כי
גם יששכר הוא משרש של זה קין .אחר כך נתעבר בסוד עבור משני גאונים ,הנקראים רב אחאי ,ורב
אחא משבחא גאון ,כדי לתקנם .כי הם משרש נפש אחאב המלך ,ובהם נתקנו שלשה אותיות אחא של
אחאב ע"י עבור הנזכר ,אבל הבית של אחאב ,נתקנה ברבי אברהם גאליד ,כמו שהודעתיך בסדר גלגולי
שרש נפש אחאב המלך:

Chapter 33
הנה נתבאר ,כי זיהרא עילאה דאדה"ר ,הם נשמה רוח נפש שלו ,מצד עולם האצילות .והנה חנוך שהוא
מטטרו"ן ,הוא נשמה דזיהרא עילאה .ואמנם קין לקח נפש של זיהרא עילאה דאדם .וכבר ידעת ,כי כל
הנפשות היו כלולות באדה"ר ,וכשחטא נתמעט ,ולא נשאר בו רק התרומה ,הנקראת תרי ממאה ,חלתו
של עולם .והנה בבחי 'הנפש שהיא מצד העשיה ,נשארו בו תרי ממאה היותר מובחרים שבכל הנפשות .
וגם בחי 'תרומת נפש זו נתנה לקין ,ושאר חלקי כל הנפשות פרחו מאדם כשחטא ,ונשרו ממנו:
וכבר הודעתיך כי קין מעורב מטוב ורע ,והוא מוליד נשמות דוגמת הבל אחיו ,כנזכר בסוף אדרא רבא
דפרשת נשא .והנה מהטוב שבו ,מוליד נשמות צדיקים .ומבחי 'הרע שבו ,מוליד נשמות רשעים .והנה
מבחי 'הטוב שבו ,יצאו קינן ומהללאל ,כנזכר בזוהר בפרשת תרומה דף קס"ח ע"א .ואחר כך נולד ראובן
בכור יעקב ,והיה ראוי שיטול חלק הבכורה של קין בכור אדה"ר ,ובשביל מעשה דבלהה אבד בכורה זו , כמ"ש התרגום על פסוק ראובן בכורי אתה יתר שאת ויתר עז ,שהם ,בכירותא ,כהונתא ומלכותא .וסוד
יתר שאת ,היא הכהונה הנרמזת בקין ,הלא אם תטיב שאת .וכיון שחטא ,אבד הכהונה הנקרא שאת .
ואחר ששב ראובן בתשובה זכה שהביא הדודאים ונולד בסבתם יששכר ,והוא מצד הטוב של קין הבכור .
וזהו מה שאמרה חוה בלידת קין ,ותאמר קניתי איש את ה ,'לרמוז כי חוה ולאה שתיהם בחי 'בינה , הנקראת אימא עילאה כנודע אצלינו .ורמזה לומר ,כי תקון שלמות קין ,יהיה בישששכר ,הנולד ע"י אותה
הקניה ,שקנתה לאה מן רחל את יעקב ,ע"י הדודאים ,כמש"ה כי שכר שכרתיך בדודאי בני ,ונולד הבן
ההוא ,והיה חלק ה 'מצד הטוב ,והוא יששכר .ולהיותו מבחי 'נפש הנקראת עשיה כנז"ל ,יש בו אחיזה אל
הקליפות וזוהמת הנחש כנודע ,ולכן עשו שהוא הנחש נאחז בהם ,ונקרא עקב עשו ,כי הם בעשיה , הנקראת עקב .ויעקב חטפם מעשו ,בסוד וידו אוחזת בעקב עשו ,ואח"כ נולד יששכר מבחי 'הנפש הזו .
ואח"כ מבחי 'עקב זה ,נולד ר 'עקיבא בן יוסף ,ע"ש העקב הזה .וכמו שרמזנו בדרוש שקדם ,ממ"ש בשם
מדרש רות מהזוהר ,כי יששכר הוא רבי עקיבא:
אחר כך באו נדב ואביהוא מצד הטוב של קין ,וז"ס הבכור נדב ואביהוא ,והקשו בזוהר בפרשת אחרי
מות ,דהיל"ל ואלעזר בתוספות וא"ו ,אך הענין לרמוז ,כי קין בכורו של אדם הראשון ,והנה הבכור הזה
שהיה בכור הא 'שקדם בעולם שהיה קין ,הנה הוא נתגלגל בנדב ואביהוא אבל אלעזר ואיתמר הם
משרש א ,'ולכן לא נזכר תוספת וא"ו באלעזר ,שלא להחבירו עם נדב ואביהוא .ואמנם נדב היתה רוחו
לבד מבחינת קין ,וז"ס פסוק ורוח נדיבה תסמכני .אבל נפשו היתה משרש זקנו ,עמינדב אבי אלישבע

אמו, ולקח ממנו שלשה אותיותיו האחרונות, והם נדב:
אבל אביהוא, היו נפשו ורוחו מן קין, ולכן נקרא אביהוא, לרמוז כי כל בחינותיו הם מן קין, שנטל נפש אדם עצמו, הנקרא אב לכל העולם, וזהו אביהוא, כי הנה הוא עצמו בחי 'אדם אבי כל העולם. וז"ס אנחנו טמאים לנפש אדם, כי נדב ואביהוא, הם נפש אדה"ר ממש. האמנם לפי שנדב לא היה בו מבחי 'נפש אדם, רק חלק הרוח שבו בלבד, משא"כ באביהוא שכל חלקיו היו מנפש אדם, לכן אמר לנפש אדם, ולא אמר לנפשות אדם בלשון רבים, כי עיקר נפש אדם הוא באביהוא לבדו. והנה אביהוא נמשך משרש נחשון אחי אמו, כי גם הוא משרש קין הנקרא נפש, ולפי שעיקר אחיזת זוהמת נחש באדה"ר, היא בנפש דעשיה כנז"ל, לכן נקרא נחשון ע"ש הנחש. והענין הוא, כי הנחש העליון, מסיר ומסלק ב 'המוחין דנוקבא שהם ב 'פעמים אור אור, כמבואר אצלינו בכונת ואהבת את ה 'אלהיך, והם בגימטריא נחשון, להורות, כי נחשון במעשיו הטובים, החזירם בנוקבא:
וכאשר עוד נתגלגל בישי אבי דוד, אז נתקן לגמרי בחי 'קין, ולכן נקרא נחש, כמ"ש הפסוק אשר בא אל אביגיל בת נחש, ואמרו רז"ל בת מי שמת בעטיו של נחש, לרמוז כי ישי גמר להתקן כל זוהמת הנחש, שנתערבה בנפש זו של קין. אך עכ"ז מת בעטיו של נחש, בחטאו של אדם. ואז בישי נשלם לגמרי יותר מנחשון:
ונחזור לענין נדב ואביהוא, כי הנה להיותם בחי 'נפש הנקראת עשיה, נתאחז בהם זוהמת הנהש, וחטאו במעשה הקטרת, ונענשו ומתו. והנה אליהו הנביא שהוא פינחס, היא נפש זיהרא עילאה דאדם, ולכן נתעברו בו נפש נדב ואביהוא במעשה זמרי, כי גם הם נפש אדם מצד נפש דעשיה כנז"ל. ואמנם אלו לא חטאו ישראל במעשה העגל, היתה זוהמת הנחש נפסקת לגמרי כנודע. ואע"פ שנדב ואביהוא היו חוטאים במעשה הקטרת, היה מספיק להם שימותו בלבד, אבל כיון שחטאו ישראל בעגל, גרמו להחזיר דבוק זוהמת הנחש בנפש אדם, ואז נשרפו נדב ואביהוא ולא הספיק במה שימותו מבלי שריפה. וזהו טעם ואחיכם כל בית ישראל יבכו את השריפה, כי חטא ישראל בעגל גרמו השריפה הזאת של נפש אדה"ר, אב לכל העולם, ולכן כל ישראל כלם יבכו את השריפה. וזהו טעם היות נדב ואביהוא שקולים ככל ישראל, ושקולים כמשה ואהרן, כי הנה הם נפש אדה"ר עצמו כנזכר. וכאשר נתעברו בפנחס, אז כתיב זכר נא מי הוא נקי אבד, כנזכר בזוהר פרשת פנחס והענין הוא, כי נדב ואביהוא שהם ר"ת נ"א, והם משרש קין אותיות נק"י, לא נאבדו, כי נתעברו בפנחס, כי גם הוא מקין, וכשחטא פנחס במעשה דבת יפתח כנז"ל נסתלקו ממנו עבור נדב ואביהוא, והלכו בשמואל הנביא בדרוש שקדם:
ודע, כי קרח בן יצהר, הוא מבחי 'הרוח של קין מצד הרע שלו, כמו שנתבאר בפסוקים, ויקח קרח וע"ש, כי נתלבש זה הרוח הרע של קין בו, ולכן היה מקטרג להבל אחיו שהוא מרע"ה. משא"כ יתרו, כי גם הוא מן קין, כמש"ה וחבר הקיני נפרד מקין, אלא שהוא מבחי 'הטוב של קין, ולכן נתן את צפורה בתו למשה, והטיב עמו, והאכילו לחם. משא"כ בקרח שהיה מצד הרע של קין כנזכר. וקרח חשב, כי בו יתוקן קין הבכור, ולכן נתגבר על משה שהוא הבל, וטעה בזה, כי אין תקון קין בקרח, לפי שהוא מצד הרע שבו, אלא בזרע היוצא ממנו, והוא שמואל הנביא, שהוא מצד הטוב של קין. וז"ש רז"ל קורח ניבא ולא ידע, כי ראה אש יוצאה מאמתו, והבן זה. וז"ס וירא את הקיני, כי קני הוא קין, ושמואל הוא מן קין. ונרמז בתיבת אוי מי יחיה משמו אל אותיות משמואל, פירוש, כי למעלה אמר וירא את עמלק וכו, 'שהוא מצד הרע של קין, כמו שנתבאר במקומו, ואמר כי אוי לו לעמלק כשיבא שמואל, שהוא אשר זרז לשאול על מלחמת עמלק, שנאמר וישסף שמואל את אגג:
וז"ס מ"ש בזוהר בפרשת ויצא, כי מ"ש ויגע בכף יריכו, דא אינון נדב ואביהוא. גם אמרו בסבא דמשפטים דף קי"א, כי שמואל חטף מסמאל, אותה הירך שלקח מן יעקב. והענין הוא, כי נדב ואביהוא הם תרין ירכין נצח והוד, שמשם נשרשים הנביאים, ובהם נאחז סמא"ל כנז"ל, וכשבא שמואל חטף מסמא"ל את הירך ההוא, שהם נדב ואביהוא, וזכה לנבואה על ידיהם, כי ירכין תמן אינון נביאים. וקודם שמואל שהיה הירך ביד סמאל, אין חזון נפרץ ונפסקה הנבואה, כמ"ש חז"ל. וז"ס מ"ש ז"ל במסכת ברכות בפ"ה על פסוק אם ראה תראה בעני אמתיך, שאמרה חנה, אלך ואסתתר ותשתה מי סוטה, ואז בהכרח שיהיו לה בנים. וזה יובן במ"ש הסבא דמשפטים, כי שמואל חטף הירך מן סמא"ל, ונתן לו תמורתה ירך הסוטה, ולכן אמרה חנה לשי"ת, כ"א לא תוכל היא ללדת את שמואל, ולחטוף הירך מן סמא"ל, תלך ותסתר, ואז יאבד סמא"ל שני הירכין ירך יעקב והוא שמואל, וירך הסוטה, כי היא טהורה, ולא ישלוט בה:
גם ז"ס משה ואהרן בכהניו ושמואל בקוראי שמו, כי שקול שמואל כמשה ואהרן והטעם הוא, לפי שהיו בו

נדב ואביהוא, השקולים כמשה ואהרן, כמ"ש ז"ל על פסוק בקרובי אקדש. גם דע, כי כמו דאלישע לקח שלשה אותיות אלי מן אליהוא כנז"ל בדרוש שקדם. כן שמואל לקח שני אותיות א"ל שבאליהו, לרמוז על לקיחתו את נדב ואביהוא, שהיו בתחלה באליהו כנזכר שם:

ואמנם צריכים אנו לבאר ענין שמואל, ולכן נתחיל נדב ואביהוא, דע, כי כמו שנדב ואביהוא חטאו במעשה הקטרת וגם ישראל שחטאו במעשה העגל, גרמו להם לישרף, כנז"ל בפסוק ואחיכם כל בית ישראל יבכו את השריפה אשר שרף ה'. כן אהרן גרם מיתתם, לפי שהוא עשה העגל ומתו בסבתו, כמש"ה ובאהרן התאנף ה' מאד להשמידו, זה כלוי בנים וכו'. ואמנם אהרן הכהן, הוא משרש הבל בן אדה"ר, כמו שנתבאר בדרושים שקדמו, כי שרש הבל נחלק לכמה בחי' שרשים. והנה שני שרשי נשמות, יש בשרשי הבל, והם, שרש הרן אחי אברם. ושרש נחור. והנה נחור, נתגלגל בחור בנה של מרים. והרן, נתגלגל באהרן הכהן. וכבר הודעתיך, כי חו"ר לקח ג' אותיות מן נחור, ואות נ' של נחור נשארה לשרש אחאב מלך ישראל, כמבואר אצלינו ואמנם אהרן, ג' אותיות מן הרן, ונוסף עליו אות א'. וגם לוט בן הרן, משרש הבל, ולכן ר"ת ואת "לוט "בן "הרן, הוא הבל למפרע, כי לוט והרן שניהם משרש הבל, ומן לוט נמשך רחבעם המלך, כמבואר אצלינו. ונמצא כי מרע"ה, ואהרן אחיו, וחור בן מרים, ולוט, ואחאב, כלם משרש הבל בן אדם, רק שהם שרשים מחולקים זה מזה, וכלם משרש הבל:

ונחזור בענין אהרן, כי הוא הרן בן אחי אברם. והרן בא לתקן חטא אדה"ר שעבד ע"ז, ולא די שלא תקן, אלא שגם עתה לא האמין בה' אלא עד שיצא אברהם מכבשן האש, כמ"ש ז"ל ולכן נשרף הרן באור כשדים. ואח"כ נתגלגל באהרן לתקן חטא הנזכר, ואדרבא חטא במעשה העגל, והוצרך ליהרג, והיה מן הראוי לו שימסור עצמו להריגה, כשקמו עליו הערב רב וא"ל קום עשה לנו אלהים, והוא טעה, כי חשב שהיה מספיק במה שהרגו את חור, שגם הוא משרש הבל כנזכר. וז"ס ויבן מזבח לפניו וארז"ל ויבן מזבח מן הזבוח לפניו, שהוא חור. ולכן נמנע, ולא מסר עצמו להריגה, וחטא בזה, ולא נתקן חטא זה, עד אוריה הכהן, כמו שיתבאר לקמן. ואמנם תחלה נתגלגל ביעבץ השופט, ואז חטא, שתמיד היה נודר נדרים כמ"ש ז"ל על פסוק ויקרא יעבץ לאלהי ישראל, ויאמר אם ברך תברכני, ולכן נתגלגל אחר כך בתולע בן פואה השופט, ונקרא תולע, ע"ש התולעת, שאין כחה אלא בפיה, ורמז בזה שבא לתקן ענין הנדרים שיצאו מפיו. ואז חטא באופן אחר, כמ"ש ז"ל על פסוק והוא יושב בשמיר בהר אפרים, כי קבע ישיבתו בעיר א', ולא היה מסבב כל המדינות לשפוט את העם, ועי"כ נמנעים העם מלבא אצלו לדין לפניו, מסבת טורח הדרך, ולכן נתגלגל אח"כ בשמואל הנביא, ותקן חטא הנזכר, וסבב כל המקומות לשפוט את ישראל, כנזכר בפסוק. ואז נתעברו בו נדב ואביהוא, הנקראים ירכי קשוט, דמתמן נביאים, וזכה לנבואה על ידם כנז"ל. וכאשר הוליד את אביה בנו, הוריש לו אביהוא, ונתגלגל בו, ולכן שמותיהם שוים. אבל נדב נשאר בשמואל, וז"ס ומשנהו אביה וגו'. פירוש, כי נדב נשאר בשמואל, ומשנהו שהוא אביהוא, משנה של שמואל, נתגלגל בבנו, ונקרא אביה. ואחר כך נפטר שמואל, ונתגלגל באביה בן ירבעם. וכמו שנאמר בשמואל ויספדו לו כל ישראל, כך נאמר באביה בן ירבעם, וספדו לו כל ישראל, יען כי נמצא בו דבר טוב, ואמרו במדרש איכה בזוהר, כי דבר טוב, הוא משיח בן יוסף שיצא ממנו. והטעם, כי הוא גלגול שמואל כנזכר:

ואחר כך חזר אהרן, ונתגלגל עוד באוריה הכהן מקרית יערים, ואז נהרג ע"י יהויקים המלך, ובזה נמחל לו ההריגה שנתחייב במעשה העגל כנזכר. ואמנם גם נדב ואביהוא נתגלגלו עמו אז באוריה הכהן, בסוד גלגול ממש, לפי שהם מתו על ידו, כנז"ל על פסוק ובאהרן התאנף ה'. ולכן נקרא אוריה ע"ש אהרן, כי הם דומים בשמותיהם. גם שניהם היו כהנים. ואע"פ שנתקן באוריה כשנהרג, ע"כ זה הנה גרם שנדב ואביהוא בניו המתגלגלים עמו שם נהרגו עמו בסבתו, ולכך הוצרך להתגלגל שנית:

בזכריה הנביא הכהן, חבירו של חגי ומלאכי. וגם אז נתגלגלו עמו בניו נדב ואביהוא בגלגול ממש. ולכן אוריה הכהן שבא לתקן חטאו של אהרן, נקרא כהן, לרמוז אל אהרן הכהן הראשון, אבל זכריהו שבא לצורך נדב ואביהוא, לא נקרא בשם כהן, אע"פ שהיה כהן, כמש"ה ואעידה לי עדים נאמנים, את אוריה הכהן ואת זכריהו בן יברכיהו. גם רמז ענין, כי באוריה לא הזכיר בן, אבל בזכריהו הזכיר בן, לרמוז כי אוריה האב, וזכריהו הבן שהם נדב ואביהוא בניו, והם העיקרים בזכריהו. אבל אהרן הכהן אביהם, עיקרו היה באוריהו. ולכן נקראים עדים נאמנים, לפי ששניהם נפש אחת כנזכר, וכל א' משניהם היו בו מגולגלים שני עדים, בחי' אהרן, ובחי' שני בניו. גם לכן אוריה נתנבא תוכחות, כיון שעדיין היה צריך ליהרג. אבל זכריהו נתנבא דברי נחמות ובנין בית שני כנזכר בספרו:

Chapter 34
והיא מיוסדת בענין שרשי הנשמות של קין והבל .דע, כי הבל הוא הכתף הימני של אדה"ר, והוא בחי '
עיטרא דחסד שנשארו בז"א .ונמצא כי הוא מסוד הדעת, וכבר הודעתיך, כי הדעת הוא מכריע בן חו"ב , ולכן צריך שהדעת עצמו יהיו בו שלשה בחינות, והם, חג"ת .והנה משה תחלה היה הבל בן אדה"ר , ואח"כ נתגלגל בשת, ואח"כ בנח, ואח"כ בשם בן נח .וז"ס ואתה אמרת ידעתיך בשם, רמז גלגולו בשם .
וגם מצאת חן בעיני, רמז גלגולו בנח אביו. כי נח הם אותיות חן, בסוד ונח מצא חן .וכבר הודעתיך במקום
אחר, כי ענייני הגלגולים האלה, הם בסוד נר"ן, ולכן אל תתמה, איך נח ושם היו יחד בזמן א, 'עם היותם
בחי 'אחת .גם לכן נרמז שם, בשתי אותיות ראשונות של משה .ונמצא כי שם ונח ומשה, כלם הם שרש
א, 'והם מבחי 'החסד, שהוא הבל בן אדם .וז"ס הנאמר במשה, כי מן המים משיתיהו, הם מימי החסד
הנזכר .והנה כאשר משה קבל התורה מסיני, נכלל בכל שלשה בחינותיו הנז, 'ונתעלה בסוד הדעת
המכריע, אשר משם הוא בחי 'תורח שבכתב .גם ז"ס מימינו אש דת למו, כי התורה נתנה מצד הגבורה , והוא מצד גבורה שבדעת כנזכר:
וכבר הודעתיך, כי עד מראה הסנה, עדיין משה לא תקן מאותיות הבל ושת, אלא אות ש 'משת, ואות ה '
מהבל, הנרמזים בשם משה .ושלשה אותיות הבל, לא נתקנו עדיין בו .וזהו הטעם שגרשום ומנשה בני
משה, שהוליד קודם מראות הסנה, לא היו כ"כ צדיקים, והיו בלתי הגונים) .הגהה - אמר שמואל, לא
ידעתי, מאן דכר שמיה דמנשה כאן, כי משה לא היו לו בנים, זולתי גרשום ואליעזר הנזכרים בפרשת
יתרו .(גם טעם אחר, לפי שכל ישראל היו בניו ונצוצות נשמתו, כי ז"ס מ"ש מז"ל שקול משה כנגד כל
ישראל, כי היה כדוגמת אדה"ר הכולל כל הנשמות, ולכן אין לחוש אם גרשום ומנשה לא היו ראוים, כי
כבר היו כל ישראל בניו:
ונתזור לענין, כי בסנה נתקן משה גם באותיות הב"ל, ולכן נאמר וירא מלאך ה 'אליו בלב"ת אש, לרמוז , כי תחלה אותיות לב"ת, לא נתקנו, ולכן נקראת לב"ת אש, מצד הדין, יען כי לא נתקנו .ועתה בסנה
נתקנו .ולהורות על התקון הזה, נאמר בו משה משה שני פעמים, להורות כי בפעם הזאת היא משה
מתוקן, משא"כ במשה הא 'שהוא קודם הסנה .ולהורות, כי אף בתחלה לא היה הפגם כ"כ, לכן לא פסיק
טעמא ביניהו: כנזכר באדרת נשא להורות, כי לא היה כל כך פגם גדול
והנה אח"כ, באו הלל ושמאי, ושניהם משרש הבל, אלא שהלל הוא מצד החסד של הבל, ושמאי הזקן
מצד הגבורה של הבל .ולכן תמצא כי אמר השי"ת למשה 'היה 'לך 'לעזרני, ונרמז בר"ת הלל, ולכן משה
והלל, שניהם היו ענותנים כנודע, כי הם מצד החסד שבהבל, ולכן שניהם נרמזים בשם בן ע"ב, היוצא
מפסוקים ויסע, וינזי, ויט. בשני שמות שבו, הסמוכים זה לזה, והם מה"ש לל"ה, שהם אותיות משה הלל:
האמנם שמאי, מצד הגבורה שבהבל הנזכר, ולכן תמצא כי הלל בגימטריא אדנ"י, שהיא בחי 'פנים
שבמלכות .אבל שמאי הם אחורים, כמבואר אצלינו ולכן שמאי הזקן היה קפדן גדול, לפי שהיה מן
הגבורה .ולכן יש בשמאי שני אותיות ש"ם מן משה, ומן שם בן נח .ושני אותיות א"י, הם סוד א"י הבל

אחיך, כי להיות שמאי מצד הגבורה של הבל, לכן נרמז בו חטאו של הבל, שחטא בשתי אותיות א"י מן אדנ"י, הנרמזים בא"י הבל אחיך, כנזכר בתקונין תקון ס"ט:
והנה שמאי הזקן, חטא ע"י קפדנותו, שבאו לידו כמה גרים ולא קבלם להתגייר, כמ"ש ז"ל ולכן נתגלגל אח"כ בשמעון בן עזאי, שלא נשא אשה, והיה בורא נפשות גרים, ע"י עסקו בתורה, כמו שהיה אברהם איש החסד עושה, כנזכר בפרשת לך, בפסוק ואת הנפש אשר עשו בחרן. וכמו שנודע, כי כל אתערו דנפשין דגיורין, הם מצד החסד שהוא אברהם בעוד שהיה פרוש מן האשה, שהיתה עקרה. וכן במרע"ה, שהיה בורא נפשות לגרים, כשפירש מן האשה, לפי שהיה בסוד החסד דהבל. והנה עי"כ נתמתקה גבורת שמאי ונהפכה לחסד. ולכן נרמז בו ב 'אותיות ש"מ מן שמאי, ושלשה אותיות עו"ן, לרמוז כי שמעון בן עזאי, תקן עון שמאי, שהיה דוחה את הגרים:
ואמנם ר 'עקיבא, היה משרש קין כמבואר אצלינו, והוא מצד עיטרא דגבורה כנודע, והמתיק את הגבורה, והפכה לחסד, והיה בורא נפשות לגרים, באותם כ"ד שנים שפירש מאשתו בת כלבא שבוע, והלך ללמוד תורה, והביא עמו:
וצ"ע:
כ"ד אלף תלמידים כנודע. ואמנם ר 'עקיבא עצמו שרש נפשו היתה מן פנימיות הקדושה, אלא שע"י חטא קדמון יצאת אל הקליפות, ואח"כ חזרה בקדושה. ואע"פ שנקרא גר, אינו גר ממש. אבל שאר נפשות הגרים אינם כך, כי עיקר מציאותם והוייתם היא מן אותה הקליפה הנקראת קליפת נוגה, שפעמים היא מסאבא, ופעמים חוזרת אל הקדושה, כנזכר בפרשת ויקהל בספר הזוהר, וז"ס מ"ש רז"ל קשים גרים לישראל כספחת וכו '. והענין הוא, כי האיש ההוא שהיה בתחלתו גוי, כאשר בא להתגייר, נכנס בו נפש אחת, מתולדות הנפשות של הצדיקים בהיותם בג"ע הארץ, כנזכר בפרשת שלח לך. ואחר אשר נתגייר, זוכה ונכנסה בו נפש אחרת קדושה ממש, כשאר נפשות בני ישראל. ואז נקרא גר צדק, כי יש לו ממש נפש קדושה מן המלכות, הנקראת צדק כנודע. והנה אותה הנפש הנשארת עתה בו, והיא אותה שהיתה בו בהיותו גוי, הנקראת נפש הגר, והיא אשר החזירתו למוטב בהכרח הוא שתהיה לה איזו אחיזה אל הקליפה, ולכן בהיותה עתה בגוף הגר הזה אחר שנתגייר, בהכרח היא מחטיאה קצת אל הנפש הקדושה האחרת אשר בגר הזה. וז"ס קשים גרים לישראל כספחת כי נפש הגר הראשונה, מחטיאה את נפש השניה הנקראת ישראל. ובזה תבין סוד ר 'עקיבא ע"ה, שהיה בתחלתו עם הארץ, שונא ת"ח מ 'שנה, באמרו מי יתן לי ת"ח ואנשכנו כחמור. ונמשך לו זה מצד אותה נפש הגר הראשונה. אבל נפשו האמיתית היתה קדושה לגמרי בתכלית, ודי בזה:
ונחזור לענין, כי בן עזאי ור 'עקיבא היו בוראים נפשות הגרים, כשפירשו מן האשה, כי שניהם קדושים, להיותם, זה מצד הגבורה דהבל, וזה מצד הגבורה דקין. ומצד קורבא זו לקח בן עזאי בתו של ר 'עקיבא כנודע. ואע"פ שלא בא עליה, וחזר ושלחה כנודע, עכ"ז כבר נתבאר אצלינו במצות הקדושין, כי על ידי הקדושין נותן האיש באשה בחי 'או"מ מכח רוחו של האיש, ובן עזאי כשקדש בת ר 'עקיבא, יהיב בה ההוא רוחא בסוד או"מ, ונשאר תמיד עמה, ומצד זה יש לבן עזאי קורבה עם ר 'עקיבא תמיד, כנודע אצלינו. גם ז"ס מ"ש ז"ל שהיה אומר בן עזאי על ר 'עקיבא, כל חכמי ישראל דומים עלי כקליפת השום, חוץ מקרח זה, ובלי ספק אין להאמין שיתגאה בן עזאי על כל חכמי ישראל בלשון הזה, וגם שאפילו לר 'עקיבא יזכירנו לגנאי בשם קורח ח"ו. אבל סוד הדברים, דע, כי כל החכמים או רובם הם בוראים נפשות לגרים, ע"י עסקם בתורה. האמנם יש חלוק ביניהם, כי יש מי שאין בהם יכולת רק להביא נפשות אל הגרים, באותה הקליפה הנקראת נוגה כנזכר, אבל ר 'עקיבא ובן עזאי, אחר שהיו מביאים אותם משם, היו מכניסים אותה במקום הקדושה ונתקנת שם, ואח"כ היו ממשיכים אותם משם, ונותנים אל הגרים. ובבחי 'זו היו מעולים ר 'עקיבא ובן עזאי על כל חכמי הדור, וז"ש כל חכמי ישראל לפני כקליפת השום, חוץ מן הקרח הזה. וסוד הדבר, במה שידעת כי באבר אות ברית קדש שבאדם יש שתי נקבים הימני מוציא טפת זרע קדוש, והשמאלי מוציא מי רגלים עכורים, מזון אל הקליפות. וביניהם קליפה דקה כקליפת השום, וקליפה זו היא הנקראת אצלינו קליפת נוגה. והנה כל חכמי הדור ההוא, היו מוציאים נפשות הגרים מקליפת השום הנזכר בלבד. אבל הם, היו מכניסים אותם אל נקב הקדושה הימיני, ומחזירין אותה לקדושה ממש. ואח"כ היו ממשיכים אותם משם לחוץ בגופות הגרים. ורצה לתת טעם, למה גם ר 'עקיבא היה בו כח זה כמוהו, ולכן הזכירו בשם קרח, והענין הוא במה שהודעתיך, כי קרח בן יצחק גם הוא נמשך משרש קין, והנה אמרו בזוהר כי למה נקרא שמו קרח, לפי שהיה לוי, והלוי צריך

והנה גם אביי, החזיק כדרכו של בן עזאי, להמשיך נפשות אל הגרים כמוהו, ע"י עסק התורה, אע"פ שלא פירש מן האשה, כמו שיתבאר טעמו של דבר. וז"ס מ"ש בפ"ק דקדושין אמר אביי הריני כבן עזאי בשוקי דטבריא, ולא היה אומר כן אלא כשהיה שמח שמחה יתירה. והענין הוא, כי הנה אביי גם הוא משרש קין, שהוא עיטרא דגבורה, וכאשר היה ממתק הגבורה, ומהפכה לחסד, שאז נקראת הגבורה שמחה, בסוד יין המשמח, אז היה כבן עזאי בורא נפשות הגרים מצד החסד, דמתמן אתערו גיורין כנזכר:

ונבאר טעם אל כל הנז"ל, כי הנה נתבאר אצלינו, כי בכל אלו שזכרנו שהם משרש קין, אין בהם מי שיהיה נפשו רוחו ונשמתו שלשתם משרש קין, אלא אביי, וזה הוא ענין גדול, שזכה שלא יהיה בו ערוב אחר, אלא כל חלקיו משרש אחד, ושלשתם משרש קין, אשר שם הוא סוד נפשות הגרים, ולכן היה בו כח ויכולת באביי לברא אותם, שלא ע"י פרישתו מן האשה כלל. אבל ר 'עקיבא, שלא היה לו משרש קין רק נפש בלבד, אבל רוחו היה משרש אחר, לכן הוצרך לפרוש מן האשה. אבל בן עזאי שהיה מן הגבורה של הבל, הוצרך ליותר מזה, והוא שלא נשא אשה כלל. ובזה תבין מ"ש אביי, הריני כב"ע בשוקי דטבריא, והיל"ל כר 'עקיבא, כיון ששניהם משרש קין. אבל הטעם הוא, כי בענין בריאת נפשות הגרים, גדלה מעלת בן עזאי על ר 'עקיבא, לפי שבן עזאי לא נשא אשה כלל. ואמנם אביי, להיות נפשו ורוחו ונשמתו מן קין, לכן היה שקול כבן עזאי ממש, אע"פ שלא פירש מן האשה, משא"כ בר 'עקיבא. ולפי שאביי כל חלקיו משרש קין, לא היתה הלכה כמותו לגבי רבא חבירו, שהיה מן הבל, כמו שנתבאר אצלינו. וזהו טעם למה אביי היה יתום, ולא ראה לא אביו ולא אמו, וכמו שנרמז שמו בפסוק "אשר "בך "ירוחם "יתום, ר"ת אביי. והענין הוא, כי כיון שנפשו ורוחו ונשמתו כלם הם משרש אחד של קין, וכבר הודעתיך בדרושים שקדמו, כי כל שרש קין, נקרא בחי 'נפש בלבד, כי הוא מצד המלכות הנקראת נפש, בסוד נפש אדם. ולכן נקרא יתום כי כשהוא מבחי 'נפש בלבד, נקרא יתום, כמ"ש בספר התקונין תקון י"א, שבסוף הספר, בענין נפרעין מנכסי יתומים, כי בהסתלקות הנשמה, אשתארו נפשא ורוחא יתמין וכו'. וכיון שאביי היה יתום, להיות כל חלקיו מן קין כנזכר, לכן היה בו כח אף בלי פרישתו מן האשה, לברא נפשות הגרים, אשר גם הם יתומים בלי אב ואם, כנודע מפשט הענין. והענין הוא, כי סוד תערובת קין בכל נצוצות שאר הנשמות, הם שלא ע"י אב ואם, וכלם נקראים יתומים. וכן הגרים הם יתומים, כי אין להם אב ואם מישראל, שיוליד נפשות שלהם:

ואל תתמה, היאך בכל דורו של בן עזאי, לא נמצא מי שיברא נפשות הגרים, והרי ר 'ישמעאל בן אלישע כ"ג, שנתבאר אצלינו שהוא נצוץ נשמת יוסף הצדיק, ולמה לא היה בו כח זה כמוהו. אבל הענין הוא במה שנתבאר אצלינו, כי כל אותם עשרה הרוגי מלכות, הם עשר טפות זרע שיצאו מן יוסף, ולפי שיוסף הוא עצמו ר 'ישמעאל, וחטא, כי פגם באותם הנצוצות שהוציאם לעמקי הקליפה, לכן לא היה בו כח לברא נפשות גרים. ולכן תמצא כי עונש ר 'ישמעאל קשה מכל עשרה הרוגי מלכות כי הוא גרם להם, ע"י הוצאות טפת זרע הנזכר. וכדמיון מ"ש ביוסף, ויפשיטו את יוסף את כתנתו, כן הפשיטו עור פניו של ר 'ישמעאל. גם נדמה ר 'ישמעאל ליוסף, בהיותו יפת תאר כמוהו, כנזכר בפרקי היכלות. וכמו שיוסף נשבה בין הגוים במצרים, כן נשבה ר 'ישמעאל, כנזכר כששאלו ר"י בן חנניא, וא"ל מי נתן למשסה יעקב, והשיב הלא ה 'זו חטאנו לו, רמז לו, כי בעון נצוצות טיפי הזרע של יוסף שירדו בקליפות במקום הרגלים, אשר שם הוא סוד המשסה ברגלים, לכן נשבה בין הגוים, וזהו מי נתן למשסה יעקב, שהם אותם הטפות כנזכר, והשיב הלא ה 'זו חטאנו לו:

בענין קין והבל .כבר נתבאר כי קין והבל, לקחו גם נפש דאצילות, שהיתה באדה"ר .והענין הוא, כי הנה נודע שכל העולמות קשורים זה בזה, ואחר שהאדם משלים לתקן חלק עולם העשיה, יכול לעלות עד עולם היצירה, ועד"ז ג"כ יעלה עד עולם האצילות .כנזכר בס"ה ריש פרשת משפטים, זכה יתיר יהבין ליה .
וכבר נתבאר לעיל בדרושים שקדמו, כי אין זה רק בנשמה חדשה, כי אז יכול לעלות מעולם לעולם כנזכר שם .ונמצא כי כל העולמות קשורים זה בזה, וזה כסא לזה, וזה לזה .והנה יש בחי 'נשמות, שמעולם לא השיגו, רק לתקן בחלק נפש של עשיה בלבד, ויש שזכו עד היצירה, ויש עד הבריאה, ויש שזכו לתקן עד האצילות, ומועטים הם בכל שרשי הנשמות, שימצא שרש שזכה לתקן עד האצילות .ואין מעלה זו נמצאת, אלא בשרשי הנשמות של קין והבל, כי להיותם נשמה חדשה בצד מה, כמבואר אצלינו לכן זוכים לתקן וליקח אפילו נפש דאצילות, אבל לא יותר מזה .אבל כל שאר השרשים, שהם נקראים נשמות ישנות כמבואר אצלינו, לא זכו ליקח נפש דאצילות, והלואי שיזכו אל נשמה דבריאה:
ודע, כי בשרשי הנשמות של קין והבל עצמם, יש ב 'בחינות, הא 'היא, בחי 'נשמותיהם של קין והבל עצמם בלבד, נשמות שנשרו, שהיא מעולם בי"ע בלבד נשאר .ויש בחינה שנית עליונה, והיא אותו החלק של אדם הראשון עצמו, שהוריש ממנו אל קין והבל בניו .ונ"ל שהוא נצוץ מנפש האב עצמו, שנותן בנפש הבן להדריכם כנודע ובבחי 'הזאת הב', יש בה המשכת כל העולמות, שהוא מנפש דעולם העשיה עד הנפש של עולם האצילות, והיא בכלל .וכל מי שנשמתו מזו הבחי 'הב', מעלתו גדולה, כי יש בה כח ויכולת לתקן בפעם הראשונה ויבא בעולם, מנפש דעשיה, עד נפש דאצילות .ויזכה ע"י מעשיו לקחת נפש בידו, דאצילות .אך לא רוח, או נשמה דאצילות, לפי שאינם נקראים נשמה חדשה לגמרי, כנז"ל בדרושים שקדמו .וכבר ביארתי בדרושים שקדמו, כי גם בזאת הבחי 'השנית, שהיא אשר הוריש אדם לקין והבל בניו, יש בה ב 'בחי', והם, אור מקיף, ואור פנימי .וכל הנשמות של בחי 'זו השנית, שביארנו בדרושים שקדמו, כגון, יששכר, ור 'עקיבא, וחזקיהו, כלם הם מן האור הפנימי של בחי 'זו, וגם אליהו הנביא ז"ל, היה מן האור הפנימי של בחי 'זו השנית .ואח"כ נתעברו בו נדב ואביהוא, כי הם היו מן האור המקיף דנפש דאצילות של בחי 'זו השנית:
ונבאר עתה שרש קין והבל, היכן נאחזים בנשמת אדה"ר .דע, כי קין הוא בחי 'זרוע שמאלי שבכל הפרצופים שבכל העולמות, בין בא"א, בין באו"א, בין בזו"ן שבאצילות ושבבי"ע .וכנגדו הוא הבל בחי ' זרוע ימני שבכל הפרצופים שבכל העולמות .ודע, כי בשלשה עולמות התחתונים שהם בי"ע, נקראים זרועות .אבל בעולם האצילות, נקראים כנפים .ונמצא כי קין הוא בכנף השמאל דאצילות, והבל בכנף ימין .
ובחי 'זו של הכנפים ושל הזרועות, יש בהם בחי 'אור מקיף ואור פנימי כנזכר .ודע, כי כל הנשמות הבאים מזו הבחי 'הב 'של קין והבל, שהורישם אדם אביהם, לא זכו ליקח בעה"ז רק עד הכנפים של מלכות דאצילות, הנקראת נפש דאצילות .וכל השרשים של הנשמות שיש בבחי 'זו השנית, יכולים להשיג בעה"ז, ליקח עד שם בפעם א 'אבל משם ולמעלה, אי אפשר להם להשיג בפעם א', אלא עד שיבאו בגלגול שני .
ויען אשר מי שהוא מזו הבחי 'השנית, יכול להשיג בפעם א 'אפילו נפש דאצילות, לכן כל הצדיקים האלו, נקראים מלאכים .ובכל מקום שתמצא בחי 'שם מלאך, מכונה לאיזה צדיק, אינו אלא משרש הזה הנזכר .
ולכן נאמר בפנחס, בענין רחב הזונה, ותקח האשה את שני האנשים, ותצפנו בלשון יחיד, כי לא הוצרכה להטמין אלא את האחד, אבל פינחס לא הוצרך לכך, לפי שנקרא מלאך, והוא נקרא כן, לפי שהוא מן שרש קין זה .ולכן אליהו ז"ל היה מלאך, כי הוא מן השרש הזה של קין .גם ר 'יהודה בר אלעאי ז"ל, היה מזו הבחי 'הב 'של קין, ולכן רמזו ז"ל בתלמוד עליו, שבכל ע"ש היה רוחץ פניו ידיו ורגליו ומקבל שבת,

והיה דומה למלאך ה 'צבאות .גם יהודה וחזקיה בני ר 'חייא ,נקראים מלאכים ,להיותם משרש הזה השני של קין .וכמו שרמזו בזה בתלמוד באמרם ,פליגי בה תרי אמוראי בארעא ,יהודה וחזקיה ,ולקבליהו תרין מלאכי ברקיעא וכו .'ואמנם חנוך שלקח זיהרא עילאה דאדם ,שהיא עד נשמה דאצילות ,היה מלאך יותר עליון וגדול מן אליהו .ונמצא כי מי שהוא מבחי 'עולם האצילות ,נקרא מלאך ,ויכול לעלות במעלת מלאך וזכור זה:

ונבאר עתה ,ענין הזרוע והכנף הזה הנזכר השמאל שבו שרש קין ,וממנו יובן הזרוע והכנף הימני אשר להבל .דע ,כי קין הוא אבר הכתף השמאליי של אדה"ר ,כנז"ל בדרושים שקדמו .ויש באבר הזה שלשה בחי ,'שהם ,בשר ,וגידים ,ועצמות .והנה בבי"ע ,בכל חמשה פרצופים שבכל עולם משלשתם ,יש שרש אל קין בזרוע השמאל ,באבר הכתף שבכל פרצוף מהם ,אבל אין שם בחי 'כנף .אבל בחמשה פרצופים שבאצילות ,יש בהם בחי 'כתף ,בבשר וגידים ועצמות ,ועוד בחי 'כנף .ונמצא כי שרשי נשמה אשר בבחי ' זו השנית של קין ,יש לה בחי 'הכתף עצמו ,שהוא הבשר והגידים והעצמות ,וגם יש לה בחי 'הכנף היוצא משם ,שהם הנוצות היוצאות מאבר הכתף הנזכר ,וזה באצילות .אבל בבי"ע ,לא יש כנף רק בחי 'כתף לבדו כנזכר .וכבר נתבאר בדרושים שקדמו ,ענין הכתף הזה השמאלי:

ועתה נבאר ענין הכנף ,דע כי הכנף השמאלי הזה ,אשר בו נאחז שרשי נשמת קין ,יש בה שלשה אלפים נוצות .אלף גדולים ,ואלף בינוניים ,ואלף קטנים .ובכל נוצה ונוצה מאלו ,יש מאה וחמשים שערות ,שהם בחינת נצוצי הנשמות .והנה בכל נוצה מהם ,יש לה גומא אחת באבר הכתף ,אשר שם תקועה הנוצה , וצומחת משם .עוד יש בכל נוצה בקצה שלה העליון התקוע בגומא ,בחי 'הדם הנבלע בתוכה כנודע .גם הנוצה עצמה בראשיתה ,שהוא קצה שלה התקוע בגומא ,יש עוד למעלה ממנו קצת קנה חלק בלי שער , ואחר בחי 'זו נמשך עוד הקנה הנזכר ונתארך ,וצומחים בו שערות משתי צדדיו ,ועד"ז נמשך עד סיום הנוצה .והנה השערות עצמם הצומחות משני צדי הקנה ,יש בהם שערות גדולות ארוכות ,ויש בהם שערות קצרות קטנות .והנה השערות הקטנות ,הם נצוצות נשמות של הילדים הקטנים שמתים בקטנותם .ויש בהם כמה בחי ',כי אין כל השערות הקטנות שוים בארכם ,וזה מובן .וכן עד"ז יש כמה מדרגות בשערות הגדולים ,וכפי ארכם כך ארך שנותיהם של הנשמות ההם בעה"ז .ודע כי הנוצה בעצמה ,מעלתה גדולה יותר מן הגומא שממנה צומחת ,ויותר מן הדם הנבלע בתוכם ,בתחלת קצה הקנה במקום תקיעתו בגומא .והנה הנוצה ,מעלתו גדולה מן השערות הצומחים בשתי צדדיה ,והשערות הארוכים מעולים מן הקצרים:

גם דע ,כי כל נוצה יש בה ק"ן נצוצות נשמות כנז"ל ,והם כמספר כנ"ף .וחשבון הזה של ק"ן ,הוא ע"ש קין , שיש בו אותיות ק"ן י .'ואמנם הכנף הימני שהוא בחי 'הבל ,מתחלקת הנוצה שבו באופן אחר ע"ש הבל , והוא ,כי כל נוצה מהם נחלקת לחמשה חלקים ,וכל חלק כלול מן ל"ב נצוצות ,וזה הב"ל ,ה 'פעמים ל"ב . ונמצא כי גם הם מספרם ק"ן נצוצות כמו בשל קין ,אלא שהק"ן נצוצות של קין ,שבכל נוצה כל נצוץ מהם נחלק בפני עצמו ,ונקרא ק"ן .אבל של הבל ,נחלקים לחמשה חלקים ,וכל חלק לל"ב נצוצות ,וזהו בלבד ההפרש שבין קין להבל:

ואבאר לך קצת נשמות שבבחי 'זו השנית של קין ,ועם היות כי כל הכתף כלו ,וכל הכנף כלו הוא שרש קין ,אבאר עתה אחד מן השרשים אשר בקין ,הנה בחי 'הגידים אשר באבר הכתף השמאליי ,שבארבע עולמות אבי"ע ,ומלבד זה יש לבחי 'הזאת ,שרש ואחיזה בכנף השמאליי אשר במלכות דאצילות ,שיש שם ג"כ בחי 'כנף כנז"ל ,ואחיזה זו היא בנוצה של מספר עז"ר ,מן האלף נצוצות הגדולים .ויש בנוצה זו ק"ן נצוצי נשמות ,ואלו הק"ן נצוצות שיש בנוצה זו ,הם שרש אחד מיוחד בבחי 'הכנף ,זולת בחינתו אשר לו בגידים של הכתף עצמו כנז"ל .והנה הגומא של הנוצה הזו ,היא אביי .והדם אשר בגומא זאת ,הוא רמי בר חמא .וקצת הקנה התקוע שם נחלק לשנים ,לפי שטפת הדם אשר בתוך הקנה בקצהו זה ,מפסיקו לשתי בחי 'משא"כ אחר צאת הקנה מן הגומא ,שכלו בחי 'אחת .והנה צד השמאלי שבקצה הקנה הנזכר ,הוא שמואל הנביא .וצד הימני ,לא הגיד לי מורי ז"ל .ושאר הקנה אחרי צאתו מן הגומא ,כל מקום שהוא בלתי שער ,הוא חזקיה מלך יהודה .ושאר הקנה המתפשט בין השערות ,ונחלק לכמה חלקים , ונמצא כי כל שתי שערות ימני ושמאלי יש ביניהם מעמיד אחד של קנה ,שבו נאחזים שתיהם ,ובחי ' מעמיד אחד שיש בנוצה הזאת ,הוא ר 'עקיבא בן יוסף .ויהודה וחזקיה בני ר 'חייא ,הם מנוצה אחרת שבאלף הגדולים ,ונוצה ההיא היא יותר גדולה מזו הנוצה שמספרה עז"ר .ור 'יהודה בר אלעאי ,הוא מן נוצה אחרת קטנה מן הנוצה שמספרה עז"ר ,ולכן היה תלמידו של ר 'עקיבא ,ונצוץ נפש הרשב"א זלה"ה , ונצוץ נפש מהר"י קארו ז"ל בעל ספר ב"י ,וספר השלחן ערוך ,אשר היה בדור שלפנינו ,הם מזו הנוצה של ר 'יהודה בר אלעאי:

ונבאר יתרון שיש לקין על הבל אחיו ,יתרון גדול מאד ,ואל תתמה כי מספר הזוהר נראה ,כי קין רשע גמור ,והבל צדיק .כי דע ,שבהכרח הוא ,שהבכור יהיה לו יתרון על הפשוט ,וכמ"ש בתקונים תקון ס"ט , על פסוק הלא תיטב שאת .ולא עוד ,אלא שמצינו שנתייחד לו הדבור והיה נביא ,כמש"ה ויאמר ה 'לקין .

ולא עוד ,אלא שמצינו שהיה בנו בכורו של אדה"ר ,יציר כפיו של הקב"ה ,ואם אדם יצור כפיו ,חטא להפליא ,כמ"ש רז"ל במסכת סנהדרין דף ל"ח ,אין לתמוה ממה שחטא קין בנו ,ילוד אשה .האמנם כללו של דבר ,כי קין והבל כל אחד מהם ,היה כלול מטוב ורע ,טוב מסטרא דאדם ,ורע מסטרא דזוהמת הנחש ,שהיה מן החסד ,נאחז בו הרע יותר מהבל ,אלא שלפי שקין הוא בגבורה .שהטיל במוה:

ונחזור לענינינו ,כי קין מצד הגבורה ,והבל מצד החסדים .וכבר הודעתיך כי הגבורות של עתיק יומין , המתלבש תוך א"א ,אשר מהגבורות ההם יצאה אימא עילאה ,הנה הם נתגלו זמן רב ,קודם שנתגלו החסדים .ועוד כי הגבורות תמיד הם מגולים ,ולכן מי שהוא מזו הבחי 'השנית של קין כנז"ל ,יכול לעלות ממדרגה אל מדרגה ,ומגבורות אל גבורות ,עד הגבורות של עתיק יומין ,וינק משם השפע שלו .משא"כ בהבל ,כי הוא מן החסדים שאחרו מלהתגלות .ולא עוד ,אלא שהם סתומים תמיד ,ואין להם כ"כ גלוי .

וזהו הטעם מ"ש ז"ל במדרש רבה בפרשת חוקת א"ר חוניא וכל יקר ראתה עינו ,זה ר 'עקיבא ,דברים שלא נגלו למשה ,נגלו לר 'עקיבא .גם זהו מ"ש באותיות דר 'עקיבא ,כי אמר משה לשי"ת על ר 'עקיבא , יש לך אדם כזה ואתה נותן התורה על ידי וכו ',והיה משה נרתע ,כיון שראה מזלו של ר 'עקיבא ,דורש על כל קוץ וקוץ תלי תלים של הלכות .וקרוב לזה נזכר במסכת שבת פרק ר 'עקיבא .והטעם הוא ,לפי שהיה ר 'עקיבא יכול להשיג יותר ממשה ,לסבה הנז"ל ,כי הוא מן קין ,ומשה מן הבל .גם זהו מ"ש במסכת שבת פרק ר 'עקיבא ,שבשעה שעלה משה למרום ,מצאו להקב"ה שהיה קושר כתרים לאותיות ,א"ל מי מעכב על ידך ,א"ל צדיק אחד עתיד לעמוד ,ועקיבא בן יוסף שמו וכו '.והענין הוא ,כי מי שהוא משרש הבל ,אין בו יכולת להשיג רק עד כתרי אותיות ,שהם התגין ,ולא יותר .וז"ש שמצאו שהיה קושר קשרים לאותיות .אבל מי שהוא משרש קין מבחינתו השנית כנז"ל ,יש בו יכולת להשיג אפילו עד הטעמים ,או יותר למעלה ג"כ .האמנם אח"כ מרע"ה השיג הכל ע"י מעשיו העצומים:

גם יש סבה אחרת ,אל יתרון מי שהוא מצד אימא שהוא קין ,על מי שהוא מהחו"ג של אבא .ונודע כי נה"י דאימא ,המלובשים תוך ז"א עד החזה ,אשר בתוכם המוחין של אימא ,אין שם רק לבוש וכסוי אחד בלבד ,והאורות היוצאים משם ,הם גדולים ומאירים מאד ,ולכן הנשמות היוצאות משם ,אורם גדול ומגולה .אבל הנשמות הבאות מן אבא ,אורם מועט ,לפי שמוחין דאבא שבז"א ,הם מכוסים בב 'כסויים , עד מקום החזה של ז"א ,הוא אחד מנה"י דאבא עצמו ,ואחד הוא מנה"י דאימא אשר על נה"י דאבא כנודע .וכן מן החזה דז"א ולמטה ,מוחין דאימא מגולים לגמרי ,ומוחין דאבא מכוסים בכסוי אחד ,שהוא מן היסוד דאבא כנודע .ולכן הנשמות שהם מן החסדים המגולים ,או מן הגבורות המגולים ,הם יותר מעולים מן הנשמות של מקום המכוסה ,אע"פ שהם הגבוהים בבחי 'מקום .וז"ס מ"ש בגמרא עולם הפוך ראיתי , עליונים למטה ותחתונים למעלה:

גם יש טעם אחר אל הנז"ל ,והוא ,כי אבא אינו מאיר כלל רק ע"י החו"ג של אימא ,כי הם עוברים דרך שם ,ולכן הם גדולים ומאירים יותר מהם .גם טעם אחר ,כי הגבורות הם היוצאות תחלה דרך היסוד כנז"ל ,ולכן היה קין בכור ,בסוד אשת חיל עטרת בעלה ,כי הגבורה נקבה והחסד זכר .ודע ,כי לעתיד לבא ,כל שרש קין יהיו כהנים .ושרש הבל שהיו עד עתה כהנים ,אז יהיו לוים .באופן ,כי כל מה שהיה עד עתה בחי 'לוים מצד הגבורה ,דוגמת קרח לוי ,שהיה משרש קין ,כלם יקחו אז את הכהונה ,שהיא חלק הבכורה ,כנודע מתרגום פסוק ראובן בכורי אתה .וז"ס פסוק והכהנים הלוים בני צדוק .והנה לא נמצא בשום נביא ,שיזכיר הכהנים בשם לוים ,אלא ביחזקאל ,לפי שהוא היה משרש קין הבכור ,כמבואר אצלינו .ולכן נבא נבואה זו ,כי לעתיד לבא אותם שהיו עד עתה כהנים ,יהיו אז לויים .וכן מי שהיו לויים , יהיו אז כהנים בני צדוק .וכל שרש הבל שעתה הם כהנים ,יהיו אז לויים:

Chapter 36
ובה יתבארו השרשים בפרטות, וז"ל, ועתה אכתוב כמה מיני שרשים של נשמות שקבלתי ממורי ז"ל, ויש מהם שהרחיב הבאור בו יותר מזולתו, ולכן אתחיל ברב הבאור, ואשלים במעט הבאור. השרש האחד המתייחס לקין בנו של אדם, וכמו שהרחבנו בעניינו בדרושים שקדמו, ועוד נשארו קצת פרטים מפוזרים, ואקבצם ואסדרם עתה יחד פה. ואח"כ אבאר בקצרה שרשים אחרים. הנה אע"פ שבספר הזוהר והתקונין אמרו, כי קין הוא מן הזוהמא שהטיל נחש, והבל הוא מסטרא דאדם, כבר ידעת מה שאמרו שם במאמרים אחרים, וגם באדרת נשא, דקין והבל כל חד מתרוייהו אחידן בעץ הדעת טוב ורע. והענין הוא דע, כי הנה ע"י חטאו של אדה"ר, נתערב טוב ברע, וכאשר אח"כ הוליד קין והבל, יצאו שניהם מורכבים מטוב ורע, אלא שקין להיותו מבחינת הגבורות, היה רובו רע מן זוהמת הנחש, ומעוטו טוב מצד אדם. אבל הבל רובו טוב מצד אדם, ומעוטו רע מצד זוהמת הנחש. אמנם בחי 'הטוב שבקין, הוא בתכלית המעלה במאד מאד, לפי שהיה הבכור, ולקח הבכורה של חלק הטוב:

ואח"כ התחיל קין להתקן בקינן ומהללאל, כנזכר בזוהר בפרשת תרומה. ואחר כך כשנולדו יעקב ועשו, היו בבחי 'הבל וקין, ואז כתיב וידו אוחזת בעקב עשו. פירוש, כי אותו חלק הבכורה של הטוב שבקין, שנתערב עם הרע כנזכר, והיה עתה בעשו, לקחו ממנו יעקב. וע"ש אותו העקב שלקח ממנו, נקרא יעקב. ובדרוש שקדם נתבאר, איך הבכורה של הטוב נפלה בעקב הקליפות, והבן זה. וכשהוליד יעקב את יששכר, הוריש לו אותו החלק הטוב של הבכורה של קין שלקח מעשו כנזכר, וזש"ה וישכב עמה בלילה הוא גבי יששכר, ולא כתוב ההוא, לרמוז כי הוא יעקב עצמו הנקרא כן ע"ש העקב הנזכר, נתן אותו בלאה בשכבו אז עמה, ומשם יצא יששכר. וז"ס מ"ש במדרש רות של הזהר, כי מן יששכר, יצא ר 'עקיבא. והענין הוא, כי הוא סוד העקב הנזכר כמו שיתבאר:

ואח"כ נתגלגל בנדב ואביהוא, כי שניהם אחד, כנזכר בספר הזוהר בפרשת אחרי מות, ובפרשת פינחס כי תרוייהו אינון תרי פלגא גופא. ואח"כ נתעברו בסוד עבור בפינחס שהוא אליהו הנביא ז"ל, והיו עמו עד מעשה דבת יפתח, ואז נסתלקו ממנו. וכשהלך אל מערת הר חורב חזר ולקחם, כנזכר בזוהר. ובאותו זמן שנסתלקו ממנו, נתגלגלו בסוד גלגול גמור בשמואל הנביא, ואח"כ חזרו ונתעברו באליהו הנביא כנזכר, ואח"כ חזרו ונתעברו באלישע הנביא, ואח"כ נתגלגלו בחזקיהו מלך יהודה, ואח"כ נתגלגלו במתתיהו בן יוחנן כ"ג חשמונאי, אח"כ נתגלגלו בעקביא בן מהללאל, ואחר כך נתגלגלו בריב"ז הכהן, ואח"כ נתגלגלו בר 'עקיבא בן יוסף. וז"ס מ"ש ז"ל כי שלשה חיו ק"כ שנה, משה, וריב"ז, ור 'עקיבא. משה עשה מ 'שנה בבית פרעה, ומ 'במדין, ומ 'פרנס את ישראל. ריב"ז מ 'שנה עסק בפרקמטיא, ומ 'שנה למד, ומ 'שנה לימד. ר 'עקיבא מ 'שנה עם הארץ היה, ומ 'שנה למד, ומ 'שנה לימד. והענין הוא, כי שרש נשמות אלו יש להם אחיזה ושייכות וקורבה עם מרע"ה, כי כל הנשמות כלולות בו, ובפרט נשמות הצדיקים. וכבר ביארנו במקום אחר, כי כל מה שאנו מדברים בשרש הזה, הוא בבחי 'הנפש בלבד, שנתגלגלה בהם. אבל בחלק הרוח, או הנשמה שלהם, יש מהם שאינם מן השרש הזה:

ואח"כ נתגלגלו ברב ייבא סבא, הנזכר בזהר פרשת משפטים. ואח"כ נתגלגל באביי. וז"ש חז"ל במסכת כי ריב"ז לא הניח מקרא משנה וכו', והויות דאביי ורבא. ואח"כ נתעברו בא 'מרבנן סבוראי, הנקרא רב אחאי, והוא אותו שהזכירוהו בתלמוד, פריך רב אחאי. ואחר כך נתעברו ברב אחא משבחא, גאון, בעל השאלתות, וא"ל מורי ז"ל, כי כמדומה לו, שזה רב אחאי, הוא עצמו רב אחא משבחא. ואח"כ נתגלגלו

ברב דוסתאי גאון .ואח"כ נתגלגלו ברבי אהרן הלוי ,רבו של מגיד משנה ,והוא בן בנו של רבינו זרחיה הלוי ,בעל ספר המאורות .ואח"כ נתגלגלו בדון וידאל דיטולושא ,בעל ספר מגיד משנה .ואח"כ בר 'שאול טרישטי .ואח"כ בר 'יהושע סוריאנו .ואח"כ בבחור אחד שמו אברהם .ודע ,כי הרב המגיד משנה ,היה לו שייכות וקורבה עם הרמב"ם ז"ל ,ולכן עשה וחבר ספר מגיד משנה ,ביאור לספר היד של הרמב"ם ז"ל:
ובענין ריב"ז ור 'עקיבא ,ששניהם היו עמי הארץ במ 'שנה הראשונים שלהם כנזכר ,הסבה היא ,לפי שהנפש שלהם היתה מבחי 'טפת זרע אחת ,מאותם עשר טפין ,שיצאו מיוסף הצדיק מעשר אצבעותיו , לכן היו מ 'שנה עמי הארץ ,מ 'הראשונים ,ונתאחזו בהם הקליפות קצת בימים ההם ,ובפרט ר 'עקיבא , שהיה אומר במסכת פסחים דמ"ט ,מי יתן לי ת"ח ואנשכנו כחמור .ומזה תקיש לכמה דברים אחרים , שהיו בו בהיותו ע"ה עם היות שאמרו בגמרא דבת כלבא שבוע חזיתיה דהוא צנוע ומעלי ,ובהכרח שהיו לריב"ז ור 'עקיבא חטאת נעורים ,ולסבה זו הוצרכו להתגלגל אח"כ בכל אותם הגלגולים שכתבנו למעלה .
גם לסבה זו נכנסה נפש קדושה ומעולה של ר 'עקיבא בהיותו בן גרים ולא מזרע ישראל ,לפי שהיא טפת זרע לבטלה שיצאה מיוסף ,בעת הרהורו באשת אדוניו ,שהיתה גויה .והאמת הוא ,כי נפשו של ר 'עקיבא איננה כשאר נפשות הגרים הנבראת מזווג הצדיקים בג"ע ,כנזכר בזוהר פרשת שלח לך ,אמנם היא נפש קדושה וגדולה מאד ,אלא שבחטאו של אדם ושל קין בנו ,יצאה ונפלה לעמקי הקליפה .וגם אח"כ גרם ענין הנזכר שיצאה מטפת זרע יוסף כנזכר ,ולכן הוכרחה ליכנס בעת ביאתם בעה"ז בגוף גר .וכבר נתבאר לעיל בדרושים שקדמו ,כי הנפש הזו שנכנסת בגוף הגר אחר שנתגייר ,הנה היא מתלבשת בתוך נפש אחרת ,הנעשת מתולדת זווג של הצדיקים בג"ע כנזכר ,והיא נקראת נפש הגר הראשונה באמת , הנזכר בסבא דמשפטים דף ואותה נפש הגר ,גרמה לו להיותו ע"ה מ 'שנה הראשונים ,בסוד מה שנתבאר אצלינו במרז"ל קשים גרים לישראל כספחת וכו .'ועוד כי כיון שר 'עקיבא היה בן גרים ,הנקרא יוסף כנודע ,ואמרז"ל מסכת סנהדרין דף צ"ד ,גיורא עד תלתא דרי לא תבזי ארמאה באפיה דקשה ולא עברא זוהמא מיניה עד תלתא דרי ,לכן כיון שר 'עקיבא היה בן גרים ,מוכרח הוא שיתאחזו בו הקליפות והחיצונים באותן מ 'שנה הראשונים כשהיה עם הארץ:
גם בשרש קין א"ל ,כי ריב"ז ור 'עקיבא ,היו בחי 'ב 'זרועותיו ימין ושמאל של מרע"ה ,מעורבים בשרש קין , ולכן מרע"ה וריב"ז ור 'עקיבא ,היו שנותיהם שוים ק"כ שנה כנז"ל .ולכן בקש משה מהשי"ת ,שתנתן התורה ע"י ר 'עקיבא ,כנזכר במסכת שבת בפרק ר 'עקיבא ,וכנזכר באותיות דר 'עקיבא:
גם א"ל ,כי מרע"ה הרג לעוג מלך הבשן ,ובו היה כלול נצוץ נשמת ר"ש בן נתנאל ירא חטא ,בקליפה ההיא ,ולכן הוא ר"ת בש"ן ,וזהו עוג מלך הבשן .ומפני אותו נצוץ קדושה המעורבת בעוג ,הנקרא ירא חטא ,היה משה מתייירא להרגו ,וא"ל השי"ת אל תירא אותו .ואח"כ הנצוץ ההוא היו תלמידו של ריב"ז:
גם א"ל מורי ז"ל כי שלשה היו שטעו בענין הקץ ,הא 'יעקב אבינו ע"ה ,כשקרא לבניו ואמר האספו ואגידה לכם את אשר יקרא אתכם באתרית הימים ונעלם ממנו הקץ .הב 'הוא שמואל הנביא ע"ה ,שטעה בענין אליאב ,ואמר אך נגד ה 'משיחו ,כי חשב שממנו יצא המשיח .הג 'ר 'עקיבא ,שטעה וחשב כי בן כוזיבא היה משיח ה .'ולכן אותיות יעקב הם עקיבא ,לרמוז כי טעותם שוה ,ולכן שלשתם נתגלגלו כדי לתקן טעות זה:
גם א"ל מורי ז"ל ,כי נצוצות נשמות שורש קין ,היו נתונות בתוך הקליפה של סיסרא ,כמבואר אצלינו שם . כי לכך יעל נתנה היתד ברקתו ,כי שם מוח הדעת של החו"ג ,אשר משם שרש קין כנזכר לעיל ,והנה גם נצוץ ר 'עקיבא שם היה ,ולכן נולד ר 'עקיבא מבני בניו של סיסרא כמ"ש רז"ל .גם א"ל מורי ז"ל ,כי אביי הוא רב ייבא סבא דמשפטים ,ואביי נרמז בר"ת פסוק "אך "בי "ישוב "יהפך וגו ,'ואמר יהפוך לרמוז על הפוך ייב"א לאב"יי ,וזהו יהפוך ידו ,כי היודי"ן נהפכו בסוף השם ,ולא רצה מורי ז"ל לגלות לי סבת יהפוך זה מה ענינו:
אח"כ הגיד לי מורי ז"ל בארוכה ,הרבה אנשים שהיו מזה השרש הנזכר של קין ,ועוד יש אחרים ג"כ ,אלא שלא ביאר לי כלם .וזהו מה ששמעתי ממנו ,ואלו הם הנז 'בארבעה ועשרים ,קין .קינן .מהללאל .יובל . יבל .למך .יששכר .שלה בן יהודה .יתרו .נדב .אביהוא .נחשון בן עמינדב .נתנאל בן צוער .קרח .דתן . אבירם .פינחס .עתניאל בן קנז .כרמי אבי עכן .שמגר בן ענת .שמשון .אלקנה .שמואל הנביא .אביה בן שמואל .חבר הקיני .יעל אשת חבר הקיני .אפלל .סמי חבר אבי סוכו .ישבח אבי איש תמוע .ישוב .לחם . ישי אבי דוד .אבישי בן צרויה .שמעה אחי דוד .דואג .ואחתופל .אביה בן רחבעם .אליהו הנביא .אלישע הנביא .יונה בן אמיתי .חיאל בית האלי .נבות היזרעאלי .מיכה המורשתי .נחום האלקושי .חזקיהו מלך

ה"ר יוסף קארו בעל ספר בית יוסף והשלחן ערוך:
ודע, כי כל אלו שכתבנו, הם משרש קין מן הבחי 'הב 'הנז"ל, ואינם אלא בבחי 'הנפש שלהם לבד, אבל
הרוח או הנשמה שלהם, היו משרש אחר, זולתי אביי לבדו, הנקרא נחמני, שנר"נ שלו היו לו משרש קין
מבחי 'הב 'הנז"ל .אבל כל האחרים נפשם לבד היתה משרש הנזכר ולא לקחו מוחם ונשמתם אשר היתה
ראויה להם כפי נפשם משרש קין הנזכר, כנזכר בדרושים שקדמו, כי ע"י חטאו של אדה"ר, נתערבו בחי '
רוח משרש אדם, עם נפש משרש קין או הבל, וכן להפך .ורוח מהבל בנפש מן קין, וכן להפך:
והנה כבר ביארנו במקום אחר בשער רוח הקדש ענין נשמות התנאים והאמוראים, היכן נאחזים בי"ס העליונות דאצילות .ונבאר עתה קצת נצוצות הנפשות הנן"ל שבשרש קין הנזכר, היכן הם נאחזים .כבר
נתבאר אצלינו, ענין החו"ג המתפשטים בשש קצוות ז"א, בבחינת הגדלות ובבחינת הקטנות .ונתחיל
בגבורות הגדלות, גבורת הגדלות העולה דרך עליה מן היסוד לנצח, הוא חזקיהו המלך .והגבורה העולה
עד החסד, הוא יחזקאל הנביא .וגבורה העולה מיסוד להוד, הוא ר 'עקיבא בן יוסף .והעולה עד הגבורה , הוא עקביא בן מהללאל .והגבורה העולה מיסוד אל שני השלישים התחתונים המגולים שבת"ת, הוא
ריב"ז .ומן הנשאר שליש החסד אחר התחלקו הוא מ"ר, והוא מנשה בן חזקיהו, שליש העליון, אליהו בן
ברכאל הבוזי ממשפחת רם, נמצא כי זה מ"ר וזה ר"ם .וכאשר עולה אח"כ בדעת, הוא שמואל הנביא מן
הרמתים והבן זה:
ופעם אחרת א"ל מורי ז"ל, כי אליהו בן ברכאל הבוזי ממשפחת רם, הוא בשליש העליון המכוסה
שבת"ת, וזה הוא ממשפחת רם .ואלקנה ושמואל הנביא בנו, שהם מן הרמתים, הוא בבחי 'הדעת, שהוא
הרמה העליונה, הכולל שתיהם, דע, ושליש עליון שבת"ת .ואמנם בבחי 'הקטנות, שהוא שם אלהים
כנודע, יש בו ג 'בחי', שהם, בחי 'המוח, ובחינת החסדים, ובחי 'הגבורות .והנה המוח שעולה בנצח, הוא
רמי בר חמא .והחסד העולה בנצח, הוא אביי .והגבורה, רב ביבי בנו .ואח"כ עולה בחסד, שהוא הזרוע
ימיני .והמוח הוא רב סחורא .והחסד, פינחס אחי מר שמואל, והוא בחינת גבורת הגדלות, המכה תוך

הקטנות .והגבורה, הוא רב שמואל בר שילת .והמוח העולה בהוד, הוא רב משרשייא, תלמיד אביי .
והגבורה, רמי בר תמרי .והחסד, רפרם בר פפא, ואחר כך עולה בגבורה .והנה המוח הוא רב זריקא .
והחסד, ר 'זעירא בר הלל .והגבורה, רב זערי מדהבת .והת"ת בשני שלישים התחתונים המגולים, המוח, עולא בר קושב .והגבורה, רבין דסליק לארץ ישראל מבבל .והחסד, רב חנא בגדתאה .והת"ת בשליש
עליון המכוסה, המוח, ר 'מיאשיה שבזמן ר 'יוחנן .והגבורה, רב שילא, שנעשה לו הנס במסכת ברכות .
והחסד, שבחת בריה דרבינא:
גם א"ל מורי ז"ל פעם אחרת, כי ר 'יוסי הגלילי, הוא מן פאה שמאלית שבראש, מבחי 'שם א"ל שד"י ,
אשר בפרצוף כתף השמאלי שבפרצוף של שרש קין הנזכר, כי יוסף בגי 'פאה .ויונתן בן הרכינס, הוא מן
הגבורה הנקראת גבורה שבחמשה גבורות שבדעת של ז"א .ור 'עקיבא בן יוסף, הוא מן הגבורה
הנקראת הוד, שבחמשה גבורות שבדעת הנזכר .ולהיות כי יונתן בגבורה, ור 'עקיבא בהוד, לכן היה יונתן
יותר חריף ומפולפל ממנו, כנזכר במסכת יבמות דתלמוד בבלי ותלמוד ירושלמי בענין צרת הבת .ור '
חוצפית התורגמן הוא מן גבורת ההוד שבדעת מצד אבא, והאור של גבורה זו, בוקע ועובר דרך גבורת
ההוד שבדעת דמצד אימא, כי אבא גניז גו אימא כנודע, ומשם בוקע ויוצא עד הדעת של לאה שבאחורי
הדעת של זעיר חוץ ממנו, ולכן נקרא חוצפית, כי הוא עז וחצוף לעבור בתוך אימא, ולבקוע ולצאת לחוץ .
ובהכרח הוא, שבעברו דרך דעת דאימא, ישאר שם קצת אור ממנו, ובזה יש לו קרוב גדול עם שרש קין
הנזכר .וכן כל שאר הנצוצות של שרש ר 'חוצפית התורגמן, שראשיתם לבן בן נחור, כמבואר לקמן כלם , יש להם קורבה עם השרש זה של קין הנזכר לסבה הנזכרת, שעוברים דרך שם בצאתם לחוץ:
ויחזקאל הנביא, הוא מטפת זרע אדה"ר קודם שנולד קין בנו, דוגמת מה שהודעתיך בענין מיכה המורשתי ונחום האלקושי וע"ש .וזהו הטעם שתמיד נזכר ביחזקאל, בן אדם עמוד על רגליך .והענין הוא , לרמוז כי הוא משרש קין בן אדה"ר, ולכן אמר עמוד על רגליך, הוא כמ"ש ז"ל בפסוק, וימח את כל היקום , שתלאו הקב"ה לקין בימי המבול ברפיון .והנה יתזקאל הוא מבחי 'הרגלים של קין, כמו שיתבאר , והרגלים הם המקימים את האדם על רגליו .וזהו וימח את כל היקום כו 'כל היקום שהם סוד הרגלים , כמבואר במקומו .ומה שהיה קין תלוי ברפיון מחמת חטאו, נתחזק עתה ע"י יתזקאל, ולכן עתה נקרא
יחזקאל לשון חוזק, גם נאמר לו עמוד על רגליך, להתחזק ולהתקומם בהם:
ונבאר עתה ענין רב משרשיא, ובו יתבאר ענין יחזקאל וחזקיהו .הנה השם הזה, הוא מבחי 'או"א , הנקראים יה כנודע .גם נודע כי משם י"ה, נמשך תוספת שבת ונמצא כי רב משרשיא, הוא סוד תוספת
שבת גמור, אשר בשרש הזה של קין הנז"ל, נשארו ד 'אותיות משרש, וזה עניינם, כי שני השיני"ן, הם
שני שמות מצפ"ץ מצפ"ץ, שהם בגימטריא ש 'ש, 'והם שני שמות של תוספת שבת, הנזכר בספר הזוהר
בפרשת יתרו בר"מ, בפסוק זכור את יום השבת, בענין ז 'שמות הנזכרים שם, בענין תוספת שבת .נשארו
שני אותיות מ"ר, והם עולים בגימטריא כמספר החמשה שמות אחרים הכתובים שם, שהם, ה 'ה 'א"ל
אלהי"ם אדנ"י, שהם בגי 'רל"ד, וחשבון ז 'השמות עצמם, הרי הכל רמ"א .הרי נתבאר כי רב משרשיא ,
הוא בחי 'תוספת שבת אשר בשרש נצוצות קין הנז, 'והוא כללות ז 'השמות השבת עם מקורם, שהוא יבם
י"ה) .הגהה - אמר שמואל, עם הכולל .עוד אמר שמואל, נלע"ד שיותר טוב הוא, עם חשבון החמשה שמות עצמם וכללותם הם ר"מ, להיות כי השני שמות הלכו בשני שמות מצפ"ץ מצפ"ץ:
והנה חזקיה המלך הוא בחי 'הראש של זה השרש של קין, והענין הוא כמש"ל, כי ארז"ל כי קין תלאו
הקב"ה ברפיון בימי המבול, ונתקן ונתחזק בגלגול חזקיה .וזהו חזקיה, חז"ק י"ה, כי בו נתחזק בחי 'ראש , שרש קין הנקרא י"ה, שהוא בחי 'הראש, שבו או"א .וכשא"ל ישעיה כי מת אתה ולא תחיה, חשב שעדיין
לא תקן בחינת הראש הנקראת י"ה, וזהו אמרתי לא אראה י"ה .ונמצא כי חזקיה התחיל לתקן בחי '
הראש של השרש הנזכר, ולכן נרמז בו שם י"ה .וגם ברב משרשיה נשלם בחינת הראש להתקן, ולכן יש
בו אותיות שר"ש י"ה, כי הראש הנקרא י"ה שם הוא שרש הבל .ונמצא, כי חזקיה ורב משרשיה, שניהם
בראש שרש קין .ואמנם ביחזקאל הנביא, נתחזק קין בבחי 'הרגלים .וז"ס פסוק, בן אדם עמוד על רגליך
כנזכר' וגו':
ודע, כי שמעון בן עזאי, ושמעון בן זומא, הם שני שמות שיני"ן של רב משרשיא .ולכן נשא בן עזאי בתו
של רבי עקיבא, כי אע"פ ששנים אלו אינם מן השרש הנזכר, עכ"ז יש להם קורבה גדולה עם השרש הזה .
וכן גם כן אירע לאליהו הנביא ז"ל, כי יען שהיה בא מן בנות פוטיאל, שהוא יתרו שבא מן קין כנז"ל, לכן
נתעברו בו אח"כ, נפשות נדב ואביהוא, שהם מן קין .וכן ג"כ הענין באלישע הנביא, וביונה בן אמיתי, שיש

להם קורבה גדולה עם השרש הנזכר ,ולא ביאר לי מורי ז"ל יותר ,בענין הקורבה אשר להם:
ואמנם מ"ש חזקיהו ,אני אמרתי בדמי ימי וגו ,'הענין הוא ,כי חזקיהו אע"פ שהוסיפו לו חמשה עשר שנים ,
משלו הוסיפו לו ,כמ"ש ז"ל ולא מלא כל שנותיו הקצובות לו ,וחסרו ממנו .ושאר שנותיו הקצובות לו ,
השלימם ברב דימי מנהרדעא ,כי הוא היה גלגול חזקיה עצמו ,בלי עירוב שום נצוץ אחר עמו ,אלא הוא
לבדו .וז"ש חזקיה ,אני אמרתי בדמי ימי פוקדתי יתר שנותי ,כי ברב דימי הנזכר ,בו פוקדתי והשלמתי
ימי ,ויתר שנותי הקצובים לי ,שלא השלמתים בתחלה .וא"ל מורי ז"ל ,כי אחת מן המצות שהיה זהיר
בהם רב דימי הנזכר ,היא מצות לויה אל האורחים ואל המתים .גם בענין ר 'עקיבא ,א"ל מורי ז"ל ,כי ס"ת
אור זרו"ע לצדי"ק ולישר"י ל"ב שמח"ה ,הוא ר 'עקיבא כי הפסוק הזה נאמר עליו ,ומכאן ראיה כי עקיבא
הוא בה"א לבסוף ,ולא באל"ף:
הגהה - אמר שמואל ,כן כתבתי בספר חכמות נשים שלי .שתקנתי בסדר הגט ,שמה שנראה יותר) מבואר ,לכתוב שם עקיבא בה"א לבסוף:
אמר שמואל ,אע"פ שאבא מארי ז"ל הסתיר דבריו במקום הזה ,זכורני כי מפה אל פה ,יום א 'גילה לי ,כי
בפסוק זה היתה רמוזה ,קורבת נשמתו ז"ל ,עם נשמת הרב הגדול מורינו זלה"ה .ואמר ,כי זה יצחק
מדבר על הרב הגדול זלה"ה:
ועוד רמזו ז"ל שם אבא מארי בפסוק זה ,ח 'של "חזה ,יו"ד של ציון ,יו"ד של קרי"ת ,מ 'של מועדנו ,הוא
חיים .וא"ל ,שבזמן הרב הגדול ז"ל ,לא היה אפשר כלל להבנות ירושלם ,האמנם בזמן אבא מארי זלה"ה
היתכן ,שאם יעשו ישראל תשובה ,שיהיה אבא מארי ז"ל משיח בן יוסף .וזהו מה שרמז כאן ,עיניך
תחזינה ירושלם ,ולא עיני ,אלה דברי מורי אבי זלה"ה .ולכן ראה ראיתי ,כי היה מפחד אבי זלה"ה מאד
מאומות העולם שלא יהרגוהו ח"ו ,ואח"כ בעונות הדור, גם זה חלף הלך לו כמו הנס הראשון שהיה
בשנת שנפטר בה מורנו הרב הגדול ז"ל ,וזש"ה והיה בכזיב מלשון כל אדם כוזב) .בדפו"י כתוב כאן שנפטר בשנת של"ה ,בטעות ,ולהלן דף קמ"ט כתוב שנפטר שנת של"ב):
גם הגיד לי אבא מארי ז"ל ,כי בפסוק אחד נרמז שמו ושמי יחד ,להודיע קורבתינו גם בנשמות ,והוא
מש"ה ,או מי יחי"ה משומ"ו א"ל ,נרמז בו חיים שמואל .ואי איישר חילי בע"ה ,אכתוב לפניך בספר זה
בעהי"ת ,כמה צואות שמסר הרב מורינו הרב הגדול לאבא מארי ז"ל ,מיום דעתו אותו עד יום פטירתו , ואציגם לפניך ,לבל יהיה זה בלקט שכחה ,והם כמוסות עמדי בקונטרסים נפרדים:
גם בענין חבר הקיני א"ל מורי ז"ל ,כי ז"ס פסוק ,וחבר הקיני נפרד מקין ,כי הנה יתרו הוא משרש קין ,
וחבר הקיני הוא מבני בניו של יתרו ,וגם הוא מן קין ,ולכן נקרא חבר הקיני ,לשון קין .ולהיות כי קין היה
מעורב מטוב ורע ,וביתרו נתקן ונברר אוכל מתוך פסולת ,ונפרד הטוב מן הרע ,כי הרע נשאר בקליפות ,
והטוב לקחו יתרו ,לכן נאמר בו נפרד מקין:
גם בענין שמשון ,א"ל מורי ז"ל ,כי ז"ס פסוק ,וישלח ה 'את ירובעל ואת בדן ,ואחז"ל בדן זה שמשון ,
דאתי מדן .והענין הוא ,כי שמשון הוא גלגול נדב בן אהרן הכהן ,ולכן נקרא בד"ן ,שהוא אותיות נד"ב
בהפוך .ולפי שנדב מת ולא רצה לקחת אשה ,כי אמר אין בבנות ישראל הגונה לנו ,כמ"ש ז"ל לכן נענש
שמשון ,בהיותו טוחן עם נשי פלשתים בבית האסורים .ויען בני אהרן נכנסו שתויי יין ,לכן היה שמשון נזיר
מן הבטן ,לתקן מה שעוות:
גם בענין אליהו ז"ל ,א"ל מורי ז"ל ,כי הנה הוא נרמז בפסוק "אם "ללצים "הוא "יליץ "ולעניים "יתן "חן ,
ר"ת הוא אליה"ו ח"י .והענין הוא כמ"ש ז"ל בס"ה בר"מ כי מרע"ה היה רבן של כל ישראל ,והמתורגמן
שלו היה אהרן הכהן ,כמש"ה הוא יהיה לך לפה וגו 'לפי שמשה היה כבד פה וכבד לשון ,ובאחרית הימים
בדורו של משיח ,יבא משה בגלגול וילמד תורה לישראל ,וגם אז יהיה ערל שפתים ,והמתורגמן שלו אז
יהיה אליהו ז"ל ,שהוא חי וקיים .וז"ס פסוק פינחס בן אלעזר בן אהרן הכהן ,וזש"ה אם ללצים הוא יליץ , כי כאשר יצטרך מתורגמן למשה ,הנה אליהו חי הוא יליץ ,ויהיה מתורגמן שלו:
גם בענין אביי ורב ביבי בנו ,א"ל מורי ז"ל ,כי הנה הכתוב אומר ,חז"ה ציו"ן קרי"ת מועדנו וגו ,'ואם
תחליף מ 'של מועדנו ביו"ד בא"ת ב"ש ,יהיו ר"ת יצחק .וכבר ביאר לי מורי ז"ל ,מי הוא ענין שם זה של
יצחק הרמוז כאן:
נחזור למקומנו ,גם ר"ת חזה ציון קרית מועדנו ,הם חצק"מ ,בגימטריא רח"ל ,לרמוז כי הוא בחי 'רחל
נוקבא דז"א .וגם היא ציון קרית מועדנו היוצאת מן החזה של ז"א כנודע ,ולזה אמר חזה ציון ,בלשון
תרגום ,ולא אמר ראה בלשון הקדש ,לרמוז אל הנז"ל .גם אביי נרמז בר"ת א"הל ב"ל יצען "יסע .גם רב

ביבי בנו ,נרמז בר"ת ב"ל י"צען "בל "יסע ,ולא רצה מורי ז"ל לגלות לי עוד ,תכלית עירוב אלו הדברים בפסוק זה מה עניינם:

גם בענין רמי בר חמא א"ל ,כי הנה הוא נרמז בר"ת פסוק מה רב טובך אשר צפנת ליריאיך .והענין הוא , כי הנה נתבאר בדרושים הקודמים ,כי בכל שרש ושרש של שרשי הנפשות ,יש תרי"ג נצוצות של ת"ח, והאחרים הם בעלי מצות ועמי הארץ וכו ,'והם הענפים שבשרש ההוא .וידעת במסכת ב"ב דף י"ב ,ענין בת רב חסדא ,שנשאת תחלה לרמי בר חמא ,ואחר כך לרבא .והענין הוא ,כי בת רב חסדא היא המלכות בתו של אברהם אבינו איש החסד ,שכתוב בו ורב חסד .וזהו מה רב טובך כי מ"ה היא המלכות בתו של אברהם ,כנזכר בהקדמת פרשת בראשית בזוהר ,והיא בת רב טובך ,שהוא רב החסד ,וזהו רב חסדא , והנה היא צפונה ליריאיך ,שהם רמי ורבא ,שהם הדעת והיסוד כמו שיתבאר .והענין הוא ,כי הנה שני זווגים יש למעלה ,האחד הוא עליון בסוד הדעת ,שהוא זווג שם הוי"ה עם שם אהי"ה ,ושניהם בגימטריא מ"ז .והב 'הוא למטה ,בסוד זווג הוי"ה ואלהי"ם ,והוי"ה ואדנ"י .ואמנם רב"א ,הוא אותיות בא"ר ,שהוא הזווג התחתון שביסוד ,כי רבא בגימטריא ב 'זווגים התחתונים ,שהם ארבעה שמות הנזכרים שהם ענין המלכות בשבעה היכלותיה ,המזדווגת עם הת"ת כנודע .ולזה עני רבא בתרה ואני אחרון ,לפי שהוא זווג תחתון .אבל רמי בסוד זווג העליון אשר בדעת ,כי אם תצרף שני זווגים התחתונים העולים רבא כנזכר , עם זווג העליון העולה מ"ז כנזכר ,יהיה הכל בגימטריא נ"ר ,שהוא בגימטריא רמ"י .גם לשון רמ"י הוא מענין רם ,שהוא הדעת הר"ם למעלה ,והוא רוממות הדעת ,שהוא שער החמשים ,הנקרא נתיב לא ידעו עיט .וזהו ענין רמי בר חמא ,כי חמא בגימטריא מ"ט שערים ,ורמ"י הוא שער החמשים הכולל נ"ר זווגים הנזכרים .ולכן ר"ת "מה "רב "טובך "אשר ,בגימטריא רמ"י ,ולכן רמי שהוא העליון ,נשא תחלה לבת רב חסדא ,ורבא לקחה אח"כ ,וזכור ענין זה ,כי רמ"י בר חמא הוא שער החמשים ,שהוא הדעת העליון שבשרש קין הנז"ל:

גם בענין ר 'ירמיה הנז"ל ,א"ל מורי ז"ל ,כי עליו אמרו בתלמוד דידן ,במסכת ב"ב דכ"נ ,בעי ר 'ירמיה ,רגל אחד בפנים ורגל אחד בחוץ מהו ,ואמרו שם כי על דא אפקוה לר 'ירמיה מבי מדרשא .וזה היה בענין הגוזל המדדה בתוך חמשים אמה במ 'י"ט .וכבר ידעת ,כי זה ר 'ירמיה ,תמיד היה שואל שאלות ,כמ"ש הרבה פעמים בעי ר 'ירמיה .והנה להיות כי הוא נתכוין לטובה ,להגדיל תורה ויאדיר בשאלותיו וביישוהו ואפקוהו מבי מדרשא ,לכן יש לו שכר טוב גדול למעלה ,כי כל השאלתות הנשאלות במתיבתא דרקיע , הוא שואל אותם ,ונשאלות ע"י .ונלע"ד שא"ל מורי ז"ל ,שהוא עומד בפתח מתיבתא דרקיע:

ואמנם כונת שאלתו ,רגל אחד בפנים וכו ,'היה ע"ד הסוד ,בענין ז"א ,שהוא הגוזל המדדה בתוך חמשים אמה ,שהם נ 'שערי בינה .ונודע ,כי כשנכנסים בו המוחין ,הם מתלבשים בשתי רגלי אימא ,נצח והוד דילה .ובתחלה נכנס רגל אחד בפנים בתוך ז"א ,ואח"כ נכנס רגל הב ,'ואמנם הטעם למה אפקוהו מבי מדרשא כששאל ,איני זוכר מה ששמעתי ממורי ז"ל:

גם א"ל מורי ז"ל ,כי לפי ששרש קין מן הגבורות הנקראות אש ,לכן מי שהוא משרש קין ,מתפעל ומתבהל מאד כשרואה המים ,וגם ליכנס בתוכם ,לפי שהמים מכבים את האש .גם יש לו סימן א ,'כי הוא מתפחד מאד מן השדים והמזיקים .והטעם הוא ,כי כל המזיקין יצאו מתולדת קין בארקא כנזכר בזוהר .גם א"ל ,כי קין היה בעל מעשה וציור במלאכות .כנודע ביבל ויובל תולדותיו .אבל הבל ,הוא בעל ,דבור ,בסוד הבל הפה .ולכן מי שהוא משרש הבל ,הוא דרשן ודברן ,ומי שהוא מן קין ,אין לו כ"כ כח הדבור ,כמו שיש לו כח בציור ומעשיות מלאכות המעשיות:

גם בענין ר 'עקיבא ,שהיה מבני בניו של סיסרא ,כבר נתבאר למעלה טעמו של דבר .ועתה נרחיב בו הביאור ,בלי ספק שראוי לתת טעם ,מה כחו גדול של סיסרא ,עד שהכוכבים ממסלותם ,הוצרכו לירד מן השמים להלחם עמו .אבל הענין הוא ,כי סיסרא קליפת הרע ,היונקת מן הדעת של ז"א ,והוא יונק מכל בחינותיו ,שהם עשר הויו"ת ,חמשה חסדים וה 'גבורות ,שהם בגימטריא ר"ס מן סיסרא .ונודע ,כי כל עשר הויות הנזכרים שבדעת ז"א ,הם במלוי אלפי"ן ,כי ז"א הוא בחי 'שם הוי"ה פשוט שעולם כ"ו ,ומלא באלפי"ן שהוא בגימטריא מ"ה ,והנה כ"ו ומ"ה ,הם בגימטריא סי"א מן סיסרא .וזהו הכח העצום שהיה לסיסרא .והנני מסופק ,אם אלו החמשה חסדים וחמשה גבורות הם מצד אבא ,או מצד אימא .ואיני זוכר אם שמעתי ממורי ז"ל כי הם מצד אימא ,ולכן היה שר צבא של יבין מלך כנען ,ע"ש שהיה יונק מן הבינה . או אם הם מצד אבא ,שבו שם ההוי"ה דיודי"ן ,שהוא בגימטריא ע"ב ,כמנין יבין ,אלא שלהיות דאבא גניז גו אימא ואינו נגלה אלא מתוכה ,לכן נקרא יבי"ן על שם הבינה ,ושכחתי מה ששמעתי:

והנה כל השרש של קין הנזכר, שהם מצד החמש גבורות דאימא, אשר היא ג"כ נקראת גבורות, לכן נאחזו בהם הקליפות, וכל נצוצות שרש זה, ירדו לעמקי הקליפות, בסוד הדעת של אדם בליעל, שהוא סוד הדעת כנזכר. וכן ר 'עקיבא שהוא משרש קין, היה בקליפה הזאת, ואח"כ יצא ממנה, ונולד סיסרא, מבני בניו של סיסרא כנודע:

גם ר 'שמואל בר שילת, שהיה מבני בניו של המן הרשע כנודע כי גם הוא היה נתון בקליפת סיסרא, כי המן וסיסרא שניהם ממקור א 'הם, כי שניהם הם בקליפת הדעת, ונודע כי רב שמואל בר שילת היה משרש קין כנז"ל. וז"ס פסוק "הכוכבים "ממסלותם "נלחמו, ר"ת המן עם סיסרא. ולפי שהדעת דז"א נבקע, ויוצא ממנה הארה אל לאה שבאחורי הדעת, שהוא סוד הדל"ת קשר של תפילין של ראש, אשר כנגד יסוד דאימא שבתוך הדעת דז"א, ואז החסדים יוצאים מצד הרקת הימיני שבראש, והגבורות מן הרקת השמאלית, לכן כתיב והלמה סיסרא מחקה ראשו, ומחצה וחלפה רקתו, כי הכניעה אותה הממשלה שהיתה לסיסרא, בהיותו יונק מן המקום ההוא כנזכר. ולכן נקמה זו היתה ע"י יעל אשת חבר הקני, שהוא משרש קין כנזכר, הנתון בקליפת סיסרא. וכבר הודעתיך גלגול יעל ומציאותה, שהיא משרש קין הנזכר, בסוד אביי דאתי מדבית עלי, ואביי הוא מן קין, והנה יע"ל ועל"י הכל א 'הוא, כמבואר אצלינו במקומו:

גם טעם עשרה הרוגי מלכות, ר 'עקיבא וחביריו, שמעתי ממורי זלה"ה, כי ע"י שנהרגו על קדוש ה', זכו הם ללקט ולברור כל הנצוצות של הנשמות, אשר למטה ממדרגתם, הנתונים בעמקי הקליפות, ועל ידם מוצאים ומוברר‌ים, והם מעלים אותם אל הקדושה להשתלם ולהתקן:

עוד יש טעם אחר והוא, כי עד הזמן ההוא, היה כח אל הנשמות שמתוך הקליפות לצאת, ולהעלות בסוד מ"ן אל המלכות, ומאז ואילך אין עוד כח ויכולת אל המעשה הזה, ולכן הוכרחו הם ליהרג, כדי לעלות למעלה בסוד מ"ן, וישמשו שם במקומם בבחי 'מ"ן אל המלכות. ועוד יש בזה תועלת אחד, כי על ידי עמידתם אצלה למעלה בסוד מ"ן, יקנו הנצוצות שתחתיהם מציאות תקוה להתקן. והענין הוא במה שנתבאר אצלינו, כי עשרה אלו, הם כללות כל ישראל, כי הנה הם בחי 'עשר שבטים, ועשרה טפות זרע שיצאו מיוסף הצדיק, כמבואר בדרושים שקדמו:

שאר השרשים בקצרה:

השרש השני של קין, והיא מבחינת שרש קין עצמו הראשונה, שהיא הגרועה מאד מן השרש הנ"ל, שהוא מבחי 'הנשמות שהוריש אדם לבנו קין והבל, שהיא גבוהה ועליונה מאד מאד כנז"ל. והנה אסא המלך, הוא מהשרש הזה השני הגרועה הזה, והוא מבחינת קין עצמו. וזש"ה) מלכים א 'ט"ו (באסא אין נקי, כמ"ש ז"ל, מלמד שעשה אנגריא בת"ח. וקין נרמז באותיות אין נקי. ואח"כ נתגלגל אסא בגלגולים אחרים, כדי לתקן חטא הנז"ל, ולא נתבאר לי עוד נשמות אשר בשרש הזה:

השרשים אשר בהבל בן אדה"ר, גם הם נחלקים לב 'בחי', הא 'היא, העליונה והמובחרת, שהוריש אדם אביו לו. והב 'היא גרועה, שהיא מצד הבל עצמו. ואמנם לא נתבאר לי ענין הנשמה הפרטיית שבכל בחי ' מהם, זולתי כי מרע"ה היה מן הבחי 'הראשונה המעולה, אשר הוריש אדם להבל. גם רב המנונא סבא הנזכר בזוהר. ונלע"ד כי הבנתי מדברי מורי זלה"ה, כי גם ר"א הגדול, ורשב"י, ור 'יהודה נשיאה הנקרא רבינו הקדוש גם הם מבחי 'מרע"ה:

עוד יש שרשים אחרים מהבל, ואיני יודע מאיזו בחי 'הם, ועכ"ז אכתוב עניינם. דע, כי הרן ונחור שניהם אחי אברהם, הם ב 'שרשים של הבל. ונבאר תחלה שרש הרן, ואלו הם, הרן, אהרן הכהן, יעבץ, תולע בן פואה, שמואל הנביא, אוריה הכהן) הגהה - אמר שמואל, צ"ע, כי למעלה בשרש קין דף ק"ו ט"ב מנה אוריה הכהן עם זכריהו בן יברכיהו, וכאן מנה אותם בשרש הבל. ואפשר לתרץ, שאין כל השרשים שוים, כי אלו הם בנפש ואלו ברוח, (זכריהו בן יברכיהו, אוריה החתי, שמעון בן שטח, ר 'שמעון בן נתנאל, ר ' יוחנן בן החורנית, חנן בן אבישלום, יהודה בן תימא, ר 'יהודא נשיאה האמורא, ר 'שמעון בן שטח האמורא, רב חננאל תלמיד רב, ר 'יהודה בר יחזקאל, ר 'אידי בר אבין, רב עינא, ר 'אילא:

ונבאר עתה קצת פרטים מאלו השרשים הנז"ל. שמעתי ממורי ז"ל, כי ר"ת "אשר "חלב "זבחימו הם אחז, והוא סוד גלגול המלך אחז בן יותם. ואיני יודע כונת הענין למה נרמז כאן:
גם נחור אחי אברהם, נתגלגל באחאב המלך ולכן עבד ע"ז, וזהו פירושו אחאב, אחיו של אברהם אבינו. ולפי שעבד ע"ז, נתגלגל ביהודה בן גרים, והרגו הרשב"י ע"ה בהסתכלות עיניו בו, כנזכר במסכת שבת יען שהוא הרג לנבות היזרעאלי:
גם ער ואונן, נתגלגלו הם עצמם בפרץ וזרח, בני יהודה אביהם. גם איוב נתגלגל בר' איבו האמורא, ולכן אותיותיהם שוות:
גם א"ל מורי זלה"ה, כי ר' חנינא בן תרדיון, ר"ת רחב"ת, ונרמז בפסוק והארץ הנה רחבת ידים לפניכם בענין שכם ודינה:
גם אחיה השילוני, מעלתו גדולה ממעלת שמואל הנביא, כמבואר אצלינו בשער רוח הקדש בסדר מדרגת הנביאים וע"ש:
גם ענין אביגיל אשת דוד, ואביגיל אחותו. הנה יעקב אבינו ע"ה, חטא כי לא בטח בה' מאד, כמש"ה למה תאמר יעקב ותדבר ישראל נסתרה דרכי מה' וכו', כי הוא הבטיחו כי לא אעזבך וכו', והוא עשה כל אותם השנים בבית לבן הרשע לשמור צאנו, ונכנע לפניו, וכל זה כדי לקחת בנותיו לנשים, נמצא שעבד לבן בסבת אשה, וזש"ה ויעבוד יעקב באשה, ולכן ענשו הוא כי ובאשה שמר:
ובאור ענין זה הוא סוד נמרץ נכון להעלימו, דע, כי אמרו בס"ה בפרשת משפטים, כי כל אדם מניח חד רוחא באתתא בביאה ראשונה, כשעושה אותה כלי. והנה ההוא רוחא, הוא חלק נצוץ מנשמתו. והנה יעקב הניח חד רוחא ברחל, וחד רוחא בלאה. ואמנם רוחא דאנח ברחל, נמשך ונכנס בבנימין בנה. וז"ס ויהי בצאת נפשה כי מתה וגו', כי אותו הרוח דיהיב בה נקרא נפש שלה כנודע, ויצא הנפש ההוא ממנה, כדי ליכנס בבנימין בנה, ולכן לא נולד בנימין, עד צאת נפשה דרחל. ואמנם רוחא דיהיב בלאה, נתגלגל באביגיל הנביאה, אשת נבל הכרמלי. ומן הראוי היה שיהיה זכר, אלא שנהפך לאשה נקבה, בעון הנזכר שעבד ללבן בסבת אשה, ולכן ההוא רוחא דיהיב בלאה, שהיה נצוץ חלק ביעקב, באשה שמר ממש, והיה אביגיל, וז"ס מ"ש אביגיל לדוד, אשר הביא שפחתך לאדוני בלשון זכר, ולא אמר הביאה לשון נקבה, לרמוז כי שרשה זכר ולא נקבה. ולכן תמצא, כי פעם אחת נכתב בנביאים אביגיל חסר יו"ד, לרמוז כי נמשכת מיעקב אבינו, שעשה הגל עם לבן, והוא אביג"ל:
והענין הוא במה שביארנו, כי לבן נתגלגל בנבל הכרמלי, ולפי שעבד יעקב ללבן, נתגלגל ההוא רוחא דיליה באביגיל, ונשאת לנבל, לעבוד אותו כאשה לבעלה. ואמנם סוד הענין, למה הוצרכו כל אלו הגלגולים. דע, כי יעקב הוא מעין שופריה דאדם והנה אדם יצאו ממנו ב' טפות קדושות של זרע בנחש הקדמוני, ולכן הוצרך לטרוח כל אותם שנים, לשמור צאנו של לבן הארמי מסוד הנחש, עד יקח ממנו אותם ב' טפות, שהם לאה ורחל, כנזכר בזוהר פרשת בהר סיני ואח"כ כאשר נתגלגל לבן בנבל, עדיין היה בו כח מנחש הקדמוני, ולכן הוצרך לטרוח כל אותם שנים לשמור צאנו של לבן הארמי, עד יחזור ויקח טפת ההוא רוחא דשבק יעקב בלאה כנזכר, והיא אביגיל, ולקחה לאשה. ודוד המלך ע"ה, שהוא גלגולו של אדה"ר, גם כן הוצרך להוציא מן נבל טפה זו האחרת, שעדיין היתה ביד הנחש, ולכן הוצרך דוד לעשות ביעקב ללבן, לשמור צאנו של לבן, כמש"ה (שמואל א כ"ה:ט"ז חומה היו עלינו האנשים וכו', עד שאח"כ לקח את אביגיל את אשתו, והיתה לאשה לדוד עצמו:
ופעם אחרת נלע"ד ששמעתי ממורי ז"ל, כי נענש יעקב, על שנשא שתי אחיות בנות לבן, ולכן ההוא רוחא דיהיב בלאה, נתגלגל באשה שהיא אביגיל הנביאה, ושתי נשיו הם, אביגיל אשת דוד ואביגיל אחותו:
גם ענין נבל נתגלגל בשלשה גלגולים בסדר שלשה אותיות שמו, ל' לבן. ב' בלע"ם. נ' נבל. ושלשתם נרמזו בפסוק אחד, והוא זה קורא דגר ולא ילד וגו', כי דגר הוא לבן, שקבץ אבנים ועשר יגר שהדותה, תרגומו של גל הוא דגורא. גם אמרז"ל שלא היו לו בנים עד שבא יעקב לביתו, כמש"ה ויברך ה' אותך לרגלי וגו', וזש"ה ולא ילד. אח"כ נתגלגל בבלעם, שהיתה לו נפש רחבה, כמ"ש ז"ל על פסוק אם יתן לי בלק מלא ביתו כסף וזהב, ועליו נאמר עושה עושר ולא במשפט אלא לקלל את הבריות, ולפי שמת בחצי

ימיו כמ"ש בגמרא לדידי חזי לי ספרא דבלעם וכתיב ביה בר תלתי ותלת שנין הוה בלעם רשיעה ,כד קטיל יתיה פנחס וכו ,'ולזה אמר הכתוב בחצי ימיו יעזבנו) .הגהה - אמר שמואל ,נלענ"ד שכתוב בגמרא בלעם סגירא כד קטיל יתיה פנחס לסטאה וכו .('גם כיון על היות בלעם הגלגול האמצעי ,וכנגד גלגולו בנבל הכרמלי שהיה אחרון שלשה הגלגולים שלו ,אמר ובאחריתו יהיה נבל כמשמעו ,לכן נבל הם אותיות לבן ממש למפרע:

גם בענין יוסף הצדיק נאמר בו ועשה לו כתונת פסי"ם ,והוא ר"ת פתחו"ן סגרו"ן יוס"ף מטטרו"ן ,או משה . והענין הוא כמש"ל כי יוסף ומטטרו"ן ,הם משרש זיהרא עילאה דנשמת אדה"ר .גם אותם ב 'השמות האחרים ,נודע שהם ב 'שמות ממספר ע 'שמות של שר הפנים:

גם בענין בניהו בן יהודע הכהן ,כבר נתבאר אצלינו כי יען שהרג ליואב ,לכן נתגלגל יואב ביואש המלך , ונתחלפה אות ב 'בש 'בא"ת ב"ש ,ובניהו נתגלגל בזכריהו בן יהודע הכהן ,והרג יואש לזכריהו ,ונהרג אחיו של ,זכריהו ג"כ ,לפי שהטיח דברים כנגד כל ישראל כמ"ש חז"ל ולכן נתגלגל אחר כך בשמעיה הגר ,וזה לעונש כי זכריה אבטליון ,ואז הכהן הגדול הטיח דברים 'כנגדו ,וא"ל יזלון בני עממיא לשלם כנודע ,והטיח דברים כנגד ישראל כנז"ל היה תחילה כהן:

גם בענין ר 'אלעזר בן ערך ,דע כי הנפש שלו היתה בסוד נפש הגרים ,והרוח שבאה בלי נפש המתיחסת לו:

גם בענין בבא בן בוטא ,כבר הודעתיך כי הוא נתגלגל ברב ששת ,והם אותיות מחולפת בא"ת ב"ש ,ולפי שהורדוס המלך נקר עיניו ,לכן גם בגלגולו ברב ששת שהיה סגי נהור ,כי בהכרח הוא לחזור עתה כמו שהיה בראשונה:

גם בענין עמוס הנביא ,דע כי שרש נפשו היתה מבחי 'עולם הנקודים ,כמבואר בספרינו שהם בחי 'שבעה מלכי אדום שמתו ,והם חמש גבורות מנצפ"ך שהם כפולות ,ונודע כי הם בגי 'תק"ע ,לפי ששני פעמים מנצפ"ך הם תק"ס ,ובחינת כללות עשר עצמם הרי תק"ע ,וז"ס אשר היה בנקודים מתקו"ע:

גם בענין ר 'טרפון ,דע ,כי הוא מן הרפ"ח נצוצין הנודעים ,כמנין טרף מטרפו"ן .ונודע ,כי הם חמש גבורות מנצפ"ך ,שהם המ"ן ,והם בגימטריא פ"ר ,וכשתחלקם לחמשה חלקים ,יהיה כל חלק מהם נ"ו ,ואלו הם שני אותיות ו"ן מן טרפו"ן ,ונמצא כי שם טרפו"ן ,הוא חלק אחד שהוא בגימטריא נ"ו מן החמשה גבורות , שכלם הם בגימטריא טרף נצוצות ,וכללות כל זה נקרא טרפון:

גם א"ל מורי ז"ל ,כי הוא ראה בעיניו את ר 'יהושע בן קרחה ,ואת ר 'יהושע בנו של ר 'עקיבא ,ואינם איש אחד ,הפך מ"ש רש"י ז"ל בפ"ק דשבועות בסוגיא דבהרת ששניהם אחד:

גם הרמב"ם ז"ל שחבר ספר היד הנקרא משנה תורה ,והרמב"ן ז"ל ,שרשם הוא בשתי פאות ז"א בדיקנא דיליה ,בתקון האחד הנקרא א"ל ,וכבר נתבאר אצלינו ,כי הפאה נקרא א"ל ,והוא סוד אל שדי ,שהוא בגימטריא משה ,ולכן ב 'הפוסקים האלה נקראו משה .אמנם הרמב"ם הוא מן פאה השמאלית ולכן לא זכה לידע חכמת הזהר ,אבל הרמב"ן ז"ל הוא מן פאה הימנית .ולכן זכה אליה כנודע .ולפי שנודע ,כי א"ל הנזכר הוא קוצין תקיפין אשר שם ,שהיא בחי 'המלכות ,ושם מקור הדינים ,לפי שהם בחינת שערות וקוצין תקיפין ,ועוד כי הם בחינת המלכות כנזכר ,אשר עליהם נאמר ואל זועם בכל יום ,ולכן אפילו הר"ם בן נחמני ז"ל ,שהוא מפאה הימנית ,לא זכה אל חכמה זו אלא בזקנותו ,כנזכר בספרים ,כי בבחרותו לא היה מאמין בה ,עד אשר רבו ר 'עזריאל גרם לו שילמדהו ,על ידי אותה הפעולה שעשה ,שבא אצלו בקפיצת הדרך כנודע:

עוד דע ,כי רחב הזונה ,היתה נשמה קדושה מאד ,ולא לחנם נשאת ליהושע בן נון ,וכמו שנודע ממ"ש ז"ל ששרתה עליה נבואה ,כשאמרה ונחבאתם שמה שלשה ימים עד שוב הרודפים .גם בס"ה בפסוק ונתתם לי אות אמת ,הפליגו לדבר בחכמתה ,שנתכוונה בשאלתה זאת .והענין הוא ,כי רחב הזונה באה משרש קין הנז"ל ,ולכן שאלה מהם ונתתם לי אות אמת ,כנגד מ"ש לו וישם ה 'לקין אות ,ואמרו רז"ל שהוא אות ו 'של ההוי"ה שבתפארת הנקרא אמת .והענין הוא ,כי כל נפשות הגרים הם מן המלכות נקבה ,בסוד גר צדק ,והיא שאלה מהם ,שיעלו אותה על הת"ת הזכר ,הנקרא אמת ,אשר משם נשמות בני ישראל .והם השיבו לה ,הנה אנחנו באים בארץ ,שהיא בחי 'המלכות .ועוד כי משה שהוא מן הת"ת כנודע ,מת במדבר ,ואנו הבאים בארץ שהיא המלכות ,אין בנו כח להעלותך ,האמנם יכולים אנו להעלותך עד היכל הרצון של הנקבה ,דכתיב ביה כחוט השני שפתותיך ,כנזכר בזוהר בפרשת פקודי וזש"ה את תקות חוט השני הזה .אבל היא היתה רוצה לעלות בהיכל הרצון העליון הזכר ,הנקרא ת"ת ,אשר שם אתגניז נשמת

מרע"ה כנודע שם בפרשת פקודי:
והנה ענין החוט הזה, הוא מ"ש בס"ה בפסוק אם מחוט ועד שרוך נעל, שהוא חוט של חסד של אברהם, אשר על ידו מתעוררים נפשות הגרים, בסוד ההוא אתערו דעבד אברהם בסטרא אחרא, כנזכר בפרשת תרומה בפסוק ועורות תחשים ונקרא חוט השני, להיותו בנקבה, וכמש"ה כחוט השני שפתותיך, שהוא דין, להיותו בנקבה. ואמנם היא בראותה שאינה יכולה לעלות עד הת"ת, לא רצתה לקשור תקות חוט שהיא המלכות הנקראת תקוה, ולא החוט שהוא היסוד לבדו, בסוד חוט דאברהם דאתער לנפשי דגיורי, אמנם ותקשור תקות השני בחלון, שהם שני היריכים נצח והוד. ואח"כ נתגלגלה בזכר, והוא חבר הקיני, ורחב נהפכה לחבר. וגם הוא משרש קין כנז"ל. ואח"כ נתגלגל חבר הקיני בחנה אם שמואל, ולפי שקשרה תקות השני שהם נצח והוד כנזכר, לכן ילדה את שמואל שנתנבא מנצח והוד. וזהו מה שרמזה חנה הנביאה בשירה שלה, רחב פי על אויבי, גם אמרה אשה קשת רוח אנכי, ר"ל, כי בהיותה תחלה בגלגול רחב הזונה, היתה קשת רוח מסטרא דמסאבא. ואמנם יעל אשת חבר הקיני, זכתה גם היא ונתגלגלה בזכר, והוא עלי הכהן, הפוך יעל ששמש באהל שילה כנודע שהיה אהל ולא בית, וזש"ה מנשים באהל תבורך, כי יעל נתברכה יותר משאר נשים, וזהו תבורך מנשים יעל. וביאר מה ענין ברכה זו אשר לה על שאר הנשים, ואמר מנשים באהל תבורך, כי מהיותה תחלה ממדרגת נשים נהפכה לזכר, ושמש בכהונה באהל שילה כנזכר:
הגהה - אמר שמואל, נלע"ד לומר, כי להיות כי חבר הקיני נתגלגל בחנה אם שמואל, לכן היתה חנה (עקרה, להיותה גלגול איש כנודע לנו, ולא נפקדה עד שהתפלל עליה עלי הכהן, שהיה גלגול אשה, והיא יעל אשת חבר. ומסטרא דיליה נפקדה חנה, וזה אצלי כפתור ופרח כן נראה לענ"ד):
ענין קין ותולדותיו יובל ויבל וכו', הנה נתבאר אצלינו, כי כמו שיש בחי 'ז"א בעולם האצילות, ונקרא ישראל, כך יש פרצוף א 'הנקרא יעקב, שהוא בחי 'אחורים דאבא, שנפלו למטה בעת מיתת מלכי אדום. וכמו שבחי 'ז"א הנקרא ישראל, יש בו כללות קין והבל, שהם חו"ג שבו, וכל שרשי אדה"ר. כן בפרצוף יעקב הנזכר, יש בו ב 'בחי', הנקראות קין והבל, וכל שרשי אדה"ר. והנה בחי 'קין אשר בז"א, הוא קין עצמו בן אדה"ר. ובחי 'קין אשר בפרצוף יעקב, הוא יובל מבני בניו של קין, כמש"ה ותלד עדה את יובל. ולכן יובל זה היה לוטש נחשת וברזל, להיותו מבחי 'הגבורות של קין, ונודע כי הגבורות הם מן אימא, הנקראת יובל, היא שנת החמשים שנה, ולכן נקרא ע"ש זה יובל. ובחי 'יובל הזה, נרמז בפסוק ועל יובל, טרם ישלח שרשיו, כי גם בו יש כל השרשים הנאחזים בקין שבז"א. והנה יובל זה הוא מוכרח להתקן ע"י משה ביאת המשיח שיבא במהרה בימינו אמן, וז"ס יובילו שי למורא. ויובל זה עתיד להיות נתקן ע"י משה רבינו ע"ה, בסוד העבור שיתעבר בו, כי גם במשה יש קצת נצוצות משרש קין, אע"פ ששרשו מן הבל, ובפרט האחרון הסמוך לימות ביאת המשיח, אשר הוא נקרא בשם בית יעקב, כמבואר לקמן כי דור זה נקרא בית יעקב, ולכן יובל זה שהוא בפרצוף יעקב יתוקן עתה, וזה ע"י מרע"ה כנזכר. וז"ס "ויתעבר "ה ' בי "למענכם, ר"ת יובל, והבן זה. והנה הודעתיך, כי גם יששכר בן יעקב הוא משרש קין, שהוא בחי '" חמש גבורות שבז"א, מצד אימא עילאה בינה, ולכן מבני יששכר יודעי בינה לעתים. גם נרמז בר"ת יודעי בינה לעתים, הוא ר"ת יובל, והוא במה שהודעתיך, כי יש כמה בחי 'בקין, והנה בני בניו הם יבל ויובל, ואמנם יששכר הוא מבחי 'יבל:
ענין לוט בן הרן, כבר הודעתיך לעיל, כי הוא אחד מן השרשים של הבל בן אדה"ר, ונשלים עתה עניינו, דע כי לוט בן הרן, הוא מבחי 'אבר בהן יד הימנית של אדה"ר, ובהן זה נמשך מסוד הבינה, ולכן בהן ובינה הם אותיות שוות, אלא שיש אות יו"ד מיותרת במלת בינה, כי בהן חסר ו'. והענין הוא, כי בינה היא ר"ת "בינה "יסוד "נצח "הוד. ובהן, ר"ת בינה הוד נצח, ולהיות בהן זה מקום הדינים כמבואר אצלינו בריש אדרת נשא, בענין ההוא עלמא דאתפרש לז"ן עיבר, כמנין בהן, וכלהו מארי דיבבא, ולכן כאשר חטא אדה"ר, ואח"כ הוליד את הבל, נתערבו נצוצותיו עם קליפות הרע של נצוצות הבל וקין, ובעת הגלגולים מתגלים, יחזור כל דבר אל שרשו כמבואר אצלינו, ואז זה הבהן ששרשו ומקומו באדם עצמו, שלט בו תערובת צד הרע אשר בהבל ולקחו עמו ונתערבו בו, ובבחי 'זה אנו אומרים כי לוט בן הרן, הוא משרש הבל, אבל כפי האמת אינו רק מבהן אדם שנתערב בהבל, ולכן נרמז הבל בר"ת ואת "לוט "בן "הרן. ולפי שלוט היה אז פגום, ונאחז ומעורב בקליפת הבהן אשר שם שדי בהן הנודעים בחכמת הכשוף המתגלים בצפרנים, ולכן א"ל אברהם הפרד נא מעלי, כי אע"פ שאברהם אבינו ולוט שניהם משרש אדה"ר עצמו, עכ"ז כיון שאתה נפרדת מן אדם, ונתערבת בקליפות הרע של הבל, ולא נתקנת עדיין, הפרד נא גם עתה

מעלי .וז"ש כי אנשים אחים אנחנו ,כי שניהם משרש אדם עצמו:
והנה לוט זה ,היו בו שני נצוצות נשמות פרדות טובות ,רות ונעמה ,ושתיהם נתערבו בהבל כנזכר ,ואח"כ
יצאו ממנו ,ונברכו ונתקנו .ולפי שזה הבהן הוא מסוד הבינה הנקראת נעמי כנודע ,לכן יצאה נעמה
העמונית ממנו ,ששמה כשם נעמי .והנה שמעון בן זומא ,גם הוא משרש הבהן הנזכר ,ובהן זה יש בו ס '
רבוא נצוצות נשמות ,כמו שהודעתיך ,כי אין לך אבר מאיברי אדה"ר ,שאינו נחלק לס 'רבוא נצוצות
לפעמים כפי העונות ,ולפעמים פחות ,אבל לא יותר מזה .והנה בן זומא שהיה מן הבהן הזה ,הוצרך
להתעבר ולהתגלגל עם כל אלו הס 'רבוא של הבהן הזה ,כי הם נצוציו ,כדי לתקנם .וז"ס מ"ש ז"ל ,כי בן
זומא ראה אוכלוסא בהר הבית ,ואמר לא נבראו כל אלה אלא לשמשני .והענין הוא ,כיון שכלם הם
נצוצותיו ותלויים בו ,והוא מתעבר ומתגלגל כדי לתקנם .וכבר נתבאר אצלינו ,כי כל צדיק שמתגלגל עם
איזו נפש כדי לתקנה ולעזרה ,הוא נוטל חלק עמו באותם המצות שעושה ,ונמצא כי כל ס 'רבוא ההם
שהיו נצוציו ,נבראו לשמשו ,כי הם הטורחים ועושים המצות ,והוא נוטל חלקו עמהם בלי יגיעה:
בענין השרשים של הנשמות ,זכרנו למעלה שרש אחד מן הבל ,שתחלתה הוא לבן בן נחור ,ובכללה ר '
חוצפית התורגמן .דע ,כי השרש הזה ,כיון שהוא של הבל ,הוא מבחי 'אבא כנודע .וכבר ביארתי בענין
בלק ובלעם ,איך כל האורות שהם מצד אבא ,בוקעים ויוצאים דרך הכלים דאימא ,אשר אבא גנוז בתוכה
כנודע ,וממנה יוצאים אל אחורי דעת דז"א אל לאה אשר שם .ואח"כ ממנה מתגלים ויוצאים לחוץ .
ובהכרח הוא שבעבור אורות אבא דרך אימא מתערבים יחד ,ונמצא כי זה השרש הנז"ל שבכללו הוא
בלעם ,ע"ש שנבלע תוך העקבים של לאה הנעלמים תוך כתר רחל ,הנה הם עוברים בדרך השרש
הראשון של קין ,שהוא אשר מכללם הוא ר 'עקיבא וריב"ז ,ומתערבים שם ,ויש להם קצת אחיזה וקורבה
אלו עם אלו ,לסבה הנזכרת ,ונכלל שרש הנזכר של הבל ,תוך שרש הראשון של קין ,ונקרא ע"ש קין , ולשלו יחשב .וז"ס שנקרא ר 'חוצפית התורגמן ,כי הוא חצוף וחזק לצאת מן אבא ,ועובר ובוקע תוך אורות
בינה שהם קין כנודע ,ומשם יוצא לחוץ:
ענין משה והלל הזקן ,אשר שניהם שוים במדת הענוה ,ושנותיהם שוות ,הנה הם סוד ב 'שמות משם בן
ע"ב ,והם ,מה"ש ,לל"ה ,הסמוכים זה לזה ,בע"ב שמהן של ויסע ויב"א וי"ט .וזהו מה שרמז השי"ת
למשה כשעלה למרום ,וא"ל "היה "לך "לעזרני ר"ת הלל ,הנזכר בפרק ר 'עקיבא במסכת שבת וכפי מה
שהבנתי מדברי מורי ז"ל ,אע"פ שלא אמרו בפירוש ,הוא כי משה והלל משרש אחד הם .וכן ר 'אליעזר
שהתפלל עליו משה ,ואמר י"ר שיצא זה מחלצי .וכן רבינו הקדוש .וכן רשב"י .וכמו שהודעתיך למעלה
בדרוש הנשמות ,הנמשכות מחמשה בחי 'זווגים עליונים ,והודעתיך כי רשב"י ע"ה ,ורבינו הקדוש הם
בחי 'היסודות בזעיר ,או ביעקב ,וגם משה הוא ביסוד דאבא:
יש נפשות ,שאינם מבחי 'שרש קדושת שבת עצמו ,אלא מכללות תוספת שבת ,ואין להם רק אותה
בחינה לבדה ,גם אינה יכולה לעלות יותר מאותה בחינה ,כיון שאין שרשה אלא משם:
ענין כלב בן יפונה ,וענין המרגלים .דע ,כי אליעזר עבד אברהם ,הוא היה בכלל ארור כנען ,ונכנס לכלל
ברוך ,כאשר אמר לו לבן בא ברוך ה' ,כמ"ש חז"ל ולפי שזכה לבן למעלה זו ,להוציאו מכלל ארור ,לכן
נתקן גם הוא ,ונתגלגל בנבל הכרמלי ,ושניהם גלגולי בלעם ,כמבואר אצלינו וז"ש ז"ל למנצח על מות
לב"ן ,הוא נבל והנה לולי שלמעלה לא נתקיימה ברכת לבן לאליעזר ,לא נכתבה בתורת ה 'אמת ,ומהכרח
זה קיימו רז"ל מדרש זה ,שיצא מכלל ארור וגו .'ולפי שלבן גרם לאליעזר שיתוקן ,ויתגלגל בכלב בן יפונה ,
לכן נקרא בן יפונה ,בנו של לבן ,שכתוב בו ואנכי פניתי הבית לאליעזר ,כי כבנו יחשב ,כיון שהכניסו לכלל
ברוך ,ונתקן ונתגלגל בכלב ע"י ברכתו ,כי כלב בן מצרון היה ,ולא בן יפונה ,כי מחמת קושיא זו ארז"ל גם
כן בו דרשה אחרת בן שפנה מעצת מרגלים .ואמנם בחינת כלב היא שם ההוי"ה דההי"ן ,שהיא בן והיא
בגימטריא כל"ב ,וכבר הודעתיך כי הוי"ה זו ,תורה על מציאות ההוא רוחא דדכורא דעייל בנוקבא ,לעורר
בה בחי 'מ"ן ,ושם זה מורה על הנקבה בהיותה אחור באחור עם הזכר כנודע:
ועתה נבאר ענין המרגלים ,דע ,כי אלו העשרה מרגלים טרם שהלכו לרגל את הארץ ,נתעברו בהם
נשמות השבטים ,עשרה בני יעקב ממש ,וז"ס מ"ש להם יוסף לאחיו מרגלים אתם ,רמז להם שהיו
עתידים להתעבר במרגלים .גם ז"ס מ"ש בריש פרשת שלח לך ,כלם אנשים ראשי בני ישראל המה ,כי
הם ממש בני ישראל סבא ,ולכן לא כתיב ראשי אלפי ישראל ,אלא ראשי בני ישראל .ואמנם אחר
שנתייעצו בעצמם להוציא דבה על הארץ ,והיו רוצים לחזור לבא אל משה ולדבר תועה ,אז נסתלקו מהם נשמות השבטים שנתעברו בהם ,כנודע כי מי שהוא מבחי 'עבור מסתלק כשירצה ,משא"כ בבחי 'גלגול .

וזהו הטעם מש"ה בתחלה ,וישובו מתור הארץ מקץ מ 'יום ,ואח"כ שהזכיר ששבו ,חזר והזכיר ההליכה ,
באמרו וילכו ויבואו אל משה ואל אהרן ,והיל"ל ויבואו ,ולא וילכו ,ורז"ל דרשו כפי הפשט מקיש הליכתם
לביאתם וכו .'והענין הוא כפי הסוד ,כי וילכו חוזר אל נשמות השבטים, שהלכו ונסתלקו מהם ,כאשר שבו
מתור הארץ בעצה רעה .ומלת ויבאו ,חוזר אל המרגלים בעצמם ,שבאו לבדם בלתי עבור נשמות
השבטים בהם .ואמנם ביהושע וכלב לבדם ,נשאר בהם סוד העבור ,כי אפרים בן יוסף נתעבר ביהושע , ויהודה בכלב ,לפי שלא חטאו .וזש"ה ,וכלב בן יפונה ויהושע בן נון חיו מן האנשים ההם ההולכים ,פירוש , כי אלו נשארו חיים ,מבחינת נשמות השבטים אביהם שנתעברו בהם ,ולא נסתלקו מהם אח"כ בביאתם , כי כמו שבהליכתם היו עמהם ,כך היו בביאתם ,וזש"ה חיו מן האנשים ההם ההולכים וכו .'ויחזור אומרו
האנשים ההם ,אל אפרים ויהודה שהיו עמהם בהליכתם ,וז"ש ההולכים ,ירמוז כי אלו חיו מן האנשים
שהלכו ,ולא מאותם שבאו שלא כמו ההליכה .ולפי שכלב נתעבר בו יהודה ,לכן נאמר בו ,יען כי מלא
אחרי ה ',יצה ,כי יהודה הוא חבור יהו"ה ד ',וירמוז ,שהוא סוד האחורים הנתקנים מן ד 'שביהודה ,לשם
יהו"ה שבו .ולפי שנתקיים בכלב עבור יהודה ,אמר יען כי מלא אחרי יהו"ה ,המתקן את אחור של ההוי"ה
כנזכר .גם מפני שכל"ב הוא בחי 'אליעזר עבד אברהם ,לכן כתוב בו ויבא עד חברון .ואמרו רז"ל שהלך
להשתטח על קברי האבות ,כי אברהם הוא הראש שלהם ,והוא היה עבדו ,לכן עתה הלך שם .וגם כי
הנה כלב ואלעזר הם בחי 'שם הוי"ה דב"ן כנז .'ואמנם אליעזר נקרא ע"ש שהוא בחי 'התעוררות החתן ,
והוא משמש ועובד אל החסד שהוא אברהם ,וזהו אליעזר עבד אברהם ,ר"ל ,עז"ר א"ל ,כי הוא עוזר לשם
א"ל ,שהוא חסד אל ,והוא אברהם ,וע"כ הלך להשתטח עליו:
ועתה נבאר שאר גלגולי כלב ,דע ,כי נתגלגל בבניהו בן יהוידע ,בסוד פנים אל פנים .ועיין בפרשת
בראשית בזוהר בהקדמה והבן זה ,וגם בו נרמז ב"ן ,בגימטריא כל"ב ,ובו נאמר לך פגע בו ליואב בן

ולא פירש ממנו ,ואח"כ בניהו זכה לשתיהם ,לכן נקרא בן ,ובניהו בן יהוידע בן איש חי כנלע"ד:
ענין הלל ושמאי .הנה הלל הוא בחי 'הפנים של המלכות ,הנקראת רחל ,ולכן הלל הוא בגי 'אדנ"י ,שהוא

יתרו ,יתר ו 'בסוד וישם ה 'לקין אות יתירה ,זו ו 'כנזכר בתקונין דף קי"ח ע"א .והנה קין נתערב מטוב

ורע ,והרע בא במצרי ,ונהרג ע"י משה זה הבל ,על דבר שלומית בת דברי ,מדה כנגד מדה ,כי גם הוא הרג להבל על התאומה יתירה .והטוב של קין בא ביתרו ,ונתן בתו למשה ,לתקן ענין התאומה הנזכר .
וכשהרג משה את המצרי ,נתקן:
בכך ,ויצאה נפשו ,ואז נדבקה בנפש יתרו ,ונתגייר .גם נפש קרח ,היא נפשו של קין ,וכפי זה נמצא שנתגלגל קין ג' פעמים .גם שם נתבאר אחיזת נפש שאול ושמואל:
ענין יעקב ,שהוא האור היוצא מדופני היסוד של אבא המתלבש תוך ז"א ,ויוצאת הארתו מחוץ לז"א ,אבל האור מהיסוד דאבא תוך חלל הגוף ובטן ז"א ,נקרא משה .ויש בו ה' בחינות ,האחת למעלה בדעת של ז"א .כי גם שם מתלבש יסוד דאבא .השנית ,בשליש עליון שבת"ת דז"א ,מקום מכוסה תוך יסוד דאימא , ועל מקום זה נאמר ויסתר משה פניו .השלישית ,בשני שלישים התחתונים דת"ת מקום נגלה ,ומשם היתה נגלת נבואת משה .הרביעית ביסוד דז"א ,כי שם נתלבש עטרת יסוד דאבא ,וזו בחי' שת בן אדה"ר ,וז"ס חשופי שת .החמישית ההבל היוצא מפי יסוד דז"א ולחוץ ,וזו בחינת הבל בן אדה"ר ,כי כל אלו שרש א' הם .ודור המדבר ,הם האורות היוצאים מן הדעת של יעקב הנזכר ,באחורי הדעת שבו , ונקרא לאה אשת יעקב ,ולכן נקרא דור דעה .ושם נתבאר באופן אחר ,כי הרושם שעושים האורות הנזכרים בין גוף זעיר לגוף יעקב הנזכר ,הנקרא דור דעה .נדב ואביהוא ,הם רוח ונפש דזיהרא עילאה דאצילות ,שהיו תחלה כלולים באדם הראשון ,והורישם לקין בנו .רשב"י ע"ה ,היתה נשמתו מבחי' אור לקחה חנוך ,זיהרא עילאה דאצילות .נדב ואביהוא ,נצח והוד ,ונתגלגלו בשמואל .מקיף:
ענין מרע"ה ,ורבינו הקדוש ,ורשב"י ע"ה ,ועשרה הרוגי מלכות ,כלם הם מבחי' יסוד שבז"א .אלא שהם יסודות חלוקים ,או דאבא או דאימא ,או דז"א ,או דיעקב .אמנם מרע"ה ,עלה דרך קו אמצעי ,גם עד הדעת דז"א .ובלוחות השניות ,הוא יותר למטה ,כי אבד אלף חלקי אורות שהיו בו בזמן לוחות ראשונות , ונשאר בו חלק אחד מאותם האלף .ורשב"י ע"ה בתחלתו היה למטה ביסוד הראוי לו כנזכר ואח"כ בזמן האדרא רבא ,עלה לאותה מדרגה תחתונה שהיה בה מרע"ה ,בזמן לוחות שניות .רב המנונא סבא ,נצוץ אחד מנצוצי מרע"ה ,המתגלגל בכל דור ודור עד ס' רבוא נצוצות .בלעם גלגול לבן ,וכשנהרג ע"י פינחס ,נתקן קצת ,ונתגלגל פעם שלישית בנבל הכרמלי .אותיות לבן גלגול א':
כפי הבחי' השנית ,שהיתה באדם בעת שחטא ,כך צריך שיהיה כשיתגלגל .כיצד ,הרי שהאדם הזה היה לו כשחטא נר"ן מבי"ע ,וגם נפש מאצילות ,ונתגלגל ,אע"פ שהשלים תקונו בשלימות אל נר"ן דבי"ע ,עדיין נקרא פגום ומעוות ,עד שיתקן גם הנפש דאצילות .וז"ס צדיק ורע לו ,כי הוא צדיק גמור בערך מה שיש בו עתה ,אבל רע לו ,כי עדיין צריך להשלים מדרגתו הראשונה ,אע"פ שעשה מצות גדולות ורבות .ויש שבתחלה לא היה בו רק נפש דעשיה לבד ,וחטא ,ועתה כשנתגלגל ותקן נפש דעשיה ,והספיק לו מצות מועטות ,ונקרא צדיק מתוקן וטוב לו:
ענין אינון תרין רוחין הנז' בזוהר ,הענין הוא ,כי נשמת האדם הבאה מאימא על ידי התלבשותה בז"א ,יש לה ב' בחינות ,הא' מן ראש ז"א עד החזה שבו ,כי זה נשמה מכוסת כנודע ,ונעשת באדם בחי' צלם של אור מקיף על ראשו .והשנית ,בחי' אורות אימא המתגלים מן החזה ולמטה ,וזו נעשת נשמה פנימית באדם .וזו השנית ,מתלבשת תוך הרוח הבא אל האדם מז"א עצמו .ונתבאר שם ,כי אפשר ע"י החטא , שתרד נשמה הפנימית הזאת דרך מרגלותיו כלה בקליפות ,ונשמת הצלם תכנס בסוד פנימית .ודע ,כי גם אפשר שאם יחטא יותר ,תרד מעט מעט גם הצלם הנזכר כלה לגיהנם .ועל זה נאמר ,ונכרתה הנפש וכו' ,
כי לא נשאר לו שום שרש למעלה בקדושה:
ובבחי' ב' הנשמות הנז' שיש לכל צדיק ,בכפל שמו ,נח נח ,משה משה ,כבר הודעתיך ,כי כל שרש מן שרשי הנשמות ,יכול להתחלק עד ס' רבוא נצוצות נשמות ,ויש שרש שכלם יתבררו מן הקליפות ,ויתוקנו כל ס' רבוא .ויש שרש ,שאפשר שאיזה נצוץ קטן מהם ישאר באחרונה ,שלא יוכל להתקן אפילו לעתיד ,ממעוט הקדושה שבו ,ומרבוי סיום קליפותיה ,ועל זה נאמר ויצאו וראו בפגרי האנשים וגו' לבא:
הלל ,היה נצוץ אחד מס' רבוא נצוצות ,שרש נשמת מרע"ה ,המתגלגל בכל דור ודור ,ולכן שניהם היו ענותנים ,וחיו ק"כ שנה:
פסוק כי שבעתים יקם קין ,יק"ם ר"ת ,יתרו ,קי"ן ,קרח ,מצרי .כי נפש קין ,להיותה נפש נאחזה בזוהמת הנחש מאד ,וגבר הרע שבה על הטוב שבה ,ונתגלגלה במצרי שהיה גוי .ומשה שהוא הבל ,רצה לתקנו ,והוברר הרע שבה ,והעלהו לבחי' הטוב שבה אל הקדושה ,ואז ,שם בן מ"ב ,על ידי שהרגו בשם המפורש ,נכנסה ביתרו שהיה גוי ,ועי"כ נתגייר גם הוא ,ביום שהרג את המצרי .ולהיות נפש זו מן בחי' הרע של

נפש קין, לכן אמרו בס"ה, כי תחלת תקון קין היה ביתרו, כמ"ש על פסוק קניתי איש את ה' .אמנם הטוב הראשון שבה, כבר נתגלגל בקינן ומהללאל, כנזכר אצלינו:
אבל הרוח לא נכנס בגוי, כי הוא עליון מן בחי 'הנפש, ואמנם עדיין היה מעורב ברע, ואותו הרע נכנס בקרח, בסוד ויקח קרח, לקח מקח רע לעצמו, ומכח זה הרע נתקוטט עם משה, שהיה הבל אחיו, כמו שנתקוטט אז. והטוב שבזה הרוח, נתגלגל בשמואל הנביא, שהיה מזרעו:
ונשמת קין, נכנסה ביתרו אחר שנתגייר, בכח נפש המצרי שנתקנה כנזכר, ואז נשלם תקון חטא קין שהרג להבל, ולקח תאומתו, ועתה זן ומפרנס את משה, והחייהו, והחזיר לו תאומתו, והיא צפורה. והרי נתבאר, כי לא נתקן קין מחטאו של הבל, אלא ביתרו, וזה ע"י משה כנזכר, בתחלה בהריגת המצרי, ועד סוף ביתרו כנזכר:
והטוב שבהבל, נתגלגל בשת. והרע, באנוש בנו, ולכן עבד ע"ז. הרן, נתגלגל באהרן, ולוט בנו, ושניהם הם משרש הבל. רבא חבר אביי משרש לוט, ונתן בבתו הצעירה, ומשם יצאה נעמה העמונית, וגם שם היה נכלל רבא. ותרח אבי אברהם, נתגלגל ונתקן באיוב. שתי בנות לוט, הם, רות ונעמה:
ואלו הם קצת מיני עשבים שלמדתי ממורי ז"ל, אע"פ שלא באר לי פרטות הדברים אלא דרך כלל:
עשב הדודאים, והם בלשון תרגום יברוחין, וכן בלשון ערבי יברו"ח, ומוציאים פירות הנקראים תפוחים שוטים. הנה אחיזתם למעלה בלהט החרב המתהפכת, ולכן נקראים תפוחים שוטים, ולכן גורמים שטות לאדם האוכלם כנודע. וסגלתם הוא, שאם יכרכום תוך קלף צבי, ויתלום בצואר האדם, יועילו, שאם ירימו חרב על האדם הנושא אותם להרגו, תהפך החרב על האדם, ותהרוג בעליו. גם קליפת התפוחים האלה יבשה וכתישה לאבק דק, יועיל מאד לכחול העינים רעות:
עשב הנקרא טוטומיליו, כי כשחותכים ממנו יוצא חלב, מועיל להקפת כסף חי, וצריך שיהיו בראשו חמשה ענפים, ובכל ענף חמשה זרעונין, וצריך ללקטו בעת ידוע, לא קבלתי ממנו:
עשב הנקרא מושקטיליא, ובערבי אכליל דהב, והזרע שלו הוא כעין ג 'או ד 'מחטין צומחין בראשו, ארוכות שיעור חצי אצבע או יותר, וריחו כריח מור. סגולתה היא, לעשות בה אל כימיא של הזהב. גם סגולתה היא למשוח הבהקים במין שלה:
עשב אחר יש, שעליו דומים לעלי עדשים, והפרח מור"אדו, והפרחים בעצמם דומים לפרחי העדשים, ויש שהפרח שלו הוא אמרילייו. מין העשב הנזכר טרוף באצבעך עם מעט שמן זית וחומץ, יועיל למשוח בו הרגלים והשוקים והידים הנבקעות, שדומה בקיעתם כמו מין ממיני הגרב והתכוך, ומשח בו ערב ובקר כמה פעמים:
עשב אחד יש, שעליו שלו ארוכות ורחבות מאד כעלי החזרת ויותר מהם, ויהיה ארכם כשעור שתי זרתות, ובאמצע מוצא העלים, יוצא קנה אחד ארוך וגבוה מאד יותר מן אמה וחצי, אשר בקנה ההוא גדל הזרע, וכל הקנה הזה צומח בו כמין צמר גפן ממש, אלא שאינו לבן כמוהו. המיץ שלו יועיל להשקות למי שיש בו חולי ההשתנה, שאינו יכול להתעכב ומשתין בכל שעה:
עשב אחד יש שהוא נמוך, וקנה הזרע שלו קצר, וכלו כדמיון כוסות קטנים רבים דבוקים זה בזה, מסבבים כל הקנה, המיץ שלו יועיל לעינים הרעות. גם יועיל לעינים הטובים להאירם ביותר:
עשב אחד יש גבהו זרת, וכשמוציא זרע, יוציא כעין קלח אחד, ויוצאים ממנו מזה ומזה עלים קטנים כעין עלי עשב החרדל הדק גם הפרח כפרח החרדל ממש, וגוונו אמירילייו כפרח החרדל, גם זה טוב לעינים:
עשב אחד יש, עליו כעלי הבצלים קצת, אלא שהם קצרים כשעור זרת, ואינו גדל אלש בין הסלעים הקשים והגבוהים, והנה הגדל בסלע עצמו אינו טוב, אבל הגדל למעלה מן הסלע הוא טוב, ויועיל להאיר עינים החשוכות שאינם רואים בטוב. וזה עניינו, יעשה ממנו מעגו"ן עם אגוז אחד בעל שלשה צלעות בלבד, ועשר צמוקים שחורים, ודבש דבורים, ויאכל ממנו בכל בקר על הצום:
עשב אחד יש, שעליו רחבים מאד למטה במקום דבוקם אל הקלח, והולכים ומתקצרים מעט בראשם, וציורם הוא ממש כציור עלי הקארד"ו האדום יועיל לרפואת הצרעת:
עשב אחד יש קטן, ושרשו כמין בצלים קטנים כשעור הזיתים, ובראשו יש פרח אמירילייו אם תעשהו מעגון עם דבש דבורים, טוב להאיר העינים. ע"כ מה שלמדתי במיני העשבים ממורי זלה"ה:

Chapter 37
ונשמטה ממקומה ושייך בדף קכ"ה ט"ב ד"ה אמר שמואל:
אמר שמואל, ראיתי והסכמתי לכתוב אחר כל זה, ציון מקום קברות הצדיקים, אשר מהם הם מפורממים, ומהם לא שזפתם עין, ומקצת מהנז' נתפרסמו לעין כל:
ועתה אכתוב מקום קברות הצדיקים, כפי אשר קבלתי ממורי זלה"ה, וכבר הודעתיך כי הוא היה רואה ומסתכל בנשמות הצדיקים, בכל מקום ובכל זמן, ומכ"ש בהיותו על קבריהם, ששם נפשותיהם עומדות כנודע, גם מרחוק עיניו יביטו בנפש הצדיק העומד על הקבר שלו, ועי"ז היה יודע קבר כל צדיק וצדיק, והיה מדבר עמהם, ולומד מהם כמה סתרי תורה. וכבר נסיתי כמה נסיונות וחקרתי בתכלית החקירות, ומצאתי דבריו כנים ואמתיים, ואין להאריך בזה עתה, כי הם דברים נוראים ונפלאים ולא יכלם ספר:
במדינת צפת ת"ו, במערב, יש שם בית קברות ליהודים, ובתוכו בית א', ובנין כיפה עגולה גבוה באמצע גגו כמין קובה, ובצפון הבית ההוא נקב קטן פתוח למערה ההיא, ובאותה מערה אומרים העולם, כי שם קבור הושע בן בארי, ואינו כך, אמנם הוא קבור שם ר' יהושע התנא, וטעו העם, וקראוהו הושע:
בלכתך מצפת, לצד מערב לבית הקברות הנז"ל, יש שם באר א', ונקרא בור של גויזו, והנה שם יותר רחוק מעט לצד מערב, קבור ר' שמעון בן חלפתא, ואין בו שום היכר. בלכתך מן הכפר הנקרא דהריאה התחתונה של מערב צפת ת"ו, לרדת אל הנהר אשר שם טוחנים קמח, תלך בדרך ההיא ותגיע עד המקום שכבר משם נראים מימי הנהר קצת, גם מן המקום ההוא מתחיל לירד מן הנהר אל הנהר הנזכר, והנה שם לשמאל הדרך יש רחוב קטן בין הסלעים, ולדרום של הרחוב ההוא יש סלע גבוה, ונראה כעין כותל א', שם קבור ר' חייא הנזכר באד"ר דנשא:
בהגיעך למטה, כאשר תרד עוד בדרך ההוא עצמו רחוק מעט, תמצא שם לצד מזרח הדרך סלע א' יחידי, גבוה וזקוף בקומה זקופה, ושם תחת הסלע ההוא עצמו קבור ר' נחוניא בן הקנה. כנגד הסלע הזה מכוון ממנו ביושר לצד צפון באמצע ההר, יש שם סלע א' גדול, ושם בקיעה א' גדולה מפסיק הסלע לשנים, שם קבור ר"י נפחא הנזכר באדרא רבא דנשא:
הגהה - אמר שמואל, הרי מפורש כאן שאינו קבור עם רשב"י ובנו ר"א במירון כמו שאומרים העולם (שהציון הג' אשר שם הוא רבי יצחק):
בהגיעך למטה בהר, יש שם באטא"ן אחד שמתקנים בו הבגדים, והוא הבאטאן היותר גדול אשר בנהר ההוא. והנה בהר שלמזרח הבאטאן ההוא, יש בראש ההר מכוון כנגד הבאטאן חפירה גדולה נכנסת בהר ההיא, ושם קבור רבי אבא הנזכר באד"ר דפרשת נשא:
בלכתך מכפר הדהריאה הנזכר שבמערב צפת, בדרך הנמשך ממנה תחת בית הקברות, והולך לצד צפון, ונמשך עד נחל מים הנקרא כראל כמו שיתבאר למטה. ואמנם בדרך הזה יש אילני זתים רבים, ובהגיעך שם תתחיל לרדת בהר ההוא לראש נהר המים הנזכר שבו טוחנים החטים, ושם חפירה אחת, כי הוא מקום מחצב אבנים, ושם קבור עדינו העצני. ורחוק ממנו מעט יש מחצב אחד, ושם קבור רבי חוצפית התורגמן:
ומשם תרד עוד למטה באמצע מורד ההוא, ושם סלע גדול, אורכו קרוב לעשרה אמות, וכן רחבו, והוא סלע יחידי בפ"ע שוכב ומוטה ע"ג קרקע, ותחתיו חלול ונבדל מן הקרקע מצד צפונו, ושם תחתיו קבור

יהוידע הכהן:
מן הדרך הנז"ל, ההולך מן המקום הדהריאה הנזכר אל הכראל הנזכר, יש שם דרך אחד שבו יורדים מן צפת אל ראש ההר לטחון החטים, ותרד שם מעט בדרך ההוא, ושם כמו שליש שפוע הדרך וההר, יש שם חרוב אחד, ושם קבור בריה דרב ספרא הנזכר בזוהר פרשת תרומה:
יותר למטה בדרך הזה לצד מזרח, יש פתח אחת של מערה בגגה למעלה, ובצד מערב המערה למטה, יש כמין ג' בקיעות, ושם בפנים קבורים יוסי בן יועזר, ויוסי בן משולם, ויוסי בן יוחנן, כנגד ג' בקיעות ממנו:
למזרח צפת תוב"ב, בלכתך מצפת אל כפר אבנית, יש שם ב' הרים גדולים מאד, ונקרא הדרך שביניהן בין גיבליין, והנה באמצע אורך הדרך הזה, שבין ב' ההרים, שם לצד דרום הדרך בראש ההר ההוא, שם קבור רבי כרוספדאי חמיד לבא, הנזכר בסוף ספר התקונים תיקון ע', ובזוהר פרשת שלך לך:
גם בלכתך מצפת מדרך בין גבליין הנז"ל, באותו ההר אשר לצד ימינך, שהוא למעלה מן הארת אל קראת של הישמעאלים, תעלה משם ותלך כל ראש ההר ההוא מצפונו לדרומו, ושם כמו חפירה תחת הסלע לצד ימינך, ושם קבור אנטיגנוס אי"ס. ותלך מעט יותר לצד דרום, ושם חפירה ג"כ תחת הסלע לצד ימינך, ושם קבור נתן דצוציתא:
לדרום צפת תוב"ב, לצד דרום המגדל, יש מעיין א', ונקרא מעין החדש ושם קרוב אליה מערה אחת, וקורים אותה אולד יעקב, ושם כנגד המעיין ממש לצד צפון, בנין נאה ובתים נאים, וכל העולם אומרים כי שם קבור רבי דוסא בן הרכינס, וכן האמת, ואין צדיק אחר קבור שם אלא הוא לבדו:
משם תלך בדרך ההולך לצד דרום, ושם רחוב אחד קורין לו אל מידאן, ושם מרגז אחד לישמעאלים, ולמטה מדה המרגז, יש עמק אחד למזרח הבקיעה, והרחוב ההוא והוא גיא גדולה מאד חצובה בין סלעים, ושם קבור ר' בנימין בר יפת:
משם תלך להלאה לצד דרום אחר סיום שכונת כל בתי הישמעאלים, יש מקום גדול מאד, כולו מלא אבנים קטנים גבוהים, ושם גל אחד גבוה מכולם, ושם היתה בית הכנסת קדוש קדמון מאד, ובמקום ההיכל קבור שם בנימין הצדיק התנא:
שם סמוך לו עמק אחד קטן, שם קבור נחום איש גם זו. ודע, כי כל מקום הגלים ההם היתה עיר אחת גדולה מאד וקדושה:
לצפון צפת תוב"ב, בלכתך מצפת לצד צפון ללכת אל כפר עין זייתון, דרך אילן אחד של חרוב, שם קבור יש"ו הנוצרי. ויש שם ב' דרכים, האחד הימני הולך לעין זיתון הנזכר. והב' השמאלי הולך אל הכרל הנזכר.
והנה באמצע ב' הדרכים האלו, יש שם בקעה גדולה של אילני זתים, ולקצה הצפוני של בקעה זו יש שם נחל מים שוטף, שיורד מן בור אחד הנקרא גפאר בין צפת ובין עין זיתון, ושם גשר אחד, ועוברים בו מימי הנחל ההוא, וזה הנחל נמשך ויורד לצד צפון של הבקעה הנזכר, ובאילן של זית האחרון שבכלם, שם קבורה אמיה של ר' כרוספדאי חמיד לבא, הנזכר בזהר פרשת שלח לך:
בלכתך מצפת דרך צפון לגוש חלב, יש שם נחל מים הנקרא כראל, ונ"ל שמימי ביריה ועין זיתון יורדים בנחל ההוא, והנה בדרך הזה עצמו ההולך לגוש חלב, כשתתרחק מן הכרל ת' אמות לצד צפון בדרך הזה עצמו, יש אבן אחת גדולה ארוכה נטויה בצד הדרך הזה לצד שמאל, ושם תחתיה קבור רבי נתן הבבלי:
ותלך משם לצד מערב ממש, ושם בהר מקום גדול מלא חפירות, נראה מקום מחצב אבנים בין הסלעים, ושם קבור ר"ש בן מנסיא:
ומשם תלך לצד צפון, נוטה מעט למערב דרך אלכסון, עד אשר תגיע לנחל אחד עמוק מאד, בין הרים גבוהים מאד, ותחילת הנחל הזה ראשיתו מתחיל מן עמק א' שבין ההרים, אשר אצל כפר קיזמיאה, ובעמק ההוא יש בור אחד הנקרא ביר אלשיך, ושם בעמק ההוא פרשת דרכים, למירון, ולגוש חלב, ולבאריתא, ולדרום הבור ההוא הנזכר, מתחיל נחל אחד יבש מבלי מים, ונמשך בין ב' ההרים גבוהים וארוכים מאד, ונמשך קצה הנחל הזה עד הנחל של צפת שטוחנין בו קמח הנז"ל:
והנה בלכתך מן קבר ר"ש בן מנסיא לצד צפון, נטה קצת באלכסון למערב, עד הגיעך אל סוף קצה ההר ההוא, אשר הנחל העמוק הנז"ל הוא תחתיו, והנה שם למעלה בראש ההר סלע אחד ומעט מישור, אצלו קבור שם רב ייבא סבא הנזכר בזוהר פרשת משפטים:
ורחוק ממנו לצד מזרח כמו מאתיים אמות, שם קבור אוריה הכהן. והנה בזה ההר יש כמו קבוץ סלעות בעגול ממנו, ובאמצעותם הוא המקום שנתקבצו שם הרשב"י ע"ה ותלמידיו ללמוד שם ספרא דצניעותא דפרשת תרומה, ובאותו מקום עצמו קבור ר' יוסי דפקיעין הנזכי בזוהר פרשת בלק. בדרך צפת, שהולכים

בו לגוש חלב, באמצע הדרך אשר מן הכר"אל אל ביר אלשיך, שם באמצע הדרך לצד מזרח קרוב לו כמו עשר אמות או פחות מעט, יש סלע אחד קטן הרבה ונמוך, ושם קבור בן הא הא:
בדרך הנזכר אחר שתעבור מן הכראל, יש הר אחד גבוה לצד מזרח בימינך, ודרך ההר הזה עולים בו והולכים בו לעין זיתון, תעלה משם בדרך ההוא לראש ההר, ושם בראש ההר קבור ר"י בן ברוקה:
בדרך הנזכר בהגיעך בבי"ר א"ל שי"ך תעמוד שם ופניך כלפי צפון, ואז תראה לצד שמאלך ציון אחד, קבור שם רבי יוסי דמן יוקראת:
בדרך שעולים בו לכפר קיומיאה, והוא כן כמו שאומרים העולם והנה בצד ימינך יש הר גבוה, תעלה בהר ההוא כמו חמשים אמה או יותר, ושם תמצא מערה אחת מכוונת ממנו, כנגד ציון ר"י דמן יוקראת, ובמערה ההיא ב 'פתחים, פתח אחד קטן במערבה ופתח אחד ע"ג המערה, ותכנס דרך הפתח הזה שבגג, ושם במערה ההוא קבור רבי כרוספדאי האמורא. ואמר לי מורי ז"ל, כי מעלתו גדולה כמעלת התנאים. גם קבורים עמו שם שני צדיקים אחרים לא ידעתי שמם:
בדרך הנזכר, אצל העומק ההוא שבו בור אל שיך, יש בו פרשת דרכים הולכים לצד צפון. האחד הימיני, הוא עומד לצד מזרח ההר ההוא, שבו כפר ברית"א. והשמאלי עולים בו לגוש חלב:
והנה בדרך ימיני, כאשר תגיע במקום שנכנס בין ב 'ההרים, הר אחד לימין, והי אחד של כפר בריתא לשמאל, תמנה כמו מאה אמות רחוק משם, ותמצא מישור אחד קטן, ובו אילני זתים כמו עשרים אילנות, ושם יש חפירה אחת עמוקה לאורך הדרך עשויה מחמת מימי הגשמים היורדים דרך שם בימי החורף.
ובתחילה עומד הדרך לצד ימין החפירה ההיא, ואח"כ נוטה הדרך ועובר באמצע החפירה ועומד הדרך לצד שמאל החפירה ההיא, ובאותו המקום ממש שנוטה הדרך הנזכר יש שם אילן זית א 'ובשרשו כמו אצטבא של אבנים. והנה כנגד האילן לצד מזרח יש סלע אחד, ובו ב 'חפירות וגם בקיעות, והנה בבקעה אשר לצפון הסלע ההוא, שם קבור רבי יוסי בר יעקב שנפטר בזמן האדרא רבא דנשא כנזכר שם:
והנה בשדה ההוא שם מקום שנתקבצו שם לעשות האדרא ההוא, ורשב"י ע"ה ישב בחפירה ההיא הצפונית ששם קבור ר 'יוסי הנזכר, ובחפירה הדרומית שם ישב ר 'אבא, ובמקום האילן הנזכר שם ישב ר 'אלעזר:
בזה הדרך הנזכר אצל ביר אלשיך לצד צפון, יש הר אחד גבוה מאד המפסיק בין ב 'הדרכים הנז', והנה תעלה מן הדרך הזה דרך אמצע ההר ההוא עד למעלה, אצל שטח ההר ההוא למעלה בראשו, יש שם סלעים רבים, ושם בניהם עומק אחד, ושם כמו פתח מערה אחת, תרד דרך שם ותמצא שם מקום רחב למטה כמו מערה אחת, ושם קבורים אלקנה אביו של שמואל הנביא ע"ה. ור 'בנאה האמורא:
הגהה - אמר שמואל, גם זה הוא שלא כמו שאומרים העולם שהוא קבור עם בנו שמואל הנביא בעירו (ברמתה):
בכפר ביירייא מערה אחד, ואומרים העולם ששם קבור אבא שאול, ומורי ז"ל לא הודה בזה ואמר שהוא צדיק אחד, ולא הגיד לי שמו:
בלכתך מן כפר ברייא לצד צפון אל כפר אבני"ת, דרך שנוטעים שם אילנות וורדים רבים, הנקראים אל ראיי"ש בתחילת הדרך ההוא, אחר:
צאתך מן המעיין של בריי"א, רחוק כמו ת 'אמה לשמאל הדרך, תמצא שם מורד אחד עמוק ומשופע וצר בין הרים ההם, ושם קבור בניהו בן יהוידע:
בכפר אבני"ת יש שם מערה, שבה קבורים אביי ורבא. והנה הפתח לצד מערב, ובתוכה הרבה כוכים, ההנה בכוך שבקרן מזרחית דרומית ממש, שם קבור אביי. והכוך הסמוך לו העומד בצד דרום ממש, שם קבור רב דימי מנהרדעא. והכוך הסמוך לו אשר בצד דרום ג"כ, והוא כוך יותר רחב מכוך ר 'דימי הנזכר, ושם קבור רבא, והוא בכוך האמצע שבצד דרום, ושאר הכוכין לא הגיד לי מה הם:
למערב צפת תוב"ב, בכפר כנספארדי, מערה אחת ואומרים ששם קבור נחום איש גם זו ואינו כן, אלא נחמיה העמסוני. וטעו העם:
(הגהה - אמר שמואל, כבר כתבנו לעיל, שהוא קבור אצל בנימין הצדיק):
בכפר מירון, שם קבור הרשב"י ע"ה, ור"א בנו, כמו שאומרים העולם:
לצפון צפת תוב"ב, בכפר עין זיתון, שם ציון אחד, ובו קבור ר"י בר אלעאי, כמו שאומרים העולם, והוא קבור בקרן מערבית צפונית בצד מערב של הציון הלזה. למטה במערה שתחת הציון הזה לצפון הציון הזה הראשון, ושם בראשו מערה אחת, ואומרים כי שם קבור רבי אלעאי אביו של ר 'יהודה הנזכר, וכן

הוא האמת. והנה הוא קבור בכוך הב' שבצד מזרח, סמוך לקרן דרומית מזרחית:
בלכתך מכפר עין זיתון לכפר עלמא, אצל מערת ר' אלעאי, עד מעין אחד אשר שם נקרא עין אל טינ"י, והנה לימין הדרך ההוא, יש הר גבוה מאד, ובאמצע שפוע עליית ההר, יש סלע א', שם קבור ר' נהוראי סבא הנזכר בזוהר פרשת תצוה:
בלכתך מן עין זיתון לכפר גברייתין, יש שם הר א' גדול, יורדים ממנו אל הכפר הנזכר עצמו, ושם באמצע הדרך ההר ההוא קבורים יחד בקבר אחד, יונתן בן הרכינס, ור' יצחק בן אלישיב:
בלכתך מן כפר גוש חלב לצד צפון בבקעה אחת אשר שם, תלך שעור ת"ק אמה, ושם בבקעה ההיא קבור יואל בן פתואל:
לדרום צפת ת"ו בכפר עכברא, שם מערה אחת בתוך הפרדסים, ויצא מפתחה מעין מים להשקות הפרדסים, ופתחה צר מאד, תכנס לתוכה ולצד המזרח קבור שם ר' ינאי לבדו, ולא ככתוב בספר היחוס שקבורים שם ג"כ ר' דוסתאי ור' נהוראי:
בכפר חוקאב יש לצד דרומו הר גדול חצוב ביושר כמו כותל אחד, ושם כמו מערה אחת גדולה חצובה בסלע ההוא כנגד הכפר, ומשם עולים לחפירות אחרות אשר בסלע ההוא, קרוב מאד וסמוך אל המערה ההיא, ובמקומות אלו ר"ל במערה ובחפירות הנז', שם קבורים, ר' זריקא. ור' סמא. ואושעיא זעירא דמן חבריה יחד. ומר עוקבא שם לבדו קבור במקום אחד. ור' לויטס איש יבנה שם לבדו במקום אחד:
ובשטח ראש ההר הגדול הנזכר, יש דרך אחד שהולכים שם מכפר עוקבי, ושם בסוף שטח ההר למעלה לצד מערב, יש כמו גומא וחפירה אחת בין הסלעים כמו בקעה, ושם קבור אדמון דפרק ב' דייני גזירות. ועוד שם סמוך מאד בקעה שנית, ושם קבור עקביא בן מהללאל:
בטבריה בתוך העיר עצמה, יש בסופה לצד דרום בשפת הים, בית הכנסת גדול ליהודים, ויש שם קדושה גדולה מזמן קדמון, אבל אינו במקום כותל הדרומי שבו ההיכל עכשיו, אלא באמצע האורך בית הכנסת בקשת הב'. באותו קרן זוית שבצד מערב, שם היה מורי ז"ל קובע מקום תפילתו בהיותו שם, לפי שיש שם קדושה נפלאה:
מחוץ לטבריה, כנגד כותל הצפוני של החומה, וקרוב אליו, יש שם כמו שנים או שלשה כוכין, ואומרים כי הם קברי צדיקים, ואיני זוכר מה שאומרים העולם. ונלע"ד שאומרים שר' יצחק נפחא אחד מהם, והודה לי מורי שהם קברי צדיקים. ונלע"ד שא"ל, שהוא כמו שאומרים בני אדם:
תלך עוד משם בשדה לצד מערב החומה, נוטה באלכסון קצת לצד דרום, ושם חצר אחד מוקף כתלים ובתוכו ציונים וארונות רבים, ובכוך הסמוך לפתח החצר שם קבור ריב"ז:
תלך עוד משם לצד מערב החצר, ושם ציון אחד ושם קבור הרמב"ם ואביו ז"ל כמו שאומרים העולם. ורחוק ממנו מעט לצד מערב, יש כמו חצר קטנה מאד, ואומרים כי שם קבורים ר' יוחנן האמורא, והאחר שכחתיו. ומורי ז"ל אמ"ל, כי האחד הוא רב חננאל תלמידו של רב. והשני הוא צדיק אמר ושכחתיו, ונ"ל ששמעתי ממנו שהוא רב כהנא:
אח"כ תלך מעט לצד צפון ונוטה לצד מערב, ושם בהר ההוא אשר שם קוברים מתיהם אנשי טבריה, ויש שם אכסדרה אחת בנויה בג' כותלים וקורין אותה העולם מערת ר' חייא ובניו. ודע, כי באותם החלונות שיש בכותל הצפוני, שם קבורים ר' חייא ויהודה וחזקיה בניו. ורב המנונא סבא הנזכר תמיד בספר הזוהר. ורב הונא ריש גלותא, שהיה בזמן רבינו הקדוש, והעלו ארונו למערת ר' חייא, כנזכר בתלמוד. תעלה משם במעלה ההר ההוא לצד מערב ונוטה מאד לצד דרום, ושם במערת ר' עקיבא. וכבר הזכירו חז"ל, כי כשנכנסו אליהו הנביא ז"ל ויהושע הגרסי, נפתחה להם המערה הפנימית וקברוהו, וכשיצאו נסתמה, ולא נשארה אלא המערה החיצונה הזאת, אשר כל העולם נכנסים לתוכה. והנה המקום האמיתי המכוון כנגד קברו אשר בתוך המערה ההיא הפנימית שנסתם פתחה הוא, כי הנה פתח המערה הזאת היא במזרחה, ובקרן מערבית דרומית ממש באותו זווית, היא מכוון כנגד קברו אשר בתוך המערה ההיא הפנימית שנסתם פתחה:
לדרום של טבריה, בלכתך אל מרחצות של המים החמין, יש שם קברות הצדיקים רחוקים זה מזה, ואינם במקום אחד, וכבר הוזכרו שמותם בספר היחוס והם, ר' מאיר, ור' ירמיה דאפקוהו מבי מדרשא, על ששאל אותה שאלה זרה כנז"ל, והוא סתם בעי ר' ירמיה הנזכר בתלמוד. ועוד ג' צדיקים אחרים איני זוכר שמותם, והוא כמו שנזכר בספר היחוס, וכמו שאומרים העולם:
ונלע"ד כי הודה לי מורי ז"ל על ר' מאיר, שהוא קבור מעומד כמו שאומרים בני אדם:

בלכתך דרך ים טבריה אל חמי טבריה ,באמצע הדרך ממש ,במקום שיש דקלים רבים בשפת הים ההוא ,
מכוון כנגד מגדל אחד אשר בראש ההר ,שם הוא בארה של מרים:
במזרח ים טבריה ,יש כפר אחד ושמו כפר תנחום ,אומרים כי שם קבור נחום האלקושי .ונלע"ד שמורי ז"ל הודה בזה:
ע"כ מקום ציון קבורת הצדיקים זכותם יגן עלינו אמן כן יהי רצון:

Chapter 38
אמר שמואל ,עד פה עזרני האל יתברך ,להשלים ספרי הרב הגדול אבא מארי זלה"ה ,דבר לא נעדר
מהם ,מקטן ועד גדול ,מוגהים כיד ה 'הטובה עלי ,ואח"כ מצאתי באמתחותי קונטרסים ג"כ מכתיבת יד
אבא מארי ז"ל ,מדברים הנוגעים אליו לשרש נשמתו ,מצואות שצוהו הרב הגדול המשביר ז"ל ,וכדומה לי
שהרב אבא מארי ז"ל רצה להסתיר אותם לרוב ענותנותו ,שלא להודיע שרש נשמתו לרבים ,ואני בעניי
פחדתי ,פן אחרי יהיה הלקט ההוא שכחה ,לכן גמרתי בלבי לעבור על רצונו ,ועמו ז"ל הסליחה ,ורציתי
לכתוב אותם על ספר ,ויוחקו למען יעמדו ימים רבים ,ואענוותוניה וחסידותיה דמר הגדול קא סמיכנא ,ולא
חיישינא לחטאת ח"ו ,כי גדולה עבירה לשמה ,ומהאל יתברך שאלתי ,שימחול לי כל עונותי ,ויעבור על כל
פשעי ,ויהיה עם פי והגיוני ,יהיו לרצון אמרי פי וכו ,'וזה החלי בע"ה צור גואלי:
אלו הם הדברים שא"ל מורי זלה"ה ,הנוגעים לי ולשרש נשמתי:
ביום ר"ח אדר שנת השל"א ליצירה א"ל ,כי בהיותו במצרים ,התחיל להשיג השגתו ,ושם נאמר לו ,שיבא
לעיר צפ"ת תוב"ב ,כי שם הייתי אני חיים דר שם ,כדי שילמדני .וא"ל ,כי לא בא לדור בצפ"ת תוב"ב ,אלא
בעבורי ,ולא עוד אלא שאפילו עיקר ביאתו בגלגול הזה ,לא היה אלא בעבורי להשלים אותי ,ולא בא
לצורך עצמו ,כי לא היה צריך לבא:
גם אמר לי ,שלא היה מוטל עליו ללמד לשום אדם ,זולתי אני לבדי ,ובהיות שאני אלמוד ,לא יצטרך הוא
להתקיים בעה"ז:
גם א"ל ,שהיתה נשמתי למעלה מכמה מלאכי רום ,גדולה בתכלית המעלה ,ושהייתי יכול לעלות ע"י
נשמתי על ידי מעשי ,למעלה מרקיע ערבות .ושאלתי לו שיודיעני מי הוא נשמתי ,ולא רצה לבאר כל
הפרטים ,אמנם אמר לי דרך כללות ענין זה ,כי תחלה הייתי אני ,הרב ה"ר וידאל די טולושא ,בעל ספר
מגיד משנה ,ונקרא שמו כשמי עתה .ואחריו הייתי בגלגול איש אחד ,ושמו ר 'יהושע סוריאנו ,והיה אדם
עשיר וזקן ובעל צדקה ,ומשכים ומעריב בבתי כנסיות ובתי מדרשות .ואחריו הייתי גם כן בגלגול בבחור
אחד ,ושמו אברהם בחור בן י"ג שנה ,ונפטר בשנת י"ד .ואחריו באתי עתה בגלגול בפעם הזאת ,ונקרא
שמי חיים ,בשם הראשון דון וידאל בעל ספר מגיד משנה .וא"ל שמה שהוצרכתי להתגלגל עתה ,היה
לסבת שבגלגול אחר מן הקודמים אלו ,לא הייתי מאמין הרבה בחכמת הזוהר ,וכפי דבריו הבנתי ,שהיה
כשהייתי בגלגול מגיד משנה ,ולא רצה לגלות הענין ,וא"ל, כי הענין שאני צריך לתקן עתה בגלגול זה ,
הוא לעסוק בחכמת הזוהר ,וא"ל ,כי לפי שבהיותי בגלגול בעל מגיד משנה ,הייתי מעיין גדול ,וחריף

בחכמות העיון ,ולכן אינני חפץ עתה מאד לטרוח בחכמת העיון .וא"ל ,כי כל אלו הגלגולים הנזכרים אינם רק מבחי 'נפש שלי בלבד ,כי בחינת הרוח ונשמה יש בהם דברים מגולגלים אחרים:
גם א"ל ,שבהיותי בן י"ג שנה ,נתעבר בי נפש דר 'אלעזר בן ערך תלמיד ריב"ז ,ואח"כ בהיותי בן עשרים שנה ,נתעבר בי נפש דר 'אלעזר בן שמוע ,תלמידו של ר 'עקיבא ,כי להיותו אחד מעשרה הרוגי מלכות , מעלתו גדולה מר 'אלעזר בן ערך .ושעתה בשנת השל"א ליצירה ,שאני בן כ"ט שנים ללידתי ,היה בי רוח של ר 'עקיבא ע"ה ,מרחפת ומחופפת עלי להתעבר בי בעה"י ,מזה נראה כי נפשו מגולגלת בי עם נפשי: אח"כ ביום א 'דחו"מ של פסח ,הלכתי עמו לכפר אחד הנקרא עכברא ,ושם נכנסנו במערת ר 'ינאי ,בתוך הפרדס שיוצא מעין אחד מפתח המערה עצמה ,ופתחה צר עד מאד ,וא"ל כי אין קבור שם רק ר 'ינאי לבדו ,אך ר 'דוסתאי ור 'נהוראי ,ככתוב בספר יחוס של הצדיקים ,אינם קבורים שם ,ושם הדביק נפשו בנפש ר 'ינאי .ובכלל דבריו א"ל ר 'ינאי ,אני הוא ר 'ינאי בעל הציון הלזה ,ודע ,כי כה אמר לך השי"ת, לך ואמרת אל האיש הזה חיים ויטאל הבא עמך ,שישמור עצמו מן הרכילות ,ומן לשון הרע ,ומן שיחה בטילה ,ויהיה שפל רוח מאד ,ואני אהיה עמו בכל מקום:
גם א"ל מורי זלה"ה ביום ההוא ,כי נפשי יש לה שייכות ואחיזה בנפשו של מרע"ה ,כי כל כללות הנשמות נכללו בו ,ובפרט נשמות הצדיקים .ויש לי חלק בחינת נפשי בדוקא ממנו ,אבל בבחי 'הרוח והנשמה לא היה מדבר אז מה עניינם .ושנפש הזו נתגלגלה אח"כ כמה גלגולים ,עד שנתגלגלה אח"כ בריב"ז ,ואח"כ בר 'עקיבא ,ואח"כ נתגלגלה כמה גלגולים ,עד שנתגלגלה באביי הנקרא נחמני חבירו של רבא .וא"ל כי ז"ס מ"ש רז"ל בגמרא כי שלשה חיו ק"ך שנה ,והם ,משה ,וריב"ז ,ור 'עקיבא .ומשה עשה מ 'שנה בבית פרעה ,ומ 'שנה במדין ,ומ 'שנה פרנס את ישראל .וכן ריב"ז ,מ 'שנה עסק בפרקמטיא ומ 'שנה למד ומ ' שנה לימד .וכן ר 'עקיבא ,מ 'שנה היה עם הארץ ,ומ 'שנה למד ,ומ 'שנה לימד .וגם גלגולו אח"כ באביי , נרמז במ"ש חז"ל כי ריב"ז לא הניח מקרא ומשנה והויות דאביי ורבא ,והבן ענין זה .ואחר כך נתלבשה נפש זו באחד מרבנן סבוראי ,הנקרא רב אחאי ,וז"ש בתלמוד עליו ,פריך רב אחאי ,וא"ל כי כמדומה לו שרב אחאי זה ,הוא עצמו רב אחא משבחא ,בעל השאלתות .ואח"כ נפש זו נתגלגלה ברב דוסתאי גאון . ואחר כך עברו כמה גלגולים ,עד שנתגלגלה בר 'אהרן הלוי ,נכדו של הר"ז הלוי בעל המאור .ואח"כ נתגלגלה בהרב בעל מגיד משנה .ואח"כ בר 'יהושע סוריאנו .ואח"כ בבחור אברהם הנז"ל .ואח"כ נתגלגלה בי אני עכשיו הצעיר חיים:
וא"ל כי יש לו שייכות וקורבה עם הרמב"ם ז"ל ,ולכן עשה באור המגיד משנה ,על ספר היד להרמב"ם זלה"ה כנודע .ואמר לי כי לסבת היותו ר 'אלעזר בן ערך תלמיד ריב"ז שהוא שרש נפשי כנז"ל ,לכן בא עתה להתעבר בי ,בהיותי בן י"ג שנה ,כדי להשלים מה שחסר לריב"ז רבו ,והוא המדריכני עתה , ומסייעני ,כי התלמיד חייב בכבוד רבו:
גם רבי אלעזר בן שמוע נתעבר בי ,בשנת העשרים ,כדי להשלים חלק ר 'עקיבא רבו ,לסבה הנזכרת כי הוא תלמידו .וא"ל ,כי זה הוא הסימן ,אל היותי מגולגל מר 'עקיבא ,כי בכל עת שאני רואה קבוץ עם להרוג איזה אדם ,אני מתעלף ,לפי שנפשי זוכרת הצער שסבלה ,בזמן שנהרג ר 'עקיבא ע"ה ,וכן הוא האמת .גם נתן לי סימן אחר ,כי בהיותי בחור ,היה לי חשק גדול ,ללמוד בפרקי ר"א ,והטעם היה ,לפי שהיה רבו של רבי עקיבא:
גם א"ל ,כי לסבה שהיו ריב"ז ,ור 'עקיבא ,שניהם עמי הארץ ,בתחלת בחרותם ,בארבעים שנה הראשונים ,ובפרט ר 'עקיבא ,שהיה אומר מי יתן לי ת"ח ואנשכנו כחמור ,ומזה תבין שאר דברים כשהיה ע"ה מ 'שנה ובהכרח שהיה להם חטאת נעורים .וא"ל ,כי הסבה היא ,לפי שהיתה נפשם בחי 'טפת זרע , מאותם עשר טיפין שהוציא יוסף הצדיק מבין עשר אצבעותיו ,כמאמר רז"ל וע"כ היו עמי הארץ מ 'שנה הראשונים ,ונאחזו בהם החצונים קצת באותם הימים ,ולסבה זו הוצרכו להתגלגל אחר כך בכל הגלגולים הנזכרים ,ולסבה הנזכרת נכנסה נפש גדולה וקדושה כזו בר 'עקיבא ,שהיה בן גרים ,ולא מזרע ישראל . והסבה היא ,לפי שהיא טפת זרע יוסף ,שיצאה מבין צפורניו ,בעת הרהורו באשת אדוניו כנודע .ונודע מ"ש בזהר בפרשת ויקרא דף י"ד ריש ע"ב ,כי הגר קשה לאעברא זוהמא מיניה ,אפילו עד תלתא דרי . ואח"כ כיון שר 'עקיבא היה בן גרים ,בהכרח שנאחזו בו החצונים בהיותו ע"ה כנזכר .וא"ל ,שלסבה היותי מגולגל מהם ,שלכן אירע לידי החטא ההוא ,שקשרו אותי ביום חתונתי בכניסתי לחופה ,עמדתי קשור ט ' חדשים רצופים ,ובהכרח היה שהוצאתי קרי לבטלה בזמן ההוא ,וזה נמשך לי להיותי מטפת זרע יוסף הצדיק ע"ה כנז"ל .ומסבת היות ר 'עקיבא בן גרים כנזכר ,דהא קשה לאעברא זוהמא מיניה .וגם טעם

אחר היה, כי הגאוה הגדולה שהיתה בי בהיותי בחור, אע"פ שלא היתה בגלוי לפני בני אדם, אלא
במחשבתי לבד ביני לבין עצמי, זה גרם לי החטא הנזכר, כנודע שעבירה גוררת עבירה:
וא"ל, כי אלו השני דברים הנזכרים שהם הקרי לבטלה בעת היותי קשור כנזכר, וגם ענין גאוה הגדולה
שהיתה לי בימי בחרותי, הם שני החטאות שיש לי עתה בגלגולי זה, והם החטאים היותר גדולים שיש לי
בכל ימי היי, ושלכך צריך אני עתה לתקנם. והוא, כנגד הגאוה צריך אני להתנהג בשפלות הרוח, עד קצה
האחרון. וכנגד קרי לבטלה, צריך אני להזהר שלא אשמש מטתי עד אחר חצות לילה, ושאשהא על הבטן
עד שיכלו כל טפות הזרע לגמרי ולא יצאו אח"כ לחוץ, ושלא אדבר עם אשתי דברים רבים בעת הזווג, ושאתענה פ"ד ימים רצופים, כנזכר אצלי בתקון העונות וע"ש. והם כנגד פ"ד שנים שנתעכב יעקב אבינו
ע"ה מטפת קרי, עד שנשא לאה והוליד לראובן:
גם א"ל, כי לסבה שהייתי בגלגול אחד מן הקודמים, בלתי מאמין הרבה בחכמת ספר הזהר, שצריך עתה
שאעסוק תמיד בכל יכולתי בחכמת הזוהר, ושזה הוא העיקר הגדול, שאני צריך לעשות עתה בגלגול זה.
גם א"ל, כי לסבה הנז"ל, צריך שלא אקשה קושיות רבות בזוהר, עד אשר אלמד עמו זמן ידוע אצלו,
ואח"כ יהיה לי רשות להקשות ולשאול, כל מה שאני רוצה לחקור ולידע בספר הזוהר. גם א"ל יש בידי
עתה ג"כ עון של הליצנות בגלגול זה:
אח"כ יום אחד א"ל, כי שלשה הגלגולים הנז"ל שקדמו אלי, היה ענשם מפני עונם לכשהוצרכו להתגלגל
מפני הסבות אלו אשר נזכיר, כי הרב מגיד משנה, נתגלגל עיקר גלגולו על שחטא בשוגג בעון נדה, וע"כ בא להתגלגל בי, לתקן עון של הנדה הנזכר, וע"כ בא אלי עון זה, כי בלילה הראשונה שנכנסתי לחופה,
לא פירשתי מאשתי בראותה דם בתולים בבעילה א', ואלו לא בא לידי עון זה, הייתי אני משלים שנותיו
של הרב המגיד, שלא מלא שנותיו ומת קודם זמנו, ומה שחסרו משנותיו הם מ"ד שנים, והייתי גם כן
מוסיף עליהם שנים יתירות. וכיון שבא לידי עון הנזכר עצמו, אע"פ שהוא דם בתולים, ואינו כ"כ עון,
ובפרט שהיה בשוגג, עכ"ז כיון שכל עיקר ביאתי בעולם היתה לכך ולא תקנתי, לכן אין לי אלא אלו מ"ד
שנים בלבד. וז"ס פסוק ויש נספה בלא משפט וגו' ח"ו, כי מספיק זה להכריע עון נדה הקודם, כיון שזו
היתה עיקר סבת ביאתי בעולם, אע"פ שזה החטא של עתה אינו חטא גמור. ואמר לי, שהיה אפשר
שבהמשך הזמן, היה אפשר שיתוקן זה ע"י תשובה. ואח"כ התעניתי שלשה ימים רצופים כמו שנכתוב
למטה, ואז א"ל שכבר נתבטלה הגזרה תלי"ת:
גם כן אירע דבר אחד אל הר"ב מגיד משנה, אשר גם עליה נתגלגל, אף על פי שעיקר גלגולו היה לסבת
עון הנדה כנז"ל, והוא שפעם אחד בא לידו דין אשת איש, והתירה לינשא, וטעה בדין, וא"ל הרב, כי גם
אני טעיתי קרוב לזה, כי בהיותי בחור, בא לפני מורי מהר"ם אלשיך נר"ו, דין אחד של אשת איש, והיינו
נושאים ונותנים יחד בדין זה, ואמרתי לו שדעתי נוטה להתירה, ואמר גם הוא שלזה דעתו נוטה, והתירה.
ויען אשר לא עיינתי היטב בדין ההוא טעיתי בו, וא"ל כי לא נזדמן אז הדין ההוא לפני, אלא לתקן עון
ההוא, ואז אלולי שעיינתי בו, לא הייתי טועה, והייתי מתקן מה שעבר, ושע"כ עתיד לחזור ולבא דין אחר
כיוצא בו לידי, שישאל ממני חכם אחד סברתי בדין ההוא, ואשיב לו האמת, ובזה יתוקן עון הנזכר, כי
לתקן פגם הדבור, וגם עתה בדבור בלבד, בדבור תליא מילתא, אלא לא היה במעשה אלא בדבור תליא מילתא:
וסבת גלגול הר' יהושע סורינו, נתגלגל לסבה אחת, שפעם אחת אכל חלב בידיעה ובמזיד ולא נזהר בו,
וא"ל כי לסבה זאת אני מתקן עתה מאד העון הנזכר, ונתן לי הסימן הזה, שאני יושב שתי שעות בנקור
הבשר, וכמעט שאני משליך כפלים כמוהו מן הבשר עם החלב, ושמכאן ואילך אזהר ג"כ שלא יכנס בפי כל ימי חיי שום בשר נקור, זולתי אם יהיה ע"י מומחה וחסיד. וא"ל ג"כ, כי קודם גלגול ר' יהושע סוריאנו, קדם לו ממש גלגול אחר, באיש אחד, שמו ר' שאול טרישטי, ונזדמן לו עון אחד והוא זה, כי הוא היה
מוהל, ומתחלה לא היה בקי, ומל ולד אחד, ומת מחמת המילה, והיה זה שוגג קרוב למזיד. ועון הנדה של
הרב המגיד הקודם זה, גרם שפיכות דמים שחטא ר' שאול טרישטי, ושתי עונות אלו גרמו עון חלב
במזיד, להר' יהושע סוריאנו, שנתגלגל בו ר' שאול הנזכר, מיד אחר שמת. ונמצא שהרב המגיד היה
שוגג, ואחריו ר' שאול שוגג קרוב למזיד, ור' יהושע אחריו מזיד גמור, כי עבירה גוררת עבירה, ונתן לי
סימן, כי עתה אני בגלגול הזה, אני נזהר מאד ומתרחק מהיות מוהל או שוחט, ואדרבא אינני יכול
להסתכל כאשר מוהלים, או כאשר שוחטים, ולפעמים אני נזהר אפילו מלהרוג פרעושים. ואחר רבי
יהושע, נתגלגל בבחור אחד, ושמו אברהם, ומת בן י"ג שנים בכרת על אכילת חלב, בגלגול ר' יהושע שהיה במזיד כנז"ל:

אח"כ ביום פסח שני י"ד לאייר ,הגיד לי הדברים יותר מבוארים וא"ל ,דע לך ,כי אע"פ שאמרו בס"ה ,כי
קין הוא זוהמת הנחש ,והבל הוא מסטרא דאדם .פי' הדברים הם כך ,כי ע"י חטאו של אדה"ר ,נתערב
טוב ברע ,ויצאו קין והבל ,שניהם מורכבים מטוב ורע ,אלא שקין רובו רע מזוהמת הנחש .והבל רובו טוב
מצד אדם ,ומעוטו רע מצד הנחש .אבל חלק קין הטוב ,הוא דבר גדול במאד מאד ,לסבה שהיה בכור , ולקח הבכורה של חלק הטוב ,כנזכר בזוהר פרשת בראשית דף ל"ו ע"ב ,בסוד ואתה תשופנו עקב .ואח"כ
התחיל קין להתקן בקינן ומהללאל כנזכר בזוהר פרשת תרומה ואח"כ כשיצאו יעקב ועשו ,היו בסוד הבל
וקין .וכשנולדו ,נולד יעקב וידו אוחזת בעקב עשו ,הוא אותו חלק הטוב של הבכורה ,שלקח עשו ,שהיה
הטוב של קין שנתערב עם הרע כנז"ל ,בסוד ואתה תשופנו עקב .וע"ש עקב ההוא שלקה ממנו ,נקרא
יעקב .ואח"כ כשהוליד יששכר ,הוריש לו אותו החלק הטוב שלקח מן עשו ,שהיה מן הטוב של קין .וז"ס
וישכב עמה בלילה הוא .כי הוא יעקב עצמו הנקרא כן ,על שם העקנ הנזכר ונתנו בלאה בסוד זווג ,ומשם
יצאה יששכר .וז"ש במדרש הנעלם של רות כי מן יששכר יצא ר' עקיבא ,שהוא העקב הנזכר .ואח"כ
נתגלגל בנדב ואביהוא ,כי הם תרי פלגי גופא ,כנזכר בזוהר פרשת אחרי מות .ואח"כ נתעברו בסוד עבור
בפינחס שהוא אליהו הנביא זלה"ה ,עד הזמן שהלך במערה ,כי אבדם ע"י מעשה דבת יפתח ,ונסתלקה
ממנו הנבואה .ואחר כך חזר ולקחם במערת הר חורב ,כנזכר בזוהר .ובאותו הזמן נסתלסו מאליהו ז"ל , נתגלגלו בסוד גלגול בשמואל הנביא ע"ה .וא"ל מורי ז"ל ,כי זהו הטעם שהראו לו בחלום ,שהיה מקומי
בעק"ב מקום שמואל הנביא ע"ה .ואח"כ חזרו ונתעברו באליהו ז"ל .ואח"כ חזרו ונתעברו באלישע הנביא
ז"ל .ואח"כ נתגלגלו בחזקיהו מלך יהודה ז"ל .ואח"כ נתגלגלו במתתיהו בן חשמונאי כ"ג .אח"כ נתגלגלו
בעקביא בן מהללאל .ואחר כך לריב"ז .ואח"כ בר' עקיבא בן יוסף ז"ל .ואח"כ ברב ייבא סבא דפרשת
משפטים .ואח"כ באביו ואח"כ בר' אחאי הנזכר בגמרא פריך ר' אחאי ז"ל ,ברב אחא משבחא גאון בעל השאלתות ,ואח"כ נתגלגל בר' דוסתאי גאון .ואח"כ בר' אהרן הלוי ,נכדו של ה"ר זרחיה הלוי בעל המאור , ואח"כ בדון וידאל די טולשא ,בעל מגיד משנה .ואח"כ בר' שאול טרישטי .ואח"כ בר' יהושע סוריאנו .
ואח"כ בבחור אחד שמו אברהם .ואח"כ בי אני הצעיר חיים:
אח"כ הגיד לי בארוכה ,הרבה אנשים שהם משרש נשמתי ,וכלם מבחינת הנפש שלי .ועוד יש אנשים
אחרים ,גם מבחי' נפשי ,ואלו הם הנזכרים בפה ,קין .קינן .יובל .מהללאל .יששכר .שלה בן יהודה .נדב

של שרש נפשי:
בענין השגתי ,שאל את נשמתי ,ואמרה לו שאתענה מ 'יום רצופים בשק ואפר ,ואחר כך אתענה בה"ב
תמיד ,עד תשלום שתי שנים ומחצה ,ואז אשיג השגה גמורה כמוהו ממש ,בלתי שום תערובת דסטרא
אחרא ,כמו שאירע לאחרים:
יום אחד חזר לשאול ,והשיבו לו שאתנהג חדש א 'שלם בשק ואפר ותענית ,ושאתנהג בשפלות ,ושלא
אתלוצץ בשום אדם ,וא"ל כי כל עיקר השגתי תלויה בשתי עניינים אלו הנז 'בפרטות ,שהם, השפלות , ושלא להתלוצץ:
יום אחד חזר לשאול ,והשיבו לו ,כי להשיג השגה אמיתית כמוהו ממש ,לא היה אפשר עד מלאת לי שתי
שנים ומחצה .אמנם אם בתוך הזמן הנזכר ,אתנהג בתשובה ,ובפרט שאתענה מ 'יום רצופים בשק ,ואישן
כל אלו הלילות בשק ,שאז יבא לי התעוררות רוח הקדש ,משלשה לשלשה חדשים בפתע פתאום ,ואחר
ב 'שנים ומחצה הנז ,'אשיג ממש כמוהו באמיתיות .וסבת קצבת שתי שנים ומחצה הוא ,כי ישבתי
בבחרותי שתי שנים ומחצה ,בלתי עסק בתורה ,ומעשים שלי לא היו אז רצויים כתקנם ,ולכן הייתי צריך
תשובה שתי שנים ומחצה אחרים ,כמספר הימים ההם ממש:
יום אחד חזר לשאול ,והשיבו לו ,שאתענה מ 'יום רצופים בשק ואפר ובכי ,ובפרט שאשכב כל אלו המ 'יום
בלילה על הקרקע לבוש שק ,גם אשים אבן אחת תחת ראשי ,ואכוון בשם הוי"ה העולה בגימטריא אב"ן , כזה ,יו"ד ה"ה וא"ו ה"ה .ואח"כ אתענה בה"ב בכל אלו ההנהגות הנז ,'עד תשלום שתי שנים ומחצה ,
ושאתנהג בכל הזמן הזה בענוה ושפלות גדול עד תכלית האחרון ,ושאזהר ג"כ עד תכלית מן הכעס ומן ההקפדות:
יום אחר חזר וא"ל ,שאזהר מאד ,כי כפי מה שהגידו לו ,הוא מוכרח שבהמשך הזמן הנזכר ,שתתערב
מחשבתי ,ולא ארצה לסבול עול התשובה כ"כ ,ולכן כיון שהבחירה תלויה בידי ,שאזהר ואתחזק בדבר
הזה במאד מאד:
יום אחד אמר לי ,כי אז בשבוע ההיא היה רואה רוח טהרה אחת שהיה מסבב אותי ,ושזה מורה כי
בהכרח אני צריך להשיג השגה גמורה ,ואע"פ שאני אדחה אותה ,יכריחוני מן השמים ,עד שאשיגה
בעהי"ת ,ושאשיג השגה גמורה אמיתית כמוהו:
יום אחד אמר לי ,כי כל זה שאני עתיד להשיג עתה ,הוא מחמת חשקי בו ,ושנשמתו הוא מסייעתני מאד , וכמעט שהוא מתעבר בי .וא"ל כי יש לי קורבה עמו ,ובפרט כי בפעם אחרת בגלגול אחר ,הייתי תלמידו
ג"כ כמו עתה ושאדבק עמו תמיד במחשבתי ,ויועיל לי מאד:
יום אחד א"ל ,שאזהר מאד לומר הללויה אודה ה 'בכל לבב וגו ,'ואח"כ אכוין בשם מנצפ"ך ,ואעשה כך
תמיד כשאקום בכל לילה אחר חצות ,כי מועיל מאד אל ההשגה:
גם א"ל ,שאזהר מאד לשים תמיד תפילין כסברת ר"ת ,שהם סוד צרוף שם יהה"ו ,היוצא מר"ת 'יתהלל
המתהלל 'השכל 'וידוע אותי וכו .'ולכן הנחת אלו התפילין מועיל מאד אל ההשגה ואל ההשכל והידיעה':
גם אמר לי ,כי עיקר ההשגה זו תלויה ע"י כונת האדם ,וזהירותו בכל ברכות הנהנין ,לפי שעל ידם
מתבטל כח אותם הקליפות הנמצאות במאכלות החומריות ,ומתדבקים באדם האוכלם ,וע"י הברכות
האלו הנאמרות בכוונה ,הוא מסיר מהם הקליפות ,ומזכך החומר שלו ,ונעשה שכלי וזך ,ושאזהר בו מאד:

גם צוה אותי, שאקרא בכל יום הקביעות של מקרא, ומשנה, ותלמוד, וקבלה, עם הכונות שמסר לי, ואזהר בו מאד, ככתוב בספרי:
גם החמיר לי מאד בענין השבת, לשמור ולכבד יותר מכל שאר המצות כלם:
יום א' הייתי לפניו, ונתעכבתי חדש ימים שלא עשיתי שום יחוד מן היחודים שסדר לי, והכיר בפרצופי, וא"ל אם תעזבני יום יומים אעזבך, ואתה גורם בזה נזק גדול, שתגרום שיתפרשו ממך הנשמות שרוצות להדבק בך, ונתתי לו טענה שלא הייתי רוצה אלא לעסוק בתורה באותו זמן, ובפרט שלא היו באים כפי הראוי אותם הנשמות בגלוי, והשיב לי שעכ"ז לא אמנע מלעשות היחודים ההם בכל יום, כי הוא גדול מעסק התורה, כי הוא מיחד העולמות העליונים, והוא עסק התורה ויחוד הכל יחד, והזהרני שכאשר אייחד היחודים, שלא תהיה כונתי בלבד להמשיך הנשמה, אלא לתקן למעלה:
גם א"ל כשהלכתי עמו לטבריא במערת ר' עקיבא, כי א"ל ר' עקיבא, שאזכור עשרה פעמים את ר' עקיבא זה אחר זה, קודם כל תפילה מן השלשה תפלות, ערב בקר וצהרים, וע"י זה יתעבר בי, וסייעני מאד. וא"ל שאין צורך לומר ר' עקיבא, אלא עקיבא בלבד:
גם אמר לי, כי עד חג הסוכות של שנת השל"ד ליצירה, אני צריך סיוע ממש, שהוא יעזרני בעת היחוד, אבל משם והלאה איני צריך לסיוע כלל, כי כבר אז נשלמים שתי שנים ומחצה שחטאתי בהם, שמנעתי עצמי מעסק התורה, וגם כי עד אז אפילו אם הוא מסייעני, הוא במקרה שהיא אפשר להיות בקביעות, אבל משם והלאה יהיה בעהי"ת בקביעות:
גם צוה אותי, שלא אמנע מלייחד היחודים שמסר לי, ושאם אלך להשתטח על קברי הצדיקים יהיה בערב ר"ח, או בט"ו יום לחדש, כי אז יש יותר הכנה מכל שאר הימים. ושלא אלך לא בשבת, ולא בי"ט, ולא בר"ח, כי אז נפשותם עולות למעלה ואינם מושבות על הקבר. ופעם אחד שלחני על קברי הצדיקים בחה"מ להתפלל עליהם, אבל לא נשתטחתי, וא"ל כי היחוד של היודי"ן והווי"ן של י"ג חוורתי דרישא, אייחד אותו יותר בקביעות משאר היחודים. ובליל החול יהיה אחר חצות לילה, כי אז הוא עת רצון. ובלילי שבת אייחד אותו אפילו קודם חצות, אחר סעודת בלילה. ובר"ח אייחד היחוד שהוא מיוסד על שם שד"י, כי יחוד זה הוא סוד ר"ח, כי שם שד"י במלואו הוא ראש חדש. ואפילו להשתטח על הצדיקים ביום ר"ח, הוא טוב היחוד הזה הנזכר של ר"ח. גם היחוד של פסוק חדשים לבקרים, הוא טוב לעשותו בלילי החול אהר חצות לילה, או בלילי שבת קודם חצות, כי בשני זמנים אלו מתפשטת לאה בכל אורך ז"א:
גם בלילי שבת קודם חצות, אייחד היחוד של עשרה הויו"ת שבדעת. גם צווני, שאקרא בכל ליל שבת אחר הסעודה וברכת המזון, קודם חצות, מסכת עירובין, בסוד הערוב, בסוד ע"ב רי"ו. ודע, כי עיקר כל אלו היחודים, הם או על קברי הצדיקים, או בכל חצות לילה אחר עבור חצות לילה, אפילו שלא על קברי הצדיקים יועיל, ואחר חצות לילה היא עת רצון, ואז היא שעה הנבחרת מכל השעות האחרות:
גם אמר לי, כי רב ייבא סבא ע"ה, הוא יותר קשור עם ר' יהושע סוריאנו, שאכל חלב כנז"ל, ואם אתקן זה יתקשר עמי רב ייבא סבא יותר מן השאר. וריב"ז קשור עם הרב מגיד משנה, על ענין הנדה. ור' עקיבא, קשור יותר עם ר' שאול טרשטי, על ענין שפיכות דם הנז"ל. וענין ר' עקיבא הוא, מחמת מה שנכשל גם הוא במת מצוה, שהרכיבו על כתפו כמה מלין, ואמרו לו חכמים, שעל כל פסיעה ופסיעה היה שופך דמים, ולכן הוא קשור עם ר' שאול. אבל בשנים האחרים, לא רצה לגלות, כיון שלא גלוהו רז"ל, אבל ענין ר' עקיבא כבר גלוהו רז"ל, ולכן יש לו רשות לגלותו:
גם א"ל, שראה כתוב במצחי, פסוק לחשוב מחשבות לעשות בזהב ובכסף וגו', לרמוז אל עון בטול זמן, שבטלתי בחכמת אל כימיי"א:
גם צוה לי, בענין הסרת הסכין מעל השלחן, להזהר מאד להסיר אותו לגמרי, ולא יספיק לכסותו בלבד, ובפרט אני שהוא משרש קין, שהוא סוד כלי זיי"ן:
גם א"ל, כי עתה בגלגול זה, אני מתקן את יובל, שהוא משרש נפשי, לוטש כל חורש נחשת וברזל מצד הגבורות, ואיני מתקן אותו כראוי, ולכן לפעמים כשהסכין בידי, אני חותך ידי ואצבעותי בלי מתכוין, או על ידי כל כלי ברזל. ואמר לי, כי בחינת יובל הוא בחי' קין אשר בפרצוף יעקב, כי גם הוא כולל קין והבל וכל השרשים, כמו ז"א הנקרא ישראל, הכולל קין והבל הראשונים, בני אדם הראשונים, ושהוא מוכרח לתקן את יובל הזה קודם ביאת המשיח, בסוד יובילו שי למורה וזה יובל נתעבר במרע"ה להתקן בו, כי גם במרע"ה יש בו קצת נצוצות של קין. וזה נרמז בר"ת, ויתעבר "ה" 'בי "למענכם, ר"ת יובל. וז"ש פסוק ועל יובל ישלח וברשיו, כי יש בו כל שרשי קין כמו שיש בז"א הנזכר, כי קין בחי' קין בז"א, ויובל הוא בחי' קין

בפרצוף העליון הנקרא יעקב כנודע ,ונמצא כי יובל זה התחיל להתקן ע"י מרע"ה ,ולכן נרמז בר"ת ויתעבר ה 'בי למענכם הנזכר:
גם פעם אחת הלכתי עם מורי ז"ל ,אל מקום שנתוועדו שם חבירי רשב"י ע"ה ,כשעשו אדרא רבא דנשא .
ושם במזרח הדרך ,יש בה סלע אחד ,ובו ב 'בקיעות גדולות ,ובאותה הבקיעה של צד צפון ,שם ישב הרשב"י ע"ה ,בזמן האדרא .ובבקיעה של צד דרום שם ישב ר 'אבא .ואצל האילן שכנגד שני בקיעות אלו במערב שלהם ,שם ישב ר 'אלעזר .ומורי זצ"ל ישב בבקיעה הצפונית ,במקום רשב"י ע"ה .ואני ישבתי בבקיעה הדרומית ,במקום ר 'אבא ,שלא בידיעה ,ואח"כ הגיד לי מורי ז"ל הענין ,ולא ידעתי אם ענין הנז"ל ,שאחד מחבירי האדרא הוא משרש נפשי ,והוא ר 'אבא .וע"כ ישבתי במקומו שלא בידיעה .וענין ישיבתנו בשתי בקיעות אלו הנז ,'אני מסופק אם הדבר היה להיפך מהנזכר:
א"ל כי בהיותי קטן ,קללתי פעם א 'את אמי ע"ה ,וצוה אותי להתענות ג 'ימים רצופים לילה ויום ,ולכוין שהם ע"ב שעות ,והוא כנגד תרין עיטרין דחו"ג דאו"א ,הגנוזים בג 'אבות חג"ת ,והם ע"ב כנודע ,כי שם ע"ב הוא בחג"ת .ולפי שגרמתי לסלק אלו התרין עיטרין מן הבן העליון לכן אכוין להחזירם אליו ע"י אלו העב"ש שעות ,שיש בג 'תעניות אלו .וא"ל שאתענה אלו השלשה ימים הנז 'שלשה ימים ,קודם יום שבועות ,ואכוין ג"כ בסוד פסוק היו נכונים .לשלשת ימים ,כי אז פסקה זוהמתן של ישראל ,ועל ידי התענית הזה יפסק ג"כ ממני זוהמת החומר אשר בי ,כדי לקבל כח ידיעת סודות התורה בליל שבועות .ובליל שבועות למדתי עמו כל אותה הלילה בסודות התורה .ולא ישנתי כלל כל אותה הלילה .וגם עמו א"ל ,כי אלו השלשה התעניות ,יועילו לבטל גזרת המ"ד שנים שחסרו מהרב מגיד משנה כנז"ל וע"ש:
יום אחד בשבוע ששי של ספירת העומר ,א"ל שאכוין בשבוע ההיא ,שהוא כנגד יסוד כנודע ,ושאכוין בו לתקן פגם שפגמתי בו ,בהיותי נקשר בחופתי כנז"ל:
יום אחד הייתי בתעניתי ,בכיתי מאד ,והרביתי דברים לפני השי"ת ,לומר שלמה היה מונע ממני דרכי התשובה ,ולא היה משים בלב מורי ז"ל שילמדני כרצוני ,והרבה דברים כאלה ,והלכתי לביתו והכיר הענין בפרצופי ,וא"ל ,כי באותה שעה רצו להענישני בב"ד של מעלה ,על שהטחתי דברים כלפי מעלה לולי שנזדמן לי סניגור אחד עלי ,לומר שמחשבתי היתה לטובה .וא"ל ,שאזהר מלדבר פעם אחרת דברים אלה ,כי יותר ממה שהעגל רוצה לינק פרה רוצה להניק ,אלא שיש זמן קצוב לכל דבר ,כנזכר בפסוק עת לכל זמן ועת לכל חפץ ,ואיך הייתי אומר ח"ו שהקב"ה היה מונע ממני דרכי התשובה ואדרבא מי היה גורם ומכניס בלבי כל זה התעוררות של התשובה ,לולי השי"ת ברחמיו קרובים על בריותיו ,וא"ל כי מה שמנע ממני עד אז ,להגיד לי רצוני ,היה סבת זמן קצוב ,ואז באותו היום נשלם הזמן ,ושמהיום ההוא ואילך לא יסתיר ממני כל אשר אשאל ממנו ,וכן עשה מאז והלאה:
גם א"ל ,כי בגלגול הקודם קיימתי מצות שחיטה ,ועתה ,בגלגול הזה הזהרני במאד מאד ,שלא אשחוט כלל ועיקר ,ולא עוד שלא שהזהרני ג"כ ,שלא להמית שום בריה ,אפילו כינים ופרעושים כלל ועיקר:
גם מורי ז"ל ,לא היה הורג פרעושים וכינים ,ושום רמש חי כלל ועיקר ,וא"ל שלהיות שרש נפשי מן קין ,שהרג את הבל ,וגם מפני ר 'שאול טרישטי שנתגלגל עמי ממש ,על עון שפיכות דם כשמל התנוק כנז"ל ,ומת מתחת ידו ,שצריך שאזהר שלא להמית שום דבר חי בעולם ,וגם שלא לשחוט כלל .וא"ל ,כי יען אשר אני נצוץ חדש ,שעל כן מוכרח אני לקיים מצות פריה ורביה כי עדיין לא קימתיה .ואמר לי כי המצות אשר אני הסר מהם הם י"א בלבד ,אע"פ שאני חדש .ואחר שאשלים אותם ,אז צריך שאקיים מצות שלוח הקן ,אע"פ שכבר קיימתיה בגלגול אחר .וזו המצוה ,היא תקון אחרון שבכל התקונים שאני צריך לתקן .וכונת הענין ,להורות על שלוח הנפש ,שכבר נגמרה להתקן ,על האחד עשר מצות הנז .'ואז יבא הרוח לבדו ,ויתוקן גם הוא .ואחר שיתוקן גם הוא ,אז תבא גם הנפש שכבר היא מתוקנת ,ותהיה אז כסא אל הרוח המתוקן .והבן ענין זה מאד וזכרהו ,כי זה שרש גדול ,ואל תשכחהו .וא"ל ,כי אלו הי"א מצות הם מאותם שאינם מצויות בתכלית ההרחק ,וא"ל כי אחת מהם היא מצות זרוע לחיים וקיבה:
ופעם אחרת ביאר לי הענין היטב וא"ל ,כי הנה יש מצות עשה ולא תעשה זכרים ,ומצות עשה ולא תעשה נקבות .והנה אין לך אבר מכל רמ"ח איברים שיש באדה"ר ,שלא יהיה כלול ,מן בשר וגידים ועצמות .והנה הבשר והעצמות ,הם מצות עשה וגידים ,הם מצות לא תעשה .והנה שרש נפשי ,היא באבר כתף השמאלי של אדה"ר ,מבחי 'לאה אשר עומדת שם מאחוריו .והמצות עשה אשר באבר הזה ,הם י"א ,כמנין ו"ה ,ב 'אותיות אחרונות של ההוי"ה ,והם במספר כתף ,באופן זה ,וי"ו פעמים ה"י ,בגימטריא ש"ל .ו"ו פעמים ה"י ,בגימטריא ק"ף .הרי תק"י ,תסיר י"א כמנין ו"ה ,ישאר ת"ק כמנין כתף:

והמצות ל"ת, הם ט"ו, כמנין ב 'אותיות י"ה הראשונות של ההוי"ה, וכמ"ש חז"ל י"ה עם שמי שס"ה, ו"ה עם זכר"י רמ"ח. וגם הם בגימטריא כת"ף, באופן זה, יו"ד פעמים ה"י, הם בגימטריא ש. 'יו"ד פעמים ה"ה הם בגימטריא ר. 'הרי ת"ק, כמנין כת"ף. והנה העשרה הרמוזים באות י, 'הם עשר מל"ת זכרים.
והחמשה הרמוזים באות ה 'ראשונה, הם חמש מצות לא תעשה נקבות. והששה הרמוזים באות ו, 'הם ששש מצות עשה זכרים. וחמשה הרמוזים באות ה 'אחרונה, הם חמש מצות נקבות. והנה העור שיש באבר הזה של הכתף, בו נרמזו כל ההארות אשר יש בפנים באבר הזה:
וא"ל מורי ז"ל, כי בחטאו של קין, ירדה נפשי עד העקב, ואבא מארי ז"ל כשהוליד אותי, העלה אותה עד מקום הטבור, ואני צריך עתה לתקנה, ולהעלותה עד מקומה לגמרי. ואמנם העשרה מצות לא תעשה הזכרים, לא קבלתי אותם ממורי ז"ל. אבל החמשה מצות לא תעשה הנקבות, הם אלו, אחת לא תרצח, ובכללה שלא להלבין פני חבירו ברבים. ב, 'לא תגנובו ממון. שלישית, לא תבשל גדי בחלב אמו. רביעית לא תאכל חלב. חמשית לא תאכל דם. וששה מצות עשה הזכרים, הם אלו, אחת, וחי אחיך עמך, והיא קרובה ממש אל מצות הצדקה, והיא לבקש המצאה אל אחיך, שיוכל לחיות עמך כנודע. ב, 'לאכול מעשר שני בירושלם. שלישית ועשית מעקה לגגך. ד 'מצות פריה ורביה חמישית, למול את הבן, ובפרט בנו ממש. ששית, ואהבת לרעך כמוך. וחמש מצות עשה הנקבות, ואלו הם, אחת, ההלואה לעני, וסימניך אם כסף תלוה את עמי, אל תקרי אם בחיריק, אלא אם בצרי. שתים, מצות ציצית, וגם בכללה ליתנה על הכתף, לפי ששרשו הוא מן הכתף. שלישית, מצות שלוח הקן, וסימניך שלח תשלח את האם. רביעית, שמטה בשביעית, חמישית, לזכור יציאת מצרים:
גם הזהיר מורי ז"ל לי, ולכל החברים שהיינו עמו בחברה ההיא, שקודם תפלת שחרית, נקבל עלינו מ"ע של ואהבת לרעך כמוך, ויכוין לאהוב לכל אחד מישראל כנפשו, כי עי"ז תעלה תפלתו כלולה מכל ישראל, ותוכל לעלות ולעשות תקון למעלה. ובפרט אהבת החברים שלנו, צריך כל אחד ואחד ממנו לכלול עצמו כאלו הוא אבר אחד מן החברים האלו. ולמאד הזהירני מורי ז"ל בענין זה, ואם איזה חבר ח"ו שעומד בצרה, או יש לו איזה חולה בביתו, או בבניו, ישתתף בצערו, ויתפלל עליו, וכן בכל דבריו ישתתף לכל חבריו עמו:
גם עשיתי תקון תעניתי ע"י מורי ז"ל, על עון שאירע לי בימי חופתי, אחר שנקשרתי והזרעתי לבטלה. ועל עון כבוד אב ואם. ועל יין נסך ששתיתי עם ישראל אחד שנשתמד, והטעה אותי, וא"ל שהיה אז בא לעיר צפת תוב"ב, לחזור לדת ישראל, ולא היה אלא לפנים, ואח"כ חזר לסורו הרע, ועל עון הגאוה, ועל הליצנות, ועל שפיכת דם כנז"ל שידעת ועל בטול ק"ש ותפילין:
גם א"ל מורי ז"ל, כי לפי שאני משרש קין, שהוא סוד הגבורות הנקרא אש, לכן אני מתפעל מאד, ומתבהל מאד מראיית המים, כי האש בהכנסה תוך המים, נכבה ומתבטלת, וגם לפי שהמזיקין יצאו מתולדת קין כנודע, לכן אני מתפחד מאד מן המזיקין:
גם א"ל, כי קין הוא בסוד ציור ומעשה. והבל הוא הבל העליון של הפה, שהוא דבור. ולכן שרשו של הבל, הם דרשנים ודברנים. אבל אני להיותי מן קין, אינו דברן ובעל דברים, ואין לי כ"כ כח הדבור, כמו שיש לי כח בציור מלאכות המעשיות. גם בענין המשניות שאני מחוייב לגרסם על פה, א"ל מורי ז"ל, שהם סדר נשים, ושאר הסדרים איני מחוייב:
גם א"ל, כי הימים הנכונים להתענות אני בהם שני ימים רצופים, הם יום שלישי ויום רביעי בשבוע, כפי שרש נשמתי:
גם א"ל, כי אין לך אדם שאין לו יום אחד קבוע בשבוע, ויום אחד קבוע בחדש, שהוא יום יפה לו לכל דבריו, כי מזלו תלוי באותו יום, כפי שרש נשמתו. ובאותו יום אין לו פחד משום דבר רע ופגע רע, ולא ימות באותו יום. וז"ס ושוב יום אחד לפני מיתתך, כי באותו יום אין פחד שימות בו, ולכן שוב בתשובה באותו יום. כי משם ואילך יש פחד בשאר הימים. וא"ל, כי היום הנכון לי, שהוא כפי שרש נשמתי בכל שבוע, הוא יום שני בשבוע. והיום הנכון לי בחדש, שהיא כפי שרש נשמתי, הוא יום י"ג בהדש:
גם א"ל כונה אחרת בקדושה, וא"ל, כי אעפ"י שכל אדם צריך לכוין בה, אני צריך לה יותר משאר כל אדם, והוא, כי הנה שלשה קדושות הם, א 'קדושת שחרית דעמידה, והיא נקדישך ונעריצך. ב 'קדושת מנחה דעמידה, והיא נקדישך ונעריצך. ג 'קדושת ובא לציון, שאנו אומרים בליל מ"ש אחר העמידה. וכבר ידעת כונת הקדושה, שהוא דלוג עליית מלכות למעלה ממקומה, לקבל דעת, כי דעתה קלה, וז"ס הדלוג שאנו מדלגים כשאנו אומרים ג"כ קדוש ק"ק, כנזכר בפרקי היכלות. וכבר ידעת, כי בכל עליה היא ע"י שם בן

מ"ב, ולכן צריך שתכוין בקדושת העמידה דמנחה דחול, בשני אותיות ראשונות של אבגית"ץ. ובקדושת העמידה דשחרית דחול, תכוין בשתי אותיות ג"י האמצעיות. ובקדושת ובא לציון דמ"ש, תכוין בשתי אותיות ת"ץ האחרונות. כי שם זה הא', הוא כולל כל שם בן מ"ב, והוא עיקרו של שם בן מ"ב, לפי שהוא בסוד ספירת החסד המתפשט בכלם כנודע, ולכן כל הכונות הם בשם זה בלבד:

פעם אחת שאלתי למורי ז"ל בע"ש, על השגת נשמתי. וא"ל פסוק זה, ולמן חמדת כל ישראל הלא לך. וחיליתי פניו שיבאר לי דבריו, ולא רצה לבאר יותר מזה, ואמרתי לו אם היה פי' דבריו, שאני משרש שאול המלך, שעליו נאמר הפסוק הזה, והשיב לי שלא היה רצונו לפרש ולבאר כונת דבריו:

פעם אחרת חזרתי לשאול לו על ענין נשמתי, ואמר לי שהייתי יכול להשיג יותר מן המלאכים, מצד גודל ערך נשמתי, ושביאת נשמתי לעולם היתה לצורך גדול בעולם, ושלא היה בידו ורשותו לבאר יותר מזה, כי לא ניתן לו רשות. ושאם היה מגלה לי הענין, שהייתי כמעט פורח באויר מרוב השמחה על הענין, אלא שלא ניתן רשות לאמרו אז:

גם מהר"י ארזי"ן ז"ל הגיד לי, כי ליל אחת של שבת, הלך לבית מורי ז"ל בחצות לילה, מרוב הקנאה שעלה בלבו לומר, למה הוא גדול בשנים יותר ממני, והיה משועבד לי לשמוע הדרוש ממני, והלך לבכות לפני מורי ז"ל אז על הדבר ההוא, והשיב לו, כי הוא ז"ל לא בא לעולם אלא ללמד אותי בלבד ושכל שאר החברים לא היו יכולים ללמוד אפילו אות אחת ממנו, אלא כלם היו צריכים ללמוד עמי. וגם ענין זה אני שמעתי מפי מורי ז"ל. גם שאל ממנו, שכיון שהיו אנשים גדולים משרש נפשו, שא"כ איך ישתעבד לי, והשיב לו שאין הדבר תלוי בזה אלא בנפש האדם עצמו, שתהיה היא ממקום גבוה:

גם הר"י באגילייר יצ"ו אמר לי, כי מורי ז"ל הגיד לו, על ענין קורבתו של מורי ז"ל עמי, שהטעם היה כי שלשה אותיות אב"י, נרמזו בשם עקיבא, ושהם ממטה למעלה. ולא רצה לבאר לי יותר מזה, וגם אמר לי, כי עלי נאמר, מה שהיה הוא שיהיה, ר"ת משה. והענין הוא, כי כמו שר' עקיבא למד תורה לכ"ד אלף תלמידיו ולכל העולם, שכן אהיה אני עתה בעהי"ת:

פעם אחת הייתי יושב לפני מורי ז"ל אחר סעודת המנחה של שבת, והייתי מפציר בו, שיבאר לי בענין השגתי, ובענין שרש נפשי, ובתוך הדברים א"ל פסוק זה אם "ללצים "הוא "יליץ "ולענוים "יתן "חן, והפצרתי בו שיבארהו לי, והשיב לי, כי הנה ר"ת פסוק זה הוא, אליהו חי, והענין הוא, מ"ש ברע"מ, כי, כמ"ש והוא יהיה לך לפה, לפי שמשה היה משה רבן של כל ישראל, והמתורגמן שלו הוא אהרן הכהן, כבד פה וכבד לשון, ולעתיד לבא בדורו של משיח, יבוא מרע"ה בגלגול, וילמד תורה לכל ישראל, וגם יהיה הוא ערל שפתים, והמתורגמן שלו יהיה אליהו הנביא ז"ל, שהוא חי וקים, והוא פינחס בן אלעזר בן אהרן הכהן, אחיו של מרע"ה. וזש"ה, אם ללצים הוא יליץ ולענוים יתן חן, ר"ל אם ללצים, כי כשיצטרך מרע"ה מליץ ומתורגמן, הנה אליהו ז"ל שהוא חי יליץ, ויהיה מתורגמן שלו, ולא רצה לבאר לי יותר, איך לקשר ענין זה עם הויכוח הראשון שהיינו מווכחים יחד:

יום אחד א"ל, כי א"ל אז בתפלתו, כי אני עתיד לראות מלאך אחד פנים בפנים ולדבר עמי, והפצרתי בו, כי אמר לי מה שמו, ואמר לי שהוא אליהו ז"ל:

יום אחד א"ל, כי אז התחיל חלק הרוח שלי להתנוצץ בי, דרך תוספת נשמה בכל ע"ש במקרה, עד יעברו שני שנים ומחצה הנז"ל, שהם מתחילים מן ר"ח אייר השל"א, עד ר"ח תשרי השל"ד, ואח"כ אקנה חלק הרוח ההוא בשלימות, ואז אשיג השגה גמורה בע"ה כנז"ל. והטעם הוא, כי הנפש אין בה יכולת רק לקיום המצות במעשה, אמנם להשלים חלק השגת ידיעת התורה, והשגת רוח הקדש, צריך בחי' חלק הרוח, ונמצא כי ענין השגתי תלויה עד שאקנה חלק הרוח שלי בקביעות ובשלימות בעהי"ת. וא"ל, כי זה הנצוץ של חלק הרוח שלי, שהוא בא ג"כ משותף עם נצוץ רוחו של ר' עקיבא, ומתלבש בו. והטעם לזה, לפי שכמו שנפשי היא ג"כ משותפת דרך גלגול ממש, עם נפש ר' עקיבא, כמו שיתבאר למטה, כן חלק רוחי, אינו בא אלא משותף ממש ברוחו של ר' עקיבא. וכאשר אקנה רוחי בשלימות, יהיה ג"כ רוחו של ר' עקיבא משותף עמי. ונמצא כי אני צריך תחלה להשלים את נפשי בשתי שנים ומחצה הנזכר. ואחר תשלומה לגמרי, אז אזכה אל הרוח שלי, וגם יבא משותף עם רוחו של ר' עקיבא, כי אין הרוח יכול ליכנס באדם, עד תשלום תקון הנפש לגמרי, אם לא בדרך מקרה בתוספת בע"ש, וגם לזה צריך תשובה ומעשים טובים. וא"ל, כי אין מי שיהיה עמי בסוד גלגול ממש מכל אותם שהם מן השרש שלי, רק ר' עקיבא לבדו, כי הוא ממש עמדי בסוד גלגול ממש, אך האחרים של שרום נשמתי אם יתדבקו עמי, הוא בסוד עבור לבד, ולא בסוד גלגול:

ופעם אחרת א"ל ,כי גם כל אותם הנשמות נצוצות של אותם האנשים ,שהם מן תחלת הדרגת נפש ר '
עקיבא ,עד אני הצעיר חיים ,כי כלם הם מגולגלים בי בגלגול גמור ,ומשותפים עם נפשי בגלגול הזה , ואפשר שאם אזכה יותר ,יתערבו בי גם מן אותם אשר הם קודמים אל ר 'עקיבא ,כמו ריב"ז וכיוצא בו , בסוד עבור בלבד .וטעם הדבר הוא ,לפי שאין בכל הנצוצות של השרש הזה ,כ"כ קרוב אל נצוץ נפשי , כמו נצוץ נפש ר 'עקיבא ,כי נצוץ נפשי קרובה וסמוכה אליו יותר מכלם ,ולכן הוא מתגלגל עמי יותר מכל
שאר הנצוצות .וכמו שנצוץ נפש ר 'עקיבא ,עלה באותה המדרגה הנקראת מחשבה ,גם אני אוכל לעלות
כפי מעשי במעלה גדולה עד מאד ,יותר מכמה נצוצות אשר קדמו אלי .וא"ל ,כי נפשי ונפש ר 'עקיבא ,הם
סמוכות יחד בשרש הנפשות .אמנם ר 'עקיבא לא היתה לו אלא מצד קין ,בבחי 'נפש בלבד ,כי הרוח שלו
מבחי 'קין גם כן אשר היתה ראויה אל הנפש ההיא שלו ,לא לקחה אז ,אמנם לקח רוח אחרת משרש
הבל או אדם .וגם אני יש ל 'מזומנות ב 'בחי 'של הרוח ,אחת היא בחי 'הרוח הראויה אל נפשי ,שהיא
משרש קין .והב ,'בחי 'רוח משרש אחר .כמו שביארנו ,כי ע"י חטאו של אדה"ר נתערבו הנשמות ,בחי '
רוח מן שרש הבל ,עם בחי 'נפש משרש קין ,וכן להפך .ובחינת רוח משרש אדם ברוח של קין או של
הבל ,וכן להפך .והנה בחי 'הרוח אשר לי מצד קין ,הוא גדול במאד מאד מן הרוח אשר לי מצד הערוב
כנזכר ,ואם אזכה אקח את הרוח הזה אשר נוגע לי מצד קין .וכן עד"ז הוא בנשמה .וא"ל ,כי אחר הנצוץ
של ר 'עקיבא ,אין קרוב אלי יותר מנצוץ אביי ,לפי שאביי זכה ליקח נר"ן כלם מן השרש שלי ,שהם מבחי '
קין ,משא"כ באחרים כנז"ל .וא"ל ,כי אביי הוא רב ייבא סבא עצמו הנזכר בזוהר דמשפטים ,ואביי נרמז
בר"ת פסוק "אך "בי "ישוב "יהפוך ,ר"ת אביי .ואמר יהפוך ר"ל אל הפוך ,ייבא לאביי ,וזהו יהפוך .ושאלתי למורי ז"ל שיבאר לי סבת הפוך זה מה עניינו ,ולא רצה לבאר לי:
יום אחד אמר לי ,כי שרש נפשי ,היא טפת זרע יוסף שיצאה מבין צפרניו ,מאותם העשר טפות כנודע:
גם א"ל ,כי הנפש היתירה שבאה לי בסוד תוספת שבת ,היא גבוה ומעולה מאד ,וכמעט שהיא מבחינת
רק פעם אחת או שתים ,' ,כי אז עדיין לא זכיתי לנפש יתירה הנז ,וא"ל אותו היום .האצילות:
בענין נפשי א"ל ,כי הנה כאשר חטא קין ,היו אז כל הנצוצות של זה השרש ,כלם כלולים בו ,כלם ממנו , עד הנצוצות שיהיו עד ביאת המשיח ,וגם נצוץ נפשי היתה כלולה בו ,וע"י חטאו נתערבו כל הנצוצות
בקליפות ,וכל הנצוצות המעולות והחשובות ירדו למטה מכל השאר בעמקי הקליפות ,לפי שעון קין היתה
במחשבה העליונה ,כנזכר בתקונין .והנה ר 'עקיבא מקומו הוא בזרועות ,בסוד וידו אוחזת בעקב עשו
כמבואר לעיל ,כי הוא העקב של היד השמאלי של ז"א ,והנה היד לפעמים האדם משפיל אותה עד העקב ,
ולפעמים יכול להעלותה עד הראש .ולכן נפלו זרועות אלו עד העקב ,ואח"כ ע"י שנהרג ר 'עקיבא ,נתעלה
ועלה עד המחשבה העליונה .וכמ"ש הקב"ה למשה כך עלה במחשבה ,כדי לתקן מה שפגם .וא"ל ,כי גם
אני וכל הדומים אלי ,נוכל לעלות ע"י מעשינו ,להיותינו מבחי 'הזרועות ,לעלות במעלה רמה ונשאה עד
אין קץ ,יותר מכמה אנשים הקודמים אלינו בזמנים הראשונים .ואמנם מקום נצוץ נפשי ,הוא בכתפות
שבזרועות ,ונתן לי סימן בזה ,כי יש לי שם שערות ארוכות ,ונמצא שאני כלול מחו"ג ,להיותי בסוד
הכתפים .והנה עדיין הנצוץ הפרטי של נפשי לא נתגלגל ,ולא בא עדיין בעולם הוא לבדו אלא עתה ,
ובערך זה אני חדש .אבל בערך שיצאתי כלול בנפש קין כנז ,'אני צריך להשלים נר"ן שלי שנפגמו ,בהיותי
שם מחמת חטאו של קין ,וצריך אני להשלים חלקי אשר שם ,והנה נצוץ נפשי ,קרוב וסמוך אל נצוץ נפש
ר 'עקיבא ,יותר מכל השאר ,ולכן הוא מתגלגל עמי יותר מכל השאר:
אמר לי מורי זלה"ה ,כי שלשה הם שטעו בקץ ,יעקב כשקרא לבניו ונעלם ממנו הקץ .וכן ר 'עקיבא יש בו
אותיות יעקב ,לרמוז כי טעותם וטעה וחשב שבן כוזיבא היה משיח .וכן שמואל טעה בענין אליאב ,שחשב
שממנו יצא משיח ,וכמש"ה)שמואל א ט״ז:ו׳ (אך נגד ה 'משיחו .ולכן שלשתם נתגלגלו לתקן טעות זה:
אמר לי מורי ז"ל ,כי נפשו של ר 'עקיבא אינה כשאר נפשות הגרים ,הנעשת מזיווג נשמות הצדיקים בגן
עדן הארץ ,כנזכר בפרשת שלח לך ,אבל היא נפש גבוהה מאד ,אלא שבחטאו של אדם ושל קין ,יצאה
אל החיצונים ,והוכרחה ליכנס בגוף גר ,והנה היא באה מלובשת בתוך נפש אחרת ,הנקרא נפש הגר , הנזכר בסבא דמשפטים .ואותה נפש הגר גרמה לו להיותו ע"ה מ 'שנה ,בסוד קשים גרים לישראל
כספחת והבן זה .וכן היה בריב"ז ,שהיה ע"ה מ 'שנה .והטעם היה ,לפי ששרש הנפש שלהם היתה
מטפת זרע יוסף כנזכר .ולכן גם אני באתי לידי הטא הנז"ל ,בהיותי נקשר ונאסר ט 'חדשים כנז"ל:
גם א"ל ,כי ריב"ז ור 'עקיבא ,היו ב 'זרועות ימין ושמאל של מרע"ה ,מעורבים בקין ,וכן היו שלשתם שוים
בשנים ,כל אחד חי ק"כ שנה ,ולכן רצה מרע"ה שתנתן התורה ע"י ר 'עקיבא ,כנזכר שם באותיות דר '

עקיבא .וגם מרע"ה הכה לעוג מלך הבשן ,ובו היה אז מעורב נצוץ ר 'שמעון בן נתנאל ר"ת בש"ן ,וזהו עוג מלך הבשן .ולכן היה מרע"ה מתיירא ממנו מן עוג להמיתו ,מפני אותו נצוץ של קדושה שהיה ירא חטא שהיה בו ,ואח"כ היה הנצוץ ההוא תלמידו של ריב"ז:

ערב שבת במנחה ,ראה כתוב במצחי בלשון הזה ,הכינו כסא לחזקיהו מלך יהודה ,להורות שנגלה בי נפשו ,בסוד תוספת שבת .ואחר כך באיתן יום עצמו ,נתכעסתי בביתי ,ונסתלק ממני .ואח"כ עשיתי תשובה באותו השבוע ,ובע"ש השני ראה מורי ז"ל ,שהיו נדבקים בי בסוד תוספת שבת ,רוחו של חזקיה , ורוחו של ר 'עקיבא ,וחזרתי להתכעס באותו יום בביתי ,וא"ל שנסתלקו .ואח"כ בו ביום עשיתי תשובה לכל הכעס ההוא ,וא"ל כי בא אלי רוחו של בן עזאי בלבד ,אע"פ שאינו מן השרש שלי ,וזה לפי שהיה חתנו של ר 'עקיבא ,וא"ל כי בבקר ע"ש ראה כתוב עקיבה בהא:

יום שבת אחד עיינתי שני פסוקים ע"ד האמת ,וא"ל מורי ז"ל בבקר ביום השבת ,שראה לבן עזאי שהיה נותן לי ב 'מתנות טובות ,ושאומר מה חדוש חדשתי ביום השבת ההוא ,וספרתי לו ,וא"ל לפי שבאותה הלילה של ליל שבת ,עלה בדעתי פתאום וקריתי משנה אחת של בן עזאי ,שלשה או ארבעה פעמים , שלכך הוא נתן לי אותם ב 'מתנות הנז .'ובימי החול של אותה השבוע א"ל ,שהיה רואה בי שהיה בי תוספת רוח מצד רוחו של אביי כנז 'בזוהר בפרשת צו שהת"ח יש לו תוספת רוח בחול ,כמו שיש לע"ה בשבת:

ביום שבת אחר א"ל ,כי ראה כתוב במצחי שם הוי"ה מאירה מאד ,וזה להורות כי שם ה 'נקרא עלי .וא"ל , כי גם כל נצוצות שיש בשרש נפשי מן חזקיהו עד נפשי ,כלם באו בי בסוד תוספת שבת ההוא ,אפילו פנימיות רוחו של חזקיהו ע"ה בא אלי אז:

ביום ר"ח תמוז א"ל ,כי ראה את נפש רב דימי מנהרדעא ,שהיתה מוכנת להתעבר בי ,לפי שהיא משרש נפשי .וגם לפי שביום ההוא לויתי מת מצוה אחד ,ורב דימי היתה המצוה הזאת תדירית בידו ,לעשות מצוה לויה אל האורחים ואל המתים ,וע"כ היה רוצה להתעבר בי ,וא"ל כי חזקיהו המלך לא מלא שנותיו , ואע"פ שהוסיפו לו ט"ו שנים ,משלו הוסיפו לו ,ועדיין חסרו לו שנים אחרות ,ושאר שנותיו השלימום רב דימי הנזכר ,כי הוא היה גלגול חזקיה המלך עצמו ,בלתי שום ערוב נצוץ אחר עמו ,אלא הוא לבדו .וז"ש חזקיהו ,אני אמרתי בדמ"י ימי וגו ,'פוקדתי יתר שנותי וגו ,'כי ברב דימי היו שאר שנותיו ושאר ימיו .ואני חיים ראיתי ,ששלח לי רבא ע"ה האמורא שלום ב 'פעמים ,אחת בתוך תפלתי ,ואחת בחלום .וא"ל מורי זלה"ה ,כי רצה רבא ע"ה לעשות שלום עם רב דימי המתלוה עמי ,על שהיה עמו בקטטה ,ממה שעשה לו תלמידו רב אדא בר אהבה ,על ענין הגרוגרות שהביא רב דימי בספינה כנזכר בתלמוד:

יום שבת אחד ,נגלה בי רב משרשיא ,וא"ל מורי ז"ל ,כי ז"ס תוספת שבת גמור מצד שרש נפשי .והענין הוא ,כי שם זה הוא מבחינת או"א הנקראים י"ה ,ונודע כי מזה הוא תוספת שבת ,ושאר אותיות הוא משרש ,והנה הב 'שינין ,הם ב 'שמות מצפ"ץ ,שכל אחד מהם עולה בגימטריא ש ',והם ב 'אותיות של תוספת שבת הנזכר בר"מ בפרשת יתרו מן אותם הז 'שמות הכתובים שם ,נשארו ב 'אותיות מ"ר ,והם בגימטריא שאר החמשה שמות הנז ',שהם ,ה ,'ה ,'אלהי"ם ,א"ל ,אדנ"י ,הנזכר שם ,שהם בגימטריא רל"ד ,ושבעה השמות עצמם הרי הם רמ"א .נמצא כי שם זה הוא תוספת שבת של שרש נפשי ,והוא כללות ז 'שמות השבת ,ומקורם שהוא שם י"ה:

וא"ל מורי ז"ל ,כי חזקיהו המלך ,הוא בחי 'הראש של זה השרש של קין ,ויען שהיה קין תלוי ברפיון בימי המבול ,כמ"ש חז"ל נתקן ונתחזק ע"י חזקיהו. ומשם התחיל להתחזק בחי 'הראש .וזהו חזקיהו ,חזק י"ה . וזש"ה ,אמרתי לא אראה י"ה בארץ החיים ,כי הנה הוא בא לחזק בחי 'הראש של זה השרש שהוא י"ה , כנודע ששם זה הוא בראש .והוא חשב תחלה ,שעדיין לא נתקן ונשלם בחי 'הראש של קין להשתלם בזה רב משרשיא ,כי יש בו אותיות שר"ש י"ה ,כי השורש הוא בראש ,וגם שם הוא שם י"ה .ונמצא כי חזקיה המלך ,ורב משרשי"ה ,שניהם בראש קין .ואמנם ביחזקאל הנביא ,נתחזק קין בבחינת הרגלים ,וז"ס בן אדם עמוד על רגליך ,כי היה בחינת בן אדה"ר ,וא"ל שיעמוד על רגליו ,ויחזקם ויתקנם ,כי משם נמשך , ולכן נקרא יחזקאל ,לשון חוזק .והנה שמעון בן עזאי ושמעון בן זומא הם ב 'שיני"ן שהם ממשרשי"ה ולכן נשא בן עזאי בתו של ר"ע ,כי אע"פ ששנים אלו אינם משרשי כנז"ל ,עכ"ז יש להם קורבה גדולה עם שרשי ,וכן אירע לאליהו הנביא ז"ל שנתעברו בו נשמת נדב ואביהו ,שהם מן קין ,יען היה בא מבנות פוטיאל שהוא יתרו שבא מן קין ,כמ"ש רז"ל כן הענין באלישע ויונה שיש להם קורבה גדולה בשר"ש נפשי ,ולא רצה לגלות לי יותר בזה:

יום שבת אחד ,נתגלו בי רמי בר יחזקאל ,ורב ביבי בר אביי .וא"ל מורי ז"ל ,כי באותה הלילה אמרו לו בחלום ,כי רב ביבי נרמז בפסוק זה בר"ת והוא פסוק 'חזה 'ציון 'קרית 'מועדינו 'אהל 'בל 'יצען 'בל 'יסע , ר"ת אביי .וגם מורי ז"ל נרמז בפסוק זה בר"ת ,והוא פסוק "חזה "ציון "קרית "מועדינו ,כאשר יתחלפו אות מ 'ביו"ד בא"ת ב"ש ,יהיה יצחק ,שם מורי ז"ל .גם א"ל בחלום ,כי ר"ת "חזה "ציון "קרית "מועדינו ,ר"ת בגימטריא רחל ,שהוא סוד נוקבא דז"א ,הנקראת רחל .וגם היא נקראת ציון קרית מועדינו ,היוצאת בחזה דז"א ,ולזה אמר חזה ציון בלשון תרגום ,ולא אמר ראה בלשון הקדש ,לרמוז אל הנז"ל .וגם אביי אביו של רב ביבי ,רמוז בר"ת של מלות אהל בל יצען בל יסע .ולא רצה לגלות לי תכלית הדברים אלו מה עניינם:
בענין אשתי א"ל ,כי הנה אין בכל הנצוצות של שרש נפשי כ"כ קרוב אלי ,כמו נצוץ של ר 'עקיבא ,והוא קרוב עמי יותר מכלם ,וכל מה שאירע לו אירע לי ,וא"ל כי אשתי חנה ,היא גלגול כלבא שבוע ,חמיו של ר ' עקיבא .ויען כי נרבע כנקבה ,בא בגלגול אשה אחת ,שהיתה מרבניתיה דאביי ,יען גם הוא היה משרש ר ' עקיבא כנודע ,ועליה אמרו בתלמוד אמר אביי אמרה לי אם .ואח"כ נתגלגלה באשתי חנה ,יען היא גלגול זכר ,אי אפשר להיות לי ממנה בנים זכרים אלא נקבות ,ואפילו נקבות לא תלד לפי שהיא זכר ,אלא בהצטרפות נשמת נקבה אחרת עמה שתתעבר בה ,וא"ל שנתעברה בה נפש אשת טורנסרופוס הרשע , שנשאת אח"כ לר 'עקיבא כנודע ,וזהו לסבת הקורבה שיש לר 'עקיבא עם אשתי ,שהיא מגלגול חמיו כנזכר .ואז נתעברה מבתי אנגיל"א .וכשנולדה ,נתגלגלה בבתי הנזכרת ונפרדה מאשתי .ואחר שמתה בתי אנגיל"א הנזכרת אז יצטרך שתחזור להתעבר פעם ב 'באשתי ,ואז תחזור לילד בת אחרת ,ותהיה גלגול אשת טורנסרופוס הרשע הנזכר ממש ,ואם תחיה הבת הנזכרת ההיא ,יצטרך שנפש נקבה אחרת תתעבר בה ,ותוליד בת אחרת ,ותתגלגל הנפש באותה הבת ,והנה אם אותה הנפש תשאר עם אשתי בבחי 'עבור ולא תפרד ממנה ,אז אפשר שהולד אשר תלד שיהיה זכר ,ואמר לי שתמות זאת ,ואח"כ אשא אשה אחרת ,עם עושר גדול מופלג ,דוגמת ר 'עקיבא עם אשת טורנסרופוס כן יבא לי העושר מפאת אשה ג"כ כמוהו .ופעם אחרת א"ל ,כי אחר אשר אזכה להשלים את נפשי ,אקח את רוחי ,וכמו שנפשי משותפת עם נפש ר 'עקיבא כנ"ל ,כן רוחי יבא גם כן משותף עם רוחו של ר 'עקיבא ג"כ ,ואז אזכה ליקח בת זוגי האמיתית .וכמו שנפשי ורוחי משותפים עם נפשו ורוחו של ר 'עקיבא ,כך תבא נפש בת זוגי האמיתית ,משותפת עם נפש אשת ר 'עקיבא האמיתית ,שהיא בת כלבא שבוע .ויען אשר יש מעלה יתירה לבת כלבא שבוע ,לפי ששהתה כ"ד שנים לבעלה ללמוד תורה ,לכן גם אשתי המשותפת עמה כנזכר ,יש לה מעלה גדולה מאד ,ואינו יכול לזכות בה ,עד שאשלים את נפשי ויבא בי רוחי .אמר שמואל , א"ל מורי ז"ל ,כי בת זוגו האמיתית היא אדונתי אמי מב"ת:
ערב ר"ח אלול שנת השל"א שלחני מורי ז"ל ,למערת אביי ורבא ,ושם נשתטחתי על קבר אביי זלה"ה , וייחדתי יחוד תחלה של הפה וחוטם דעתיקא קדישא ,ונפלה עלי שינה ואיקץ ולא ראיתי דבר .אח"כ חזרתי ונשתטחתי פעם אחרת על קבר אביי עצמו ,ויחדתי היחוד שכתוב מכתיבת יד מורי עצמו) .הגהה - אמר שמואל ,כבר כתבתי בשער רה"ק דף ק"י ד"ה יחוד א .('ובהיותי מחבר ומשלב אותיות יהו"ה אדנ"י כנודע ,נתערבה מחשבתי ,ולא הייתי יכול לחברם ,ואחדל מלחשוב בחבור ההוא ,ואז נתדמה אלי במחשבתי כאלו קול אומר לי חזור בך חזור בך פעמים רבות ,והייתי מחשב בדעתי לומר ,הנה זהו לשון עקביא בן מהללאל אל בנו כנודע ,ואז חזרתי לחשוב בחבור ההוא וגמרתיו ,ואז נדמה במחשבתי ,כאלו אומרים לי ,אלהים יראה לו השה לעולה בני ,ובאלו היו מבארים לי פירושו ,והוא ,כי מה שהייתי דואג על שלא הועלתי ביחוד הא 'שאינו כן ,אמנם הועיל והצליח לפני השי"ת ,וזהו אלהים יראה לו השה וכו ' ,ויתדמה במחשבתי כאלו היו מבארים לי ,כי בפסוק הזה נרמז כל היחוד הא 'שעשיתי ,כי ר"ת של "אלהים יראה "לו "השה בגימטריא מ"ו ,כמנין יחוד יהו"ה אהי"ה) ,הגהה - אמר שמואל ,עם כולל אחד בתיבות (" ור"ת "השה "לעולה "בני הוא הבל ,והוא סוד הבל הפה העליון שכונתי ביחוד ההוא .ונדמה לי כאלו היו אומרים לי ,בר"ת של תיבת "לו "השה "לעולה ,היא הלל הזקן .ואיני מבין עניינו:
והנה כל זה נתדמה לי אז במחשבתי ,ואחר כך נפלה עלי חרדה ורעדה גדולה עד מאד בכל איברי ,וידי רועדות זו לזו ,גם שפתי היו רועדות דבר גוזמא ,ומתנועעות במהירות ובתכיפות ובמרוצה גדולה ,וכאלו קול היה יושב על לשוני בין שפתי ,והיה אומר במרוצה גדולה יותר ממאה פעמים בלשון ,מה אומר ,מה אומר ,ואני הייתי מחזיק את עצמי ואת שפתי שלא לנענעם ולא יכולתי גם להשקיטם כלל ,ואח"כ חשבתי לשאול על החכמה ואז היה הקול מתפוצץ בפי ובלשוני ואומר החכמה החכמה יותר מעשרים פעמים . ואח"כ חזר ואמר ,החכמה והמדע ,החכמה והמדע ,עד כמה פעמים .ואח"כ חזר ואמר החכמה והמדע

נתון לך .ואח"כ חזר ואמר החכמה והמדע נתון לך מן השמים, כידיעת ר 'עקיבא .ואח"כ חזר ואמר, ויותר מר 'עקיבא .ואח"כ אומר, וכרב ייבא סבא, ואח"כ אומר, ויותר מרב ייבא סבא .ואח"כ אומר שלום עליך, ואח"כ אומר מן שמיא משדרין לך שלמא .וכל זה היה במהירות גדול, דבר נפלא פעמים רבות בהקיץ, ואני נופל על פני, משתטח בכוך של אביי:

ואח"כ הלכתי אצל מורי ז"ל, וא"ל כי הועלתי מאד, במה שעשיתי שני היחודים הנזכרים זה אחר זה, ושבסדר זה ראוי לעשותם, ומה שלא נענתי ביחוד האחד היה, שהמתינו לו עד שאייחד שני היחודים. וא"ל מורי זלה"ה, כי בחזרתי משם ונכנסתי לביתו, שראה את נפש בן יהוידע הולך עמדי, וא"ל כי אינו מן השרש שלי, אלא הטעם הוא, כי הוא מתגלה עם כל המייחד יחוד עליון, כי זה דרכו תמיד בחיו כנזכר אצלינו במקום אחר:

וא"ל מורי ז"ל, כי אמרו לו אז במנחה, שאם אזכה באותו יום שבת הבא הראשון אל רב ייבא סבא, שישאר בי תמיד, ולא יסתלק בשאר הגלגולים שלי, ועל ידו אזכה אל הארות גדולות, ובפרט בתפלת העמידה בברכת השנים ובאת צמח דוד עבדך, ובשומע תפלה .וטעם הדבר הוא לפי שגם ר 'ייבא סבא מתגלה אל הצדיקים כמו בניהו בן יהוידע, כמבואר אצלינו, ונוסף על זה שהוא משרשי, ולכן אם אזכה שיתגלה בי, יגלה לי נפלאות גדולות בע"ה:

ליל מ"ש ההיא, יחדתי יחוד, אחר חצות לילה, כשקמתי ממטתי, ואירע לי כנזכר לעיל, והזהירני רב ייבא סבא, שע"י היחוד מכתיבת ידי מורי ז"ל, אשיג בחכמה כל מה שארצה, ושאייחדנו שלשה פעמים בכל יום באופן זה, בנפילת אפים בשחרית, ונפילת אפים במנחה ובק"ש של ערבית .ובזה אשיג כל מה שארצה. וליל יום שני חזרתי לייחד אחר חצות לילה, וא"ל רב ייבא סבא, ולמה לא יחדת היחוד ההוא כמו שצויתיך לעשותו שלשה פעמים בכל יום כנז"ל, כי בזה תשיג השגה שלימה לאין קץ, ולך לך אצל רבך ה"ר יצחק אשכנזי, ואמור לו שילמדך איך תעשהו בשלשה זמנים הנז', ואמור לו שידבר עמי, ואני אלמדהו לו, והוא ילמדהו לך .ואינך יודע כמה אתה גדול לפני הש"י, כי אדם גדול אתה כר 'עקיבא וחביריו, ותשיג מה שלא תשיג שום אדם בדור הזה, אפילו האר"י רבך, ואתה עתיד שידבר לך המלאך אליהו ז"ל פה אל פה בהקיץ, ולכן כאשר תייחד יחוד הזה, תעלהו בסוד)מ"ן (אליהו שהוא שם בן, והוא סוד מ"ן, ותעלהו בסוד נדב ואביהוא, שהם סוד הנפש, ותעלה אותי ג"כ עמהם, ובזה תשיג שידבר לך אליהו הנביא ז"ל, ושאר מלאכים, ואינך יודע כמה גדלה מעלתך מכל אנשי הדור הזה, ובנים יתן לך הש"י, גם עושר, שלא תצטרך לשום אדם .ואז בבקר הלכתי אצל מורי ז"ל, וספרתי לו כל הנז"ל, ואח"כ למד לי איך אעשה היחוד הנז', בשלשה התפלות, בנפילת אפים דשחרית, ומנחה, וק"ש של ערבית .וכבר ביארתיו בסוף היחוד של כתיבת ידי מורי ז"ל וע"ש .גם ענין יחוד נדב ואביהוא ואליהו ז"ל, כבר כתבתיו אחר היחוד הא 'של הפה (והחוטם דעתיקא קדישא) .הגהה - אמר שמואל, ועיין ביחוד הג 'דף:

ביום שבת איכה, חלמתי שהיה אומר לי מורי ז"ל, ענין זווג אחד של אמוראים, והיה קורא עליהם, מה רב טובך אשר צפנת ליריאך .ובבקר הלכתי וספרתי לו הענין, ופירש לי הענין וא"ל, כי הוא סוד גדול, וא"ל, כי בע"ש ראה כתוב במצחי, רמי בר חמי, ואותיות נר, ולא הבין הדבר, עד שגלו לו הדבר ע"י חקירה .והענין הוא, כי כבר ביארנו, כי תרי"ג נצוצות תלמידי חכמים, יש בכל שרש נפש ונפש .והנה בת רב חסדא הנז' בגמרא, הוא בחי 'המלכות, בת אותו שכתוב בו ורב חסד, וזהו ג"כ סוד ורב טובך .והנה זווג העליון היא סוד הדעת, הוי"ה ואהי"ה, שהם בגימטריא מ"ז, ושם הוא סוד רמי בר חמא כמו שנבאר .ולכן לקח אותה תחלה, ואח"כ לקחה רבא, שהם אותיות באר, שהוא זווג תחתון דיסוד, כי רבא בגימטריא, יהו"ה אלהי"ם יהו"ה אדנ"י, והם ב 'זווגים תחתונים, שהם בגימטריא באר, שהם המלכות בשבע היכלותיה עם הת"ת כנודע .ולזה אמר רבא ואנא בתראה .אמנם רמי בר חמא, הוא העליון, כי אם תצרף ב 'זווגים תחתונים שהם בא"ר ורב"א, עם זווג העליון העולה מ"ז כנז', יהיו שלשתם בגימטריא נ"ר .והם בגימטריא רמ"י. והנה רמ"י הוא בחי 'רוממות הדעת כנודע והוא שער החמשים, נתיב לא ידעו עיט, וזהו רמ"י בר חמא, כי חמא בגימטריא מ"ט, ורמי הוא שער החמשים של שרש נפשי, סוד דעת העליון של שרש נפשי .וזהו ענין פסוק מה רב טובך שחלמתי, כי מה שהיא המלכות כנודע, הוא בת רב טובך, שהוא רב חסדא, והיא צפונה ליריאיך רמי ורבא, סוד הדעת והיסוד .וגם ר"ת של מ"ה "רב "טובך "אשר, בגימטריא רמ"י, וזכור ענין זה כי רמ"י היא שער החמשים של שרש נפשי:

כבר ביארנו במקום אחר, ענין נשמות התנאים והאמוראים היכן הם, ועתה נבאר הכל בפרטות קצת מנצוצות שרש נפשי, וכבר ידעת כי יש בז"א חמשה חסדים מתפשטים, וגם ה 'גבורות:

אמר הכותב, נ"ל, כי כל זה בפרצוף עצמו, של אבר העקב שבפרצוף הכולל של קין, אשר כלו הוא פרצוף הגבורות של מוח הדעת דזעיר. הנה בחי 'הגבורות של הגדלות הם כך, גבורה של הגדלות, העולה דרך עליה מן יסוד לנצח, הוא חזקיהו המלך. והגבורה העולה עד החסד, הוא יחזקאל הנביא. גבורת הגדלות העולה מן היסוד אל ההוד, הוא ר 'עקיבא. והעולה עד הגבורה, הוא עקביא בן מהללאל. והגבורה העולה בשני שלישים תחתונים מגולים שבת"ת, הוא ריב"ז. ומן הנשאר שליש החסד אחר התחלקו, הוא מ"ר והוא מנשה בן חזקיהו המלך. שליש העליון הוא אליהו בן ברכאל הבוזי ממשפחת רם, זה מ"ר, וזה ר"ם. ואח"כ עולה בדעת, והוא שמואל הנביא מן הרמתים, והקטנות של שם אלהי"ם כנודע:

ונבאר בו שלשה הבחי', שהם, בחי 'המוח, ובחי 'החסדים, ובחינת הגבורות. הנה המוח שעולה בנצח, הוא רמי בר חמא. והחסד העולה בנצח, הוא אביי. והגבורה, רב ביבי בנו. ואחר כך עולה בחסד, שהוא הזרוע הימני והמוח, הוא רב סחורא. והגבורה, רב שמואל בר שילת. והחסד, פנחס אחי מר שמואל, והוא בחינת:

גבורת הגדלות, המכה תוך הקטנות. וההוד, המוח, הוא רב משרשיה, תלמיד אביי. והגבורה, רמי בר תמרי. והחסד, רפרם בר פפא. ואח"כ עולה בגבורה, המוח, ר 'זריקא. והגבורה, ר 'זעירא מדהבת. והחסד, ר 'זעירא בר הלל. והת"ת בשני שלישים המגולים התחתונים, המוח, עולא בר קושב. והגבורה, רבי"ן דסליק ונחית מא"י לבבל. והחסד, רב חנא בגדתאה. והת"ת בשליש עליון המכוסה, המוח, ר 'מיאשא שבזמן ר 'יוחנן. והגבורה, ר 'שילא שנעשה לו הנס כנז 'במסכת ברכות החסד, שבחת בריה דרבינא:

ומורי ז"ל צוה אותי, שתמיד אכוין בכל אלו הנז', בכל שבוע ושבוע, נחלקים כפי הימים, והוא, שאכוין באותם שהם בנה"י, בשלשה ימים אב"ג. ובחג"ת, בשלשה ימים דה"ו. ובדעת, ביום ששי אחר ה 'שעות, כי כבר ידעת כי אז מתחיל קצת תוספת שבת. ודע, כי כל זה היה כתוב אצלי מימי מורי ז"ל בנייר קטן, ושם באחרית הכל, ראיתי כתוב רב חמא בר בוזי, בלתי שום פירוש, ואיני יודע אם צריך לכוין בו ביום שבת, ושכחתי הענין:

פעם אחרת אחר יום א', צוה אותי גם כן, שאכוין בכל ימי השבוע בכל תפלה ותפלה, באלו התנאים והאמוראים והצדיקים שאכתוב עתה, וזה סדרם, יום א 'בשחרית, רב ייבא סבא. מנחה, אביי. ערבית, רב. ביבי בנו. יום שני בשחרית, רב ייבא אמורא. מנחה וערבית, אביה בן רחבעם. יום ג 'בשחרית, רב דימי מנהרדעא. מנחה, רב דימי דסליק לא"י. ערבית, רב ייסא אמורא. יום ד 'בשחרית, רב אהאי בר יאשיה. מנחה, רב שישא בריה דרב אידי. ערבית, רב חייא מדפתי. יום תמשי בשחרית, יהושע בר זרנוקי. מנחה, רב איו. ערבית, אבדימי. יום ו 'כלו, נחום האלקושי. יום שבת כלו, מיכה המורשתי. ודע, כי גם זה מצאתי כתוב בנייר קטן, ובאחרית כל הנזכר, מצאתי כתוב שמות אלו, ולא אזכיר עניינם, ואלו הם, רב ביבי. רב זריקא. רב טביומי. רב כרוספדאי חמיד לבא. ר 'צדוק הכהן. רב קיסמא, רב שמעיא חסידא. ונלע"ד עתה, שצוני לכוין בהם כל אחד מהם בשבעה הימים של השבוע, כסדר אבג"ד הו"ז:

פעם אחרת א"ל, כי אליהו בן ברכאל הבוזי ממשפחת רם, הוא בשליש העליון המכוסה של הת"ת, וז"ש ממשפחת רם. ואלקנה ושמואל הנביא בנו, הם מן הרמתים, שהוא בדעת עצמו. שהוא הרמה העליונה הכולל שתיהם. ולי אני הצעיר א"ל פעם אחרת, שאני גבורת הוד העליונה, אשר בדעת עצמו. ור 'יוסי הגלילי, הוא מן הפאה השמאלית שבראש, מן בחי 'א"ל שדי, שבפרצוף כתף שמאלי שבפרצוף של שרש נפשי. ויונתן בן הרכינס, הוא מן הגבורה של הגבורה שבחמש גבורות שבדעת. ור 'עקיבא הוא מן גבורת הוד שבדעת. ואני מן גבורות הוד שבדעת לאה חיצונה. ויחזקאל הנביא, הוא מטפת אדה"ר, קודם שנולד קין. דוגמת מה שהודעתיך בענין מיכה המורשתי, ונחום האלקושי. ור 'חוצפית המתורגמן, הוא מן גבורת ההוד שבדעת שמצד אבא, ובוקע האור שלה, ועוברת עד הדעת של לאה החיצונה וממה שנשאר שם הוא שרש נפשי. ונלע"ד שא"ל מורי ז"ל, כי הוא מוכרח שבעברה דרך דעת אימא, תעבור דרך גבורת ההוד של דעת דזעיר שמצד אימא, לפי שבאבא גניז גו אימא, והנשאר בדעת דהוד דזעיר דמצד אימא, שם יש לו קרוב גדול עמי. וכן כל שאר השרשים של מורי ז"ל הר"ם אלשיך הם באים ועוברים על דרך הנז 'ויש לי שייכות עמהם. עוד א"ל מורי זלה"ה, כי להיות יונתן בן הרכינס ז"ל מגבורת הגבורה של הדעת, ור 'עקיבא מן גבורת ההוד של הדעת, לכן היה יונתן בן הרכינס חריף ממנו כנזכר ובירושלמי דיבמות:

ביאור ענין שרשי הנשמות מה עניינם. דע, כי כל הנשמות תלויים באדה"ר, כי הוא כולל כל חמשה שרשי

הנשמות, שהם, אריך, ואו"א, וזו"ן. והנה רמ"ח איברים ושס"ה גידים הם באדם, והם תרי"ג שרשים, ר"ל שכל אבר אחד מאלו הרמ"ח, וכל גיד אחד מאלו השס"ה גידים, יש בו פרצוף אחד בכל תרי"ג איברים וגידים, ונקראים שרש אחד:

והנה כל אבר כלול מבשר גידים ועצמות כמ"ש ז"ל לענין טומאה, ולענין אבר מן החי. אבל אין הגידים אלו ענין שס"ה גידים, כי השס"ה גידים הם גידים בפ"ע, זולת הרמ"ח איברים. אבל הגידים הנכללים באיברים, הם העורקים הקטנים המתפשטים תוך הבשר והאבר ואינם מכלל השס"ה גידים:

ונמצא כי תרי"ג שרשים הם באדה"ר, וכל שרש מהם יש בו תרי"ג נצוצות של נשמות שכל נצוץ מהם נקרא נשמה אחת. וכל זה בחצוניות הנפש, כמו שיתבאר למטה, וזה אמיתות ועיקריות הענין. אמנם ע"י העונות והפגם של התחתונים, מתחלקים שתי הבחינות הנזכר לכמה חלקים, פירוש, כי התרי"ג שרשים גדולים, יכולים להפרד ולהתחלק עד ששים רבוא שרשים קטנים. וכן התרי"ג נצוצות גדולים, שבכל שרש מהתרי"ג שרשים גדולים, יכולים להפרד אל ששים רבוא נצוצות קטנים. אבל דע, כי אינו מוכרח שיתחלקו אל התרי"ג, או אל ס' רבוא. אבל הכוונה היא, שפחות מן תרי"ג שרשים גדולים, או פחות מן תרי"ג נצוצות גדולים בכל שרש מן התרי"ג, א"א להיות. וכן יותר מן ס' רבוא שרשים קטנים, או יותר מס' רבוא נצוצות קטנים בכל שרש מן התרי"ג, א"א להיות. אבל החשבון אשר באמצע אפשר להיות, כי יש שמתחלק לאלף, ויש לאלפים, ויש לעשרת אלפים וכיוצא בזה, והכל כפי מדרגת העון. והטעם נזכר בתקונין תקון ס"ט דלית גלגול יתיר מס' רבוא, אבל פחות מס' רבוא, עד הרי"ג, אפשר להיות, כפי מעוט העון ומדרגתו:

והנה קין והבל, הם שני איברי הכתף של אדה"ר, הבל בכתף הימני, וקין בכתף השמאל. והוא בחי' פרק הכתף שבגוף, המחבר את הזרוע עם הגוף. והנה מחמת החטא אשר חטאו שניהם כנזכר בתקונים תקון ס"ט, פגמו למעלה, ונתחלק כל שרש משניהם, שהוא תרי"ג נשמות גדולים, לס' רבוא נצוצות, שכל נצוץ מהם, הוא נשמה אחת. וז"ש בתיקונים שם, דמשה אתפשטותיה עד ס' רבוא וכו', לפי שהוא מן שרש הבל. והנה שרש הדעת היורד דרך חוט השדרה, תחלה יורד אל שתי כתפות אלו, ואח"כ יורד עד יסוד, להמציא טפת הזרע. והנה בהגיע טפת הזרע מן הכתף אל היסוד, אז נקרא היסוד כפת תמרים, כי אותיות כפ"ת וכת"ף הם שוים. וכאשר יורד משתי הכתפים ביחד אל היסוד, אז כתיב שתי כתפות חוברות על שתי קצותיו וחובר, כי אז מתחברים ביסוד, ואז כתיב האלף לך שלמה, כי היסוד נקרא שלמה. וז"ש הכתוב את בריתי שלום, ואז הוא סוד האלף, כי ב' פעמים כתף, הם בגימטריא אלף. אבל כתף א' לבדו, הוא בגימטריא ת"ק, כמנין אותיות המלוי לבדו הנעלם משם שד"י שביסוד, ובהתחברם הם אל"ף:

ועתה אבאר ענין השרשים הנזכר, כי הנה מחמת חטאו של אדה"ר, נתערבו נצוצות משאר איברי אדה"ר, בקליפת הרע של שרשי קין והבל, ובעת הגלגולים מתגלים יחד יחזור כל דבר לשרשו:

והנה עתה אבאר שרש קין לבדו, אשר בו תלוי נצוץ נפשי אני חיים. שרש קין, הוא פרק הכתף השמאלי, המחבר הזרוע עם הגוף, ויש בו בשר וגידים ועצמות, כי כבר נודע, כי אינו נקרא אבר, אלא שיהיה בו בשר וגידים ועצמות. וכבר נתבאר לעיל, שהגידים האלו הם העורקים הקטנים, שאינם בכללי השס"ה גידים הנז"ל. ושלשה חלקים אלו שבאבר הזה, מתחלקות לס' רבוא נצוצות קטנים. וכל אבר של הכתף הזה, הוא פרצוף אחד שלם. ואמנם שרש נצוץ נפשי, היא בפרק העקב השמאלי שבפרצוף זה, שהוא כתף השמאלי של אדה"ר מהבחי' השנית. ובזה העקב השמאלי של זה הפרצוף של קין, יש בו יותר מתרי"ג נצוצות קטנות, והם הנפשות הנז"ל שכלם הם משרש נפשי, שכתבנום בפרטות למעלה, מן קין ועד נפשי אני חיים. ויש עוד אחרים זולת הנז"ל, ולא ביארם לי מורי זלה"ה כל הנצוצות שבעקב ההוא:

ואבאר עתה, ענין זה העקב השמאלי שבפרצוף קין, שהוא כל אבר כתף השמאלי של אדה"ר כנזכר. דע, כי טפת הזרע הנמטכת מן העקב הזה, עד היסוד של ז"א, לפעמים נעשת יעקב, ולפעמים נעשת עקיבא, ולפעמים עקביא, וכיוצא בזה, ואין להאריך בפרטים אלו. ודע, כי סוד עקב לעולם הוא סוד המלכות ולכן יש כח בכל נצוצות של זה העקב לעלות למעלה עד המחשבה בסוד נקבה תסובב גבר. ומצד זה זכה ר' עקיבא לעלות במחשבה, והבן זה. והנה נפשי שלי אני הצעיר חיים, היא מזה העקב הנזכר, של פרצוף כתף שמאלי של אדה"ר. ולכן יש לי שערות ארוכות בכתפי השמאלי כנז"ל, שנתן לי מורי ז"ל סימן, שמן הכתף השמאלי של אדם, שם הוא אחיזת נפשי. ואמנם יש לי שערות ארוכות גם בכתפי הימני, אלא שבכתף השמאלי הם מרובים יותר, וטעם הענין הוא, כי כאשר נפגם צד הימני, כמו המשל בחטאו של הבל שנפגם כתף הימני, אז אין הסימן ניכר אלא בימין לבדו. אבל כאשר מחמת פגם נפגם צד השמאלי,

כמו המשל בחטאו של קין, שנפגם כתף השמאלי, אז גם הפגם ההוא מגיע עד כתף הימני, וכן כיוצא בזה, ולכן יש בי שערות גם בכתף הימין, אלא שבכתף השמאלי הם יותר מרובים לפי ששם הוא עיקרם, אבל כשאין הפגם רק בימין, אז אין הסימן ניכר רק בימין לבדו והבן זה:

ודע, כי אין האדם צריך לתקן כל הפגמים שיש בכל השרש שלו, כמו המשל מי שהיא מאבר הכתף השמאלי של אדה"ר, שהוא נקרא שרש קין, ואמנם הוא מן אבר פרטיי שיש בפרצוף ההוא, כמו מן העקב הנזכר, אין שום נצוץ מזה העקב, צריך להשלים ולתקן כל הפגם שיש בכל הפרצוף הזה, רק אבר העקב בלבד. ונמצא, כי כל הנצוצות שהם מזה העקב השמאלי שבפרצוף הזה של כנף השמאלי של אדה"ר, כלם ערבים זה לזה, לתקן כלם כל אחד מהם בעבור כלם, וכן כלם בעבור האחד מהם, וכאשר יושלם להתקן זה העקב אין צורך אל זה העקב להתגלגל כלל, אע"פ ששאר הכתף הזה לא יהיה מתוקן:

ודע, כי כשאיזה נצוץ אחד מן הנצוצות של זה העקב חטא ועשה עבירה, והוצרך להתגלגל ולהתקן, אז הוא מתגלגל עם נצוץ אחד משל העקב הזה עצמו, והוא נתקן יחד עמו. אך אם העון חמור מאותם שגופו כלה ואין לו תחיה ח"ו, אז מתגלגל הוא לבדו, וגופו הא 'נאבד לגמרי:

גם אם הוא מתגלגל להשלים איזו מצוה שחסר לו להשלים, ולא להתקן פגם של עבירה או חטא, אז ג"כ הוא מתגלגל לבדו כ"כ פעמים, עד שישלים המצות. והגופות שלהם, כל אחד נוטל חלק כפי מה שהשלים בו. ודע, כי כשחסר מאיזה נצוץ)נלע"ד שצ"ל כשנפגם (מצוה אחת, איננו חסר ומגלגל עם נצוץ שני, אעפ"י שהוא משרשו, אלא עם נצוץ הדומה לו בלבד, ולא עם שאר נצוצות אע"פ שהם משרשו:

ודע, שאם האדם יחטא לחבירו, אז אפילו שאין שניהם משרש אחד, צריכים להתגלגל שניהם ואותו שהחטיאו יתעבר בו לסייעו שיעשה מצות לתקן מה שהחטיאו. ודע, כי אם האדם יהיה נפשו שלימה ומתוקנת לגמרי, אז יתגלו בו כל נצוצות אשר בזה העקב, ויהיו מאירים בגופו. והנה כדי שיהיה מתוקן, צריך שיתגלו במצחו, ויוכר שם למי שחננו ה 'דיעה להסתכל בפרצוף, צריך שיתגלו שם במצחו, כל מציאות התרי"ג נצוצות שיש לשרש ההוא של הנפש, או אל הרוח, או אל הנשמה. שאלו התרי"ג, הם הת"ח שיש בכל שרש ושרש. והנה יש הרבה שאינם ניכרים בפירוש, אבל הם נכללים עם האחרים הגדולים מהם. והענין הוא, כי יש כמה נצוצות גדולות, שהם עיקרי התרי"ג נצוצות הקטנות, כי כאשר אלו מתגלים, אז ודאי שכל השאר מתגלים עמהם, אלא שלסבת גודל הארת אלו העיקריים, אינם ניכרים האחרים. ולא ביאר לי מורי ז"ל, כמה נצוצות הם אשר הם העיקריים. והנה אם לא יהיה נפשו או רוחו או נשמתו מתוקנת לגמרי, אז כפי המצות שעושה, כך נצוצות יתגלו בו מן תרי"ג של הנפש, או מתרי"ג של הרוח, או מתרי"ג של הנשמה. ויש נצוצות שהם מרוחקים הרבה ממנו, ויש קרובים מאד, ויש מקיפים אותו מרחוק, ויש מקיפים עליו וחופפים עליו בסמוך. והכל הוא כפי מעשה האדם, וכאשר יחטאו יחזרו להסתלק ממנו ח"ו, וכפי שעור החטא כך יהיה מספר הנצוצות אשר יסתלקו ממנו:

גם בענין שרשי הנשמות, דע, כי כל הנשמות היו כלולים באדה"ר. והנה כל שרש נשמות אדה"ר, הם שלשה אבות. ואח"כ נחלקים לי"ב שבטים. ואח"כ נחלקים לשבעים נפש. וכל חלק מאלו הע 'נחלקים לכמה חלקים, עד שנמצאו כל החלקים של השרשים כלם, שיש בנשמת אדה"ר, הם ששים רבוא שרשים קטנים:

והנה אם תדקדק תראה, כי התרי"ג הם כללות ס 'רבוא, כי הס 'רבוא הם שש מאות אלף רגלי, והם ב 'אותיות ת"ר של תרי"ג. ואות ג 'של תרי"ג, הם שלש אבות. ואות י 'של תרי"ג, הם סוד ע 'נפש. כי הנה שש קצוות הם, בסוד ס 'רבוא כנודע, והיו"ד היא משלמת לע 'נפש כנודע, גם ב 'אותיות י"ג, הם י"ב שבטים, ואחד יתר הוא מציאותם. הרי שהם תרי"ג, וכוללים כל המציאיות הנז"ל:

והנה קין, שהוא שרש אחד מן השרשים שבנשמת אדם, והוא הכתף השמאלי של אדם, ונחלק ע"ד הנזכר, שהוא ג 'אבות, וי"ב שבטים, וע 'נפש, ואין עוד נחלק יותר, רק עד ע 'נפש, שהם ע 'שרשים ולא יותר. כי אינו דומה לאדם הראשון, שיש לו שרשים ס 'רבוא. אבל לפי שקין הוא אחד ממספר השרשים של אדה"ר, לכן יש בו ג"כ מציאות אדם, להיותו נחלק כמוהו, לשלשה אבות, וי"ב שבטים, וע 'נפש, שהם ע 'שרשים ולא יותר. אבל אינו דומה לגמרי אל אדם, הנחלק לס 'רבוא שרשים. ואמנם אלו הע 'שרשים של קין, נחלקים עד ס 'רבוא נצוצות לבד. אך השרשים אינם רק ע 'שרשים. וכן עד"ז בכתף הימני של אדה"ר, והוא שרש הבל, ויש בו ג"כ ג 'אבות, ואח"כ נחלקים לי"ב שבטים, ואח"כ נחלקים לשבעים נפש, שהם שבעים שרשים ולא יותר, וכללות כלם יחד, הם ס 'רבוא נצוצות נשמות ולא יותר. ודע, כי כל שרש ושורש מאלו הע 'שרשים שיש בקין או בהבל, יש בו פרצוף שלם אחד, וכללות הפרצוף הזה, נקרא שרש

אחד, כי אין לך שרש ושרש מכל השרשים כלם, שאינו בחינת פרצוף גמור:
והנה שרש נפשי אני חיים, הוא שרש אחד מן הע 'שרשים של קין, ויש בו פרצוף אחד שלם, ויש בו יותר מתרי"ג נצוצות נשמות, ור 'עקיבא, ור 'עקביא בן מהללאל, וגם אני חיים, אנחנו הם מן העקב של זה הפרצוף. וחזקיהו המלך, הוא בראש פרצוף זה. ודע, כי תרין כתפין הנז 'דאדה"ר, שהם בחי 'קין והבל, רוצה לומר, כי הנה או"א, הם אדם וחוה, ותרין עטרין דגניזין בהון, שהם חו"ג, אלו הם הבל חסד, קין, גבורה:
אמר שמואל, מצאתי הגהה אחת וז"ל, והנלע"ד, כי אין העקב הזה הכולל של כל פרצוף קין, אלא עקב אחת פרטיי, של אחד מהע 'שרשים של קין, כי בכל שרש יש עקב אחד, אך זה השרש כלו של ר 'עקיבא, איני יודע אם הוא העליון, או התחתון, או אחד משאר הע 'שרשים, ואינו מוכרח שכל השרש הזה, הוא העקב לבדו שבכל כללות פרצוף קין, הכולל ע 'שרשים וצ"ע:
גם בענין השרש של נפשי, ביאר לי מורי ז"ל פעם אחרת ענין זה. דע, כי נצח והוד דעתיק יומין, מתלבשים בשני זרועות א"א, והנה משתי הידים של ב 'זרועות של א"א, נעשו חו"ב אל או"א. ומן ב 'הכתפות, הם סוד תרין עיטרין, הנקראים חו"ג, דאחסינו לברא קדישא ז"א. והנה אלו הארבעה מוחין, שהם תרין מוחין דאו"א, ותרין עיטרין, הם סוד אוה"מ של ז"א, ואח"כ נתנוצצו מן אלו הארבעה מוחין, שלשה נצוצות, השנים הם מב' מוחין דאו"א, והאחד הוא חבור התרין עיטרין הנזכר יחד, ונתלבשו אלו השלשה נצוצות שמצד אור המקיף, בנה"י של הבינה, שהם מוחין פנימיים דז"א, נמצא כי נה"י של הבינה, הם שלשה מוחין הפנימים דז"א, ומתלבשים בהם שלשה נצוצות, מן הארבעה מוחין המקיפין. והד 'מוחין הראשונים, הם אור המקיף אליו, והנה לפי שהמוחין הפנימים אינם רק שלשה, שהם נה"י דאבא כנזכר, לכן לא נתנוצצו מן הארבעה מוחין המקיפים, רק שלשה נצוצות, ונצוץ השלישי הוא מן התרין עיטרין ביחד, להכנס ביסוד הבינה, הנעשה דעת בזעיר אנפין:
והרי בזה ירד מדרגה אחת שהוא מן הארבעה אל שלשה, ואח"כ במלכות ירד מדרגה שנית. והוא כי מן שלשה, ירד אל שנים, כי הנה נצח והוד של ז"א, נעשו מוחין פנימים אליה, ולא מן היסוד. והנה אותם השלשה פנימיים של הז"א, שהם נה"י דבינה, הם אור מקיף אל המלכות, ומהם התנוצצו שתי נצוצות לבד, אחד הוא כללות נצח והוד, שבהם ב 'מוחין או"א. והשני, הוא חד עיטרא של הז"א, והיא עיטרא דגבורה לבד. הרי כי תחלה היו המקיפים ארבעה ואח"כ שלשה, ואח"כ שנים:
ועתה אבאר השרש של נפשי, הנה אין מציאות המלכות נזכר בעתיק יומין, כי אין בו רק מציאות ט 'היכלין, הנזכרים בריש אדרת האזינו, ולכן שרש המלכות שבו, לא נרמזה רק בסוד ההוד שבו, כי כבר ידעת, כי המלכות היא לעולם בהוד. והנה הוד זה מתלבש בחד עיטרא, הנקרא גבורה דא"א, והיא סוד הכתף השמאלי, ושם נרמזה המלכות. ומזה הכתף השמאלי, נמשך נצוץ אחד, להיות אור מקיף אל המלכות. והנה קין שהוא מצד מציאות המלכות, נרמז בכתף שמאלי של אדה"ר, כי שם שרשו הראשון. ואמנם כנגדו, הוא נצח דעתיק יומין, בכתף הימני דא"א, ובו סוד הת"ת. ולכן הבל נרמז כאן, וכאן הוא שרשו. ובזה תבין מעלת כתפות אלו, ובפרט כתף השמאלי, כי כבר ידעת, כי אי אפשר למלכות, ובפרט בסוד אור המקיף לעלות למעלה מן הזכר, הרי כי הוד דעתיק היא מלכות, ונתלבשה בעטרא דגבורה דכתף ז"א, שהיא מלכות, ועקב הכתף מלכות שבו, ומזה העקב שגם הוא במלכות, משם הוא ר 'עקיבא ועקביא:
ענין שורש נפשי. הנה נודע כי בז"א יש תרין מוחין חו"ב, וביניהם הוא המוח הג 'הנקרא דעת, הכלול מחו"ג. וכאשר חטא אדה"ר הוריד הדעת למטה בין ב 'הכתפים של ז"א, בשליש עליון דגופא, ושם ירד חסד בכתף ימני, וגבורה בכתף שמאל. והנה קין והבל, נולדו אחרי שחטא אדה"ר, ושרש קין הוא מן אלו הגבורות, שירדו לכתף שמאל אחרי ירידתם טם, כי אז אין להם כ"כ הארה כמו בהיותם למעלה במוח עצמו. והנה השרש של נפשי הוא מן קין. והנה כל השרש שלי, כגון ר 'עקיבא וכו', וכיוצא בו כלם, הם מן גבורת ההוד, שהיא הגבורה החמשית. והנה יש כאן תערובת אחד, והוא, כי הנה כאשר הנשמה יוצאה מכאן, יש לה פנימיות וחיצוניות בהכרח, כי הנה יש לה בחינה מן המוח עצמו שהוא גבורת ההוד אשר שם, וגם מן הכתף השמאל עצמו. ואם הדעת היה למעלה במקומו בראש, היה חיצוניות הנפש מן העצם והבשר של הגלגלתא עצמה, אך עתה הוא מן הכתף, ואין החיצוניות והפנימיות מתייחסים יחד. ונמצא שפנימיות נפשי, הוא מן המוח העליון הנקרא דעת. וחיצוניותה ולבושה, הוא מן הכתף השמאלי. ונמצא שיש לה פחת א 'בבחינת פנימיותה, כי אינה מאירה עתה כמו אם היתה למעלה במקומה. ופחת ב 'בבחי '

וכנגדם יש ב 'בחי 'פנימיות וחיצוניות בנפש עצמה ,הנקראת אורות .וע"ל בדרושי של לבושי הנשמות עצמם:
והנה ע"י תקון האדם ,על ידי מעשיו בעה"ז יוכל לתקן אז הפגם לא עתה ,רק אחר כך בימות המשיח ,כי אז מכח מעשיו הטובים שקדמו אל האדם עתה בעה"ז ,יתוקן אז הפגם בימות המשיח ויעלה הדעת למעלה ,ואז תאיר פנימיות נפשי כבתחלה .וגם חיצוניות נפשי ,תהיה אז מלמעלה מן גלגלתא .אבל בענין חיצוניות נפשי שיש לי עתה ,שהיא מן הכתף השמאלי ,אני מסופק אם אמר לי מורי ז"ל שישאר לעולם עמי ,כיון שעתה היא מחוברת עם נפשי ,או אם הוא הפך מזה:
והנה כמו שנתבאר ,שירד הדעת למטה בחטאו של אדה"ר ,כן ירדה בחי 'לאה מאחורי הדעת של ז"א ששם מקומה תחלה ,ועתה ירדה גם היא עם הדעת באחורי הכתפים ,כנודע כי לאה יוצאה ממלכות דבינה והדעת ביסוד דבינה .והנה מעיקר גבורת ההוד עצמה שבדעת דז"א ,הוא ר 'עקיבא ,ונפש שלי אני חיים ,היא מאותה ההארה ,אשר יוצאה מן גבורת ההוד שהוא ר 'עקיבא ,אל ההוד שבדעת דלאה .ונמצא שאני לא בהוד דדעת דז"א ,ולא בהוד דדעת דלאה ,אלא מהארה אמצעית הנמשכת ויוצאה מהוד דדעת דז"א ,להאיר אל הוד דדעת דלאה .ואפשר שזהו מה שפעמים היה אומר לי מורי ז"ל ,שאני מן הוד דדעת דז"א .ופעמים אומר לי שאני מן הוד דדעת של לאה .ופעמים אומר לי שאני מן כנף שבכתף השמאלי ,ור ' עקיבא הוא הקנה אמצעי המעמיד ,ואני הוא הנוצה והשער היוצא מן הקנה המעמיד ,כמו שנבאר למטה בעהי"ת:
גם א"ל מורי ז"ל ,כי פנימיות של נפשי ,היא מן גבורת ההוד שיש במוח ממש שלמעלה ,רק שירד למטה ,וחיצוניות נפשי היא מן החסד שבכתף שמאלי .כנזכר:
גם דע ,כי כמו שביארנו ענין חלוק אדם הראשון ,אל תרי"ג שרשים גדולים ,וס 'רבוא שרשי קטנים .וכן כל שרש מן התרי"ג נחלק עד ס 'רבוא נצוצות קטנים ,וכל זה הוא בבחינת הנפש .וכן עד"ז חשבון הזה הוא ,ואין להאריך כי זה הוא דבר פשוט ,וכן הוא בענין הנשמה וכו ,ממש בבחינת הרוח:
אמר שמואל ,הואיל ואתא לידן ,אחוה דעי גם אני ,ממה שהגיד לי אבא מארי ז"ל ,כי שרש נפשי אני שמואל ,מנצוץ ר 'מאיר ע"ה .וגם אני בחלומי כך הגיד לי הוא עצמו ,וא"ל אתה נצוץ נפשי ,וספרתי הדברים למורי זלה"ה ,וא"ל כך הוא האמת .ועוד חדש לי ,כי ר 'מאיר ע"ה ,נתגלגל בזקני ע"ה ,ושמו ה"ר יוסף ויטאל ז"ל סופר התפילין ,ולהיות כי ר 'מאיר ע"ה היה סופר גדול בדורו כנודע במשנה ,לכן גם זקני הר"י הנזכר ע"ה ,היה סופר גדול ,ובקי ואומן לא קם כמוהו .והרב הגדול האר"י זלה"ה ,אמר למורי אבי זלה"ה ,שחצי העולם היה נזון בזכות זקני ע"ה ,באמצעות התפילין הכשרים שהיה עושה .ואח"כ נתגלגל זקני זלה"ה בי אני הצעיר שמואל ויטאל ,ולכן גם אני יש לי יכולת בכתיבה מעט ודי בזה .כי א"ל מורי זלה"ה יום אחד ,למה אני שותק לדבריך ,ושומע מה שאתה אומר ,ואיני גוער בך כמשפט האב לבן ,
אעפ"י שאתה לפעמים מכעיס אותי ,וגם יש בינינו אהבה גדולה יותר מדאי ,להיות שאתה אבי ,ודי בזה:
ועתה אכתוב ,מה שהגיד לי מורי ז"ל ,ז 'ימים קודם שנפטר לחיי עה"ב .ודע ,כי מן השעה הראשונה שדבר עמי א"ל שאזהר מאד שלא אגלה עניינו של השגתו וידיעתו לבני אדם ,לפי שהוא לא בא רק לתקן אותי בלבד ואח"כ על ידי יתוקנו אחרים ,והתרה בי שאם אגלה עניינו ,שימשך נזק גדול לו ולי ולכל העולם כלו .ונתגלגלו הדברים שמורי הר"ם אלשיך נר"ו ,ידע הדברים ,וגזר עלי שאגיד לו הענין ,ומכח גזרתו הוכרחתי לגלות לו ,ואז משם ואילך נתרבו הנכנסים בבית מורי ז"ל ,ואני הייתי חושב שעשיתי מצוה גדולה לזכות כל אותם שהיו חוזרים בתשובה .ופעמים רבות היה מורי ז"ל מוכיח אותי על זה ,שלא היה לו פנאי ללמוד עמי מרוב הנכנסים ,והיה אומר לי ,הלא אתה גרמת כל זה שיכנסו כל אלו ,ואני איש עניו ,
ואע"פ שנמשך לי נזק מענין זה ,איני יכול לדחותם .ובהמשך הימים רצה לשלח את כלם מעליו ,ולא רצו לילך ,והפצירו בו דברים של גוזמא ,עד שא"ל אתם רוצים לגרום לי נזק שאחזור לבחי 'עבור בעבורכם ,
והם היו אנשים גדולים ,והפצירו מאד ,ולא יכול להם ,ולא עברו כמשלש חדשים ,עד שיום אחד לקחני בסתר וא"ל ,כבר ידעת כמה התריתי בך על הדבר הזה ,וכמה נזק נמשך לך מזה ,שאלמלא כך הייתי מעלה אותך למעלה מגלגל ערבות .והנה עתה דע לך ,כי נמשך לי נזק גדול מגלויי סודות אלו להם ,כי אינם עדיין)בלתי (מתוקנים לזה ,ואני מוכרח להגיד לך כל אשר תשאל ממני ,כמו שאמרתי לך פעמים רבות ,ובעבורך שומעים הם ,ואינם כדאים עדיין לשמעם ,ויש לי נזק גדול מזה .לכן שמע נא עצתי ,ואל תשאל לי בפניהם דבר ,והניחה לי ויפרדו כלם מעלי ,ותשאר אתה לבדך ,ואעלה אותך למעלה מגלגל

ערבות ,ולא שמעתי ולא רציתי לשמוע בקולו ,באמור לו שלא יהיה נחשב לי עון בזה לדחות כל תשובת האנשים ההם בעבור תועלתי ,וא"ל וכי אין אני יודע אם הוא עון או לאו ,סוף דבר לא רציתי לעשות רצונו בזה .ובשמעו את תשובתי התחיל לבאר לי קצת ענייני נפשי כמו שאכתוב עתה בע"ה ,וחשב בזה אולי אתפתה לדבריו ,בשמעי מעלת נפשי ,ואתרצה להועיל לי לבדי ,ועכ"ז לא רציתי ,ואז נתעכבנו יחד כל היום עד שקיעת החמה ,ולא יכול לי .וא"ל ,דע כי אין עוד זמן אלא היום הזה בלבד ,ואם לא תודה לדברי , אין עוד תקון אל הנזק הנמשך לי ולך ולכל העולם ע"י גלוי הסודות האלו להם ,שעדיין אין רשות מלמעלה בדבר הזה .ואני בעונותי רציתי להיות חסיד שוטה ,ואמרתי לו מה שיארע לכלם ,יארע לי ,ואם הם לא ילמדו גם אני לא אלמוד ,ולא יאמרו בשמים שבשביל תועלתי ,לא חששתי אל תועלת כל הצדיקים האלו הנכנסים ללמוד ,ובפרט כי לא חשבתי ושערתי בעצמי מה שהיה בעו"ה ,ואחר שלשה ימים הוכה במגפה , יום ערב שבת פרשת מטות ומסעי ,יום ר"ח אב שנת השל"ב ליצירה, וביום שלישי ח 'באב ,נפטר לחיי עה"ב ,וחל"ש ,זכרו לחיי עולם הבא:

ועתה אבאר את אשר הגיד לי אז ,ביום ההתראה ,מענין שרש נפשי ,א"ל דע ,שאין לי רשות עדיין לומר לך למה באת לעולם ,ומי אתה ,ואלו הייתי מגיד לך פרט הענין ,היית פורח באויר מרוב שמחה ,אבל אגיד לך עתה קצת ממה שאני רשאי עתה להגיד לך ,ודע ,כי העולם כלו תלוי בתקון עצמך תחלה ,ולכן שמע נא אל דברי עצתי ,ותשגיח תחלה עליך בלבד ,וא"ל דע ,כי השרש של חיצוניות לבוש נפשך ,הוא מן אבר הכתף השמאלי של אדה"ר ,והיא בחי 'נפש קין מצד הטוב שבו .ודע ,כי בכל אבר יש בשר וגידים ועצמות , והעצמות הוא היותר מעולה לבחי 'המוח שבתוכו הפנימי ,ולא בבחי 'עצמו .ואחריו במעלה הם הגידים , יען חיות האדם עובר ומתפשט בתוכם ,שהוא הדם המתפשט בתוך העורקים של גוף האדם ,והם המקשרים כל האיברים כלם ומעמידים אותם .והגרוע שבשלשתם הוא הבשר .והנה שרש נפשי ,הוא מפאת הגידים הקטנים ,המתפשטים בבשר האבר ,ואינם מהשס"ה גידים הגדולים .ומספר הת"ח אשר בשלשה בחינות ,כל שרש מהס 'רבוא שרשים הקטנים ,הם תרי"ג ת"ח ,והנה בכל בחינה מאלו השלשה , יש שרשים שהם הת"ח שבכל שרש ושרש ,ר"ל שבכל אבר ואבר .וסביבותיהם נמשכים הענפים ,שהם הבעלי בתים ,ובעלי מעשה ,ועמי הארץ ,בכל בחינה ובחינה שבאבר .ונפשי היא א 'מן תרי"ג ת"ח עצמם אשר בשרש נפשי .ויש חלוק גדול בין זה השרש של נפשי לשאר השרשים ,כי המשל בזה ,מי שהוא מאבר זרוע ,או מן הרגל ,יש הרחקה גדולה לנפשות בין זה לזו .אבל מי שהוא בשרש הכתף ,כל הת"ח אשר בי ,הם מחוברים יחד ,וקרובים בקורבה גדולה בין זה לזה:

והנה סדר השרש של נפשי הוא זה ,שמואל הנביא ,ואחריו חזקיהו מלך יהודה ,ואחריו ריב"ז ואחריו ר ' עקיבא בן יוסף ,ואחריו רב ייבא סבא דמשפטים ,ואחריו אביי האמורא הנקרא נחמני ,ואחריו אני חיים ויטאל .וזהו טעם למ"ש ריב"ז ,כשנפטר הכינו כסא לחזקיהו מלך יהודה שבא .ואע"פ שיש נפשות רבות בשרש א ',אל תחשוב כי סדרם האמיתי הוא ,כסדר תולדתם והויתם בעולם ,כי לפעמים הנשמות והשרשים שהם יותר מעולים וגדולים ,הם בעמקי הקליפות ,ואינם יכולות לעלות עד זמן מרובה .ונשמות אחרות גרועות במעלה מהם יוכלו לבא בעולם קודם האחרות .גם דע ,כי לפעמים מתגלגלים בגוף אחד יחד ,שלשה או ארבעה נשמות ,אבל יותר מארבעה אי אפשר .וזש"ה ,פוקד עון אבות על בנים על שלשים ועל רבעים:

ואבאר ענין נפשי ,וממנו תלמוד לשרשים אחרים .דע ,כי הרב מגיד משנה ,חטא בשוגג ,בעון נדה , והוצרך להתגלגל על החטא הזה .גם אדם אחד נקרא ר 'שאול טרישטי ,הוצרך להתגלגל בעון שפיכות דמים ,כי רצה למול תינוק אחד ,ולא היה בקי ,ומת מתחת ידו ,והיה החטא הזה שוגג קרוב למזיד .ואחריו ממש ,היה איש א 'נקרא ר 'יהושע סוריאנו ,והוצרך להתגלגל על עון אחד ,שאכל חלב כנז"ל .והנה שלשה נפשות אלו הנזכרים הם ענפים של נפשי ,ולכן באו מגולגלות עם נפשי ממש ,ונמצא כי אני כלול מארבעה נפשות יחד מגולגלים ,כי כלם צריכים למרק עון זה .ואע"פ שאני לא חטאתי בזה ,עכ"ז להיותי מבחי ' הגידים ,צריך אני לנקות העפוש שנעשה מחמת העונות הנזכרים ,כדי שימשך החיות אל כל השרש . ונמצא כי שלשה נפשות הנזכרים הם ישנות ומגולגלים ,אבל נצוץ נפשי עצמה ,חדשה היא ,כי מן היום אשר חטא קין ,והטבעו נצוצות נפשו בתוך הקליפות ,עדיין לא יצאה נצוץ נפשי הזאת ,אלא בפעם הזאת . ודע ,כי אין זה נקרא חדש ממש ,אחר שכבר בא לעולם כלול בנפש קין עצמו ,וכמו שנבאר בע"ה דרוש זה של נשמות חדשות וישנות בדרוש אחר .ודע שיותר מג 'נפשות מגולגלות ואחד חדש ,אי אפשר להיות , כנז"ל בפסוק על שלישים ועל רבעים .וזהו סוד פסוק פעמים שלש עם גבר ,כי שלשה נפשות מגולגלים ,

יוכלו להתגלגל עם גבר אחד ,ולא יותר מזה ,אבל אפשר להיות פחות מזה ,כמו אפשר להיות נשמה א '
מגולגלת לבדה ,או א 'מגולגלת עם א 'חדשה ,או שנים מגולגלות לבדם ,או שלשה מגולגלים עם חדשה
אחת ,אבל יותר מזה אי אפשר לבא בגוף אדם אחד:
גם ידעת ענין עבור בחיים ,שהוא דומה קצת לגלגול ,וכמו שיתבאר במקומו בע"ה ,וכמו שנתבאר בענין
הגלגול ,כך הוא בענין העבור ,כי אי אפשר שיתגלו בסוד העבור ,רק שלשה נפשות הבאות לסייע את
הנפש עצמה של האדם ,אשר עמו הם ארבעה ,ולא יותר מזה .ויש חלוק והפרש בין גלגול לעבור ,
הגלגול הוא ,שהם מתגלגלים ובאים ביחד מעת הלידה ממש ,ואינם נפרדים כלל עד יום המיתה ,וכלם
נעשים נפש אחת ממש ,וסובלים הצער והיסורין של הגוף ההוא .אבל העבור נחלק לשני בחינות ,האחד
הוא ,כאשר בא לצורך עצמו של המתעבר ,כמו שיתבאר במקומו בע"ה .והשני הוא ,כשבא לצורך האדם .
וכאשר הוא בא לצורך עצמו ,אז אינו בא עד שיהיה בן י"ג שנים ויום אחד ,כי קודם זמן זה אין מעשה
האדם עולה בשם ,שעדיין אינו מחויב במצות ,וכל כונת ביאתו היא לעובות תקון לעצמו ,ולכן אינו בא עד
היות האדם הזה בן י"ג שנים ויום אחד ,ואז נכנס ומתפשט בגוף האדם הזה ,כדמיון נפש האדם עצמה , וסובלת עמה היסורין והצער של הגוף הזה ,כמו נפש האדם עצמה ,ויושבת בדרך זה שם ,עד שנשלם
זמן הקצוב לה ,לתקן ולהשלים מה שהוא צריך ,ואח"כ יוצאה משם ,וחוזרת למקומה העליון .אבל כאשר
בא לצורך האדם לסייעו ולזכותו ,אז הוא בא ג"כ אחר היותו בן י"ג שנים ,אבל הוא בא בבחירת עצמו ,
ואין הוא כפוף לסבול צער האדם וגופו כלל ,ואינו מרגיש כלל בצער הגוף וביסוריו ,ואם מוצא נחת רוח
באדם ,אז הוא יושב שם עמו ,ואם לאו יוצא משם ,ואומר סורו מעל אהלי האנשים הרשעים האלה:
ואבאר ענין השרש של נפשי ,ומזה תלמוד לאחרים ,א"ל מורי ז"ל ,שאם אזכה יתעבר בי ג"כ אביי ,ואם
אזכה יותר ,יתעבר בי ג"כ רב ייבא סבא ,ואם אזכה יותר ,יתעבר בי ג"כ ר 'עקיבא ,ולפעמים יתעברו בי
אחד מהם ,או שניהם ,או שלשתם .אבל יותר משלשתם א"א .אבל אם אזכה יותר ,אז יתעבר בי ריב"ז ,
עם ר 'עקיבא ,ועם רב ייבא סבא .אמנם אביי יתבטל הארת עבורו בתוכם ,וכן כיוצא בזה ,עד שלשה
הראשונים שבכלם ,שהם ,שמואל הנביא וחזקיהו וריב"ז .וכל השאר יתבטלו הארת עבורם בתוכם:
אח"כ א"ל דרוש שרש נפשי יותר מבואר ,דע ,כי קין והבל לקחו גם נפש האצילות של אדה"ר .והענין הוא ,
כי נודע שכל העולמות קשורים זה בזה ,ואחר שהאדם משלים לתקן חלק העשיה ,יכול לעלות עד
היצירה ,וכן על דרך זה עד האצילות ,כנזכר בריש משפטים .אבל כל זה הוא ,כאשר בא נשמה חדשה ,
כמבואר במקום אחר .והנה נמצא ,כי כל העולמות קשורים זה בזה ,וזה כסא לזה .והנה יש בחינות
נשמות ,שמעולם לא השיגו רק לתקן נפש דעשיה לבד .ויש שזכו עד יצירה ,ויש שזכו עד בריאה ,ויש
שזכו עד אצילות .ומועטים הם בכל השרשים שימצא שרש שזכה לתקן עד אצילות ,ואין זה נמצא כמו
בקין והבל ,כי להיותם נקראים נשמה חדשה בצד מה ,כמבואר אצלינו ,לכן זכו ליקח עד נפש דאצילות
ולא יותר מזה .אבל שאר השורשים שהיו נשמות ישנות כמבואר אצלינו ,לא זכו אל אצילות ,והלואי אל
הבריאה .ודע ,כי גם בקין והבל יש ב 'בחינות הנז ,'אחת היא בחינתם של נפשות קין והבל עצמם בלבד , שהיא מן הבריאה ולמטה ,כשאר השרשים הישנות .ויש בחי 'שנית עליונה ,והיא אותו החלק של אדה"ר
עצמו ,שהוריש לקין והבל כשנולדו ,שלא ירדו לקליפות בחטא אדה"ר .ונלע"ד ,שהוא נצוץ מנפש האב , שנותן בנפש הבן להדריכו כנודע ,והיא נצוץ א 'מן הכתרים ,הנקראים חלקו)נ"א חלתו (של עולם , שנשתיירו באדם עצמו .והנצוץ שהוריש לקין ,גדול משל הבל ,כי הוא הבכור ואחיו הגדול:
ויש בבחי 'הזאת השנית ,המשכת כל העולמות ,מן נפש של עשיה ,ועד נפש של אצילות ,כפי מה שהם
באדה"ר עצמו כנודע .וכל מי שהוא ,מזו הבחי 'השנית ,מעלתו גדולה ,כי יש יכולת בידו לתקן בפעם א '
שיבא בעולם ,עד נפש דאצילות ,אך לא יותר מזה ,כי אינם נקראים נשמות חדשים לגמרי .וכל השרש של
נפשי ,הם מזו הבחינה השנית .וכבר ביארתי במקום אחר ,כי גם בזו הבחי 'הב ,'יש בה ב 'בחי ,'והם ,אור
פנימי ,ואור מקיף .וכל השרש שלי ,הם מן אור הפנימי .וגם אליהו הנביא ז"ל ,הוא מן האור הפנימי של
בחי 'זו .וכל בחינה זו יש בה מן אור פנימי של נפש דאצילות ,עד בי"ע .אבל נדב ואביהוא ,היו מן אור
המקיף של נפש דאצילות של בחי 'זו השנית:
ודע ,כי קין הוא בכתף של זרוע שמאלי בכל העולמות ,בין באריך ,בין באבא ,בין באימא ,בין בז"א ,בין בנוקביה ,בין בעשיה ויצירה ובריאה .וכנגדו הוא הבל כתף זרוע ימני .והנה בשלשה עולמות בי"ע , נקראים זרועות .אבל בעולם האצילות ,אינם נקראים זרועות ,אלא כנפים .והבל נקרא כנף ימין .וקין ,כנף
שמאל .ובחי 'זו של הזרועות ושל הכנפים ,יש בהם אור פנימי ואור מקיף כנזכר:

והנה קין והבל של בחי 'השנית, לא זכו ליקח, רק עד הכנפים של מלכות דאצילות, הנקראת נפש דאצילות. וכל השרשים האלו, יכולים להשיג וליקח בפעם ראשונה שיבואו בעולם עד שם. אבל משם ולמעלה, אי אפשר להם להשיג, עד גלגול שני:

ודע, כי כל מי שהוא מבחי 'זו השנית, יש להם יכולת להגיע בפעם א', 'עד נפשו דאצילות, ולכן נקראים מלאכים. ובכל מקום שתמצא מכונה בחי 'מלאך לאיזה צדיק, אינו אלא משרש זה. ולכן פנחס נאמר בו ותצפנו ברחב הזונה שלא הוצרכה להטמין את פינחס, לפי שהיה מלאך, כי הוא משרש זה. ולכן אליהו הנביא היה מלאך. גם יהודה וחזקיה בני ר 'הייא, נקראו מלאכים, כמ"ש ז"ל בתלמוד פליגי בה תרי אמוראי בארעא, ולקבליהו תרי מלאכי ברקיעא וכו. 'כי יהודה וחזקיה נקראו מלאכים, לפי שהיו משרש זה של בחי 'השנית של קין:

גם ר 'יהודה בר אלעאי היה משרש זה של קין השנית אמרו עליו שם בתלמוד, כשהיה רוחץ פניו ידיו ורגליו, ומקבל שבת, היה דומה למלאך ה 'צבאות, והבן זה. ואמנם חנוך שלקח גם זוהרא עילאה דאדה"ר, שהוא עד נשמה דאצילות ג"כ, אלא שהיה מלאך של חלק שרשו, לכן היה מלאך יותר גדול מאליהו ז"ל, כי כל מי שהוא מבחי 'אצילות נקרא מלאך, ויכול לעלות במעלת מלאך וזכור זה:

ונבאר ענין כנף זה מה עניינו. דע, כי קין הוא אבר הכתף השמאלי של אדה"ר כנז"ל, ויש בו שלשה בחי ', שהם, בשר, וגידים, ועצמות כנז"ל. ובבי"ע, בכל חמשה פרצופים שבכל עולם מהם, יש שרש אל קין בזרוע שמאלי שבכל אחת מהם, באבר הכתף. אמנם אין שם בחי 'כנף, אבל בעולם האצילות, יש שם בחי 'כנף, זולת הבשר וגידים ועצמות אשר באבר הכתף אשר שם. ונמצא, כי זה השרש של בחי 'השנית של קין, יש לה באצילות בחי 'הכתף עצמו, שהוא הבשר והגידים והעצמות, וגם יש לה אחיזה בכנף היוצא משם, שהם הנוצות היוצאות מאבר הכתף הנזכר אשר באצילות, כי משם ולמטה לא יש בחינת כנף, רק כתף לבדו כנז"ל:

ואבאר ענין אבר הכתף, כי ענין אבר הכתף עצמו, כבר ביארנו לעיל. דע, כי כנף השמאלי שהוא של קין, יש בה ג 'אלפים נוצות, מן מוחין דגדלות ויניקה ועבור, אלף גדולים, ואלף בינונים, ואלף קטנים. ובכל נוצה מאלו, יש בה ק"ן ניצוצי נשמות. ובכל נוצה יש בה בחי 'גומא אחת, שצומחת שם הנוצה, ויש בה בחי 'דם הנבלע תוך הנוצה, והנוצה עצמה בראשיתה במקום שהיא תקועה, יש בה קצת קנה בלתי שערות יוצאים מצידיה ויש בה יותר למעלה קצת קנה, שאינה תקועה, וגם שם אין שערות. ומשם ולמעלה יש קנה באמצע, ושתי שערות בשני צדדיו. וכן עד"ז עד סוף הנוצה כלה. גם השערות, יש בהם גדולים וארוכים ויש בה קצרים וקטנים. ודע, כי השערות הקטנים, הם נצוצות נשמות, המתים בקטנותם כשהם קטנים. ודע כי הנוצה היא גדולה במעלתה יותר מן הגומא, ומן הדם. וקנה הנוצה, גדול מן השערות, והשערות הארוכים, הם גדולים מן הקצרים. וכל נוצה, יש בה ק"ן נצוצות נשמות, כמנין כנף. והחשבון הזה של ק"ן נצוצות בכל נוצה, הוא ע"ש קין, שיש בו אותיות ק"ן. וזהו בכנף השמאלי שהיא שלו, אבל בכנף הימיני שהיא של הבל, מתחלקת הנוצה באופן אחר ע"ש הבל, והוא שנחלקת כל נוצה מהם למטה, לחמשה חלקים, וכל חלק כלול מל"ב, וזהו הבל, ה 'פעמים ל"ב, והם ג"כ מספר ק"ן נצוצות כמו בשל קין, אלא שהק"ן נצוצין של קין שבכל נוצה, נחלקת כל נצוץ בפני עצמה, ונקראת קן. אבל של הבל, נחלקים לחמשה חלקים, וכל חלק לל"ב נצוצות, וזהו ההפרש שביניהם בלבד:

ואבאר ענין כנף השמאלי, כי הנה כל הכתף כלו, וכל הכנף כלו, הוא כללות שרש קין, בבחי 'החיצוניות כנז"ל. אבל השרש שלי האמיתי הפרטי, שהוא מן הבחינה השנית של קין היא מבחינת הגידים, שיש באבר הכתף השמאלי כנז"ל, שיש בארבע עולמות אבי"ע. ומלבד זה יש ג"כ אל השרש שלי, בחינתו בכנף השמאלי, אשר במלכות דאצילות, שיש שם ג"כ כנף, והוא בנוצה של מספר עז"ר, מן אלף נוצות הגדולים, ויש בה ק"ן נצוצות נשמות, ואלו הק"ן נצוצות שבנוצה הזאת, הם הנשמות האמתיות סנקראים שרש שלי בבחי 'הכנף, זולת בחינתו בגידים של הכתף עצמו כנז"ל:

והנה הגומא של נוצה זו, הוא אביי. והדם אשר בגומא זו, הוא רמי בר חמא. וקצה הקנה התקוע שם, נחלק לשנים, לפי שטפת הדם אשר בתוך הקנה, מפסיקו לשתי בחינות. משא"כ אחר צאת הקנה חוץ מן הגומא. וצד השמאלי הוא, שמואל הנביא. וצד הימיני, לא הגיד לי מורי ז"ל. ושאר הקנה שהוא בלתי שער, הוא חזקיהו מלך יהודה. ואח"כ משם ואילך נחלק הקנה ומתפשט בין השערות, וכל בחי 'מהם של הקנה עצמו, הם מעמידים השערות. ונמצא שבכל שתי השערות ימיני ושמאלי, יש ביניהם מעמיד אחד. ואני הצעיר חיים, הוא מן שער א 'שמאליי שבנוצה זו, והמעמיד שלי, ר 'עקיבא בן יוסף. ויהודה וחזקיה

בני ר 'חייא ,אינם מזו הנוצה שלי שמספרה עזר ,אבל הם מנוצה אחרת ,והיא יותר גדולה מזו הנוצה של עור .ונצוץ נפש אחי כה"ר משה ויטאל יצ"ו ,הוא מזו הנוצה של יהודה וחזקיה הנז .'ור 'יהודה בר אלעאי ז"ל ,הוא מן נוצה אחרת ,קטנה מזו הנוצה של עזר ,ולכן היה תלמידו של ר 'עקיבא .ונצוץ נפש הרשב"א ז"ל ,ונצוץ הר"י קארו ז"ל בעל ספר בית יוסף ,הוא מזו הנוצה של ר 'יהודה בר אלעאי:

ודע ,כי יש לקין על הבל יתרון גדול מאד ,והוא ,כי כבר הודעתיך ,כי הגבורות של עתיק יומין אשר בתוך א"א ,אשר מהם יצאה אימא עילאה ,הנה הם מתגלים זמן רב קודם החסדים ,ועוד כי הגבורות הם תמיד מגולים ,ולכן מי שהוא מזו הבחי 'הב 'של שרש קין ,יכול לעלות ממדרגה למדרגה ,ומגבורה לגבורה עד גבורה דעתיק יומין ,וינק משם .משא"כ בחי 'הבל ,כי הוא מן החסדים הסתומים תמיד ,ואין להם כ"כ גלוי . וזהו הטעם מ"ש חז"ל במ"ר פרשת חקת א"ר חוניא וכל יקר ראתה עינו ,זה ר 'עקיבא וחבריו ,שדברים שלא נגלו למרע"ה נגלו לר 'עקיבא .וגם זהו מ"ש באותיות של ר 'עקיבא ,וגם במסכת שבת בפרק ר ' עקיבא שהיה אומר מרע"ה להשי"ת ,יש לך אדם כזה ,ואתה נותן התורה על ידי ,לפי שהיה יכול ר ' עקיבא להשיג יותר ממנו לטעם הנז"ל .וז"ש רז"ל במסכת שבת שם ,שבשעה שעלה משה למרום ,מצאו להקב"ה שהיה קושר כתרים לאותיות ,א"ל מי מעכב על ידך ,א"ל יש לי אדם אחד ועקיבא בן יוסף שמו וכו .'והענין הוא ,כי אין יכולת במי שהוא משרש הבל להשיג ,רק עד כתרי אותיות שהם התגין ,אך שרש קין של בחי 'השנית הנז"ל ,יש בו יכולת להשיג עד הטעמים ,או יותר גם כן .האמנם מרע"ה השיג הכל ע"י מעשיו העצומים:

גם יש סבה אחרת ,למי שהוא משרש קין ,שהוא מן אימא ,למי שהוא מצד אבא מהחו"ג של אבא ,והענין הוא ,כי נה"י דאימא המתלבשים בז"א ,הנה עד החזה של ז"א ,אין שם רק כסוי ולבוש אחד בלבד ,והאור היוצא משם הוא רב וגדול ,והנשמה היוצאת משם אורה גדול ומגולה ,אבל הנשמה הבאה מצד אבא , אורה מועט ,לפי שאבא הוא מכוסה בשני כסויים עד החזה דז"א ,אחד שלו ,ושל אימא .וכן מן החזה ולמטה ,אימא מגולת לגמרי ,ואבא מכוסה בכסוי אחד ,ולכן הנשמות שהם מן החסדים המגולים ,או מן הגבורות המגולות ,הם יותר מועילים מן הנשמות של מקום המכוסה ,אע"פ שהם גבוהים בבחי 'מקום . וז"ש בגמרא עולם הפוך ראיתי עליונים למטה ותחתונים למעלה וכו':

גם יש טעם שני ,והוא ,כי אבא אינו מאיר כלל ,רק ע"י החו"ג של אימא ,שעוברים דרך שם ,ולכן הם גדולים מהם .גם טענה אחרת ,כי הגבורות הם היוצאות תחלה דרך היסוד כנז"ל ,ולכן היה קין בכור , בסוד אשת חיל עטרת בעלה .ודע ,כי לעתיד לבא ,כל שרש קין יהיו כהנים .ושרש הבל שהיו כהנים עד עתה ,יהיו לוים .באופן ,כי מה שהיה עד עתה בחינת לוים ,היו מצד הגבורה ,דוגמת קרח שהיה משרש קין ,כלם יקחו אז הכהונה ,שהיא חלק בכורתם .וז"ס פסוק והכהנים והלוים בני צדוק ,כי לא תמצא ענין זה רק ביחזקאל ,כי לפי שהיה הוא משרש זה של קין ,לכן נבא נבואת אלו של לעתיד לבא ,שאותם שהיו לויים עד עתה ,יהיו אז כהנים בני צדוק .ושרש הבל שהיו כהנים ,אז יהיו לוים:

ודע ,כי אם ימצאו בדור אחד שתי נשמות משרש אחד בשני אחים ,או בשני חברים ,יהיו שונאים ומקטרגים זה לזה בטבעם ,כי זה רוצה לאחוז ולליינק יותר מזה ,ומקנאים זה בזה בטבעם בלתי ידיעה . ואמנם אם יהיה להם השגת ידיעה שהם מן שרש אחד ,אז ודאי שלא יהיו מקטרגים זה לזה .גם דע ,כי אין זה אלא בהיותם בחיים ,אבל הנשמות של הצדיקים הנפטרים ,הם חפצים מאד להשלים את הנפשות ואת הנשמות הבאים משרש שלהם שהם עודם בחיים ,כי אז כבר אין להם מעשה ,כדי שיהיה להם קנאה לומר שרוצים להשיג זה יותר מזה ,כי אין מעשה ודעת בשאול אשר אתה הולך שמה ,ואדרבה יש להם תועלת גדול במעשים של החיים:

ועתה אבאר ענין השרש של נפשי ,הנה צריך שתדע ,כי אין לך אדם שאין לו אור פנימי ואיר מקיף ,דוגמת הצלם שעל ראש ז"א .והנה כשיצאו נדב ואביהוא בעולם ,שאז היתה ראשית תקון שרש הזה של קין , הנה שם באו כלולים בלבד כל הנשמות של זה השרש ,כלולים בצלם שלהם בבחי 'מקיף עליהם .אבל עדיין אז לא נשארו ,רק בחי 'נצוצות נדב ואביהוא לבדם ,וכל שאר הנשמות של זה השרש שהיו אז כלולים בצלם אור מקיף שלהם ,היו כלם מעורבות כל אחד ואחד בתוך קליפתו .ואח"כ כשיצאה נשמה אחרת של זה השרש ובאת לעולם ,אז אותה הנשמה לבדה נטהרה ונתגלת ,וכל שאר נשמות השרש הזה ,היו באות כלולות בצלם בסוד אור מקיף שלה ,אבל כלם נתונות עדיין כל אחת ואחת בקליפתה .וכן היה הדבר נמשך ,עד ביאת הרב מגיד משנה בעולם .והנה הוא נתעסק בחכמת הפילוסופיא ,שהיה בימי הבדרשי המכונה ר 'ידעיה הפניני ז"ל כנודע ,ונזכר בשו"ת הרשב"א ז"ל ,והר"ב המגיד משנה נטה

אחריהו ,ולא היה מאמין בחכמת הקבלה ,ולכן רצו החצונים להטעותו מחמת עון זה ,והוציאו את נצוץ נפשי מעמקי הקליפות ,עם כמה חיצונים אחרים ,כדי להטעותו ע"י ,כי הם חשבו שכבר אני הייתי אבוד ביניהם מכמה זמן ,ושח"ו כבר הייתי במדרגתם כמותם .ואח"כ להיות נצוץ נפשי ממקום גבוה ,ובפרט שהיתה משרשו של הרב מגיד משנה עצמו ,גברה הקדושה של נפשי על הקליפות ,וכפיתי אותם , ואדרבה חזקתי אותו וסיעתיו .בסוד פסוק עת אשר שלט האדם באדם לרע לו ,כנזכר בסבא דמשפטים , ואז נשארתי תמיד בסוד צלם על ראשו של הרב מגיד משנה ,אע"פ שאינו ממדרגתי ואז התחלתי לצאת מעמקי הקליפות:

ודע ,כי כל הנשמות הנתונות בעמקי הקליפות ,אי אפשר להם לצאת מהם ולהתגלגל תכף ולבא בעולם , אבל צריך שיבא תהלה שלשה פעמים ,בסוד צלם אור מקיף על שלשה אנשים שיהיו משרשו ,ואח"כ יבא הוא לבדו בעולם בסוד נשמה פנימיות ממש ,ואז תקרא פעם א ',כי תחלה באה דרך כללות עם נצוצות אחרים ,ומשם ואילך נקרא גלגולים ,והנה אני נצוץ נפשי היתה בסוד צלם על ראש הרב המגיד ,ואח"כ פעם שנית הייתי צלם על ראש ר 'שאול ,ואח"כ פעם שלישית בר 'יהושע הנז"ל ,ועתה בפעם הזאת באתי בבחי 'הנשמה הפנימית ממש ,וזו הפעם הא 'שבאתי לעולם .ועתה נתגלגלו עמי השלשה אנשים הנזכרים ,ובאים עמי ונתחברו עמי לטעם הנז"ל לתקן את עצמם .ולפי שזאת הפעם הראשונה שיצאתי מעמקי הקליפות ,לכן יש לי טורח גדול להכניע את יצרי ,וזאת היא סבת העצבות והדאגה שיש לי תמיד בעצמי .וא"ל ,כי אין עונותי נחשבים כ"כ לפני השי"ת ,כמו עונות זולתי ,לפי שאני עדיין בין הקליפות , וצריך טורח גדול לצאת מתוכם ,ולולי זה כמעט בקלות גדול הייתי יכול להיות חסיד גדול כפי גודל נשמתי , רק מפני היות זו פעם א 'שיצאתי מבין הקליפות .וענין זה אירע לדוד המלך ע"ה ,כמבואר אצלי במקום אחר:

גם יש בזה טעם אחר ,והוא ,כי מי שהוא משרש קין ,הנה הטוב שבו הוא גדול מאד ,אלא שהוא מעורב בקליפות רבות מזוהמות ורעות ,והרע הוא מרובה על הטוב .והסבה היא ,לפי שהיא משרש הגבורות , שבהם נאחזים הדינים והקליפות .וא"ל מורי זלה"ה ,כי כמו שאני הייתי בבתי 'צלם שלשה פעמים כנז"ל , ועתה היא פעם א 'שבאתי בבחי 'נשמה פנימית ממש מגולגלת ,כן הנצוץ שהוא מתחיל עתה להתקן בי , בסוד צלם על ראשי ע"ד הנז"ל ,הוא יובל הנזכר בפרשת בראשית ,כמש"ה ושם אחיו יובל וכו ',כי גם הוא משרש קין .וכל ההכאות והפצעים שיש לי תמיד בידי ,ע"י הכאות בסכינים וכלי ברזל הוא ,ממני לפי שאיני מתקן אותו כראוי ,ויש בו עדיין קליפות ,וכבר ביארתי קצת ענין זה של יובל בדרושים ראשונים וע"ש:

גם א"ל מורי ז"ל ,כי עתה ביום הזה הנזכר ,יום כ"ח לתמוז שנת השל"ב ,כי כבר אני מתוקן עתה בבחי ' הנפש של עשיה ,עד בחי 'זרוע השמאלי של נוקבא דעשיה בלבד:

גם א"ל מורי ז"ל ,שיהיו לי בנים מן השרש שלי ,וא"ל שיהיו לי שתי נשים אחרות ,ומכאן עד שנה זו ,או עד שנה וחצי ,אקח אשה אחת ושמה אור"ה בואינ"ה ,ואח"כ אקח אשה אחרת ושמה ,והיא בת זוגתי . והנה בפסח שעבר א"ל ,שלא יצאה בת זוגתי בעולם ,ואפשר שיצאה עתה בסוד עבור ואיני יודע:

הגהה - אמר שמואל ,כך שמעתי מפי אבא מארי זלה"ה ,כי אמי הרבנית גמי"לה מב"ת ,היתה בת זוגו) האמיתית ,וכן היה הוא אומר לה בפני כמה פעמים ,ואותה השנה שמת בה הרב הגדול זלה"ה ,נולדה אמי גמי"לה הנז 'מב"ת:

כלל העולה מכל הנז"ל ,כי אדה"ר לא נכללו בו הנשמות של או"א דבריאה ,אלא מזו"ן ולמטה .והנה הם עשר פרצופים ,זו"ן דבריאה ,ואו"א וזו"ן דיצירה, ואו"א וזו"ן דעשיה .והנה כל פרצוף מאלו העשר כלול מי"ס ,ועשר מעשר ,הרי הם עשרה פרצופים ,והם אלף ספירות ,הרי כל פרצוף מאה ספירות ,ועשר שבהם הם בחי 'כתרים ,נמצא כי בעשר הפרצופים ,יש ק 'כתרים ואלו בלבד נשתיירו באדה"ר אחר החטא ,ונקראים מאה אמה אשר נתמעט ,וכל התשע מאות ספירות ,נפלו אל הקליפות .וגם באלו המאה כתרים ,היה פגם ,כי נסתלק מכל כתר שבהם ,אותם הט 'ספירות ראשונות שבו ,ונקרא זיהרא עילאה , ונשארו הי"ס שבכל כתר מהם באור הנפש שלהם ,שהם המלכות התחתונה שבכל כתר מהם .הרי ג ' בחי ',בנשמות שהיו כלולות באדה"ר קודם שחטא ,בעשרה פרצופים שיש מז"א דבריאה ,עד סוף נוקבא דעשיה ,האחת היא ,בחי 'האורות הנקראים ,יחידה ,חיה ,נשמה ,רוח ,שבמאה הכתרים ההם ,ואלו נסתלקו ממנו כשחטא ,ועלו למעלה ,ונקראים זיהרא עילאה דחנוך .השנית גרועה ממנה שנשארה באדה"ר אחר שחטא ,ולא נסתלקו ,גם לא ירדו אל הקליפות ,והיא בחי 'האור הנקרא נפש שבמאה

הכתרים, שבכל ספירה מי"ס שבכל פרצוף, מעשר הפרצופים הנזכרים. הבחי' הג' הגרועה מכלם, והם כל הנשמות, שהם כל אורות ט' בחי' התחתונות, שבכל ספירה מעשר ספירות, שבכל פרצוף מעשר פרצופים הנזכרים, ואלו ירדו לעמקי הקליפות, ובכל יום עולים מעט מעט ונתקנים:

והנה זיהרא עילאה, נתחלקה לב' מיני זיהרא אלו, האחד בעולם האצילות, והם, יחידה, חיה, נשמה, רוח שבאצילות. הבחי' השנית, זיהרא דשלשה עולמות בי"ע, והם, יחידה, חיה, נשמה, ורוח, אשר במאה הכתרים, שיש בעשרה פרצופים שיש מז"א דבריאה, עד סוף נוקבא דעשיה, ואלו נסתלקו לגמרי מאדם.

עוד יש זיהרא שנית גרועה, וגם היא נחלקת לשתים, האחת היא נפש שבאצילות. הב', הנפש שיש במאה הכתרים:

שבעשרה הפרצופים של בי"ע כנז"ל. ואלו נשארו באדה"ר, וחלק מהם נשארו לו. וחלק מהם, הורישו לקין והבל כשנולדו. עוד יש מדרגה שלישית, והם אותם תשע מאות ספירות, שיש בעשר הפרצופים הנז"ל, זולת מאה הכתרים שלהם, ואלו נשרו, ונתלבשו בקליפות:

גם אמר לי, כי בחטאו של קין, נפגמו נפשו ורוחו ונשמתו, ונתערבו בקליפות. וזש"ל, כי קין רובו רע, אך הבל לא פגם רק נפשו ורוחו. וזש"ל, כי הבל רובו טוב. והנה נפשו נפרדה הטוב שבה, ונתנה בקינן, וממנו ואילך, ונתקנה בו. וחלק הרע, נתנה במצרי, וגם בה היה קצת נצוצות טובות שלא נבררו עדיין, וחלק הרוח הרע אשר גם הוא היה בו קצת תערובת טוב, לקחו קרח בסוד עבור, כשחלק עם משה. והרוח הטוב, נתגלגל בשמואל הנביא, ושם נתקן. ואחר שנהרג המצרי, לקח יתרו הנפש הרע שבו שכבר נתקנה ע"י מה שנהרג, וע"י כך נתגייר. ואח"כ לקח חלק נשמת קין מבחי' הטוב. ונשמת הרע המעורבת בקצת טוב, נתנה בעמלק בן אליפז, והנה יותר תקן שמואל חלק הרוח, ממה שתקן יתרו חלק הנשמה, וכבר הודעתיך כמה גלגולים אחרים שנתגלגלו פעמים אחרות קודם זה ואחר זה:

כפי הנז"ל, כי בחי' שרש קין הוא בזרוע שמאלי ממש, אלא שאח"כ מענין סימן השערות שיש לי, נראה שהיא בכתף שמאלי. עוד כתבתי, כי התחיל בזרוע, וסיים בכתף. ובפרט נראה בפירוש שהוא בכתף המחבר הזרוע עם הגוף. והנה כתבתי כי כל זרוע מחובר עם שלשה קשרים ופירקין, ומשתי פירקין השלישיים שבשתי הזרועות דא"א, והם העליונים המחוברים בשתי כתפות דאריך, מהם נעשה דעת של ז"א כלול מחו"ג, ונודע כי בדעת זה נשרשו קין והבל בני אדם, וצ"ע:

ודע, כי קין הוא מן שלשה גבורות תנ"ה, פחות שליש עליון שבגבורת הת"ת, להיותה מכוסית בעטרת היסוד דאימא כנודע. ונדב ואביהוא הם משתי גבורות נצח והוד מן הכתרים שבהם, אלא שהם בבחי' נפש שבהם בלבד. וגם שאינה אלא מן אוה"מ שבהם. ואליהו ז"ל מן אור הפנימי שבהם. וכל שרש נפש ר' עקיבא, הוא מגבורת ההוד, מבחי' הכתר שבה, בבחי' נפש שבה. ונמצא, שהיא נפש של הרוח, כי ההוד נקרא רוח, שהוא אחד מן השש קצוות. ואיני יודע, אם שרש ר' עקיבא היא מאור פנימי או אור מקיף. גם דע, כי שרשו היא מן עקב זה ההוד, שהיא המלכות של חמשה גבורות שבדעת:

פעם אחת שאלתי למורי ז"ל, איך היה אומר לי שנפשי היתה כ"כ מעולה כנז"ל, והרי הקטן שבדורות הראשונים, היה צדיק וחסיד, שאין אני מגיע לעקבו. ואמר לי, דע לך, כי אין גדולת הנפש תלויה כפי מעשה האדם, רק כפי הזמן והדור ההוא. כי מעשה קטן מאד בדור הזה שקול בכמה מצות גדולות שבדורות אחרים כי בדורות אלו הקליפה גוברת מאד מאד לאין קץ, מש"כ בדורות ראשונים. ואלו הייתי בדורות הראשונים, היו מעשי וחכמתי נפלאים מכמה צדיקים הראשונים. ושחז"ל על נח תמים היה בדורותיו, ואלו היה בדורות צדיקים היה יותר צדיק, ולכן שלא אצטער על זה כלל, כי בלי ספק יש לנפשי מעלה גדולה על כמה צדיקים הראשונים מזמן תנאים ואמוראים:

פעם אחרת אמרתי לו, כי אין אני פתי להאמין בעצמי, שלא מצאת בכל הדור הזה ראוי ללמוד חכמה זו אלא אני לבדי, וכי אין אני מכיר את עצמי ואת מעשי, כי יש גדולים וצדיקים ובעלי מעשה יותר ממני בדור הזה, ומה לי אם תשבחני, ואני יודע בי שאיני ראוי. והנה מהר"י קארו ז"ל. והרדב"ז ז"ל רבך. ומורי הר"ם אלשיך. וה"ר אברהם הלוי. והרי"ג. והרר"ז ז"ל וכו'. אז אמר לי, וכי מה קרוב היה לך עמי מעולם, ומה הנאה יש לי ממך, ואדרבא אתה צעיר וקטן שבכלם, ולא היה לי לקרבך, אלא לאלו, שהם גדולי הדור, והיה לי בזה כבוד גדול, זה יורה כי לא בחרתי בך על הנם, אלא לגודל מעלתך על כלם. והנה אל תחשוב בלבך, כי מעלת בני אדם היא כפי דעת הבריות, ואלו ידעת כמה מומין נסתרים יש בבני אדם, היתה תמיה, אלא שאיני רוצה לגלות סתרי בני אדם, והוי יודע, כי כבר בחנתי ושקלתי כלם בכף מאזנים, ולא מצאתי כלי זך ונקי וראוי כמוך, ודי לך בזה, כי אין לי רשות לדבר בפירוש כל הדברים וע"ז נאמר כי

האדם יראה לעינים וה 'יראה ללבב, ולכן חזק ויאמץ לבבך, ושמח בחלק נפשך ובמעלתה, ודי בזה:
גם ספרה לי מרת רחל מב"ת אשת הר"י אבילדין יצ"ו, כי כשהיה מורי הר"ם אלשיך ז"ל לומד בבית המדרש שבחצר שלה, ראתהו יושב ועצב, ותשאלהו על מה אתה נעצב, ויאמר לה וכי לא אצטער על ר ' חיים ויטאל שהוא תלמידי, ועתה אינו רוצה ללמדני כתלמיד בענין חכמת הקבלה. ותאמר לו וכי הוא גדול ממך בחכמה זאת, ויספר לה איך בחיי מורי האשכנזי ז"ל, הלך יום אחד לפניו, ויבך ויתחנן לו שילמדהו בחכמה הזאת הוא בעצמו, שלא על ידי, וישיבהו, כי הוא לא בא בעה"ז אלא ללמדני לי לבדי, כי אי אפשר שתתגלה חכמה זו, כי אם על ידי. ולא עוד, אלא כי לולי שאחז"ל כי בכל אדם מתקנא חוץ מבנו ותלמידו, הייתי אני מתקנא בו לרוב מעלת נשמתו, ולמה שעתיד להשיג דבר שאין לו שעור. גם בנו הר"מ אלשיך ז"ל ספר לי כן משם אביו מורי הר"ם אלשיך ז"ל:
גם מורי האשכנזי ז"ל, ספר לי דברים כיוצא באלו, שעברו בינו לבין ה"ר שלמה סאגיס ז"ל, שהיה מתקנא בי, ולא היה רוצה ללמוד חכמה זו עמי אלא עמו, ולא רצה מורי זלה"ה ללמדו, וא"ל אם רצונך ללמוד, תלמוד עם ה"ר חיים, ואם אינך רוצה ללמוד עמו, לא תלמוד כל ימיך חכמה זו:
אמר לי מורי ז"ל, שאלך לדור בעה"ק ירושלם תוב"ב, כי שם מקום דירתי האמיתית, ושם עיקר השגתי וכל טובתי:
כללות קצור ענין שרש נפשי, קין הוא אבר א 'מן רמ"ח אברים, הכוללים כל קומת אדה"ר. ואבר הזה הוא בחי 'חמש גבורות של הדעת, והם בחי 'פנימיות האבר הזה. ויען כי בחטא אדה"ר ירדו אל הכתף השמאלי, לכן זה הכתף כלו הוא בחי 'חיצוניות שרש קין, כי הוא שרש א 'גדול, מתרי"ג שרשים גדולים, הכוללים כל קומת אדה"ר, ושרש הזה של קין נחלק לתרי"ג נצוצי נשמות גדולים. ואמנם שרש הגדול הזה מתחלק לשבעים שרשים קטנים, אשר כל שרש מהם אינו פחות מתרי"ג נצוצות קטנות של נשמות, וכללות כל ע 'השרשים הקטנים האלו, הם ס 'רבוא נצוצות קטנות נשמות. והנה כל כללות קין נקרא שרש א 'גדול, והוא פרצוף א 'גדול הנקרא קין, ונחלק לע 'שרשים קטנים, והם ע 'פרצופים קטנים. ופרצוף א ' מאלו הע 'פרצופים קטנים, הוא פרק עקב השמאלי של פרצוף הגדול הנקרא קין. וזהו הפרצוף הקטן שהוא עקב שמאלי של קין, הוא הנקרא שרש נפשי באמת. וכלנו קרובים זה לזה, ובפרצוף זה, יש יותר מתרי"ג נצוצים קטנים, וכלם תלמידי חכמים, זולת ענפים אחרים שהם בעלי בתים. באופן, כי שרש נפשי, הוא עקב השמאלי, של אבר כתף השמאלי של אדה"ר. וזה בבחי 'החיצוניות של שרש נפשי:
אך בחינת הפנימיות של שרש נפשי, היא המלכות שבגבורה, הנקראת הוד שבדעת, וזו המלכות היא בחי 'לאה, שמקומה אחורי הדעת, אלא שהיא עדיין בפנים, בבחי 'זכר של כל כללות קין. ונפש ר 'עקיבא, היא עקב השמאלי, של פרצוף של כל כללות קין, בעקב ההוד של המלכות הכתר של הדעת, מבחי ' הגבורות דגדלות הקטן הנזכר, באופן שהיא מלכות של לאה הנז '. אך נפשי אני חיים, היא הארה היוצאת מן זו המלכות של לאה, ונמשכת להאיר אל המלכות של לאה החיצונה, שבאחורי הדעת שהיא נקבה גמורה. ועדיין יש לדעת, כי כל זה הוא מבחי 'הכתר של ההוד, בבחי 'מלכות של הכתר הנזכר, כי כל קין אינו אלא מבחי 'הכתרים, הנקרא חלתו של עולם כנודע. ואם תדקדק יותר, תמצא כי שרש נפשי, היא במלכות של ההוד של הכתר, של כללות עיטרא דגבורה, שהיא פנימית, ומתלבש תוך חיצוניותה, שהיא מלכות של ההוד של הכתר, דכל פרצוף הגדול, הנקרא אבר כתף שמאלי של אדה"ר. ופרטיות נפשי, היא הארה היוצאת מן המלכות של המלכות של הוד שבכתר עיטרא דגבורות, ומאירה במלכות של המלכות שבהוד של הכתר של לאה החיצונה, אשת יעקב הנקרא ז"א:
בתמוז שנת השל"א, אמרתי למורי זלה"ה, שילמדני יחוד א 'כדי להשיג השגה, ואמר לי לא תוכל עדיין, והפצרתי בו, ויתן לי יחוד קצר, ובחצי הלילה קמתי וייחדתיו, וארגיש זעזוע בגופי, וראשי כבידה עלי, והתחיל דעתי להשטות, ונעקם פי לצד אחד, וחדלתי מלייחד עוד. ובבקר א"ל מורי ז"ל, הלא אמרתי לך, כי יקרך כבן זומא שנפגע ולולי שאתה ר 'עקיבא לא היה לך רפואה, אז נגע על שפתי בכוונה ידועה לו, שלשה ימים בכל בקר, ונתרפאתי. ובערב ר"ח אלול אמר לי, כבר אתה ראוי, ושלחני למערת אביי כנז"ל:
בשנת השל"ב, יצאנו אל השדה, ועברנו על קבר גוי אחד קדמון יותר מאלף שנים, וראה נפשי על ציונו, ובקש להמיתני ולהזיקני, והיו מלאכים רבים, ונשמות צדיקים שלא ישוערו, מימיני ומשמאלי, ולא יכול לי, ויצוני מורי ז"ל, שבחזרתי לא אחזור בדרך הזה עוד, ואח"כ הלך עמי נפש הגוי רחוקה ממני, ושם בשדה נתכעסתי עם הרב יהודה משען, ותחל נפש הגוי להתחבר בי, ותחטאני עוד, ולא רציתי לשמוע דרשת מורי ז"ל, והתחיל לבכות ויאמר, הנה כל הנשמות הצדיקים והמלאכים הלכו להם, ע"י הכעס, ולפיכך שלט

בו הנפש ההיא ,ומה אעשה ,והלואי שיזקוהו ויניחוהו חי ,כי אוכל לרפאתו ,אבל ירא אני פן ימיתוהו ,ולא יתקיים כל מה שאני חושב שיתוקן העולם על ידו כנודע לי ,ואיני יכול להגיד כי לא ניתן רשות להגיד ,וכי לריק יגעתי ,ונחרב העולם ,ולא אכל כל הלילה מרוב צערו ודאגתו ,והלכתי וחזרתי בדרך ההוא לבדי , וכשהגעתי על קברו ,רוח נשאתני ממש ,וראיתי עצמי רץ באויר ,גבוה עשרים קומה מעל גבי הקרקע ,עד שהגעתי למדינה בעת צאת הכוכבים ,והניחוני שם ,והלכתי לישן בריא עד אור הבקר ,ורציתי לקום ,והיו איברי נחלשים אחד לאחד ,והרגישו בי ,והוליכנו עד פתח מורי ז"ל לאט לאט ,ובהגיעי שם ,לא נותרה בי נשמה כלל כענין יונה ,והשכיבני מורי ז"ל על מטתו ,וסגר הדלת ,והתפלל ,ואח"כ נכנס לאותו בית הוא לבד ,והיה הולך בבית וחוזר על המטה ,וגוהר עלי בה ,וכה עשה עד חצי היום שהייתי מת לגמרי ,ובחצי היום ראיתי בעצמי ,כי חזרה נשמתי בי מעט מעט ,עד שפתחתי עיני ,וקמתי ,וברכתי ברכת מחיה המתים ,וכל זה אמת ויציב בלי שום ספק:

אמר שמואל ,עוד אכתוב לקוטים אחרים .הנלע"ד בלי ספק ,כי נודע שאצילות נמשך עד סוף העשיה , ומתלבש תוך בריאה ,שגם היא מתפשטת שם ,והבריאה מתלבשת ביצירה ,שגם היא מתלבשת עד שם . ונמצא ,כי בעשיה מתלבשים ארבעה עולמות אבי"ע ,זה בתוך זה ,וביצירה שלשה לבד ,והם אב"י . ובבריאה שנים ,והם א"ב .והאצילות אינו אלא א':

והנה בחי 'קין והבל ,הם כוללים כל בחי 'אצילות שיש ,מתחלת נפש דאצילות ,עד סוף האצילות אשר עד סוף העשיה .וזהו מה שהורישם אדם אביהם ,אבל הם עצמם ,הם כל בחי 'בי"ע ,המלבישים את כל חלקי נפש האצילות הנזכר ,המתפשטים עד סוף העשיה ,והם הנפש של הכתרים שבבי"ע ,ר"ל מלכות שבכתרים .ועוד יש בהי 'יותר עליונות מאלו ,שהם ט"ס עליונות שבכל כתר מהם ,והם נקראים ,זיהרא דיחידה וחיה ונשמה ורוח .וכל שאר בחי 'זולת הכתרים ,הם שאר כל הנשמות ,שהם למטה מבחי 'ירושת אדם לקין והבל הנזכר:

וזהו הסדר הקצר שצוני מורי ז"ל ,בענין ההשגה כפי הצריך לנשמתי ,ראשונה שאתנהג תמיד בזו ההנהגה ,להזהר בקצה האחרון ,מן הכעס וההקפדה ,והעצבון ,והגאוה ,והרכילות ,והליצנות ,ולשון הרע , ושיחה בטלה ,וקרי ,ונדה ,וחלב ,והלבנת פנים ,ושחיטה ,והריגת שום חי ,אפילו מן הרמשים .ואתנהג בשפלות ,ובשמחה ,ושתיקה ,וביראת חטא .ואקבע בכל יום מקרא משנה תלמוד קבלה בכוונתיהם ועיקר עסקי יהיה בספר הזוהר .כל היום תהיה יראת ההוי"ה דב"י נגד עיני תמיד .תמיד אחשוב להדבק בנפש מורי ז"ל ,קודם כל תפלה ,אתדבק בר 'עקיבא ז"ל ,בהזכירי שמו י 'פעמים רצופים ,תפלת לדוד הטה אלי אזנך בכונה גדולה .לקום אחר חצות בכל לילה ,לבכות על גלות השכינה רחל אחר חצות בעולם הבריאה , ועל חרבן בית המקדש ,וגלות ישראל ,ולבכות על העונות .התמדת היחודים ,ובפרט לילי החול אחר חצות .יחוד של יודי"ן ווי"ן ,ויחוד של פסוק חדשים לבקרים .ולילי ר"ח אחר חצות לילה יחוד של שם שד"י , ולילי שבת קודם חצות אחר הסעודה ב 'יחודים הנז"ל בלילי החול ,יחוד של עשר הויו"ת שבדעת:

גם הזהירני בשמירת שבת ובכבודו ,בכל הפרטים ,במעשה ,ובדבור ,יותר מכל המצות כלם ,וכן בכל ברכת הנהנין בכונה ,ותפילין של ר"ת בכל יום .גם אטרח להבין מה שאני מבין בספר הזוהר בכל מאמר ומאמר בלי ליאות ,עד שאבין .שמחה גדולה כשאעסוק בתורה ובמצוה ובתפלה .עסק התורה באופן זה , קביעות מקרא ,משנה ,תלמוד ,קבלה ,בכונותיהם .ויכוין לקשור נפשך בשרשה העליון ע"י התורה ,ועי"כ יתוקן האדם העליון .ולקום אחר חצות ,ולכוין במזמור הללויה ,ואחר סיומו בשם מנצפ"ך:

קצור ענין שרש נפשי ,קין הוא אבר כתף השמאלי כלו ,והוא שרש אחד ואבר אחד ,מתרי"ג שרשים שבאדה"ר .ונחלק לע 'שרשים קטנים ,והשרש של נפשי ,היא בשרש אחד מאלו הע ,'ואיני יודע אם הוא היותר גדול שבהם ,או הקטן שבהם וכו .'ופשוט הוא אצלי ,שנפשי עצמה היא מבחי 'העקב הנקרא מלכות .וגם שהיא מבחי 'לאה העליונה ,אך יש לי בזה ב 'מיני ספיקות ,האחד הוא ,ששרש נפשי היא

האחרון שבשבעים, והיא העקב של כללות כל הכתף כלו, שהיא מלכות התחתונה, ולא עוד אלא שנצוץ נפשי בעקב של זה העקב. הב' הוא, ששרשי בשרש העליון של ע' השרשים, ופרטיות נצוץ נפשי היא בעקב שבשרש הזה לבדו. והרי זה בחיצוניות, ר"ל בלבוש החיצון של נפשי. ומלבד אור הנפש שבלבוש הזה, עוד יש לבוש פנימי של נפשי, והיא שבגבורת ההוד, ממלכות שבמוח הדעת, מלבד אור הנפש שבלבוש הזה, הרי הם ב' כלים וב' אורות, וכלם נקראים נפש אחד:

כלל הדברים כי נפשי היא מן בחי' הגדלות שהוא הנשמה דמצד אימא, מן הגבורות שבה, בספירת הדעת דז"א, בהוד שבדעת שבמלכות שבכתר הדעת, וזה בכל פרצוף מן ה' פרצופים, וזה בכל עולם מד' עולמות אבי"ע. ואדם עצמו, הוא מבחי' קין ולמעלה, והוא מג' ראשונות כח"ב, שבכל מלכות שבכל הכתרים שבי"ס ז"א. ומה שהוריש אדם לקין הוא, כל הגבורות של הדעת, והז' תחתונות שבמלכות שבכתר. וקין עצמו מכל ט' תחתונות שבדעת. ותולדותיו, מז' תחתונות שבכל ספירה מי"ס ז"א:

הנה כבר נתבאר, כי הם ב' בחי', בחי' קין, ובחי' נפש אדם, שהוריש לקין. וזו הבחי' הב', נחלקת לשתים, אם מפאת אבר הזרוע והכתף עצמו. ואם מפאת הנוצות והכנפים. ועוד יש בחי' אחרות, והם אלו, כי כל בחי' ובחי' נחלקת לשתים, אור פנימי, ואור מקיף. וכבר ידעת, כי אור הפנימי קטן מן אור המקיף, כדי להיותו קטן, יכול להתלבש וליכנס בפנים ולהתצמצם. וכל בחי' שרש נשמתי, או כל הנוצות של כנף זו, הם בחי' אור פנימי, בין במלכות דאצילות, שהם כנפים וזרועות. ובין בזרועות דבי"ע. וכן מהר"י קארו ז"ל, בעל ספר בית יוסף על הטורים, מנוצת ר' יהודה בר אלעאי הנז"ל:

ובזה תבין, מ"ש לי בחלום שמקומי בעה"ב, הוא אצל הר"י ז"ל, ואח"כ עליתי יותר במקום שמואל הנביא ז"ל, כי הכל אחוזים בזו הכנף. ודע, כי גם אליהו ז"ל הוא מן השרש שלי, מאור הפנימי ג"כ. האמנם נדב ואביהוא בני אהרן הכהן, הם מן אור המקיף של שרש נשמתי, ולכן הוצרכו להתעבר באליהו ז"ל, שהוא אור פנימי גרוע מהם. ועל ידם זכה כל מה שזכה, והבן זה. ודע, כי כל מי שהוא מזו הבחינה של נפש אדם הניתן בקין, להיותה מבחי' נפש דאצילות כנז"ל, יכולים כל הנשמות שהם משרש זה, לעלות ולתקן עד נפש דאצילות והיא בכלל. ולכן כל מי שתקן עד זה נקרא מלאך, ולכן תמצא כי אליהו ז"ל נקרא מלאך.

וכן יהודה וחזקיה, נאמר עליהם בגמרא שהם תרי אמוראי בארעא, ולקבליהו תרי מלאכי ברקיעא, להיותם משרש זה. וכן אמרו עליו על ר' יהודה בר אלעאי שהיה מתעטף בליל שבת בסדינים המצויצים, ודומה למלאך ה' צבאות, והוא לסבה הנזכרת. וכן פינחס שהוא אליהו, נאמר עליו ותקח האשה את ב' האנשים, ותצפנו, ולא תאמר ותצפנם, כי פינחס היה מלאך, ולא הוצרכה להצפינו. וגם הוא נקרא מלאך, להיותו משרש זה. וכן בכל מקום שתמצא שם מלאך מכונה לאיזה חכם, או לתנא, או לנביא, כלם הם מבחי' זו, ושמור כלל זה:

ואמנם חנו"ך שהוא מטטרו"ן, להיות שנטל גם זיהרא עילאה דאדם, שהיא נשמה דאצילות, היה מלאך גדול מאליהו, כי אליהו לא היה יכול להשיג רק עד נפש דאצילות, וז"ס בס"ה אליהו לתתא מהאי באר הוא, ונודע, כי מקור הבאר הוא תחתיתו, שמשם נובע מ"ן, והוא שם הוי"ה במלוי ההי"ן, שהוא בגימטריא ב"ן, ולכן אליהו בגימטריא ב"ן, כי הוא מקור התחתון של הבאר, הנובע הנשמות דמ"ן. ולכן אליהו ז"ל יתקן כל הנשמות בביאת המשיח, ואז והשיב לב אבות על בנים בעהי"ת והמשכיל יבין:

ועתה אבאר מציאות נשמתי. דע, כי אין לך אדם שאין לו נשמה בחי' אור פנימי, ובחי' אור מקיף. והאור המקיף, דוגמתו היא, דוגמת הצלם שעל ראש ז"א, כמבואר אצלינו וזה האור המקיף, הוא סוד אך בצלם יתהלך איש. ודע, כי זו הבחי' של קין, שהוא שרש נשמתי, לא התחילה ליתקן עד נדב ואביהוא. וז"ס, פסוק ויהי אנשים אשר היו טמאים לנפש אדם, נפש אדם ממש, שהנחילה לקין בנו, והיא נפש דאצילות.

ואמנם דע, כי כל הנשמות נתערבו טוב עם רע, מעת שחטא אדם, ומעת שחטאו קין והבל, כנזכר בתקונים. והנה נשמת נדב ואביהוא, התחיל בתחלה ליתקן, והוברר הטוב ההוא מן הרע שבו. ואמנם כל שאר הנשמות אשר משרש בחי' זו, עדיין לא הוברר, וכלם באו בסוד צלם מקיף כל אחת, בעת הנגזר לה לצאת מן הקליפות, על ראש נדב ואביהוא, ועדיין היו אז כל אחת ואחת מעורבים הטוב עם רע שלו.

ואח"כ, כשחזרה הנשמה אחרת להתקן מזה השרש באדם אחד, היא לבדה נתגלת, אך כל שאר הנשמות שבכל שרש הזה, באו בסוד צלם מקיף על ראש האיש ההוא:

וכן נמשך לעולם, עד שבאה נשמת הרב מגיד משנה בעולם, ואז כל הנשמות של שורש הזה שלא נטרדו מקליפתם, באו עליו בסוד צלם מקיף כנז"ל. והנה הרב מגיד משנה, כבר ידעת שהיה בימי בדרשי, שהיו עוסקים בחכמת הפילוסופיא, ולא בחרו בחכמת הקבלה, כנזכר בשו"ת הרשב"א זלה"ה, ובקשו החצונים

להטעות את הרב מגיד משנה ,לסבת עון הנזכר ,שלא היה מאמין בחכמת הקבלה .ואז הוציאו את נפשם שהיתה נתונה בעמקי הקליפות מזמן רב מימות קין ,והם נתיאשו ממני ,וחשבו כי כבר הייתי מחברתם , והוציאוני אותי ,וגם כמה חיצונים אחרים ,להתעבר בהרב מגיד משנה ,ולהטעותו ,לאבדו מן העולם . ולהיות שנשמתי היתה ממקום גבוה כנז"ל ,מעם מקום ר 'עקיבא ז"ל ,ובפרט שנתעברתי בהרב מגיד משנה ,שגם הוא משרש נשמתי ,ואז נתחברנו יחד ,ואדרבא גברה כחי על החיצונים ,וחזקתיו וסייעתיו ,כי הם חשבו שכבר הייתי אבוד ביניהם מזמן רב ,וכי כבר הייתי במדרגתם ח"ו ,וגברה הקדושה אשר בי , והכנעתים ,וכפפתי אותם ,ונשארתי אז בסוד צלם מקיף על ראש הרב מגיד משנה ,אעפ"י שאינו ממדרגתי כי אני גבוה מאד ,עכ"ז להיותו משרשי ,נשארתי עמו בסוד צלם מקיף ,ואז היתה התחלתי לצאת מעמקי הקליפות:

וכדי שתבין זה ,אודיעך פסוק עד אשר שלט האדם באדם לרע לו ,כי האדם הוא אדם בליעל ,והם החיצונים ,ושולטים באדם הקדוש ,בנשמות הקדושות ,מחמת עון אדם וקין והבל בניו ,שעירבו טוב ברע . וכפי גדלות הנשמה הקדושה ,כן גדלות הרע שלה ,כי כפי האבר שנאחזת בקדושה ,כן תתערב באבר שכנגדו בטומאה .וז"ס כל הגדול מחבירו ,יצרו גדול ממנו .וזה ג"כ היה ענין דוד הע"ה ,שהיתה נשמה גדולה ,ובפגם אדם נתערבה ברע גדול מאד בעמקי הקליפות ,ולכן יצא אדמוני ,ועשה ענין דבת שבע ואביגיל ,ולא נחשב לו כלום ,והטעם הוא ,כפי שאז היתה הפעם הא 'שיצא מעמקי הקליפות ,ובא משותף עם רע גדול מאד ,ואינו מן התימא אם יעשה מה שעשה ובפרט כי הקב"ה הניחו ביד יצרו להרבות שכרו . וז"ס מ"ש ז"ל אלמלא אתה שאול ,והוא דוד ,הייתי מאבד כמה דוד מפני שאול ,וזה דבר תימא ,כי הצור תמים פעלו .אלא הענין הוא כנזכר ,כי אם הנשמה גדולה מאד ,ובפרט אם אז יוצאת מעמקי הקליפות , הקב"ה מניחו ביד יצה"ר ,להרבות שכרו ,לראותו שנשמתו גדולה ,ולא יוכל הרע עמו .ולכן אפילו שיעשה איזה דבר אשר לא טוב ,לא אשם בזה .מטא"כ אם רואה הקב"ה ,שהאדם חלש ,ונשמתו שפלה ,שמביאו בגלגול תם ,שאפילו שירצה להרע ,אין בו כח .ולכן אל תתמה ,אם אנשים גדולים מאד יעשו איזה עון , שלא יעשהו פחות ממנו מאד במעלה .וז"ס פסוק כי האדם יראה לעינים וה 'יראה ללבב וגו ,'הם שני לבבות טוב ורע ,והרע שלו גדול עד מאד ,והטוב שהוא עושה אפילו שהוא מועט יותר גדול מאדם אחר , וז"ש דוד ויעלני מבור שאון מטיט היון וגו ,'ויתן בפי שיר חדש וגו ,'ודי בזה למבין:

וא"ל מורי ז"ל ,כי גם אני להיות שנשמתי בתכלית הגדולה והקדושה ,הניחני הקב"ה ביד היצה"ר שלי , שאלולי גודל נשמתי ,היה היצה"ר שלי יכול לאבדני ח"ו מן העולם ,לכן אין עונותי שקולים א 'מני אלף , כמו לאנשים אחרים ,כי נסתלקה מהם בחירתם ,לסבת חולשת נפשם .אמנם אני שעומד עתה בתחלת נקיון ,אין עונותי נחשבים לכלום בפני עונות אחרים ,כי זו היא הפעם הא 'שיצאתי מן הקליפות ובאתי לעולם ,ואלולי זה בקלות מועט הייתי יכול להיות חסיד גדול מאד מאד כפי גודל נשמתי:

ועוד טעם אחר ,כי הטוב של קין ,להיותו בכור ,כמו שנבאר למטה בעהי"ת ,הנה הטוב שלו גדול בתכלית המעלה ,יותר מכל שאר הנשמות .אמנם להיות שרשו בכתף הגבורה ,ששם הדינים הם מתגברים ,לכן הטוב של קין עם היותו גדול ,בא מעורב עם זוהמא רבא וקליפות גדולות ,והרע של קין מרובה מן הטוב , עם היותו גדול מאד:

ודע ,כי לעולם כשהנשמה היא גדולה מאד ,אי אפשר להוציאה מן הקליפות ,אלא ע"י מרמה ותחבולה , וכמו שאירע לי ,שלהיותם החיצונים חושבים ,שכבר הייתי אבוד ביניהם ח"ו ,לא חששו על הענין ,והוציאני הקב"ה מביניהם ,על צלם מקיף הרב מגיד משנה ,והם חשבו כי אדרבא לטובתם היה ,ונהפכתי להם לאויב .וכן תראה ,כי הנשמות רבות גדולות ,באים בבני עמי הארץ ,ולפעמים בבני רשעים ,כגון אברהם מתרח ,ולא הספיק זה ,אלא כמ"ש חז"ל וכן נזכר בזוהר ,כי תרח ארתח למאריה ,שנזדווג עם אשתו בנדה ,ואז יצא אברהם אבינו ע"ה ,כי עי"כ רימה השי"ת את החיצונים ,והמשיך באותה טפה נשמת אברהם אבינו ע"ה ,ולא ידעו החיצונים כי זהו תקונו .וזהו הטעם שתרח נתגלגל באיוב ,ולכן נדון בשחין , כי הבא על הנדה לוקה בצרעת .וכן לסבה זו הושלך אברהם להתלבן בכבשן האש והבן זה:

וכן דוד המלך ע"ה ,לא יצא מן החיצונים ,אלא באותו מעשה הנזכר לרז"ל על פסוק הן בעון חוללתי , שחשב ישי אבי דוד שבא אל פילגשו ,והיתה אשתו ממש .וכן אשתו ראתה טפת דם בסוף הזיוג ,וזש"ה ובחטא יחמתני אמי ,כי אלולי כך ,לא הניחוהו החיצונים לצאת לעולם .וכן זהו הטעם ,של תמר ,ורות , ורחב הזונה ,וכל נשמות הגרים ,וכל מלכי בית דוד ,והמטיח ,שבאים מן רות המואביה ,ומזווג יהודה ותמר ,וכן ר 'עקיבא בן גרים ,שהוא מבני בניו של סיסרא ,כי זו היא המרמה ותחבולה שהקב"ה עושה עם

הקליפה, ומרמה אותה להוציא נשמה עשוקה בתוכם והבן זה:
ונחזור לענייננו, כי להיות זאת הפעם הראשונה שיצאתי מן הקליפה, לכן יש לי טורח להכניע את יצרי, וזו
היא סיבת העצבות שיש בלבי תמיד, כי כל העצבון בא מן החצונים. והנה כבר אמרתי, כי נפשי באה
בסוד צלם על ראש הרב מגיד משנה, אע"פ שהוא קטן ממדרגתי. ודע, כי כל הנשמות הנתונים בעמקי
הקליפות, אי אפשר להם לצאת מהם ולהתגלגל תכף לבא בעולם, עד שיהיו שלשה פעמים בסוד צלם, מקיף על שלשה אנשים שיהיו משרשו, ואח"כ יכול להתגלגל ולבא בעולם בסוד נשמה פנימית ממש, ואז
יקרא גלגול א'. והנה כן אירע לנפשי, כי באתי תחלה בסוד צלם מקיף בשלשה אנשים מן שרש נשמתי, אע"פ שאינם ממדרגתי. הא' היה בהרב מגיד משנה ז"ל, ואח"כ באיש אחד הנקרא ר' יהושע סוריאנו.
ואח"כ באיש אחד הנקרא ר' שאול טרישטי. ואח"כ בי אני הצעיר חיים, בסוד נשמה פנימית ממש. ודע, כי
אני הוא נשמה חדשה כנז"ל, שזו היא פעם ראשונה שבאתי לעולם, אמנם נתגלגלו גם כן עמי שלשה
אנשים הנזכרים, באופן שיש עתה בי ארבעה נשמות, שלי החדשה, ושלשה מגולגלות ישנות. ודע, כי אלו
השלשה אנשים, אע"פ ששנים מהם אינם חכמים, עכ"ז כבר כתבתי למעלה, כי אין לך נשמה של ת"ח, שאין לה ענפים של בעלי בתים ועמי הארץ ואנשי מעשה, לסבת היותם משרשי, וגם שאני הייתי בסוד
צלם על ראשם, לכן נתגלגלו בי עתה לצורך עצמם. והפגם של הרב המגיד משנה הוא, שבא לידו עון
שוגג של נדה. ור' שאול טרישטי היה אחריו, וחטא בעון שפיכות דמים בשוגג, כי רצה למול ילד אחד, ולא
היה בקי, ומת התנוק מתחת ידו, ונמצא שהוא שוגג קרוב למזיד. ור' יהושע סוריאנו היה אחריו, וחטא
שאכל חלב במזיד. ולכן שלשתם הוצרכו להתגלגל עם נשמתי, לתקן את חטאתם, ולהיות שאני הוא
מבחי' הגידים, ואני צריך לנקות העפוש שיש בתוכם מחמת עונותיהם, כדי לתקן כל השרש ולהמשיך
בחי' הדם והחיות לכל האבר, אע"פ שלא חטאתי עמהם, כיון שהם הענפים שלי צריך אני לתקנם:
עוד א"ל מורי ז"ל בענין דרוש הנשמות. דע, כי אדה"ר היה כולל כל הנשמות שבעולם, וכשחטא נתמעט, כמ"ש חז"ל בפסוק ותשת עלי כפכה, ולא נשאר בי רק התרומה. וז"ס שנקרא אדה"ר חלתו של עולם ופי'
תרומה, תרי ממאה לבד בכל בחינותיו. ואמנם מצד נפש אדם העשיה, נשארו באדם תרי ממאה היותר
מובחרים, כי לכן נקרא תרומה, שנאמר בה והרמותם את חלבו ממנו, שהוא המשובח שבכלם. וזאת
התרומה הנחילה אדם לקין בנו, כי הוא הבכור, ונולד אחר חטא האדם, ונפש זו נתגלגלה בנדב ואביהוא, והם תרי ממאה. וז"ס מש"ה בהם, אנחנו טמאים לנפש אדם, והיל"ל לנפשות אדם, אלא פירושו, ששניהם מבחי' נפש של אדם ממש כנזכר. ושאר תשעים ושמנה חלקים של נפש אדם, פרחו ממנו
ונסתלקו בעת פגם כשחטא, וזהו ג"כ מש"ה הבכור נדב, ויש בו פסק טעמא, כלומר הבכור הראשון
שבעולם שהיה קין, הוא נדב, וג"כ אביהוא, ר"ל, כי הוא אבי, שהוא נפש אדם הא', אב לכל העולם:
והטעם שאביהוא נתכנה יותר אל האדם הוא, כי אביהוא היו נפשו ורוחו מבחי' קין, לכן נקרא אביהוא,
שהוא הוא עצמו, בין בנפש בין ברוח. אמנם נדב לא היה בו מצד קין, אלא הרוח לבד, וז"ס ורוח נדיבה
תסמכני. אמנם נפשו של נדב, היה משרש עמינדב אבי אמו, ולכן לקח ממנו אותיות נדב. אמנם אביהוא, הוא שרש נחשון אחי אמו, ונקרא נחשון, לפי שעיקר זוהמת הנחש באדם הראשון, היה בחלק נפש
העשיה, ולכן כשנתגלגל אחר כך נחשון בישי אבי דוד, נאמר בו אביגיל בת נחש, וארז"ל שהיא ישי, ונקרא נחש, לפי שמת בעטיו של נחש ופירושו הוא, כי תקן כל זוהמת הנחש שנתערבה בנפש אדה"ר, אך עכ"ז מת בעטיו של נחש, ועל ידי זה נתקן הבל:
והנה אם ישראל בעת מתן תורה, לא היו עושים העגל, כבר נפסקה הזוהמא מהם, ואע"פ שנדב ואביהוא
חטאו מצד עצמם, כמש"ה ואל אצילי בני ישראל לא שלח ידו וגו', עכ"ז היה מספיק להם שימותו מיתת
עצמם, אך לא ע"י שריפה. חזרה זוהמת הנחש להתדבק בנפש אדם, שהם נדב ואביהוא, ולכן הוצרכו
להשרף. וזהו ענין פסוק ואחיכם כל בית ישראל יבכו את השריפה אשר שרף ה', כי הם גרמו שריפתם,
לא המיתה עצמה, ולכן כל בית ישראל יבכו עליהם, יען כי הם שקולים ככל ישראל, כי הם נפש אדם
עצמו. והנה מי שעשה העגל, היה אהרן אביהם, ולכן נשרפו בניו בסבתו. וזהו ובאהרן התאנף ה' מאד
להשמידו, ואין השמד אלא כלוי בנים, ולא נשרפו אלא נדב ואביהוא, שהם נפו אדם כנזכר:
ודע, כי אהרן הכהן הוא משרש הבל, ותחלה נתגלגל, בהרן, אהרן, נדב, חור, יעבץ, הרן, שמואל, אוריה
הכהן, אוריה החתי, כדאיתא למעלה בענין השרשים, ומצאת שם כי תדרשם באורך. והרן הוא גלגול
הבל, וגם נחור אחי הרן הוא מן הבל. והנה אהרן הוא אותיות הרן. וחור בנה של מרים, הם אותיות נחור.
והנה הרן בא לתקן העון של ע"ז שעבר אדם הא', כמש"ה ויצו ה' אלהים וגו' ואין צו אלא ע"ז. וגם עתה

בהרן לא האמין בשם יתברך אלא בספק .והנה לא נמצא יותר בדרוש הזה ,ולמעלה כבר נתבאר כל זה

Chapter 39
בקשר החברים כלם עם אבא מארי זלה"ה:
ועתה אבאר הקשר שיש לי עם החברים שלי ,א"ל מורי ז"ל כי הנה נתבאר איך כל הנשמות כלם היו תחלה כלולות באדה"ר ,ואח"כ מפני שחטא ,נשרו איבריו ,ונתמעט קומתו .וכבר ביארנו ,כי פי 'הדבר הוא ,ענין ירידת הנשמות אל עמקי הקליפות ,ולא נשתיירו בו אלא קצתם ,שהוא סוד מאה אמות ,כמ"ש חז"ל על פסוק ותשת עלי כפכה .והנה היו באדה"ר קצת נשמות חדשות שלא באו מעולם ,והיו כלולות בו קודם שחטא ,ונסתלקו, ואלו הם נקראים נשמות חדשות האמיתיות .ואח"כ יש מדרגה אחרת ,והם הנשמות שנשתיירו באדם הראשון ,ואלו עדיין נקראות חדשות ,אבל לא בערך הראשונות .וכאשר אלו הנשמות יבאו בגלגול בפעם ראשונה ,אחר שמת אדה"ר ונפרדו ממנו ,אז נקראות חדשות .והטעם הוא , לפי כי יצירת אדה"ר עדיין אינה נחשבת לפעם א ,'לפי שיצירתו היתה בבחי 'אחור באחור כנודע ולכן אינה נחשבת ,עד שיבא פנים בפנים ,ואז תקרא פעם א ,'ואם גם אחרי מיתת אדם לא תזכה נשמה זו לבא בעולם ,אלא ע"י זווג אחור באחור ,עכ"ז כבר נקרא עתה פעם א 'ג"כ ,כיון שבא אחר מיתת אדה"ר: ואחר מדרגה זו ,היא מדרגת קין והבל ,שהם מאותם הנשמות אשר נשתיירו באדה"ר ,והורישם לקין והבל בחייו .וגם בחי 'זו אינה נחשבת עדיין לפעם א .'אבל כאשר נשמות אלו יחזרו לבא בעולם אחר מיתת קין והבל ,אפילו אם יבאו בבחי 'אחור באחור ,תקרא פעם א ,'ותקרא ג"כ נשמה חדשה .ומשם ואילך אם תחזור פעם אחרת ,אז תקרא מגולגלת ,כי אפילו שניתן מן אדם לקין והבל ,כיון שלא היה אחר מיתתו אלא בהיותו חי עדיין הנחילם לבניו ,אינו נחשב לביאת פעם א 'בפני עצמה ,אמנם עכ"ז הם גרועים מן אותם שנשארו באדה"ר ממש ,ואינם כ"כ נקראים חדשות כמותם:
ואח"כ מדרגה אחרת ,הם הנשמות שנפלו בעמקי הקליפות בחטאו של אדה"ר ,כי אלו בפעם ראשונה שיבואו לעולם נקראים מגולגלות:
ואח"כ מדרגה אחרת ,והם הנשמות הבאים בגרים ,והנה כל פרטי הנשמות כלם ירדו אל הקליפות ,חוץ מן החדשות הגמורות האמיתיות ,שהם מדרגה א 'הנז"ל .אבל כל השאר ירדו אל הקליפות ,אלא שאינם שוות במדרגתם ,כי אותם אשר נשתיירו באדם עצמו ,אין בהם רק פגם אחד של אדם .ואותם אשר הנחיל לקין והבל בניו ,יש בהם ב 'מיני פגם ,אחד של אדם ,ואחד של קין והבל עצמם ,שחטאו גם הם ,כנזכר בתקונין:
ודע ,כי כאשר הנשמות יוצאות מעמקי הקליפות ,כדי לבא בעולם ,הם צריכות בתחלה להתעבר במלכות , כדי להטהר ולהתנקות מאותם הקליפות והזוהמות שהיו בתוכם כבראשונה ,וכפי גדר הנשמה ,כך יהיה בה כח וזכות להתעכב שם ,כי בחי 'החדשות הגמורות ,הם יכולות להתעכב במלכות ,בסוד עבור י"ב חדש ,ואח"כ באות בעולם ,ולכן יש עבור של י"ב חדש ,כנזכר בגמרא במעשה דרבא תוספאה ,ובחי 'הב ,

שהם הנשמות שנשתיירו באדם, כי אלו גם הם חדשות, אבל לא כבראשונות, ולכן אינם עומדות בסוד עבור במלכות רק ט 'חדשים בלבד, ואח"כ באות בעולם. ובחינה השלישית, והיא נשמת קין והבל, גם הם נקראים חדשות אבל לא בראשונות ולא בשניות, שאלו יש בהם ב 'מיני פגם כנז"ל, ולכן אלו עבורם ז 'חדשים בלבד. ובחי 'הד 'שהם שאר הנשמות שנשרו מאדה"ר, ירדו אל הקליפות, אע"פ שהם עדיין בפעם א, 'או שאר בחי 'הנשמות הראשונות כשבאו בפעם ב, 'אז כלם נקראים נשמות מגולגלות כנז"ל. וכל אלו אינם יכולות להתעכב בעבור במלכות רק מ 'יום כנגד יצירת הולד, ואח"כ באות בעולם. ובחינה החמשית והם נשמות הגרים, אלו אינם מתעכבות רק עבור שלשה ימים בלבד כדי קליטת הזרע, ואח"כ באות בעולם. ודע, כי כפי זמן התעכבם בעבור במלכות, כך יהיה גודל הארתם והזדככותם מן הקליפות:

גם דע הקדמה אחרת, כי הנה כל אלו הנשמות כאשר יוצאות מתוך הקליפות, אינם יוצאות אלא ע"י התפלות של ישראל, שעולות בסוד מ"ן כנודע, או ג"כ ע"י איזה יחוד שמיחד האדם איזה צדיק שיהיה, או ג"כ ע"י איזו מצוה שיעשה האדם. והנה יש נשמות שע"י איזה פגם שיש בתחתונים, או מחמת פגם עצמם שחטאו בראשונה בהיותם בעה"ז, ועי"ז הם יורדות אל הקליפות אז, ואם אז נזדמן יציאת ועליית איזו נשמה מתוך הקליפה להתעבר במלכות ולהתקן כנז"ל, יש יכולת באותה נשמה שבמלכות, לאחוז באותם הנשמות הנפגמות קודם שירדו אל הקליפות, ולהעמידם במקומם, ולהחזירם עמם למעלה בתוך המלכות בסוד העבור, ושם יתוקנו כלם יחד, ואח"כ יבאו בעולם. והענין הוא, כי בהיות הנשמה במעי המלכות, היא שם תמיד מעלה מ"ן למעלה, ובכח אותם המ"ן שהיא מעלה, יכולה להעלות עמה לאותה הנשמה הנזכרת. אמנם אי אפשר זה, אם לא על ידי שיניח קצת רוחא דשדי בגווה, פי 'שהנשמה הראשונה שהיא במלכות, נותנת כח א 'ממנה, באותה נשמה הפגומה, והיא מתלבשת בהאי רוחא, ועל ידה היא נתקנת, וזה הרוח נשאר תמיד עמה קשור, עד זמן תחית המתים, ואז הם מתפרשות:

ודע, כי אם הנשמה שהיתה מעוברת, כבר היא ממדרגת אותם הנשמות, שעומדות בעבור י"ב חדש, יש בה כח ויכולת, שגם הנשמה שהיא פגומה שעכבה עמה, תעמוד עמה ג"כ י"ב חדש, אפילו שאינה אלא ממדרגה התחתונה שבכלם, שהיא של שלשה ימים, שהם נשמות הגרים. וכן אם הראשונה מבחי 'ט 'או ז 'חדשים, והאחרת גרועה יותר שהיא מבחי 'מ 'יום, או שלשה ימים, תעמוד כמוה ט 'או ז 'הדשים. ואם הדבר להפך, שהראשונה המעכבת את האחרת, אינה אלא מן מדרגת ט 'חדשים, והשנית שנתעכבה על ידה היא ממדרגת י"ב חדש, אז שתיהם עומדות י"ב חדש, באופן שלעולם אזלינן לרווחא דמילתא ולעלוייא:

אמר לי מורי ז"ל, כי כל החברים האלו שהיו עמי, כלם הם מגולגלים מבחי 'מ 'יום בלבד. אבל אני חדש מבחי 'קין והבל בפעם אחד שבאתי לעולם, וזמני הוא עבור של שבעה חדשים, וא"כ נמצא עכבתי אותם, שלא יפלו אל הקליפות, וזכו על ידי להתעכב גם הם כמוני שבעה חדשים. ואני שיש לי בכל אחד מאלו קצת מהרוח שלי מורכב בהם, וכלם יונקים ע"י, ולכן אני צריך להשתדל לתקנם, כי אני מתקן את עצמי ע"י תקנתם כמו שאבאר למטה:

והנה אני מסופק בזה איך א"ל מורי ז"ל, אם אמר שגם אלו המגולגלים, אם יהיו מבחי 'אדם עצמו, רק שבאו שני פעמים, כיון ששרשם הא 'הוא מתשעה חדשים, א"כ עתה שנתעכבו ונתקנו ע"י זאת הנשמה, א"כ גם את זאת הנשמה תהיה משבעה חדשים, גם שניהם מתעכבים ט 'חדשים. ואם כך שמעתי, יש לי ספק גם בעצמי, כי הנה אני יודע כי קצת מהחברים האלו הם מבחי 'אדם, וא"כ נתעכבנו אני והם ט 'חדשים:

ונחזור אל הענין, כי הנה לא תכנתי אני יחד את כל נשמות החברים הנז', אבל בראשונה עכבתי נשמה אחת, ואחר כך ע"י שתופי ושתוף הנשמה ההיא שעכבתי, שנינו עכבנו את הנשמה האחרת, ונמצא כי בנשמה ההיא יש בה ב 'רוחין, אחד שלי, ואחד מן הנשמה הראשונה שעכבתי אני. וכן עד"ז בכלם, עד הסוף. ונמצא כי הנשמה העשירית, יש בה חד רוחא ממני, וכן רוח אחת מכל התשעה חברים שקדמו אליה, ולא ביאר לי מורי ז"ל סדרם. אבל כפי הסדר שסדר מורי ז"ל בענין חזרת קריאת הדרושים, הבנתי כי סדרם כך, כי תחלה הוא אני הצעיר חיים ויטאל, ואחר כך ה"ר יונתן סאגיס ז"ל, ואחר כך מהר"י ארזין ז"ל, ואחר כך מהר"י הכהן ז"ל. והשאר לא ידעתי, ואין לתמוה אם אני קודם להם כנז"ל שאני עכבתים, אם כן איך יש בהם חברים גדולים ממני בשנים וקדמו בעולם אלי, והענין הוא, כי אע"פ שאני קדמתי להם בבחי 'עבור, עכ"ז בזמן יציאת הנשמות בעה"ז, אפשר שיקדמו הם:

ובאור הענין הוא, דע, כי אחר שהנשמה היתה בסוד עבור במלכות, יש נשמה שתכף אחר זמן עבורה,

יורדת אל העה"ז ,ויש שיורדת אל עולם הבריאה ועומדת שם ,ומשרתת לפני השי"ת ,כשאר המלאכים אשר שם .ואח"כ לזמן קצוב ,או בזמן שיזדמן איזו תפלה ,או איזה זכות ,או איזה מצוה של איזו אדם בעולם ,אז תרד ותבא בעה"ז .וז"ס פסוק חי ה 'אשר עמדתי לפניו ,הנזכר באליהו הנביא ז"ל .כי אליהו ז"ל ,אחר צאת נפשו מסוד העבור דמלכות דאצילות ,ירדה אל הבריאה ,ושם ממש נתעכב שם ,והיה משרת לפני השי"ת כשאר מלאכי השרת אשר שם .ואל זה רמזו בזוהר פרשת אחרי מות בדף ס"ח , בענין פסוק חי ה 'אשר עמדתי לפניו וע"ש .ויש נשמה שיורדת בעולם היצירה ,ונשארת שם ע"ד הנזכר. ויש נשארת בעולם העשיה בעה"ז .אבל כלם הם יוצאות מן מלכות דאצילות ,רק שזו נשארת בבריאה ע"ד הנז"ל ,וזו ביצירה ,וזו בעשיה .והנה כל זה תלוי במעשה התחתונים בעה"ז ,כי יש תפלה שאין בה כח רק לעלות הנשמה בעבור במלכות ,ויש תפלה אחרת יותר בכונה ,ומקובלת לפני השי"ת ,ויש בה כח להוריד ולהביא את הנשמה בעה"ז ,ויש תפלה שאינה יכולה להורידה רק בעולם הבריאה ,וכן כיוצא בזה , ואין זה תלוי בענין גדרי הנשמה בעצמה ,רק כפי פעולות התחתונים המתייחסות אל הנשמות ההם ,וגם כפי האדם עצמו הפועל הפעולה ההיא ,כך ישיג ויהיה כח בידו להמשיך נשמה אחת בבנו ,אותה שהיא יותר קרובה אליו כפי בחי 'שרש נשמתו ,והנשמה האחרת תשאר ,עד שיהיה לה גואל הקרוב אליה יותר , ואין דבר זה תלוי במעלת הנשמה או בפחיתותה להתעכב יותר מחבירתה:

והנה הנשמה אשר תכף אחר הולדה ממלכות דאצילות ,יורדת בעה"ז בלי הפסק בינתים ,זו ודאי יש לה יתרון ,כי אינה מתלבשת בשום עולם ,רק עוברת בו דרך מעבר בלבד .אבל המתעכבת למעלה ,הנה היא מתלבשת באותו עולם ,ובאה אה"כ מלובשת .וגם אינו דומה המתעכב בבריאה ,אל המתעכב ביצירה ,או בעשיה ,כי לבוש הבריאה ,הוא זך ודק עד מאד משל יצירה ,ושל יצירה זך משל עשיה .והנה לפעמים שהנשמה המתעכבת ומתלבשת באיזו עולם ,היא גדולה במעלה ,מן הנשמה היורדות ברגע בעה"ז בלי שום הפסק ולבוש ,לפי שמעלתה גדולה מן האחרת .אמנם בכל נשמה בעצמה יש בה שנוי ,כי אם הנשמה עצמה תרד ברגע ,תהיה יותר מאירה מן כאשר תתעכב באיזה עולם ואחר כך תרד .וא"ל מורי ז"ל ,כי גם נצוץ נפשי ,לא ירדה תכף אחר צאתה מן העבור בעולם הזה ,אמנם נתעכבה למעלה ,ולא הגיד לי באיזה עולם נתעכבה:

ונחזור לענין ,כי א"ל מורי ז"ל ,כי אני מוכרח להשתדל שאלו החברים שלי ,יתקנו מעשיהם ,לפי שאני יש לי רוחא בהם ,ונמשך לי ריוח אם הם יהיו צדיקים ,אבל הם אין להם רוחא בי ,ואין להם תועלת במעשי , באופן שבכל המצות שהם עושים ,יש לי חלק בהם ע"י ההוא רוחא שלי שבהם .וברור הענין כך הוא ,דע , אין לך צדיק וצדיק שאין לו ב 'נשמות ,כנזכר בזוהר בריש פרשת נח בתוספתא על נח נח ,משה משה , שמואל שמואל .וזה פירושו ,כי הנה יש בחי 'נשמה פנימית ,וזו באה עם האדם .ויש נשמה מקפת ,וזו עומדת על ראש האדם בעולם העליון למעלה ,וזו בחי 'צנור שיש לאדם לעלות למעלה ,ע"י אותה הנשמה .וכאשר ח"ו אותה הנשמה הפנימית של האדם היא חוטאת ,היא יורדת למטה בקליפות מעט ,עד שתרד כלה ,והכל כפי גדר הענין של העונות .וכאשר ירדה כלה למטה בקליפות ,אז הנשמה המקפת יורדת בתוך פנימיות האדם ,ונמצא כי שתיהם ירדו ממעלתם .וגם נמצא ,שאין עתה אל האדם רק נשמה אחת ,כי האחרת ירדה אל הקליפות .וז"ס פסוק ונכרתה הנפש ההיא ,כי היא נכרתת ונכנסת בקליפות .אבל הצדיק ,יש לו ב 'נשמות קיימות ,אחת בבחי 'מקיף ,ואחת בבחי 'פנימית .וז"ש פרשת נח ענין נה נח וכו ,'שכל צדיק יש לו ב 'נשמות .והנה דרך אותה הנשמה המקפת שיש לי ,משם נמשך כל אור ושפע הנמשך לאלו החברים ,מצד ההוא רוהא די הוא בגוייהו ,והכל עובר דרך שם ,ואז מאותו האור שלהם ,הנמשך להם דרך שם ,נמשך אלי גם כן מאותו האור שלהם וחלק שלהם ,אל נשמתי הפנימית . ולכן אני צריך ומוכרח להשתדל שיתוקנו על ידי ,וילמדו על ידי .אבל בנשמה הפנימית שלי אין להם שתוף בה ,ולכן אינם יונקים מן המצות שלי:

ועתה נדבר בבחי 'הקשר של החברים ,ואני עמהם עם מורינו ז"ל ,וגם קשר שלהם עצמם זה עם זה .ועי ' בספרנו איך בדעת יש ז 'קצוות דחסדים ,המתפשטים בגופא .וכנגדם שבעה גבורות .והם שרשים לחסדים וגבורות המתפשטים למטה בגוף .ואלו הארבעה עשר שרשים שבדעת ,הם נשמות שנים עשר שבטים ,ואפרים ומנשה .גם כבר ידעת ,כי כל טפות הזרע אינם באות ,אלא מן הדעת דז"א ,הכולל חו"ג . ואמנם יש טפות זרע ,נמשכות ממוח הדעת עצמו ,בהיותו במקומו למעלה בראש .ויש נמשכות מהחו"ג , שנמשכו ונתפשטו בגוף ,שהוא ו"ק דז"א:

והנה נפשי מהגבורה החמשית ,הנקראת הוד שבדעת ממש ,בהיותו בראש בבחי 'מוחין דגדלות מצד

אימא .הר"י הכהן ,מן הגבורה הנמשכת בזרוע ימין ,הנקרא חסד .ה"ר יונתן סאגיס ,בגבורה הב ', הנמשכת בזרוע שמאל ,הנקראת גבורה .ה"ר יעקב ארזין ,בגבורה הג ',הנמשכת בגוף ,הנקרא ת"ת .
ה"ר יוסף ן 'טבול ,בגבורה הרביעית ,הנמשכת בירך ימין ,הנקרא נצה .נמצא כי אלו הד 'נפשות ,מד ' גבורות דגדלות ,המתפשטות בד 'קצוות הנקראים חגת"ן דזעיר ,ויונקין מן נפשי ,שאני בגבורת ההוד
העליונה שבדעת שבראש ז"א .ה"ר יהודה משען וה"ר גדליה הלוי ,וה"ר שבתי מנשה ,הם מן חב"ד
דז"א ,ממוחין דקטנות דז"א ,דמצד אבא .ה"ר שמואל אוזידא ,וה"ר אברהם גבריאל ,וה"ר אליא פלקו"ן ,
הם מחב"ד דז"א ,ממוחין דקטנות מצד אימא .ואמנם בחי 'התפשטות חמשה גבורות דקטנות אינם
ניכרות ,אלא המוחין דקטנות בלבד:
גם דע ,כי אין אור נשמה בעולם ,שאין לה כלי ולבוש אחד ,שבו מתלבשת בעה"ז ,והלבוש הזה נזכר
בזוהר פרשת משפטים ברב ייבא סבא ז"ל ,על פסוק שארה כסותה ועונתה לא יגרע .ועל פסוק בבגדו
בה .וענין לבוש הזה של אלו החברים ,דע ,כי הנה מה שאירע ליוסף הצדיק עם אדונתו במצרים ,שיצאו
עשרה טיפי זרע מבין נצוצי רגליו ,כמש"ה ויפוזו זרועי ידיו ,ג"כ היה כן בעולם העליון .כי הנה יוסף הצדיק ,
הוא דוגמת היסוד ,ואז בעת ההיא ,יצאו נצוצות לבושי אורות נשמות מיסוד העליון של הזכר לבטלה ,ולא
נתנו בנקבה ,ולכן נאחזו בהם הקליפות .ובכל בחי 'יסוד שיש למעלה ,יצאו נצוצות של נשמות לבטלה
בקליפות כי כל היסודות נרמזים ביוסף .והנה חמשה מיני זווגים יש שם למעלה ,ובכל יסוד מהם ,יצאו
נצוצות של נשמות לבטלה כנזכר ,ואלו הם כפי סדר מעלתם:
זווג א ,'הוא ישראל שהוא ז"א ,עם רחל .וזווג זה הוא בשבת במוסף ,כי אז רחל נגדלת בכל אורך ז"א
ממש כמוהו ,ואז מזדווגים יהד ע"י יסוד האמיתי של ז"א:
זווג ב ,'הוא זווג יעקב עם רחל ,בשחרית בימי החול ,ומזדווג עמה ביסוד שלו האמיתי:
זווג ג ,'הוא זווג יעקב עם לאה ,אחר חצות לילה ,ואז מתפשטים שניהם באורך כל הז"א כלו ,ואז הוא
מציאות יסוד אחד שלו:
זווג ד ,'הוא זווג ישראל עם לאה ,במנחה דחול ,ואינה היא מתפשטת רק בחציו העליון ,שהוא עד החזה
שלו ,ואז הוא מזדווג עמה ביסוד הא 'שהיה לו אל הז"א בהיותו בסוד ו"ק כמבואר אצלינו בענין התפלות:
הזווג ה ,'הוא זווג יעקב עם לאה ,בתפלת ערבית דחול ,והוא בחציו העליון של ישראל ,ואז הוא מציאות
עמה יסוד אחר:
והנה הם חמשה מיני זווגים ,וחמשה מיני יסודות ,ומכל אלו היסודות יצאו טפות קרי .והנה אלו הטפות ,
הם סוד לבושי קצת הנשמות ,ואלו הלבושים תמיד נשארים עם הנשמות ,ואינם נפרדים מהם ,אפילו אחר
התחיה .וכן בכל מיני הלבושים שלוקחות שאר הנשמות .וז"ס פסוק ותנח בגדה אצלה:
ונבאר כל אלו החמשה בחי 'הבחי ',הא 'שהוא זווג היותר מעולה מכלם ,הוא זווג ישראל עם רחל .והנה
יש בו ה 'בחי ',משא"כ בשאר הזווגים .והוא ,שביסוד ישראל האמיתי ,שהוא המזדווג עם רחל ,יש בו חו"ג
הנמשכים שם ממוחין דאימא ,גם ממוחין דאבא ,כי הנה היסוד דאבא שבתוך ז"א ,הוא מגיע ומתפשט עד
היסוד דז"א ממש ,והנה העשר גבורות ,שהם חמש דאבא ,וחמש דאימא ,הם בחי 'עשרה הרוגי מלכות , אשר נתלבשו נשמותיהם באלו הטפות .וחמש גבורות דאבא ,הם אלו ,ר 'עקיבא ,רשב"ג ,ר 'ישבב
הסופר ,ר 'ישמעאל בן אלישע כ"ג ,ר 'יהודא בן בבא .ונלע"ד כי סדורם הוא כך ממש ,ר 'עקיבא חסד
שבגבורה .רשב"ג גבורה שבגבורה וכו .'ואל תתמה ,אם ר 'עקיבא הוא משרש קין כנז"ל שהוא מאימא , ולבושו הוא מאבא ,ועד"ז בשאר כל אחד כפי מה שהוא ,כי אין בזה קפידא כמו שיתבאר לקמן ,וגם כי
ביסוד הכל מתערב ,ויש ליוסף קורבה עם כל השבטים כלם ,להיותו בחינת יסוד .ושאר הרוגי מלכות הם
מחמת גבורות דאימא:
והנה לפי שעשרה הרוגי מלכות אלו ,הם בחי 'גבורות כלם ,לכך הוצרכו ליהרג ,כי הקליפות נאחזים
בגבורה מאד ,ובפרט בטפות קרי של יוסף הצדיק ,כמו אלו העצומים הגדולים:
ועשרה חסדים דאו"א ,הם לבושי הנשמות של עשרה תלמידי הרשב"י ע"ה ,שהם ,ר"א בנו ,ור 'אבא ,ור '
יהודה ,ור 'יצחק נפחא .ולהיותם בחי 'חסדים ,לא הוצרכו ליהרג ,כי הקליפות אינם נאחזות בהם .ואותם
השלשה ,שהם ר 'יוסי בר יעקב ,ור 'חזקיה ,ור 'ייסא ,שמתו באדרא רבא ,הם היו בחי 'שלשה חסדים של
אימא ,המגולים בתנ"ה דז"א ,כי אלו הם העולות למעלה ,ומסתלקות להאיר למעלה ,ולכך ג"כ נסתלקו אז
שלשה חברים אלו ,ועלו למעלה .והנה הרשב"י ע"ה הוא היסוד עצמו ,שממנו יצאו טפות ,ולכך בא הוא
לתקנם וללמדם:

ואמנם בגבורות, שהם עשרה הרוגי מלכות, לא מצינו להם רבי מיוחד, והטעם היא, כי כבר נתבאר בפסוק והבוטח בה' חסד יסובבנו, בענין תפילין של ר"ת, אע"פ שגם משם נראה להפך גם כן, עכ"ז הענין הוא, כי החסדים של אבא, אינם תוך היסוד של אבא, לפי שהוא צר, ולכן יצאו לחוץ, ומקיפים את היסוד מבחוץ, ונמצא כי החסדים דאבא ואימא, כלם הם תוך יסוד אחד של אימא. אבל הגבורות הם נפרדות, אלו ביסוד דאבא, ואלו ביסוד דאימא. ולכן אי אפשר לכנות להם רבי מיוחד ויסוד מיוחד. וראיתי מדברי מורי זלה"ה, שלא אמר לי אלא דרך דחיה, ולא השיב לי כל הצורך, כי אח"כ הקשתי לשאול לו על הנזכר, שא"כ יהיו להם שני מלמדים כנגד ב' יסודות, ודחה אותו, ולא רצה להשיב ואיני יודע הסבה. ודע, כי להיות אלו העשרה חברים מבחי' חסדים של הזיוג העליון שבכלם, שהם ישראל ורחל כנז"ל, לכן נתבארו ונתגלו להם כל סודות התורה, שלא מתוך צער כלל, מה שלא יהיה כך עד דרא דמלכא משיחא, כנזכר בזוהר בכמה מקומות:

זווג ב', שהוא זווג יעקב עם רחל, ונודע כי רחל אין בה דינים כמו בלאה, וגם כי יעקב הוא מן הארת מוחין דאבא בלבד, ולכן אין כאן רק חו"ג של אבא בלבד. והנה רבינו הקדוש שסדר המשניות הוא היסוד עצמו, ותלמידיו בני ישיבתו, הם הטפות שיצאו ממנו, והם, ר' חייא, ור' אושעיא, ובר קפרה, ולוי בר סיסי, ור' חנינא בר חמא. ורב, וכיוצא באלו:

זווג הג', כפי סדר מעלת הזווגים, הוא זה השלישי, והוא זווג יעקב עם לאה אחר חצות לילה, כי אע"פ שהיא לאה ויש בה דינים, הנה היא בחי' אחר חצות, שהם נמתקים, וגם שמתפשטת בכל ארך הז"א כלו, משא"כ בזווג הקודם לזה של יעקב ורחל. ואלו הם עשרה, שהם, חמשה חסדים, וחמשה גבורות מאבא. ולכן בשני זווגים האלו, שהם, השני של יעקב ורחל, והג' של יעקב ולאה דאחר חצות, אין בהם הריגה, לפי שהם מבחי' יעקב, שהוא מצד אבא. ונודע כי בקדרותא דצפרא, אז הם יותר רחמים, לפי שכמעט כבר אז נקרא יום, ואז יש זווג ב' של יעקב ולאה הנז', אשר חוזרים בזווג פעם שנית, כנזכר בפרשת שמות דף י' ע"א, ויוצאים ב' טפות לבד, הא' כוללת חמשה חסדים, השנית כוללת חמשה גבורות, ואלו השתי טפות הם מעולות יותר מכל העשרה, כנזכר שיצאו מזווג שאחר חצות, ואלו הי"ב טפות הם החברים שלי, שהיינו לומדים עם מורי ז"ל, והוא עצמו ז"ל הוא היסוד, שממנו יצאו אלו הי"ב טפות הנז':

ודע, כי הנה קודם חצות, היו יעקב ולאה עד החזה של ישראל, כמו שנבאר בזווג החמשי, ואחר חצי הלילה נתפשטו עד סופו, ולכן רושם הראשון של היסוד הא' של קודם חצות לא נתבטל, לפי שלא חזרו יעקב ולאה אחר חצות בסוד אחור באחור, אבל בהיותם פנים בפנים נתפשטו עד למטה, ולכן מה שהיה להם בתחלה לא נתבטל. ונמצא שיש עשרה טפות אחרות, שהם יוצאים מבחי' אותו יסוד של קודם חצות, אבל אינם יוצאות אלא אחר חצות לילה. ועוד יש שנים אחרים מזמן קדרותא דצפרא כנז"ל, והם יותר מעולים מכל אלו העשרה. ואמנם אלו הי"ב שניים הם יותר גרועים במעלה מן השנים עשר ראשונים, ואפשר שאלו השנים של קדרותא דצפרא מן בחי' הב', יוכללו עם העשרה ראשונים, לפי שהם מעולים יותר מן העשרה השניים, וע"כ אלו הי"ב השניים, קדמו ללמוד עם מורינו זלה"ה בישיבתו, קודם שנכנסו אנחנו שהם הי"ב הראשונים. והטעם הוא, לפי שהם מבחי' קודם חצות, וגם אין להם יסוד ורבי בפני עצמו, לפי שבחי' שתי היסודות של קודם חצות ואחר חצות זה נכלל בזה, והכל יסוד א'. ודע וראה איך נכללו ארבעה זווגים בזה הזווג השלישי, וארבעתם נקראים זווג א' לסבות הנזכרות, ואחר כך בסוף הדרוש נבאר ענין כל החברים מי הם:

זווג הד', כפי סדר מעלת הזווגים, הוא זווג ישראל עם לאה במנחה. ולפי שהם מן החזה ולמעלה, אין שם מקום התפשטות אל החו"ג. ולכן החסדים מתקבצים בזרוע ימין, והגבורות בזרוע שמאל. והם נקראים ב' טפות לבד. ולהיות זווג דמנחה עם לאה, שהם דינים קשים לכן היו כנגדם הרוגי לוד, והם שני אחים פפוס ולוליאנוס. וגברה מעלתם להיותם מבחי' ישראל ולא יש שם יסוד ניכר ממש, ולכן אין להם רבי ויסוד מיוחד:

זווג הה', והוא האחרון שבכלם, הוא יעקב ולאה קודם חצות לילה, ואלו הם דינים גמורים, ואלו הם הרוגי ביתר. והיסוד שלהם הוא ר"א המודעי ע"ה, שנהרג בביתר כנודע. ודע, כי כל אורות הנשמות של בני ישראל, יש להם לבושים מפנימיות וחיצוניות, שהם ממוחין ואיברים, היורדים ונעשים טפות זרע, ממיני היסודות הנזכרים, שלא ע"י קרי:

והנה יש חלוק והפרש בין אלו החמשים טפות או יותר הנזכר, של חמשה זווגים הנז', לכל שאר הנשמות. ויש להם מעלה גדולה ועצומה מכל השאר, לפי שכל שאר הנשמות הם באים שלא ע"י קרי, אלא ע"י זוג

מן אתערותא דנוקבא, שמתעוררת אל הזווג ומתאוה אליו, ואחר כך מתעורר גם הוא, ולכן כיון שהזכר לא היה בו התעוררות מרצונו, אלא שנתעורר על ידה. לכן אותם הטפות של החו"ג הנמשכות בזווג ההוא, אינם נמשכות מהדעת עצמו שלו, רק מן החו"ג שנתפשטו בו למטה בשש קצותיו, אחר שנתלבשו ונתעכבו שם למטה. אבל אלו הטפות הנז"ל, להיותם נמשכים מבלי התעוררות הנקבה כי הם טפות קרי כנז"ל ודאי שמאתערותא דדכורא לחודיה נפקו. והזכר אותה נפשו להזדווג בנוקביה ולא מצאה, כי היתה למטה בבריאה או כיוצא, ואז יצאו לבטלה. וכיון שהם באים מאתערותא דדכורא, ודאי שהם גדולים מאד, ואינם נמשכים אלא ממוח הדעת עצמו של חו"ג אשר שם למעלה, כי שם מקום התעוררת התאוה. וכאשר יוצאים מהיסוד, לא ירדו מתחלה ונתלבשו בשש קצוותיו של הזכר, רק עברו משם דרך מעבר בלבד, ויצאו מן היסוד. ולכן מעלת אלו הנשמות הם גדולה לאין קץ, על שאר הנשמות:

והנה כל זה שאמרנו, הוא בענין הלבושים והכלים של הנשמות עצמם הנקראים אורות, שמהם נעשה רמ"ח איברים, שהנשמה מתלבשת בהם. ולפי שגם בחי 'אורות הנשמות של כל אלו הנז"ל כלם, הם ג"כ ע"ד הנזכר, מבחי 'הדעת עצמו, ולא מן התפשטות למטה, לכן נתנו להם אלו הלבושים, שהם הטפות הנז', שהם מן הדעת ג"כ. והנה אע"פ שביארנו, כי יש קשר אמיץ בין כל אלו הטפות הנז', כל זה היא בבחי 'הטפות והלבושים. אבל אורות הנשמות עצמם שלהם, כל אחד הוא מן השרש שלו, אבל כלם הם מבחי הדעת עצמו, רק שאינם קשורים ואינם משרש אחד:

גם דע, כי באלו הטפות עצמם, שהם בחי 'הלבושים, יש בהם פנימיות וחיצוניות, כי יש טפות שנמשכות מן החיצוניות, שהוא הלבוש של נה"י דאבא או נה"י דאימא, שבז"א או ביעקב, ויש טפות שנמשכות מן פנימיותם, שהוא מן המוחין עצמם, שבתוך נה"י דאבא או אימא וכו'. והנה כל הנז"ל, הם טפות לבושים מן הפנימיות, שהם המוחין ממש. ועוד יש טפות אחרות דוגמתם ממש בכל הנז"ל, אלא שהם מבחי ' טפות החיצוניות של הלבושים הנז'. אבל גם הם נמשכות מן הדעת עצמו למעלה, אלא שהם מבחי ' החיצוניות, שהם הלבוש דנה"י דאבא וכו' כנז"ל. ולא ביאר לי מורי זלה"ה מי הם, רק אותם של הזווג השלישי, כמו שנבאר בעהי"ת:

והנה כל בחי 'אלו הטפות הנז"ל, הם הנקראים בדברי הנביאים, בלשון שארית, ואותם שהם מבחי 'ישר נקראים בלשון שארית, כמש"ה שארית ישראל לא יעשו עולה וגו' ואותם שהם מבחי 'יעקב, נקראים בלשון יעקב, כמש"ה והיה שארית יעקב בגוים וגו'. ויש חמשה בחי 'כנז"ל בחמשה הזיווגים, ולכן כנגדם נזכרים בדברי הנביאים פעמים רבות, שארית ישראל ושארית יעקב:

ואבאר ענין אלו החברים של מורי ז"ל. דע, כי אע"פ שסדר מעלת הטפות הנז"ל, כבר נתבאר למעלה. אמנם דע, כי אלו הטפות של הזווג הג', של יעקב ולאה אחר חצות לילה, הם אחרונים מכלם, לענין ביאתם בעה"ז, אעפ"י שאין זה סדר מעלתם כנזכר. ולפי שהם באים בגלות זה האחרונים, נרמזו בנבואת ישעיה הנביא, בפסוק משא דומה אלי קורא משעיר שומר מה מלילה שומר מה מליל וגו'. כי נבואה זו, היא על גלות האחרון הזה, כנזכר בזוהר. וכבר ידעת, כי ליל הוא קודם חצות, ולילה הוא אחר חצות, כנזכר בזוהר פרשת בא. והם ב 'כתות הנז', של החברים שבישיבת מורי זלה"ה ובכלם הם מן זווג שלאחר חצות לילה. אלא שקצתם הם מכללות חצי לילה הראשונה כנז"ל, וכנגדם אמר שהשכינה צועקת מתוך גלותה בישובה בשעיר, שהוא גלות אדום, ואומרת לשי"ת, שומר מה מלילה שומר מה מליל, שהם הכת האחת שהיא מן הזווג שלאחר חצות הנקראים לילה. וכן שומר מה מליל, מה תעשה מאלו הכת השנית, שבאים מחצות הלילה הראשונה, הנקרא ליל, רק שיצאו בחצות לילה האחרונה כנז"ל. ומשיב לה הקב"ה, אמר שומר אתא בקר, שהם אותם הארבעה הנולדים מזווג קדרותא דצפרא. וגם לילה, הם העשרים הנולדים מזווג שלאחר חצות הנקרא לילה:

ואמר עוד אם תבעיון בעיו, כי להיות הכיתות האלו בדרא בתראה של המשיח, הם צריכים להרבות בתשובה, ולהרבות בשאלות ותחנונים ותפלות. גם פסוק של שאר ישוב שאר יעקב אל אל גבור אמר ב ' פעמים שאר, כנגד ב 'כתות אלו. וא"ל מורי זלה"ה, כי כיון שאני ואלו החברים כלנו הם מן בחי 'זווג שלאחר הצות, שלפיכך נזהר מאד לקום ממש בחצות הלילה, ושזה יועיל לנו מאד, ומאד הזהירנו בדבר הזה:

והנה אמר לי מורי ז"ל, כי אלו החברים יבלנו, לא יתקיימו כלם, ועדיין צריכים ברור להתברר ולהחליף ולשים אחרים במקומם קצת מהם, וכמו שאבאר בעהי"ת, ואכתוב עתה את החברים הנכנסים עמנו ללמוד, אע"פ שאיני יודע אותם שיתחלפו אחרים במקומם. הכת שלי, שהם שלאחר חצות לילה ממש,

אלו הם, אני הצעיר חיים ויטאל. ה"ר יונתן סאגיס ז"ל. מהר"י ארזין ז"ל. מהר"י הכהן ז"ל. ה"ר גדליה הלוי ז"ל. ה"ר שמואל אוזידא. ה"ר יהודה משען. ה"ר אברהם גבריאל. ה"ר שבתי מנשה. ה"ר יוסף ן ' טבול. ה"ר אליא פלקין. והנה הכת הזאת, היא מפנימיות המוחין של הדעת כנז"ל:

ויש עוד כת אחרת כנגדה, והם מן הלבושים של נה"י וכו', שנקראים חיצוניות הלבושים כנז"ל, והם אלו, מורי הר"ם אלשיך. וה"ר משה נאגר"ה. וה"ר יצחק ארחא. וה"ר שלמה אבסבאן. וה"ר מרדכי גאליקו. וה"ר יעקב מסעוד ז"ל. וה"ר יוסף אלטון ז"ל. וה"ר משה מינץ ז"ל. וה"ר משה יונה. וה"ר אברהם גואקיל ז"ל:

והכת השנית, שהם מפנימיות המוחין ג"כ של הדעת, מזווג אחר חצות, אלא שהם מבחי 'קודם חצות כנז"ל, הם אלו, הרי"ט צהלון. ה"ר יוסף הכהן. ה"ר יעקב אלטראץ. וה"ר דוד הכהן. וה"ר יצחק קרישפי. וה"ר שמעון אורי. ואחיו ה"ר ישראל אורי ז"ל. וה"ר אברהם ארובץ. וה"ר משה אלשיך ז"ל. וה"ר ישראל הלוי. וה"ר יוסף קנפיליאש. וה"ר יהודה אשכנזי. וה"ר נפתלי אשכנזי. שהיו קרובי מורי זלה"ה. וכבר אמרתי שאיני יודע זה בפירוש אם כל אלו הנזכרים הם מכללם, אבל דרך כללות שמעתי מן מורי ז"ל, על שלשה חברות אלו:

ועוד כת רביעית, שהם הלבושים של חצוניות, והם כנגד כת שנית דפנימיות הנז', והם אלו, ה"ר אברהם הלוי. ה"ר משה משמש. ה"ר יאודה רומאנו. אבל דרך פרטיות לא שמעתי ממורי ז"ל, רק בענין החברים של הכת שלי הראשונה. והנעל"ד היותר אמיתי בענין כת השנית של הפנימיות, הם, הרי"ט צהלון. וה"ר יעקב אלטראץ. וה"ר יצחק קרישפי. וה"ר ישראל הלוי. וה"ר משה אלשיך. וה"ר דוד הכהן. וה"ר יוסף הכהן. וה"ר אברהם ארובאץ. וה"ר יוסף קנפילאש. גם ה"ר אליא אל מרירי אע"פ שלא נכנס עמהם, נ"ל שהיה מכללם. וה"ר שמעון אורי, נ"ל יותר בפירוש שלא היה מכללם:

ובענין כת הזקנים שהיא כנגד הכת שלנו אלא שהיא מן החיצוניות כנז"ל, נ"ל שמורי זלה"ה מהר"ם אלשיך, היה כנגד בחינתי. והנה מורי ז"ל, היה רוצה להכניס עמנו בחברתינו, למהר"ם אלשיך, והר"ם נאגר"ה, ולה"ר יעקב מסעוד, ולה"ר שבתי מיוחס. וא"ל, כי אלו הם מן אותם שתי טפות, שהם של אשמורת הבקר, אלא שהם מבחי 'קודם חצות, אלא שהם באשמורת ולכן אפשר להם להתחבר עמנו. גם ענין פרטיות שלנו לא ידעתי מי הם אותם שהם באשמורת הבקר של הזווג דאחר חצות ממש. גם אני מסופק, אם מאלו הארבעה הנזכרים יש בהם שנים שהם מכלל כת שלנו ממש, לפי שלא נכנסו בחברתי רק עשרה, וצריכים להיות שנים עשר. והשנים האחרים הם מקדרותא דצפרא של קודם חצות באחר חצות. והנה ב 'ימים קודם שנפטר מורי ז"ל א"ל, כי אפילו אותם החברים שהיו בכת הא 'עמדי, היו צריכים להתברר ברור אחר, ויכנסו אחרים תחת קצת מהם. וסוד הענין הוא, ע"ד מה שביארנו בפסוק אם רעב שונאך האכילהו לחם, כי הנה אלו החברים אינם שלימים ר"ל שיש בהם, מי שיש בהם מעוט מן אותה בחי 'של הלבוש הנשמה המעולה הנז"ל, שהם מן הטפות שלאחר חצות כנז"ל, ואין כלם שוים בהם, כי יש מהם שרובו טוב ומעוטו רע, ויש מהם שרובו רע ומעוטו טוב, ויש בינוני, וכיוצא בזה יש כמה מדרגות, וא"ל כי אותם שרובם טוב, ישארו כך בודאי, כי אותם האחרים אשר רובם רע ומעוטם טוב, יקחו הרע של הנזכרים, ויתנו להם הטוב שבהם, ואז ישארו אלו כלם טובים, ואלו כלם רעים:

וא"ל מורי ז"ל, כי זהו היה כונתו לקבץ אותם, כי ע"י החברה והאהבה שיש בין החברים, ימשכו זה בזה, וילך הטוב אצל מי שרובו טוב, ויושלם ממנו. וילך מעוט הרע ויצטרף עם מי שרובו רע, ואז אותם כלם שהם מבחי 'הרע ילכו, וישארו האחרים שהם שלימים מבח "הטוב:

וא"ל מורי ז"ל, כי לסבה זו צריך האדם מאד מאד שיתחבר עם אותם הרשעים אשר רובם רע ומעוטם טוב, להחזירם בתשובה, כי ע"י זה יקח הוא הטוב אשר בהם. ובפרט אם פגע באיזה אדם שיש בו חלק הטוב שחסר בו משרש נשמתו עצמו, שיקחנו ויושלם בו. ולכן הזהירני מורי ז"ל במאד מאד, לאהוב את החברים הנזכרים שלי, וללמדם, כי ע"י זה אברור חלק הטוב שלי המעורב בהם, ואקחהו, ואשתלם אני. ואמנם מי שהוא בינוני וממוצע, זה תלוי כפי מעשיו, ואם ירצה יהיה כלו טוב, או להפך:

וא"ל מורי ז"ל, אז ביום הנזכר, כי ה"ר אליא פלקון ז"ל, היה מעשיו ממוצעים, וז"ס מ"ש חז"ל על פסוק 'מי יפתה את אחאב וכו' וארז"ל אחאב שקול היה, ומפני זה לא יכלו וכל צבא השמים עומדים עליו וגו', להענישו, עד שיטה לצד הרע. ובעוד שקול לא יכלו להענישו. וגם מן אחאב עד הר"א פלקון, שהם משרש א', נשאר תמיד בינוני ושקול. וזהו הטעם שהיה מורי ז"ל רצה לסלקו מתוך חברתינו ולא היה מסיר אותו להיותו שקול, עד שאירע אותו הכעס הגדול בע"ש עם הר"י ארזין ז"ל, ואז התחיל ונטה לצד הרע, אבל

עכ"ז היה מעוטו טוב עדיין ,ואז הוסר מחברתינו .ועל מהר"י ארזי"ן א"ל ,שאם היה בא אביו לצפ"ת תוב"ב בשנה ההיא ,שגם הוא יהיה נפסד ,ומלבד זה גם בו ביום שדחה להר"א פלקין ז"ל ,היה רוצה לדחותו בודאי גם הוא:

ה"ר יונתן סאגיס ז"ל ,רובו טוב ואין בו ספק שיטה לצד הרע .ה"ר גדליה הלוי ז"ל ,ג"כ רובו טוב ואין בו ספק .הר"י הכהן ,היה רובו טוב ,ויש בו ספק ,ולא מפני חסרון האמונה במורי זלה"ה ,רק סיבה אחרת , ולא רצה מורי ז"ל לפרשה .ה"ר שמואל אוזידא ז"ל ,רובו טוב ,ויש בו ספק שיחזור בו .ה"ר אברהם גבריאל ,וה"ר שבתי מנשה ,והרב יאודה משען ,וה"ר יוסף ן 'טבול מגרמי ,נדחו לגמרי .אבל בהר"י משען יש קצת ספק עדיין .ולי הצעיר חיים א"ל מורי ז"ל ,שהיה עתיד לבא אלי נסיון גדול אחד ,אם אעמוד באהבת מורי ז"ל .אח"כ א"ל מורי ז"ל ,שכונתו היה להשליך כל החברים ,ושלא ישאיר עמו אלא שלשה או ארבעה בלבד:

וא"ל מורי ז"ל ,כי אני מחוייב לזכות לחייביא ,יותר משאר בני אדם ,לפי שכל הרשעים שבדור הזה ,הם בחי 'הערב רב ,אשר רובם או קרוב לכלם הם משרש קין ,שנתערבו נצוצותיו הטובות ברע ורובו רע ולכן אני מחוייב לתקנם כי הם מן השרש שלי .ולא די זה ,אלא אפילו הרשעים של הדורות של הראשונים שכבר עברו מימי קדם ,שהם בגיהנם ,יכול אני לתקנם ע"י מעשי ,ולהעלותם מגיהנם ולהכניסם בגופות שיחזרו לבא בעולם הזה להתקן .והסבה היא ,לפי שנפשי מן העקריות שבשרש קין ,וגם שאני באתי עתה בדרא בתראה כנז"ל .וגם כי אני באתי מבחי 'הטפות העליונות ,שהם מן המוח של הדעת ממש, ולא משש קצוות המתפשטים בגוף ,ולכן יש בידי כח אל הנזכר אם ארצה להיטיב מעשי יותר ,ואמר כי לסבה הנזכרת ,אם אני הייתי מזכה לחייביא שבזה הדור ,הרו שומעים לקולי מאד ,והיו דברי נכנסים באזניהם , ובאותו שבוע עצמו שנפטר ,למד לי מורי ז"ל יחוד א ,'להעלות ע 'נצוצות שנשתיירו עתה עדיין בגיהנם בין הקליפות ,והם מן שרש קין ומשרש נפשי .והזהירני ג"כ מן קצת דברים כמו שאכתוב ,ולמדני להעלותם על ידי שרשיהם ,אשר הם מיוחדים עמהם:

אח"י ,בגימטריא י"ט ,והם סוד הי"ט ברכות ,שסדר שמעון הפקולי לפני ר"ג .וא"ל מורי זלה"ה ,כי בעת
ההיא הייתי יכול לקשר נשמתי עם שמעון הפקולי אפילו בעולם הבריאה ,ע"י איזו מצוה ,או איזה תקון
שיש בי ,ויש בי כח להתדבק בו אפילו בעולם הבריאה .אבל עם ריב"ז ,לא הייתי יכול להדבק בו רק
בעולם היצירה בלבד ,וזה כפי המצות שיש לי ,אשר על ידם יכול להדבק בו .אבל ברב ייבא סבא ,אין בי
כח עדיין להדבק בו ,אלא בעולם העשיה .ונמצא כי אין הדבר תלוי במדרגה ומעלת הצדיקים הנז ,'רק כפי
המצות הסגוליות אשר עשיתי ,שעל ידם נוכל להתדבק בזה יותר מבזה ,כי יש מצוה אחת אשר עשאה
רב ייבא סבא ,ואני עשיתיה דוגמתו ,ולכן נתקשרתי עמו בעולם העשיה .ויש מצוה אחרת שעשאה ריב"ז , ואני עשיתיה ג"כ בחשק גדול מאד ,ולכן ע"י אני יכול להדבק עמו אפילו בעולם היצירה .וכן עד"ז לשמעון
הפקולי .ושמעון הפקולי אינו ממש מן השרש שלי ,אבל הוא מן אותו הכת אשר נכנסו ונתקשרו בהיכל
אהבה ,דוגמת ר 'עקיבא ,כנזכר בזוהר פרשת פקודי בהיכל הנזכר .וזה שמעון הפקולי הוא אחד מהם ,

ובענין זה יש להם התקשרות זה עם זה:
עוד א"ל מורי ז"ל, כי בהיות נצוצות שרש קין בתוך קליפת סיסרא, כמבואר שם אצלינו, ושם היה נשמת ר' עקיבא, כי לכן נולד מבני:
בניו של סיסרא כנודע:
וא"ל, כי גם נפשי היתה נתונה שם:
עוד א"ל, כי בעת שאשכב בפסוק בידך אפקיד רוחי, בשם הוי"ה אשר בפסוק זה, שאכוין שהיא במלוי ההי"ן, הנקרא שם ב"ן. ובפרט לי, שאני מגולגל כפול, כי יש אתי חלק נפשי, וחלק ר' עקיבא. וגם שאזהר שאהיה תמיד בכל עת יראת ה', שהוא שם זה של מלוי ההין על פני. ולא אסירהו מלבי תמיד, כי שם זה נקרא מערת המכפלה, כי היו"ד היא ב' יודי"ן, וה"ה ב' ההי"ן, והו"ו ב' ווי"ן, וה"ה ב' ההי"ן:
עוד הזהיר אותי מורי ז"ל מאד, בענין סדר תפלה לדוד, הנאמרת אחר קדושת ובא לציון, שאומר אותו בכונה גדולה, לפי שעיקר הארתי הוא מן היצירה, לפי שכל המזמורים הם בעולם היצירה, ומשם שרש נשמתי והשגתי, כי כל המזמורים הם בחי' גבורות כנודע, והנה נשמתי היא מן הגבורות כנודע:
עוד בכונת התפילת של שחרית, בברכת אב הרחמן שמע קולנו, ביארתי שם כונה אחת בענין זו ההוי"ה אשר כאן וע"ש. ותדע נא, כי הוא מוכרחת אלי, והיא לעלות האדם במעלה ע"י כונה זו:
עוד ביארתי שם, כי מה שיכוין האדם בקימו בחצות הלילה, לבכות ולהתאבל על החרבן, העיקר הוא לפי שהנקודה העצמיית והשרשית של רחל, מתחלת אז בעת חצות לילה ממש, לרדת בעולם הבריאה וסבת ירידתה בגלות הוא, ללקט נצוצות הנשמות שנתפזרו בין הקליפות, ולכן אנו בוכים ומצטערים על גלות השכינה, כי אנו גרמנו לה שע"י חטאנו, הרכבנו טוב ברע ורע בטוב כנודע. וא"ל מורי ז"ל, כי בפרט מי שיודע בעצמו שהוא משרש קין, אשר זוהמת הנחש מתרבה בו, ובזוהמא ההיא נטבעים הנשמות הטהורות, ולכן ידו במעל הזה יותר משאר בני אדם, ולכן הזהרני מאד מורי ז"ל בענין בכיה זו, שאני מוכרח יותר משאר בני אדם:
ספר לי ה"ר יצחק הכהן ז"ל, כי בעת פטירת מורי ז"ל, כשיצאתי מאצלו, נכנס הוא אצלו, ויבכה לפניו ויאמר, וכי זו היא התקוה שהיינו כלנו מתאוים בחייך, לראות טובה ותורה וחכמה גדולה בעולם וישיבהו אלו מצאתי אפילו אחד בלבד צדיק גמור בכם, לא סלקוני מהעה"ז קודם זמני, ועודנו מדבר עמו, שאל עלי ואמר היכן הלך חיים, וכי בשעה כזאת הלך מאצלי, ויצטער מאד, והבין מדבריו כי היה ברציני למסור לו איזה דבר סתר, אז אמר לו מה נעשה מכאן ואילך, ויאמר תאמר לחברים משמי שמהיום והלאה לא יתעסקו כלל בחכמה זו שלמדתים, כי לא הבינו אותה כראוי, ויבאו ח"ו לידי כפירה ואבוד נפש. ואמנם הרח"ו לבדו יעסוק בה לבדו בלחישה בסתר, ויאמר וכי ח"ו אין עוד לנו תקוה, ויאמר לו, אם תזכו אני אבא לכם ואלמדכם, ויאמר לו איך תבא ותלמדנו אחר שאתה נפטר עתה מהעה"ז, ויאמר לו אין לך עסק בנסתרות, איך תהיה ביאתי לכם, אם בחלום אם בהקיץ, אם במראה, ותכף א"ל קום צא מהר, כי אתה כהן, והגיע זמני, כי אין פנאי להאריך בשום דבר, ויצא מהר, וטרם שיצא ממפתן הבית, פתח פיו, ויצאה נשמתו בנשיקה זלה"ה:
הגהה - אמר שמואל עד כאן הגיעו לידי בקונטרסים כל מה שאירע לאבא מארי עם רבו זלה"ה, מיום (דעתו אותו, עד יום שנפטר לחיי העה"ב. וכמו כן אירע לי עם אבא מארי זלה"ה ביום פטירתו. גם הוא אמר לי שלא אפחד מכלום, כי כל מה שארצה אשאל ממנו בקברו, והוא ישיב לי, וכן אירע לי כמה פעמים, ששאלתי על קברו כל מה שרציתי, והשיב לי כל שאלתי, זכר צדיק לברכה:

Chapter 40
אמר שמואל ,עוד מצאתי קונטרס קטן בין אמתחותי ,ממקצת לשונות מספר התקונין ומספר הזוהר שהם צריכים עיון ,והנה לא רציתי לסמוך להניחם על ראשי ,או להגיה אותם במקומותם ,שמא הלקט ההוא יהיה ח"ו שכחה ,לכן אמרתי אשימם בספר ויוחקו ,והיה כל מבקש אותם יבא לבקש אותם במקום הזה , וזה החלי בעזר אל גואלי:
בספר התקונין תקון כ"ב דף ס"ה ע"ב שורה כ"ג ,וז"ל ,כי בשמחה תצאו ובשלום תובלון .בשמחה סליק לחשבן אדנ"י ,בר מאת ש 'דאיהו תלת מאה .ואתון בשמחה איהי מחשבה .ש 'איהי תלת אבהן .בחמה איהי ה"ס ,ואיהו שכינתא וכו 'וקשה דאתוון בחמה סלקי נ"ה ולא ס"ה ,וצ"ע .אמר שמואל ,גם בדפוס המגיה תמה בזה .ואני חדשתי ,שמא אותיות בחמה במילואם שהם עשרה ,וזהו החשבון כזה ,בי"ת חי"ת מ"ם ה"א הרי נ"ה ועשרה:
שם בספר התקונין תקון מ"ז דף פ"ו ע"א ,בשורה כ"א ,וז"ל ,נעשה אדם ,דא פקודא למגזר ית גיורא ,ואי איהו מקיים יבום וחליצה ,איהו בצלמנו כדמותנו .וקשה דאי לא הוו תרווייהו הורתם ולידתם בקדושה , קייל"ן דאין האחד מייבם או חולץ לאשת אחיו .ואי הורתם ולידתם בקדושה ,לא הוי גיורא ,אלא ברייהו דגיורי וישראל גמורים הם ,וצ"ע:
בספר הזוהר ,בפרשת וירא דף ק"כ ע"א ,שורה י"ח ,וז"ל ,וירא את המקום מרחוק דא יעקב ,כמה דאתמר מרחוק, דלא זכה ביה וכו 'ראיה בעינוי ,דהא כד אתא יעקב ,מית הוה אברהם ,ואסתלק מעלמא ,כשנדקדק בשנותיהם ,תמצא יעקב בן י"ג שנים כשמת אברהם ,וכן ארז"ל על פסוק ויזד יעקב 'תימא ,וכו .נזיד ,תבשיל עדשים היה לאבלו של אברהם שנסתלק ה 'שנים ,כדי שלא יראה לעשו יוצא לתרבות רעה, בשנת הי"ג .וי"ל עם הנזכר ,כי עד דכתיב ויגדלו הנערים שהיו בן י"ג שנה גמורים ושלימים ,אז ניכר היות עשו הרשע ,ויעקב איש תם יושב אהלים .וקודם זה איננו ניכר ,וזו היא הראיה שלא ראהו אברהם שלם כפי הצורך ,אכן ראיה גופניית ודאי ראהו:
שם בספר הזוהר פרשת תולדות דף קל"ה ע"א שורה ל"ב ,וז"ל ,השתא דמית אברהם ,דיוקניה הוה ביה , ואשתאר ביה ביצחק ,דכל מאן דחמי ליה ליצחק ,הוה אמר דא אברהם וכו 'וקשה כי רז"ל אמרו שלעולם היה יצחק בדיוקנו של אברהם ,מפני הליצנים שלא יאמרו מאבימלך נתעברה שרה .והכא אמרו ,דהשתא דמית אברהם אשתאר ביה דיוקניה ,וטז"ס ויברך אלהים את יצחק בנו ,כי הברכה הזו היתה ,שנשארה דיוקנו בו להעיד שהיא בנו ,וזהו מלת בנו שהיא מיותרת ,ואחר שכתוב ויברך אלהים וגו 'סמיך אברהם הוליד את יצחק ,לפרש מה ענין הברכה הנז 'ועוד קשה מלת אע"ג שאמר למעלה מזה ,וז"ל ,אר"י מ"ש דעד הכא לא כתיב בן אברהם ,והשתא אמר ,אלא אע"ג ויברך אלהים את יצחק בנו ,השתא דמית אברהם .וא"כ קשה מלת אע"ג ,שהיא להפך והיל"ל משום דכתיב וכו 'וצ"ע:
שם בספר הזוהר בפרשת ויצא דף קנ"א:

אח"כ וע"ד מקריבין חמץ לאתוקדא ע"ג מדבחא ,אין לזה הבנה כנודע דשתי הלחם דעצרת היו חמץ ,אבל

אינם נקרבים ע"ג המזבח, אף לא היו נשרפות, אבל נאכלות לכהנים. וכמו שכתב הרמב"ם ז"ל בהלכות מעשה הקרבנות בפרק י"ב, ובהלכות תמידין ומוספין פ"ח. והרי אלו שתי טעיות שכתב שנשרפות, וגם שהם על המזבח, גם אומרו ומקריבין תרי נהמי אחרים כחדא, יש טעות, כי שתי הלחם עצמם הם החמץ, דאלו מנחת נסכים הבאה בכל יום עם קרבן התמיד מצה היא, כנזכר בהלכות מעשה הקרבנות פי"ב, והיכי קאמר תרין נהמין אחרנין, וחמץ אתוקדא בינייהו, משמע דחמץ אינו תרין נהמין, ובפרט באמרו דאתוקדא בינייהו, משמע כי שלשה הם, אחד חמץ, ושנים מצה, ושלשתם נשרפות, וזה שקר מפורסם. ודע, שיש נסחא אחרת, דלא כתיב מלת אחרנין, אף לא מלת בינייהו, וכפי נסחא זו אינם אלא תרין נהמין בלבד, אבל עדיין קשה, כי אינם נשרפות אלא נאכלות לכהנים. וא"ת דעל הקומץ הקרב על גבי המזבח איירי, אי אפשר, דאין קומץ בשתי הלחם, כנזכר בהלכות מעשה הקרבנות בפי"ב, והיינו יכולים לומר דבשתי הלחם שלא נמצאו כשרים איירי, דאז נשרפות, כנזכר בהלכות תמידין ומוספין פ"ח. ועכ"ז דוחק הוא, להעמיד דברי הזוהר באבדו שני הכבשים, כנזכר בדבריו דבדברי הפסוק עצמו מדבר, וצ"ע:

שם בספר הזהר פרשת ויקרא דף ב 'ע"ב שורה א', וז"ל, מה כתיב ולא יכול משה לבא אל אהל מועד כי שכן עליו הענן, צ"ע טובא, כי תחלה הקשה, כי כיון דכתיב ולא יכול משה לבא אל אהל מועד יען כי שכן עליו הענן, א"כ היכי כתיב ויכס הענן את ההר, ויבא משה בתוך הענן, ויהי שם מ 'יום ומ 'לילה. ותירץ דהכי איצטריך אז, בגין לקבלה אורייתא זמנא אחרא וכו'. וקשה דהאי קרא בלוחות הראשונות כתיב בסוף פרשת משפטים, אך בארבעים יום אחרונים לא כתיב דעל בגו עננא. גם במ"ש אח"כ, א"ר יוסי, אי הכי, הא כתיב ויקם משה את המשכן, וכתיב ויהי משה בהר, וכתיב ויקרא אל משה, דמשמע דמשה הוה בטורא בההוא זמנא דקרא ליה. קשה טובא, דקרא דויהי משה, הוי בסוף משפטים, והיאך הפסיקו ונתנו בין סוף פרשת פקודי, אחר פסוק ולא יכול משה, לראש פרשת ויקרא, והרי ויהי משה בהר הוי במתן תורה יום שבועות, וקרא דלא יכול משה, הוי ר"ח ניסן בשנה שניה, וצ"ע טובא:

שם בספר הזהר בפרשת בחקתי דף קי"ג ע"א שורה כ"א, וז"ל, אם בחקתי תלכו ואת משפטי תשמרו, כד"א משפט לאלהי יעקב וגו', צ"ע דנראה דגריס, משפט בהאי פסוקא, ובס"ת דילן כתיב, ואת מצותי תשמרו. ואולי יש לומר דפסוקא אחרינא הוא, בפרשת בהר סיני, ועשיתם את חקותי ואת משפטי תשמרו ועשיתם אותם ושם מקום דרוש זה, אלא שהמעתיקים טעו וכתבוהו פה בפרשה זאת:

שם בספר הזהר בפרשת חקת דף ק"ף ע"א שורה כ"ד, וז"ל, ובעי נעל דההוא מיתא, ולא אזיל ביה וכו', זה לא נמצא לו שרש כלל, ויש נסחא אחרת יותר נכונה והיא זאת, ובההוא נעל ההוא מיתא לא אזל בין חייא וכו', כלומר דע"י חליצת הנעל ההוא, גורמת האשה ההיא אל המת ההוא, שלא יצטרך להיות נידח בעה"ז בין החיים לבקט לו מנוח, יען כי אינו יכול לעלות למקומו כשאר המתים, יען כי ע"י זה הנעל אתתא נטלה ליה וכו', ושכיך גופיה דההוא מיתא:

שם בספר הזהר בפרשת האזינו דף רפ"ח ע"א שורה ח', וז"ל, עד דהוה יתיב, אמר הא ר 'פינחס בן יאיר הכא, נראה דרשב"י ע"ה נפטר אחר ר 'פנחס חמיו. ובגמרא דידן מייתי ההוא עובדא דרבינו הקדוש, שזמן לסעודה לר 'פינחס, ולא רצה, וגבה טורא בינייהו, וכבר היה אז נשיא והנה עתה בשעת פטירת הרשב"י לא היה רבינו הקדוש ז"ל נשיא, אף לא גדול בשנים, כי רבינו הקדוש ור"א בר"ש היו שוים בשנותיהם כנודע. ואפשר דתרי ר 'פינחס הוו, והראשון היה חמיו של הרשב"י, ונפטר מקודם. והב 'היה בן בנו של זה הא', והיה בימי רבינו הקדוש ז"ל:

מעשה של הרוח

אמר הצעיר שמואל ויטאל, היום אביעה חידות, ממה שאירע לי במצרים יע"א, ממעשה שאירע לאסתר ת"מ, בת הר 'יהודה וייסר יצ"ו, שנפגעה ונשארה בפגיעותה ובכאב לב יותר משני חדשים אחר שנשאת, ואח"כ יום אחד הפצירו בי, שאלך ואבקר אותה, והלכתי לבקר אותה, ומצאתיה כמשפט הנפגעים. ונסתפקתי אם הוא מזיק, או שד, או רוח רעה של ישראל. ויעצתי אותם להביא פליל אחד מן הגוים שיבקר אותה, וכן עשו. ובאמצע הענין דבר המזיק אשר בקרבה בקול רם ואמר שהוא גוי, ונכנס בה לתאוותו בה, ובכלל דבריו אמר, כי הוא הכה אותי הכאה קטנה בשוקי, אשר בעבור זה נכאבתי בשוקי, כדי שלא אוכל ללכת לרפא אותה. ואחר כך טרח עליה הפליל הגוי, ואמר שכבר חבש את המזיק בצלוחית אחת קטנה, וטמן אותה בארץ כדרכו לעשות עמהם:

ואח"כ פתע פתאום והנה קול אחד צועק מפי הנערה, ומדבר ואומר, הן אני נשארתי לבדי יחידי בגוף הנערה הזאת, ואני רוח יהודי אחד, ולכן תמהרו ותקראו לי להחכם ר 'שמואל ויטאל יצ"ו, כדי שירפאני

ויוציאני מזה ,ותכף קראו אותי ,והוכרחתי לילך אצלה מפני הכבוד הבאים ,ובשעה שנכנסתי אצלה ,לא נתאמת לי עדיין ,אם הוא רוח יהודי ,או שד ,או מזיק ,וישבתי בצדה ,והיא מוטלת כאבן דומם ,מכוסת בשמיכה לבנה אחת ,ועל הספק אמרתי שלום על ישראל ,ותכף נתנענע שפתי הנערה ,והשיבה לי ,ברוך הבא ,שלום עליכם ברכה וטובה .אמרתי לו יהודי אתה ,והשיב לי הן .אמ"ל אם יהודי אתה ,אמור שמע ישראל ,אמר שמע ישראל וכו .'ואז התחלתי לדבר עמו ,והיה משיב לי כהוגן ,כל מה שאני שואל ממנו , עד ששאלתי לו מי הוא ,ומי אביו ,ומאיזה ארץ הוא ,ואימתי מת ,והיכן נקבר ,וכמה שנים חי ,ומה היה ענשו ,ומה היא חטאתו ,ומי הוא המגולגל כאן ,אם הנפש או הרוח ,ומי הוא פקיד עליו ,ואם הוא יושב יחידי כאן ,או אם יש עמו שומר אותו ,ועל הכל השיב לי כהוגן וכשורה ,אין בהם נפתל או עקש בדבריו , מבלתי שהוצרכתי לגזור עלי .בגזירה כשאר הרוחות ,כידוע דרכם לכל יודעי מדע:

אח"כ שאלתיו ,ועתה מה אתה רוצה ,והשיב לי שאתקן אותו ,ואוציא אותו מן הגוף הזה בחכמתי הגדולה , שהוא מכיר אותי ,ממה שמכריזים עלי בשמים .אמרתי לו ,א"כ ,כיצד נשתבחת ואמרת ,אני הכתי ל"ח שמואל בשוקו כדי שלא יבוא עוד אצלי ,השיב לי אינו הוא ח"ו ,כ"א אותו הגוי שהיה מזיק עמי ,ואמר שהכה אותי ושקר וכזב ,וכדי להשתבח בעצמו אמר כך ,אבל אין לו יכולת ח"ו ליגע בי .אמרתי לו ,א"כ למה באת אלי בחלום הלילה בליל שלישי ליל י"ז בתמוז ,וצערת אותי ,והשיב לי אמת כי אני הוא באתי , אבל המצער אותך היה אותו המזיק הגוי ,ואני לא חטאתי לך כלל .אמרתי לו ,ואתה למה באת עמו , והשיב לי כדי לבקש ממך תקון:

סוף סוף אמרתי לו ,עתה מה אתה רוצה ,והשיב רצוני שתתקן את נפשי ואת רוחי ,ותוציאני מן הגוף הזה .אמרתי לו כן אעשה ,למחר חזר וא"ל ,ולמה תעכב שתי רוחות בצער כזה ,רוחי ורוח הנערה הזאת , ויש לאל ידך לעשות ,וחלה פני מאד .סוף סוף השבעתיו שבועה חמורה ,שלא יכזב ויצא ויחזיר ויכנס בה , וגם שלא יזיק ביציאתו ,לא לנערה עצמה ,ולא למשפחתה ,ולא לעומדים שם בעת יציאתו מן הגוף ,ולא לשום א 'מישראל ,וגם שלא ישב עוד פה מצרים ,אלא תכף ומיד ילך לדרכו לגיהנם להתרפאות שם:

ומלבד זה גזרתי עליו כל הנז"ל בחרם ובנדוי וכו ,'ואח"כ אמרתי לו שיתן לנו אות אמת ביציאתו ,ושיאמר שלום עליכם ביציאתו ,וכן עשה .וכן דבר ג"פ .ואח"כ קראתי לעשרה ת"ח שימצאו שם ,והתחלתי לדפוק בדפק שלו הימין ,וכונתי בפסוק הפקד עליו רשע ושטן יעמד על ימינו ,ככתוב אצלי באורך וגם בכונות אחרות ידועות אצלי ,לתקן נפשו ורוחו ,ואח"כ נענע בשפתיו ,ואומר עמנו בקול רם בתחלה ,מזמור יענך ה 'ביום צרה כלו .ומזמור ויהי נעם וגו .'יושב בסתר עליון וכו .'אנא בכח וכו ,'כלו .וכונתי בשם קר"ע שט"ן . ואח"כ מזמור בקראי ענני אלהי צדקי וכו':

Oh god, forget it!

Not only are the vast majority not translated, even if they were, most of them are only legible by people with specific training.

One book you can read which is fairly accurate is early daoist scriptures
https://www.amazon.ca/Early-Daoist-Scriptures-Stephen-Bokenkamp/dp/0520219317

Which has much of the important early material from zhengtong daozang and is very accurate.

For quanzhen material you should just read it as it's own thing and not worry about Dao zang until you have the lay if the land.

I'm 95% sure this doesn't exist. There's like, 1500 books in the taoist canon.

The closest thing I'm aware of to this that exists is "The Taoist Canon: A Historical Companion to the Daozang" which is literally just a 3 volume description of all the books in the taoist canon.

EDIT: As a side note, this is the biggest reason that I think almost nobody on this forum, very much so including myself, really has any idea what they're talking about as far as this religion goes. Most of us are basing our opinion on this religion on just the TTC and the Zhungzhao which is like, 2/~1500 books.

If your claim is true, then no one, past or present, "has any idea what they're talking about..." No one has ever read the whole thing. And the Daoist "canon" isn't a canon like other canons: it's a huge grab-bag of texts, some of which have no real business being there. And without even getting into the philosophical-religious thing, there is no such thing as "the Daoist religion": there are dozens of "Daoist religions," each with their own separate names, authoritative texts, lineages, dogmas and teachings, deities, etc.

Yea I agree with everything you wrote.

I'm really not shitting on this forum or anyone here, except people who make really absolute claims about what Taoism is or isn't, because most people's knowledge doesn't go past the two books I previously mentioned.

Again, I am including myself in this, I have read a few books other than those, but it's just a drop in the bucket.

I would buy "The Norton Anthology of Taoism" to start with, on top of the two books everyone reads, the dao de jing and the zhungzhao.

What has popularly come to be known as the Daozang (Taoist Canon) is indisputably the foremost body of texts for research in the field of Taoist studies. The Ming Canon of 1445, or so-called Zhengtong daozang (Taoist Canon of the Zhengtong Reign Period), lies at the heart of all modern editions of the Canon. Its origins are closely linked to catalogues of Taoist writings prepared more than a millennium earlier. Canonic collections to which the Ming Canon is heir were produced under Tang, Song, Jurchen, and Mongol rulerships.

To some extent, each successive Canon may be regarded as the result of a working relationship between church and state. Both parties may very well have had particular needs in mind but if there was any motivation uniting them on this mission, it would have been the desire for ritual order. By joining forces to define a Taoist Canon imperial and clerical leaders could exercise their respective powers of regulatory control. Like all such endeavors, the compilation of every Canon in turn allowed the demarcation of textual authority to be established anew.

Later collections of texts derived from the Zhengtong daozang obviously narrow its boundaries. Those that stand in supplement to it alternatively offer an expansion of canonic limits. All such anthologies, as well as bibliographic guides to the Canon itself, serve to make the vast textual heritage of Taoist teachings more accessible.

Catalogues and Canons through the Ming

There is as yet no definitive study tracing the history of the Daozang. Canonic compilations prior to the Tang are particularly difficult to document, owing to disparate accounts found in a variety of texts ranging from Buddhist polemical writings to historical and topographical works. One of the more frequently cited resources is a stele inscription dating to 1275, but certain portions of this text remain to be verified. A copy of the inscription is appended to the Daozang quejing mulu (Index of Scriptures Missing from the Taoist Canon), presumably compiled by the editors of the Ming Canon. The anonymous text is entitled Daozang zunjing lidai gangmu (Historical Survey of the Revered Scriptures of the Taoist Canon). It will serve here as an anchor for the summary of the early history of the Canon that follows.

The origins of the Ming Canon are commonly traced to the editorial endeavors of Lu Xiujing (406-77), codifier of the Lingbao corpus. His preface to the Lingbao jingmu (Catalogue of Lingbao Scriptures) dates to 437. The catalogue he reportedly submitted to Song Mingdi (r. 465-72) in 471 is assumed to be what is known as the Sandong jingshu mulu (Index of Scriptures and Writings of the Three Caverns). A collection of texts collated under the supervision of the Director of the Bureau of Evaluation in 471 is said to have been approximately a third of the size of that catalogued by Lu.

The titles of two catalogues are dated to the time of Zhou Wudi (r. 560-78). Buddhist accounts speak of a Xuandu [guan] jing mu[lu] (Index of the Scriptures of the [Abbey of the] Mysterious Metropolis), produced in 569 at the Xuandu guan (Abbey of the Mysterious Metropolis) in the capital of Chang'an (Shaanxi). Taoist writings speak of a [Sandong] zhunang [jingmu] ([Catalogue of the Scriptures in] the Pearl Satchel [of the Three Caverns]), produced in 574 at the Tongdao guan (Abbey of the Pervasive Way) in Chang'an.

By the next century, during the early Tang period, additional catalogues of Taoist texts appear to have been compiled in succession. Yin Wencao (622-88) is credited with a Yuwei jingmu (Catalogue of the Scriptures of the Jade Weft Texts). Although there is no apparent trace of this text, the compilation of an Yiqie daojing mu (Catalogue of the Complete Taoist Scriptures) is confirmed by the extant prefaces of the compiler Shi

Chongxuan (or Shi Chong, ?-713) and Tang Xuanzong (r. 712-56). Another catalogue, also lost, accompanied what came to be known as the Kaiyuan daozang (Taoist Canon of the Kaiyuan Reign Period), in reference to the reign period (713-41) during which it was compiled. Entitled Sandong qionggang (Exquisite Compendium of the Three Caverns), this catalogue is ascribed to a Taoist Master named Zhang Xianting. Neither catalogue nor Canon is thought to have survived the An Lushan and Shi Siming uprisings of 755-63. Later efforts to recompile a Canon apparently met a similar fate following the Huang Chao rebellion of 874-84.

Three canonic compilations of significance arose during the Song. A comprehensive search and collation of texts began in the year 990, at the command of Song Taizong (r. 976-97). The catalogue to this initial Canon of the Song bore the title Sandong sifu jingmu (Catalogue of the Scriptures of the Three Caverns and Four Supplements). By 1009, Song Zhenzong (r. 997-1022) had authorized a new recension of the Canon. Seven years later the Minister of Rites Wang Qinruo (962-1025) presented the emperor with a catalogue entitled Baowen tonglu (Comprehensive Register of Precious Literature). The Canon of 1016 came to be known as the Da Song Tiangong baozang (Precious Canon of the Celestial Palace of the Great Song). The successor to this Canon is the Zhenghe Wanshou daozang (Taoist Canon of the Ten-Thousand-Fold Longevity of the Zhenghe Reign Period). Compiled under the aegis of Song Huizong (r. 1100-1125), it is the first Taoist Canon to have been produced in print. Approximately 70,000 blocks were cut for this Canon, a task apparently not completed until 1119 in Fuzhou (Fujian), a major publication center at that time.

The Canon of 1119 served as the foundation for a new compilation undertaken in 1190 by the authority of the Jurchen ruler Zhangzong (r. 1190-1208). Completed in 1192, the Da Jin Xuandu baozang (Precious Canon of the Mysterious Metropolis of the Great Jin) provided in turn the backbone for a Canon edited under the direction of the Quanzhen patriarch Song Defang (1183-1247). It was replaced in 1244 by the [Da Yuan] Xuandu baozang (Precious Canon of the Mysterious Metropolis). Although Khubilai khan (r. 1260-94) later ordered the destruction of both texts and printing blocks of this Canon, small components of it have rather miraculously survived.

The so-called Zhengtong daozang, or Da Ming daozang jing (Scriptures of the Taoist Canon of the Great Ming), may be regarded as the culmination of Taoist canonic compilations undertaken within the imperial age of China. The forty-third Celestial Master Zhang Yuchu (1361-1410) served as the initial editor, by the command of the Yongle Emperor (r. 1403-24). It was only by the grace of his great-grandson the Zhengtong Emperor (r. 1436-49) that publication of the Ming Canon was finally accomplished in 1445. An addendum to the some 1400 titles in this Canon was completed in 1607. This supplemental collection of some fifty titles is given the title Da Ming xu daozang jing (Scriptures in Supplement to the Taoist Canon of the Great Ming). It is more popularly known as the Wanli xu daozang (Supplementary Taoist Canon of the Wanli Reign Period), in reference to its compilation by order of the Wanli Emperor (r. 1573-1620). The responsibility for it fell to the fiftieth Celestial Master Zhang Guoxiang (?-1611).

Modern Editions

Access to the Ming Canon remained limited until the Hanfen lou branch of the Commercial Press in Shanghai issued a threadbound edition in 1923-26. The former Minister of Education Fu Zengxiang (1872-1950) played a major role in the achievement of this landmark in publication. His persuasive endorsement of the academic value of the Canon convinced President Xu Shichang (1855-1939) to authorize a government subsidy for the project.

The copy of the Ming Canon photolithographically reproduced in 1,120 threadbound fascicles by Hanfen lou came from the Baiyun guan (Abbey of the White Clouds) in Beijing. Missing portions of it are known to have been replaced in 1845. Reprints of the Hanfen lou edition have made the Ming Canon even more accessible, beginning with the threadbound copy issued in 1962 by the Yiwen Publishing House in Taipei. Among the more widely available editions in modern binding is the 60-volume Zhengtong daozang produced by the same publishing house in 1977. Another edition, the 36-volume Daozang, appeared in 1988 as a joint publication of Wenwu chubanshe in Beijing, the Shanghai shudian, and the Tianjin guji chubanshe. This new edition overcomes a number of defects in earlier editions, replacing missing texts as well as correcting misplacements, but it also retains and introduces new defects.

A reorganized, punctuated edition of the Taoist Canon is now in print. Intermittent reports on this team effort began to appear as early as 1997 in Zhongguo daojiao (Chinese Taoism), a publication of the Zhongguo daojiao xiehui (Chinese Taoist Association) headquartered at the Baiyun guan in Beijing. The final product is the 49-volume Zhonghua daozang (Taoist Canon of China) published by Huaxia chubanshe in 2003.

Indices

Available indices are not in agreement on the total number of titles contained in the Ming Canon. This discrepancy primarily reflects the occasional difficulty in determining where one text ends and the next begins. The earliest annotated table of contents to the Ming Canon, the Daozang mulu xiangzhu (Detailed Commentary on the Index of the Taoist Canon) ascribed to Bai Yunji, dates to 1626. It has been superceded by the Daozang zimu yinde (Combined Indices to the Authors and Titles of Books in Two Collections of Taoist Literature), compiled in 1935 by Weng Dujian. This volume in the Harvard-Yenching Institute Sinological Index Series lists altogether 1476 titles in the Daozang and indicates which texts are also found in the Daozang jiyao (Essentials of the Taoist Canon) of 1906. An additional list of the texts recorded in the Daozang jiyao alone is followed by indices to both titles and compilers. The closing index to biographies is keyed to seventy-seven hagiographic resources in the Canon.

An index volume accompanying the 60-volume edition of the Zhengtong daozang lists altogether 1487 titles in the Canon. Li Diankui is responsible for this reedition of the Concordance du Tao-tsang compiled under the direction of Kristofer Schipper in 1975. The editors of the Daozang tiyao (A Conspectus of the Taoist Canon), Ren Jiyu and Zhong Zhaopeng, alternatively list a total of 1473 titles in the Canon. This collection of abstracts for all texts in the Canon also includes a supplement of brief biographical accounts on compilers cited. Another comprehensive guide to the Canon has been under preparation since 1979, with the establishment of the "Projet Tao-tsang" under the auspices of the European Science Foundation. The results of this massive collaborative enterprise, edited by Kristofer Schipper and Franciscus Verellen, have been published in 2004 by the University of Chicago Press under the title The Taoist Canon: A Historical Companion to the Daozang.

The recently published Xinbian daozang mulu (A Newly-Compiled Index to the Taoist Canon) compiled by Zhong Zhaopeng (1999) presents a reorganized table of contents to the Canon. This two-volume threadbound publication lists a total of 1527 titles under six major headings and twenty-two subheadings. Recorded under each title are the fascicle number(s) in the Hanfen lou edition and volume number(s) in the 60-volume Yiwen edition. The few editorial notes recorded after this data in some entries offer clarifications of provenance. The appearance of the 1988 edition late in the course of his work on this index led the compiler to add a chart listing the fascicle numbers of the Hanfen lou edition in correspondence with its thirty-six volumes (labelled Sanjia ben). The second volume of this publication contains indices to compilers and titles.

Subsidiary Compilations

The Daozang jiyao mentioned above is by far the largest of anthologies chiefly derived from the Ming Canon. Other collections of note include the Daoshu shi'er zhong (Twelve Books on the Dao), the Daozang jinghua (Essential Splendors of the Taoist Canon), and the Daozang jinghua lu (Record of the Essential Splendors of the Taoist Canon). Publications that go beyond the Canon include the Daozang xubian (Sequel to the Taoist Canon), the Zhuang-Lin xu daozang (Supplementary Taoist Canon of Zhuang[-Chen Dengyun] and Lin [Rumei]), and the Zangwai daoshu (Taoist Texts Outside the Canon).

Specialized publications not to be overlooked include the collections of texts pertinent to the Taoist heritage that have been recovered from Dunhuang (Gansu) as well as from archaeological sites such as Mawangdui (Hunan) and Guodian (Hubei). In addition to the Tonkō dōkyō (Taoist Scriptures from Dunhuang) compiled by Ōfuchi Ninji (Ōfuchi Ninji 1978-79) there is now in print a five-volume Dunhuang daozang (Taoist Canon of Dunhuang) edited by Li Defan (1999). The study of Taoist institutional history should also be enhanced by the recent publication of a 36-volume Zhongguo daoguan zhi congkan (Collectanea of Monographs of Taoist Temples in China), edited by Gao Xiaojian (2000). This publication will not only supplement monastic records in the Taoist Canon but also surely offer further supplement to the invaluable yet still largely overlooked Daojia jinshi lüe (A Collection of Taoist Epigraphy) compiled by Chen Yuan (1988). The recent appearance of so many new resources is truly without precedent in the field of Taoist studies.

DAOISM: DAOIST LITERATURE
Compared to Buddhism, the literature of Daoist traditions remains largely unexplored.

Large-scale study in this area was greatly enhanced in 1926 with the appearance of the first widely accessible reprint of the Daozang, or Daoist canon, which, at 1120 fascicles, is the largest repository of Daoist literature ever compiled. Research on Daoism prior to that time was, with few exceptions, generally confined to studies of texts such as the Laozi and Zhuangzi that are widely available in editions outside the canon. For the most part, the West has also had its understanding of the Daoist legacy shaped by what has been summarized from the writings on the subject by Buddhist polemicists and unsympathetic Chinese literati. The one-sided view of Daoist traditions that such limitations promote is easily amended when the resources of the Daozang are taken into account, together with subsidiary compilations and pertinent collections of epigraphy and manuscripts. The social and historical context of much of this material has only recently come under intensive scrutiny. Continued research on the Daoist literary heritage is likely to challenge many long-held perceptions about the nature of religious traditions in Chinese society.

The Daozang

Before 1926, very few copies of the Daoist canon were available outside of those kept in the temple archives of China. The state traditionally sponsored both the compilation and distribution of the Daozang. While it cannot be said that the newly founded Republic of China was a patron of Daoism, the reprinting of the canon between 1923 and 1926 came about only through government subvention. The former minister of education and renowned bibliophile Fu Zengxiang (1872–1950) was instrumental in convincing President Xu Shichang (1855–1939) of the scholarly value of the Daozang and to underwrite its publication by the Commercial Press of Shanghai. The copy that was selected for photographic reproduction in the 1920s and that has since been reprinted in at least three modern editions was the wood-block concertina canon housed in the Baiyun Guan (White Cloud Abbey) of Beijing, the central Daoist seminary of the People's Republic of China. It is thought that this copy of the canon was largely derived from the 1445 printing, apart from the lacunae reconstituted in 1845.

History of compilation

Among the earliest inventories of Daoist writings are those recorded in the bibliographic monograph of Ban Gu's (32–92) Han shu (History of the Han) and Ge Hong's (283–343) Baopuzi. It was not until the late fifth century, well after the establishment of the Shangqing and Lingbao scriptural traditions, that a single, comprehensive catalogue of Daoist texts was attempted. Lu Xiujing (406–477), principal codifier of the Lingbao corpus, undertook the task on the order of Song Mingdi (r. 465–472). The Sandong jingshu mulu (An index to the scriptural writings of the three caverns), which Lu presented to the emperor in 471, was said to list over twelve hundred juan (scrolls or chapters), ranging from scriptures and pharmaceutical works to talismanic diagrams. Nearly three centuries later, Tang Xuanzong (r. 712–756), confident that he was the descendant of Laozi, issued a decree dispatching his envoys throughout the empire in search of all existing Daoist writings. The collection that followed was given the title Sandong qionggang (Exquisite compendium of the three caverns) and reportedly included around thirty-seven hundred or fifty-seven hundred juan. It was the first canon from which multiple copies were to be transcribed for distribution to Daoist temples. But not long after Xuanzong officially authorized this undertaking in 748, the imperial libraries of the capitals of Chang'an and Luoyang were destroyed during the An Lushan and Shi Siming rebellions, and much of the Sandong qionggang was apparently lost.

Subsequent compilations were attempted upon the command of various Song emperors, who similarly viewed their mandate as part of a larger Daoist dispensation. Song Zhenzong (r. 998–1022) assigned his trusted adviser Wang Qinruo (962–1025) the task of preparing a new catalogue of Daoist texts in the imperial archives. By 1016 an assistant draftsman named Zhang Junfang (fl. 1008–1029) was put in charge of a staff of Daoist priests to make copies of a new canon for distribution to major temples. The Da Song tiangong baozang (Precious canon of the celestial palace of the great sung; 4,565 juan) that resulted was the first definitive edition of what has come simply to be called the Daozang.

A century later Song Huizong (r. 1101–1125) initiated an even more ambitious program for the compilation and dissemination of a new Daoist canon. In 1114 he issued an edict ordering all local officials, clergy, and laity to submit whatever Daoist texts they had to the capital of Kaifeng. A number of Daoist priests answered his call to help with the collation of the incoming literature. Their work culminated in the Zhenghe wanshou Daozang (Daoist canon of the longevity of the Zhenghe reign), the first canon to be printed. The blocks for nearly fifty-four hundred juan were cut sometime around 1118 to 1120. It is not known how many copies of the Daozang were subsequently made and there is also some question as to how much was lost upon the Jurchen takeover in 1127. But it appears that at least some blocks survived, for in 1188 it is reported that Jin Shizong (r. 1161–1189) commanded their removal from Kaifeng to the Tianchang Guan (Abbey of Celestial Perpetuity) in the central capital of the Jurchen empire, the predecessor to the Baiyun Guan in Beijing. His grandson and successor, Jin Zhangzong (r. 1190–1208), had the temple enlarged in 1190 and then appointed two imperial academicians to assist the abbot in reediting the canon. With the carving of additional blocks two years later, the Da Jin xuandu baozang (Precious canon of the arcane metropolis of the great Chin) totaled over sixty-four hundred juan.

In 1215 the capital of the Jurchen fell into the hands of the Mongols and it is not known how much of the enlarged canon of the Jin escaped destruction. But by 1237 work on a new edition was undertaken, sponsored this time by the local administration of Shanxi province. Two Quanzhen masters, Song Defang (1183–1247) and his disciple Qin Zhi'an (1188–1244), oversaw a staff in the hundreds. The Xuandu baozang (Precious canon of the arcane metropolis), completed in 1244, was apparently the largest ever, comprising altogether seven thousand juan. Over a hundred copies were said to have been made, but in 1281 Khubilai Khan decreed that all texts and printing blocks of the Daozang be burnt, save the Dao de jing. Fragments of the 1244 canon were nonetheless spared and, together with what remained of the Jurchen and Song canons, came to serve as the foundation of the Ming Daozang.

The canon currently in print is based on the compilation completed between 1444 and 1445 and a supplement dating to 1607. Ming Chengzu (r. 1402–1424) initiated the project in 1406 by appointing the forty-third Celestial Master, Zhang Yuchu (1361–1410), as compiler-in-chief. But the final version of the Da Ming Daozang jing (Scriptures of the Daoist canon of the great Ming) was actually completed under the guidance of Shao Yizheng, a prominent Daoist master at the court of Ming Yingzong (r. 1436–1449). The fiftieth Celestial Master, Zhang Guoxiang (d. 1611), supervised the preparation of a 240-juan supplement to the 5,318 juan of this edition. It is known as the Xu Daozang (Supplementary Daoist canon) of the Wanli reign (1573–1619), whereas the fifteenth-century core is sometimes referred to as the Zhengtong Daozang or Daoist canon of the Zhengtong reign (1436–1449).

Organizational divisions

As the title of Lu Xiujing's catalogue of 471 suggests, Daoist writings were traditionally classified according to the "Three Caverns" (sandong). This tripart division became a fundamental organizational feature of the Daozang. Although there has been a tendency in the past to equate these three compartments of texts with the "Three Receptacles" (sanzang) of the Buddhist canon, the closer parallel is actually the Buddhist triyāna or sansheng ("three vehicles"). Rather than being representative of three genres of literature such as the Sūtra, Vinaya, and Abhidharma of the Three Receptacles, the Three Caverns reflect three distinct revelatory traditions. And like the Three Vehicles, the Three Caverns are viewed as a ranking of textual legacies. The Dongzhen section evolved around the Shangqing (Supreme Clarity) scriptures, the Dongxuan around the Lingbao (Numinous Treasure), and the Dongshen around the San huang (Three Sovereigns). Since this categorization gives primacy to the Shangqing traditions, it is assumed that it was devised well before Lu Xiujing compiled his catalogue, perhaps by the end of the fourth or beginning of the fifth century. There is less certainty about the origins of the Four Supplements that follow the Three Caverns, what are known as the Taixuan, Taiping, Taiqing, and Zhengyi components of the canon. The term ssu-fu ("four supplements") does not seem to date before the turn of the sixth century. The first three have commonly been regarded as individual appendices to the Three Caverns, but in fact they appear to have been organized around very specific literary collections. Central to the Tai-xuan division is the Dao de jing. Likewise, the Taiping jing (Scripture on the grand pacification), the Taiqing (Grand Purity) legacy of alchemical writings, and the Zhengyi (Authentic unity), or Celestial Master heritage lie at the heart of the Taiping, Taiqing, and Zhengyi subdivisions. It may be that these four supplements were inspired by demands to establish a more cohesive body of Daoist literature vis-à-vis the rapidly developing corpus of Chinese Buddhist writings. Although the preeminence of the Shangqing revelations was apparently never in question, it seems that by the sixth century there was more awareness of the diversity of inspiration from which they arose. Liturgical texts of the Tang dynasty, moreover, seem to suggest that the arrangement of the canon corresponds to descending ranks of ordination, from the top level of Dongzhen down to the first step of the Zhengyi initiation.

Whatever the underlying significance of the organization of the Daozang, accretions over the centuries have resulted in a less than systematic presentation of texts. Each of the Three Caverns is subdivided into twelve sections: (1) original revelations, (2) divine talismans, (3) exegeses, (4) sacred diagrams, (5) histories and genealogies, (6) codes of conduct, (7) ceremonial protocols, (8) prescriptive rituals, (9) special techniques (i.e., alchemical, geomantic, numerological), (10) hagiography, (11) hymnody, and (12) memorial communications. The distribution of texts is not always in keeping with either the major headings or these subheadings. No categorical distinctions are applied to the Four Supplements and the Xu Daozang, the contents of which are as diverse as the Three Caverns.

Facets of research

Nearly half of the volumes in the canon either bear dates after 1126 or can be directly linked to new scriptural traditions developing after the Northern Song dynasty. Moreover, the prefaces of at least sixty titles in the Daozang indicate that they circulated in printed editions prior to their incorporation into the canon. Prefaces and colophons, however, are not always reliable guides to the history of a text. Fictive lineages are often invoked in order to establish the historical antiquity of newly codified writings. It is not unusual to find, for example, the provenance of a text traced directly to the founder of the Tianshi Dao (Way of the Celestial Masters), Zhang Daoling (fl. 142 ce). An even larger number of texts are simply presented as the word of divine authority. The names of the deities cited often prove critical to the identification of a text vis-à-vis established scriptural traditions. Other internal dating features that help clarify the historical and social origins of a compilation include reign titles, datable place names and official titles, as well as the titles of canonization granted by imperial decree to various patriarchs and apotheosized cultic figures. The language itself, particularly the use of specialized terminology, also helps determine the setting in which a text arose. The terminus a quo or terminus ad quem of a work can likewise be determined with the help of a number of inventories of Daoist texts.

Contents

The range of literature in the canon is as diverse as the beliefs and practices associated with Daoism since the Han dynasty. Much research to date has concentrated on the scientific significance of Daoist alchemical and pharmaceutical works. Aside from the early Shangqing and Lingbao scriptural traditions, little has been reported on the textual legacy of Daoist revelatory and cultic inspiration. The Daozang, furthermore, has yet to be fully appreciated as a valuable repository of belles-lettres in its own right. The following survey highlights a few of the texts in the canon with enduring literary and religious interest.

Revelation and ritual

As a work ostensibly transmitted from master to disciple, the Dao de jing or Laozi has long been regarded as a revelation in itself. The writings that Laozi reportedly delivered to the gatekeeper Yin Xi on his journey west have served as the inspiration for centuries of instruction on the attainment of the Dao. To the Celestial Masters, the Dao de jing seems to have functioned foremost as a code of behavior for young initiates. It is thought that the Xiang'er commentary on the Laozi (Xiang'er zhu) discovered at Dunhuang was compiled by one of the first, if not the first, patriarch of the Celestial Masters. The commentary extrapolates not only rules of conduct but also techniques of meditative practice from the text and is the only substantial writing associated with the early Celestial Masters to survive. The apotheosis of Laozi, that is, Taishang Laojun, or Lord Lao the Most High, who appeared before the founder Zhang Daoling was said to have revealed not scriptures but the sacred registers and talismans of divine guardians. Both were essential to the demonifuge mission of the Tianshi Dao. Divine commanders on high could be summoned only by those privy to their names and capable of infusing talismanic communications with their vitality. Countless texts, including even Ge Hong's Baopuzi, purport to preserve the apotropaic talismans of the Celestial Masters. The manipulation of such talismans was and still is thought to keep spectral forces at bay. Throughout the centuries the codifiers of later revelatory and ritual writings have never forgotten the ultimate heritage of the Tianshi Dao as a healing cult. Many anthologies of ritual are based precisely on the understanding that the ultimate mission of their founders was to convey hope in the salvation of humankind from all forms of suffering.

Salvation was also the message behind one of the earliest scriptures recorded in the canon, the Taiping jing (Scripture on the grand pacification). An early version of a text by this title was apparently promoted during the Western Han in support of a faction that sought to influence the direction of the ruling house through its expertise in the interpretation of cosmological omens. What circulates as the Taiping jing can be traced in part to another faction that arose during the Eastern Han on the Shandong Peninsula. Because of the text's link with Zhang Jue, leader of the Yellow Turban peasant rebellion, and the fall of the Han empire, the Taiping jing fell out of favor for several generations. It was not until the sixth century that a new, and much larger, edition of 170 juan appeared, portions of which are preserved in the canon as well as in Dunhuang manuscripts. This edition, the provenance of which can be traced to the Shangqing axis mundi of Maoshan (in present-day Jiangsu), seems to retain many of the major themes promoted in the Han dynasty works. The text was generally regarded as the omen of a more prosperous era. While there is difficulty in distinguishing the second-century text from later accretions, it appears that one consistent feature was the hint of an apocalypse should the divine teachings recorded within not be put into effect. The sixth-century editors enlarged upon this theme by interpolating references to the promise of deliverance by a messianic figure sacred to Shangqing, Housheng Jun, or the Sage-lord to Come. Overall, however, the Taiping jing stresses the importance of creating a utopian society in the present, one in which the political, social, and economic welfare of all could be assured upon the recitation of the scripture and the keeping of behavioral precepts in accordance with the will of the heavens above. This ideal of equity is tempered in part by instructions on techniques for prolonging life, a pastime in which only a select few could indulge.

The common denominator between the practices prescribed for attaining longevity in the Taiping jing and in the Shangqing scriptures is a large body of macrobiotic literature that is traditionally associated with the fangshi or technocrats of Chinese society. The titles of many of these works are recorded in early hagiographies. Central to these guides on the pursuit of a life everlasting is the ability to gain communion with the gods residing within one's own body as well as with those on high. One of the earliest and more provocative instruction manuals on gaining communication with the corporeal hierarchy is the Huangting jing (Scripture of the Yellow Court). The innate ambiguities of this lengthy verse composed in heptasyllabic meter were apparently thought to be at least partially resolved upon repeated recitation. A revised and less arcane version of the Huangting jing was reportedly among those texts conveyed to Yang Xi (b. 330), the prime recipient of the Shangqing revelations during the years 364 to 370. The most comprehensive record of Shangqing beliefs and practices was made over a century later by the eminent Daoist master Tao Hongjing (456–536). The Zhengao (Declarations of the perfected) that he edited is largely intended to be a verbatim account of the instructions given Yang during the visits of divine transcendents. Central to the expectations of those promoting the new dispensation of Shangqing was the imminent descent of a messiah who could replace the disorder of their age with order. The eschatological scenario for the advent of a savior by the name of Li Hong is set forth in the Shangqing housheng daojun lieji (Annals of the Lord of the Tao, the sage-to-come of Shangqing). The vision of Li Hong's epiphany continued to inspire a number of messianic movements as reflected, for example, in the Dongyuan shenzhou jing (A scripture of spirit spells from the caverned abyss), a composite work dating from the fifth and sixth centuries that has its analogues in the newly compiled dhāraṇī sūtras of that era.

The Shangqing visionaries worked not only toward the restoration of terrestrial order but also toward their own promotion into the ranks of the divine. The methods by which their eschatological hopes could be realized ranged from the rigid control of diet to stringent respiratory exercises and experimentation with pharmaceutical compounds. But the main sustenance for adepts pursuing such a regimen were the vital forces of the sun, moon, and stars. It was thought that the regular and concentrated absorption of these powerful sources of radiance would lead ultimately to one's cosmic transmigration. Feeding on the illumination of astral bodies is among the most fundamental techniques of the Daoist master (central to his private meditative sessions as well as his liturgical performances) and is by and large a technique of visualization, the skill of which is the concern of many manuals predating the Shangqing revelations. Those texts in which the ultimate goal specified is ascent to the celestial realm of Taiqing are commonly regarded as part of a Taiqing scriptural tradition, the origins of which remain unclear. The teachings of these Taiqing manuals were incorporated into both the Shangqing revelations and the slightly later scriptural tradition known as Lingbao. The prolongation of life through the ingestion of astral essences is, for example, a lesson in the Taishang Lingbao wufu xu (Prolegomena on the five talismans of the numinous treasure of the most high), a text originally dating to the late third century and recycled by spokesmen for the Lingbao tradition in the late fourth century.

The major recipient of the Lingbao revelations was Ge Chaofu, a nephew of Ge Hong. In the 390s, Ge Chaofu began ascribing the origin of some twenty-seven Lingbao scriptures to his grand-uncle Ge Xuan (164–244). This set of sacred writings actually owes its inspiration to not only the centuries-old arcana of southern Chinese religious practice and the more recent Shangqing innovations, but also to the Mahāyāna Buddhist traditions of the Nanjing area. The message of Lingbao, as epitomized in the Duren jing (Scripture on the salvation of mankind), was that all could ultimately be released from the cycle of suffering and ascend to the celestial realm by adhering to the teachings of the Yuanshi Tianzun, or Celestial Worthy of Primordial Commencement. The foremost contribution of the Lingbao tradition was in fact a whole program of liturgical services to be performed on behalf of the living and dead. Equally significant was the articulation of a code of behavior to be followed by the faithful in their struggle to escape the bonds of the mundane realm. As with the Shangqing tradition, a systematic presentation of the Lingbao corpus came some time after the original revelations. What is preserved in the canon from this syncretic development is due to the efforts of Lu Xiujing, the compiler of the first known catalogue of Daoist writings.

Expansion on the Lingbao rituals continued for centuries, as is reflected, for example, in the Wushang huanglu dazhai licheng yi (Protocols on the establishment of the great Zhai retreats of the Yellow Register), a compilation based on the writings of Lu, as well as two major Tang liturgists, Zhang Wanfu (fl. 711) and Du Guangting (850–933), and the Song Daoist masters Liu Yongguang (1134–1206) and Jiang Shuyu (1156–1217). Du Guangting was by far the most prolific Tang liturgist, for in addition to editing a number of Lingbao codes, he also compiled the protocols for various ordination rituals, including those marking the bestowal of the Dao de jing and the divine registers of Shangqing and Zhengyi. He issued, moreover, a series of ritual texts associated with the Scripture of Spirit Spells, as well as with the archaic practice of casting propitiatory prayers inscribed on metal or wood into caves and streams. The diversity of Du's contributions reflects in general the trend of his age toward a consolidation and systematization of diverse ritual practices in which the Daoist priesthood was engaged.

The editorial enterprises of the Tang dynasty soon yielded to a new wave of scriptural innovation during the Song dynasty. The creation of more innovative ritual traditions was apparently stimulated in large part by Song Huizong's patronage of Daoist masters. Among the most influential at his court was Lin Lingsu (1076–1120) of Wenzhou (in present-day Zhejiang). Lin convinced the emperor that he was the incarnation of Changsheng Dadi (Great Sovereign of Long Life) and, as such, was responsible for the salvation of all under his domain. To this end, Lin drew on the soteriological features of the Lingbao legacy and the messianic expectations of the Shangqing tradition to devise what he called the Shenxiao (Divine Empyrean) dispensation. The Gaoshang shenxiao zongshi shoujing shi (Formulary for the transmission of scriptures according to the patriarchs of the exalted divine empyrean) is a record of the evolution of the Shenxiao scriptures from their origins as cosmic script to their bestowal upon the Grand Sovereign himself. Large ritual compendia were eventually compiled based on this new scriptural heritage, with the Duren jing uniformly established as the central focus. Among the largest of such corpora are those associated with the teachings of Ning Benli (1101–1181), also of Wenzhou, namely the Shangqing Lingbao dafa (Great rites of the Shangqing Lingbao legacy), compiled by a disciple named Wang Qizhen, and the Lingbao lingjiao jidu jinshu (Golden writings on salvation, based on the instructions conveyed by the Lingbao legacy), edited originally by Lin Weifu (1239–1302) of Wenzhou.

Another scriptural tradition codified during Song Huizong's reign was the Tianxin Zhengfa (Authentic Rites of the Celestial Heart), the origins of which were traced to the discovery in 994 of sacred texts at Huagai Shan (in present-day Jiangxi). One of the Daoist masters working on the compilation of a new canon at Kaifeng, Yuan Miaozong (fl. 1086–1116) sought to make amends for a lack of talismanic healing rituals by compiling the Taishang zhuguo jiumin zongzhen biyao (Secret essentials of the most high on assembling the perfected for the relief of the state and delivery of the people). At the heart of this corpus are the instructions on the application of the three talismans central to the Tianxin legacy: San'guang (Three Sources of Radiance; i.e., sun, moon, and stars); Zhenwu (Perfected Martial Lord); and Tiangang (Celestial Mainstay; i.e., Ursa Major).

The best testimony to the diversity of healing ritual from the twelfth to the fourteenth centuries is the Daofa huiyuan (A corpus of Daoist rites), compiled after 1356. The most voluminous work in the canon, this corpus is devoted largely to what are known as leifa ("thunder rites"), based on the practice of quelling demonic forces through the absorption and projection of thunder pneumas. The opening chapters of the work are derived from one of the later Thunder Ritual traditions called Qingwei (Purified Tenuity), codified in part by Zhao Yizhen (d. 1382). Many rituals that evoke the authority of the Zhengyi tradition appear to reflect the influence of the thirty-ninth Celestial Master Zhang Sicheng (d. 1343). Most outstanding of all are the ritual instructions to be enacted on behalf of various astral deities and cultic figures such as the martial lord Guan Yu (d. 219). These therapeutic rites were prescribed for a wide range of ailments, from conjunctivitis to manifestations of possessing spirits. Many attest, moreover, to a long tradition of collaboration between Daoist masters and spirit-mediums.

Hagiography

Not unlike Confucian and Buddhist biographical accounts, Daoist hagiographies were compiled primarily as commemorative works, usually with a didactic message in mind. The lives of transcendents were generally intended to instruct on the paths by which one's divine destiny might be realized, as well as on the rewards inherent in venerating those who gained entry into the celestial ranks. The visionary Yang Xi was reportedly conveyed the full biographies of a number of divine transcendents with whom he was in communication, but only a few survive. Some of his contacts are memorialized in the Liexian zhuan (Lives of the immortals), traditionally attributed to Liu Xiang (77–6 bce) but apparently based on several centuries of oral tradition surrounding various local cults.

More extensive hagiographic accounts were compiled during the Tang dynasty, most notably by Du Guangting. One work of his, the Yongcheng jixian lu (A record of the transcendents assembled at Yongcheng), is entirely devoted to the lives of divine women, starting with an account of the cosmic evolution of the primordial goddess who gave birth to the historical Laozi. Du Guangting was above all a good storyteller and, as his Daojiao lingyan ji (An account of the divine efficacy of the teachings of the Dao) and Shenxian ganyu zhuan (A record of inspirational encounters with divine transcendents) further attest, he was most interested in recording accounts of sacred phenomena. Such works, together with Buddhist miracle tales, contributed significantly to the development of the narrative in Chinese literary history.

By far the most comprehensive hagiographic work in the canon is one compiled by a specialist in Thunder Ritual named Zhao Daoyi (fl. 1297–1307), the Lishi zhenxian tidao tongjian (A Comprehensive mirror on successive generations of perfected transcendents and those who embody the Dao). Largely derivative of earlier works, this text preserves much material that has otherwise been lost. Among more specialized works is the Xuanpin lu (A record of the ranks of the sublime) edited by a prominent literatus named Zhang Yu (1283–c. 1356). The author, who was himself temporarily in residence at Maoshan, dedicates a large portion of his text to the Shangqing heritage, from Yang Xi to the twenty-fifth patriarch Liu Hunkang (1035–1108). A separate account of the Zhengyi patriarchs, the Han Tianshi shijia (A genealogy of the Celestial Masters since the Han), is a composite work, based on editions dating from the fourteenth to the sixteenth century. The imprimatur of the fiftieth Celestial Master, Zhang Guoxiang (d. 1611), is found not only in this text but in the latest hagiography of the canon, the Soushen ji (In search of the sacred), edited by Luo Maodeng (fl. 1593–1598). Also a composite work, this text opens with the biographies of Confucius, Śākyamuni, and Taishang Laojun. Most predominate thereafter are the accounts of apotheosized cultic figures from south of the Yangtze. The dates of birth and ascension recorded in many of these entries give some indication as to the annual cycle of festival days authorized by church and state.

Several hagiographic works honor the Quanzhen heritage founded by Wang Zhe (1113–1170). One of the earliest is the Jinlian zhengzong ji (An account of the true lineage of the golden lotus), completed in 1241 by Qin Zhi'an, editor of the 1244 canon. This work was apparently lost in the book burning of 1281 and only recovered in the Ming. It was unknown to the compilers of a similar hagiography, the Jinlian zhengzong xianyuan xiangzhuan (An illustrated biographical account of the transcendent origins of the true lineage of the golden lotus). Liu Zhixuan and Xie Xichan completed this text in 1326, according to what written documents and stone inscriptions remained. They differ with Qin in attributing the origins of Quanzhen teachings to Laozi, but there is unanimity on the following four patriarchs: Donghua Dijun (Sovereign Lord of Eastern Florescence), Zhongli Quan, Lü Yan (b. 798?), and Liu Cao (fl. 1050). Central to both works are the hagiographies of the founder Wang and his seven disciples, known to the tradition as the Seven Perfected Ones (qi zhen) of Quanzhen: Ma Yu (1123–1183), Tan Chuduan (1123–1185), Liu Chuxuan (1147–1203), Qiu Chuji (1148–1227), Wang Chuyi (1142–1217), Hao Datong (1140–1212), and the single matriarch, Sun Bu'er (1119–1183).

Among hagiographies for individual Quanzhen patriarchs is an anonymous compilation in tribute to Wang Chuyi, the Tixuan zhenren xianyi lu (A record of the marvels manifested by the perfected who embodies sublimity). The nineteen episodes in this text offer a rare view of the therapeutic mission of Quanzhen masters, in the roles of healer, rain-maker, and demon queller. Even more well-known is the patriarch Qiu Chuji, whose journey into Central Asia for an audience with Chinggis Khan is commemorated in the Changchun zhenren xiyou ji (The journey to the west of the perfected Changchun). Qiu's disciple Li Zhichang (1193–1256) completed this work in 1228, following Qiu's death at the Tianchang Abbey in Beijing. The transcendent Lü Yan, conventionally credited with Wang Zhe's enlightenment, is the subject of a lengthy chronicle by Miao Shanshi (fl. 1324), the Chunyang dijun shenhua miaotong ji (Annals of the wondrous communications and divine transformations of the sovereign lord Chunyang). As with similar narrative sequences, this text appears to have evolved from centuries of storytelling traditions that also found their expression in temple wall paintings.

Most numerous of the hagiographies focused on local cults are those dedicated to Xu Sun (239–292?), whose career as a healer and subduer of malevolent dragons was established from Sichuan east to the central Jiangxi River valleys. The earliest text to survive intact is the Xiaodao Wu Xu er zhenjun zhuan (A Hagiography of Wu and Xu, the two perfected lords of the filial way). Xu's association in this account with Wu Meng, the legendary exemplar of filiality, attests to an early ritual tradition that evolved around his cult in Jiangxi, apparently a Tang variation on Lingbao liturgy. The Yulong ji (An anthology of jade beneficence), a later work compiled by the well-known specialist in Thunder Rites, Bai Yuchan (fl. 1209–1224), reveals the extent to which Song Huizong patronized this cult as a symbol of unity in the face of the Jurchen invasions. Veneration of Xu Sun eventually led to the development of a nationalistic cult known as the Jingming Dao (Way of Purity and Perspicacity), generally thought to have been founded by Liu Yu (1257–1308), an abbot of the Yulong Guan, an abbey established in Jiangxi at the putative site of Xu's ascension. Liu's disciple Huang Yuanji (1270–1324) edited the Jingming zhong xiao quanshu (A comprehensive compilation on the Jingming tradition of loyalty and filiality), the biographies of which exemplify the role of Xu's disciples as guarantors of political stability. The traditional attributes of zhong (loyalty) and xiao (filiality) are reinterpreted in this context as metaphors for submission to authority and the suppression of rebellion. Shrines to Xu are still maintained in Taiwan today and, even more remarkably, the Yulong Abbey is officially designated as a historical monument worthy of preservation.

A number of other hagiographic accounts testify to the popularity of local cults at various sacred mountain sites, including Lu Shan on the northern border of Jiangxi, once a popular missionary resort, and Huagai Shan, the source of the Tianxin revelations. Most well-known perhaps is the guardian of Wudang Shan (in present-day Hubei), referred to as Xuanwu (Dark Martial Lord) or Zhenwu (Perfected Martial Lord). How early this deity associated with the north was enshrined in China is not known, but well over three hundred shrines are established in his name on Taiwan today. Xuanwu's role as defender of the Song empire against the Western Xia invasions and other threats is commemorated in the Xuantian shangdi qisheng lu (An account of the revelations conveyed to the sages by the supreme sovereign of the dark celestial realm). A composite work, it is derived largely from the textual counterpart to the wall paintings of a shrine dedicated to the Martial Lord by Song Renzong in 1057. A later anthology reveals in turn that many literati of the thirteenth and fourteenth centuries promoted Xuanwu as the special guardian of the Mongol empire. Similarly, the Da Ming Xuantian shangdi ruiying tulu (An illustrated account of the auspicious responses of the supreme sovereign of the dark celestial realm during the great Ming) is a collection of encomia dating from 1405 to 1418 that honor the deity's role in establishing the mandate of the Ming.

Topography, epigraphy, and historiography

The chorography of sacred space, in the heavens above, on the earth below, and in the subterranean caverns beyond, is the subject of many works in the Daoist canon. Certainly among the most renowned of such texts from antiquity is the Wuyue zhenxing tu (Mappings of the true form of the Five Sacred Peaks), talismanic variations of which were introduced into the Lingbao textual corpus. The apotropaic value of these diagrams was recognized by Ge Hong and inspired Daoist liturgists for many generations later. The Five Sacred Peaks also serve as a crucial point of reference in Du Guangting's Dongtian fudi yuedu mingshan ji (A record of the celebrated mountains, conduits, sacred peaks, munificent terrains, and caverned heavens). In addition to mapping out the wuyue ("five [sacred] peaks," e.g., Tai Shan in the east, Heng Shan in the south, Song Shan in the center, Hua Shan in the west, and Heng Shan in the north) and the interlocking network of ranges, Du identifies ten major and thirty-six supplementary dongtian or subterranean chambers, as well as seventy-two sites traversed by various transcendents and the twenty-four original parishes established by Zhang Daoling in western Sichuan.

Larger descriptive topographies date from the Song to Ming. The canon preserves individual records for three of the Five Sacred Peaks. That compiled in commemoration of the Sacred Peak of the East, Dai shi (A history of Dai), was presented to Ming Shenzong (r. 1573–1619) on New Year's Day of 1587. In compiling this work the editor, Zha Zhilong (fl. 1554–1586), sought to reinforce the ritual obligations of the court toward Tai Shan, devoting large portions of the text to the history of imperial sacrifices and various temple compounds, as well as the supernatural phenomena witnessed at the site from 78 bce to 1586.

Earlier and less ambitious accounts are available for the sacred peaks of the west and south. The Xiyue Huashan zhi (A treatise on Hua Shan, sacred peak of the West) is attributed to a Wang Chuyi, not to be confused with the Quanzhen patriarch of the same name. This text, derived in part from the Huashan ji (A record of Hua Shan) dating to the Tang, may in fact be the work of the author of an 1183 preface, Liu Dayong. Unlike the treatise on Tai Shan, there is little discussion of ritual traditions in propitiation of the spirits embodied in the mountain. Instead, the compiler was far more interested in recounting stories about supramundane forces and in identifying indigenous plants and minerals with magical properties.

The Nanyue zongsheng ji (An anthology on the collective highlights of the sacred peak of the south) is wholly devoted to the history of Daoist sanctuaries on Heng Shan. The edition of this text in the Daozang is an extract from a fuller account of sacred shrines, including Daoist, Buddhist, and folk, that is printed in the Buddhist canon. Chen Tianfu (fl. 1131–1163), who completed this text in 1163, relies in part on the Nanyue xiaolu (A short account of the sacred peak of the south) compiled by Li Chongzhao in 902. Of considerable interest are Chen's own contributions on the history of rituals on behalf of the emperor's longevity and national prosperity. As the inventory of canonizations reveals, Song Huizong was a particularly avid patron of the shrines at Heng Shan.

Five topographies in the canon celebrate mountain ranges in Zhejiang, the most famous of which is Tiantai Shan. Central to the Tiantaishan zhi (A treatise on the Tiantai Mountains) is the history of the Tongbo Abbey, located on a peak of that name. It was for centuries the most prominent temple compound in the Tiantai range. Built originally for the Daoist master Sima Chengzhen (647–735), the Tongbo Guan reportedly once housed one of the largest collections of Daoist texts in the country. With the fall of Kaifeng and the reestablishment of the Song mandate at Hangzhou, the temple became an even more important talisman of the state and was evidently at the height of its glory in 1168, following thirty-seven years of construction activity. It later served as a haven for refugees during the fall of the Mongol regime and by 1367 went up in flames.

To the sacred font of the Shangqing revelations is dedicated the largest topography in the canon, the Maoshan zhi (A treatise on Maoshan). The forty-fifth Shangqing patriarch, Liu Dabin (fl. 1317–1328), completed this text in 1328, at a time when the site enjoyed a renewal of royal patronage. His account opens with a comprehensive collection of imperial communications concerning Maoshan, dating from 1 bce to 1319 ce. Other outstanding features include the hagiographies of the three eponymous transcendents surnamed Mao as well as the ranks of Shangqing patriarchs and matriarchs, the history of various shrines and hermitages, an anthology of stone inscriptions dating from 520 to 1314, and a large selection of prose and prosody sustaining the sanctity of the region.

The Daozang also preserves a few works solely comprised of texts carved on stone. Most notable are the anthologies of epigraphy prepared on behalf of the Quanzhen heritage. The largest is the Ganshui xianyuan lu (An account of the origins of transcendents at Ganshui) compiled by the Quanzhen archivist Li Daoqian. The title refers to the Ganhe Garrison (in present-day Shaanxi), where the founder Wang Zhe reportedly achieved enlightenment in 1159. Most numerous are the tomb inscriptions commemorating worthies ranging from Wang Zhe to a contemporary of the editor. Another anthology, the Gongguan beizhi (Epigraphic memorials of palaces and abbeys), is devoted largely to the early history of the Baiyun Guan in Beijing. One inscription marks the conclusion of a massive renovation of the Tianchang Guan, as the earlier abbey was known, in 1179. Also included is the proclamation issued upon the completion of the Jin canon at the Tianchang Guan in 1191.

Zhu Xiangxian (fl. 1279–1308) of Maoshan is the editor of two works commemorating the site where Laozi reputedly left behind the Dao de jing in answer to the gatekeeper Yin Xi's pleas for instruction. One is a set of hagiographic inscriptions entitled Zhongnanshan shuojing tai lidai zhenxian beiji (An epigraphic record of the successive generations of perfected transcendents at the pavilion for the recitation of scripture on Zhongnan Shan). Zhu composed these accounts and had them inscribed on stone following a pilgrimage in 1279 to the Lou Guan (Tiered Abbey) established in honor of Yin Xi's discipleship. He derived much of his data from an earlier work compiled by Yin Wencao (d. 688), a Daoist master who apparently regarded himself as a descendant of Yin Xi. The second work compiled by Zhu, the Gu Louguan ziyun yanqing ji (An anthology from the abundant felicity of purple clouds at the tiered abbey of antiquity), includes inscriptions on the history of the shrine dating from 625 to 1303.

The historical works in the Daozang do not match the size and scope of those in the Buddhist canon. There are a large number of brief historical surveys embedded in various texts, composed generally to establish the ultimate antiquity and thus authority of a scriptural tradition. The earliest separately compiled history in the Daoist canon is the Lidai diwang chongdao ji (A record of reverence for the Dao on the part of sovereign rulers over successive generations) of Du Guangting. The opening summary of the pre-Tang era is little more than a statistical analysis of the number of temples established and Daoist masters ordained from one period of state patronage to the next. The discussions thereafter focus on the role of Taishang Laojun as the ancestral guardian of the Tang, especially his defense of the empire during the uprising of Huang Chao (d. 884).

The unifying feature of all later histories in the canon continues to be the providential manifestations of Lord Lao. Prototypes of this historiographic approach include the early writings on huahu ("converting the barbarians") that were essentially chronicles of Laozi's incarnations as the supreme preceptor of all peoples. To write a history of the faith was, in other words, to write a hagiography of Lord Lao as the messiah. This approach is exemplified in Jia Shanxiang's (fl. 1086) Youlong zhuan (Like unto a dragon), the title of which is drawn from Confucius's putative characterization of Laozi as recorded in the Shi ji (Records of the historian) of Sima Qian (145–86 bce). Jia concentrates on Lord Lao's role as instructor to the ruling house and the history of the Taiqing Gong (Palace of Grand Clarity, in present-day Luyi, Henan province), the reputed birthplace of the "historical" Laozi.

Nearly a century later, Xie Shouhao (1134–1212), a prominent Daoist master at the site of the Xu Sun cult in Jiangxi, presented an even more comprehensive chronicle to Song Guangzong (r. 1190–1194). In compiling the Hunyuan shengji (A chronicle of the sage from the primordiality of chaos), Xie sought to correct the inconsistencies in Jia's account by drawing on a wider range of readings from the sanjiao, or "three teachings" (i.e., Confucianism, Daoism, and Buddhism). Xie's work is an invaluable source of citations from works no longer extant, such as the early chronicle on Lord Lao compiled by Yin Wencao. He is also particularly attentive to the history of the compilation of the canon. Among those who found Xie's work indispensable was the hagiographer Zhao Daoyi.

Literary Collections and Dialogic Treatises

Among the most informative sources on the beliefs and practices of Daoist masters are their collected writings, editions of which were commonly prepared by devotees. The prime example is of course Tao Hongjing's assiduous collation of Yang Xi's revelatory verse. The writings of Wu Yun (d. 778), an ordained Zhengyi master often summoned by Tang Xuanzong, were brought together more expeditiously. According to a preface by Quan Deyu (759–818), a scribe named Wang Yan rescued what remained of the master's writings and presented them to the imperial archives. The edition in the canon, the Zongxuan xiansheng wenji (A literary anthology of Master Zongxuan) is that which a disciple Shao Yixuan conveyed to Quan. Among Wu's most well-known compositions is a sequence of verse entitled Buxu ci (Lyrics on pacing the Void) and a lengthy essay arguing that divine transcendence can indeed be learned. The history of a second Tang anthology in the canon, the collected works of the renowned Du Guangting entitled Guangcheng ji (An anthology of Guangcheng), is more obscure. It, too, is a valuable resource on the ritual activities of Daoist masters whose reputations made them favorites at court.

By far the most numerous of literary collections in the canon are those compiled after the Tang. A vast corpus, for example, has evolved around the semi-legendary Lü Yan, claimed as the patriarch of both the Quanzhen and Nanzong (Southern Heritage) traditions. A substantial collection of verse conventionally ascribed to him in truth probably dates no earlier than the thirteenth century. One anthology, the Chunyang zhenren huncheng ji (An anthology of the perfected on arising from turbulence), was prepared by He Zhiyuan, a disciple of Song Defang. He was among those assigned to work on the Canon of 1244, the opportunity of which no doubt led to this edition. What he claimed to be the product of Lü's divine inspiration appears instead to reflect the literary legacy of Wang Zhe and his disciples.

Over a half-dozen works alone purport to be the teachings and writings of founder Wang. A number of the texts were compiled in direct tribute to Ma Yu's discipleship under Wang. The master's basic pedagogy was apparently to recite a verse that would provoke a response from his devotees. Two works, the Chongyang jiaohua ji (An anthology on the proselytism of Chongyang) and the Chongyang fenli shihua ji (An anthology of Chongyang on the ten transformations according to the sectioning of a pear), preserve hundreds of these missives between Wang and Ma. The exchange began, according to legend, when Wang locked himself up for one hundred days on the grounds of his hosts Ma and wife Sun Bu'er and communicated with them merely by submitting a gift of food, often a section of pear, accompanied by instruction in verse. There is unfortunately no comparable record of Sun's responses, although late editions of her writings available outside the canon suggest that at least a few considered her to have been equally literate.

Other texts in the canon reveal that Wang was also willing to entertain the questions of his disciples. Records of such question-and-answer sessions, known as yulu or dialogic treatises, were as popular with the Quanzhen masters as with their Chan Buddhist counterparts. A somewhat redundant example of this genre, the Chongyang shou Danyang erhshisi jue (Twenty-four lessons conveyed by Chongyang to Danyang), is composed of a series of questions and answers attributed to Ma and his master Wang. Among the lessons taught is that the devotee should speak very little, control all emotions, and minimize anxiety and cravings. Further details on Wang's instruction are found in the Chongyang lijiao shiwu lun (Fifteen discourses on the teachings set forth by Chongyang). Moderation in all things appears to be the central message of this dialogue. According to the concluding statement ascribed to Wang, departure from the mundane realm was to be accomplished mentally, not physically. The closing simile, obviously borrowed from the Buddhist translator and exegete Kumarajiva, is that one's body is like the root-stock of a lotus mired in mud, whereas one's heart-mind is suspended in space as the lotus blossom itself.

The writings associated with Ma Yu are even more numerous than those of his master. Aside from three works based on exchanges with Wang, there are altogether six separate collections of prose and prosody printed under his name in the canon. One compilation, the Dongxuan jinyu ji (An anthology of the gold and jade of Dongxuan), includes a particularly revealing verse that exhorts Buddhist monks and Daoist masters to come together in accord and do away with slander. Another work, the Jianwu ji (An anthology on gradual enlightenment), features onomatopoeic verses that were apparently designed to illustrate, as the title implies, that enlightenment is a gradual process. A significant number of Ma's verses are expressly dedicated to female adepts, including his wife Sun. All men and women of the Dao, he urges, would best bring under control their yima xinyuan, or "horse of the will and monkey of the mind."

Qiu Chuji, the youngest disciple of Wang and eventually the most renowned, has comparably fewer writings to his name in the canon. The Changchunzi Panxi ji (An anthology of Changchunzi from the Pan tributary) preserves compositions dating both from Qiu's seclusion in the upper reaches of the Yellow River valley as well as from his later ritual activities at Qixia (in present-day Shandong). Among his verses are commemorations of various jiao fetes over which he had presided, personal communications to Jin Shizong (r. 1161–1189), and instructions on meditative practices. In addition to Li Zhichang's account of Qiu's later years, the Xuanfeng qinghui lu (A record of a felicitous convocation on the sublime spirit of the Dao), ascribed to Yelü Chucai (1189–1243), provides a record of the sermons delivered before his patron, Chinggis Khan.

All but a fraction of the collected writings associated with the other select members in Wang's circle are lost. The single anthology of Tan Chuduan's teachings in the canon arose directly from the initiative of the junior patriarch Liu Chuxuan. Of the five anthologies attributed to Liu, only one survives, although a dialogic treatise compiled by his disciples reveals somewhat more about his career. Liu's sayings, many of which were inspired by lines in the Dao de jing, were reportedly so popular as to have become part of the local culture of his circuit. The two paragons of filial piety, Wang Chuyi and Hao Datong, are remembered with one anthology each. The Yunguang ji (An anthology from Yunguang), named for the cavern in which Wang secluded himself for nine years, is a valuable supplement to the hagiographic Xianyi lu. The one edition of Hao's teachings to be preserved attests to his training as a diviner and abiding interest in the Yijing.

The influence of the early Quanzhen patriarchs is easily measured by the volume of writings that emerged from later generations. Among those whose teachings expanded upon this legacy are Qiu's successor Yin Zhiping (1169–1251), Liu's disciple Yu

Daoxian (1168–1232), and Hao's disciple Wang Zhijin (1178–1263). Later syncretists for whom there is ample record in the canon include Li Daochun (fl. 1290), Miao Shanshi (fl. 1324), Wang Jie (fl. 1310), Chen Zhixu (fl. 1329–1336), Wang Weiyi (fl. 1294–1304), and Zhao Yizhen (d. 1382). Many of these figures drew equally from the Quanzhen and Nanzong traditions. The fullest documentation on the latter is to be found in late encyclopedic anthologies of the Daozang.

Encyclopedic anthologies

The earliest comprehensive encyclopedic work in the canon is the Wushang biyao (The essentials of unsurpassed arcana). Only two-thirds of the original one hundred juan survives of this anonymous compilation. Citations from a wide selection of texts are organized under 288 headings, ranging from cosmology and sacred topography to the protocols for transmitting divine scriptures and instructions on meditative practices. The origins of this text are revealed in a Buddhist, not Daoist, compilation, namely the Xu gaoseng zhuan (Supplementary biographies of exalted monks) of Daoxuan (596–667), which states that Zhou Wudi (r. 561–578) ordered its compilation following his pacification of the state of Northern Qi in 577. It is thought that work began on this vast anthology as early as 574, when Wudi issued a decree establishing the Tongdao Guan (Abbey of Communication with the Dao) as a symbol of the anticipated political and ideological reunification of the empire. The text is not only an invaluable resource for citations from the original Shangqing and Lingbao revelations, but also for the later codifications they inspired.

Two smaller compendia were compiled a century later by a relatively unknown recluse named Wang Xuanhe (fl. 683). The larger of the works, the Sandong zhunang (Pearl bag of the three caverns) is organized under thirty-four categories dealing with various aspects of conduct befitting an adept and includes extracts from a number of texts on contemplative pursuits that are otherwise lost. The second corpus attributed to Wang is the Shangqing daolei shixiang (A categorical survey of the Dao of Shangqing), which specializes in citations dealing with six types of sacred quarters, from private retreats to the cosmic chambers of revealed literature.

A much larger encyclopedic anthology, the Yunji qiqian (Seven lots from the book-pack of the clouds), was compiled by Zhang Junfang, inspired apparently by his assignment to oversee the copying of a new canon on the order of Song Zhenzong. Zhang states in his preface that his intention was to prepare a reference work for the emperor's personal use. But since the Yunji qiqian was not completed until 1028 or 1029, it was obviously presented to his successor Renzong (r. 1023–1053). The writings Zhang selected for this work date from the earliest revelations to the first decades of the eleventh century. Recorded, for example, in the opening essays on cosmogony and scriptural transmission are unique copies of the prefaces composed for the first catalogues of Shangqing and Lingbao literature. Additional subheadings include sacred topography, behavioral precepts, ritual purification, visualization techniques, and hagiography. Notably absent are any instructions on liturgical procedure, a subject that Zhang clearly considered to be beyond the scope of this corpus.

Two remarkable collections of writings treating "inner alchemy" (neidan) appeared during the Southern Song period. The first in print was the Dao shu (Pivot of the Dao) compiled by the bibliophile Zeng Cao (fl. 1131–1155). Among the rare texts Zeng records is the Baiwen pian (A folio of one-hundred questions), based on a putative exchange between Lü Yan and his mentor, the late Han transcendent Zhongli Quan. The entire last chapter is devoted to the Lingbao pian (A folio on Lingbao), a variant edition of the Lingbao bifa (Conclusive rites of Lingbao), which was also compiled as a tribute to this legendary discipleship. A related theoretical work on the cultivation of the jindan (metallous enchymoma), the Zhong Lü chuandao ji (An Anthology on Zhong [li]'s transmission of the Dao to Lü), is found in both the Dao shu and a later Song collectaneum of neidan literature, the Xiuzhen shishu (Ten writings on the cultivation of perfection). This anonymously compiled anthology also includes many texts associated with the Nanzong, or Southern Heritage, the "five patriarchs" (wuzu) of which are: Liu Cao (d. ca. 1050), Zhang Boduan (d. 1082), Shi Tai (d. 1158), Xue Zixian (d. 1191), and Chen Nan (d. 1213). The establishment of this patriarchy appears to be a rather late innovation inspired by the legacy of the Seven Perfected of Quanzhen. By the early fourteenth century a number of texts began to assert that Liu conveyed the teachings of the venerable Zhongli Quan and Lü Yan to both Wang Zhe in the north and Zhang Boduan in the south.

Zhang Boduan is popularly regarded as the "founder" of Nanzong. His writings were initially viewed as treatises on waidan, "exterior," or laboratory, alchemy. More recent research suggests that they fall, rather, into the mainstream of neidan literature. An edition of the major corpus attributed to him, the Wuzhen pian (Folios on the apprehension of perfection), is recorded in the Xiuzhen shishu, with a preface by Zhang dating to 1075. The same anthology also includes variant editions of similar lyrical sequences ascribed to Shi Tai, Xue Zixian, and Chen Nan. But by far the most dominant in the Xiuzhen shishu are the writings of Chen's putative disciple, the renowned Thunder Ritual specialist Bai Yuchan. Nearly half of the text is devoted to a record of his instructions on jindan and Thunder Ritual traditions, as well as his liturgical activities in Fujian and his accounts of the Xu Sun cult in central Jiangxi. It may be that the Xiuzhen shishu was compiled by devotees of Bai, for the latest work included is a set of texts on jindan by Xiao Tingzhi (fl. 1260), a second-generation disciple.

Other Sources

While the Daozang is the most comprehensive collection of Daoist literature, it is by no means the only source available. Among the number of publications issued during the Qing dynasty, the next largest corpus is the Daozang jiyao (An edition of essentials from Daoist canon). The reedition of this work in 1906 includes 287 titles, compared to nearly fifteen hundred in the canon. Over half of the titles are found in the Daozang as well, but this anthology also contains works otherwise unknown, including tracts attributed to Sun Bu'er and Liu Cao, as well as the writings of later syncretists such as Wu Shouyang (d. 1644).

Perhaps one of the most neglected resources for Daoist literature is epigraphy. Aside from the few, mainly Quanzhen, collections in the canon, there is a wide range of stone and bronze inscriptions pertinent to the history of the faith. An anthology of epigraphy compiled by Wang Chang (1725–1806), for example, includes a transcription of the Taishang Laojun riyong miaojing (A wondrous scripture of Lord Lao and most high for daily use) carved on stone in 1352 at the Pavilion for the Recitation of Scriptures in Shaanxi. A variant redaction of this text is found in the Daozang and, at 141 words, is among the shortest works in the canon. It is essentially a code of conduct based on many traditional Chinese attributes such as filiality. Study of epigraphic documents will soon be greatly facilitated by the imminent publication of a comprehensive anthology of inscriptions bearing on the history of Daoism, a project begun by Chen Yuan and now being completed by Chen Zhichao at the Chinese Academy of Social Sciences in Beijing.

Scriptures and related sacred writings found in various archives constitute another essential source of Daoist literature. The Dunhuang manuscripts preserved in a number of libraries worldwide, for example, include texts that clarify the early history of several scriptural codifications. One such work, of which only a portion survives in the canon, is the Benji jing (Scripture on the original juncture). Over seventy fragments of this text are in the British and French archives of Dunhuang manuscripts. One of the compilers is known to have taken part in debates before the court of Tang Gaozu (r. 618–626) on the issue of whether the Buddha was a disciple of the Dao. The text itself, designed apparently in part to support this theory, seems to have taken its inspiration from discussions on the cosmogonic concept of pūrvakoṭi (Chin., benji) in the Madhyamāgama and Saṃyuktāgama, Chinese translations of which appeared in the fourth and fifth centuries. Parables in one section of the Benji jing, moreover, were evidently drawn from the Dharmapada. The text reached the height of its popularity during the reign of Tang Xuanzong, who ordered all Daoist priests not only to copy it out but also to recite and lecture on it during official religious festivals. In short, the lessons within were thought to lead to the salvation of the state as well as of the individual.

Later collections of manuscripts and rare blockprints also have much to reveal about the continuity and change in Daoist traditions. Among published works is the Zhuang Lin xu Daozang (Supplementary Daoist canon of the Zhuang and Lin clans) edited by Michael Saso, a collection of Daoist works largely gathered from a Zhengyi fraternity in Xinzhu of north Taiwan. These texts, as well as those recovered by Kristofer Schipper in the Tainan area of south Taiwan, suggest a remarkable continuum of Daoist liturgical practice. A scripture dedicated to Tianfei (i.e., Mazu) in the Schipper Archives of Paris, for example, proves to be a variant of a text in the canon dating to 1409–1412. The manuscript version conveys an image of this well-known Fujianese patroness of seafarers that accommodates a folk vision of her as an avatāra of Guanyin. Tianfei's assimilation to this all-compassionate bodhisattva is promoted in popular narratives on the life of the goddess compiled during the late Ming dynasty. Just as she continues to inspire poets, novelists, and even scriptwriters in this age, so, too, has much of the Daoist literature both in and outside the canon left its mark on centuries of Chinese belles-lettres. Further study of this literature can only disclose how deeply the Daoist heritage pervades all aspects of Chinese society.

The Daozang (Chinese: 道藏; pinyin: Dàozàng; Wade–Giles: Tao Tsang) is a large canon of Taoist writings, consisting of around 1,500 texts that were seen as continuing traditions first embodied by the Daodejing, Zhuangzi, and Liezi. The canon was assembled by monks c. 400 CE in an attempt to bring together these disparate yet consonant teachings, and it included commentaries and expositions from various masters on material found in the aforementioned core texts of Taoism. The anthology consisted of three divisions (known as grottoes) based on what were seen at that time in Southern China as Taoism's primary focuses: meditation, ritual, and exorcism. These three grottoes were ranked by skill level—with exorcism being the lowest and meditation the highest—and used for the initiation of Taoist masters.

In addition to the Three Grottoes, there were the "Four Supplements" that were added to the canon c. 500 CE. Three were primarily sourced from the older core texts, with the other taken from a separate, established philosophical tradition known as Tianshi Dao.

Unlike many spiritual and religious canons, the Daozang is not considered to be highly organized. Although at present the core divisions have been preserved, substantial forks in the ordering and arrangement of the constituent texts have arisen due to the later addition of commentaries, revelations and texts further elaborating upon earlier iterations.

Timeline

The First Daozang
During the era of Northern and Southern dynasties, this was the first time of an effort was made to compile and categorised scriptures and texts from across China by Lu Xiujing and occurred around 471 and consisted of roughly 1,228 scrolls.
The Second Daozang
In 748, the Tang emperor Tang Xuan-Zong who was a devoted Taoist (the royal family claimed to be the descendants of Laozi) sent clergy to collect more scriptures and texts that expanded the Taoist Canon.
The Third Daozang
Around 1016 of the Song dynasty, the Daozang was revised and many texts collected during the Tang dynasty were removed. This third Daozang consisted of approximately more than 4500 scrolls and was known as Yunji Qiqian.
The Fourth Daozang
In 1444 of the Ming dynasty, a final version was produced consisting of approximately 5300 scrolls.
Many new Daozang were published.

Hi!

Idk if this is a silly query but could anyone point me towards english translations of texts from the Daozang?

I've been reading a little from "Daoist Master Chuang" and my interest has reached new peaks, i'd like to at least glance at some of the material talked about in relation to orthodox Taoist practices.

I found this:

http://hanji.sinica.edu.tw/

while leafing through Pregadios index paper but it is wholly in chinese from what i can see.

Any indications towards translations or texts detailing of the teachings of the three caves would be met with gratitude and joy!

Peace!

Thanks for the link!

Well, ritual instruction and prayer as far as translateable go a long way to understand certain things, as i'm interested in gleaning some ideas behind more orthodox practices and liturgy. Not for use but context.

The material in the books is an excellent guide, but you really need to bring knowledge to it, to know where to mine more knowledge out of it. At some point I will have to make a recommended reading list, but Saso's work would be on it, as well as others.

I’m delighted trying to digest Saso one subchapter at a time, that stuff is pretty dense already!

Difficulties in reading the original Taoist canon are :

1) They are in classical Chinese , not modern Chinese;

2) Many are without punctuation ! (that means your reading ability must be very high so as to separate the sentences/phases)

3) In the texts, there are lot of strange jargons , making them nearly not readable ;

This much i have gathered. Sasos book references a lot of the texts being in need of the oral transmissions to be comprehensible, besides holding high skill in classical chinese and context and terminology.

Wishing my teenage self had stood his ground and taken mandarin or cantonese as special language ed. Alas, he bowed to his parents will and took german. Go figure.

I started to see why time and place have such a heavy bearing on the amount of worthwhile translatable meaning, at least without involving lots of historic anthropology side-tracking. Especially if the chant was only a shorthand recording of some practice.. one that could be perfectly demonstrated in mere seconds, vs. painstakingly inscribing each actual detail.

For example, I just invented a move called "the eagle has landed." That is to say I've artfully balanced a silver dollar on the top of my head. Now, if you did not happen to know that I presently have a 25 gram disc of alloyed metals, i.e. a $1 coin from 1972, illustrated with an actual eagle landing on the Moon, then the name of the move becomes unnecessarily mysterious.

Even if I changed the name to the less poetic yet more descriptive "holding a dollar coin atop the head," depending on how it then gets miscontextually translated literally and culturally somewhere down the line, sure they could end up way off and thinking i meant i have "my money on my mind."

The real trick is, you don't even need any coins to do this move. If you simply imagine picking up a 1.5 inch diameter coin with your fingertips, the hand naturally takes on a kind of expanding version of the Beak-hand/Mukula-mudra (synchronicity bonus: eagles have beaks.) Now gracefully raise the arm and rest the five fingertips in a circle around Bai Hui (Du Mai 20). The skull and the hand become respectively reminiscent of the Moon and the Apollo ll lunar lander at the moment in 1969 when the pilot radioed mission control that "the eagle has landed."

It looks like that some people already translated a small part of Daozang into English.

Another sad thing is that you can't use Google 's translate to help , even partly to lessen the difficulties of the job . AI scientists always like to bullshit people about the coming of Singularity as super AI is going to access all knowledge through the world wide net and understood all different languages through Machine Learning and NLP ..etc, yet two huge archives (millions volumes of them in Chinese) of Daozang and Fozang (" 佛蔵" , Buddhist sutra in Chinese ; in fact, nobody knows how huge a volume it is ..) are there talking about deep knowledge of jing, qi, shen , time, consciousness ..etc , so important to human' intelligence , are even not mentioned by those AI scientists; Writing to this point, it makes me think of a Chinese saying you can always come across online : " 無知者無懼 " ;

" Those who are so brave to claim intelligent , unfortunately are those who are so ignorant (of what human intelligence really is) "

I see your points. Talking about Daozang and Fozang, it may be impossible to get 100% correct result from Google or other translating tools.

It seems for me that a lot of people do not need 100% correct content if they are not practicers. Sometimes 80% correct content is good enough for them to make simple decisions or to get feels/verviews, etc.

I found a tiny piece of Daozang from scanned original copies that printed a few hundreds year ago, so I am sure the copies are genuine. If I do a quick browse on 10 pages of them, about 2,000 characters total, could I understand all content of them? Could I get basic ideas 100% correct from the 10 pages?

I'm sorry, got to strongly disagree with you here. I think you would be lucky to get 10% correct by plugging Buddhist or Daoist canonical works into Google translate, and there's no way for anybody who doesn't smoke as much meth as the Google translate bot evidently does could make decisions on the basis of this stuff.

Let's use the Heart Sutra as an example. Here's what Google gives you:

View the self-Buddhist. It’s as long as a lot of time. See the five elements are empty. All the bitterness. Relics. Color is empty. It’s not empty. The color is empty. Empty is the color. I am thinking about it. It is also true. Relics. It is the empty space of the laws. Not born or not. Not dirty. No increase or decrease. It is colorless in the air. Nothing to think about. No eyes and ears. Colorless sound and fragrance touch. No vision. Even the unconscious world. No ignorance. There is no clearness. Even no death. There is no old death. No bitterness. No wisdom or no. No income. Bodhi. According to Prajna Paramita. Innocent. Nothing. No horror. Stay away from reversing your dreams. Nirvana. The Three Buddhas. According to Prajna Paramita. Aunt Doro, Sancha, and Bodhi. I know that Prajna Paramita is more. It is a great curse. It is a big mantra. It is a curse. There is no curse. Able to eliminate all pain. Really worthwhile. Therefore, it is said that Prajna Paramita is a curse. That is to say cursing.
Uncovering and revealing, Balo’s discovery, Boluo’s discovery, Bodhisattva

"Therefore, it is said that Prajna Paramita is a curse. That is to say cursing." Yeah, um, ok.

Now here're the last few lines from an important neidan poem called 《金丹詩訣》 by Chen Nan:

Once the work is done with sincerity, the spirit is so solid and solid, Yan Rongru is not hungry and thirsty, and Fang Xian Jin Dan is a success. Cui Wei's independent crystal palace, the body is very intentional, in the middle of the night, Huang Po came to the door, as a medium to marry and Jin Gong. Taiyi Xuanzhu Jin Liquid Dan, also returned to the local children's face. If you want to hear a new teacher's language, you can teach him to see a class. In the night, a Büfu 蕖, there are red pills dropping beads, dripping Huachi is Shenshui, Dantian gathers for Danshu. It is called the water and fire essence, this is the two dragons and scorpions, but take the sacred point away from the hole, pure dry can take the flight.

There's a point at which 10% correct is actually just 100% incorrect, because all you can do with stuff like this is waste precious, precious time that could be better spent reading books written or translated by people who actually care about helping you "awaken to reality," instead of a computer program.

That is, of course, unless "this is the two dragons and scorpions, but take the sacred point away from the hole, pure dry can take the flight" makes sense to you! So solid and solid!

Unfortunately what I looked at is so deeply riddled with mistakes as to be close to useless.

~80% of the content in the Daoist Canon is about ritual, btw.

It is good to see different views, and you may be right.

For poems, I do not think any translating tools can do good jobs. For Neidan related poems, It is very hard for any people or professional translators to get a 1,000 years old poem translated 100% correct.

BTW, I tried the first poem of《金丹詩訣》with Google Translate, and the result is not too bad.

半斤真汞半斤铅，隐在灵源太极先。须趁子时当采取，炼成金液入丹田。

Half a catty of mercury, half a catty of lead, hidden in the source of Taiyuan.

When it is necessary to take it, it will be converted into gold liquid into Dantian.

The Daoist Canon (道藏 Daozang) is a comprehensive collection of Daoist scriptures. Its compilation began in the Tang dynasty. Daoist books increased day by day after the Wei and Jin dynasties. Chapter "Xialan" (extensive review) of The Inner Book of the Master Who Embraces Simplicity (抱朴子内篇 Baopuzi Neipian) had already registered over 600 volumes of Daoist books by then. During the Southern and Northern Dynasties, Lu Xiujing classified the books into "Three Grottoes" (三洞 Sandong) and compiled The Catalogue of Scriptures of the Three Grottoes (三洞經書目錄 Sandong Jingshu Mulu), the first catalogue of scriptures in the history of Daoism. Afterwards, ritual master Zheng compiled The Catalogue of the Seven Sections of the Jade Apocrypha (玉緯七部經書目 Yuwei Qibu Jing Shumu) according to the classification of the Three Grottoes and the Four Complements (四輔 Sifu). Later, Tao Hongjing compiled The Catalogue and The Catalogue of All the Supreme Scriptures (太上衆經目 Taishang Zhongjing Mu). It was not until the Kaiyuan era of the Tang dynasty (A.D. 713-741) that for the first time Daoist books were compiled into a corpus, namely The Daoist Canon of the Kaiyuan Era, the first Daoist corpus in Chinese history. Daoist books were missing in large numbers due to the turmoil at the end of the Tang dynasty and in the Five Dynasties. After the founding of the Song dynasty, Daoist scriptures were collected and collated on five occasions, and The Daoist Canon was re-compiled. Completed altogether were The Comprehensive Catalogue of Precious Literature (寶文統目 Baowen Tonglu), The Precious Canon of Heavenly Palace (天宮寶藏 Tiangong Baozang), The Daoist Canon of the Wanshou Era, and The Precious Canon of Exquisite Writings (瓊章寶藏 Qiongzhang Baozang). Compiled in the Jin dynasty was The Precious Canon of the Mysterious Metropolis of the Great Jin (大金玄都寶藏 Dajin Xuandu Baozang), and compiled in the Yuan dynasty was The Precious Canon of the Mysterious Metropolis. These Daoist canons were lost long before after suffering from wars and the burning in the Yuan dynasty. Extant today are The Daoist Canon of the Zhengtong Era (正統道藏 Zhengtong Daozang) printed in the tenth Zhengtong year of the Ming dynasty (1445) and The Supplementary Daoist Canon of the Wanli Era (萬曆續道藏 Wanli Xu Daozang) compiled and printed by Zhang Guoxiang in the 35th Wanli year (1607).

History of the Canon's Compilation

The Daoist Canon of the Kaiyuan Era (開元道藏 Kaiyuan Daozang)

It is the first Daoist canon in Chinese history and was compiled in the Kaiyuan years of the Tang dynasty (A.D. 713-741). After ascending the throne, Emperor Xuanzong of the Tang dynasty ordered more than 40 persons, including Shi Chongxuan, to compile The Pronunciation and Meaning of All Daoist Scriptures (一切道經音義 Yiqie Daojing Yinyi). Subsequently, on this basis, he sent people to search for Daoist scriptures here and there in the Kaiyuan era, and together with those collected in the capital, a corpus named The Exquisite Compendium of the Three Grottos (三洞瓊綱 Sandong Qionggang) was compiled, which consisted of 3,744 volumes (some say there are 5,700 volumes, some say there are 7,300 volumes) altogether. The Daoist Canon of the Kaiyuan Era was compiled according to the classification into Three Grottoes (三洞 Sanding). It was composed of three grottoes, containing 36 books in all. Each of the sections, the Pervasive Perfection (洞真 Dongzhen), the Pervasive Mystery (洞玄 Dongxuan) and the Pervasive Divinity (洞神 Dongshen) consisted of 12 books. In the seventh year of the Tianbao era (748), an imperial order to copy the canon was given in order to spread it widely. At the end of the Tang dynasty and in the Five Dynasties, the canon was destroyed in wars and is no longer extant.

The Comprehensive Catalogue of Precious Literature (寶文統錄 Baowen Tonglu)
It was one of the Daoist corpuses compiled in the Song dynasty, in the era of Dazhong Xiangfu during the reign of Emperor Zhenzong of the Song dynasty (1008-1016) to be exact. After the rebellion of An Lushan in the Tang dynasty, most of the Daoist books collected in the two capitals were burnt. Later, ordered by Emperor Suzong and Emperor Daizong of the Tang dynasty, the Daoists Shen Fu, Du Guangting and Ji Qiwu searched all over the country for Daoist books, but "few of the precious excellent books still existed" (Volume 52 of The Supreme Yellow Register Fasting Rituals (太上黃籙齋儀 Taishang Huanglu Zhaiyi)), and most had been lost. After the founding of the Song dynasty, more than 7,000 volumes of Daoist books were collected during the reign of Emperor Taizong of the Song dynasty, and Sanqi-Changshi (imperial attendant) Xu Xuan and Zhizhigao (official in charge of imperial documents) Wang Yuchen were ordered to collate, delete and copy them. After this, there were 3,737 volumes. During the first years of the Dazhong Xiangfu era, Emperor Zhenzong of the Song dynasty ordered Prime Minister Wang Qinruo to be in charge, choosing Daoists Zhu Yiqian, Feng Dezhi, etc. to collate the canon. Based on Xu Xuan and Wang Yuchen's edition, they supplemented 622 volumes. There were altogether 4,359 volumes, including 620 volumes of the Pervasive Perfection Section, 1,013 volumes of the Pervasive Mystery Section, 172 volumes of the Pervasive Divinity Section, 1,407 volumes of the Supreme Mystery Section (太玄部 Taixuan Bu), 192 volumes of the Supreme Peace Section (太平部 Taiping Bu), 576 volumes of the Supreme Clarity Section (太清部 Taiqing Bu), and 379 volumes of the Orthodox Oneness Section (正一部 Zhengyi Bu). A catalogue of the corpus was compiled and presented to the emperor and was given the title The Comprehensive Catalogue of Precious Literature. It has been lost today.

The Precious Canon of Heavenly Palace of the Great Song (大宋天宮寶藏 Dasong Tiangong Baozang)
It was one of the Daoist canons compiled in the Song dynasty. Since the compilation of The Comprehensive Catalogue of Precious Literature was not too ideal, in the fifth year of the Dazhong Xiangfu era (1012) Emperor Zhenzong of the Song dynasty appointed Zhang Junfang Zhuzuo-Zuolang (assistant historian) who was to compile the canon specially. Based on the existent Daoist books and scriptures collected from Suzhou, Yuezhou, Taizhou and so on, Zhang Junfang and Daoist priests discussed the stylistic rules, examined different versions, selected and arranged them in the order of the Three Grottoes and the Four Complements (四輔 Sifu), and compiled a corpus of 4,565 volumes. With the item "heaven" in the 1000-Word Writ (千字文 Qianzi Wen) as its first heading and the item "palace" as the last, the canon was titled The Precious Canon of Heavenly Palace of the Great Song. It is not currently extant.

The Longevity Daoist Canon (萬壽道藏 Wanshou Daozang)
It was one of the Daoist canons compiled in the Song dynasty. In the Chongning era of the reign of Emperor Huizong of the Song dynasty (1102-1106), an imperial order was given again to search for Daoist books, and Daoist priests were ordered at the publishing office to collate The Precious Canon of Heavenly Palace, which added up to 5, 387 volumes. In the Zhenghe era (1111-1118), the emperor ordered to look for missing Daoist books and set up an office in charge of scriptures. He ordered Daoists Yuan Miaozong and Wangdaojian to collate the scriptures and sent them to Minxian County, Fuzhou. Huang Shang, a court scholar, official and prefect of Fuzhou, employed workers to print them. The canon, 5,481 volumes altogether, filled 540 boxes. It was called The Longevity Daoist Canon, or The Longevity Canon of the Zhenghe Era as it was compiled in the Zhenghe era. This is the first printed Daoist canon. In the turmoil of the Jiajing era (1126-1127), it was lost, and in the Jin dynasty, it was completed. Today it does not exist.

The Precious Canon of the Mysterious Metropolis of the Great Jin (大金玄都寶藏 Dajin Xuandu Baozang)
It was a Daoist canon compiled in the Jin dynasty. In the 26th Dading year during the reign of Emperor Shizong of the Jin dynasty (1186), the emperor ordered to give the printing board of The Daoist Canon in the southern capitcal (i.e. today's Kaifeng, Henan) to the Tianchang Temple in Zhongdu (i.e. today's Beijing). In the first Mingchang year during the reign of Emperor Zhangzong of the Jin dynasty (1190), the emperor ordered the temple's inspector Sun Mingdao to search for missing books and re-compile The Daoist Canon. Sun Mingdao sent Daoists looking for the missing scriptures in different places of the country, and got 1,074 volumes. Together with the more than 21,800 books that survived, there were 83,198 books in all. They classified them into Three Grottoes and Four Complements, discussed the stylistic rules, examined different versions, and compiled one corpus, which totaled 602 books, 6,455 volumes and was titled The Precious Canon of the Mysterious Metropolis of the Great Jin. Due to the fire of the Tianchang Temple in the second Taihe year during the reign of Emperor Zhangzong of the Jin dynasty (1202), the canon was burnt and does not exist today.

The Precious Canon of the Mysterious Metropolis (玄都寶藏 Xuandu Baozang)
It was a Daoist canon compiled in the Yuan dynasty. In the ninth year during the reign of Emperor Taizong of the Yuan dynasty (1237), the Daoists Song Defang and Qin Zhi'an searched for the missing scriptures and planned to reprint The Daoist Canon. After eight years of compilation, the canon was completed in the third year during the reign of Empress Naima Zhen of the Yuan dynasty (1244). The canon consisted of over 7,800 volumes in all and was still titled The Precious Canon of the Mysterious Metropolis. The printing board was kept at the Temple of Mysterious Metropolis in Pingyang. In the eighth Zhiyuan year during the reign of Emperor Shizu of the Yuan dynasty (1281), an imperial order was given to burn the printing boards of all Daoist canons except The Book of Dao and Its Virtue (道德經 Daodejing). So the printing board of the Precious Canon of the Mysterious Metropolis was burnt and many scriptures collected were lost as a result. The canon does not exist today.

The Daoist Canon of the Zhengtong Era (正统道藏 Zhengtong Daozang)
It was a Daoist canon compiled in the Ming dynasty. At the beginning of the reign of Emperor Chengzu of the Ming dynasty (1403), Zhang Yuchu, the Celestial Master (天 師 Tianshi) of the 43rd generation was ordered to re-compile The Daoist Canon. After his death in the eighth Yongle year (1410), Zhang Yuqing, the Celestial Master of the 44th generation was ordered to continue the compilation. The board of the canon began to be made in the ninth Zhengtong year during the reign of Emperor Yingzong of the Ming dynasty (1444). Then Daoist Shao Yizheng was ordered to collate and supplement the canon. It was completed and printed in the tenth Zhengtong year (1445). The canon, titled The Daoist Canon of the Zhengtong Era, consisted of 5,305 volumes and filled 480 boxes. The scriptures were classified into Three Grottoes, Four Complements, and Twelve Subsections. The headings, from "tian" to "ying", were taken from the 1,000-Word Writ. Under each heading, there were a few volumes. The canon was spread in the country and kept in famous mountains and Daoist temples. In the 35th Wanli year during the reign of Emperor Shenzong of the Ming dynasty (A.D. 1607), Zhang Guoxiang, the Celestial Master of the 50th generation, was ordered to complement The Daoist Canon. The headings, from "du" to "ying", were also taken from the 1,000-Word Writ. There were altogether 32 sections, 180 volumes. This canon was titled The Supplementary Daoist Canon of the Wanli Era (萬曆續道藏 Wanli Xu Daozang). Together with The Daoist Canon of the Zhengtong Era, there were 5,485 volumes in all which filled 512 boxes. Only the edition of the Ming dynasty now exists. It is the only existent government-compiled Daoist canon of our country. From 1923 to 1926, Shanghai Commercial Press borrowed The Daoist Canon of the Zhengtong Era printed in the Ming dynasty, which was kept in Beijing White Cloud Temple (白雲觀 Baiyun Guan), and photocopied it in the name of Hanfen Tower. The canon was reduced into 6 mo. The books amounted to 1,476 and were included in 1,120 volumes. Today, there is the photocopied edition of The Daoist Canon published in 1987 by Wenwu Press, Shanghai Shudian Press, and Tianjin Guji Press. In addition, a photocopied edition published by Taiwan Yiwen Yinshuguan Press and Taiwan Xinwenfeng Publishing House is in circulation.

Organization of the Canon

The Daoist Canon of the Zhengtong Era (正統道藏 Zhengtong Daozang) is classified into Three Grottoes (三洞 Sanding), Four Complements (四輔 Sifu), and twelve subsections. The "Three Grottoes" refer to those of Pervasive Perfection (洞真 Dongzhen), Pervasive Mystery (洞玄 Dongxuan) and Pervasive Divinity (洞神 Dongshen). When Daoist Lu Xiujing (A.D. 406-477) of Liusong of the Southern Dyansty compiled The Catalogue of Scriptures of the Three Grottoes (三洞經書目錄 Sandong Jingshu Mulu), he classified the Daoist books into three categories: Pervasive Perfection, Pervasive Mystery and Pervasive Divinity. The first kind mainly consists of Scriptures of the Highest Clarity (靈寶經 Lingbao Jing) and is known as the first-class; the second kind mainly consists of Scriptures of the Numinous Treasure (上清經 Shangqing Jing) and is known as the second-class; the third kind mainly consists of The Book of the Three August Ones (三皇經Sanhuang Jing) and is known ad the third-class. This classifying method originated by Lu Xiujing sorted out numerous Daoist books and laid a foundation for the subsequent compilation of The Daoist Canon. The "Four Complements" were first seen in ritual master Meng's The Catalogue of the Seven Sections of the Jade Apocrypha (玉緯七部經書目 Yuwei Qibu Jing Shumu).

Because the classification as Three Grottoes could not include all the Daoist books, the "Four Complements" came into being as a supplement. They refer to the sections of Supreme Clarity (太清 Taiqing), Supreme Peace (太平 Taiping), Supreme Mystery (太玄 Taixuan) and Orthodox Oneness (正一 Zhengyi), which supplement Pervasive Perfection, Pervasive Mystery, Pervasive Divinity and all the above six divisions and the three classes respectively. The twelve subsections are:

Original texts, which refer to the original true texts of the scriptures;
Divine talismans, which refer to the scripts of characters on seals and numinous talismans;
Jade formulae, which refer to the commentaries of Daoist books;
Numinous charts, which refer to the illustrations of the texts or scriptures mainly composed of charts;
Records of lineages, which refer to Daoist scriptures recording the deeds of Perfect Men and Sages' transformation and their merits and ranks;
Precepts, which refer to scriptures about commandments and Ledgers of Merits and Demerits (功過格 gongguo ge);
Rituals, which refer to scriptures about Fasts and Offerings (齋醮 zhaijiao) and rituals;
Methods, which refer to Daoist books on methods of cultivation of perfection, nourishing spiritual nature, worship and refinement;
Techniques, which refer to Daoist books on Outer Alchemy (外丹 waidan) and Divinatory Calculation (術數 shushu);
Biographies, which refer to the biographies and stele inscriptions of immortals and Perfect Men and annals of Daoist temples;
Hymns, which refer to scriptures lauding spirits;
Petitions and memorials, which refer to the petitions and Qingci (Daoist prayers written in vermilion on a kind of special paper) presented in fasts and offerings.
The existent Daoist Canon of the Zhengtong Era is classified into Three Grottoes, Four Complements and twelve subsections. This classifying method has its shortcomings. For example, there is no further classification under the Four Complements so that the stylistic rule is in disorder and reference is not convenient. A recent scholar Chen Yingning re-classified the Daoist Canon in the 1930s. He classified the canon into 14 categories according to the character of the scriptures. We believe that there will be a more scientific and reasonable classification of The Daoist Canon when it is re-compiled. The extant canon, though not so scientific in its levels of classification, is rich in content. In addition to Daoist scriptures, it collects works of the various schools of thought and their exponents during the period from pre-Qin times to the early years of the Han dynasty. It provides valuable materials for the study of philosophic ideas, social history, science and techniques, literature and arts, peoples' conditions and customs, and the national psychology of ancient China. Moreover, it can be used for the study of versions and collations. Presently scholars are planning and preparing for the compilation of a new China Daoist Canon.
